FIRST EVIDENCE OF CONTEST ON BELIEF MEASURE DEVELOPS

Senate and House Agriculture Committees Express Opposite Views on Export Debiture Plan of Grange

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 12.—The first evidence of a contest on farm relief at the special session of congress developed today as spokesmen of the agriculture committees expressed opposite views on the advisability of writing the export debiture plan of national Grange into the new agricultural bill.

A group from the house committee called upon President Hoover before him a draft of the measure to be before him at the same time told him that they believed a majority of the house members to be opposed to the debiture plan.

The senate committee heard lengthy testimony from experts of the agriculture department working on how the debiture plan was working favorably in Norway and Germany and from the Grange and after hearing this the members were very much impressed by the experts' showing.

Expect Approval. Subsequently half a dozen members of the senate committee expressed themselves as believing the committee would approve the debiture proposal and the house committee some specific declaration opposing such a move was sent the committee from the White House.

The house sub-committee said President Hoover promised to go over the measure tonight and confer with them again tomorrow. The sub-committee intends to write any changes that may be suggested by the chief executive into the legislation before the measure is called in the house.

After leaving the White House, the sub-committee visited the department of agriculture and discussed the bill. They also urged him to suggest any changes he felt should be made.

Both President Hoover and Secretary Hyde were informed that the legislation had been approved by the full committee. Hyde informed that the full committee which drew it up. This group was headed by Chairman Charles McNary, Indiana, and Representatives Purnell, Indiana, and Aswell, Louisiana, and Kincheloe, Kentucky, Democrats.

While the details of the house measure it will not be made public until after it has been considered by the full committee, it is known that it would create a federal farm board and place at its disposal a revolving fund to be used for making loans to cooperative marketing agencies and stabilization corporations that would be set up to meet marketing emergency needs. The measure drafted does not include the debiture or any similar plan. It probably will be laid before the full house committee tomorrow.

AMBASSADOR'S BODY ON SHIP OFF COAST

Remains Will Have Constant Escort From New York to Ohio Cemetery

NEW YORK, April 12 (AP)—The French cruiser Tourville, bringing back to his home land the body of Raymond Herrick, ambassador to France, was off the coast tonight while representatives of his own and the French nation gathered to pay him honors.

Arrangements were made to have the body under constant escort from New York's light ship anchorage 200 miles from New York, until it is buried in the Ambassador's home city.

The American cruisers Marblehead and Cincinnati were ordered to meet the French flagship at New York and escort it into New York harbor where it will be received tomorrow morning by representatives of the French and American governments and New York City who will be aboard the city tug Macon.

On passing Fort Jay on Governors Island in the upper bay, the Tourville will be met by the American flag which will be returned by the fort. French and American flags will be at half mast. As the coffin is removed from the Tourville the guns of the fort will fire 19 guns, the salute to an ambassador.

GUARDS RESCUE 100 ARKANSAS REFUGEES

Troopers Remove Homeless Group From Three Caves in Mountainous Country

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 12 (AP)—Between 75 and 100 persons made homeless by the twin tornadoes that took 50 lives in North Arkansas Wednesday night, were rescued today by national guardsmen from three caves in a mountainous region near the demolished village of Gulien. They had passed two nights in their primitive quarters for nearly 24 hours without food.

Huddled together in 25 or 30 family groups, the refugees passed Wednesday night after their escape from their wrecked homes, about bonfires. A search Thursday morning revealed nothing but coffee and this was prepared in tin cans.

At noon a national motor car made its way into Gulien with a small quantity of food and hopes revived, the refugees were taken to a camp where they were fed. Early today members of the national guard reached Gulien, with food and supplies.

The cave dwellers provided the major epic of the disaster, the worst in the state's history. From headquarters established in Newport, center of the stricken region, relief crews were toiling tonight to give succor to the injured and dead within a radius of 50 miles. The injured numbered several hundred.

A new check tonight showed two fewer known deaths than had been reported during the day, leaving the total at 50.

ALLIED DELEGATION SETTLES AMOUNT OF FORMER FOE'S DEBT

Total of Annuities to Be Demanded by Creditors Understood to Approximate $24,000,000,000.00

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, April 12.—Germany's creditors for World War reparations agreed today on the sum they would ask for what is hoped to be a final liquidation of the financial question that has troubled the economic stability of two continents since the end of the war.

By noon tomorrow Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, chief of the German delegation, will have in his possession a complete plan, with annuities computed, representing the minimum amounts which experts of the allied payers are willing to discuss with him for payment.

