Largely as a result of the Spanish girl's dashing play, Miss Wills and her fellow Californian, Edith Cross, the first and third ranking players of the United States, were eliminated in the women's doubles quarter-finals of the French championships by the red-sweatered Senorita and her Dutch partner, Ken Heaume.

Miss Wills, suffering from a slight cold, but she did not offer for an excuse.

"They deserved to win," she said. "They played better tennis."

The day was particularly disastrous for Miss Cross, for the San Francisco girl, paired with Wilton Coen, 2-4, 2-6, lost to Mrs. Phoebe Watson and J. C. Gregory of England in mixed doubles, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3.

Two American Teams Remain
 The two defeats left Bill Tilden and Frank Hunter in the men's division and Miss Wills and Hunter in the mixed competition as the only purely American teams still in the running for doubles championships.

In another match involving an American, Marjorie Morrill, young Deuham, Massachusetts star, and Aaron H. de Mourgu of Italy, retained the doubles title. South Africa, and Paul Ferrer of France, 6-4, 6-1, to reach the same bracket.

House Republicans Ready For Vote On Revision Of Tariff

(Continued From Page One) The "voice of the caucus," said Representative Hanson, who is the Republican leader, after the second session was over, "was that the ways and means committee report on the tariff revision bill, it is expected that it will be passed by the House in the next few days."

While the rule on its face would give every member the right to offer an amendment, it is expected that it will deny this privilege to all except the members of the tariff-revision committee.

Sixty years ago the Republican committee occupied all of the time with their amendments before a final vote was taken. It is expected that the committee will be given the opportunity to present their amendments before a final vote is taken.

Another amendment, affecting the proposed new rayon schedule, described as restoring the protection accorded rayon in the silk schedule of existing laws, and rates ranging from 10 to 20 per cent on leather, also on the free list.

Whether the proposed amendments to the agricultural schedule were sufficient to satisfy the Republican committee, the committee members did not say. It is expected that the committee will be given the opportunity to present their amendments before a final vote is taken.

The more important amendments which the ways and means committee will offer to the bill call for a raise in the rates on live cattle to 2 cents a pound on cattle weighing under 500 pounds, and 2 1/2 cents above that weight.

Mrs. John Mahan, mother of the defendant and wife of a taxi driver, identified her son told her he did not know the gun was loaded. INSPECTOR ISSUES WARNING ON SPRAY

Codling Moths Flying in Large Numbers in Orchards of Southern Idaho

Warning that the appearance of a large number of codling moths will necessitate early application of double caix spray was issued last evening by C. E. Adams, district horticultural inspector, after an investigation into conditions in various orchards. He says that the "hoop" traps have caught an unusual number of the moths. The warning reads:

"The warm weather the last few days has not only been beneficial to the codling moth, but it has also been good for the 'bugs' also and large numbers of moths are flying in the air. It is advised that you apply caix spray as soon as possible. The inspections of the hoop traps in orchards from Twin Falls to Buhl, including the canyon orchards, show that as high as seventy moths to a trap which was observed in one of the badly infested orchards in the West Valley."

"This emergency means that close to caix spraying time coming so growers will have to put on the double caix spray this year in order to obtain protection. Caix spray should be well under way by now, as the petals are falling and the insects are beginning to fly. The Delicious and McIntosh are closed up in some of the warmer orchards. One pound of lead arsenate to 50 pounds of water gives adequate protection in the caix spray, and the fruit cluster must be drenched from all sides if the caix cups are to receive enough poison to protect the apple the remainder of the season. This spray is primary to give protection to the apple for the first few weeks on the tree. Later in the season are able to work their way into the blossom end and if the poison is not in sufficient quantity a wormy fruit is the result."

