BORAH APPROVES OF FOREIGN CRITICISM AND TARIFF CHANGES

Idaho's Senior-Solon Declares "Utter Disregard of Pledges of Republican Party" on Revision

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, July 11.—Commenting on the protests received from foreign governments on the pending tariff bill, Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee today declared "the real kick against the house tariff bill is not with our own people and not with those people abroad."

"I do not think that in all the history of tariff legislation," Senator Borah said in a statement, "there has been any one time when the pledges of a party as incorporated in the house tariff bill, when we take into consideration the various and the combines which are being formed with reference to everything which goes into one's stomach and into his pocket, are more diligent as to what is happening."

HOOPER DISCUSSES TARIFF

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Tariff was discussed by President Hoover today with senate Republican leaders, who subsequently asserted the conviction that the adequate tariff measure applied to raise revenue.

This development appeared later in a report before a senate finance sub-committee, later by leading automobile manufacturers of a willingness to pay an increase in the existing 25 per cent duty on passenger cars, providing the present countervailing tariff provision is retained. A Ford company representative said Edsel Ford was for free trade in all his products, and that Hoover's views on the tariff remained undisclosed.

The Indiana senator asserted after the conference that the standard of "adequate protection" was the rule to be used in adjusting rates. No definition of "adequate protection" was given, but Hoover's view is that the tariff duties would have to be lowered, but he did not specify.

HOOPER REPEATEDLY REFERS TO DEATH

Mr. Lynch was at Lemmon's side when he was shot and she caught his body and carried it to the street. She was much distressed.

MOON HELD GUN

After the shooting last evening of Lemmon for the shooting of Mrs. Lynch, the following account is given by Mr. Lynch.

MURDERER TRIED TO ESCAPE

After the shooting last evening of Lemmon for the shooting of Mrs. Lynch, the following account is given by Mr. Lynch.

LEMON DIED INSTANTLY

Jack Lemmon, 65, sheepherder, is dead, and D. T. Moon, 76, pioneer Twin Falls resident, is in jail awaiting trial on a charge of murder, following a shooting in front of Moon's residence, 461 Third avenue west, at 5:45 o'clock last evening.

INVESTIGATION INDICATED

That there had been trouble between the two men for some time, but the exact nature of the trouble remained obscure last evening.

MOON OFFICERS SAID

That he shot Lemmon and threatened to shoot him again. Moon said, in addition, the officers said, that he would have more to tell at the trial.

FATHER OF 11 CHILDREN

Moon's father, 64-year-old John, had lived here since 1863, coming here from Missouri. He is owner of a number of "cottage" houses near his residence.

LEMMON HAD BOARD LODGING

For three years at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lynch, 439 Third avenue west, one house removed from Moon's residence. He had no relatives in town.

HE HAD THREE CHILDREN

Of whom is Charlie Barton, Oakland, and the other two are dead. Lemmon was shot on the morning of July 11 at 5:45 o'clock. It was reported that the bullet had entered the door of the house.

THE ONLY SHOOTING LAST EVENING

Of a Twin Falls shooting was that of Mrs. Lynch.

Two California Airmen Fly Continuously for 23 1/2 Hours and Demand More Gasoline

L. W. Mendell and R. B. Reinhart Cover 18,000 Miles and Engine Still Delivers Power Smoothly

(By The Associated Press) CULVER CITY, Calif., (Friday Morning) July 12.—The Angeleno reeled off its two-hour and thirty-three-minute record-breaking plane voyage over the airport. Chief Pilot L. W. Mendell-dropped three white flares, signaling that all was well.

A promise that another night would be spent in the air despite the development of a little noise in the motor early in the day, was made by the fliers. As no further reports were made of it upon completion of the, the tenth full day of flying, it appeared that the condition either really was "not bad" or that it had been cured.

FLOOD THREATENING SMALL KANSAS CITY

Stream Rises Four Inches in Hour; Merchants Move Stocks From Main Stores

TOPEKA, Kan., July 11.—A report from Sterling late tonight said, Cow Creek had broken over its banks and was flooding the city. The stream was reported to have risen four inches in an hour, flooding the main street. Merchants were moving their stocks from downtown stores.

