OKLAHOMA ARROW HEAD CLUE TO ICE AGE MAN

WASHINGTON, March 27 (Special to The News)—The younger generation is not half the way to the folk that an ancient man, living 300,000 years ago, is to scientists.

It is believed that the early glacial period have a distinct contribution to the early history of man in this country. They are confident in accepting the evidence, however, because they may have difficulty in making the history of man harmonize with that of the old world.

It has even been suggested that men of the early ice age were unable to produce an arrow head of such skillful make when similar arrow heads were not made in Europe until the ice age.

To this Dr. Oliver P. Hay of the Smithsonian, who sees in the finding of the Flint evidences of an early ice age man, answers:

Tigers' Wrestlers Gain Three Titles

POCATELLO, March 27 (Special to The News)—University of Idaho, southern branch, Tiger matmen can be considered the most successful of the Rocky Mountain conference Amateur Athletic union meet held last week at Logan, Utah, where they won three titles. The grapplers returned to Pocatello with three new titles—returning champion crown which was placed at stake by Noel Franklin, Rupert, successfully defended his title in the 147-pound class, defeating Milo Moody of the Brigham Young university in the final round. Sherwood Hauck, Montpelier, brought a second title to the university by making a spectacular throw of Ned Meeth of the Aggies; in the 135-pound class. A third title came to the university when Annes Stephens, Nampa, managed a decision over Bill Johnson of the Deseret Gymnasium, Salt Lake City, in the 175-pound class, and Daniel Lopez, Meridian, took the fourth championship by defeating Longene in the heavyweight class.

Success of the university wrestlers is due in a large way to the efforts of W. (Bud) Bliss, Idaho, who coaches the mat. Bliss is assistant coach at the university, assisting Felix Platinio, former Twin Falls member and now director of athletics at the university branch. Bliss is head coach of wrestling.

Challenger Ready To Meet Champion Light Heavyweight

Master of Middleweights Will Seek Higher Honors in Bout That May Draw 25,000 Fight Followers

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY (Associated Press Sports Writer) CHICAGO, March 27.—Mickey Walker, famed by building of the ring, bids for his third world's boxing title tomorrow night by attempting to wrest the light heavyweight championship from Tommy Loughran, in a 10-round battle, opening Paddy Harnon's $7,000,000 Chicago stadium.

Walker, once ruler of the welterweights, and present standard bearer of the middleweight class, will match his ruggedness and terrific hitting force against one of the world's cleverest men. Loughran has achieved his ambition of winning his third championship, a distinction held by only one other fighter—Bob Fitzsimmons.

The bout has a capacity of 25,000. If it is a sellout, the gate receipts may reach $300,000. The audience will be heavy, but promoter Harnon does not expect a capacity attendance, unless it comes at the final.

Walker and Loughran will meet at the light heavyweight class limit of 175 pounds. Loughran, the titleholder, will weigh just about 175. Walker expects to hit the beam between 165 and 160, which, he says, is his best fighting weight.

Loughran, carefully watching his weight, felt the need of going through exercises this afternoon to keep his poundage exactly on the dot. Walker did not train at all today. He took a long walk and did some calisthenics. That was all. He has no weight worries.

Both are confident of victory, with Walker declaring he will knock out Loughran. The Philadelphia and he expected to win decisively, perhaps by a knockout. He said he was in the best shape since winning the 175 pound championship, and that he had a far better chance to stop Walker than Walker has to stop him.

Walker has a 20-1 record and Loughran's advantage in weight, height and reach would be no insurmountable barrier, he believes. He has won 15 battles against bigger opponents.

HERE ARE THE KEY MEN in what Billy Southworth, new Cardinal manager, calls the best pitching staff in the National league. They are down at Avon Park, Florida, working hard in an attempt to live up to their reputation and to try to put the Red Birds back on top again this year.

Textile Mill Workers Walk Out of Plant

Textile workers and officials of the American Glanzstoff corporation, rayon manufacturers of Elizabethton, Tennessee, were at wide variance over wage scale demands of 2000 men and women who struck for increases ranging up to 30 per cent above the present scale. This photograph shows the workers leaving the textile plant.