"Very little time will intervene this year between the first two sprays, the caix and the first cover spray, which is termed this year the double caix spray. In this second spray, which should follow the first one almost immediately, the strength of the material should be increased to one-half pound to 50 gallons or six pounds to 200 gallons. This spray should be completed by June 1 on all points from Twin Falls west, Kimberly and Hansen district by June 4. As this spray goes on the trees just previous to the start of the cover spray, many growers are combining a 1-per-cent oil solution in combination with the lead to kill the eggs and where this done it is advisable to use one pound of sprayer to the 200-gallon tank. Also if aphid, mealy bug and three-fourths of pint of nicotine to each hundred gallons of water."

"Great care and plenty of time to each tree is the only way to get the best covering the rapidly growing fruit clusters, which must be done if they are to be protected from the worms."

"Hoop traps have been placed in orchards from Kimberly to Castletown, and visited several times each week, and correct records made of the number of moths in each trap. These records will be kept during the spray season and from them information will be given to the growers as to the future spray program. Growers wishing to put out traps of their own may obtain information and help from your local inspector."

Pessimism Heads Paris Headquarters

BERLIN, May 23 (AP)—The dramatic withdrawal of Dr. Albert Voegler from the German delegation to the Paris reparations conference was regarded here tonight as the culminating point of the deadlock over the negotiations, although it was not considered as necessarily involving a breakdown of the conference.

Different interpretations of Dr. Voegler's motives in the German press have already found a political passion to a considerable height.

Dr. Voegler today confirmed his verbal decision to withdraw to the German government in writing. The text of his letter was not available tonight, but he doubtless will declare he was unable to continue because of the extension of counter-proposals to extend payments of reparations beyond 17 years or to the safeguard clauses as amended.

The Dietrichs-Allemerne, Zurich organization of the Industrialists, supports this position. It characterized as "pure swindle" assertions elsewhere that Dr. Voegler, who had been named as the spokesman of the Ruhr magnates.

EARLY-MORNING FLAMES CAUSE DAMAGE OF $400

Fire of this morning's origin at 3 o'clock this morning almost completely destroyed a frame structure on a vacant lot at the residence of C. E. Adams residence at 122 Washington avenue north at a loss estimated at $400 and destroyed the house in some 30 persons to the scene of the conflagration.

The fire was discovered by Mr. Adams, who was awakened by his slumbers by the glare of the flames on the walls of the sleeping porch in the rear of his home a few feet from the garage.

Mr. Adams immediately summoned the firemen and himself dashed into the blaze, pulling and removed a late model six-cylinder sedan before it was injured.

The automobile was the only thing of value in the building which was covered by insurance, Mr. Adams said.

Firemen were unable to advance a theory as to the probable cause of the blaze.

COUNTY HEALTH UNIT DIRECTOR ANNOUNCES TWO PROJECT PLANS

Series of Child Health Conferences During Summer and Culture Tests Already Upon Schedule

Two definite projects already have been adopted for Twin Falls county health unit which went into operation here only a week ago. Dr. E. M. Cowgill, director of the unit, told a meeting of the Presbyterian Men's club here last evening.

First of these projects provides for a series of child health conferences to be held at a number of centers in the county beginning about June 1.

The second project provides for culture tests to be completed before beginning of next school term to determine whether there are mercurials carriage among approximately 5000 school children in the county. The unit will make and test all these cultures. This is a preventative measure against recurrence of a meningitis epidemic here.

At child health conferences, mothers will be invited to bring their babies for examination and consultation relative to correction of any defects that may be detected. Various organizations already have been contacted to sponsor these conferences in a number of communities. Dr. Cowgill stated.

Physical examination also is to be made of school children during the school year with view to correction of defects, and a campaign of health education is to be correlated with school work.

Sanitation and Education

The unit, also will direct attention to sanitation problems and will carry on campaigns of health education through various agencies of publicity.

Since his arrival here a week ago, Dr. Cowgill has been kept busy dealing with sanitation and similar health problems.

It is his announced purpose, however, to complete his organization as rapidly as possible and put it in position to deal for the most part with preventive measures.

Dr. Cowgill stated last evening, that he will call a telephone call before it gets into action.