Near cloudbursts and heavy rains falling over a wide area in central Kansas today had swollen creeks and rivers to overflowing for the second time within the last 48 hours, endangering lives and causing considerable damage to growing crops.

While the waters were receding at some points, others had been officially warned of impending overflows for the next few days. Clearing and broken dikes over most of the arid area late today brought hope to refugees who had fled their homes and farmers anxious to continue their harvesting operations.

Don Moe and Gilbert Carter Advance to Golf Semi-Finals

Oregon Youth and Missourian Battle For Higher Honors

University Student—Wages Uphill Fight Following Erratic Period; Obscure Entrant Forges to Front

By J. H. ANDERSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
KANSAS CITY, July 11—The congenous uphill battle of Don Moe, Portland, Oregon youth, to gain the semi-final round and the rise from comparative obscurity of Gilbert Carter, Nevada, Missourian, to fight his way into the semi-finals were outstanding events today at the thirtieth annual western amateur golf tournament.

Four down at end of the morning 18 holes to Gary L. Bales, Jr., Kansas City, the University of Oregon sophomore was as steady in the afternoon as he was erratic in the morning and won four holes to end the match on the thirty-third green, 4 and 3.

Carter won 2 and 1 from Lawrence Muller, Quincy, Illinois. Muller was semi-finalist last year in the western amateur and semi-finalist this year at the trans-Mississippi while Carter came into the tournament virtually unheard of and was given no consideration until he battled Muller to the thirty-fifth green to take today's match.

John Lehman, Gary, Indiana, was forced to go to the thirty-sixth green to win 1 up from A. L. (Gus) Novotny, Chicago. Novotny was runner up in the last year's tournament to Frank Dolt, Portland, Oregon, who is not defending his crown. Lehman was Big Ten golf champion from Purdue in 1928.

Art Seel, 33-year-old Chicago golf writer, gained the next to the last round by an overwhelming 8 and 7 victory over H. J. Kaiser, Racine, Wisconsin. Kaiser was playing his first big tournament.

Triple Play Fails To Keep Boston From 15-8 Victory

Red Sox Score 10 Times in Six Innings On Eight Hits and Three Passes Allowed by Hurlers For Detroit

(By The Associated Press)
DETROIT, July 11—With a triple play and an unexpected double play to keep the game interesting, and 23 runs and three errors to make it amusing, the Boston Red Sox won their eighth game of the season, 15 to 8, over the Detroit Tigers today.

The Sox scored 10 times in the sixth inning, brought in three runs.

The third inning, Barry tripped and Narkley walked. Barry then lined to Billings and both base runners were caught by the play. Billings to Alexander to McManis. Alexander's error was the unexpected double hitting in the sixth when Alexander lined to Billings and Narkley was caught off first.

16,000 TOURISTS IN TWIN FALLS DURING TWO MONTHS PERIOD

Travellers Come From All Sections of Country; Many Remain to Look Over Region and See Scenic Spots

About 16,000 persons have camped in the four tourist parks of Twin Falls in the last 60 days, since overland travel began regularly...

The totals were arrived at by allowing four percent for each estimated registration, a figure that was considered somewhat below the average.

For the previous month the figures were estimated from 1200 station points at the rate of about 2000 for the Wegener park, 1000 for the City park, 400 for the Shell and 700 each for the Shell and the Twin Falls parks.

The estimates given do not include the tourists who register at the hotels in this city, or who arrive through without stopping.

All who stop at the parks make some purchases in the way of supplies and merchandise before proceeding on their way.

New Tourist Park to Open On Kimberly Road

On or before July 20, the White City tourist park now under course of construction by W. B. Hoag, on the Kimberly road, at a cost of $8000, will be ready to take part in furnishing accommodations to the large and growing tourist travel that comes through Twin Falls along the Oregon Trail.

