

CANAL MANAGER HAS CHARGE OF DETAILS

Statement by J. E. Hayes Explains System of Management in Operation

That division of assignments among the several members of the board of directors of the Twin Falls Canal company at the meeting of the canal board January 9, did not mean that each commissioner should take personal charge of the details of matters pertaining to his department, and that details must be taken up with the general manager, or the office force at headquarters is announced in a signed statement issued yesterday by J. E. Hayes, manager.

After quoting the resolution adopted at the January meeting and setting forth the duties assigned each member of the board, the announcement says: "During the period January to March, when there was no general manager, the members of the board divided the responsibilities and each commissioner carried forward portions of the work indicated by his department."

"It was not the purpose of the board members to continue to carry on with the details after a manager was designated. It was not their intent that any one part of the company business should be delegated to one particular board member, they believe that all five members must bear equal responsibility for matters relating to the company and the project."

For that reason they feel that all matters of detail pertaining to the company shall be taken up directly with the force employed for that purpose. "The board members will be pleased to give the stockholders every aid in the solution of problems relating to the company affairs, but for all matters relating to the maintenance operation, drainage, or problems relating to the physical system, they suggest that direct contact with the management and operating force will get quicker results."

BROOKHART DELIVERS THREE-HOUR ATTACK ON RELIEF PROGRAM

Iowa Senator Finds Chief Executive's Attitude On Agriculture's Problems Changed Since Election

The Day In Washington

(By The Associated Press) THE house voted down every amendment offered to the farm bill.

SENATOR BROOKHART, Iowa, vigorously denounced the administration farm bill policy.

PRESIDENT HOOVER recommended that congress make available $42,500,000 to combat spread of the Mediterranean fruit fly.

MINISTER MASSIE, Canada, delivered his country's reply to a note on the sinking of the "Titanic" to Secretary Silliman.

SENATOR BORAH replied to a speech by Senator Hiram with approval for religious tolerance.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—A three-hour attack upon the farm relief legislative program was considered today by the Senate.

The Iowa senator's address was punctuated with flourishes of pamphlets containing the speeches he had made for Hoover in the presidential campaign.

"Congress has the power to solve this question even over a veto," said Brookhart.

"Would Like to See Veto" he declared that he "would like to see some vetoes" and then quit.

CLEVELAND POLICE BATTLE GANGSTERS

Criminals of All Sorts in City Sought by Officers Stirred By Bomb Plots

CLEVELAND, April 24.—Stirred by the bombing of the policemen's home and the slaying of a pair of notorious gangsters here today, the Cleveland police department tonight was in the throes of a city-wide hunt for bootleggers and their killer associates.

"We'll meet this gangster reign of terror with a reign of terror of our own," said B. Barry, safety director, instructed members of the police department.

Although the bomb blasts damaged two houses, and gave the occupants a scare, no one was injured or killed by them. Police said the bomber was an expert.

Bodies of the two slain gangsters were found in a ditch in the outskirts of the city. They had been garrotted.

Police of Cleveland and Detroit said the killings were part of a long police warfare and were probably in retaliation for the killing last week in Detroit of Samuel Abramson, a professional bondsman with a long police record.

Morris Bronstein, alias Morris Asst. sought by Detroit police for questioning in the killing last week of Abramson, was arrested in Cleveland today. Detroit police said the arrest of Bronstein was a "major blow" which yielded a solution of the Cleveland killings today as well as clear up the death of Abramson.

The two policemen who were the objects of the bombings are Captain William A. McKeeters and Sergeant Patrick J. Holland. At the McKeeters home part of the porch was torn away and windows shattered.

The plane was placed on bootleggers, because both of the officers have been unusually active in campaigns against liquor selling.

DAMPAGE ENDS WITH ARREST AT FRANKLIN

FRANKLIN, Idaho, April 24.—After setting fire to his home and barn, firing three shots at the Franklin city marshal and attempting to shoot at the county sheriff, Jack Kirk, 50, Franklin, is in jail here today.

Returning to his home from Logan yesterday afternoon, Kirk is said by officers to have turned his cowboys loose and then kindled a fire at the barn, piled rubbish against the side of his house and set fire to that. Neighbors hurried to put out the blaze which was held at bay by Kirk, who was armed with a shotgun, according to the officers. Hay, grain, machinery and one calf were destroyed in burning of the barn, but the fire set to the house went out.