Associated with the director in the health unit are two nurses and a sanitary inspector.

In his last evening before the Presbyterian men, Dr. Cowgill outlined the scope and methods of his work as director of a health unit in Kay county, Oklahoma, for four years.

Traces Unit History

The total of market production in the number of cases of communicable diseases attributed to preventive measures invoked by the unit, and referred also to child health conferences that in three years had developed influence to that two-thirds of the mothers who brought their babies for examination carried out recommendations of the unit, and of examinees of school children, which at the end of the third year showed a record of 25 per cent response to the unit's suggestions.

Dr. Cowgill introduced by E. V. Larson, president of the club.

CROP DAMAGE SUITS ON FOR TRIAL HERE

Salmon River Settlers in Five Actions, Demanding $13,000 of Canal Company

The first of five actions brought by Salmon River project settlers to recover claims aggregating $13,000 from the Salmon River Canal Co. were commenced today in district court here today. Suits are based on alleged failure of the company to deliver proportionate share of irrigation water during the season of 1928, and damages asked are the purported measure of crop losses resulting from such failure.

An order for special venire calling for eight additional jurors to report to the court this morning was signed by Judge W. A. Babcock and returned to the sheriff last evening. Jurors on the regular panel who are owners of Salmon River lands will be disqualified from serving in trial of the scheduled damage actions. The cases will be tried before Judge Hugh A. Baker, Rupert.

The canal company in its answer, declares that it delivered the full pro rata share of the water, and that crop damage, if any, was caused by its own negligence.

On similar grounds, J. M. Kirkman is suing for $1,149.28; Ed Snider for $1,321.65; C. W. Rayburn and others for $2,843.45; and S. Hargis for $1,408.20.

Contends Fence Over Ditch Not Obstacle

A fence built across an irrigation ditch as a means of repelling invasion of a cherry orchard does not constitute placing of an obstacle in a ditch as contemplated in Idaho's criminal code, according to J. D. Earhart, Twin Falls farmer, who pleaded not guilty to an indictment in district court here Thursday on a misdemeanor charge of obstructing a ditch. Hearing in the case was set by Judge C. A. Bailey to be held next week and Earhart was released on his own recognizance. The complaint was signed by John M. Wright.

CROPS GROW RAPIDLY IN SOUTHWEST IDAHO

Weekly Summary for District Reports Weather Conditions As Perfect

JUST KIDS

PERMAS hard luck has deserted the home of the Stebbinses - and good times are ahead

BOISE, May 23.—(Special to The News.)—Ideal crop growing weather with resulting rapid progress on farms of southwest Idaho is reported in the weekly weather and crop summary compiled and issued by the United States weather bureau, of which Clinton E. Norquist is meteorologist. The summary for the week ending May 21, includes the following information:

SOUTHWEST IDAHO: Abundant sunshine, increased warmth, and absence of frosts nights made for ideal growing weather and all crops made rapid progress. Seasonable farm operations were carried forward with no interruptions. The season is still backward, but with continued favorable weather that handicap is being speedily overcome. Pastures are generally somewhat short, due to late starting and also to overgrazing in some localities. Meadows are improving rapidly, especially where irrigated. Windy weather depleted soil moisture very rapidly in some districts, causing a heavy demand for irrigation water. Fortunately, there is abundant water for all needs at present. A heavy fruit bloom is reported in the later districts. No serious frost damage has occurred in the commercial orchards. With improved feed on the range, livestock are picking up.

SOUTHEAST IDAHO: Warm days and cool nights obtained during the week. Light frosts occurred but there was no damage. The week passed without rain. Crops are about all planted in the southern counties and are coming up well. Some planting remains to be done in the north. Beets are about all in and are coming up well. Potatoes are being planted. Alfalfa is growing well. The ranges are improving rapidly and are now in good condition. Cattle and sheep are doing well.