Lighted highways, even through country districts, may be the common thing some day. It would seem much cheaper and safer, however, to build walks or footpaths along the roadside.

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—Secretary Lamont (with a small "m," confusion among the reference books to the contrary notwithstanding) of the commerce department, has made it plain that he intends to pursue Hoover policies and retain Hoover organization...

Secrecy agreed that the department possesses an efficient publicity group. Gossip also has it that Whittling club, directed by Dr. Julius Klein, director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, second in departmental command under Mr. Hoover and acting secretary until Whittling was named...

Naturally, that was expected. To pick his own successor as commerce secretary Mr. Hoover would not seek a man who had revolutionary ideas of his own as to how the department should operate. He was satisfied with his own...

It's funny how these meetings and meetings go on around us all the time. I drove right by here on my way north, and camped about twenty-five miles up in the mountains. I'd hived winter through in fine shape with no harm to my reputation whatever it is...

"Christ is risen! He is risen indeed!" is the joyful salutation. As this picture faded from my mind, I got to thinking about it, about the salvation of the old peasant and what it could mean. For surely, at this Easter time, we are not merely commemorating a happening of two thousand years ago...

And so it is, of course, with this Easter feeling, "Christ is Risen!" For what is the Christ but the truth about God and man revealing itself to human consciousness, the "fruit of the spirit," so fully set forth by the great apostle of the Gentiles, "love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness and temperance..."

survey of the damage was taken. By day break 20 men under the direction of Superintendent R. L. Ryan, were digging frantically for the buried men.

The bodies of two miners, named Wickeraham and Coler were recovered first. Then a faint calling was heard and after seven hours imprisonment, Gerald Strayer was found, protected from the weight of the snow by an overturned table.

From the pit from which Strayer was taken another faint voice was heard calling and an hour later Eric Anderson was taken from his white prison. His shoulder was dislocated and his feet were frost bitten.

Death Instant
Some hours later the other two bodies were recovered from beneath 15 feet of packed snow. They were crushed in debris that had been their beds and apparently had died instantly.

Strayer related that something awakened him just before the slide struck his bunkhouse. It had apparently outrun its own thunder.

"In the moonlight," he said, "I felt something like a gust of wind smash the window opposite my bed in the bunkhouse. The next instant the snow came through. Then all was oblivion until I heard my rescuers hacking the snow many feet above me."

Richard Halpin, the night watchman at the mine, had just come from the workings to get a bite to eat and was standing against the kitchen table in the kitchen of the bunkhouse. He was struck through the roof through the building and landed on soft snow, uninjured.

Orpheum to Show "Kings Of Kings" With Sound

In response to many requests from his patrons, Manager A. R. Anderson of the Orpheum theatre has booked Cecil B. De Mille's production, "The Kings of Kings," for a four days' showing beginning on Sunday, with wonderful sound effects and music. This is the picture that was presented to crowded audiences for six months at the Gaiety theatre, New York.

It is enjoyed exceedingly successful runs in Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, and many other cities in this country and abroad.

In financing this wonderful story Mr. De Mille displayed daring, the work being even more venturesome than his "The Ten Commandments" and the pitfalls many. The unanimous praise of the reviewers in all the metropolitan centres indicates that his effort proved successful. He employed all his own personal resources and exhausted the new and old technic of the screen. He was aided in the work by representatives of many faiths and research scholars of all the world.

Miss Jennie Macpherson, the scenarist, is said to have wrought a more finely constructed story than that of "The Ten Commandments."

Among the eighteen stars of the production are such favorites as H. B. Warner, Jacqueline Logan, Rudolph and Joseph Schildkraut, Victor Varconi, William Boyd, Montagu Love, George Siegmann, Theodore Kosloff, Julia Faye, Robert Edison, Sam De Grasse. In fact, the cast of principals is a roster of eminent names in pictures.

Approximately $2,500,000 is said to have been expended on the production. As the actors embody the cherished characters of the New Testament narrative, so the hundred great sets faithfully realize the scenes in the life of Jesus.

NEWS WRITERS WITH FEDERAL ARMY TELL OF TROOPS' ACTIVITY

Delayed Communications Report Foot Soldiers Equipped With Leather Sandals For Desert Trip

(By The Associated Press) WITH GENERAL ALAMAZAN'S ARMY NEAR TORREON, Mexico, March 24 (Delayed)—With horses rested, three new airplanes ready for service and with most of the foot soldiers equipped with leather sandals for marching over the desert ahead of them, General Juan Almazan's column headed for the North today.

