MABEL WILLEBRANDT WILL RETIRE FROM GOVERNMENT OFFICE

Resignation Not Yet in President's Hands But May Be Within Coming Month Friends Announce

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—Mabel Willebrandt, the first woman to be appointed to the cabinet, will soon be expected to retire as assistant attorney general in charge of the prosecution of prohibition, narcotics, revenue and customs law violations.

While her resignation has not yet been submitted to President Hoover, friends of Mrs. Willebrandt said she probably will leave the justice department next month to return to private law practice. For some time she has had under consideration offers from several law firms.

Mrs. Willebrandt is en route to Waco, Texas, to accept a degree from Baylor university and to visit her mother, to whom she will formally tender her resignation soon after her return and take up law practice in the East, although her home is in New York city.

Friends of Mrs. Willebrandt, who frequently has held the spotlight of publicity both in connection with prohibition cases and politics, said she had wanted to retire at the end of the Coolidge administration, but had consented to continue in office because of the high personnel of the department of justice which had to be made after the change of administration.

Not Satisfied Since last March a general but wholly unconfirmed report has been circulating that Mrs. Willebrandt was not wholly satisfied with her own situation in the department. One reason was that she did not have full authority in prohibition prosecution cases since she was to have full responsibility.

Another reason was that if the prohibition unit were transferred from the treasury to the justice department, as President Hoover has proposed, she desired to be in the enforcement of the legal aspects of the enforcement work, with the large legal staff in the unit placed under the direction of her division.

There also had been reports that she wished to have administrative charge of the whole unit, but that her father, who she had desired to become an administrative official. Such reports were circulated in some quarters at Capitol Hill, of a filibuster on the transfer legislation in the unit, as a whole, was under the prosecution.

Under Attacks Appointed by President Harding in September, 1921, Mrs. Willebrandt, more than once under attack because of moves made in prohibition enforcement, was recently criticized with rants on New York City night clubs and her suggestions to district attorneys that the terms of the recently enacted law be changed to apply in commercial bootleg cases.

Mrs. Willebrandt was one of the original supporters of President Hoover for the presidency and was active in both the pre-convention and regular presidential campaign.

REPARATION EXPERTS TOIL THROUGH NIGHT

Owen D. Young and Staff Give New Vigor to Committee Laboring in Paris

PARIS, May 27 (AP)—Technicians worked through the night on computations that the experts of the reparations conference tomorrow may use to give new life to the negotiations.

Owen D. Young and his staff today gave new vigor to the committee, by examining with other experts a new possibility of a way out of the deadlock between the Germans and the Allies.

The operation most favored takes the form of new calculations as to what the Allies would receive if Germany were to pay the reparations as proposed by Dr. Young would yield if they began at other dates than April 1, 1920, which sets the basis for the original calculations. The experts tonight would not reveal what the new dates were.

The creditor experts still insist that payments under the Dawes plan ought to continue at least until the end of this year. Dr. Hjalmar Schacht holds the view that they cease with April 1, 1929.

Woman Unwilling to Bear Arms, Fails in Fight for Citizenship

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—Declaring "whatever tends to lessen the strength and safety of the government," the supreme court today reversed the lower courts and denied citizenship to Roska Schwimmer, Chicago.

Mrs. Schwimmer, a linguist, author and lecturer, was born in Hungary in 1877, and came to America, first in her quest for naturalization, answering the question: "If necessary are you willing to take up arms in defense of this country?" she said: "I would not take up arms personally."

OFFERS POURING IN TO TEXAS AVIATORS

Great Acclaim, Sharp Contrast With Little Aid Received in Preparations

FORT WORTH, Texas, May 27 (AP)—L. Robbins and James Kelly today began to reap some of the rewards in honor for their flight, the new holders of the world's endurance flight record.

Rebbed by a long snap after completing 172 hours 32 minutes 1 second of continuous flight, their single-engine monoplane Fort Worth, the aviators awoke today to find presents and lucrative offers pouring in on them.

The aviators and bids for their services were in sharp contrast with the little aid the former railroad mechanic and the erstwhile copperworker received in preparing for the expedition.

Scarcely offers for valuable engagements, newspaper and magazine contracts, and various positions with aircraft concerns were received.

Course Undecided Robbins and Kelly had not decided what course to follow, but friends expressed the belief that they would go on an aerial "barnstorming" tour.

Robbins and Kelly will receive $5000 each from the Fort Worth Association of Commerce and $5000 will be divided between K. K. Hoffman and H. S. Jones, who refused the endurance ship during its flight of more than seven days, which ended Sunday afternoon.

Approximately $2000 will be paid to Robbins and Kelly by a local committee. Robbins and Kelly by a local committee. Robbins and Kelly by a local committee.

Mine Blast Traps Nine Workingmen in Alabama

YOLAND, Alabama, May 27 (AP)—Nine men were trapped tonight by a rock-fall which followed an explosion of dynamite at the Concombe mine of the Yolande Coal and Coke company, four and a half miles from here.

Eleven men were in the mine when the explosion occurred. Nine were killed and a second was carried out by the first rescue squad.