The summary includes the following field notes:

TWIN FALLS: First of week cool and windy, latter part warmer, all crops advanced rapidly farmers busy thinning beets, planting potatoes and irrigating bean ground; all crops backward; apples full bloom; heavy bloom; earliest orchards being sprayed; high winds carried away soil moisture rapidly; full head irrigation water being used.

TRIAL CITY: Weather warming up, fall wheat looking fine; seedling about all done; grass very good; no rain so far this month; plenty of sunshine.

GOODING: Crops are practically all planted and are coming up to good stands; sunshine has been abundant and irrigation is taking the attention of most farmers.

POCAHELLO: Temperatures above normal with almost continuous sunshine; farm work rushing; grain and beets are all in and coming up well; potatoes are being planted; alfalfa starting well; range is improving rapidly; cattle and sheep doing well.

RICHFIELD: Good growing weather most of week; later part of week quite warm; ground drying fast and grasses and hay needing water; irrigation water turned in ditches last of week; alfalfa looking good.

ALBION: Very dry with strong winds all week; sunshine very dry but mostly quite cool; some winter killing of wheat now becoming evident; most crops making slow growth; early fruit trees in bloom.

Visions of Sacrifices and of Hope Inspire Workers in Poppy Day Sale

Women of American Legion Honor World War Dead Through Service to Disabled On Annual Occasion

Next Saturday will be Poppy day in Twin Falls, with Twin Falls American Legion Women's Auxiliary, assisted by Girl Reserves, conducting an annual sale of crimson tissue memorial flowers to provide funds for veterans' welfare work.

While the 300,000 women of the American Legion Auxiliary and the women of other organizations who are assisting them are selling poppies on the Saturday before Memorial day, says the American Legion Monthly, they will be inspired by two visions—They will see the blood-red poppy of war time, growing among the fields of white crosses and dotting the battlefields—the symbol of sacrifice. And they will see also the millions of crimson poppies of the present time, taking form slowly under the fingers of disabled men on hospital beds or in the workshops of the American Legion Auxiliary—the symbol of hope.

It is to think that each poppy brings back memories of the crimson flowers of the graves and the battlefields. But finer the knowledge that every poppy offered for sale already has brought hope and confidence to a disabled service man somewhere and that it will bring new hope and support to other disabled service men in the year to come.

As they pin the tiny paper flowers on lapels, the poppy sellers will think of groceries for struggling families and shoes for little children—groceries and shoes which poppy duns and quarters will help to buy. Every penny made from the sale of the poppies by the Legion and the Auxiliary will go for direct relief to disabled service men and their families, and not a cent of the money taken in will be spent for administration expenses or salaries. Most of the money obtained will be spent in the communi-

Malaria, Not Beasts, Chief African Peril

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 23 (Special to The News)—Malaria, which kills within 48 hours unless medical attention is immediate, is more feared by African explorers than jungle beasts, according to Dr. Samuel A. Barrett, director of the Milwaukee museum, who recently returned from an expedition on the dark continent. The disease is carried by mosquitoes and the slightest cut or abrasion causes a deadly infection. Moments—He reports.

Dr. Barrett killed no animals but shot scores of beasts and hordes of birds with a camera.

Began With Stone Age

The Stone Age derives its name from the fact that during that age man manufactured his tools and weapons chiefly of stone. Those implements constitute the earliest known cultural traces of the human race.

ONE PRICE—A SQUARE DEAL

A King could buy no better

If you were a King and ordered Goodyear—the world's greatest rubber company—create for the Queen's car the strongest and most comfortable riding tires they could build even if the price was $1,000 each, Goodyear couldn't make anything better than these Double Eagles.

But there's more than pride to owning these "tires of tires." Actually they're the greatest safeguards against the possibility of tire trouble that have even been put on automobiles in the history of the industry.

As for mileage—well, you'll have to keep your car and drive it hard, fast and far over a lot of bad roads to ever get these tires to quit. That's why they're too good, practically speaking, for most carusers. They're a luxury in such instances.

