Surgeon Who Performed 1000 Autopsies Leaves Body to Aid Scientists

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—The body of Dr. David Smith Lamb, who during his lifetime performed more than 1000 autopsies including those upon the bodies of President Garfield and his assassin, Outcault, was dissected today in compliance with his wishes. Dr. Lamb, for 55 years curator of the army medical museum and instructor on the faculty of Howard University since 1923, died last evening of the age of 86 of pneumonia. Not desiring that his service to medical science should be ended by his death, he requested that an autopsy be performed and this was done. He left a record of his many illnesses since childhood, many of them contracted as a result of infection from post mortems, and gave his physical measurements and other data.

MURKY MISSISSIPPI WATER LAPPING TOP OF ILLINOIS DYKES

River Threatens to Rise to Record Heights and Flood Additional Thousands of Acres of Land

(By The Associated Press) QUINCY, Ill., April 22 (AP)—The murky waves of the swollen Mississippi lapped the top of levees in this region tonight as the river choked with spring rains, threatened to rise to record heights and flood additional thousands of acres. Rich farm lands for 100 miles along the river's edge to a distance of 10 miles on either side were in danger as observers predicted the stage reached in 1925, 21.5 feet, would be passed some time during the night. Illinois national guardsmen patrolled the levees protecting the prosperous truck farms of the South Quincy district. It was believed they would be able to avoid a break. Other watchers near the New Lima Lake district to the north.

Two Men Die in Cave-In In North Idaho Mine

LEWISTON, Idaho, April 22 (AP)—Two men were killed in a mine cave-in about six miles northwest of Lucile, on Fiddle Creek, a sparsely settled area between Whitebird and Riggin. Word received here tonight said. The two men, Herman and Henry Cornwall, brothers, were working at the mine. They were caught under the cave-in, where details received here stated, Fiddle Creek, which is tributary to the Salmon river, is maintaining a steady flow, without telephone communication.

REBELS OF MEXICO CLAIMING GERMAN SUPPLY MUNITIONS

Source of Information Not Advising Whether Government or Private Corporation Furnish Material

(By The Associated Press) EL PASO, Texas, April 22 (AP)—Mexican rebels at Juarez tonight claimed that their forces are being supplied with war munitions from Germany but declined to say whether they are being shipped by the German government or by private corporations. A German ship loaded with arms and ammunition, especially tank arms, docked at Yavaros, on the west coast of Sonora, and immediately dispatched the material to General J. G. Escobar, supreme rebel commander, who now is in the vicinity of San Blas. It was reported that United States federal authorities declared that if rebel claims were true, the shipments must have been sent by private German firms. They pointed out that the German government would be unlikely to incur the displacement of the United States through such a step.

Enforcement and Obedience To Law Vital Issues Before Nation, Hoover Tells Press

"No Part of Country, Rural or Urban, is Immune" From Premeditated Crime, Chief Magistrate of United States Declares in New York City in First Public Address Since His Inauguration

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, April 22—President Hoover stated today that in many large American cities murder can apparently be committed with impunity, and he appealed for obedience to laws of all kinds. Speaking at the annual luncheon of The Associated Press, the president said in his first public address since his inauguration, that robbery and burglary is far commoner here than in Great Britain and that even in such premeditated crimes as embezzlement and forgery our record stands no comparison with stable nations. "No part of the country, rural or urban, is immune," he said. "Life and property are relatively more unsafe than in any other civilized country in the world." Prefacing his remarks with an expression of personal loss in the recent death of Neville E. Stone, former general manager of The Associated Press, the president began the reading of his prepared address with a statement to be considered enforcement and obedience to the laws the dominant issue before the American people. At this moment the hundred newspaper publishers and editors who filled the grand ball room of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel applauded vigorously.

