ROUGHEST MOUNTAIN PASS ON AIR LANES CLAIMS FOUR LIVES

Aerial Transport Liner Crashes in Fog En Route From Los Angeles to El Paso; Fire Follows Fall

(By The Associated Press) BEAUMONT, Calif., March 30—The roughest mountain pass on American air lines today took its toll of four lives when an air transport liner crashed in the fog, exploded and burned into an unrecognizable mass with its pilot and three passengers.

The victims were: Delbert B. Everett, Jr., pilot, Los Angeles; J. J. Balke, wealthy business man of Los Angeles; George Nico, wealthy Los Angeles contractor; and W. J. Kelly, stock salesman of Los Angeles and San Antonio, Texas.

The monoplane which left Los Angeles for El Paso, crashed in a cloud of fog, which extended in banked formation to the top of the pass between Monte Alamo and Mount and San Jacinto to the south, both of which are over 10,000 feet high.

Residents of Beaumont first heard the plane flying low in the fog at 9:15 o'clock. After passing Beaumont southward, it turned north again with its engine roaring and plunging instead of the usual curve. Ranchers said they heard screams, followed immediately by a crash and explosion. The cabin ship burst into flames.

When ranchers reached it, they found a mass of charred wreckage. While this the first known fatal crash in the past, a number of planes have gone down in the bumpy weather. Small planes have been known to drop as low as 100 feet in the bumpy of downward currents in the pass, and the large air transports have dropped as low as 1,000 feet.

ILLINOIS STATESMAN EVADES ARM OF LAW

Representative Michaelson Wanted for Violating Prohibition Law, Goes South

CHICAGO, March 30 (AP)—The arrest of Congressman M. C. Michaelson is the objective today of a deputy sent out by the United States marshal's office armed with a warrant charging him with violation of the prohibition law.

"If he isn't at home, camp there until he shows up," was the instruction given the deputy. It appeared as though the arrest would be made at the door step some time because it was reported Representative Michaelson had gone to Florida.

It was in Jacksonville the trouble started, due to the keen nose of a city policeman and the leanness of two trucks the congressman was bringing from Havana. Although Mr. Michaelson was indicted last October, the public knew nothing of the affair until two weeks ago.

This explained officials in the Southern city, was because the warrant for his arrest had been based. The body was customary not to make public such indictments for fear of frightening away the persons named.

Mr. and Mrs. Michaelson were seen leaving their home on the west side of Chicago early yesterday and their whereabouts since has not been determined. The warrant for the congressman's arrest was issued yesterday. It was intended to be served at the door step some time because it was reported Representative Michaelson had gone to Florida.

PILGRIMS OF EVERY RACE PACK STREETS OF ANCIENT CAPITAL

Feasts of All Creeds Follow Each Other in Rapid Succession in Jerusalem as Holy Week Nears Close

(By The Associated Press) JERUSALEM, March 30—The holy city of Jerusalem was bathed in bright sunshine all day today, presaging the advent of Easter under fair skies tomorrow. Never more than this year has Jerusalem shown itself a holy city in reality, as feasts of all creeds followed each other in rapid succession.

Pilgrims of every race are crowding the streets of the ancient Jewish capital as the Western holy week which began a week ago draws to a close.

Tomorrow has a full program of devotional rejoicings, the Latins attending morning pontifical mass by the patriarch in the presence of the papal delegates and making a religious procession to the holy sepulchre.

The police take unusual precautions at the holy places to prevent quarrels between followers of the different creeds. At Bethlehem in the Church of the Nativity on Good Friday a Greek orthodox priest locked the main door 15 minutes before the Latins had finished their service, shutting them up in the church. The police liberated the Latins.

The present celebrations will be followed on April 25, by the Jewish passover, the Modern Nebi Mussa starting April 26, and the holy week of Easter church beginning April 27.

HOEVERS WILL HEAR EASTER SERMON BY CALIFORNIA PASTOR

Chief Executive of Nation and First Lady to Participate in Simple Worship at Little Meeting House

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Quietly and with all regard for the Quaker's avoidance of display and ostentation, the Eastern apostle in Washington to observe the First Easter Sunday of his stay in the White House.

Like the sabbath that has preceded it, the day will be one of rest and relaxation.

With Mrs. Hoover he will "mingle" in the morning to the Little Friends' meeting house in Washington in the simple worship of his faith.

The service will contrast sharply with those of other churches of the national capital with their Easter decorations, vested choirs and reberating organ music. It will consist of prayer, a sermon by Mrs. Hoover and a hymn.

Mrs. Hoover, chief executive of the cabinet members will spend Easter in the simplest fashion—not one of them possessed of a new dress to wear. Mrs. Hoover will wear "something wool" one of her secretaries said, and this costume probably will not be new.

The Easter service in Washington to observe the south grounds of the executive mansion will be opened Monday morning to the children of the city for the annual Easter Morning egg-rolling. Year by year, the youngsters come by thousands to the frolic and spend the day rolling their eggs down the slight inclines of the lawn and frolicking on the grass. Later in the day the children will have a picnic and the band will give a concert.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover plan to observe the Easter service at the White House, and again in the afternoon, at the south portion of the executive mansion. The children will be invited to the Easter service at the White House.

Wilbur Vigorously Carries Out Hoover's Oil Lease Program

349 PERMIT HOLDERS LOSE LICENSES; 941 APPLICANTS REFUSED

Directors of Campaign Advise Drive as Just Begun and Next Few Days Will See Further Action

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The interior department will vigorously place into effect President Hoover's program for the conservation of government oil. Secretary Wilbur announced today that 349 permits for prospecting on government oil lands had been cancelled and 941 applications for permits had been refused.

In addition, 316 holders of oil and gas permits have been called on to show cause why their permits should not be cancelled. Commissioner Ely of the land office, who with Solicitor Finney and Director Smith of the geological survey, has organized the machinery for carrying out the president's order, said that the committee had just begun to function and that within the next few months the number of cases disposed of will increase rapidly.

The general reaction to the conservation program, Secretary Wilbur said, has been favorable, although in several western states there appeared to be some organized and active opposition.

SHOULD BE BOON

BOISE, March 30.—President Hoover's oil conservation order should be a boon to oil holders, W. Jones, executive of the Standard Oil of Indiana, said today.

Jones is an attorney of the West in the interests of the company and will leave tomorrow for Portland.

"If I had oil land holdings, I would welcome such an order," he says, "because it would save me from the necessity of flooding the refiners with more money than they could handle. The refiners already are flooded with excess crude oil and any danger on production such as this executive order will do is to reduce the value of holdings thus held in check."

Jones did not comment on the recent change in the ownership of the company from the Stewart group to the Rockefeller interests.

GOVERNORS PROTEST

DENVER, March 30.—A protest signed by Governor Frank C. McEwen, Wyoming; George H. Dern, Utah; and W. H. Decision to send the protest, embodying a copy of the number of oil leases applied to the public land states of the Rocky mountain region, came at the end of more than four hours' discussion during the course of which the policy was roundly scored.

The people of the earth have girded themselves with the glory of peace. League workers are glowingly filled with confidence that Christ's appeal to his disciples to go into the world and preach the gospel to every creature is being fulfilled.

An official announcement on the eve of the anniversary of Christ's resurrection, they pointed out in evidence of their faith, and their announcement in solemn convocations to forewear the sword and settle all disputes by the peaceful process of civilization and arbitration.

Fifteen treaties of this nature were negotiated in 1928 in addition to the Kellogg pact, and every announcement said that significance of this figure was that only six similar treaties were concluded in 1928.

Armed forces may still be mighty, said league officials tonight, but the chances of men utilizing them against their fellow men are receding the solemn year. As proof of this they emphasized that nine of the treaties mentioned above excluded war even as a possibility.

ROME, March 30 (AP)—After today's brief notes on rejoicing in the otherwise sombre services of Holy Saturday Rome was ready tonight for the commencement of the Easter festival.

As it will be the first Easter in 50 years in which the holy see and the Italian state are reconciled, solemn celebrations will take on a new and more joyful character.