The new planes for Almazan were flown in from Laredo. The pilots said they had bucked head winds and experienced some bumping going when crossing mountains.

The Yaqui Indians in the northward bound column spent many days while resting here in making leather sandals for the grisee homemade foot coverings are the only feasible things in the way of shoes for use in tramping across the desert. One of the chief reasons for the long delay at Torreon was to rest the cavalry horses which were already worn by the march through the desert between Monterey and Torreon.

Colonel Alexander MacNab, military attaché of the American embassy, expects to return to Mexico City soon. He has been in the field as an observer. It was also reported here that General Calles might possibly go to the capital as he kept in close touch with both the campaign in the North and with developments on the west coast.

COLD NIGHTS—LITTLE FOOD

ABOARD GENERAL CALLES' TRAIN WITH FEDERAL ARMY, NEAR TORREON, MARCH 17 (Delayed)—WAR has been more like what General Sherman pictured it than a picnic for the American newspapers and correspondents thus far. Cold nights and little food, with what was available hot with peppers, have been enough but were more or less expected.

What has lured the souls of the party above all else was the uncertainty as to how, when and where their dispatches would come out, it at all.

But since catching up with General Calles the correspondents have been served on his private dining car. He also has his mobile radio set at their disposal.

The clock started at the town of Friol—the name means "frigid"—and in the midst of a plateau across which the wind gets a 10-mile sweep.

The correspondents and a number of Mexican officers, including General Osorio, live in a rickety wooden railroad coach. It leaked air and kept out little of the friol breeze. Even bundling into overcoats and wrapping oneself in Indian blankets did not keep them warm. Deep was obtained came when doubled up Jack knife fashion on a seat.

Progress on the railroad, or what was left of it after the rebels had applied dynamite and fire to the rails and roadbed, was snail-like.

At Canitas a few days ago the correspondent's train was trying to handle the traffic of an entire army ahead. The only restaurant in the town was in an old box car near the track but it had no food left.

Then late in the evening a messenger supply of meat and corn for tortillas arrived. The meat was impregnated with chili and tongues hung out for hours until the night wind had soothed the inflammation caused by the spicy repast.

The Mexican private soldiers live off crude edibles from some mysterious source.

At Durango the reporters' troubles were assumed by General Calles, who directed that their car be attached to his own train and go where he goes. This train consists of a dozen cars including a radio and chart coach, a dining sleeper for the general and his staff, an observation coach and several box cars containing supplies.

The train also carries a barber. General Calles frequently invites the writers into the chart car and explains the position of the troops and the significance of the various movements.

EVACUATE JIMENEZ

MEXICO CITY, March 27 (AP)—It was reported tonight on good authority that the rebels were evacuating Jimenez, and continuing their retreat northward, government officials here believe that General Escobar will not make a stand against General Calles' federals until he reached Bachajon, a few miles south of the city of Guimilima.

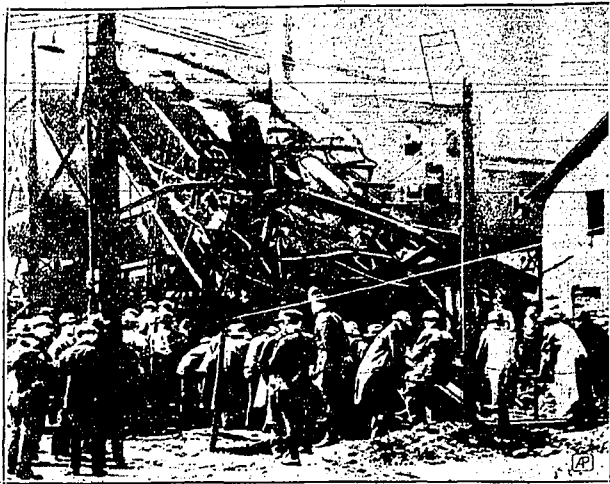

There also was an authoritative report that railroad repairs on the west coast were nearly complete and that several trains would begin moving to MEXICAN TORREON. It was believed that the rebels who retreated from this area of the west coast port would not make a stand in Simaloa state unless they halted at the River Fuerte near the Simaloa-Sonora border.