3000 REFUGEES SNOW LAKE, ARK. APRIL 22

The Lacoma Circle levee, encompassing about 13,000 acres of rich farm land, broke unexpectedly today, adding about 1,500 refugees to the 3,500 others previously forced from their homes in lower Phillips county by high water. The entire area inside the 18-mile levee was inundated. Backwaters of the White river, which had been backed against the circular dykes for weeks, forced a 50-foot gap in the weakened earthwork this morning and a few hours later the break had widened to more than 200 feet. Residents, warned by telephone and farm bells, quickly began to scramble for places of safety.

OFFICER TO INSPECT TWIN FALLS AIRPORT

Magic City Will Be First to Have Service of Department of Public Works

BOISE, April 22 (AP)—Twin Falls will be the first airport to be inspected by the aeronautics section of the department of public works under the new state air commerce act. George Carier Miller, federal adviser on aeronautics for Idaho, announced today. The inspection was to be made this year of several proposed sites for landing fields and Miller, in company with A. C. Blomgren, state aeronautics engineer, will make the inspection and advise the local authorities as to site and necessary equipment. Request for the inspection and conference came from Asher E. Wilson, president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring construction of the port. At the time of this inspection the twin men will also inspect the present port at Gooding to its suitability for planes to land in connection with the coming celebration in honor of National Commander Paul V. McNitt of the American Legion. Commander McNitt will be in Gooding April 30 to take part in the dedication of the new veterans memorial building there.

REBEL TROOPS MOVE

NOGALES, Sonora, Mexico, April 22 (AP)—Rebel troops were on the move today from Nogales and the city apparently was being left with only enough men to man the trenches, in case of necessity. At noon two trainloads of troops were moving out, including infantry and cavalry. Their destination was not announced, but it was presumed they were to proceed south to reinforce General Faustino Topete, Navajon and Matamoros, where the rebel general was making his troops for the apparent purpose of attacking the city.

BOISE'S ELECTORS WILL BALLOT ON BOND ISSUE

BOISE, April 22 (AP)—Polls will be open in Boise tomorrow for election of a mayor and councilman, and for approval or disapproval of an $85,000 bond issue for airport extension. Voters will also sign at the polls, if they so desire, petitions for a county fair. The 1929 legislature passed an act authorizing counties to establish fairs on a petition of a majority of their qualified voters. Ada county has had a fair for several years, aided by tax money, but it was under suspicion of the Federal Grand Jury. So the county commissioners today decided to play safe and await petitions.

The Day in Washington

SINCLAIR TO SPEND 90 DAYS IN PRISON

Last Judicial Avenue Open to Oil Man's Escape Shut by High Court's Ruling

WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—The last judicial avenue by which Harry F. Sinclair might escape the sentence of three months imposed on him for refusing to answer questions of a senate committee was closed today by the supreme court's refusal of his application for a rehearing. Only a presidential pardon can disturb the court's ruling that the senate was acting within its authority in seeking to elicit testimony from the oil man concerning the federal oil lands and naval oil fields, and that Sinclair must serve his 90-day sentence in that case. Shortly after refusing to grant Sinclair's appeal, the court handed down a written opinion—the court heard argument on the appeal of Sinclair, H. Mason Day, his attorney, and W. E. Burnham Burns and William J. Burns, for content sentences imposed by the District of Columbia grand jury for shadowing jurors during the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial.

Oil Company Profit High

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—The Standard Oil Company of New York, in its annual report for 1928, published today, showed a gain in net profit amounting to more than 200 per cent over 1927. Profit for the year totaled $39,645,227, equal to about $2.28 per share of common stock, in contrast to $1,400 in the previous year, or 67 cents a share.

Bullet Wound May Cause Death of Blackfoot Man

Women Strikers in Jail

GASTONIA, N. C., April 22 (AP)—Nine women and a score of men were arrested today by sheriff's officers who halted a parade of textile mill strikers. The arrests were made with violation of a city ordinance requiring permits for street parades. In the suite, Leggett Blythe, newspaper reporter, was knocked unconscious by a deputy sheriff.

