Farm Relief Measure With Administration's Support Scores in Lower Chamber

Bill Would Launch Government Upon Program Designed to Enable Farmer to Embrace Prosperity

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 25—The farm relief bill having the support of the Hoover administration was passed by the house today.

The vote was 367 to 34, only two Republicans being among those in opposition—Tinkham, Massachusetts, and Stafford, Wisconsin, the latter a new member.

The measure was sent to the senate where a bill with the disputed export debitum was attached. The bill refused to accept that method of farm relief, which was inserted in the senate measure by its agriculture committee after vigorous disapproval by President Hoover.

The house bill would launch the government upon a program which its advocates contended would enable the farmer to help himself to prosperity. It would create a federal farm board with funding from a fund of $500,000,000 to be used in loans to cooperative associations.

Bill Changed Little

The support given it by both Republicans and Democrats brought the bill through the house unchanged in its major respects.

The vote found most of the former advocates of the debenture plan and the equalization fee ranged alongside their former opponents in support of a bill that might result in a new measure.

Neither the debenture plan nor the equalization fee came to a vote in the house. Both were opposed but points of order were sustained against them.

The various other amendments which swamped the speaker's table were voted down with a unanimous precision with the administration followers all ways keeping a large majority of voters on the floor and many of the Democrats joining them in shouting down the suggested changes.

Democrats Divide

The Democrats divided upon the bill before an almost unanimous Republican vote, and on the final roll call the vote was virtually of the same proportion as that by which the agriculture committee had approved the measure.

Democrats voting against the measure were: E. Boylan, Brunner, Cannon, Carver, Carley, Cochran, Corning, Croser, Cullen, Dickstein, Fitzpatrick, Griffin, Huddleston, Igoe, Jones of Texas, Kinn, Lindbergh, Lusk, Moore, Nelson, O'Connell of New York, O'Connell of Rhode Island, Oliver, Palmisano, Prall, Quayle, Romjue, Somers, Summers, and Tucker—total 32.

Representative Alf Der Heide, Democrat, New Jersey, who was recorded on the official tally as having voted for the bill, said afterward that he had answered in the negative and would have the record changed. This would change the vote to 356 for to 35 against.

In the senate today majority leaders were hopeful that the movement to incorporate the debenture plan proposed by President Hoover had reached its maximum strength and that it would

IOARDAN WILL HELP BUILD BOULDER DAM

Andrew J. Wiley One Among Three Consulting Engineers Appointed by Wilbur

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—Andrew J. Wiley, Idaho, William Durand, California, and Louis G. Hill, Colorado, today were appointed consulting engineers for construction of the Boulder canyon dam project.

Secretary Wilbur declared that all three were outstanding engineers. They will collaborate with Raymond F. Walter, chief engineer, and a supervising engineer, who will have general charge of construction.

Experience Varied

The employment of consulting engineers was provided in the legislation providing for the building of the dam. Hill is a veteran of the reclamation bureau having served as supervising engineer of the district which includes Utah, Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, southern California and parts of Colorado and Wyoming from 1906 to 1914.

Wiley has had long and varied career in constructing irrigation systems, power plants and related works. He has specialized in building dams. He recently supervised construction of irrigation works.

Giant German Dirigible Back From Mediterranean

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, April 25 (AP)—The dirigible Zeppelin landed at its home port at 10:34 tonight after a flight of 57 hours over southwestern Europe, the Mediterranean and northern Africa.

It was estimated that the huge airship had travelled about 3400 miles since it left here Tuesday. It had 20 passengers and a quantity of mail.

The dirigible cruised southward across France, then south over Portugal and Spain to northern Africa. Its nose was then pointed northward for home, proceeding by way of the Rhone valley.

State Will Start Work On Upper Snake Levee

BOISE, April 25 (AP)—Levee work will start on the upper Snake river about May 1, George N. Carter, commissioner of reclamation, said today.

Fred Tollman, engineer of the department, is making a final survey of the project, supplied by federal engineers who completed the work on April 21. The last legislature appropriated $15,000 for flood control levee work to prevent a recurrence of a flood such as the Gros Ventre outbreak of two years ago.