Among the many one of the three recognized "happier days" in the Italian year. The other two fall on New Year's and Assumption day, August 15, known here as "Festa di Maria." Every day, janitor, postman, personal servant and barber will expect an appreciable donation of money from the refiners.

One of the most touching features of Sunday's celebration will be afforded by the pilgrimage to the catacombs to announce the "miracle" of the Christian martyrs. These processions, which date from the third century A. D., are always colorful and moving. That which occurs at the catacombs of St. Callistus, on the Appian way, conducted by the Trappist monks, is particularly worth watching.

The pope will usher in Easter celebrating mass in the restored St. Peter's cathedral tomorrow. The band of his Palatine guard will give a concert in a courtyard of the Vatican.

The Italian pope will pass the day quietly at his hunting lodge near Naples while Premier Mussolini presumes to announce the "miracle" of the family.

RECEIVE GIFTS

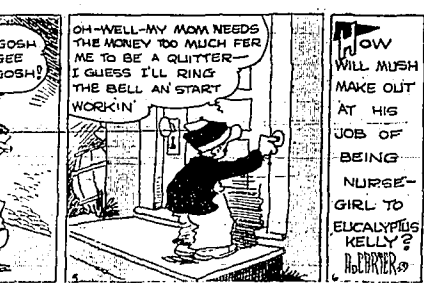

BERLIN, March 30 (AP)—The name of President von Hindenburg was blessed this Easter by thousands of war widows and war maimed who received special Easter gifts totaling 445,000 marks (about $100,000) from the Hindenburg fund collected in honor of the president's eightieth birthday.

The president is spending the Easter holidays quietly with his family at the executive mansion and is taking no chances with the variable spring weather by excursions into the country which are so popular with the German people.

During the course of the week he has received a number of picture exhibitions, one by a Chinese art show and the other in a gallery where his full length portrait and that of his former brother-in-law, Field Marshal von Mackensen, have been drawing crowds.

One of his rare appearances in public was when he presided over the funeral of war comrades who foregather regularly

MELLON GIVES VIEWS ON TREASURY ISSUES

Member of Hoover Cabinet Gives Assurance of Sympathy Toward Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The first public utterance of Secretary Mellon as a member of the Hoover cabinet, made tonight over the radio, gave assurance of Treasury sympathy toward further tax reduction, and a reiteration of the government's determination to pipe out the national debt.

Mr. Mellon outlined plans of his department for improving tax administration, debt refunding and budget savings, while assuring principles of American government financing, he said, were the quick repayment of national obligations, the maintenance of expenditures within income, and the upholding of public credit.

The possibilities of bettering and making more equitable tax levying systems, he declared, were all before the eyes of administration officials.

Cities Coalestancy
 "No other part of our financial policy has been more consistently maintained than that providing for the prompt payment of public debt," he continued. "After the World War this policy was continued. Today the national debt has been reduced to manageable proportions and about $300,000,000 a year saved in interest charges. Eventually, as that debt is paid off entirely, this drain on our revenue will be removed and we can look forward then to a very great reduction in taxes."

Collects $25,000,000
 "Since 1917 the national internal revenue has collected almost $20,000,000, and has assessed more than $40,000,000, 300 of back taxes. During this time it has collected less than $1,000,000,000. This is a record of efficiency that would be hard to equal and yet responsible public officials, while not charging dishonestly, have attempted to discredit this record because occasionally a refund of several millions of dollars has been made to a single taxpayer. They neglect to state that the taxes paid by such individuals or corporations often run into the hundreds of millions, of which only a small part is ever refunded."

He repeated a treasury recommendation made to congress in 1922 which said: "The fairness of taxing more lightly income from wages, salaries and professional services than the income from a business or from investments is beyond question. In the first case, the income is uncertain and limited in duration; in the second, it is certain and long-lived. It diminishes if it is not disposed of during a man's life and it accrues to his heirs."

NEW YORK, March 30.—When a young baseball star shoots forth, the custom is to label him a "second Ty Cobb."

In golf they ask: "Is he another Jones?"

It is no strange, therefore, to find the boys' champion Horton Smith, the big mauler from Missouri, and Mr. Jones. Is Smith, they inquire, greater now as he nears his young manhood than Bob, who was at 20 or 21? At least they are paying Horton the tribute of bracketing him with the career of the illustrious Georgian.

Horton Smith's tournament winning achievements at the age of 20 surpass those of Jones, for the reason that Missouri "pro" is making the game his business. Not even Bobby's foremost admirers would assert that at 20 he was capable of any greater success than Jimmie, from coast to coast, who has turned in. "This record alone is one of the best in years, classic brilliancy at Miami and Pinehurst under heavy shell fire."

Before reaching any hasty conclusions, glance at the record for the United States open. Bobby Jones, at 19, was fifth. At 20, he was runner-up in the big test. At 21 he became American champion for the first time.

Smith, at 19, finished forty-fourth at Oakmont in his first open test. At 20 he moved forward to a tie for twenty-ninth place in the tournament at Olympia fields last year, cutting his score from 322 to 307. The youthful "pro" will be 21 next May and it will be time enough, for comparisons, after the returns are posted at the Winged Foot club in June.

C. C. Pyle demonstrated last year that the union derby can be conducted at a loss of $100,000. This represented some achievement for about 30 runners finished in the race. In spite of the popular notion that the whole affair

JAMAICAN RUM TRAFFIC PAYS DEBTS OF COLONY

KINGSTON, Jamaica, March 30 (AP)—Within the last few years the government of this British crown colony has paid off its entire indebtedness and started a number of important public works. Increased revenues have come largely from rum runners who were permitted to pay heavy import and export duties and take a chance of landing cargoes on the Florida coast of the United States.

The tax on one cargo which recently fell here was $45,000, a sample of what the policy of trying to discourage the violators of American laws has done for the treasury of the colony. By keeping up the law on importing liquor the government claims to safeguard what is left of the old industry that made Jamaica rum famous throughout the world. But this also gives the treasury a chance to profit by both the coming and going of the smugglers.

The rummers pay cash for the cargoes which they buy here and a number of private fortunes have been made by colonists.

Poultry Industry Sixth In Agricultural Field

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Too many eggs and a dearth of chickens are the factors in the poultry industry, its only real anxiety. The department of agriculture finds that generally prosperous conditions attend the buying and selling of eggs and chickens.

The poultry industry now ranks sixth among the agricultural activities of the United States. Not long ago it was a local enterprise in each community. Today the Pacific coast supplies, for example, almost a third of New York's demand for eggs and chickens.

ROYAL PRINCESS KEEN TO ENTER TENNIS MEET

THE HAGUE, Holland, March 30 (AP)—Princess Juliana, heir apparent to the throne of the Netherlands, is the first member of the house of Orange to take up lawn tennis.

She is an enthusiast at the game and plays constantly with her friends at the university she is attending. She is keenly studying the technical side of tennis and has been following with great interest the lectures recently given by the Netherlands lawn tennis association.

The future queen of the Netherlands is a thoroughly modern girl who thinks nothing of breaking the conservative traditions of her house by participating in sports, just like any other normal girl in her kingdom. She has a royal example, however, in the King of Sweden, who although 70 years of age still participates actively in games.

INFLUENTIAL WOMEN IN RACE FOR OFFICE

Wealthy Leaders Campaign For Votes of Daughters of American Revolution

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Two candidates for the office of president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution have been campaigning in the last eight months with all the system and vim of political leaders. They have traveled thousands of miles making speeches in their own behalf. They have distributed hundreds of booklets and pamphlets. They have talked over the radio.

Names of the women—Mrs. Loyell F. Hobart of Cincinnati and Mrs. Julius Young Talmadge of Athens, Georgia—will be presented to the national congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution which meets here the week of April 19. The national congress meets only once in three years so there is much interest in the successor to Mrs. Alfred Broese van Groenou, who has held the office since 1926.

Mrs. Talmadge is vice president-general of the national organization. Her supporters point out that there has never been a president-general from a southern state in spite of the fact that the second oldest chapter is in Georgia. Mrs. Talmadge has held office in the society continuously for 13 years. She was the first national chairman of the Daughters of the American Revolution student loan fund committee.