The total of annuities demanded by the Allies is understood to be in the neighborhood of 100,000,000,000 marks (approximately $24,000,000,000) of which 70,000,000,000 marks would be payable in 17 years and the rest in the 21 years subsequent.

The German delegates are expected to ask for a delay of two or three days to study the plan.

It is interesting to note that the new Allied demand is roughly one billion dollars less than the $25,000,000,000 which the Germans originally asked at the Versailles peace conference and not one-fifth of the grand total of $125,000,000,000 asked by the Allies before the conference opened. However, it is, at least, more than three times as much as the German low offer of $7,500,000,000 in January 1923.

STATE ACTS TO AVOID SNAKE RIVER FLOODS

George N. Carter Assures Waterusers Preventative Steps Will be Undertaken

IDAHO FALLS, April 12 (AP)—Upper Snake river water users were assured today by George N. Carter, state commissioner of reclamation, that immediate flood prevention action will be taken.

Immediate investigation looking toward a definite program, with a view to completion before spring freshets bring on new dangers will be made, Mr. Carter declared before a large meeting of the farmers here.

Army engineers are now making preliminary surveys, but their reports will not be in hand before May 10.

Colonel C. B. Lutesky, army engineer, asserted that detailed investigation work could not be done because the legislative appropriation of $15,000 only provided for preliminary survey and immediate preventive measures.

A cooperative organization which would match the state appropriation was suggested at the meeting.

IDAHO YOUTH AMONG STRANDED CLIMBERS

Rescuers Make Fruitless Attempt to Save Party Clinging to Precipice

CHWELAH, Wash., April 12 (AP)—With one of their party dead and another suffering from a broken leg, five boy scouts and two men tonight were clinging on a narrow precipice near the top of Quartzite mountain and 200 persons were making fruitless attempts to rescue them, word received here said.

The group, which included Paul Hutchinson, former star of Idaho football, climbed to the top of the mountain this afternoon. When the snow and the peak ice gave way, the boys slipped and fell.

Harold Brisson, one of the boy scouts, lost his grip and plunged to his death several hundred feet below.

Hayes' Leg Broken. The group included Don Hutchinson, the scoutmaster, Paul, his brother and scout Vincent Storm, Wilbur Murre, Chudales Palmer, Robert Inagman and Pat Hayes, all of Chwelah. Hayes' leg was broken in the fall.

The new concern has offices spread shortly after 6 o'clock tonight when Suffern, then still alive, was found hanging from the peak, which rises precipitately from the end of Chwelah's main street. Soon the entire populace was attempting rescue.

After their attempts to reach the party from the precipice side of the mountain had failed, a group took a five mile trail around the peak to reach and try to reach the men and boys from the top.

Food and clothing had been lowered to them late tonight, but they were suffering from cold and exposure, as the temperature was below freezing.

GREAT LAKES' WAVES CAUSE HEAVY LOSS IN CITIES ON SHORE

At Chicago Great Body of Water Rises Two Feet in Month and Continues Constant Slapping at Walls

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, April 12.—The waves of the Great Lakes, largest inland body of water in the world, was full and splashing over today.

Wave action in cities in Canada as well as on this side of the lakes reported thousands of dollars damage as water stood in the streets, slung away at retaining walls, poured in basements and hindered navigation. Explanations for the prodigious quantities of water run all the way from deforestation to sun spots.

At Chicago where the lake has risen two feet in the last month, distress was general along the shore. The city's building commissioner ordered all shanty foundation buildings at the lake's edge examined for weakening.

Desperate Efforts. Coast guardmen made desperate efforts to prevent the collapse of the 75-foot signal tower in Evanston, while homes and apartment buildings in the Rogers park district of the north shore reported basements flooded.

The Chicago river was choked and so high that logs could not pass under bridges.

Water was receding at Marinette, Wisconsin, where yesterday heavy seas and the flood water from the St. Lawrence river 100 homes and washed away numerous fishing shanties along the shore.

Milwaukee's gauge reading was 15.5 feet higher than it had been in 15 years.

All Trucks in Service. Chatham, Ontario, Canada, reported every truck in the vicinity of Erieau had been pressed into service for the fourth day's fight to protect Lake Erie against a dike that protects 1500 acres of farm land.

Edward J. Kelley, chief sanitary director, engineering, former secretary of the prime factors in the cause of the high waters. Pavements, gutters and the floor of the city's streets are being inundated by water. This stream and lakes that are formerly absorbed in the earth, held by forests and swamps, now drained.