Company Pays $60,000 To Injured Coal Miner

KANSAS CITY, April 22 (AP)—Matt Spanns, a former coal miner at Pittsburg, Kansas, today received a check for $60,000 said to have represented the largest judgment for personal damages ever awarded in this country. The money was paid by the Jackson-Walker Coal Mining company, Kansas City, through the circuit court here. Spanns' legs were crushed while working in a Jackson-Walker mine. He received judgment for $50,000, December 22, 1928 and before the appeal to the supreme court affirmed the verdict $10,000 interest had accumulated.

"Cheap Publicity" Mania Prompts Youth's Story

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, April 22 (AP)—A man for "cheap publicity," prompted 15-year-old Harold Harshman, to invent a story of having abducted Beatrice Roseberry, 16, a year ago. He is being charged her to die. Prosecutor Ray L. Thomas said tonight. Harshman, picked up by detectives last Saturday on a bed check charge this afternoon, "confessed" that he was the kidnaper of Beatrice whose body was found in the river near Salem last May, and then repudiated his story with the admission that he was seeking notoriety.

law should not be enforced. If a law is wrong, its rigid enforcement is the surest guaranty of its respect. If it is right, its enforcement is the quickest method of compelling respect for it. I have seen statements published with a few days' enclosure, addressed to a few of the officers, and it does not concern me that particular justice did not approve of the law itself. I leave correction of the law to the legislature.

In my position, with my obligations, there can be no argument on these points. There is no citizen who would approve of the president of the United States assuming another attitude, and I may say some that the larger responsibility for the enforcement of laws against crime rests with state and local authorities and it does not concern the federal government. But it does concern the president of the United States, because as a citizen and as a legislator, he has the primary responsibility of leadership for the establishment of standards of law enforcement in this country.

After all, the processes of criminal law enforcement are simply methods of instilling respect and fear into the minds of those who have not the intelligence and moral instinct to obey the law as a matter of conscience. The real problem is to awaken this conscience, to instill a moral sense, and if necessary to segregate such degenerate minds where they do no further harm to the community.

We have two immediate problems before us in government. To investigate our existing agencies of enforcement and to reorganize our system of enforcement in such manner as to eliminate its weaknesses. It is the purpose of the federal administration to do this. It is to strengthen its law-enforcement agencies week by week, month by month, year by year, not by dramatic displays and violent attacks in order to make headlines, but by the quiet, steady, unrelenting work of the law itself through the use of the law in its enforcement, but by steady pressure, steady weeding out of all unreliable and inefficient officials, to make certain that every official under its rigid scrutiny of the records and attitudes of all persons suggested for appointment to official posts in our entire government is worthy. That is the administration for which my colleagues and I are as fully responsible as the human material which can be assembled for the task will succeed. Furthermore, I wish to determine and, as far as possible, remove the sources of inherent defects in our present system that defeat the most devoted officials.

Every student of our law-enforcement mechanism knows full well that it is in need of vigorous reorganization. The procedure unduly favors the criminal; that our judiciary needs to be strengthened; that our present assembling of our juries needs revision; that justice must be more swift and sure. In our desire to be merciful the pendulum has swung away from the protection of society. The sympathetic mind of the American people has swung too far from the family of the murderer.

With a view to enlightening public understanding, public support, accurate determination of the facts, and constructive conclusions, I have proposed to establish a national commission to study and report upon the whole of our problems involved in criminal-law enforcement. That proposal has met with gratifying support, and I am sure it will have the cooperation of the bar associations, the various commissions in our various states in the widespread effort now being made by them. I do not propose to be hasty in the selection of this commission. I want time and advice, in order that I may select high-minded men, impartial in their judgment, skilled in the science of the law and our judicial system, clear in their conception of our institutions. Such a commission can perform the greatest of service to our nation.