C. C. Pyle Ready to Launch 80-Day Transcontinental Race

Promoter Confident Long "Bunion" Test Will Prove Success

Approximately 100 Persons Planning to Start On Run From Coast-to-Coast Accompanied By Tent Show

By BRIAN BELL, (Associated Press Sports Writers) NEW YORK, March 30.—Most of the people of the United States who have given thought to C. C. Pyle's 80-day transcontinental race, starting tomorrow, laugh at it, but more than 100 persons take it seriously. The runners, approximately 100, and Mr. Pyle see nothing funny about the second of a series of spring and summer jaunts on foot from coast to coast.

The "Bunion" derby as a rival to the Easter fashion parade, will get away at 9 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, "bunions" in the air.

A busy red headed stenographer at headquarters declared the place was a "mad house" as the clerical twine related entrants into the box office where they were relieved of entry fees of $300 each and told how they could get it back by winning part of the prize money of $50,000 at Los Angeles in mid-June.

Pyle Optimistic
Mr. Pyle, who wrote his last bunion memoir in red ink, has no thought that any financial disaster will attend the second venture.

"It is different now," he whispered. The whisper is of necessity for on the very eve of the race start, the promoter has a serious, his enthusiasm remains. "We are on a firm business basis and this can not fail to be a big success. Our tent show will be a big feature. It will pack 'em in."

Andy Payne, the Claremont, Oklahoma, lad who won the 1928 derby, is not eligible as a contestant but will have a prominent place in the show. He will be head patrolman and do a rope act in the theatrical performance, wearing a conventional habitments of a cow puncher.

Colorful Acts Listed
The billing of the other acts is enthusiastic. One performer is described as "the girl with the golden voice," another "You've heard of her on the air," and the tent includes "Dancing, dancing, dancing," "The show alone," said Mr. Pyle, will cost $800 a day, including transportation.

The caravan leaving tomorrow will include 300 persons, 100 of them on foot, and 100 trucks and automobiles. Thirty-eight of the contestants have come back for more after a year in which to think it over, for they were in the race last year.

The first day's program calls for only a tuning up dash of only about 20 miles to Elizabeth, New Jersey, but later when feet are tender, the laps will be longer, some of them as much as 75 miles. The average will be 45.

Bracey Sets Record For 100-Yard Dash

Sensational Sprinter Establishes Official Time of 9.4 Seconds For Run

DALLAS, Texas, March 30.—Claude Bracey, sensational Southwest sprinter, bettered the official world's record for the 100-yard dash for the second time in two days when he ran the distance in 9.4 seconds at the Southern Methodist relays this afternoon.

At the Texas relays yesterday in Austin, Bracey was clocked in 9.5 seconds, the mark generally recognized in the United States, but the official world record is 9.0 seconds.

Knute Rockne, famous Notre Dame coach and relay referee, said today's mark would not be considered for a record due to the wind at the back of the Rice institute star. Rockne, however, said Bracey's 9.5 seconds mark of yesterday might be considered as there was little wind when he sped down the straightaway in the Memorial stadium of the state university.

WORK TO BE CUT OUT FOR COMMISSIONERS AT COMING MEETING

Budget of Expenditures of Next Year and Petition to Create Irrigation District Receive Attention

Twin Falls county commissioners have their work cut out for them when they meet here next Monday in regular session, first, to make the county's budget of expenditures for the coming year, and second, to consider a petition for creation of an irrigation district to take over the Salmon River project's irrigation system.

The proposed irrigation district has twice previously been presented for consideration of the commissioners. The first occasion, about three years ago, the district was created. It functioned for a few months, and then was dissolved by vote of Salmon River project settlers. About a year ago the district proposition was revived. It was abandoned then when the state commissioner of reclamation, in a letter to the commissioners, asked for more detailed information regarding ways and means of acquiring and operating the irrigation system by the proposed district.

Task Grows Easier
With respect to the budget, the commissioners this year are confronted by considerably less work than when the first budget was made. At that time estimates of expenditures embodied in the tentative budget exceeded by $20,000 the total of the county's anticipated revenues from all sources. This year the commissioners are required to estimate only $2000 to bring the total of budgeted expenditures within the $202,000 limits of existing law.

Estimated county expenditures fall into three principal divisions—Current expense, county fair and county general hospital.

Total estimated current expense fund expenditures for the coming year is $208,041, as compared with last year's expenditures of $191,340. The budget for the preceding fiscal year in the sum of $187,807.90. This department is mainly the same as last year, and the university extension division and the bureau of noxious weeds. The county commissioners' tentative budget, included in this department, provided for expenditure of $54,750, as compared with last year's $63,175 approved by the board of expenditures of the preceding fiscal year.

The commissioners' budget includes provision for care of individuals which is tentative, $40,000 appropriation, the same as last year, has been made. It includes also $13,400 appropriation of pensions for mothers and high persons; $1200 for the Idaho Children's Home Finding and Aid Society; $400 for the Salvation Army maternity home; $1200 for burial of indigents; $2500 for school nurse and health unit.

The bureau of noxious weeds, in preparation for an intensified campaign during the coming season, is asking $1000 for $12,400 for extra help as against $5000 last year; $41,000 for destruction of weeds as against $40,650 last year; and $2810 for equipment as against $309 last year.

Income $46,000
Income of the weed bureau during the coming year is estimated at $40,000. Its carrying over the last fiscal year totaled $42,257.

The county general hospital which last year received an appropriation of $103,726, has submitted a tentative budget calling for expenditure of $110,025, including $5400 for county health unit.

Angler Pays Penalty For Fishing in Closed Stream

It will cost Henry Noorda, Twin Falls, $25 fine or 15 days jail term to learn that Rock creek waters are closed to fishing.

On complaint signed by L. W. Hawkins, deputy game warden, Noorda was arraigned in probate court yesterday on a charge of fishing in a closed stream. He pleaded guilty, explaining that he was only making use of a pole and line and had fished on the bank of the stream and had caught no fish. Judge C. A. Bailey imposed a jail term with probation for 15 days suspension upon payment of $25 fine.

FINAL MENINGITIS TEST REVEALS FIVE CARRIERS

Of the 672 students from the three lower grades of the Twin Falls high school who were tested for meningitis cultures five were found to be carriers. It was announced Saturday morning at the expiration of the 72-hour period following the completion of the tests. This makes a total of 23 carriers among a total number of 4200 examined in the school of the county, which is equal to one in each 150, or three-fourths of 1 per cent.

Danger of contagion comes largely from carriers, physicians say, as germs in those who are suffering from an attack of the disease are usually sealed up in the spinal column. As the germs live; but a few seconds when exposed to air, it is transmitted generally from a carrier who either sneezes or coughs in the immediate vicinity of other persons or breathes close to their faces so that the germ is inhaled. For this reason there is less danger of contagion where people are in the open air than where they are crowded together.

Gipson Urges Spraying For Blister Mite Pest

Further warning was issued yesterday in regard to spraying by E. V. Gipson, district deputy horticultural inspector, who called attention to the fact that it is time to take steps to protect trees from the blister mite. For this purpose a spray of lime and sulphur is most effective. This preparation may also be used effectively for scale. For leaf rollers, Mr. Gipson said that an oil spray should be used, and this may also be used in combating scale.

There has been some spraying done within the last week and Mr. Gipson urges that it be continued.

Dr. Dornier Predicts Use of 250-Passenger Planes by 1932

NOTED AERONAUTICAL ENGINEER TO LAUNCH GIANTIC AIR CRAFT

"Dox" Has Wing Spread of 150 Feet and 12 Nine-Cylinder Radial Engines Develop 9000 Horsepower

(By The Associated Press)
MIAMI, Fla., March 30.—Dr. Claude Dornier, designer and builder of the world's largest flying boats, says that airplanes carrying 250 passengers in luxury will be in use within three years.

Dr. Dornier is known as one of the world's greatest creative geniuses in aeronautics and his most extravagant predictions. The first have come true a many of them through his own hand. He is head of the Dornier flying boat factories, which employ 1500 men in Germany, Switzerland and Italy, and now is building an 80-passenger flying boat.

