WISCONSIN SENATE VOTES TO REPEAL LAW ON LIQUOR

MADISON, Wis., May 15 (AP) - The Wisconsin senate voted today 21 to 9 to repeal the state "dry" law, leaving only Governor Walter J. Kohler's signature necessary to wipe the measure off the statute books.

Passage of the Grob-Schmidt bill provides for repeal of the state "dry" law by the senate followed similar action by the lower house of the legislature. The measure abolishes the state prohibition department and the "dry" laws but retains regulations that concern sale of liquor to minors.

Repeal of the "dry" enforcement law was generally expected, following a referendum of the prohibition question held in Wisconsin on April 7. At that time the voters favored repeal by a margin of 148,000. At the same time they voted to legalize the manufacture of beer containing 2.75 per cent alcohol.

Destruction of Hotel At New Meadows Means Big Loss to Traveler

BOISE, May 15 (AP) - The destruction by fire of the New Meadows hotel has meant an almost irreparable loss to the residents of northern Idaho who habitually divide their time between the north and south. The hotel was famous as a stopping place to divide the long journey and accommodate travelers traveling from north and south as well as from the Payette lakes section. It was the habit of many summer visitors to stop at the hotel to take lodgings at the New Meadows hotel and "commute" to the resort section.

State officials and employees often made use of the hotel, and with its burning, expressed fear that it would not soon be replaced.

WEALTHY YOUNG MAN TELLS OF SLAYING

With Twisted Grin Youth Hears Officers Announce Finding of Victim's Body

DENVER, May 15 (AP) - With a twisted grin on his face, Richard Burrows, the 19-year-old adopted son of a wealthy Chicago livestock dealer, tonight bragged that he had murdered the body of an old salesman to whose murder Burrows has confessed, had been found in the dry ditch near Bearfield, Arizona, where he had thrown it.

The runaway from St. John's Military Academy, Delafield, Wisconsin, whose adventure ended with his arrest here Saturday on suspicion of driving a stolen car and his confession last night that he had murdered "the man who owned it," laughed and joked with the officers as he told them of his crime.

Stranded in Phoenix, Arizona, Burrows started to beat his way home. He was picked up on the road near Agulita, Arizona, by Martin, who fed him, and gave him a lift as far as Bearfield, Arizona, where Burrows shot and killed Martin and in the dead man's car continued his way west.

South-Talks in Offices. For more than 15 minutes the youth talked over a long distance phone this afternoon to a Phoenix newspaper which reported that Burrows' body, after they had been advised of Burrows' confession, "I hit him over the head with his gun after both of us had been drinking beer, then I shot him twice and hid his body in a dry ditch near some bearfield."

HUMBLE PEAS MOUNTS TO DIGNITY IN NORTHWEST

PULLMAN, Wash., May 15 (AP) - The humble pea, having risen to the dignity of one of the most important vegetables of the Northwest, may be topped from its position by the cauliflower today unless farmers take proper precautions.

The warning sounded by Dr. L. E. Jones, assistant professor of plant pathology at Washington State college. Broadcasting a warning that seed for this year's crop should come either from the West or be carefully tested, he said that "Eastern seed is often diseased, while the Western is pure." "The pea-and-west" he continued, "the disease has little chance to gain a foothold unless it is introduced from other sections, but pea blight and rust can thrive in the damper eastern districts."

Dr. Jones, who with 29 Washington farms, has surveyed 1500 acres of seed-tested peas, says that eastern peas has been found most efficient in treating fruit rot, but pea blight and rust can thrive in the damper eastern districts.

Eden Nine Defeats Heyburn by 11 to 10

EDEN, May 15 (Special to The News)—The baseball season for the Eden high school came to a close here today, the boys celebrating the event by winning a close game with Heyburn high school, 11 to 10. Heyburn defeated the Eden boys recently at Heyburn and a similar fate was being the result of today's fifth inning when Edna came from behind to take the lead in the scoring, 9 to 7. Heyburn players reduced the lead one run in their half of the sixth and Eden then added two more runs.

Eden started the seventh and last inning with the three-point lead and Heyburn came within one run of tying the score when the last batter was retired. Heyburn had two runners on when the final out was made. Tommy O'Connor pitched another good game for Eden, but poor support gave the visitors most of their runs. Heyburn used three pitchers to stop the onslaught of the Eden boys. Brower started the game and pitched good ball, but was taken out in the fifth and replaced with Hymnas. Drew took up the work in the sixth and after getting one batter out control and walked four, forcing in a run.

Hymnas was then sent back to the mound to finish the game. A strong wind whipped dust across the field and made fielding difficult. However, each team made two double plays. Batteries for the game were: O'Connor and Knott for Eden; Brower, Hymnas, Drew and Smith for Heyburn.