There is another and vastly wider field than the nature of laws and the methods of their enforcement. This is the basic question of the relationship of the individual citizen to the law itself. It is in this field that the great play a dominant part. It is almost final in its potency to arouse the interest and consciousness of our people. It can destroy their finer sensibilities or it can invigorate them. I am well aware that the great majority of our important journals day by day give support to these high ideals. I wonder, sometimes, however, if perhaps a little more support to our laws could be given in one direction. If, instead of the glamor of romance and heroism, which our American imaginative minds too frequently throw around those who who are in the law, we invest with a little romance and heroism those thousands of our officers who are endeavoring to enforce the law it would decrease crime. Praise and respect for those who properly enforce the laws would help. Perhaps a little better proportioned balance of news concerning those criminals who are convicted and punished would serve to instill the fear of the law. I need not repeat that the absolute freedom of the press to discuss public questions is a foundation stone of American liberty. I put the question, however, to every individual conscience, whether it is useful or even legitimate device, in such discussions. I do not believe, in its effect as misleading and as distorting of public conscience as the misrepresentation, misdirection, but confusion of issues arises from it.

The Weather

FORECAST FOR TODAY: Fair; warmer southeast portion.

Our people for many years have been indifferently absorbed in business, in the astonishing upbuilding of a great country, and we have attempted to specialize in a function of mind toward our own specialties and to respect competency of others in theirs. Unconsciously, we have carried to the government a sense of mind toward government. We tend to regard the making of laws and their administration as a function of mind toward government in government whom we hired for its purpose and whom we call public servants. After hiring them it is our purpose usually to review their conduct to accept those which we approve, and to reject the rest.

This attitude of mind is destructive of self-government for self-government is predicated upon the fact that every responsible citizen will take his part in the creation of laws, the observation of laws, and the selection of officials and methods for its enforcement.

Finally, I wish to again reiterate that the problem of law enforcement is not alone a function or business of government. If law can be upheld only by enforcement officers, then our scheme of government is not a function of mind toward government in government whom we hired for its purpose and whom we call public servants. After hiring them it is our purpose usually to review their conduct to accept those which we approve, and to reject the rest.

I have no criticism to make of the official invitation of Governor H. C. Baldrige to attend the general western, aeronautical conference in Boise some time in early July.

Announcement of appointment of R. C. Cole, Boise, president of the Ada County Public Works Association, to secretary-manager of the Idaho State Automobile association, to take effect at the expiration of his term as secretary-manager of the Idaho State Automobile association, to take effect at the expiration of his term as secretary-manager of the Idaho State Automobile association, to take effect at the expiration of his term as secretary-manager of the Idaho State Automobile association.

It is unnecessary for me to argue the fact that the very essence of freedom is obedience to law; that liberty itself has but one foundation, and that is in the law.

And in conclusion let me recall an oft-repeated word from Abraham Lincoln, whose inviolable presence lives hourly at the very desk and in the very halls which it is my honor to occupy.

"Let every man remember that to violate the law is to trample on the blood of his father; and to trample on the blood of his own and his children's liberty. Let reverence for the laws be breathed by every American mother to the lips of her children; that just as in schools, in colleges, let it be preached from the pulpit, proclaimed in legislative halls, and enforced in courts of justice. And, in short, let it become the political religion of the nation, and let the old and the young, the rich and the poor, the blacks and the gray of all ages and tongues and colors and conditions sacrifice unceasingly upon its altar."

REBELS TO CAPITAL
WASHINGTON, April 22 (AP)—President Hoover returned to the capital at 7:40 P. M. from New York. Mrs. Hoover did not accompany the president on the return trip, having remained in the metropolis until 8:37 P. M. to take her uncle, William Henry, 82, on a sight-seeing trip.

would increase production, thereby circumventing the end of farm relief legislation itself.

Those attempting to carry out the president's wishes sought to convince the debuture advocates that inclusion of the plan would mean no farm relief at all, but the latter group held Mr. Hoover's argument was not convincing. The debuture group in the committee insisted they would rather vote for no farm legislation at all than for any plan they felt would not fill what they considered the need for making the tariff applicable to agricultural products.