"The 'Dox,' which he plans to launch in May, is a gargantuan airplane larger than anything sane optimists have predicted in this country.

Imagine an apartment house 150 feet long built to house 80 people, offering refrigeration, a restaurant, reading room, promenade, walk and individual compartments, all surpassing the latest private railroad cars. Vision this luxurious apartment house, with maid service, telephone, and even a bathroom at 200 miles an hour, and you will get some conception of the giant plane.

Engineer Certain
The German engineer is so certain that his big plane will be successful that he is working on no more. They are designed to fly mail to South America and carry passengers through Europe.

The "Dox" has a wing spread of 150 feet and is powered by 12 nine-cylinder radial engines developing 9000 horsepower. It will weigh 30 tons, has a loaded, cruise 2700 miles, and should be able to land and takeoff from a heavy sea.

"It surpasses in size any heavier-than-air craft ever built," Dr. Dornier says. The individual compartments are as roomy as and even more luxurious than Pullman cars. You can retire and sleep with all the comfort of a bed in a room, and even a bath is afforded on a railroad train. Fifty of the 12 engines can fall, and still can fly on the other seven. He will still put the final touches on it at his factory in Switzerland.

Makes Forecast
He made a forecast as to ocean service.

"Not until 1000 horsepower and 2000 horsepower airplanes are built will you see regular transatlantic airplane passenger service," Dr. Dornier says. The first transatlantic service will be mail service, but we must wait for bigger engines for passenger service. Germany has been handicapped seriously by war losses, which have prohibited engine development.

Dr. Dornier came to Florida as the guest of Mr. W. C. Clegg, who plans to purchase a four-motored 24 passenger Dornier Super-Wal flying boat to tour Europe and Africa.

The Open Window

By Hugh A. Studdert-Kennedy

One of the sure signs of approaching winter, in London, is the arrival of the gulls of Blackfriars bridge. I was reminded of it the other day as I was walking down the river, and saw a San Francisco boy and watched the gulls swirling, swooping over its blue waters—what a thing memory is to be sure! They begin to come in London or used to—in ones and twos, often quite early in the autumn. In summer, of course, they have no need to come to town. Whether they travel far, following the shipping on almost motionless wings down the great estuary of the Thames and out to sea, or, according to some, they never skim lightly over the Pool and so on to Blackfriars until

The autumn is old.
The sea leaves are flying.

Blackfriars, moreover, is only one of their favorite rendezvous. They are to be seen, on occasion, on the water in the Thames, near the river, or in the Serpentine, but wherever they are to be found, one reason for their presence is to be sure, to seek for their favorite food, which the Londoner loves to see the gulls or watch them being fed.

There is, to be sure, a special reward attached to feeding the gulls, and the gulls work so hard and so smartly for what he gets. He does not disdain, it is true, to pick up anything promising from the surface of the water, to swoop down at an astonishing angle and retrieve, in passing, some choice morsel left temptingly within reach of his great eye, however, is to catch things thrown to him in mid-air, and the more impossible the angle the more, apparently, does he joy in the feat. He usually overhead and round about in all directions, but never far away.

He is in the same way, in all yet it seems to me—at Blackfriars bridge that he used to give his most wonderful exhibitions, and just about now, when the leaves have been swept off the plane trees on the Embankment, a white bird, when a white mist was stealing up the river, and Waterloo bridge, higher up stream, was just a hazy presence, was the time par excellence to go and see him and feed him.

Aeronaut Has Visions

DR. CLAUDE DORNIER (left), famous German aeronautical engineer, says that airplanes carrying 250 passengers will be developed within three years. He described his new 80 passenger "Dox," nearing completion in Switzerland, to Gar Wood (right) while visiting the speed boat enthusiast in Florida.

MULES DEVELOP MIND, SHE SAYS

ELMHRA, Mich., March 30 (AP)—America's most intelligent farm girl" says that mules and stubborn mules work develops a strong mind and a healthy body.

She is Doris E. Buell, 16, who passed the Alpha Intelligence test with highest honors at the national boys' and girls' congress in Chicago. Previously, at the state fair at Detroit, she had been adjudged the healthiest girl in Michigan.

Both mind and health, she says, is kept on edge by her driving of a team of mules on her father's potato farm. She is taking a secretarial course at the state institute, Big Rapids, Michigan, and working in a boarding house to earn her way through school. Every vacation finds her helping with the work on her father's farm.

Talkies in English Make Fans in Turkey Anxious

STAMBOUL, Turkey, March 30 (AP)—America's development of the talking moving picture is causing much anxiety among Turkish movie fans on the ground that their favorite films have always been American, but that now the best American films will be talkies and hence unintelligible here. This anxiety is giving impetus to a movement to have Turkey roll their own pictures.

An attempt at moving picture production some years ago by a Turkish company which produced Halide Edib's "Shir of Flame" and then went up in smoke is to be renewed. A new company is building a studio on the shores of the Golden Horn. Actors and actresses will be recruited from the municipal stock company of legitimate drama, two stars of which, the actor Ertugrul Moushmaghan and the actress Nisr Hanem, have been studying movie production in Russia and Germany.

List Includes Only 300 Incomes of Over $1,000,000

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Approximately 300 citizens of the United States paid taxes on incomes of $1,000,000 or over for the year 1929.

In 1927 there were 283 in this class. That an increase will be shown when tabulations are completed for 1928, officials of the bureau of internal revenue have little doubt.

Twenty states were represented in the "million dollar and over" class, according to statistics compiled by the bureau on incomes for 1929. New York leads with 92. Pennsylvania is next with 27 and Illinois is in third place with 20.

The remainder are distributed as follows: California 9, Colorado 1, Connecticut 5, District of Columbia, Florida 4, Indiana 4, Iowa 1, Maine 1, Maryland 3, Massachusetts 5, Michigan 12, Missouri 1, New Jersey 10, Ohio 9, Oklahoma 3, Texas 1, and Wisconsin 4.

There are several millionaires who reported incomes of $5,000,000 and more.

New Minister of Poland Eager to See Yellowstone

WARSAW, March 30 (AP)—Titas Filipowicz, the new Polish minister to the United States, who will depart for America soon, is eager to see Yellowstone Park and other great wonders of the Western continent which he had not time to view on an earlier visit.

"In 1904, long before the restoration of Poland's lost provinces, Mr. Filipowicz, accompanied Marshal Pilsudski across the United States on a journey to Japan. The urgent political nature of their mission forbade a long sojourn, and the two Poles expressed particular regret at missing Yellowstone Park.

"I had my mind set on returning to America and I am most gratified with my appointment to Washington," the new minister told The Associated Press. "Now I will return no longer as a tourist without a motherland, but as the representative of a reborn Poland."

Poland, said Mr. Filipowicz, is on the point of "repairing a historical blunder" by changing the executive with greater power.

"This change in our system of government," he said, "will make it similar to that of the United States, and causes me to think with confidence on the future of my country."

Magnetic Instrument May Result in Detection of Long Buried Mountains

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., March 30 (AP)—Detection and survey of buried mountains ranges may be accomplished with a new magnetic instrument, it is announced here.

These ranges sank in remote geological periods and their tops since have been buried under layers of earth by water and wind. Their locations and contours are sought constantly by the petroleum industry, for some of the formations are held to be favorable places for oil.

Though the presence of these mountains, many hundreds of feet below the surface, gives no visible trace there is often a definite clue to be found literally in the air above them. This clue is their interference with the lines of magnetic force which circle the earth from north to south, running straight except when deflected by some local disturbance.

FARMER RAISES POTATOES CHEAPLY WITH MACHINERY

LANCASTER, N. H., March 30 (AP)—Fred W. Feebles raised 11,200 bushels of certified seed potatoes on 35 acres without the aid of a horse. Relying wholly on motors to draw his plows, planters, cultivators, sprayers and diggers, he used only 14 hours of man labor for each acre—which is about half the average for the state.

The title was cultivated six times and sprayed seven times. About 13 hours were spent on each acre pulling out the diseased plants and wild mustard, a practice that is necessary only for state certification.