HOUSE'S COMMITTEE PAVES WAY TO VOTE ON TARIFF MEASURE

In Atmosphere Electrified By Charges of "Trading," and Partisan Debate More Amendments Triumph

By D. HAROLD OLIVER (Associated Press Staff Writer) WASHINGTON, May 27.—In an atmosphere electrified with charges of "trading," partisan debate and resurrected campaign arguments, the house approved another series of commodity amendments in the tariff bill today and paved the way for a final vote late tomorrow.

The session, lasting more than six hours, was the stormiest of any since the Republican-framed measure was taken up three weeks ago and out of it emerged an amendment, approved by a vote of 192 to 80, placing a duty of 10 per cent on hides, ranging from 12 1/2 to 30 per cent on leather, and a levy of 20 per cent on books and shoes.

All of these commodities have been on the free list for years and were retained in that category by the present amendments. In the tariff bill today and paved the way for a final vote late tomorrow.

An attempt by Representative Huddleston, Democrat, Tex., to make the bill a free trade bill was rejected by a vote of 190 to 78.

Committee Victorious Of the other amendments approved, the ways and means committee was victorious in every instance and not one (Continued on Page 3, Column 1)

DOWNY LIVESTOCK SHOW SUCCESS DESPITE STORM

DOWNY, Idaho, May 27 (AP)—Despite a morning squall and a heavy, blustering weather throughout the day, what was declared by observers to be the best exhibit of livestock in the city's history was held today, the sixth annual Black and White day.

Dairy experts from the University of Idaho extension department and representatives of state and National Holstein-Breeders' associations were present and talked at the meeting in the afternoon.

Special interest was attached to the work of the boys and girls divisions, in which Sidney Sparrow was given the all-around club award. The boy's father, W. L. Sparrow, captured several honors with his exhibits.

Severe Hail Storm in Wyoming Damages Crops

CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 27 (AP)—One of the severest hail storms in recent years struck the Upper Horse creek region, northwest of here last yesterday, and is believed to have caused great damage to the early farm crops of the region.

Cody, Wyo., May 27 (AP)—Cody and northern Wyoming generally were covered with a mantle of snow today, following a blizzard over the region during which it intermittently snowed and rained. Fears are felt that fruit and garden crops may have been injured.

Driver Preparing For Indianapolis Classic In Speedway Accident

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27 (AP)—Myron Stevens, Los Angeles, was slightly injured at the Indianapolis motor speedway late today while practicing for Thursday's 500-mile automobile race, when his car, out of control, turned over and skidded into a ditch.

Aside from a possible fracture of the right arm and a bruised foot, physicians at the hospital where Stevens was taken said the race driver appeared to have escaped injury.

Only one driver attempted to qualify his car today and failed in the attempt when the motor went dead on the second of the four laps required, nineteen cars with qualified last Saturday and yesterday.

School Tax Levy Passes

POCATELLO, May 27 (AP)—A vote of 192 to 216 was cast today for a mill school tax today in addition to the eight mills allowed "without a vote" by the legislature.

Opposition of a group known as the Taxpayers' League created much interest in the election. The group was opposed to the additional levy.

HEROISM OF SAILORS IN WRECK PREVENTS HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE

SEWARD, Alaska, May 27 (AP)—Stark heroism that prevented a heavy loss of life in the steamer Alutian struck a submerged rock and sank within seven minutes off Kodiak island, Alaska, yesterday, reached here late today by mail.

Although the vessel sank rapidly, only a few persons suffered minor injuries, and the only death was that of Manuel Derris, ship janitor, who went back to obtain a "lucky horseshoe."

Nearly all of the 115 passengers, and 115 crew members were placed in lifeboats, which were picked up shortly after the sinking by the Steamship Surveyor was due here tonight.

A few persons who jumped into the water were picked up in small boats. The Alutian sank in mid-channel at the south end of Amook island, after striking an uncharted submerged rock. The vessel sank so rapidly that it tilted rapidly and slid off the rock into the water.

A bad list hampered work, but boats were filled and launched without confusion. As the Alutian sank, its stern raised high in the air. Pressure within the ship caused clothing and articles to shoot through port holes with great force.

All these who had jumped into the water were saved. (Continued on Page 2, Column 2)

Supreme Court Justices Unanimous in Ruling On Pocket Veto's Validity

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—The validity of pocket vetoes was unanimously upheld in a unanimous decision handed down today by the supreme court, regardless of whether the legislation in question was sent to the White House in the closing days of a session which was not the final session of congress.

The ruling was an opinion summarized by Justice Sanford, construed the word "adjournment" in the constitutional provision relating to vetoes as meaning "the end of any congressional session as well as of a congress."

Justice Brandeis, who concurred with the majority, said that Congress must give the president the 10 days granted him by the constitution to act on bills passed by the senate.

ALBION'S GRADUATES HEAR H. C. BALDRIDGE

Broad Culture as Essential as Specializations, Chief Executive Tells Students

ALBION, Idaho, May 27 (AP)—Cheap labor is no longer the watchword of the industrialists wishing to succeed in the west, said H. C. Baldrige, chief executive of the Albion National school, today.

The address was delivered before upwards of 150 graduates who had pursued their studies for two years here in the three sessions of the school.

"Men like Henry Ford and other great leaders of modern industry have well known that well-paid labor is far more productive and far more profitable than cheap labor," he said.