Ogden Conference Will Take Up Expenditure of $1,000,000 Idaho Fund

BOISE, April 22 (AP)—Spending of nearly $1,000,000 federal aid money Idaho will be outlined at a conference in Ogden this week between J. D. Wood, commissioner of public works, and B. J. Finch, Rocky Mountain district engineer, United States bureau of public roads.

Wood will leave tomorrow for the conference and later will confer with Henry H. Blood, Salt Lake City, president of the Western States Highway Association, or all that for any plan that is secretary-treasurer of the association.

Commissioner Wood will also carry to Governor George H. Dern the official invitation of Governor H. C. Baldrige to attend the general western, aeronautical conference in Boise some time in early July.

Rebel headquarters had nothing to say regarding the defection of General Francisco Urbalejo, Yucatan chieftain who has sought refuge in the United States.

Unconfirmed reports were received in Nogales today of a clash between the advance guard of General Juan Alvarez Almazan's federal troops and General Marcelino Cuervo's rebel defenders in Pulpito pass in the Sierra Madre mountains 80 miles southeast of Agua Prieta, Sonora. Reports said the fight was lacking.

Mohun was recorded his preliminary hearing in Nogales, Arizona.

Automobile Taken at Twin Falls 15 Weeks Ago Discovered on Road Near City

An automobile reported stolen from here last January 4, by a clipping couple, was driven 10,000 miles before it was returned here last Friday. Officers recovered the car yesterday on a highway at the outskirts of Twin Falls after residents of that vicinity reported it had been abandoned there.

License plate had been removed. No trace of persons who brought the car back here had been uncovered. Theft insurance on the car was paid some time ago to the owner, Joe Walick, Twin Falls.

At the time of its disappearance the car was reported to have been last seen in possession of Arthur Montgomery and it was reported that he had used the car in eloping with a Filer girl. Neither Montgomery or the girl were seen here after disappearance of the car.

The car was found at the roadside a mile south and a half mile west of the east end of Main avenue.

Bean Grower Loses in Suit For Price Margin Under terms of an agreement signed by Glenn Thietzen when he accepted a settlement for 800 pounds of beans delivered to O. J. Childs Seed company, Thietzen surrendered his right to claim a greater price for the beans than he accepted at the time, according to judgment entered by Judge C. A. Bailey in probate court here yesterday.

Thietzen has sued Childs Seed company for the difference between the seven cents market price and the four cents contract price for which the beans were delivered. The suit was returned from the state as a matter of contract, and that it belonged to the beans in question were covered by the contract. Thietzen contended that he signed the settlement agreement under legal duress and later brought suit.

MINING INDUSTRY OF IDAHO FLOURISHING

Many Counties Report Increase in Activity in 1928 Over Most Recent Years

The official proceedings of the thirtieth annual convention of the Idaho Mining association which met in Boise, February 12 and 13, 1929, show a large increase in operations and in the value of Idaho mines for the year 1928.

Butte county reported more new development than at any previous year during the last 30 years; Kootenai more than at any other during the last five years; Shoshone county "more new development, more new profitably operating mines, the starting of more new enterprises, a larger payroll and a greater production than at any time since the peak of wartime activity." Several other counties reported improved conditions and none showed a falling off.

Details for the year 1928 were lacking but a report by Ravelle MacBeth, Mackay, showed a marked increase with 1927, showed a large increase, and it was indicated that 1928 was much better than 1927. The following is a summary of the MacBeth report:

During 1927, there were 708 active mining companies that employed 2032 men as compared with 641 companies in 1926 that employed 2322 men, an increase of 67 companies and 116 men employed. In 1927 there were 382 men engaged in assessment work and 347 men in 1926, an increase of 35. There were 2346 new locations in 1927 compared with 2243 in 1926, an increase of 103. Annual expenditures for 1927 were $10,053,405, compared with $9,241,804 in 1926, an increase of $724,601.

SUPREME COURT PERMITS DIVERSION POINT CHANGE

Idaho's supreme court, in an opinion received here yesterday, has ruled for a second time that W. H. Turner, Kimberly, as successor in interest to Henry Jones, is entitled to change the point of diversion of 50 inches of waters of Rock creek to a point five miles above the present point of diversion.