Dr. H. B. Ward, geology professor at Northwestern university, said heavy precipitation was the cause of the high waters and many scientists thought heavy precipitation followed appearance of spots, or eruptions, on the sun.

New York's Yankees and Giants Will Win Pennant Races in 1929 In Opinion Of 60 Major League Critics, Profound Students of National And American League Baseball

Athletics and Cubs Favorites in Race For Second Position

Exhibition Performances of Last Few Weeks Send Washington's Senators Stock Toward Pinnacle

By ALAN J. GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, April 12.—If the prediction that the Athletics in the spring break fruit by October, it will require only a few subway rides to the Harlem and Bronx to witness the battle for the world's baseball championship of 1929.

The verdict of more than 60 major league baseball writers and sports editors, expressed in the third annual Associated Press consensus, is that the New York Yankees and Giants will win the pennant races that start next Tuesday.

Here's the order of finish predicted: AMERICAN LEAGUE—New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Detroit, Washington, Cleveland, Chicago and Boston.

NATIONAL LEAGUE—New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Boston.

The world's champion Yankees will fly their fourth straight American league flag without much of a struggle, if the preponderance of opinion in their favor among the major critics is the criterion of what the race will develop. The New Yorkers are picked to win by 52 of the 66 experts who contributed their selections to the greatest poll yet conducted, in number of contributing critics. Ten others picked the Athletics, while two favor St. Louis and one selects Washington.

The Giants, however, emerge as consistent favorites in the National league only after a sensational close race with the Chicago Cubs. Of the total of 64 ballots cast in the National league, 22 favored the Giants and 29 the Cubs, only three picked the St. Louis Cardinals, 1928 champions, and two the Pittsburgh Pirates, titleholders in 1927.

This represents an almost complete reversal of opinion preliminary to the 1928 campaign, when the Pirates and Cardinals had the strongest backing. The Giants, with a powerful young team and the aid of a new manager, hitting armor strengthened by the addition of the great Hornsby, are expected generally by the experts to emerge on a battle reminiscent of the old days of New York-Chicago rivalry. Apparently the Yankees are accepted as the dominating American league power "on faith," for the champions have not been especially impressive in the South. Both teams are expected to long range, Lyn Lary failed to make "hitfield grade and the pitching staff remains in some doubt, but the factors seem to have cost the Yankees little if any support. The vote in their favor is higher this year than last.

A LOGICAL STEP
A new chapter is about to be written in the story of the development of the Twin Falls country.

The experimental farm that the builders of the irrigation system established near Twin Falls was, in those days, an intensely interesting place as one discovery after another was made of a new crop that could be grown successfully under irrigation in this region.

Since establishment of that fact, development has been along the line of testing of economic possibilities of production of various crops, and the building up of industries based upon production of various crops and products most adaptable to this region.

The bean industry occupies an outstanding position in this story of agricultural development, and marketing organizations have kept pace with steady increase in the volume of production of this crop.

Similarly, dairying has become an important industry, with an expansion of creameries, cheese factories and other marketing agencies not only adapted for immediate requirements, but tending to stimulate increased production.

Denny Scores in First "Talking" Production

Patrons of the Orpheum theatre had a treat last night when "Red Hot Speed," Reginald Denny's first talking picture, had its premiere here. The star established himself as a first-rate candidate for talking picture honors. The picture was a great success, filled with funny situations and side-splitting "lines." It is one of the best talking pictures offered so far. Denny plays the role of a young assistant district attorney, presiding a court campaign against speeders. His troubles begin when a pretty society girl arraigned for speeding, is paroled in his custody. She happens to be the daughter of the newspaper editor backing the anti-speeding campaign. This complex situation leads to a series of hilarious scenes, in which Denny is trying to prevent the girl's father from finding out about her escapades. Alice Day is the girl. Watch this young woman. She has a charming screen presence. Her speaking voice is wistful and appealing. Others in the cast are Thomas Hicketts as the editor, DE Witt Jennings as the Judge, Fritz Ridgeway as a slaver, Charles Byer and Hector V. Glarno. All have good screen voices and speak their lines with clearness and realism. Joseph Henaberry directed the picture for Universal, from an original story by Gladys Lehman, screen writer of note. In addition to the dialogue sequences, the accompanying sound effects and the incidental music, all rendered by the movietone method, are well done.

Wool Market Remains Quiet; Foreign Mart Still Fairly Steady

DOSTON, April 12 (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin (anonymous) will say: 'The market is still rather quiet on the surface, but there is a fair movement in wool more or less steadily at prices which show little change on fine wools, although medium qualities are easier.'