"Men like Henry Ford and other great leaders of modern industry have well known that well-paid labor is far more productive and far more profitable than cheap labor," he said.

Golden Rule Applied Declaring that broad culture was essential to a successful career, Governor Baldrige said that the great industrial development of the last few years is based not only upon the invention of science and the discoveries of chemistry, but more largely upon the application of the Golden Rule in business relationships.

He pointed out that the first duty of the graduates when they became teachers, will be to present the subject of civics, required by the state of study. "Your greater task," he continued, "will be to teach the children the Golden Rule in business relationships."

Experience in business and public affairs has brought home the truth to Baldrige that the man who does not take heed of the actualities of life we are forced to learn our lessons all over again.

The thoroughness with which a child learns his text book lessons is a good index of his ability to succeed in later undertakings. But the mastery of the text book lessons counts not "one-half as much" as the mastery of the Golden Rule in playing the game—the lessons of courtesy that make human contacts enjoyable and profitable.

Other speakers at today's sessions included Mayor F. C. Beck and Ross Gillette, first vice president of the state federation.

Miss Evangeline Booth Recovering From Injury HARTSDALE, N. Y., May 27 (AP)—Miss Evangeline Booth, secretary of the Salvation Army in America, tonight was reported slowly recovering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident last Friday.

Her physician, Dr. Walter Clark, today said he was pleased with the progress she was making. He indicated that X-rays may be made tomorrow. These are expected to determine whether the bones are broken from a slight fracture of the skull.

BRIEF BITES UNITE COLONEL LINDBERGH AND MISS MORROW

Bridesmaids, Best Man and Music Absent in Ceremony of Simplicity at Englewood Home of Diplomat

(By The Associated Press) ENGLEWOOD, N. J., May 27.—Miss Anne Morrow, only daughter of Ambassador and Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, and Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh were married at the bride's home here this afternoon.

The ceremony, witnessed by only the immediate family, was performed by the Rev. William Adams Brown, Union Theological seminary, New York city.

Immediately afterward, Ambassador Morrow and his wife, and the bridegroom, plans of the couple were kept secret.

The bride wore a simple white chiffon dress with short veil, made for her by Mrs. Mary Mills, the family dressmaker. Mrs. Morrow wore a gown picked from the Moynihan garden just inside the door.

So far as could be learned there were no witnesses outside the immediate family, and possibly a few of the household staff.

Spring Marriage Apparently decided upon the spur of the moment, the newlyweds, even the most intimate neighbors of the Morrow by surprise and completely "scooped" the small army of relatives and news photographers, who for weeks have looked forward to depicting the romantic event in great detail in print.

Colonel Lindbergh and his fiancée went for a ride in the early afternoon and accepted the invitation to the home of a friend in Englewood. Shortly after their return, largely time for the bride and groom to get ready for the wedding.

The bride and groom were still at the Morrow home early in the evening, but subsequent plans remained secret. Ambassador Morrow arrived yesterday from Mexico City, and instead of a wedding announcement, it had been expected that Mrs. Morrow soon would make public a date for the ceremony.

Noticed, German's Presence Since the wedding announcement that the ceremony had already taken place, however, it was recalled that only a short time after the ambassador drove through the square by his car, he called here from his train yesterday.

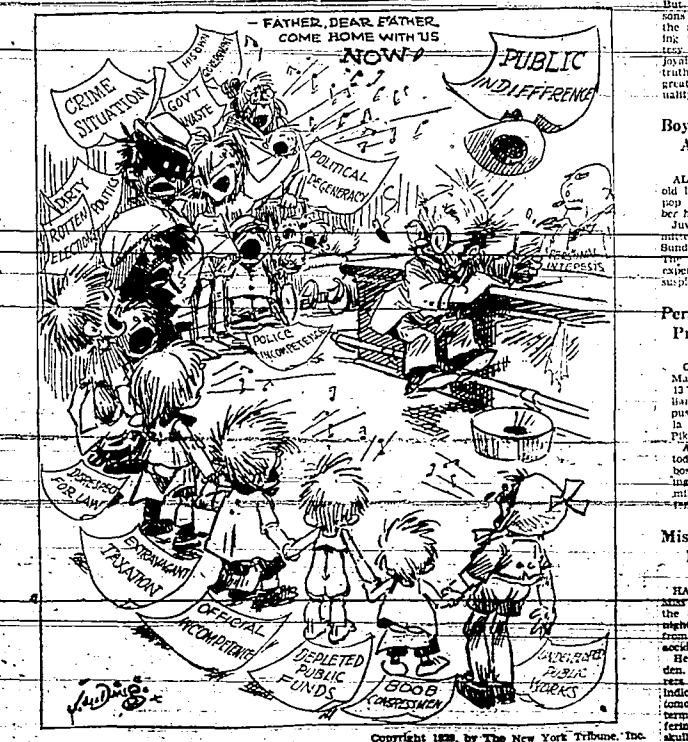

Colonel Lindbergh and his mother arrived in the afternoon, and they remained at once to the house and remained for two hours. During their visit, some of the wedding reports were made to the estate and immediately was admitted. This combination of events was made known by the bridegroom's arrangements for today's ceremony were made immediately after the ambassador's arrival.