NAVAL SECRETARY'S WIFE HUNTS HOUSE

Mrs. Adams Has Difficulty Trying to Find Suitable Location in Washington

By SUE McNAMARA
(Associated Press Feature Writer)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—Living in Washington is no novelty to Mrs. Charles Francis Adams, wife of the new secretary of the navy. As a member of one of the oldest and best known families in Boston she has divided her time between that city, Washington and Europe.

Full of artistic ideas, bearing and dressed in brown, Mrs. Adams discussed the bearing her husband's new position might have on the future plans and travels. She has spent much time in Europe and is thoroughly familiar with the eastern seaboard but has never been west of Chicago.

"If Mr. Adams goes to the Pacific coast I shall certainly accompany him," she said. "It is a part of the country I have always wanted to see."

Her further interest in the Pacific has been aroused through Mr. and Mrs. Larz Anderson, in whose beautiful home the new secretary of the navy and his wife are guests while waiting to find a home of their own. Mr. Anderson formerly was ambassador to Japan and his home is filled with pictures and curios reminiscent of the orient.

The real reason Mrs. Adams receives her callers, was aglow with various shades of this live color, all of them seeming, however, to blend and harmonize. Japanese prints and carvings

A Woman Observer in Washington

By SUE McNAMARA
(Associated Press Feature Writer)

WASHINGTON, March 30.—That the woman's world is rapidly making itself felt in the White House. Mrs. Coolidge was almost Western in her breezy informality and cordial manner, but she always conformed to President-Coolidge's preferences, which were quite in accord with the New England code of dignity and formality. Mrs. Hoover, western by birth, education and experience, brings to the capital the ways of Iowa and of California—a simple hospitality. And in this she is backed by the president, whose birth, education and experience have given him similar tastes.

Capital society is watching the White House with interest these days to see what will happen next, socially speaking. Things are rather staid, going along in the same old rut, with never a break in the glittering lines, never a change in the ceremonial bows. The Washington society hopes that a new administration will bring some changes, something to be talked about over the tea cups and at dinner parties. In the Hoovers they are apparently not disappointed.

The new president and his wife started out by serving a real collation at the afternoon reception to Republican women leaders the day after the inauguration. Sandwiches and coffee, ice cream and cake were served.

It was probably the happiest repeat in the reception since the days of President Taft. During his administration the White House was noted for the excellence of its dinners and its lavish refreshments. Then came the war and at dinner parties, the White House setting a pace for the rest of the country.

This esthetic diet prevailed at large receptions through the Harding and Coolidge regimes. White light tea was served at a few of the afternoon affairs, nothing but ice water enlivened the big evening suppers at which Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge descended the stairs at nine, shook hands for an hour, and returned upstairs at 10 o'clock.

The Hoovers' first informal and hospitable social act was to invite Mr. Hoover's old school teacher, Mrs. Mollie Carran, West Branch, Iowa, and her husband to be their first luncheon guests in the White House.

Ahead of ambassadors and cabinet officers came this simple old-fashioned little woman from a country town. After the four course luncheon Mrs. Hoover escorted Mrs. Carran through the against a red background, bowls of red tulips, red shaded lamps, lily skin rug on the floor and pictures of sail boats racing before the wind. Long glass doors opening on a garden and the songs of birds coming from another high ceilinged room with lofty balconies around the walls.

Mrs. Adams sighed as she looked at the splendid permanency of it all, and thought of her own house hunting troubles.

"I have looked at 17 houses already and can't find what I want," she confessed. "I don't demand so much—just a nice house in this part of town, not too large, but large enough to entertain in and with quarters for the servants that they can be happy in. The latter kind of house seems especially hard to find."

The Adams have two children, a married daughter living in New York and a son, Charles Francis Adams, Jr., who is a student at Harvard. Mrs. Adams belongs to several clubs, chief among them the Woman's club and the Children club of Boston.

PARIS, March 30.—Premature celebration of Easter, in March this year, prevent many a spring costume from appearing in the church parade. But Paris is ready with a long list of ideas for brightening up for Easter by means of accessories.

Right at the top of the list is scarves. This is going to be the scarf, according to haute couture. Never have so many scarf fashions been put forth or used on so many different types of costumes.

There is the patchwork scarf of several colors, meant for wear with suits and coats. To the basic color of the costume are added one, two or three other colors or shades, with the scarf, usually three cornered, put together in squares, and doubled.

Next comes the big chiffon handkerchief scarf, usually in pastel tints, with lemon yellow and flesh pink or white, considered most chic. The handkerchief scarf must have a hand sewn roll hem and must be the acme of daintiness.

Third is the cravat scarf, which runs in two or three colors in stripes. Ends are wider than the center of this scarf, which is made on the bias, and the scarf of double thickness.

Frauleins and Mothers Prefer Bobs to Braids

BERLIN, March 30.—The blond braids of Germany's traditional "Froehchen" type apparently are gone forever. Hairdressers' fashions are declared lost in this country.

Frauleins—and their mothers—are decided that bobbed hair is here to stay. A longer bob has come into vogue, the hair softly waved back and front, but that is the only concession granted the hairdressers.

The permanent wave has been adopted so whole heartedly that it is considered a necessity and quite out of the luxury class.

FORGED TREATY TEXT BARES ARMY PACT OF FRANCE AND BELGIUM

Publication of Agreement in Holland Brings Out True Military Status Between Two Great Nations

By EDUARD TRAVIS (Associated Press Correspondent) BRUSSELS, Belgium, March 30.—Foreign policies of the United States and Great Britain, together with evacuation of the Rhineland by France, Belgium and England, received attention in the publication of a newspaper of Utrecht, Holland, of forged "secret Franco-Belgian military agreement." The inclusion has passed so far as official discussion is concerned but it served to bring out the true military status that exists between the country and France. The whole thing goes back to the close of the World War. President Wilson made a suggestion aimed at guaranteeing France against any future German aggression, but the United States government did not follow this. Subsequently, Great Britain refused to enter into any similar engagement towards France and Belgium.

Bring Understanding These policies caused France and Belgium to come to an understanding on the subject, but they framed it with the idea of meeting the limitations imposed by the covenant of the League of Nations and deposited at Geneva the exchanges by which this agreement was ratified.

The whole agreement appears in a paragraph of identically worded letters which passed between Prime Minister of France and Paul Emile Jaxaet, Minister of National Defense of Belgium on the one hand, and President Millerand of France, the other. The Belgian letter to the French President said: "We have the honor to inform your Excellency that the Belgian Government have given their consent to the Military Accord, the text of which was signed September 7, 1920, by Marshal Foch, General Hagelin, Chief of Staff of the Belgian Army, and General Buat, Chief of Staff of the French Army, acting in behalf of their respective Governments."

"The aim of this agreement is to reinforce the guarantees for peace and security that result from the League of Nations. It is a matter of course that the sovereignty of both countries remains intact, as to the military charges imposed on the two respective countries as well as to the appreciation, in every case, of the realization of the eventuality in view of which the present accord is concluded."

"Like all agreements of this type, this called for determination by the interested military staffs of the technical problems that might arise. Every army staff in the world has files of such plans. They are jealously guarded but the eventual enemy always tries to discover their contents, frequently by means which are not in accordance with fair play. Before the war, for example, the French, Belgian and English staffs exchanged technical views. They became known as the "Barratistid conventions" because of the name of the then English military attaché and when the Germans in 1914 found them in the Belgian archives, they used them in their propaganda campaign to demonstrate that Belgium had given up her neutrality long before the war.

Yet the true 1920 Franco-Belgian treaty had more than the usual amount of publicity. As late as January, 1923, General Gaillet, chief of the Belgian staff, discussed it before a legislative committee which was examining a new law dealing with military service, saying: "In January, 1920, when the second zone of occupation in Germany will have been evacuated, will see the whole of our eastern border open once more."

Recall First Days "In the first days of mobilization the Belgian covering forces concentrated along the border will amount to six divisions (150,000 men). The second period corresponds with the arrival of the first line troops. The last stage corresponds with concentration of the six divisions of the active army, together with six Belgian reserve divisions and an 'x' number of allied divisions of active and reserve troops."