BLIZZARD ENDS TWO LIVES IN WYOMING AND ISOLATES CITY

Single Telegraph Wire in Service Out of Cheyenne; Man Dies of Exhaustion On Road Near Glendon

(By The Associated Press) CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 25—The death list in the blizzard which isolated Cheyenne for 48 hours was increased to two tonight with the report of the death of J. H. Reed, Glendon, Wyoming, who dropped dead on a highway, apparently from exhaustion. The body of George Ross, a sheepherder, had earlier been found near Thermopole. A single Western line wire from Cheyenne to Denver was functioning tonight.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 25 (AP)—By Mail to Denver)—Cheyenne gave the appearance of a deserted town today as the terrific blizzard which isolated the town and Wyoming also disrupted business.

Light and telephone companies and public service organizations were exerting every effort to repair damage. Stores, offices and business houses operated with skeleton forces.

A few government offices were open, but most of them closed later in the day. State offices closed because the heating system of the capitol was out of order.

Only a few cars were in operation on the streets. Bus service was discontinued after 9 A. M.

Schools were closed. Telephone service was completely discontinued. Most of the city outside of the business district was without electric current during the entire day.

Air mail service was discontinued by both Boeing and Western Air Express companies.

The United States weather bureau, for the first time since its inception, was unable to send out or receive reports.

STATE READY TO LAUNCH WAR ON DRUNKEN DRIVERS

IDAHO FALLS, April 25 (AP)—Fred E. Lukens, secretary of state, was here today preparatory to launching a war on careless and drunken drivers. Lukens and John McKinley, field deputy of law enforcement department, are completing plans for a uniformed patrol of the Yellowstone highway.

"We will not bother with speed violators so much," Lukens said, "unless they are linked with carelessness. Drunken drivers, however, will be placed immediately under arrest and taken to the nearest court, where the state will endeavor to have stiff fines imposed."

Two Tornadoes Cause Death Of 39 Persons and Injury Of 200 In Southern States

Property Damage in Path of Twisters Through Georgia and South Carolina Mounts to Figures Estimated at Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars and Leaves Many Residents Without Homes

(By The Associated Press) ATLANTA, April 25—Two tornadoes that swept South Georgia and South Carolina today and tonight, dipping at intervals, caused a death list of 39, injured 200 or more persons and left property damage running into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Striking first in Georgia, the twister wrecked scores of houses in a half dozen towns and in rural sections, then skipped into South Carolina striking in three places there. A second tornado tonight struck in Georgia sending the list of dead and injured mounting.

Of the dead, 33 were in Georgia and six in South Carolina as follows: Cochran, Georgia, 17 dead, more than 100 injured.

Metter, Georgia, Chandler county, 12 dead, 20 or more injured.

Hemis, Georgia, one dead, several injured.

Peter, South Carolina, two dead, an unestimated number injured.

LA FOLLETTE STATUE IN HALL OF FAMOUS

Sculptor Depicts Wisconsin Gift to Nation in Fighting Mood Long Influential

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP)—A statue of Robert Marion LaFollette, Wisconsin's chief, will be placed today amid the figures of two score of the country's great who are enshrined beneath the high-vaulted dome of Statuary hall.

While men and women who stood shoulder to shoulder with him through life looked on in the crowded auditorium the white marble statue of the Republican Independent was unveiled, and as the folds of the American flag slipped aside and formed a background for the fighting mood that was typical of his long years in the senate.

The sculptor, J. Davidson, an intimate friend had caught him as he was about to spring from his chair, an attitude he frequently assumed when provoked by the arguments of an opponent.

Crowd Hears Eulogies

The brief unveiling ceremony over the crowd of intimate friends and supporters listened to eulogies by a long list of names.

Asher B. Wilson Wins Appeal in High Court

Wilson purchased tax delinquency certificates from the county on land which the supreme court later ruled was not taxable. Subsequently the county ordered all delinquency certificates on the non-taxable land cancelled but refused to reimburse Wilson on the grounds that the county order applied to only those certificates still in the hands of the county.