When the ambassador stepped from his train at Newark yesterday efforts were made to obtain some indication of the wedding. But all inquiries were courteously replied that he had "nothing to say." He drove with Mrs. Morrow and their children to Newark from Newark to his estate here and from the time of his arrival no word was forthcoming from the bridegroom.

Formal announcements of the wedding was made last today. The complete informality of the wedding was attested by the fact that before it took place Colonel Lindbergh went into the garden of the Morrow home, where he dug a hole and buried a white columbine and handed them to his fiancée to carry at the ceremony.

Which he had appeared on all of his visits to Englewood. The colonel wore the same dark blue Bespoke suit as he wore on the clergyman, five persons were present at the wedding. They were Ambassador and Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. Elizabeth and Constance, and Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, mother of the aviator.

Shortly after 7:30 o'clock Colonel Lindbergh and his bride left the Morrow home in an automobile for an unannounced destination. Lindbergh was hairless as they motored away. Ambassador Morrow had departed by motor car a short time before.

Dempsey Severs Connections With Gotham Fight Promoter

Unknown Activities Of Manassa Mauler To Shift Westward

Husky Young Veteran Who Still Snares Imagination of Fight Multitudes Ends Second Chapter of Career

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, May 27.—That husky young veteran who still snares the imagination of the fight multitudes—Promoter Jack Dempsey, through the second chapter of his box fighting career to a close with a bang today.

Without any preliminaries or even a warm-up controversy, the former heavyweight champion fell to a contender in the second round of his fight with the power that he at Madison Square Garden, his first love in the nose-mugging industry.

Jack separated in all friendliness with Fugazy after two months of partnership in which the combination failed to secure a single match, in a scheme made public by his lawyers. Dempsey said his contract became null and void when the Italian promoter failed to make an open air arena by May 25, two months after the partnership was formed. Fugazy, the other half of the self-styled "Big Boy" refused to believe that Dempsey had taken advantage of a technicality in their agreement.

In comparison to the sudden termination of relations with Fugazy, opening of negotiations with Bill Carson, promoter to Richard as the Garden president and partner of Dempsey in the promotion of Jack Sharkey's win in Miami Beach last winter, was far more subtle. He slipped away in the afternoon for a talk with Carson, who had unsuccessfully against Fugazy for Dempsey's services.

Carson talked about his visit to the Garden, but winked a loud knowing wink when asked about it. "I don't know anything about anything," he grinned. He was assured that no one would be.

State Department Outlines Broad Construction Program

LOCAL COOPERATION VITAL TO SUCCESS OF PLANS FOR YEAR

Difficulty of Marketing $1,000,000 in Highway Fund Notes Makes State Dependent Upon Districts

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, May 27.—Broad program involving construction in practically all parts of the state has been outlined by the department of public works, much of it for the coming summer.

Difficulty of marketing the $1,000,000 highway fund notes authorized by the last legislature has curtailed construction somewhat making the department dependent upon local cooperation for whatever projects are started.

The latter instance, studies which will be added to from time to time, includes the following projects: The Boise-Madras Road from the Old Oregon Trail will be improved and straightened, as well as the section between Briny and Amerasia.

Early construction on the Kootenai and the Clearwater rivers is now being made as a means of avoiding the usual snow troubles. Owing to the lack of local funds this construction cannot be completed until 1930.

Work in North Idaho

On the North and South highway considerable work is planned for North Idaho. Construction between Chiloquin and the Kootenai river in Kootenai county will be started as soon as financial arrangements can be concluded. This task will complete the improved highway between Coeur d'Alene and Bonners Ferry, except for a short section involved in the reconstruction of the bridge across the Clark fork of the Columbia and Lake Pend O'Rielle at Sandpoint. An overland crossing will be built over the Spokane International railroad near Athol.

Plans are in progress for construction of the bridge over the Couer d'Alene river at Harrison, but no work has been started.

Early construction on the Lewis and Clark highway between Cherry Lake and Peck, along the Clearwater river, is programmed. The contract letting depending on the completion of the survey and availability of funds.

Right of way difficulties are hindering construction of 6.5 miles of the Camas Prairie highway between Grandeville and Harper. This piece is necessary to complete the highway between Grandeville and Kootenai.

Two sections of construction will be undertaken between Coeur d'Alene and Pettibone. The seven-mile section between Setters and Worley in Kootenai county will be let in June, while the job south from Plummer will be commenced later in the season. The first job includes an underground crossing of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad. A section of the connecting road between Plummer and Setters is also included in the program, subject to the availability of local and federal funds.

10-Mile Project

The 10-mile federal aid project between Thiana and Newport is scheduled for letting at an early date, contingent on the approval by the war department of the location and plans for the bridge over Priest river included in the project. The construction of this section will complete the improvement

Captor of Jefferson Davis Tells of Vivid Scene in '65

HAZEL GREEN, Wis., May 27 (AP)—An old man, his face framed by a snowy beard, sits on a sunny porch and remembers a warm, misty morning in the irise of a Georgia swamp a long time ago. Long enough ago to find the bitterness.

Five riders in weather-beaten blue are creaking cautiously down a hollow toward a stained army tent where a little man with squared shoulders stands watching them.

The five dismount, creeling toward the fence before the tent. The leader surrenders, holding his command.

The little man stands as stone. The stamping paper under his command.

