First All-American Final at Wimbledon Results in Third Triumph for Champ

WIMBLEDON, England, July 5.—Conquering Miss Helen Jacobs by scores of 6-1, 6-2, in Wimbledon's first all-American final in women's singles, Miss Helen Wills won her third straight British championship on the famous center court today.

These two American girls who live in the same California city and traveled more than 5000 miles to enter the Wimbledon tournament, played their way through opposite halves of the draw without losing a set and met in the title match on the most famous tennis tennis turf in the world with 15,000 persons looking on.

It was Miss Wills' match all the way after the opening game which Miss Jacobs took on her strong service. The challenger never had the lead again and she ever appear to threaten, but against the genius of Miss Wills' accurate court strategy the sturdy Miss Jacobs fought a good fight.

Not content with her one-sided success in singles, Miss Wills took the court later with Frank Hunter and reached the final in mixed doubles by a victory at 6-8, 6-2, 6-3 over Miss "Bobbie" Helge and N. G. Parhamian, a South African combination. In one of the championship battles scheduled for tomorrow Miss Wills and Hunter will oppose a powerful English team comprising Miss Jean Fry and J. G. Collins.

The all-French singles final between Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra is down for settlement tomorrow, while the Anglo-American mixed doubles, the doubles championship between Gregory and J. G. Collins and Wilmer Allister and John Van Ryn promises to be a big feature.

POINCARÉ SCORES IN DEBT CONTROVERSIES

Premier Suggests Firm Intention to Secure Ratification of New Accord

PARIS, July 5.—The Poincaré government scores its slanted victory today over the most advertised offensive of the opposition parties. The government success came after the chamber deputies had stayed through the new parliamentary farce of the "who gets slapped," with variations of the American debt settlement to enlighten the whole performance.

The premier scored firm thoughts and objects of French policy, which were ready to put through ratification of the Mellon-Berenger debt accord in his own way and at a low time, August 1.

But upon the question whether the face of Prefect of Police Chiappe had been seen by the government, Poincaré's fate for a time today.

Deny Maurice Dornmann, mutilated the veteran, was selected by the opposition forces to make a diversion on the debt discussion. He was to Intendence Minister of the Interior Tardieu and the cabinet government whether Prefect of Police Chiappe had been slapped in the face by a woman during the demonstration of war veterans at the Arc de Triomphe three weeks ago Sunday.

Tardieu had issued a formal denial that Chiappe's face had been slapped and Dornmann thereby considered himself insulted as a war veteran and demanded a retraction. This apparently trivial incident had been chosen by the opposition as a chance to bring down the Poincaré cabinet without running the risk before the country of overthrowing the government on the issue of refusal to ratify the Mellon-Berenger accord.

Premier Poincaré and M. Tardieu succeeded in convincing Deputy Dornmann that he was being used as a pawn in a game of internal politics directed against the government, and the war veteran "innocently" withdrew his interpretation.

Parliament adjourned until Tuesday with clearly defined divergences of opinion on ratification of the American debt settlement between the cabinet and the two most powerful committees of the chamber.

Premier Poincaré announced he was prepared to stake the life of the government on the question of confidence that reservations must be voted separately and also an unconditional ratification.

SCORE OF ISSUES UP TO HIGHEST MARKS Market Encounters Profit Taking But Business Operations Continue Active

MARKETS AT A GLANCE NEW YORK, July 5.—Stocks: Strong; United States Steel leads 200. Bonds: Steady; standard and convertibles improve. Cattle: Irregular; mutton weak. Foreign exchange: Steady. Japanese yen 1.33 cent. Cotton: Lower; private profit crop and weather. Sugar: Steady; European demand. Coffee: Advanced; Brazilian buying.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER. (Associated Press Financial Writer) NEW YORK, July 5.—The stock market encountered heavy profit-taking today but bullish operations were continued in several sections of the list, and more than a score of issues were again taken into new high territory. The day's transactions fell below 4,000,000 shares for the first full session since last Friday. The Associated Press price indices of 50 leading industrials and 20 rails, however, were again raised to new record levels. Traders were inclined to caution, recalling that four times this year price indices have been carried to new high ground, only to fall back sharply. It was also felt that the technical position of the market had been weakened by the persistent advances of recent sessions. Call money held at 7 per cent all day compared to renewals of 12 per cent and a closing rate of 6 on Wednesday. Sentiment regarding credit has turned rather more cheerful than for several months past. While it is indicated that the return of the July checks for payment may hold money firm for a few days more, more stable conditions are expected for the rest of the summer.

Loans Increase The Federal reserve weekly brokerage loan compilation, released after the close of the market, showed one of the largest gains since this compilation has been kept, amounting to $227,000,000, which carried the total to $576,000,000, with $24,000,000 of the record total reached on March 20.