UNITED STATES AND CANADA ARBITRATE SHIP SINKING CASE

Two Arbiters Will Settle Dispute Over Coast Guard Action in 'Im Alone' Affair of Southern Shore

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 25—The United States and Canada have agreed to arbitrate the dispute over the sinking of the Canadian run runner 'Im Alone' by the American coast guard.

This decision was disclosed tonight by the diplomatic correspondence on the 'Im Alone' case, which was made public by Secretary of State Stimson today.

The case will be submitted to two arbiters, one selected by each government, under the terms of the liquor smuggling treaty between the United States and Great Britain. They will decide whether Canada is entitled to redress.

Canada made formal representations to the United States on April 9 concerning the sinking of the 'Im Alone' off the Louisiana coast on March 22 by the coast guard patrol boat Dexter. The Canadian case was presented on three points:

That the 'Im Alone' was at all times beyond the one hour's sailing distance from the American shore provided in the treaty.

That the essential elements of the international doctrine of "hot pursuit" were lacking in the case; and that the sinking constituted too severe measures to effect American rights under the treaty.

Stimson Replies

Replying, Secretary Stimson based the American case on three points:

That the 'Im Alone' was 16.8 miles from shore when first hailed by the coast guard vessel Wolcott and was thus within the one hour's sailing distance from shore.

That continuous and hot pursuit did take place; and that the sinking was justified, being inevitable, with the coast guard having acted throughout in full accord with the law.

Mr. Stimson's note included by saying that the United States was unwilling to concede the findings of facts and the conclusions of law set forth by him, the United States would gladly agree to submit the matter to arbitration.

Accepting the American suggestion of arbitration, Canada's reply expressed regret of "inability to concur in certain important aspects" of the American presentation.

TOLL OF STORM IN WEST STATES HIGH

Wyoming Still in Grip of Most Fierce Blizzard in History of Commonwealth

KANSAS CITY, April 25 (AP)—Nine known dead, approximately 30 persons injured, and property damage running into hundreds of thousands of dollars was revealed tonight as the toll of the violent spring storms that played havoc in the West yesterday.

Wyoming was still in the grip of the worst April blizzard in years, while communities in Texas and Nebraska were recovering from the effects of destructive tornadoes.

Several hundred persons were left homeless in the seven Texas communities recovering from the effects of destructive tornadoes.

The Red Cross took charge of the situation at Bloomington, Texas, where seven lives were lost and 125 buildings were virtually destroyed. Devastation again at Benson Springs, the tornado did considerable damage.

Five persons were injured and 125 rendered homeless by another twister that tore a path half a mile wide and nine miles long near Center, Texas. The Red Cross at Center provided shelter for the homeless, most of them poor tenant farmers.

Two tornadoes that ripped through farm regions in eastern Nebraska injured several persons but none was killed.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES BRUDDEN, KING AND BRUDDEN, New Chicago, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle.

EARLY ACTION

Town's insurgent senator is entitled to a good deal of sympathy. He feels that he has been betrayed, and that, through him, prostrate agriculture has been dealt a double-cross.

During the recent campaign, he told the senate and the country in recent tirade on the Senate floor, he made more than two hundred speeches in favor of the candidacy of Herbert Hoover, the "farmers' friend," for the Presidency. He exhibited pamphlets containing these speeches.

Beyond question Brookhart was honest in advocating the election of Hoover, and there is no reason to believe that he is not now equally honest in his indignant protest that Hoover's present ideas for meeting the farm problem are not the same as those set forth in his utterances during the campaign.

That does not change the fact that Brookhart is conspicuously alone in his discovery of any change in the President's ideas on the subject. The country at large can see nothing in Brookhart's charges on that score, but respect for his honesty, it feels sorry for him, if it is not impatient with him.

MORE OF IT

Probably it is a good thing for men like Senator Tom Hefflin to have at their tongue's end a subject for endless speeches. Such a subject should be carefully chosen. One should be particular to select a topic which can be handled in terms of forceful generalities and which does not require either detailed analysis or close investigation.

A high sounding, spectacular topic is what is wanted, preferably one which lends itself to a "rush" of the "partition" for God and Country" sort of subject so broad that there are scarcely any limitations to what may be said.