Then a woman spreads the tent flaps, lifts the man's arm above his head and says in a cool, genteel voice:

"Don't shoot, gentleman. He is unarmed."

She was his wife, faithful in his darkest moment.

So was Jefferson Davis, president of the confederate states of America, captured May 10, 1864.

The old man who remembers is J. C. Schullter, Hazel Green, one of the five Union cavalrymen who rode down the hollow.

They had come with Sherman to the sea, and were detailed under Colonel Harnden of the Wisconsin cavalry to search for Davis, fleeing from Richmond to the army of the west.

Davis' immobility changed Schullter's intentions; when they reached the Union camp, and he exhibited his anger and oaths, this turned to nervousness when soldiers started to chant: "We'll hang Jeff Davis to a sour apple tree."

His capture was marred, according to Schullter, by tactics of a Michigan detachment. Unauthorised, it had set out to seek Davis for the $100,000 reward congress offered. The Michigan troops, says Schullter, fired into the Wisconsin group, wounding four or five, in order to give the impression they believed them confederates and to permit Michigan to claim the capture.

But Davis didn't hang in a sour apple tree or any other. He died for pardon, but asked only fair trial. After a year in prison he was granted amnesty.

Later he publicly renounced his states' rights doctrines. For some years he headed a southern insurance company. He died in New Orleans in 1893 and was buried with great ceremony. Later his body was taken to Richmond, Virginia, for burial.

Government Making Plans For Purchase of Additional New Rolling Stock and Extension of Lines

By O. BAMBOROUGH (Associated Press Correspondent) PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, May 27 (AP)—Continuing its policy of retribution, the state railways in the face of the loss of capital improvements, the Czechoslovakian government is this year making plans for additional new rolling stock, extension of lines and the facilitating particularly of east and west travel.

The state of the railways was one of the most serious problems that faced the Czechoslovakian government when they attained their independence in 1918. Prague had been neglected as a rail center by the Austro-Hungarian empire, the rolling stock being of the Vienna or Budapest type. Moreover, the war had left the rolling stock in a deplorable condition. One successful policy was reduction of fares and rates to encourage more widespread use of the railroads and today the lines are among the least expensive in Europe.

The recent annual report contained a comprehensive program for further improvements, some of which relate to luxuries for passenger travel. Among these might be mentioned installation of telephones on the main line express, which will enable business men to conduct affairs from the trains with as much ease as if they were in their offices. Another item is an order for third class sleepers placed with Puffing Blied.

The new lines for east and west travel will be bringing into direct touch with the capital several sections of the country which heretofore could be reached only by roundabout routes. In this connection the longest tunnel in the country, with a length of more than 3000 feet, will be bored.

Business men are responding to this effort in many ways. One unconfirmed rumor is that Thomas Bata, known as "the European boot king," has offered the equivalent of 600,000,000 crowns (about $18,000,000 on a section of a proposed new line from Prague to Goetzke in order that his shoe factories at Zlín may be put into direct touch with lines radiating from the capital.

Spring Tornadoes Set Record and Prevalence Now Puzzles Experts

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—A record-breaking increase in tornadoes which baffles scientific explanation, is reported in figures for the first four months of 1929. Where 30 twisters occurred last year during the same period, incomplete reports indicate more than 80 have occurred between 20 and 25.

Of the 30 in 1928, nine occurred in the first three months and the remaining 21 in April. This year 27 tornadoes were reported by the end of March and an estimate has placed April's crop between 20 and 25.

Deaths from cyclonic winds also have shown a great increase. Fifteen people lost their lives during the period last year. In contrast, the deaths this year were: January 2; February 23; March 20, and April, probably 100.

Scientists and students of the dynamics of the atmosphere are puzzled by the definite causes for the increasing activity of the twisters.

They merely show that tornadoes result which winds in a cyclone area are under terrific stress and seek relief. The

Years of service in MODEL T FORDS

The Model T was so strongly and sturdily built that it is still rendering reliable, economical service to motorists in every section of the country. Millions of these cars can be put in shape for two, three and five more years of use at very small cost.

So that you may have this work done economically and satisfactorily, the Ford Motor Company is still devoting a considerable section of its plants to the manufacture of Model T parts. It will continue to do so as long as they are needed by Model T owners. The following list gives the approximate labor charges for reconditioning the Model T Ford:

Engine
Tune motor (including replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary)	$1.00
Grind valves and clean carbon	$5.75 to 3.00
Rebuild carburetor	1.50
Rebuild detachable-car transmission bands	1.50
Install new pistons or connecting rods	6.00
Tighten all main bearings	2.00
Overhaul motor and transmission	$20.00 to 25.00
Rear System
Replace rear axle assembly	2.50
Install universal joint	1.00
Rebuild rear axle	1.50
Replace rear axle shaft, drive shaft pinion, or drive gear	2.00
Overhaul complete rear axle assembly	$5.75 to 7.00
Rebuild steering knuckle	1.50
Oil and graphite springs	3.00
Front System
Overhaul front axle	$4.00 to 5.00
Rebuild main beam and arms (both sides)	2.50
Replace or straighten spindle connecting rod	.75
Tighten radius rod or steering ball cap	.60
Rebuild front spring	1.50
Replace front spring tie bolt or new leaf	2.50
Straighten front axle	3.00
Chassis
Replace rear fender	1.15
Rebuild front fender	3.50
Repair mudflap	1.00
Overhaul radiator	2.50
Rebuild cooling fan	1.50
Rebuild Sedan	25.00
Rebuild Touring Car	2.00
Tighten all main bearings	2.00
Rebuild Touring Car	15.00
Rebuild Van (Camp or Sedan)	4.50
Overhaul generator	2.50

These prices are approximate and are for labor only, because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The charge for these parts is low, however, because of the established Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.