Belgian authorities have all along emphasized that the various publications of this agreement prove conclusively that there is no secrecy about Belgian determination to defend itself against aggression. They also point to General Gaillet's statement as showing that the mention of 600,000 Belgian troops in the Utrecht forgery was a gross exaggeration.

MOSCOW MAKES WAY FOR YOUNGER TALENT

Former Manual Workers at Higher Positions Receive Order to Go Back to Bench

By WILLIAM RESWICK MOSCOW, March 30.—Carrying out Lenin's idea that "every cook should know how to govern," the Moscow committee of the Russian Communist party has ordered former manual workers, now holding high positions, to return to their factory benches or other early labors, thus making way for younger talent.

The idea is to produce a rotation in industry analogous to the rolling stone that gathers no moss. A first detachment of officials readily volunteered to resign their positions to their former occupations. Examination of this list reveals, for example, that the chief of the Moscow Municipal Department of Roads was a common laborer on the streets before he climbed to his titled job. Several judges were formerly carpenters, locksmiths or tailors. The director of the Rubber trust was a smith and a member of the Collegiate of the People's Commissariat For Trade was once a compositor.

Supporters of the decree argue that it has many advantages. They say that the experienced manager, who goes back to the work bench, will be in position to aid other workers in meeting technical problems, thus speeding up and improving factory output. They also assert that the system will give the laborer a better perspective of industry and a better understanding of their relations to the party and of what that organization is trying to do. It also would further demolish the remnants of the barriers between leaders and masses that still exist.

EXPLAINS DIVORCE INCREASE BERLIN, March 30.—Dr. Marijke Horton, New York, lecturing here before the League of German Academic Women, said the increase of divorces in the United States indicated not so much a weakening in the sense of responsibility among women as an increasing intellectual and physical emancipation.

MOSQUITO SUCCUMBS TO MARINE CORPS AVIATORS

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, March 27 (AP)—Haiti is fighting malaria, one of its major medical problems, from the air. Twice the Marine corps observation squadron has winged low over notorious mosquito areas, spraying larvicide and insecticide, with a barrage of mixed Paris Green and lime.

The success of both attacks was marked that Commander Kent C. Melhorn, medical corps, United States navy, who is director general of the national public health service, has detailed Lieutenant Commander Sterling St. Cook, with two years' previous service in this field, for a comprehensive campaign against the "wiggie tails."

The first attack on the larvae was delivered Christmas week over a swampy area of 100 acres near St. Louis du Sud. Preliminary tests had shown that the larvae were too numerous for con-sus purposes. Tests at the end of the "dusting" revealed only 20 of the hardest still alive. In the next attack a large field received a spirited "dusting," and three hours later 95 per cent of the "wiggie tails" were complete casualties.

The mixture that proved so deadly to the mosquito larvae caused no damage to fish in the water or to the cattle that grazed on its shores.

Communists' League Would Strip Daggers From Daghestan Dress

MAHACHI-KALA, Daghestan, March 30 (AP)—Dagger toting causes so many murders in Daghestan that the Young Communist league is trying to persuade the men of the country to limit the weapons from the national costume.

Hundreds of murders occur annually and almost all of them are traceable to the handy knife hitched to the belt of the picturesquely clad inhabitants.

AIR-MINDED YOUNG FOLKS BRITISH AIM

England Extending Appeal to Children of Nation to Take Interest in Aviation

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—British aviation, taking a long forward look, is extending its appeal to the children of the nation. Sir Alan Cobham, famous airman, will take thousands of youngsters for free air rides when he tours Great Britain this summer.

"The flights for children will be undertaken," Sir Alan announced, "in addition to my original plan for taking up mayors and chairmen of chambers of commerce in the various towns. School teachers will also be invited to accompany the children."

The underlying idea in the scheme, which is to be financed by an anonymous patron of aviation, is to stimulate the boys' and girls' spirit of adventure and to encourage their air-mindedness.

"I shall carry out the flights personally in my large air liner, which will be called 'Spirit of Adventure,'" the aviator explained. "Every landing ground will be licensed by the Air Ministry and every precaution will be taken for safety."

"No stunts whatever will be tried. The children, who will be over 12 and will be chosen by the local education authority from the elementary and secondary schools, will be carried only with their parents' consent. Many local education authorities have endorsed the plan."

COMMEMORATION

Behold: The Christ has risen! Cried Mary in despair: When she beheld that open tomb, And found her Lord—not there.

On that first Easter morning, When in the tomb He lay; While soldiers watched, an angel-came And rolled the stone away.

He rose from ignominious death, A conqueror of the grave; And thus fulfilled His mission here, To suffer and to save.

He came to do His Father's will, All, salvation bring; To die for me and rise again, And take from death its sting.

To bear that heavy Cross for me, To wear my crown of thorns; To burst the shackles binding me In sin, this Easter morn.

His Resurrection plants a hope In every human breast; That though we die, we yet may live Immortal, and at rest.

He gave His life, and suffered all, That I might ever live— Dear Lord: take Thou my sinful heart, 'Tis all that I can give.

By R. W. WOODRUFF

THE abundant life is life at its best, and this is what Jesus had in mind when He said:

"I am come that ye might have life, and have it more abundantly." There are two aspects to the gospel which Jesus proclaimed...

There are many problems of our modern world that are pressing for solution. How can they be solved? Only by the application of the gospel of Jesus.

BUSINESS AUTHORITY POINTS TO VALUE OF
PROPER ADVERTISING

Roger W. Babson Declares
Increase in Lineage Indicates Improvement of Commercial Conditions

BABSON PARK, March 30.—One of the best indicators of business conditions is the amount of advertising carried by the newspapers and magazines. While theoretically the best time to advertise is when business is good, and they reduce advertising when times are dull. This has been the tendency shown by the advertising statistics ever since they began to be compiled.

During the greater part of 1927 and up to October, 1928, the amount of advertising carried in the daily newspaper gradually declined. October marked a reversal of this trend and since that time each month has shown a gain over the corresponding month of the year previous. Latest complete figures are for January, 1929. They show a 5 per cent increase in advertising lineage over January, 1928. Two hundred forty-three daily papers in 76 cities carried a total lineage of 202,501,023, a gain of 9,299,911 over the previous January. Preliminary reports indicate continuance of gains for February and March up to the present time. No better proof of current business prosperity can be found.

Larger Advertisers Profit
Does advertising pay? This question would seem to have been answered in the affirmative years ago; but it still bobs up in the minds of many businessmen, who for some reason or other, have had disappointing experiences. Wherever advertising has failed to produce the results expected, however, I am convinced that the fault lies not with the general principle of advertising, but with the particular application made of it. Advertising of the right kind, properly directed, and suited to the product, not only pays but pays handsomely. Otherwise our large industrial and mercantile corporations would not be increasing their advertising appropriations year after year.

Statistics show that the largest advertisers are making the greatest sales and the greatest net profits. For example, it is highly significant that the 15 companies who spent the most money on national advertising last year showed total net profits 22 per cent greater than in 1927; whereas the average of 500 corporations, including large and small advertisers, showed total net profits only 14.7 per cent greater. It may be argued that these 15 large corporations are the biggest net profiters because they have the most money to spend. But does not the car before the horse? It is more true to say they are the biggest and most profitable concerns because they are and have been, the largest advertisers. Each one of these 15 companies spent $1,000,000 or over in advertising last year. One of them spent over 25,000,000.

We have recently witnessed a revival of the old "paid testimonial" type of advertising. This has come in for plenty of ridicule and considerable editorial condemnation but it must have a strong appeal of some kind or so many of our prominent corporations would not be flinging huge sums of money on it. Personally, I believe that the paid testimonial carries no particular convincingness to the average American reader. People know that many of these testimonials by movie actresses, musicians, and other popular heroes and heroines are paid for. Further, I believe the strong appeal and effectiveness of the present testimonial lies in the fact that it introduces a personality. This personal appeal attracts the reader's interest. Advertising leaves men cold when it lacks a human element. If in time the testimonial ad passes from the picture we must replace, in some way, the personal appeal which is so effective. Greater advertising men should be able to recognize this desirable feature of the testimonial and incorporate the same human appeal in less sensational and possibly more ethical advertising copy. This, I confidently expect, will be done.