The name of the park is suggested by the painting of the cabins—with orange roofs. The general plan, including the layout of the building, is based on the outline of the Utah tourist park in Salt Lake City.

ACCUSED MAN IN JAIL AFTER LONG SEARCH

R. E. White, Wanted Nave For Embezzlement and Abandonment, in Nevada

Two years search for Robert Francis White, 28, wanted here on charges of embezzlement and abandonment of his wife and two little children, has ended with his capture in Nevada.

White was accused of embezzlement from the White Star laundry here by E. F. Prater, Twin Falls county sheriff, last evening.

White's wife and children are still in Twin Falls, and was taken at the sheriff's office.

When he left here, according to the officers, White was accompanied by a 19-year-old girl and it is considered probable that charges of violating the Mann act may be lodged against him by federal authorities.

In the meantime, preparations were being forward to arrange for transportation for White from Elko to Twin Falls.

POTATO MEN DELAY BUREAU AFFILIATION

Growers and Shippers Decide to Postpone Action Pending Additional Study

By a vote of eight to two, it was decided by a meeting of potato-growers and shippers held last evening at the headquarters of the chamber of commerce, that the question of the advisability of affiliation with the Idaho Potato Bureau had not been sufficiently considered to take any action, or make any recommendation on the part of those present.

The matter was presented by W. L. Harvey, Denver, secretary of the central western agricultural council of the shippers' advisory board, and by O. J. Carlson, Idaho Falls, Utah, Idaho state representative of the National Potato Institute. The speakers declared the objects of organization to include stabilization of industry, standardization of production and promotion of better business methods in handling the crop.

Farmers Prepare for Boulder Dam's Population Boost

DAIRYMEN EXPECTING LARGE INCREASES IN NUMBER OF ANIMALS

Poultrymen of Muddy and Virgin Valleys Planning to Enlarge Flocks to Take Care of Bigger Egg-Mark

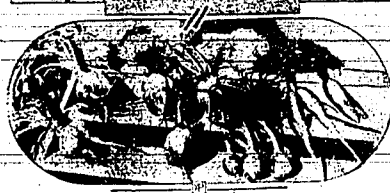

By FRANK I. WELLER (Associated Press Farm Editor) WASHINGTON, July 11

Prospects of a suddenly increased population to feed when the government starts construction of Boulder dam, California and Nevada to preparations for increased production.

The giant wedge of concrete will be driven between the canyon walls of the Colorado river near Las Vegas, Nevada, and dairymen in the Virgin and Pahranagat valleys anticipate an increase of 500 cows in their herds within three to five years.

Poultrymen in the Muddy and Virgin valleys plan to enlarge their flocks for the egg market, while those in the Pahranagat valley are getting ready to supply the great demand of the new population. Eventually there is expected to be a market in Las Vegas for eggs from 20,000 laying hens and for meat chickens from an equal number of heavy breeds.

Two hundred miles farther down the river, farmers around Yuma, Arizona, and in the vast Imperial Valley of California are preparing to expand their production of fruits and vegetables. They, too, practice dairying and supply poultry products in a limited degree.

Cultivating young vineyard (above) reclaimed from waste land that once covered the Imperial Valley of California and the Arizona area; soon to be further irrigated as a result of Boulder dam. Type of vegetables produced in the Imperial Valley (below).

Boulder dam, with its great reservoir of water, is expected to add 1,400,000 acres of irrigable land to the Imperial Valley and to Arizona developments. A. T. Strahorn, who has had wide experience with western soils, has been detailed by the federal bureau of reclamation of the interior a report on the land capable of being brought into production with water from Boulder dam. He is scheduled to start his survey September 1.

Record Claim For Cow In Wisconsin

NEENAH, Wis., July 11—A world's record for yearly milk and butter production is claimed for Wisconsin Mandy Henderson, 688-440 on the Holstein record books, owned by Edith Hughes, farmer near here.