This showing was not surprising, in view of the rise of more than 400,000,000 in the reserve since the $100,000,000,000,000,000 in stock exchange member loans during June. Traders generally are not inclined, for the present, to identify the rise in the amount of the past, as the Federal reserve is not expected to take further action to tighten credit with the crop moving season in the offing. The day's news was generally favorable, including several pleasing sales reports. The lack of $3,000,000 in gold in London and further, and the rise in grain prices. The weekly business and trade reviews reported that the seasonal summer recession was still extensively in evidence.

Steel Moves Up A feature of the day's trading was the achieving of the 200 mark by United States Steel, marking the first time this stock, traditionally known as the bell wether of the list, has become eligible for the "double century club" The stock closed 197 1/2, however, up but about a point.

Auto and National Biscuit rose 1/2 and about 15 points to new peaks, and Alcoa advanced nearly 8 points to 100 1/2, up 100 at 30, but closed at 34. Westinghouse electric also reached record territory, only to react.

Motorists were supported more strongly than for several weeks. Chrysler selling up more than 4 points and Nash making a similar gain. Western Union electric jumped nearly 8 points in response to rumors of favorable dividend developments, and Simmons jumped 6 points to equal its previous high of 115 1/2 points. Other notable advances were made by American Cyanamid, which advanced 5 points to 100 1/2, and American Cyanamid, which advanced 5 points to 100 1/2.

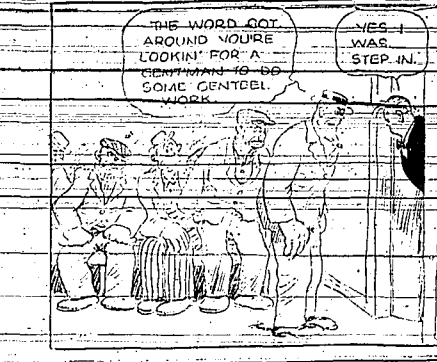

Foreign exchanges were steady, sterling gold holding at $48 1/2. The Twin Falls market yesterday was as follows: Livestock Light Butcher $17.50 Heavy Butcher $18.50 Hogs $19.00 Cows $20.00 Steers $21.00

POTATO FLOUR MILL PLAN FOR BURLEY FINDS FAVOR

BURLEY, July 5.—(Special to The News)—Meetings held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings by potato growers of the Burley County project here seem to indicate that the proposal of the Idaho corporation to erect a potato flour mill in Burley will be favorably acted upon. The plan is to erect a mill which will supply the factory with cut and low grade potatoes for two years, taking in payment therefor 7 per cent preferred stock. The price paid is to be determined by the market price of the tubers at the time of delivery. It is asserted that one unit, or tower, will be erected here in time to transfer this year's crop. Each tower has a capacity of 27,000 lbs. a month. It is also stated by the management of the corporation that they propose to expand operations.

WHAT'S HAPPENED? I'VE TOSSED THE REST OF THESE POC-OLOGS OUT ON THEIR EARS—HOW'S THAT FOR A REFERENCE?

Victor Porle, his thin hands clasping the bulge of his glass, looked at the guest... "What did you do?" "What strange fate made you a million of Ardington? Did no one ever whisper to you that it was dangerous to cross the will of such men as Solomon Grant and myself?"

"Considering that I have only just become aware of your existence," Martin observed, "I am not sure that I should be troubled with any such silly idea."

"Spoken with British common sense," Victor Porle assented. "Can you accept, then, Solomon Grant's plan? It will have the air of studying me, on my life."

"What are you going to do about this?" "What a blunt, what a thoroughly Saxon question! How could you expect this I should tell you, young man? You have no right to ask me such a question."

"I am in a strange mood," Victor Porle acquiesced, "because I am magnificent ly drunk. Son-in-law, drink more of this."

"You are not so drunk as you seem to be," Martin said. "You are not so drunk as you seem to be."

What could happen which would harm also the other? Laurita's head felt safer here in London than in the country. They can do us no harm. Lord Ardington made a great effort to me, pointing out the conditions of my guest and suggested his removal by a commissioner. That, of course, we could not permit. My friend, Solomon Grant, and I escorted the young man to a taxicab and drove him to his room. The address of which we were able to learn from him after some difficulty.

There was a moment's silence, broken on this occasion by Lord Ardington. "Did you say that you were staying in the Milan?" "Yes, I am. I am staying at the Milan, which in its way may be a cosmopolitan hotel, but where very strict surveillance is kept by the guards. To have a taxicab with a drunken companion would have been an indiscretion on our part. I considered that we did better to take the young man to his own apartments. Which he never reached," Blanche observed.