Bank in New York Opens Greatest Exhibition of Money

VALUE OF CURRENCY IN BIG COLLECTION NEARLY $75,000,000

Every Period in History and all Political Divisions of Present Time in Amazing Assortment

By WILLIAM E. KUHN (Associated Press Feature Writer) NEW YORK, May 27.—The most varied currency collection in the world, a record amount through the ages from the Babylon market-places to Wall street, has been acquired by the Chase national bank as a permanent collection.

Every period in history and every political division of the present day are represented in the present day assortment of more than 40,000 coins, paper notes and a thousand various objects which have served as means of exchange during the last 5,000 years.

The collection is the product of 40 years of tireless work and travel by Farran Zerbe, former president of the American Numismatic association.

The face value of all money in the collection is approximately $18,000,000, excluding the inflated currencies of the war period.

The exhibit contains coins portraying the art, architecture, mythology, religion, sports and pleasures of every period of Greece at the height of her power, and Rome to the fall.

The American colonial section is unusually complete. The crude coins of 1783, including the "halfpenny" and "Justice" in defiance of Great Britain, and "pine tree" shillings of 1822 have special historical interest.

The late Mr. Goodban, a resident of London, had the reputation of being late for his appointments. Just to play a joke on his friends he instructed the undertaker in his will to be ten minutes late with his body for the funeral ceremonies.

WOMEN OF TURKEY SPURN WAR ROLES

Ultra-Emanipated Members of Fairer Sex Preparing for Revolution

By FRILLIA RING (Associated Press Correspondent) CONSTANTINOPLE, May 27.—Ultra-emanipated Turkish women are preparing a revolution to overthrow women's traditional role in time of war. This group, led by a brilliant young member of Istanbul's new-feminine intelligentsia, Shaisy Hanem, declares that in the next war the enlightened woman of Turkey will not be the theoretical "girl behind the man behind the gun," but instead the girl behind the actual gun.

Keeping the home-fires burning when there are only tatters or nerves and shreds of hearts to kindle the flames is a harder job than soldiering. "We pray to Allah that there may be no next war," but if there is, we Turkish women who have seen our mothers wither beneath the bitter waiting at home, will never submit to that fate. We will fight in the front lines and die outright rather than have our hearts-and-minds slowly murdered.

This potential Joan of Arc of the new Turkey would have women fight in safety. Turkish alienists hear out her statement—that over half of Turkish city women today are neurotic or insane, one of the basic causes being Turkey's incessant wars in the last half century, during which the only occupation of the then unemancipated city women was to wring their hands and go mad. Poorer women, on the contrary, among whom the percentage of insanity is low, have always taken an active part in warfare, many of them fighting in the front lines, but many more transmuting ammunition and providing supplies.

Another cause of women's part in the next war, women in Turkey, is given in an editorial which appeared in the official Turkish press. Here the point is made that the greatest virtue of the emancipation of women is to have rendered them capable of enervating on the civil affairs of the nation during war.

Burley Auxiliary Holds Annual Sale of Poppies

DURLEY, May 27 (Special to The News)—Memorial flowers were sold here Saturday, when the Auxiliary of the Epworth League held annual poppy sale. Campaign girls assisted the women of the Auxiliary in disposing of about 1,100 poppies made by veterans in the Boise hospital. The drive was conducted by a committee headed by Mrs. Ross Youmans. One half the proceeds will be sent to the disabled veterans and the balance will be devoted to welfare work, which includes a box sent to the Boise hospital at Christmas time.

EPWORTH LEAGUE ERECTS SUMMER CAMP BUILDING

DURLEY, May 27 (Special to The News)—W. P. Stearnman, manager of the Epworth League camping grounds 7 1/2 miles above Ketchikan, has left for the camp to supervise construction of the new auditorium to be built this season. The auditorium, to be called "Kendall Hall" in honor of Dean O. C. Kendall of the Epworth League institute, is to be 64 by 90 feet in size, and will be built of native logs in harmonious with the rustic surroundings. The camp is well patronized during seasons of the league and already has many cabins and other log structures, which have been put up by members from the different districts. It has been named Camp Stearnman in recognition of the services of Manager Stearnman who has had supervision of the camp for nearly 10 years.

Stearman is accompanied by Paul Selby, Carl Hogue, Wesley Stearnman, Joe Brower and other Epworth League members from Burley.

A handful of flint carbon...

and only 1/32 of an inch to put it in

You've probably seen mechanics working on one of the older type motors—scraping layers of carbon off the piston heads—a big handful of it from one motor!

But the newer engines could never stand such carbon deposits. Some of them have only the thickness of a knife blade between piston and cylinder head—no room at all for carbon.

What causes carbon?