The domination of the Pope in the affairs of the government of America is exactly suited to Hefflin's needs. In fact without it he would be utterly lost. But Hefflin will never let go of it. He has built it into a machine which is responsible for his election and which can be depended upon to keep him in the spotlight for some time to come.

It is not necessary that he create new followers; all he has to do is to hold those which he already has. Senator Borah and many another man whose position in the intellectual world has long been established, have tried many times to point out the fact that the Constitution of America stands as a bulwark of protection against the very doctrine which Hefflin is seeking to uphold.

Build the birdhouse and the birds will come." It is an old saying which is more true of human flyers than of the feathered variety.

Aviation follows the airports like paublers follow the houses. Commercial airlines establish their terminals in cities offering the best landing fields, hangars and other terminal facilities. It is not enough to pick out a vacant lot, designate it as an airport and then develop it in an old-fashioned, better-said way. The problems of the airport whether it be urban, suburban, insular or coastal are complex, requiring for solution the combined experience and knowledge of the aviation expert, the engineer.

The community which provides today's great opportunity for overlooking air traffic not only for the future but for the present, will be found in the same position as those which refused to encourage the railroad in its pioneer days.

A New Yorker at Large

G. D. SEYMOUR NEW YORK, April 25 (AP) - "Now, these three books" - and Dr. Rosenbach indicated them on an upper shelf of the vaults. He was worth half a million dollars. I forget just what they were. Perhaps it was their very costliness that numbed my consciousness of their titles. One comes, in the vaults of Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach's bookshop, to look upon literary treasures that are more numerous and inequitably as upon bars of gold in a bank vault.

There was for me a more real interest in Mrs. Joseph Conrad's own copy of a first edition of "Chance." It was only 16 years old, but Conrad's eminence as a writer of sea stories, the great author of first edition of this novel, and his inscription, "Dear Jessie's copy," has attracted my attention. I am sure to this me, however, that there was a volume for which book collectors might be willing to pay the price marked on an inside cover: $5250.

Bookshop In Disguise

Visitors don't just wander aimlessly and unsuspiciously through Dr. Rosenbach's rare book shop to browse. There isn't any other bookshop in the world quite like it, although there are rather many who deal only in volumes which are collectors' items.

The bookshop is a one-time stone masonry building, the Third Avenue building. Its plate glass door is protected by iron grillwork. One rings, and a boy in the entrance and another in the interior and takes his card.

Presently the visitor is hidden down a long stone-walled hallway to the back of the mansion, into a living room and library. A wood fire burns in the grate, and there is a long oak library table. Even the atmosphere is extraordinary, which reach clear around the wall, and begin again on a mezzanine balcony, do not reach the place as one where books are sold.

But to see, the real trophies; one is led downstairs and through the steel vault door. A first edition of Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing"; $45,000. A first edition of "The Count of Monte Cristo"; $15,000. A first edition of "The Naxos"; $10,000. Handwritten documents, including a queen's prayer book at $5000, $25,000.

The Sky Collectors

Perhaps there are 2000 book collectors in the country who are prospective patrons of such a shop. The major collectors, however, are those who have their names printed, for mere mention of them brings a flood of letters from people who want to sell them something.

If it is permissible to name a few, there are Owen Wister, the author of "The Red Rover," the investment banker, Carl Ziegler, the investment banker, and Carl Ziegler, the investment banker, and Carl Ziegler, the investment banker.

But don't write them! Most of them do not reply to letters of inquiry from amateurs, and some of them have adopted a plan devised by H. E. Ziegler, of Philadelphia, industrialist and an extensive collector.

At the end of the line who wants him to pass judgment upon a possible literary treasure he sends a printed form explaining that the buyer "will of his books" from dealers.

She knows that this is the only life in which she could find her happiness. Yet whenever she has been faced with the immediate possibility of marriage some strange and contrary impulse has taken possession of her. She is unhappy and likely to remain so since there can be no reconciliation between her conflicting emotions.