But, then, we DO buy lots of things better than we need to gratify our desire to have the best that money can buy.

Notice the practically double thick All-Weather-Tread. But there's more than this to Double Eagles. Every corner of material in them is the finest that the world's greatest rubber company has yet been able to perfect.

GOOD YEAR DOUBLE EAGLES

Most motoring needs are safely and most economically met by heavy duty or regular All-Weathers—or the new improved Pathfinders. The type to buy depends on how much and under what conditions you will use your car before grading it in.

IT PAYS

It is encouraging to believe that the quality of the Idaho potato is responsible for its sensational behavior on Eastern markets during the past few weeks.

There must be some good reason why the "Idaho Russett," our Notted Gem, has been consistently quoted in the Chicago market at from a dollar and a half to two dollars and a half, while Eastern "Round Whites" held fairly constant at eighty cents to a dollar.

This, it has been remarked, can hardly be explained on the basis of physical theory, or love, and confidence for Idaho growers on the part of Chicago's consuming public; but it must be because the Chicago consumer likes, wants and is willing to pay for the Idaho potato.

If memory serves right, a similar situation has existed some other years recently. At least, the evidence is strong enough to prompt thinking growers to produce the best possible product, as well for the pecuniary reward as for the satisfaction that comes from a good job well done.

PROSPERITY: American prosperity, as an economics committee appointed by President Hoover finds, is great, though some of us are slow in taking advantage of it.

The standard of living has reached its highest point in our history. The lagging activity in certain areas has now presented all the people from enjoying the benefits of good roads, educational advantages, radio entertainment, low-priced motor cars and many other services and facilities.

In the last seven years, the use of paper has increased nearly four times as fast as the growth of population. Unskilled workers have been transformed into skilled workers, with production unit costs lowered, drugery eliminated and wages maintained or increased.

Wages have been steadily gaining on the cost of living, enabling the whole people to become consumers of what they produce, to an extent never before realized.

Such industrial progress has demonstrated on a grand scale the expansibility of human wants and desires. The more we get, the more we want.

Industry, finance and trade have learned how to regulate things so that there is business stability even in the midst of intense activity.

But—there are 70 per cent of American homes still lacking radio sets. Less than one-third of our homes have washing machines, and less than one-twentieth have electric refrigeration. Isn't it terrible?

The proper business interests, however, can probably be trusted to remedy this situation. The more production and advertising may accomplish much.

MEXICAN TEMPERANCE: President Portes Gil, having subdued the political rebellion, is tackling another big job. He proposes to make Mexico temperate. He says that is his country's greatest need.

It is to be done by "gradual and prudent" measures—out laws and penalties, with police and courts enforcing them, but education and persuasion. The evil of indulgence in alcohol is to be taught in the schools, in the press and in public exhibitions and lectures. Organizations are to be formed to obtain voluntary pledges against drinking, something like our old temperance movements.

The government proposes to go farther than this, taking up the question of regulating the liquor traffic more strictly. But it is a long time. Thus before any change may be made in number, strong liquor may be sold only in sealed bottles to be consumed of the premises, sales to women and children may be curtailed, etc.

Evidently Mexican reformers seek to profit by the experience of this country.

Their methods will be observed with great interest by our people. Medicine may become a greater experimental laboratory than it is, in its treatment of the drink problem.

VACATIONS

President Hoover, it is announced, does not expect to have any regular vacation this summer. He will content himself with such occasional holidays as he can snatch by occasional week-end fishing trips in Maryland and Virginia.

By the same token, Congress will not have any summer vacation. The senators and representatives probably regret it as much as Mr. Hoover does, and deplore having a President on their hands.

It will be worth it, though, if farm relief is provided. The farmers haven't been having any vacations to speak of for some time.

A New Yorker at Large

G. D. SEYMOUR

NEW YORK, May 23 (AP)—Fred Jensen has been making clocks in a little downtown workshop opposite the Jersey ferries ever since he came to New York from Denmark 37 years ago.