The carbon that builds up in your motor comes from burned oil. And it is a strange fact that often the highest priced lubricants will give you large quantities of gritty, hard carbon. In spite of all this it is easy now to avoid carbon-forming oils. For science has perfected one oil that is vitally different.

Only a little soft soot

Shell Motor Oil, the result of a new refining process, forms less than one-third the carbon of even the costliest oils; no hard carbon, only a little soot that blows easily away through the exhaust.

Its lubricant value is far greater than old type oils. Careful refining leaves all its "body" intact ready to resist even the most violent changes in temperature.

Insist on Shell Motor Oil every time you buy. It is almost a necessity in today's motors.

SHELL MOTOR OIL

Shell 400, the new "dry" gas that burns cleanly and keeps out of the crankcase, is the ideal running mate for Shell Motor Oil. Even Shell Motor Oil can be ruined by "thinning" with a "wet" gas

FIRST OF NEW FLEET OF GIANT AIR LINERS SOON READY

GIANT MACHINES WITH ALL LUXURIES TO CARRY 32 ADULTS

Craft Designed by Anthony H. G. Fokker, Builder of More Than 11,000 Airplanes in Last 17 Years

HASBROUCK HEIGHTS, N. J. May 23—The first of a fleet of giant air liners, capable of carrying 32 passengers in luxuriously furnished cabins and Pullman-type sleeping compartments, is nearing completion in the Fokker Aircraft corporations' plant.

The "flying Pullman," designed for use on a transcontinental day and night air line, is scheduled for its first flight tests within two months. Its builders believe it will make possible overnight between New York and Chicago, and 36-hour service from coast to coast.

Designed by Anthony H. G. Fokker, who has built more than 11,000 airplanes since 1912, the plane will have the same general appearance and construction of the tri-motored 12-passenger plane now in production, but will be much larger.

Instead of three engines, the new plane has four engines arranged in pairs under the wings on each side of the fuselage. The front engine of each pair drives a tractor propeller, while the rear engine drives a pusher propeller.

The passenger cabin is divided into four compartments, each six feet long, equipped with eight comfortable chairs and two folding tables or four Pullman type sleeping berths, 42 inches wide.

If equipped for day time operation, the plane will carry 30 passengers and a crew of four. Sixteen passengers will be carried when the plane is prepared for night flying only. With such a load the average non-stop range is estimated at 780 miles in a six-and-one-half-hour flight.

Two lavatory compartments, each fitted with toilet, wash basin and running water, as well as a kitchen and steward's pantry with complete electric cooking installation, are provided.

Under the pilot's cockpit, which is placed high up at the forward end of the ship, a special cabin is provided for navigation equipment and complete two-way radio communication apparatus.

Powered by either four Pratt and Whitney "Hornet" engines or four Wright "Cyclones," the air liner is designed to have a high speed of 145 miles an hour. The plane is expected to climb 1400 feet from the ground in the first minute and attain a maximum altitude of 18,000 feet.

The wing span of the ship is 100 feet and its overall length is 85 feet.

Foreign Air Lines Now Insure All Passengers American Plane Popular Among Foreign Countries

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Travelers on several of the European air lines are insured when they take passage on airplanes. Commerce department representatives report two lines recently have been added to those adopting the policy.

The Czech-Slovak Air Traffic company has joined the German and Austrian lines in insuring passengers on the Berlin-Brno-Prague-Vienna route, and the Switzerland commercial air company also has adopted the plan.

The Czech-Slovak plane passengers are insured for $500 against death or total and permanent disability, while the Swiss line insures its passengers for $500 in case of death and $10,000 for permanent and total disability. The cost of the insurance is borne by the companies.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The increasing popularity of American airplanes in other lands is shown in department of commerce export figures for 1928. The total value of airplanes exported during the year was $3,044,722, just $100 short of the combined 1914-16—pre-World War—total.

Canada took 82 planes against 25 in 1927. Airplanes were sent to 22 countries.

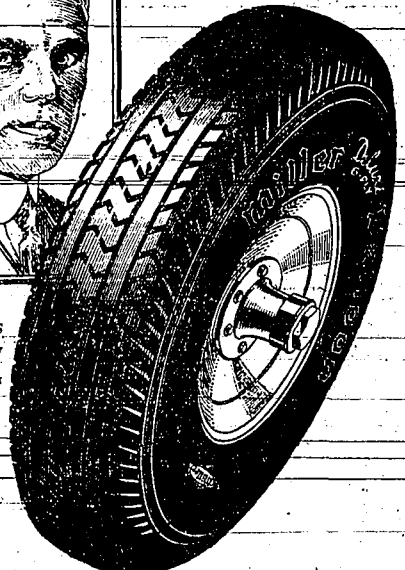

With approximately 4000 planes were produced in this country during the year, reliable reports to the department of commerce gave production in France as 3440—Germany—230—and Switzerland—23.

"HURRY WITH THE SERVICE CAR THE OIL BROKE DOWN" DON'T LET THIS HAPPEN TO YOU

STRANDED five miles from nowhere because the oil wouldn't do its job! Has that happened to you? If it has, the chances are that you were not particular the last time you had the crankcase drained — or perhaps you ran too long without changing the oil. This will be a slack-summer for service cars if motorists will remember two things: first, to change oil regularly; and secondly, to use only a brand of oil which they know from their own experience or the experience of others will stand up under the most trying conditions of motor operation.