Woman Ski Champion Learned As Milk Maid

ZAKOPANE, Poland, March 27 (AP)—Miss Bronka Polankowna, a Zakopane peasant girl who won the woman's championship of the international skiing tournament here, got her training while selling milk on skis.

His specialties and plans again proved to be easily the best in Europe. The Norwegian held their place as the Iron Jumpers. Fifteen nations competed.

Idaho State Chamber of Commerce Publishes Recipe Book Featuring Uses of State's Leading Products

BOISE, March 27 (Special to The News)—"244 Ways of Using Idaho Products" is the name of a new Idaho cook book, the most recent publication of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce. It is a 48-page book in which each major product of the state is featured with a number of recipes. The recipes were prepared for the state chamber by the home economics department of the University of Idaho extension division and the Idaho Power company and have been tested by these two agencies.

Preceding the list of recipes, using meats and fowl produced in Idaho is a suggested dinner menu featuring the main meat course. A separate page is devoted to the Thanksgiving dinner menu which won first prize in the chamber's contest of more than a year ago. One condition of the contest was that where combination dishes were used in the menu the recipes should be given. These recipes are given together with the menu.

Potatoes are featured with 21 recipes and 10 ways of preparing Idaho Great Northern beans are suggested. Other Idaho vegetables are represented by 16 recipes. There are also eight suggested salad combinations of Idaho vegetables. There are 25 lamb and mutton recipes and ways of preparing the various saucers used in these recipes are also included. Pork and ham are classified separately and there are 13 recipes for fresh pork and seven for ham. Nine beef and four veal recipes conclude the meats.

There are many appetizing recipes which Idaho turkey, chicken, cheese and eggs are the foundations. All the poultry recipes use Idaho flour. Sixty-two recipes are given for Idaho fruits and 35 of these are for apples including such as apple pie, apple butter, baked apples, apple pudding, buttersauce, apple salad and glazed apples. Prunes are featured with 14 tasty ways of serving this Idaho product. There are whips, tartis, pies, preserves, puddings, etc. Peaches and cherries are represented by 13 recipes which do justice to these excellent Idaho products.

In the back of the book there is a treatise setting forth the relative merits of beet and cane sugar. There are also directions for using evaporated milk. An index and questionnaire for persons interested in obtaining further information about Idaho complete the book.

The main distribution of the cook book will be to out-of-state persons answering advertising which is now being run in 18 states of the country by the state chamber of commerce. It will be distributed free to the membership of the organization and to non-members at the printing cost of ten cents a copy.

Detroit Minister Uses Novel Lighting Effects

DETROIT, March 27 (AP)—Church services at Highland Park Congregational church consist of "poems" which the pastor, Rev. Charles Stanley Jones, creates with special lighting effects and stereopticon slides. Ignoring his denomination's tradition of simplicity, Mr. Jones opens each night service with a ceremonial lighting of candles on a cross by altar boys. When the professional starts, a stereopticon picture flashes on a screen above the chancel. There is something doing every minute from then on, the lights and pictures being designed to enhance the dramatic effect of each part of the service. "Thesis and antithesis alternate throughout, as in a poem," the minister explains.

SHERIFF SEEKS SOLUTION OF EDEN SCHOOL MYSTERY

EDEN, March 27.—Sheriff Fred Turner was called here Monday morning to run down clues as to who again broke into the high school building some time during Saturday or Sunday night. The discovery that the building was entered by other than the proper persons was made Monday morning when Superintendent E. H. Smith unlocked the office and found that the desk had been pried open. As far as can be learned nothing was taken. This is the second time the building has been entered in the last month and each time practically nothing was obtained. A similar thing happened at the grade school two weeks before, the thief using about the same methods. Other burglaries have also been staged here the last month and hopes of catching the guilty one are still held out by the officers.

Mr. and Mrs. George Webb and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Webb, Hillsdale, community were guests of honor at a farewell party given Tuesday evening at the Latter Day Saints church in Eden. More than 30 guests were present. The evening was spent in playing games, dancing, music and eals. The Webb brothers plan to move soon to Kimberly. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Olsen and son, Orville, were here Tuesday evening from Hazelton to attend a party at the Latter Day Saints church.