After the home and barn were destroyed, the fire of his face accentuated by his palm beach suit, Senator Borah arose. He quoted from Heflin's speech with the statement that the position of the United States senators, as to whether they are for the American government or for the Roman Catholic church, is a serious one.

He said, "The resolution 'can have only a limited effect, what it does is to make the senator's vote accomplish...'"

"It was the idea of the fathers of the country," said Borah, "to have a free press, a free press, and a free press of this government, and within its generous purview, there was to be no restriction on the press. The only thing required of them was that in their professions and practices they should be true to the principles and principles and authority of free government."

"It was the view of the framers of the constitution that those who should find a home in these United States which they were then organizing should enjoy the same freedom of thought which it is given man to enjoy, that is, the right to approach his Maker in his own way, and according to the dictates of his conscience."

"It is the duty of this generation and this assembly here, and the generations which shall follow, to preserve this principle of religious freedom in spirit and in letter, to preserve it, and cherish it as one of these things which we will not permit to be challenged, one of those things which, as a free people, we dare not let die."

On Borah's conclusion, Heflin replied that he believed there was no question as to the sincerity of Borah's address with the government. Another appeal for adoption of his resolution was followed by adjournment for the day.

Senator Heflin, in closing the discussion when Heflin insisted that Watson had agreed to his resolution as modified. The Indiana senator vigorously defended.

"I assert you did agree," shouted Heflin. "I assert I most certainly did not say that," retorted Watson.

As each reiterated his assertion more vehemently, Mr. Curtis stepped for order and reminded the senators that the senate rules forbid senators from such observations. Senator Watson apologized.

Seward schools were dismissed when warned of the approach of the tornado. A funnel-shaped cloud was seen to pass over the town shortly afterward. It also was reported that tornado clouds joined near Gettysville, Nebraska, and destroyed a number of farm buildings in that vicinity.

The tornado, which preceded by a terrific hail storm that extended from David City south to within a short distance of Lincoln, Hailstones as large as hen's eggs were reported at David City. The spheres rained scores of automobile tops, broke windows and damaged the wheat crop.

Wire communication was destroyed throughout the tornado area. Large trees were uprooted and carried more than a half mile.

Another severe storm caused much damage near Ashland, between Omaha and Lincoln, Nebraska. A railroad conductor reported that he had seen a farmhouse demolished near Papillion, about 10 miles southwest of Omaha.

Residents in West Omaha watched a funnel-shaped cloud in the southwest for 15 minutes before it changed to rain. Shingles were dropped from the air into yards of homes on the west side of the city.

SITE OF BOSTON AIRPORT NEAR BUSINESS DISTRICT

BOSTON, April 24 (AP)—William F. Long, chairman of the board of public commissioners and head of the municipal airport, has concluded that "Boston is better situated in regard to its airport facilities at the present time than any community in the eastern United States."

Nevertheless, he expects to work for immediate development and expansion in order to bring about proper utilization of the port.

Mr. Long, who has returned from a study of the various airports throughout the country, points out that Boston's airport situation is unusual among large cities of the east because the landing field is within two miles of the center of the business district.

He stated that this compares favorably with the location of nearest airport to New York—that at Newark which is nine miles from the city hall and with Buffalo's airport, which is eight miles out.

Washington, Mr. Long asserted, now has no airport that is at present satisfactory for commercial use. Philadelphia, he says, is similarly situated. Buffalo is contemplating the filling of land at the harbor's edge at great expense. Similar procedure is planned in Chicago.

Immediate expansion of the landing area and construction of an administration and control building are planned for the Boston field. The park department already has greatly improved the situation at the port during the last six months by extension of runways and landing areas. Improvements contemplated during the next few months are expected to develop it into a class A field under department of commerce specifications for size.

KEEPING THE RECORD STRAIGHT

A sense of proportion is not, under all circumstances, easy to retain. Public feeling in Twin Falls is much wrought up over a series of juvenile delinquencies...

Five or six weeks ago a group of boys was haled into Probate Court accused of stealing goods from certain neighborhood grocery stores.