A Washington Bystander

By Kirke L. Simpson

WASHINGTON, April 25 (AP) - Several things about the initial session of the Seventy-first congress are impressive. For one thing, Speaker Nick Longworth managed to give a dignity and solemnity to the swearing in of the house membership notably lacking heretofore in that unusually perfervid proceeding.

Twenty upward of 400 men and women, newly elected to congress, stand in their places with right hands raised to take their oath of office, obviously the buzz of private conversation, which is accompanied in the former method of swearing them in by platitudes, must stop.

That was the Longworth idea of the house membership notably lacking heretofore in that unusually perfervid proceeding. The speaker concluded reciting the oath with the old phrase, "so help you God," there was a second or two of silence. No actual response was necessary, but the Longworth idea had penetrated.

There came back from the floor one great, solemn voice saying "I do." Somehow it was very effective in the stillness of the big chamber. The speaker's matter here, there were no smiling faces on the floor. For that instant, at least, the moment of their actual investment with the responsibilities and duties as well as the privileges of their office, the members of the new house were grave.

There was one thing about the new results of the last election. On the Republican side of the center aisle, the right side as you face the speaker's rostrum, there was hardly a vacant seat to be seen.

SURVEY REPORT ON AIRPORT COMPLETE

Tentative Figures Off to Boise in Regard to New Twin Falls Landing Field

Figures on a tentative survey for the proposed site for an airport five miles south of Twin Falls has been completed by Jacob D. Sienema, engineer for the Twin Falls highway department, and at the request of the state department, and have been forwarded to Boise to determine whether the site would be acceptable.

The proposed runway is 4500 feet long and 600 feet wide with a cross runway about 3000 feet long. The survey was completed yesterday afternoon.

Before leaving here Wednesday George Carter Miller, federal aeronautics advisor for Idaho, said that he anticipated that new airports with two runways each approaching a mile in length, would be in operation in Twin Falls and Pocatello before the end of summer. Pocatello has already selected a new site and Gooding is for an airport.

Dairymen of Idaho Preparing for Annual Series of Shows

COMMUNITY EXHIBIT DEVELOPING ALONG EDUCATIONAL LINES

Program Opens With Picnic of Guernsey Breeders at Thousand Springs Live-stock Farm Near Wendell

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, April 25—May opens the spring and summer show season for Idaho dairymen. The schedule of dairy shows announced by D. L. Fout, field dairyman of the university extension division, calls for shows almost daily from May 11, the date of the first Jersey show in Payette, to June 8, the date of the general dairy day in Bonners Ferry. After that a series of other shows are scheduled, the final one on the list being the Guernsey Breeders' picnic at Thousand Springs farm at Wendell, July 6.

The 1929 community dairy shows are being developed along educational lines, explained Mr. Fout. Some shows are planned to bring out the contrast between the scrub bull and the hood here. Others plan to contrast the stunted heifer with the well grown heifer of the same age. Still others plan to compare the scrub purebred cow with a small production with a desirable animal.

Shows Instructive

Some shows will emphasize building a herd from one good foundation cow and good sire—Others will have guessing contests in which four cows of the same breed, similar in type but different in production records, will be placed in a row, the onlookers to judge which is the best producer. The contest is aimed at demonstrating the value of making test records to eliminate guess work in ascertaining what cows are the most profitable.

Representatives of national dairy breed associations will visit Idaho during the show season. Four announced, including Ivan Laughry, western field man for the American Jersey cattle club; H. G. Myers, president of the State Jersey cattle club; R. E. Everley, North western representative of the Holstein-Friesian association of America; R. T.

Davis, president of the Idaho State Holstein association; G. F. Wohlgaunth, secretary of the state association; Karl Mosser, secretary of the American Guernsey cattle club and C. W. Robinson, Western representative of the club.