Dorothy and Francis Fulton returned Sunday to Gooding to take up their work at the college after a few days Easter vacation.

Leane Carter, proprietor of the Gem State Oil company here, is building a rack to be used in the washing of automobiles.

The junior class of the high school is putting in extra efforts this week getting ready for the staging of their annual class play that is to be given Friday evening. "Waiting for Wilton," a three-act comedy has been selected to provide the evening's entertainment. The advance sale of tickets put on Tuesday by the club indicates that the attendance will be equal that of last season when one of the largest crowds of the season attended. Music between acts will be one of the additional features of the evening's program.

Burley-Declo Committee Purchases Holstein Bull

BURLEY, March 27 (Special to The News)—One excellent bull was purchased by the Burley-Declo Bull association committee in Boise valley, according to County Agent W. W. Palmer. Mr. Palmer, who was called back home to greet a new member of his family, says that the day in Boise valley, he and his family, visiting the Holstein herds of Chester Eggers, Meridian, Alloys Schuller, Nampa, and R. T. Davis and the International Institute at Weiser.

From Davis they secured a bull from a cow with a butterfat record of 948 pounds. This cow is state champion in Class B butterfat and milk production. "Driving to Portland they visited neighboring herds, but without getting what they wanted. Leaving Portland with Dr. E. E. Everly, Holstein field representative, they drove to Seattle where they will expect such fine Holstein as the wood herd, the Carnation herd, and others.

Country Club at Burley Elects Directors For 1929

BURLEY, March 27 (Special to The News)—Stockholders of the Burley Country club opened the season's activities by electing the following directors: T. J. Holland; Roscoe C. Rich, Harold P. Deardorf, J. H. Harris and R. L. Pence. The club starts off with grounds and equipment practically free from debt, the entire indebtedness being less than $300 which, it is said, will be paid off this season.

Improvements contemplated for the year are a more extensive tree-planting program, painting of the club house and boat house, and completion of a porch for the club house. The fairway is now in good condition and the greens are to be rolled at once and the tennis court put into shape for use at an early date.

Warn Against Tar Paints

BURLEY, March 27 (Special to The News)—Warning is being issued from the office of the Idaho Wool Growers' association here, against the use of branding paint with a tar base. Tar paints do not scour out. It is said, and the brands have to be cut out and discarded. Attention is called to one brand, no clip out of which 25 per cent went into the paint sort by reason of bad branding.

SOCIETY

By Mrs. E. B. Williams
Phone 396

The M. S. and S. Club met with Mrs. A. C. Victor Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon were Mrs. H. W. Clouchek, Mrs. F. W. Neale, Mrs. Ted Menich, Mrs. F. L. Cappel, Mrs. T. M. Baird, Mrs. Loren Miller, Mrs. W. Williams and Mrs. J. M. Wright. Preceding the business session, which was presided over by the president, Mrs. Guy F. Sturgeon, an interesting talk was given by Mrs. Clouchek on new laws enacted during the last legislative session. The report of the nominating committee was made and election of officers will be held at the next meeting. F. W. Neale sang "Little Mother O' Mine." "Where the Sky Little Violet Grows," and "Memories," with Mrs. A. C. Victor at the piano. Refreshments in keeping with the Easter season were served by Mrs. Victor and the assisting hostesses, Mrs. Mary Hamilton and Mrs. C. A. Heinrich. An Easter favor was placed on each tray. The rooms were lovely with bouquets of snapdragons. Twenty-five members were in attendance.

Members of the Mentor Club entertained with their annual spring luncheon Wednesday at the Dickey Party House. The small tables at which luncheon was served had for centerpieces crystal bud vases holding pink and green carnations, the club colors. Place cards and other decorative details were in the Easter motif. Mrs. Carl Hortling, Mrs. Charles Pryor of California, house guest of her sister, Mrs. E. J. Malone, Mrs. L. B. Bowen and Mrs. Clifford Thomas of Filer, were guests and sixteen members were present. Tables were arranged for luncheon at which Mrs. E. J. Malone won first prize and Mrs. C. L. Smith second. For those who did not play cards there were interesting contests in which Mrs. A. N. Bonnell captured first prize, and Mrs. A. N. Bailey and Mrs. C. A. Pihl tied for second. After the games a short business meeting was held at which time it was decided to have a "pot luck" dinner at one o'clock Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Roderick Smith, the club president.