Leaders Act to Smooth out Difference on Farm Aid Bill

STEERING COMMITTEE WILL MEET TO POINT WAY TO SETTLEMENT

Speaker Longworth Indicates Growing Desire to Accede to Wishes of Senate For Conference

By W. B. THASDALE
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, May 14.—The farm relief bill came back to the house today to meet a growing disposition on the part of the leaders to attempt to conciliate the differences that have arisen between the two houses over the export debenture plan inserted by the senate.

While the measure rested on the speaker's table, the members of the steering committee for tomorrow to decide what course would be adopted to deal with the proposal.

Speaker Longworth indicated that in view of the emergency nature of the legislation there was a growing desire to accede to the wishes of the senate to send the bill to conference. In doing so, however, he suggested the probability that a rule would be passed by the house insisting that the senate had invaded the rights of the house to originate revenue legislation, but expressing the decision to waive that point in view of the emergency nature of the legislation.

Will Determine Course
The speaker said that at the conference tomorrow it would be determined whether this course would be pursued, or whether the house would refuse to accept the bill and send it back to the senate. He expressed the opinion that the senate had invaded the rights of the house in incorporating the export debenture plan in the measure. "If the first course should be adopted, he said, the rule would plainly bring out that point. Under such a rule as he described, the house would disagree to the senate amendments to its farm bill, which was minus the export debenture plan, and present the conference, pointing out that, although because of the emergency situation it was waiving its right to originate revenue legislation, the action should not be considered as setting a precedent.

Presents Contentions
Several of the members of the farm group have presented the contention that if the constitutional point should be raised, it would plunge the two houses into a long drawn out controversy which would delay the enactment of farm legislation.

Representative Farnell, Indiana, a member of the house agriculture committee, appealed today to the house leaders to adopt this manner of dealing with the proposal. He contended that a "much speedier way of disposing of the plan would be to send the measure to conference."

The Indiana member declared that three of the five conferees named by the senate were opposed to the debenture plan and that the five who would represent the house in the arbitration would seem to strike out the disputed section.

At the same time Representative A. W. Lowell, Louisiana, the ranking Democratic member of the agricultural committee, issued a statement in which he said he would oppose the debenture plan in the belief that the president would veto the bill if it came to him with that provision in it.

Expert Would Solve Farm Scale Problem by Standardization

FEDERAL AGENT FINDS INACCURATE WEIGHING CAUSE OF HUGE LOSS

Authority Recommends Individual or Community Testing Equipment for Solution of Difficulties

By FRANK J. WELLES (Associated Press Farm Editor) WASHINGTON, May 16.—There is a very definite farm scale problem in this country, says C. A. Briggs, federal livestock weight supervisor.

He declares the annual loss to agriculture due to inaccurate weighing is enormous. This situation could be remedied, he believes, by a highly standardized scale with interchangeable parts. Certain technical features of design and construction common to many scales can be improved.

More and more, Briggs says, agricultural products are being sold by weight instead of measure. The farm wagon scales are used almost universally, and tests show that in many cases they are seriously inaccurate.

They may weigh underweight or overweight without detection. The sample may be long once and short the next time. Neglect, chiefly to blame, frequent checking with proven weights may keep the scales properly balanced.

"When farm scales are accurate, Briggs explains, a farmer may find that livestock 'conquered' to one market showed little shrinkage in shipment. Livestock shipped to another market showed a serious loss in weight.

"He may conclude that at one market he is getting correct weights and incorrect weights at the other, yet the trouble may all be in the scale on the farm.

"I do not think it is worth the stockyard weights as compared with the farm weights. It may mean any of several things. The animals may not have been correctly fed and prepared for shipment.

"The farmer, feeding his stock for a certain weight, may conclude it has reached the desired point and send it to market only to find that his scale was deceptive and the stock is underweight or overweight, either of which may result in monetary loss.

"The farmer weighs his livestock from time to time to determine whether the feed given them is causing the animals to make surplus gain. If the scales are accurate he may adjust feeds to increase or reduce rations or change feeds.

C. A. Briggs (Inset), federal livestock weight supervisor, who believes highly standardized scales with interchangeable parts would save farmers enormous losses. Above, the type of scale Briggs hopes to see on every farm, tested for accuracy by 28,000 pounds of proven weights.

Northwestern Indian Girl Modest in Comparison With Post Bellum Clapper

SPOKANE, May 15.—When the post-war Clapper abbreviated her wardrobe and began to splash the paint on thicker, it was said she "dressed like a savage." But the Northwest Indian girl was modest in comparison. The distinctive inland dress was a long loose skirt or tunic that came nearly to the ankles. It was made of skins and had long sleeves. Like the girl of today, the Indian maiden wears very little undergarment and she omitted the stockings, as a modern miss is apt to do, once in awhile. The Indian girl was a devout believer in the charm of cosmetics, but the boy friend had to look a salmon or slay a bear before she could get the proper grease for hair or face. Her beauty pack came from a nearby bank.