With 552 pounds of butter made from 20,165 pounds of milk, Mandy is thought to have exceeded the record of 700 pounds of butter from 18,074 pounds of milk, made by Chesney Paterberg, No. 678,004, in the Junior four-year old class C of the yearly contest division.

The record becomes official only after being checked by the Holstein-Friesian association of America.

Hughes has the cow in a herd of 25 purebred animals of which more than half are half-sisters to Mandy, and the remainder of the same strain. The foundation of the Hughes herd is Mandy's dam, Piebe Unedea Parthena, 307,853, bred in Appleton, Wis.

This cow also had a good showing on the seven-day test.

Corncob Producing New "Farm Relief"

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 11 (AP)—Relief without benefit of Congress is promised southern Illinois farmers who produce bigger and better corncocks. They should be at least 1-3/4 inches in diameter.

Plant is the site used in making corncock pipes, and manufacturers of the Missouri "meerschbaum" look to southern Illinois for raw material.

Nearly five percent of all the corncock pipes produced in the United States are made at Washington and Union, Missouri. Special strains of corn have been developed for the trade.

Alabama Hen Lays Egg Worth Cackling About

MONTGOMERY, Ala., July 11 (AP)—A White Wyandotte hen belonging to E. C. Armstrong, Montgomery poultry raiser, has set a mark for contemporaries to shoot at.

Curious at a prolonged setting, Armstrong routed the hen from her nest to find an enormous egg—twice the weight and size of a normal hen egg.

Breaking it, he discovered another completely formed egg on the inside. The outer egg was perfect in every respect except that the yolk was missing.

The inner egg had a shell of dark color, but was none the less firm. It contained a yolk.

Potential Mineral Tax Relieves Texas Farmer

WHARTON, Texas, July 11 (AP)—Potential mineral wealth under his neighbor's land may bring to the Texas farmer that relief he has sought for remedynights tax burden.

Wharton county has led the state in upholding the attorney general's department in a decision declaring that potential mineral resources are rich in sulphur and other mineral deposits.

The potential wealth of one suburban company in Wharton county was traced at $120,000,000. The relief that valuation would afford other property owners is apparent when it is considered that the total county valuation for tax purposes last year was less than $20,000,000.

American Predicts Sea Disasters Will Be Ended By New Regulation

By A. B. McCOMB
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

PARIS, July 11.—(Special)—Disasters at sea, as the Titanic and Vestris horrors will be made impossible in the future, it was predicted in Paris by Captain Charles Albert McAllister, president of the American Bureau of Shipping, on his arrival here after attending the International Conference on Safety at Sea in London.

Captain McAllister explained some hitherto unknown results of the conference and asserted that almost every conceivable element of danger at sea, for passengers on large ships, can be eliminated.

"When the treaty that the conference has drawn up has been put into effect, it will be virtually impossible for a trans-Atlantic liner to sink," he said. "Under the new regulations, which will almost certainly be adopted by the chief maritime powers, the hull of every ship will be divided into watertight compartments in such a manner that, if any two compartments leak or are saved in the vessel will continue to float."

Under the new regulations, the new rule which creates an international standard code for the helmsman's orders. Heretofore, the helmsman's orders have differed widely in various countries, and this has led to confusion and often to serious accidents in the case of vessels being taken into foreign ports by foreign pilots.

Until the present, Captain McAllister added, there has been no uniform, enforceable law which forestalls ships to be adequately provided with lifeboats and life saving apparatus.

"When the Titanic sank she was equipped with lifeboats sufficient for only three-quarters of her passengers," he continued. "Every ship must be equipped with not only sufficient seats in the lifeboats for everybody on board, but there must also be a 25 per cent additional amount of floating material as rafts and life-rafts."

Further measures agreed to at the meeting were: Continued careful iceber patrol of the Grand Banks by the United States coast guard, the expense to be divided among signatory powers.

Radio apparatus on all ships of more than 1000 tons. Alarm detectors on all ships of more than 500 tons, which will enable the ship to pick up S O S calls and broadcast the alarm.