A little while ago the National Advertising association made an interesting test of the value of show window displays. For three weeks one of the largest drug stores took all merchandise and display material out of its windows and substituted simple draperies. The loss in business was at once apparent. Special sales of that store fell off 41 per cent; candy sales 32 per cent; rubber goods 22 per cent; toilet goods 18 per cent; soda 14; stationery 10; and prescriptions 2 per cent. Loss in sales in that three weeks' period amounted to $3000. This proves conclusively the great value of proper window displays in selling goods.

I believe, however, that the art of window dressing and window lighting is only in its infancy and can be made tremendously more effective. In this connection I am much interested in experiments carried on with a new lighting device based on the ultra-violet ray principle.

For a some time it has been known that near ultra-violet light could be used to illuminate objects painted with certain chemicals which have fluorescent properties. Only recently, however, has practical equipment been developed for using this light in advertising, but the equipment is now available at a relatively low price for installation in store windows. The light rays used are invisible except as they strike objects coated with fluorescent paints. When they cause the fluorescent paints to become self-luminous. The objects glow as if they themselves were the source of the light. This, of course, presents a strikingly beautiful display.

By applying different preparations to the show window merchandise all the colors of the rainbow can be produced. The illusion of a magically quick change in a store window setting can be obtained by alternating near ultra-violet light which shows only the fluorescent surfaces, and the ordinary white light which shows all the objects in their natural color. Inasmuch as the ultra-violet effect is invisible under ordinary white light, it does not effect the appearance of the window in daytime while light conditions. However, at night, startling and attractive displays are possible by the effect of ultra-violet light on the specially treated merchandise or window setting.

This new lighting effect is but one of many scientific discoveries that will be applied to display advertising. I look for great progress during the next few years not only in newspaper and magazine advertising, but also in the application of mechanical and chemical aids to display advertising of all sorts.

Business by the Babsonchart is now 7 per cent above normal compared with 5 per cent above a year ago.

ENGLISH WOMAN'S TEAM WOULD LIMIT TOURNEY

LONDON, March 30.—Sentiment among leading women golfers in Britain is very strong for limiting the number of entries at the two big tournament events this year, the Women's Open, and the English golf championship.

The executive committee of the Ladies Golf Union has under consideration recommendations from the general meeting of the union that the handicap limit be set at six for the open event and nine for the "closed" tournament this year.

Miss Molly Gourlay, a former champion, is an advocate of the restriction. While she does not favor preventing young players from entering the championship golf, she says, there has been a tendency for the list of entries to become unwieldy and to make an extra day's play necessary.

The six handicap limit was in force last year in the open, it having been 12 before 1928. There has never been a handicap restriction for entrants in the English championship.

Spring Days Are Happy Days For The Woman Who Drives The New Model "A" Ford

The new Ford is an especially good all weather car for the woman driver because it is so reliable and dependable and so easy to handle in traffic.

Somewhat every thing seems just right. Your feet reach the pedals without effort. Seats are wide, roomy and comfortable, starting is easy, even in cold weather. Gears shift silently and smoothly. The steering wheel responds instantly to your touch. And you do have more confidence in driving when you note how quickly and firmly the brakes take hold, even on slippery pavements.

Back of the new Ford are manufacturing and production methods as unusual as the car itself. Because of them, it is unquestionably the best motor car that can be made at a low price without sacrificing quality anywhere along the line.

We delivered 90 new and used cars in March. Immediate delivery on all models, sales and service open Sundays.

POCATELLO, March 30 (Special to The News)—The first annual state school band and orchestra contest will be held here on April 28 and 27, it was announced today by L. J. Schnafle, chairman of the Eastern Idaho contest committee. The contest will determine the school championship of the state and the band and orchestra each winning first place will receive a prize donated by the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music, which is cooperating in the contest and under whose rules it will be conducted.

In addition to the award of the state championship, the winning schools will be entitled to represent Idaho in the national contests in competition for the grand trophies awarded by the bureau. The national school band contest will be held in Denver May 23, 24 and 25, and the national orchestra contest in Iowa City, May 17 and 18.

The University of Idaho, southern branch, will sponsor the contest here, under the direction of T. R. Nielson, head of the Fine Arts department, assisted by its music staff, consisting of Donald Kissan, Mrs. Nielson, J. C. Gardner, James Campbell, Jr., Walter Peterson and Mrs. L. H. Masters. IRRIGATION BODY SCORES POWER PROFIT DIVISION

BURLEY, March 30—Special to The News—Distribution of profits accruing from the sale of commercial power developed at the Mindoka dam is again assailed as unfair, in a memorial addressed to congress by the officials of the Mindoka Irrigation district.

This memorial, scores as a "plain and palpable mistake" the decree of the secretary of the interior in distributing these profits on the basis of 95.8 per cent to the pumping unit of the Mindoka project, and 4.2 per cent to the gravity unit. The memorial, a copy of which was recently filed with the directors of the Burley Irrigation district or the pumping unit of the system, requests congress to enact additional and necessary legislation so that the power profits may be allocated according to the findings of a congressional committee which, it is desired, may be appointed to consider the subject.

About a month ago Secretary Roy O. West denied a petition for a rehearing on the findings of the board of review, which was brought by the Mindoka Irrigation district.

Club Supervises Play to Be Staged at Hollister

ROGERSON, March 30—Supervision of the play, "What Became of Parker," has been assumed by the Rogerson Home Entertainment club. The comedy, it has been decided, will be presented in the Hollister high school auditorium April 3. Miss Florence Deal and C. A. Boss are new members of the cast.

The following were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Johnson Thursday evening: Mrs. Helen Gardner, Lucile Foulk, Miss Marjorie Wurts, Mrs. Dove White, Mr. and Mrs. John Jagger, Troy Thompson, John K. Walpole, Joe Schnell, Lloyd Moon and Maynard Craig.

An Easter Christian Endeavor social will be given in the church parlors here next Thursday evening.

Take Meningitis Tests

BURLEY, March 30 (Special to The News)—A test for carriers of meningitis has been made of the children in the sixth grade in one of the school rooms here. As these children are believed to have been exposed to meningitis, the school room will be kept closed until Monday, by which time results of the examination of the cultures will be known.

WATER USERS WILL MEET AT IDAHO FALLS SESSION

IDAHO FALLS, March 30—Water users of district 36, that area along the Snake river between the Montana line and Jerome, will be asked to be here April 12 to consider plans to avert a possible flood north of Idaho Falls this spring. The meeting will be sponsored by the committee of nine of the district which met here today to fix the budget for the coming year.

Federal engineers will be here at the April 12 meeting to discuss flood control. There is a danger, engineers say, that the river may cut a new channel during high water this spring and cut off a large area from irrigation.

WESLEYAN, March 30 (Special to The News)—The second annual powerful invasion of Gooding college campus and the region adjacent was carried on Thursday when the students of the college celebrated their Clean-up day. Armed with pitchforks, hoes, rakes and other weapons, they went forth in search of any and all forms of dirt and debris which might infect the countryside. Three captains, Phyllis Calkins, Twin Falls; Jennie Bishop, Twin Falls; and Ola Linger, Hamer, led the invaders. The real celebration came in the evening when the Gooding college fac-

Cooperative Movement Among Farmers Making Great Strides

GOVERNMENT EXPERT FORESEES NEW ERA FOR ORGANIZATIONS

Chris L. Christensen Outlines Developments of Outstanding Importance Which Set Up Criterion

By FRANK L. WELLES (Associated Press Farm Editor) WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Predicting great forward strides in 1929 for the cooperative farm movement as a permanent factor in modern agriculture, Chris L. Christensen, chief of the federal division of cooperative marketing, points to five developments of outstanding importance that made last year a criterion of future achievement.

A broader and clearer comprehension of cooperative marketing and purchasing, he says, has been developed through educational methods among farmers and among farm boys and girls in rural schools and agricultural colleges. Standardization of grades, packing and trade practices showed further progress in 1928.