Dates of the shows and picnics follow: May 11—Payette Jersey show; May 13—Caldwell Jersey show; May 14—Meridian Jersey show; May 16—Burley All-Breed Dairy show; May 18—Weiser Black and White show; May 20—Nampa Black and White show; May 21—Hazelton Holstein picnic at Donald Adams' Ranch; May 22—Oakley Black and White show; May 23—Rupert Black and White show; May 24—Idaho Falls Holstein picnic at John Metts' ranch; May 25—Rexburg Dairy show (all breeds); May 27—Downey Black and White show; May 28—Maid Black and White show; May 29—Preston Black and White show; May 31—Grace Black and White show; June 1—Liberty (only Black and White show); June 6—Coeur d'Alene Bull show (all breeds); June 8—Bonners Ferry Dairy day (all breeds); July 5—Caldwell Guernsey show; July 6—Wendell Guernsey picnic at Thousand Springs farm.

A dairy day for all breeds will be held at Emmet and a Jersey day in Twin Falls county later in June.

Pans of Future May Be Hot Inside And Comparatively Cool on Outside

BY HOWARD W. BLANKS (Associated Press Science Editor) TROY, N. Y., April 24.—The housewife who burns her fingers on a hot cooking utensil may look forward to a day when pots will be made to stay hot inside and comparatively by temperate outside.

Some of the facts which point to such a possibility have been developed at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in a fundamental research recently inaugurated into the heat conducting properties of alloys.

These are new metals, made by combining various mineral elements. The tests show that some alloys possess marked resistance to heat. While none has been found that is a heat-insulator, the differences in conductivity are so great as to open new possibilities in the problems of confining heat to the places where it is most useful.

An alloy of nickel and chromium is found to admit passage of heat at only one-fifth the rate of heat transfer through iron. A nickel and iron alloy is a still slower conductor. Copper transmits heat rapidly.

That's Why Our Goods are Made to Quality Standards

Our Silk Stockings Reach Two Thirds of the Way to the Pole

Just figure it out for yourself! Last year we sold over 7,000,000 pairs of Women's Full Fashioned Silk Hosiery which would measure more than 32,000,000 feet. The distance that Commander Byrd traveled before he reached the Pole was—roughly—over 47,000,000 feet—so our Silk Hosiery is about two-thirds of the way there.

We didn't count Men's Hosiery either, or Children's, or perhaps we would have been over half the way back by now!

Wall Street Studies Proposition to Prevent Congressional Investigation

NEW YORK, April 25 (Special to The News)—A committee of experts to investigate America's capacity to speculate has been suggested in some Wall street brokerage circles as a means of blocking any movement in congress to investigate Wall street.

The idea has been taken seriously by a few but ridiculed by the majority. Its supporters say that the stock trading community would be using much foresight and an ounce of prevention by volunteering to suppress speculative abuses and to cooperate for the preservation of stable credit conditions.

The discussion raised the question of who governs the Wall street free state? Who are the leading minds and who has the authority to call them together to speak for them? Fundamentally, Wall street is divided into two major groups with different, sometimes opposite, viewpoints: the bank-industrial-export group and the broker-operator-independent trader group. The division is far from clean cut. The groups dovetail at many points but rarely if ever would they be able to show a united front on any domestic or international economic question. There is one dominant "political authority" in Wall street it is probably the board of governors of the New York stock exchange.

and when there is a paramount question, such as the federal reserve system's attempt to restrict the use of speculation, the Wall street merely argues with itself.

RAINS AID FARMERS IN SOUTHERN IDAHO

Weekly Weather and Crop Summary Shows Condition of Soil Excellent

BOISE, April 25 (Special to The News)—That rains resulted in excellent soil conditions is reported in the weekly summary of weather and crop conditions in Idaho for the week ending April 23. The summary, issued by Clinton E. Norquest, meteorologist, United States department of agriculture weather bureau, includes the following statements:

SOUTHWEST IDAHO: The weather of the week was characterized by cool days and a few frosty nights. There was much cloudiness and occasional rains, fairly heavy in some localities. Sunshine was not adequate. The rains were very beneficial, putting soil in excellent shape and refreshing pasture and range grasses. Work on farms in the earlier sections made good progress. Seeding is well along and the early seeded grains are coming up to good stands. Beet planting is being pushed in the Twin Falls section and the early seeded grains are coming up to good stands. Beet planting is being pushed in the Twin Falls section and the early seeded grains are coming up to good stands.