Patent Chute to Drop Sacks From Mail Plane

KANSAS CITY, July 11.—A parachute designed to meet the government's needs for landing mail from airplanes has been perfected and patented by Andrew Reed and W. C. Turner, Kansas City.

Their chute consists of an aluminum frame 18 inches in diameter across the top of which a timing device is attached. A metal cup in the center of the frame holds the strings and lower end of a small parachute.

The contraption may be released from any height with the timer set to allow time for the load to clear the plane. The moment it is loose, the timer opens and releases the load. As many as 20 of these parachutes may be stacked in a single plane.

No need to cream this shortening — it's ALREADY creamed

Just imagine making cake with most of the work of creaming your shortening and sugar together already done for you!

For Snowdrift comes to you already creamed—and stays creamy. It's whipped up light and fluffy until it has almost the texture of whipped cream and then packed in air-tight cans. Just a few stirs of the spoon will mix it thoroughly into your sugar—and the mixture is in your oven in no time at all.

Snowdrift is now sold in new convenient three pound and six pound sizes—about as wide as they are tall so that you can scoop up the very last spoonful without rubbing your knuckles against the edge of the can. A new, fresh, inviting package too—decidedly modern in design. You can't help seeing these new Snowdrift cans on your grocer's shelf.

Cry of "Poison" Cue For French Officers

MARSEILLES, July 11 (AP)—If anyone in a restaurant in this city suddenly calls his eyes and throat are poisoned, the proprietor locks the doors and calls the gendarmes.

Six times in one week the thing happened in Marseilles restaurants and hotels and restaurant owners have decided that it is just a new way to eat without paying.

The system was for one man, in a crowded restaurant, to suddenly throw up his hands and shout he was poisoned. Amid the general uproar the man's friends rushed in, without paying their checks and the sick man either escaped himself or quickly recovered in the nearest hospital.

ART POTTERY SPURS REVIVAL OF CRAFT IN NORTH CAROLINA

HISTORIC INDUSTRY, WITH QUIANT TOOLS, THRIVES ONCE MORE

Equipment Similar to That in Use 6000 Years Ago Plays Part in Manufacturing Near Pinehurst

By The Associated Press. PINEHURST, N. C., July 11.—Pottery, one of the first industries of American colonial days, is being revived in this vicinity with the type of quaint equipment used by potters 6000 years ago.

Buried in the Sandhills section of North Carolina, not far from this resort city, is the center of a small but thriving industry which is perhaps the most unusual in the country.

Equipment is practically the same as that depicted in a painting found by excavators on the walls of ancient Thebes, which flourished 6000 years before Christ. The painting showed a potter at his wheel, and near the city excavators found the remains of a kiln. The same type of foot-propelled wheel and the same type of kiln revealed in the Thebes excavations is in use in the potter colony of North Carolina.

Early Industry Pottery was an industry which sprung up naturally here. In 1750 settlers from near Staffordshire, England, landed at the port of Wilmington and came through the pine forest of the coastal plains to the western edge of the royal grants, which had preempted all the land for 150 miles from the coast.

As Staffordshire was in that day, as it is today, the center of the British pottery industry, it was natural that the colonists should bring the love and the experience of pottery-making with them. The industry had a humble beginning, as the demand for pottery was not great, owing to limited number of consumers. It grew as the population increased, however, and by 1861 whisky distilling had become a rather big busness. The potters gave most of their time to the making of "little brown jugs," and by 1800, the year in which North Carolina passed her prohibition law, the number of potteries had grown to more than 100.

Law Causes Decline The enforcement of the law had the effect of gradually killing the pottery industry. Enamelled and aluminum kitchen ware had by this time replaced the old fashioned crockery. Gradually the older generation of potters died, and today not many remain who have had much experience at the wheel. A few years ago Jacques Busber, a Raleigh, North Carolina, artist noticed some of the work of one of the potters still operating and conceived the idea of reviving the industry along art-pottery lines. Old colonial bowls, jars, candle sticks and crocks were reproduced and their artistic value immediately attracted attention on markets in New York and other large cities. And now the potters' wheels are spinning again in the North Carolina sandhills and Hickory sections. The south as a whole has increased its interest in ceramics and the art of pottery is taught at most southern schools, especially the technical colleges.