The question was presented some years ago in a suit brought by George Crockett and other Rock creek water-users asking for permanent injunction against the proposed change in the point of diversion.

On the former occasion the supreme court reversed a judgment in favor of Crockett and his associates and remanded to case to the court here with instructions to take additional evidence on the question whether the proposed change would affect established rights of other Rock creek water-users.

The present opinion affirms a judgment entered against Crockett and his associates after hearing here on the issues raised by the supreme court. Two Justices, Ovens and William E. Lee, dissented from the opinion, which was written by Adair, commissioner, and concurred in by Justice Budge and Commissioner Baker.

Castaways on a Coral Atoll

The last German colony we found... in the middle of the Pacific. The Imperial German fleet was from the top of the tallest palm. It was the victory by chance and not by design...

But our little South Sea colony passed its first nights uneventfully. For sleeping places, we slung hammocks over the palms. At intervals, a coconut would fall from a height of fifty or sixty feet...

We cleared a large space for our village, and built five rows of huts, each with a thatched roof. The first one was a queer-looking thing, but our architecture improved with practice...

One, in the middle of the night, I was awakened by a small, sharp, rattling noise. It was the opening of tropical flowers. I went outside and there I saw the lovely Queen of Night, which blossoms by the light of the tropical stars...

LIBRARY AND BAND MAKE REQUEST FOR NEXT YEAR'S FUNDS

Council Receives Formal Applications to Be Considered in Making Municipal Budget for Period

Twin Falls public library and Twin Falls municipal band last evening requested the city council to continue for the coming fiscal year the same tax levies as were made for both organizations last year.

A levy of two mills was made last year to yield a little more than $10,000 for the public library fund, while a levy of one-half mill brought in $1200 for the municipal band fund.

The request for the library was submitted last evening by Wilbur S. Hill and Stuart H. Taylor, members of the library board, who pointed out the importance of the library in the community life.

With only about 10,000 volumes in its shelves, Mr. Hill stated, "the library is putting out every month between 7000 and 8000 books."

In its request, the municipal band submitted a proposed budget for the band providing for a series of 75 open air concerts during the season, music for the Fourth of July celebration, salary of band leader and purchase of music.

Action will be taken by the council on both requests in formulating the municipal budget for the coming fiscal year which begins the first Monday of May.

Sets Time For Canvass

The council recessed at the close of its session last evening to convene again next Friday evening to make the official canvass of returns of today's voting candidates for one place on the council. Newly elected members of the council will enter upon their official positions at the first meeting of the council next month.

During last evening's session the council received a petition signed by a number of owners of abutting property for creation of a local improvement district for grading and graveling Jackson street from Addison avenue north two blocks to the city limits on Heyburn avenue. Action on the petition was deferred pending a check of its sufficiency.

Number Submits Queries

W. B. Wall, plumber, submitted a practical problem when he asked whether it would be permissible to make a single connection with the sewer for two lots, both owned by the same person. It was suggested that the owner furnish a written statement of the circumstances in order to avoid complications in event of transfer of the property to different owners at some subsequent time.

Application of C. O. Markle for permit to alter a building at the corner of Second avenue and Fourth street east by construction of an addition, 10 by 24 feet, at a cost of $800, was referred to the building inspector.

Salmon Club Assembles

The Salmon social club was entertained Thursday by Mrs. Roy Davis. The 13 members and three visitors present spent the afternoon socially and enjoyed a guessing contest. Refreshments were served by the hostess. The club will meet with Mrs. Earnest Fuller, May 2.

IDAHO INTERESTS ENTER NEVADA MINING DISTRICT

A new factor in the development of the McCoy, Nevada, mining district, will be launched at a meeting in Battle Mountain this week to perfect organization of the McCoy Consolidated Mining company, in which a number of Hollister and Twin Falls investors are interested.