SOUTHEAST IDAHO: Temperatures were more moderate during the week. Good general rains, snow in some sections, delayed plowing, but farm work is being pushed as much as possible in the south and some wheat has been seeded. No plowing is possible in the north. A fall and range grasses are starting and making good growth. Winter wheat is apparently in good condition. Cattle and sheep are on the range in southern sections. Lambing has been practically completed with good results. Roads in the south are fair to good while in the north they are still in bad condition.

RUPERT—Farm work progressing well; beets and wheat about 70 per cent planted; a good rain Friday night.

TWIN FALLS—A more favorable week for work; beets and grains about all planted; farmers preparing ground for beans; spraying hearing complaint; apricots beginning to bloom; a good rain Friday put the ground in excellent condition; grass greening fast.

BOISE—Cold weather is keeping vegetation in check, but rain during the week put fields and orchards in excellent condition to start out; most of wheat seeded, apricot sprouting; apricot trees show first bloom.

BURLEY—Final part of week favorable for planting, but heavy showers Friday and Saturday interrupted farm work; warmer weather, needed.

"The Broadway Melody" Sensation in Big Cities

The much heralded and long-awaited all-talking, all-singing, and all-dancing dramatic sensation, "The Broadway Melody," will have its first local showing at the Idaho theatre next Sunday starting a seven-day engagement.

Never has any silver screen attraction been accorded such extravagant praise as has "The Broadway Melody." At present this marvel of the screen world is being shown at Grauman's Chinese theatre in Hollywood and at the Astor theatre, New York, while an enthusiastic public is clamoring to see it at $2 admission prices.

"The Broadway Melody" blends the artistry of Ziegfeld, Earl Carroll and the Showgirls in its musical comedy aspects. Beautiful girls and talented performers present the relaxing song hits, "You Were Meant For Me" and "The Broadway Melody" in typical musical comedy style. "The Broadway Melody," however, has a powerful dramatic theme, revealing as it does the life of Broadway since personalities.

As one nationally known critic expressed it, "If you see no other picture during the year, make sure that that one is 'The Broadway Melody.'"

Exchange Rushes Work on New High Speed Tickers

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP)—The whole world has a riddle seat at the New York stock exchange.

Therefore, science is working to eliminate friction by friction, whatever time and space still separate the market and speculating public from the throbbing floor of the exchange.

More than 800 stock and bond tickers carry quotations to 228 cities scattered through 37 states and the Dominion of Canada. These quotations are relayed and relayed again to remote corners of the country. Cable and wireless have brought London and Tokyo closer to the corner of Wall and Broad streets than were New York brokers themselves 40 years ago, when telegraph connection were first installed.

The exchange's recent "biggest day" in its history piled such a heavy load on the present tickers that they were 2 hours 14 minutes behind at the close of the market.

Characters were printed at a top speed of 255 per minute; the new ticker will have a capacity of 400 characters per minute and will be able to take care of 7,000,000 to 9,000,000-share days without falling behind.

Several big brokerage concerns maintain national and international wire service. Extensive experiments are continually in progress to discover methods of handling the mounting flood of stock transactions with even greater speed and accuracy.

New compact tickers, with a speed three times that of the present instruments, are being made for the exchange and will be ready for country-wide distribution in a year. Their maximum speed will be 400 characters a minute. E. A. Pierce, president of E. A. Pierce and company, one of the country's largest wire houses, operating a network of 30,000 miles of leased wire, has declared himself definitely in favor of the automatic telegraphic printers.

"We have found printers satisfactory from every standpoint," said Mr. Pierce. "With respect to accuracy the error records of our New York office for the month of January this year, during which month approximately 70 per cent of our entire traffic was handled by LOWELL THOMAS Copyright by Doubleday, Doran & Co.

THE GUMPS—THE ZONE OF QUIET

COUNT LUCKNER THE Sea Devil

"You are Americans," he cried, "you fight for us in France? You see Hollanders? Ah, it is too bad that your country is not in that with France. But I can see that you love la belle France."

"Fine," exclaimed the priest cordially, "I have a friend there. You must call on him. Just mention my name. He will be delighted to see you. He is a Hollander, too."