You can depend upon any oil which has the backing of the Continental Oil Company. These are the brands which have been tried and tested — in the laboratory and on the road. They lubricate thoroughly, protect every moving part and stand up under intense heat.

"Of course, I'm interested. How you exactly intendation to utilize the romance of the situation yourself? What really happens is that you commence wandering or perhaps, to put it more reasonably, you are provided with all the possibilities of a new life. How are you going to take them? What are the first ambitions that you will gratify?"

"Are you one of those people who write novels?" Martin inquired, with an attempt at sarcasm.
" I have written one," she confessed, "but no one will publish it. Are you afraid that I am going to write one about you?"

"Anyhow, I shouldn't," he advised, "you won't find it worth while."
She looked at him critically. He felt the color mounting in his cheeks but he bore her regard steadily.
" Well," she reflected, "I dare say there are possibilities about you. Tell me, did you really like being what you were commended to me?"

It's a perfectly fair bargain. We get a free lunch-which, I tell you frankly, is a consideration for us-and you get the best technical advice in London for your outfit. You know, I confess, that Mr. Carnham is supposed to be quite one of our smartest young men about town."

"Wait a moment," she interrupted. "I am a commercial traveler and you are Lady Blanche. Blanche is supposed to be quite one of our smartest young men about town."

"But, he's right," Lady Blanche declared.
" He's beautifully right, Gerald, we are snobs."

"Treating it as a business proposition, I don't see anything to be commiserated in," he said, "but I tell you frankly that I don't like either of you, but I don't mind paying for your lunch."

"Please tell me why you don't like us," she begged.
"Of course, in a rather or difficult, but I am supposed to be quite nice when I try, and I am trying to be as nice as I can."

"You are very attractive," he admitted, "I realize that. Why I don't like you is because..."
"Wait a moment," she interrupted. "I am a commercial traveler and you are Lady Blanche. Blanche is supposed to be quite one of our smartest young men about town."

"But, he's right," Lady Blanche declared.
" He's beautifully right, Gerald, we are snobs."

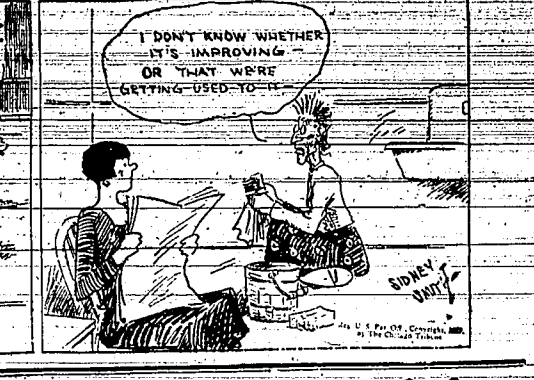

"I'm not coming you know," Martin declared. "I'm just trying the things that you are about you."

"It is the people who have the courage to tell the truth," she observed. "I am supposed to be quite one of our smartest young men about town."

"I'm not coming you know," Martin declared. "I'm just trying the things that you are about you."

It's a perfectly fair bargain. We get a free lunch-which, I tell you frankly, is a consideration for us-and you get the best technical advice in London for your outfit. You know, I confess, that Mr. Carnham is supposed to be quite one of our smartest young men about town."

"Martin considered the matter for a moment.

IDAHO UNIVERSITY TO AWARD 350 DIPLOMAS

Largest Class in History of School Get Degrees in New Memorial Gymnasium

MOSCOW, May 27—Approximately 350 diplomas certifying degrees that will be conferred at the annual commencement ceremony June 10, have been received by the registrar's office. The revised list shows that 304 will be granted bachelors' degrees, and 48 will receive masters' degrees.

Arrangements for the graduating of the largest class in the history of the university are practically complete, according to the registrar's office. The president of the university and chairman of the public events committee. The commencement proper will be held June 10, in the new Memorial gymnasium, where there is plenty of seating capacity. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached in the university auditorium Sunday morning, June 9.

Dr. Spencer to Speak
Dr. M. Lyle Spencer, president of the University of Washington, will deliver the commencement address. For the baccalaureate sermon Rev. Middleton S. Barnwell, D. D. Boise, Episcopal bishop of the state of Idaho, has been secured.

The size of Idaho's graduating classes during recent years has been increasing steadily. Last year the university granted a total of 352 bachelors' degrees and 49 masters' degrees.

Colorful Event
Commencement at the university is one of the most colorful events during each school year. From 200 to 2500 parents, relatives and friends of members of the graduating classes will be on the campus during the two closing days of the school year. Included in the list of visitors and participants this year will be Governor H. C. Baldrige, Major General Robert L. Bullard, Washington; Colonel L. V. Patch, Payette, state department commander of the American Legion, members of the board of regents of the university, and many other distinguished guests.

SATURDAY

On this new automobile has been concentrated all of Buick's seasoned manufacturing experience gained through its long leadership in fine car building. The Marquette has the distinction you expect in the smartest of modern cars, with bodies by Fisher, and the added value you anticipate in a Buick-built product. But foremost among all its fine qualities is a type of performance never before achieved in any car of comparable price. See the Marquette when it goes on display this coming Saturday.