COUNT LUCKNER THE Sea Devil

by LOWELL THOMAS Copyright by Doubleday, Doran & Co.

Only one of Von Spee's ships, the light but fleet cruiser Dresden showed her colors to the British Leviathans and slipped back under Cape Horn. But the Sunk were merely playing with the poor Dresden, and a few days later she was taken by the more powerful British cruiser Kent off San Juan Fernandez...

The captain of the Dresden blew up his ship, and with his officers and crew went ashore. The island was not quite so deserted after his ship wreck as it was in Robinson Crusoe's day!

On German ships, the captain is also the chaplain. Every Sunday aboard the Dresden we had our hour of prayer and song. When we had "guests" aboard from enemy ships, we invited them to join with us in the worship of the God of the Waves. Our service followed the ritual of no particular creed...

At this signal from me the machine came into the water with a splash and flashed swiftly down, three thousand fathoms, to carry our message to Admiral Count Von Spee and his men.

CHAPTER X Having the Enemy Around Cape Horn "Aloha, shipmate," I said to Lucknermann, you are feeling swell, aren't you? By Joe's life it's to be a race to see who gets to Cape Horn first...

Just south of the Falklands, we caught a message from the cruiser. It was a warning message to allied merchantmen.

As we hope to fare in our sea eagle! A feeling of homesickness for the old days came over me, as it does over an sailor at the mention of a ship on which he has sailed. My service aboard the Moeve had been a quick-change actor or a hero's reputation. I have always regretted that I was not with her on her trials. She made several stopovers through the blockade, sinking quantities of allied shipping, and stealing back to German waters...

THE GUMPS—CONGRATULATIONS. A cartoon illustration showing a man and a woman celebrating. The man says: 'IT'S THE PRETTIEST ONE I COULD FIND; MARY—IF YOU PREFER ANOTHER STONE FROM THIS MOMENT MY ONE GREAT AIM IN LIFE IS TO MAKE YOU HAPPY—SWEETHEART—MAY THE LIGHT OF LOVE ALWAYS SHINE IN OUR HEARTS AS BRILLYANTLY AND CONSTANTLY AS DOES THIS SPARKLING GEM—DO YOU LOVE YOU— I LOVE YOU— TOM YOU DARLING.' The woman replies: 'WHY CHILDREN—WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?—DO YOU MEAN YOU LOVE ME?—IS IT TRUE—MARY?' The man replies: 'YES MOTHER—ISN'T IT BEAUTIFUL?' The woman says: 'BLESS YOU MY CHILDREN—AND ALL THAT ASK IS THAT YOUR LIVES BE AS HAPPY AND FULL OF JOY—AS YOUR MOTHER'S AND THAT YOU BE GOOD GARDENERS—PLANT ONLY THE BEST SEEDS—LOVE AND SEE THAT THEY HAVE PLENTY OF WATER—NURTURE AND DEVOTION—AND ABOVE ALL—KEEP THEM KEPT OUT.' The man says: 'I'M SO HAPPY.' Signed: Sidney Smith.

OFFICERS TAKE UP TRAIL OF BURGLARS

Two Young Men and Women Companions Suspects in Flatiron Grocery Robbery

Officers here last evening were on the trail of two young men and two young women suspected in connection with burglary at the Flatiron grocery and service station, 832 Main avenue south, Thursday night. Theft of a quantity of provisions, cheap jewelry, cigarettes and cartridges, was attributed to the burglars after a survey made when the burglary was discovered this morning by M. F. Huron, proprietor.

Use the Key to Enter

The burglars entered the Flatiron store through a door leading from a driveway after removing a glass pane from the door. They are believed to have used a key to open other doors. Indications, according to the officers, were that the burglars had been deliberate in their movements inside the building, taking plenty of time to make selection of the articles that they carried away.

A list of property taken from the Flatiron store included 11 rings with several diamond rings; two or three men's white sapphire rings; several yellow gold neckties; two pearl necklaces; several cuff links; one gold belt buckle; one nickel belt buckle; one child's ring with ruby and amethyst; four cans of coffee; two cans of ketchup; two cans of corn; two cartons of canvas shoes; six cartons of cigarettes; one flash light; several packages of 22 calibre cartridges; several dollar fountain pens; two 10-pound sacks of sugar.

of Berger for 15 years, whose death occurred Thursday morning at the county general hospital here following operation. Burial will be in the Piler cemetery. Mr. Wyal was 74 years old and was a native of Missouri. He is survived by his widow and by a son, Wayne Wyal, and a daughter, Mary Wyal.