The art of making clocks by hand has all but vanished in this generation. The manufacturing of timepieces by machine is half a century old, and Jensen is the only surviving member of his craft on Manhattan Island.

But the wisened old Dane has no lamentations that his trade is obsolete. Instead he is sorry that some of his four grandsons is willing to follow the craft which has been the Jensen family's means of livelihood for 11 generations.

From the thousand wire clocks off the walls and counters of his little shop on West Street Fred Jensen learns many things that most men will never know. He learns, for instance, that the bugle calls of the United States army come from Germany, for he has a German clock out of which bugle sounds come every half-hour to play combinations of notes which mean "evette," assembly, tap and march call to any American military man—and the clock was made in Germany more than 200 years ago, before ever a Yankee bugle sounded.

But the chief lesson Jensen learns is patience, and he thinks there is too little patience nowadays. It is all very well to make clocks by machinery, but Fred Jensen is proud that he belongs to a craft but for whose handwork the automobiles, the adding machines, the typewriter and most of the other symbols of the machine age could not have been created.

A Skeleton and an Organ: Of two clocks he has made, Jensen is particularly proud. One is a skeleton in armor, life-size, with death masks on its chest for hour symbols. Another is a clock built inside a three-foot glass tumbler, with metal bands that move horizontally to tell the second, minutes, hour and day of the month, in lieu of hands and a dial.

He has a clock made in Vienna which tells not only the time and date in New York, but indicates on a globe above it the time in any part of the world. He has a clock which plays a German "hopsa" every hour, and a clock with a pipe organ inside which plays five Polish church hymns on 30 wooden pipes.

Fixes His Playthings: Collectors of antique timepieces send him their trophies for restoration from all over the United States. He declines to repair modern machine-made watches, unless they are so finely wrought that they demand a master's care.

Sometimes, when he eyes the of zeaming wheels and springs, he turns to mechanical puzzles. He has a Chinese puzzle.

Guiding Your Child

ON HIS OWN: When the toddler finds the egg-beater and begins to examine it with interest, your first impulse is to show him how it goes. When he plays on the floor surrounded by his blocks we seem to think we are doing him a great favor if we build him a huge skyscraper or a fine bridge.

We would be shocked if we were told that we really are taking the joy out of life for him. If we look into our own experience we will see that it is the things we were permitted to discover and work out for ourselves that matter most to us. We must give our children the same opportunity.

It is the same with children. The activities which children initiate for themselves carry with them a sense of fulfillment and triumph, while things which are taught them bring not so much intrinsic pleasure as the pleasant awareness of adult approval.

It is not only by severity and repression that we make our children less happy than they should be. We snatch from them the best part of any experience when we explain a reason or demonstrate a technique before we give

SHEARERS CONTRACT TO WORK AT FORMER RATE

BURLEY, May 23 (Special to The News)—Sheep shearing contracts are being made this year on a basis of from 12 1/2 to 15 cents per head for shearers. This is about the same as last year, according to information from the office of the Idaho Wool Growers' association.

Sheep shearers went on strike at Steamboat, Minidoka and American Falls, demanding 15 cents. At Steamboat, considerable trouble developed. The pieces of the striking men, however, were immediately filled with new hands at 12 1/2 cents and normal conditions ensued after three or four days of disorganization. Secretary M. C. Clear says that there is now an over supply of shearers.

The made of 300 little blocks of wood which together they come together only one piece at a time, and then only when the right piece is moved in just the right way.

It took him three hours to take it apart the first time he tried, but he was able to put it together again much more quickly, once he saw how it worked.

Build Big Potato Celler

BURLEY, May 23 (Special to The News)—A large potato storage cellar is being constructed for Leonard, Chester and Billy potato dealers here, adjoining their warehouse. When completed it will have a capacity of 24 carloads. The roof will be supported by 64 eight-inch posts, now being shipped from Island Park. Tom Lyons is the contractor.