In the more recent series of juvenile thefts, the booty sought was not so much sardines and crackers but home brewed beer, wine or anything else of the kind which came to hand.

In the more recent series of juvenile thefts, the booty sought was not so much sardines and crackers but home brewed beer, wine or anything else of the kind which came to hand.

It is a question if exact justice will be served through the setting up of any greater penalty in the one case than in the other.

The thought of liquor raids by boys creates a feeling of intense anger which however should not be allowed to obscure the general viewpoint.

The grocery store group earned a penalty which will be worked out and settled within the environs of home and parental authority, which penalty represented the best thought of juvenile court officials.

Let's try to be as consistent as we can in the face of a situation which is about as perplexing as anything of the kind which has ever come up in these parts.

Chicago wanted plenty of water from the Great Lakes for her sanitary sewer system, and now, as a vulgar person farther down the lakes observes, she has "got a mouthful."

The lakes are higher than for many years, and the level keeps on rising. Recently a gale from the northeast pelted Lake Michigan up to near Chicago so that the drainage main rose and flooded the sewers.

The saving in personnel alone might make the difference between financial success and failure. At least it will help the company meet the high wages paid American crews, compared with foreign crews.

something in the theory that spots on the sun, reaching a maximum intensity about once every 11 years, cause more rainfall and therefore raise interior waters.

By the same reasoning, levels will fall again. It looks reasonable to adopt a policy of control, maintaining fairly stable levels by means of submerged drains or weirs at the heads of the rivers draining the lakes.

Guiding Your Child

There is an ideal for the parent to show playing quiet games with the young child.

The child's best is a game in which the child is biddled while daddy does such things as tap the window pane, knock on the wooden table, hit the rim of a water glass with the edge of a knife or shake the baby's rattle.

These games, played in the family living room, give the child the simplest opportunity to learn to take turns, to be "it," and to play fair, things which may be learned more easily in play with adults than in spontaneous play with other children.

SITE OF FILLMORE HOME BECOMES PARKING PLACE

The Buffalo home of the late Millard Fillmore, thirteenth president of the United States, will be torn down at the end of April.

The Fillmore home, for many years a landmark, was erected 102 years ago. Once one of the city's proudest dwellings, it had fallen into decay and part of the roof was carried away in a recent gale.

President Fillmore owned the house 28 years and it was from that home that he went to Washington to assume the vice presidency, returning to it later as a former president.

The Abigail Fillmore chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at one time considered purchasing the building for use as a museum, but the plan was abandoned.

Orpheum Showing "The Lone Wolf's Daughter"

"The Lone Wolf's Daughter," a production coming to the Orpheum theatre today is the greatest of the Lone Wolf stories by Louis Joseph Vance. Once more Ben Lyell, who created the role in pictures comes to the screen as the famous crackman. This time he is presented in entirely new surroundings.

The colorful and luxurious appointments of antique auction rooms, palatial residences and country estates made gay by week-end parties furnish ideal backgrounds for the mystery, action, intrigue and plotting of a pair of international crooks who use the "Lone Wolf's" daughter as a decoy. Her love affairs prove a snare for the crackman, who is lured to the limit of his skill and ingenuity in sliding out from under the arm of the law.

A television apparatus provides a new means securing thrills and dramatic situations. The production was made under the direction of Albert S. Rogell.

The cast in support of Lyell includes such well-known players as Gertrude Olmstead, Charles Gerrard, Lilian Tashman, Donald Keith, Florence Allen, Robert Elliott and Ruth Cherrington.

ANOTHER ENCORE PICTURE—Beulah Love and Keith in "The Broadway Melody," the singing, talking, dancing musical extravaganza coming next Sunday to the Idaho theatre for a seven-day engagement.

COMMITTEES DISCUSS GYMNASIUM NEEDS AT COURTHOUSE MEETING

Representatives of Seven Societies Hear of Proposition and Will Report Back to Organizations

Personal approval of a plan to construct a gymnasium 74 by 110 feet in the court between the Twin Falls high school and the junior high at a total cost, equipped, of $20,000 was informal-ly indicated by a majority of the individuals present on committees representing seven organizations which assembled in the probate court room last night. It was voted to meet again Friday evening May 10 and report the attitude of the organizations to which the committees would in the meantime report.