A delightful meeting of the drama and literature department of the Twentieth Century Club was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. C. P. Coggriff on Seventh Avenue North, with Mrs. P. H. Smith, Mrs. J. D. Ritchie and Mrs. Robert Haller assisting hostesses. The program was on modern poets both English and American and those taking part were Mrs. George Ward, Mrs. C. A. North, Mrs. H. A. Severin, Mrs. H. C. Schurrer and Mrs. B. L. Price who gave short sketches of the life of various writers and read some of their poems. Mrs. H. W. Clouchek read four poems written by Mrs. John W. Graham, entitled "Beauty," "He Told His Tale," "Through a Glass," and "We Piddle Moon." Several poems written by Grace Neel Crowell were read and discussed. Mrs. Coggriff's home was beautifully decorated with yellow jonquils and the refreshments featured the Easter season as ice being served in dainty Easter nests

MURTAUGH LAND HOLDERS WANT LANDS EXCLUDED

A group of landholders has appealed to the district court here from a decision and order made by Sturtevant irrigation district directors last March 8 denying the landholders' petition for exclusion of their lands from the Murtaugh district.

Petitioners asserted in their petition that their lands were too high to be irrigated with water owned or controlled by the Murtaugh district, but that they could secure sufficient water for the purpose from the adjoining Milner Low Lift irrigation district.

The Murtaugh district directors based their denial on attorney's advice that they had no authority to grant the petition.

Some petitioning landowners who have appealed to the district court were C. V. True, W. G. Moyes, Cleveland Esbert, Albert Esbert, W. R. Siskaus, Del Hinman, J. A. Cummins, H. J. Day, Neil Jensen, R. L. Jackman.

Gipson Urges Dormant Spray Use On Orchards

Warning that the time is ripe for using dormant spray in orchards for the scale and leaf roller was given last evening by E. V. Gipson, district deputy horticultural inspector.

Mr. Gipson said that there is no danger from codling moth until bloom time, but action should be taken at once in regard to scale and leaf roller.

He said that Joseph Day, Eden, stated yesterday that he would begin spraying today. Dormant, or oil spray, is necessary for scale and leaf hopper, as lime and sulphur sprays do not injure them.

Calvin Coolidge, Writer, Urges Adequate National Defense

GOVERNMENT'S DUTY ORDER, SAYS FORMER NATIONAL EXECUTIVE

Peril in Launching Attack On United States Should Be Apparent to Any Nation Contemplating War

(By The Associated Press) PHILADELPHIA, March 27—Calvin Coolidge, writing in the April number of the Ladies Home Journal on "Preparation for Peace Through Preparation for Defense," says the forces required for adequate national defense should "be large enough so that others would see that there would be a great deal of profit in attacking us."

"They should not be so large," the former president says, "that our country would feel that we would undergo no peril in attacking others."

The article will be the first of three by Mr. Coolidge to appear in the Ladies Home Journal on the subject of promoting peace.

"The duty of a government is order," continues Mr. Coolidge. "We are told that it is Heaven's first law. In our day we have come to take order for granted as something almost self-existent but it is not an in-fact, it is very difficult to maintain. We are constantly reminded by recurring waves of crime, and the outbreak of liberty. Order is of the first importance, because without it we could have no order and no progress. Property would be of little value, every home would be insecure and all life in danger."

Prefer Dictator to Anarchy

"When the test comes the people will give up almost any other human right to secure safety and protection. When order anarchy invades a state a military dictator always appears, because the people prefer him to the lawlessness of the mob."

"One of the methods," Mr. Coolidge writes, "by which a government undertakes to preserve order so that it may protect its people from domestic violence and foreign invasion is known as preparation for national defense. The great object that it all seeks to accomplish is peace, peace for the citizen at home and peace for the citizen abroad. Preparation runs all the way from the policeman on the corner, who is our first line of defense by army and navy, with their supporting fortifications and bases."