Increased operating efficiency has been effected by the application of better business methods and by obtaining a larger volume, thereby reducing unit cost of marketing and buying. Business practices have been adapted to needs of both the producer and the market. The tendency toward cooperation among cooperatives themselves has led to unification within each industry or community branch of agriculture.

The total business of 11,400 farmers' associations engaged in cooperative marketing and purchasing was more than $2,500,000 in 1928. More than 2,000,000 farmers are members of one or more cooperative associations.

Live stock alone nearly 6,000,000 animals were sold at terminal markets by cooperative associations affiliated with the National Livestock Producers' association. How well the business was carried on, Christensen says, is even more important than how large it was. Progress is more striking in view of gains in efficiency and general stability. The cooperatives of 1928 were incomparably better managed business organizations than those of 10 years ago, and the farmers of 1928 had a better comprehension of marketing problems, aims and possibilities of cooperations, than they had in 1918.

Among the developments of cooperative marketing is the California Fruit Growers' success in reducing packing charges approximately 10 cents a box. Three Pacific coast poultry associations, through a cooperative agency, have reduced from 60 cents to less than 24 cents a crate the cost of marketing eggs in New York. For two years the Maryland State Dairymen's association has kept the price of milk at 23 cents a gallon on the Baltimore market, enough to insure a good profit and not enough to invite the competition of milk from distant regions. Today 44 of the leading cooperatives handling milk, butter, cheese and other dairy products, are linked together in the National Milk Producers' association. Several wool cooperatives have formed the National Wool Marketing council. Thirteen livestock terminal cooperative agencies are working together as the National Livestock Producers' association. State wide production associations make up the American Cotton Growers' exchange. Farmers' elevators are interested in developing terminal sales agencies. Protective, educational and legislative matters all cooperate through the American Institute of Cooperation.

Chris L. Christensen, chief of the federal division of cooperative marketing, during a business luncheon for the cooperative farm movement at the State department of agriculture, (Incl.) declares to have an exceedingly bright future for 1929.

Among the other characters portrayed are St. Peter played by Ernest Forrester; the Magdalene, Jacqueline Logan; Mary Mother, Dorothy Cumming; the Roman Centurion, Montagu Love; Simon of Cyrene, William Boyd; Mary and Martha of Bethany, Josephine Norman and Julia Faye. Other fine characterizations are those of the two Scheldens as Caliph and Julia Victor Varconi as Phile, Sam De Grasse as the Pharisee, and Theodore Kashoff as the servant of the High Priest.

When "Friendly Enemies" makes its bow to the people of Twin Falls on Monday or Tuesday, April 6 or 7, it will be a costume true to period. The year 1918 seems but a short time back, but there has been a decided change in style and dress.

Talking Film at Idaho Stars George Bancroft

"The Wolf of Wall Street" starring George Bancroft, will be presented at the Idaho theatre today and tomorrow only as an all-talking motion picture.

"The Wolf of Wall Street" is noteworthy due to the fact that it will mark the first time local audiences will be able to hear as well as see Bancroft in action in a dramatic story so full of tense drama that it may be the best of the season's most outstanding productions.

Like many other stage stars now in motion pictures, Bancroft has never had an opportunity to bring his voice to the screen until now. "The Wolf of Wall Street" is an ideal film for this purpose, inasmuch as it abounds in tense situations dealing with stock-market manipulations which offer gripping moments for dialogue. Rowland V. Lee directed the film from an original story written expressly for Bancroft by Doris Anderson.

The play is fortunate to have such an exceptional cast of supporting players in this picture. There are Bachova, a product of the Moscow Art theatre; Paul Lukas, called the "Barymore of Hungary" who speaks flawless English; Nancy Carroll, from musical comedy; Arthur Rankin, nephew of the famous trio of Barymores; and an experienced stage actor, Brandon Hurst and Crawford Kent, both veterans of the stage.

many trunks and attics throughout Twin Falls homes. The ensemble effect will be pleasing to the reminiscent matron and the fashionably young women will be grateful for modern styles.

The men in the cast dress according to type, but the changes in their case is not so pronounced. The careful attention to detail will help to make "Friendly Enemies" a finished production. Special scenery for the play is under feature.

The Legion feels that it is to give its friends in Twin Falls an excellent production. The proceeds of the play will be applied to the Veterans' Home Building fund. Reserved seats may be obtained at the Music Pharmacy on and after Saturday, April 6.

New and Painless Treatment Prevents Operations

MANY IN TWINLAND EMPIRE ARE BEING SPARED DANGEROUS OPERATIONS

Many severe cases of ulcers of stomach, appendicitis, gall bladder trouble, enlarged tonsils, adenoids, sinus infection, tumors, female trouble of all kinds, enlarged prostate glands, skin cancer, mastoid infection, piles, goitre, diseased ovaries and tubes, and many other conditions which until now have been considered strictly operative cases are being cured by Dr. Wylie, Twin Falls' new doctor, by his new and combined methods, which are absolutely painless and pleasant.

Never before in Idaho has this new system of treatment been given. Many who have been told that they must undergo an operation are coming to Dr. Wylie and without exception are being cured. For years, Dr. Wylie has made a specialty of disease of women and no woman within 100 miles of Twin Falls should submit to an operation until she has first seen and talked with Dr. Wylie. He has a most pleasant surprise for you. The doctor has also made a special study of diseases of the prostate glands, and has special equipment for treatment of same. He claims it is NEVER necessary to remove the prostate gland. Out of over two hundred cases he has had of that trouble, he has cured every one—not a single exception.

Consultation and Examination Free.

Dr. Wylie makes no charge for consultation, examination and advice. He is only too glad to help those who are sick.

He Will Be Honest With You Don't hesitate to see him. If he can't help you he will tell you so and will refuse to take your case.

He Wants The Bad Cases

Dr. Wylie wants, especially, those who have suffered for years—those who have tried everything else and failed to get relief. He wants those who are discouraged—and especially those who have been told that nothing but an operation could help them. He is very busy, but will always take time to give you a thorough, careful examination and will positively tell you the truth.

The doctor is always glad to assist those who are suffering. His treatments are absolutely painless and are different from any you have ever taken. Three competent and courteous nurses in attendance.

April Fool

Don't be fooled by using a cheap paint trying to save money—it will cost you more in the end than good paint—poor paint is high priced at any price. Cheap paint doesn't go as far—cover as well—look as good—last as long or give the protection that is necessary in this climate where we have so much dry weather. We have plenty of cheap paint if you want it—none better at any price.

The New Improved GOODYEAR Pathfinder Tread SUPERTWIST CORD TIRES

Here are the very best quality tires that the world's largest rubber company—with all its vast resources—can produce at anywhere near these low prices. Why try to "beat" such values? Folks, it can't be done. Stop and think. Goodyear builds MANY MILLIONS MORE tires than anybody else. Who, then, could hope to EQUAL the values Goodyear gives you? Don't be bunked by fancy claims. Remember the FACTS. These new improved Goodyear Pathfinders outclass for looks, quality, wear and non-skid traction, everything else in the low-price field. Come in and lift one, bounce it, feel the depth of its tough new non-skid tread. Admire its good looks. Goodyear Pathfinders of 1929 were great bargains, but you'll agree that these new improved 1929 ones are still farther ahead of competition. Take advantage of our special low introductory prices to replace your dangerous, troublesome tires now! Never before have REAL Goodyears of such high quality been sold so cheap. Every tire guaranteed for life—by Goodyear—against any and all defects. No time or mileage limit! Come in and get yours—no waiting—no charge for mounting.

Made of SUPERTWIST—Goodyear's Patented "Shock-Absorbing" Cord

Come in and we'll prove why the carcass of a Goodyear Tire has no equal for endurance! On our corsetting machine, see SUPERTWIST (Goodyear's patented cord) stretched side-by-side with regular standard cord. See how SUPERTWIST stretches and recovers (to absorb ordinary road shocks) while the other cord STAYS STRETCHED! See how SUPERTWIST stretches up to 60% farther before it breaks (to stand severe road shocks). Goodyear Pathfinders have a SUPERTWIST carcass!