The meeting was presided over by Judge O. P. Duval, chairman of the committee through which the call for the meeting was issued and invitation to the other clubs extended. Other organizations represented were the Twin Falls Orange, the Rotary club, Twentieth Century club, the American Legion, the Business and Professional Women's club, and the chamber of commerce.

By request, Superintendent W. B. Smith of Twin Falls schools, explained the situation. The present gymnasium is now used by over 700 students. This will increase if we have adequate facilities. We need corrective physical education classes, but do not have them at present. The building of the gymnasium will permit great extension in physical education. Construction of the improvement which cannot be placed in Twin Falls at the present time. We can rent facilities and bring our tournaments here which cannot be placed in Twin Falls at the present time. We can rent facilities and bring our tournaments here which cannot be placed in Twin Falls at the present time.

Need Lunch Room Space
There is need for lunch room space, particularly for country children which can be satisfied by erecting the proposed gymnasium, he said.

On the matter of expense, Mr. Smith produced a table to show that the peak of interest payment on current bonds is reached this year and that the decline hereafter will be steady. In the event that bonds for the $20,000 issue should be voted for the gymnasium, two courses would be open. Either the school board could purchase the bonds itself out of a cash surplus of $39,000 on-hand or could sell the bonds, payable in 20 years, and optional after 10 years, in case it took the latter course, and began paying at the rate of $2,000 a year at the end of 10 years, and finish paying in 15 years more.

The payment of $2,000 a year after annual payments begin, should bonds be sold by Smith said, will amount to less than one-fourth of 1 per cent levy on the present valuation of $8,242,917, assuming that there will be no increase in property valuation or 25 cents a year on each $1,000 assessed valuation. But the valuation of the district will increase annually, and therefore, the percentage would decrease.

Due to reorganization of classes use of most objectionable rooms in the Lincoln and Bickel school buildings has been discontinued, and it would be four or five years before there would be shortage enough to warrant erection of a new structure at a cost say, of $40,000, Mr. Smith said.

Sugar Beet Producers of Nation Act to Increase Tariff

PROGRAM CALLS FOR HIGH LEVY ON CUBAN AND OTHER IMPORTS

United States Association at Annual Meeting Takes Step to Incorporate Demands in New Farm Bill

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 24—After hearing reports on the present condition of the American sugar industry, the United States Beet Sugar Association at its annual meeting today formulated a program of increased duties which it will seek to have incorporated in the tariff bill now being drafted by the Ways and Means committee.

The program calls for higher duties both on foreign and Cuban imports and a restriction on Philippine free sugar shipments into this country. The association would have the present 2.20 cents per pound duty on foreign sugar raised to an amount in the neighborhood of 4 cents in the Cuban preferential tariff and the limiting of Philippine free imports to 500,000 long tons with the full duty imposed on additional shipments.

The association members will be joined tomorrow by producers of corn, wheat, cotton, rice, and other crops, and higher tariffs were needed to alleviate this condition. He contended that the Philippine islands are potentially able to supply the major share of the American market.

Mr. Austin made public a letter to the association from chairman Hagen of the house agriculture committee, supporting readjustment of the tariff schedule to encourage and protect this important industry.

The association re-elected Mr. Love as president.

W. L. Peterkin, Denver, and A. E. Carlson, Colorado Springs, Colorado, were elected vice presidents. Eliza Cole and W. B. Lybolt, both of Denver, and H. Eccles, Ogden, Utah, were among those named members of the executive committee.

The board of trustees included Frank E. Sullivan, San Francisco, and S. W. Sinsheimer, Denver.

Bureau Offers Aid

Mr. Love reported that the farm organizations, including the American Farm Bureau and the National Orange, joined the sugar association in seeking higher sugar tariffs. He declared that "any increase in the tariff will return a better price to the farmer for his beets" and added that in 1928 there were 100,000 growers producing beets on 800,000 acres in the United States.

In regard to the Philippine restriction, Mr. Love said the association took the stand "America for Americans."

"Danger to the American consumer in the destruction of the home sugar industry is no myth," he declared. "What happened in 1919 and 1920 when domestic sugars out of the way foreign producers forced the American consumer to pay from 20 to 30 cents a pound, is well remembered."