"We do not have there for the purpose of making war, but for the purpose of preserving peace. x x x Our army can be small because we are peaceful at home and far removed from attack by land. Also an army also assembled quickly. Our navy is more extensive because our shores, our great commerce, and our distant possessions must be protected, and it takes years to build a warship."

Declaring "no sure way has ever been found to prevent war," Mr. Coolidge says that nations with adequate military forces are more likely to enjoy peace than those which neglect their defenses. In the last analysis, this is a question of dealing with human nature. Every one knows that if there were no police our cities would be ransacked within 24 hours.

Mentions Suspensions
"I very strongly suspect that if there were but one nation in the world supplied with an army and a navy, and to make the supposition as strong as possible, if that nation were our own, it would not be long before the other nations had been overrun. It seems to me that it is almost a moral certainty that we should find some excuse for taking that action. But when we know that other countries have a considerable ability to defend themselves, it is human nature for us to regard them with care and to avoid violating their rights, if we receive this picture we can likewise conclude that if others know we are prepared to defend ourselves they will be less likely to commit any offenses against us."

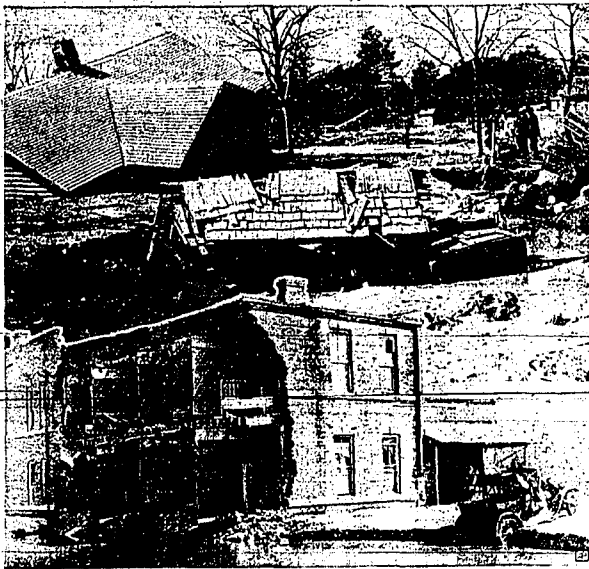

"While I have discussed national defense very largely as a method of preventing war, it has another aspect which is likewise of extreme importance. Perhaps peace is an ideal that can come only to future generations which are more perfect than our own. Meantime we should take every precaution to prevent war, of which adequate defense is one. But we should also take every precaution to protect ourselves to the fullest possible extent from its ravages. If it does come, the army and navy serve the double purpose of prevention and defense."

A Woman Observer in Washington

By SUE McNAMARA
(Associated Press Feature Writer)

WASHINGTON, March 27—Woman should be a sword at a man's side, not merely a beautiful jewel kept in a casket, says Madame Naidu of India, poet, feminist and orator.

"This co-worker of Gandhi's is on her first tour of America. She was the first woman president of the Indian National Congress and the first woman to be selected mayor of Bombay, but she declined the latter honor.

In her colorful native costume, "with big gold earrings and a yellow-flower in her black hair, Madame Naidu is a striking figure. Her emotions are mirrored in her expressive face. Her big dark eyes reflect her rapid succession of enthusiasm, sympathy, irony and amusement."

"Laughter should be one of life's most prized possessions," she says. "Lazily I can laugh when some people in America ask me if I am a fortune teller. To them India is represented by a serpent a palm tree and a tiger. But I am not a picture post card Indian. I am a representative of an India that is rational; an India that suffers, lives and knows an India that stands for service, work and courage—for the same qualities that made you a great ancestor great.

"Feminism is nothing new. History merely repeats itself. Woman long has been the basis of India's civilization. We have a proverb: 'Where woman is honored the gods are pleased.' But in my country woman not only is the mistress of the home, she also is its servant. She does not ask 'How much car-I-get?' but 'How much can I give?' She is looking to man with eyes of faith. She is inspiration and immediate. She is the sword at his side, not merely a jewel in a satin-lined casket."

Madame Naidu's eyes twinkle when asked if the women of India go in for club work.