UNION MOTOR CO. Your Ford Dealer TWIN FALLS

Half GASOLINE your oil is ruined. GASOLINE in the crankcase? Yes! Ask lubrication experts what old crankcase oil contains—why it is so "thin," watery. They'll tell you that it is diluted with gasoline; that a thousand miles of ordinary driving with "wet" gasoline will likely dilute it 50% or more. "Wet" gasoline, condensing inside your motor, runs down the cylinder walls; ruins your oil; wastes power; wastes fuel. But this is not happening in all motors, for thousands of drivers have turned to Shell 400. Refined to an exact point, Shell 400 goes completely vaporized into your motor—a "dry" gas. It explodes cleanly; is much more completely used. So it gives you increased mileage; a smoother flow of power. And it saves oil—saves the wear on your motor which thinned oil causes. Fill with Shell 400 today; use it regularly. It costs no more than ordinary gasoline.

An example of what a thousand miles of ordinary driving with ordinary gasoline can do—oil 50% gasoline—thinning caused by incomplete explosion of "wet" gas.

Shell 400, the "dry" gas, reduces oil thinning to a minimum. Notice this example—only 9.2% in a thousand miles of ordinary driving.

Shell Motor Oil, a new lubricant that forms less carbon, soft carbon, is the ideal running mate for Shell 400. Don't offset the good effects of Shell 400 by using an oil less fine than improved Shell Motor Oil.

Retail Trade Growth Centers in Chicago

CHICAGO, May 23 (AP)—American prosperity's "center of gravity" seems to be in the Chicago district, judging by the federal reserve system's last figures on retail trade.

The Chicago district showed the highest increase during April over April, 1928, amounting to 8.3 per cent. New York followed with a 5.3 per cent rise, and Kansas City lined up third with 4.0 per cent.

The other reserve districts, in order, were Richmond, Cleveland, St. Louis, Dallas, Philadelphia, Boston, Minneapolis, and below the line with decreases, are San Francisco and Atlanta.

Lapse of Corporation Charter 16 Years Ago Presenting Problem in Sale

The Lincoln Produce and Refrigeration company, which was organized here in 1913, was purchased last week by the Jerome Cooperative Creamery, and has no corporate existence for 16 years since its annual payment to the state for corporation license was permitted to lapse.

Mr. Rea P. Hance, president and a principal stockholder of the company, is plaintiff in this action, which was instituted through Harry Benoit, attorney, against the four surviving members of the board of directors as it was constituted at the time the corporation license lapsed. Appointments of a trustee with power to complete the transfer is asked in this action. Representing the directors who are named defendants in this action, E. L. Ashton, attorney, there will accept plaintiff's proposition, and will ask that Mr. Ashton be named as trustee.

BATAVIA, Java, May 23 (AP)—Japan's weather data aid in predicting the season's rainfall in California, according to Dr. A. E. Gordon, University of California. The report described long range methods of forecasting weather to the fourth Pacific ocean congress.

The air temperatures in Tokyo during November and December are shown to bear a close relation to rainfall in California during the following winter. Dr. Gordon said.

CENTER OF EARTH SOLID IRON BALL

Dr. R. R. Cummings, Head of Indiana University Department, Gives Views

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 23 (AP)—Old mother earth is solid to the core, and has resistance to change of form as great as if made of the finest steel.

The present conception of the earth's composition, he says, is that the center is a core of nickel-iron with a radius of about 2100 miles. Its density is 10. Next comes a shell of magnesium and iron silicate, of 2 density, and about 440 miles thick. Third is a ring of another 440 miles with less metal and more silicate and a density of 8.

AT IT AGAIN

Here we're talking to you about the dangers of being careless about the things you eat in Summer time. Many people are ill during Summer because of buying foods displayed in the open and not protected from the flies or other germs.

HERE SOON

Real hot weather will be here soon. There should be a law in every State compelling every food dealer to maintain a high standard of sanitation and to offer no foods for sale that could endanger the buyers' health.