Mr. Austin in his report asserted "sugar had increased in value less than any other food commodity" during the last 13 years.

"The domestic beet sugar industry does not contend that American capital invested in a foreign country should not receive consideration, in our government Mr. Austin said, "but it does contend that the money invested in this country, bearing its share of the tax burden and the turnover of which enriches American farmers, laborers and industry in general, should receive first consideration."

AKRON

The Rubber City

prefers MILLER Tires

AKRON, OHIO, is famous as the rubber center of the world. In this city the bulk of the world's tires are built.

Akron people know rubber. They build tires. Thus—they are the most critical of all tire purchasers.

Akron's largest tire dealer is the Miller dealer. More Miller tires, we believe, are sold at retail in Akron than any other kind.

The great success of Miller Tires in Akron, firmly established by the famous "Geared-to-the-Road" line, has become even more phenomenal since the announcement of Miller's super-tire—the Deluxe Balloon.

When you need tires, remember, that in Akron, the most exacting tire market in the world, motorists prefer Miller Tires.

The new Miller Deluxe Balloon pictured above is a new super-type tire for those who demand the utmost freedom from blow-outs and punctures. It is built to give extra long mileage and to withstand the toughest service.

BULLETIN STRESSES DAIRY COW'S VALUE

University Department Explains Many Advantages of Condensed Products

MOSCOW, April 24 (Special to The News)—That the dairy cow is the nearest market for Idaho's feed, is set forth in a bulletin, "Suggestions for Profitable Dairying in Idaho," just issued by the University of Idaho, college of agriculture extension division. Idaho's distance for the market; demand; condensed products of high milk value.

Dairying affords a most effective way of marketing the large surpluses of feed on Idaho's irrigated farms. Equipment of the feed crops themselves is almost prohibited by their bulk and the expense of transportation, as has been demonstrated in the past. Forty cars of hay can be condensed into one car of butter, says the bulletin. The value of a car of hay would be less than $200 while the value of a car of butter would be about $900. The freight rate on $1000 worth of butter would be only 6 per cent of the freight rate on the same value of hay, the bulletin points out.

Thus, as is being demonstrated each year throughout the state, Idaho dairy farmers are feeding their hay and low-valued by-products to dairy cows and converting them into valuable products. Idaho's waste feeds can be converted into cash by feeding to dairy cows, says the bulletin. By-products that can be fed to dairy cows and turned into cash are cull potatoes, wet beet pulp, beet molasses, cannery wastes, apple pomace, bean and pea by-products.

Albion Motorist's Auto, After Years of Service, Holds Citizens' Interest

BURLEY, April 24 (Special to The News)—Burley citizens are attracted to the curb, from time to time, to examine a rather strange affair that seems to hark back to the days of the "horseless carriage." It is Norman Isaacson's old time car. Isaacson bought it almost 20 years ago and has piloted the antique along the trails and highways of Cassia county ever since. The owner lives in Albion, and at times has served the county as commissioner and assessor. His fillyer is said to have journeyed over every trail and road in the county, and has traveled a distance in miles that Isaacson says, he has long since lost track of. Except for one new connecting rod, and a replaced wheel, the running parts are "as was." The original body, however, hangs in the garage, having been replaced by a single seat. Isaacson says that this coming June the contraption will be 20 years of age, and he is seriously thinking of trading it in on a new car. Some Albion people believe the Marsh basin sunshine and altitude must be good for cars. Last year, George Cook, another well known resident of the town, traded in his after running it continuously for 18 years.

VETERANS IN OFFICE
MORRIS, Minn. (AP)—The methods to follow to stay in office can be found in Stevens county, where Edward Koehn-top was a member of the Swan Lake board of commissioners for 36 years; and Ole Thorsrud 30 years. Both retired this spring. William Wagner, a member of the Daren township board, expects to exceed both marks. He is now in his twenty-seventh year.

AIR-STUDY OF TERRACES
LAWTON, Okla. (AP)—Edward Roberts, agricultural agent for Comanche county, studies farm terracing from the air. He says he sees more and learns more from one day in an airplane than 10 days in an automobile and that every farmer should take an airplane ride over his own land to study terracing problems.