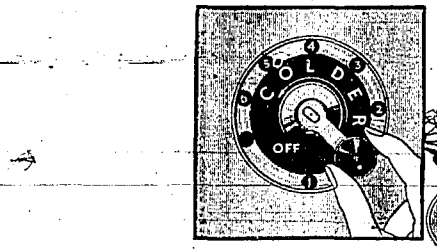

"Heaven forbid!" she says. "Clubs are like a drug. Get started and you can't leave them alone. American women, as I see them, do too much rushing about. Some are too much protected. The highest civility man can pay a woman is to treat her as a comrade, not as a plaything."

There is only one woman's club in the United States named after Chauncey M. Depew, so far as his widow knows. It is the Chauncey Depew club of Des Moines and has been in existence a number of years.

"Mr. Depew took a great interest in the Des Moines club and wrote it a number of letters," recalls Mrs. Depew.

The object of the club was to perfect women in the art of public speaking. While one woman talked the others criticized her grammar, her pronunciation, even her manner of standing. It was a hard order for some, but the club eventually turned out some good public speakers.

Mrs. Depew just has endowed a chair of public speaking at George Washington university in memory of her husband. She has given the income of $120,000 in perpetuity to the institution.

POTATO GROWER ADVISES AGAINST OVERPRODUCTION

BURLEY, March 27 (Special to The News)—If a way can be found to hold Idaho's potato crop to 15 or 16 million bushels this season, a fair price can be obtained for potatoes, declares Fred Carter, prominent grower of the Mindokoka project.

The Idaho crop, held within this limit, he says, will keep Idaho apud in the luxury class and they will bring satisfactory prices irrespective of the size of the nation's crop as a whole. But if Idaho produces a crop in 1929 as large as either the 1927 or 1928 crops, Gem state growers can again expect practically nothing for their product.

Idaho's crop in 1927 was 24,000,000 bushels. In 1928, with 10 per cent increase in acreage, it was almost 20,000,000 bushels. This year starts off with the soil in the best condition it has

IDAHO FORESTRY SCHOOL OPERATES ON HIGH LEVEL

MOSCOW, March 27 (Special to The News)—Failure of the state legislature to provide the funds necessary to the continuance of the University of Idaho forest experiment station means in any way affect the instructional work of the school of forestry, announces Dean F. G. Miller. In answer to queries on this subject Dean Miller says:

"The school has never been so well prepared in teaching personnel and equipment to train young men for the profession of forestry as at present. Advance correspondence indicates a large enrollment for the coming year, and the school is glad to be able to announce that the high level of teaching standards of the past will be maintained."

The school will also continue to carry on important research projects, explains Dean Miller. In particular will undertake to complete, in just so far as funds permit, the projects which were started with funds contributed by the lumbermen of the state and elsewhere in the Inland Empire. These include projects to be carried out both in the laboratory and in the field.

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street brokerage houses look for a new and more cautious attitude on the part of American investors toward securities of British corporations. The action of the General Electric company of England in making its new issue of stock exclusive to British investors is causing security buyers on this side to scrutinize carefully a foreign company's charter before writing a check.

EXTENSION DEPARTMENT PLANS ANNUAL CONTEST

MOSCOW, March 27 (Special to The News)—Idaho's 1929 ton litter contest will be conducted on a program intended to produce heavier ton weights of 1929 desired by the Western market, the principal purchasers of Idaho pork. It is announced by E. F. Bieder, field agent of Idaho agricultural division and secretary of the Idaho State Swine Growers' association.

The 1929 contest will cover five months, 150 days, instead of six months, the usual period in previous contests.

The minimum weight of litters is to be 1750 pounds, instead of 2000 pounds. It has been found that six months of intensive fattening produces porkers which are too heavy for the Western markets, which want them around 200 pounds.

In previous contests the six months of feeding has turned out plus weighing close to 300 pounds. The ton litter contests of the past, particularly the one of 1928, has demonstrated the possibility of getting pigs to market at an early age. It has also demonstrated that rapid gains are the most economical.

Feeding practices in the ton litter contests have great possibilities for commercial application in building Idaho's prestige as a principal source of pork in western livestock markets. In the opinion of livestock specialists with the University of Idaho college of agriculture.