Cow Testing Cheap For Lone Star State Farmer

MURKOCK, Texas, July 11.—One of the country's cheapest cow-testing rates is claimed by the newly organized West Texas Cow Testing by Mail association. Its members pay $2.75 a year plus $1 for each head tested.

Testing is done by the dairy products department of Texas Technological college. Membership fees cover the cost of mailing containers, sample dips, record slip and instructions.

Members will send records of tests to the laboratory once a month. At the end of the year a complete record of each cow's production will be sent to its owner.

Three Peas Developing Million Dollar Variety

GREENVILLE, Mich., July 11.—From three peculiar looking peas sown out of two quarts of Swedish vetch seed six years ago Dr. William Hansen, local veterinarian and farmer, has developed what he styles a "million dollar" variety of field pea.

He now has nine bushels of seed, some of which is to be used in varietal tests and the rest distributed to farmers for propagation.

Many vines in the 1928 crop measured six to 12 feet in length. After making a 12-inch growth, the plants fall over and puncture the ground, scattering the seed nodules as far as 10-cent pieces. Cross-Breeding Brings New Type of Poultry

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 11.—Cross breeding of Leghorns and Brahmas to produce a line of poultry with the best qualities of each is progressing favorably, under the direction of Dr. John C. Weidlin, professor of bacteriology, animal breeding and pathology at the Rhode Island State college experiment station.

The Leghorn is light in weight and a high producer of eggs. The Brahama is very heavy and a comparatively low egg producer. The experiment of cross-breeding was begun five years ago and since then, Dr. Weidlin reports, a strain possessing the desired qualities of both has been obtained.

Dr. Weidlin points out, however, that it will take some time to fix the strain.

AMPLE WARMTH AIDS SOUTH IDAHO'S CROPS

Abundant Sunshine During Week Benefits Districts With Sufficient Moisture

BOISE, July 11 (Special to The News)—Continued warm weather during the week ending July 9 resulted in rapid growth of crops in southern Idaho, according to the summary of weather and crop conditions issued by Clinton F. Norquest, meteorologist in charge of the State department of agriculture weather bureau.

The summary includes the following statements:

SOUTHWEST IDAHO: A week of abundant sunshine and ample warmth. In the irrigated sections and in the dry farm districts where there is still sufficient soil moisture to support rapid growth, all crops made rapid advancement. Hayling went ahead rapidly under exceptional favorable conditions. Apples and peaches are taking on size rapidly and prospects for good yields are excellent. Grapes and truck crops are doing well. Pastures and ranges still afford abundant feed and sheep are thriving generally. Cherry harvest is in full swing with a large crop of excellent quality fruit being secured in the condition.

SOUTHEAST IDAHO: Warm weather prevailed during the week with good sunshine. All crops are making good growth. The first cutting of alfalfa is about completed in the southern sections and the second crop is beginning. Winter wheat is fair to good and is beginning to head. Spring grains are doing well. Peas are in bloom and beginning to set. Beets are making good growth. Potatoes are starting well in all sections. Cattle and sheep are in good condition.

Field Notes: SAGE—First and only crop of alfalfa mostly cut; lack of water is felt very much; constant winds taking much moisture from the soil; sufficient sunshine to make crops grow where there is enough water for irrigation.

POCATELLO: The week was warm and dry with plenty of sunshine. First cutting of alfalfa nearly complete; second crop starting well; potatoes doing fairly well; beets making good growth; wheat and oats doing well; range good; cattle and sheep doing well.

YOUNG PEOPLE ATTEND WOOD RIVER MEETINGS

HAILEY, July 11—Epworth Leaders are in the midst of their annual Institute at the Methodist campgrounds 12 miles north of Ketchikan. An important improvement since the last session is the building of Kendall hall, an auditorium with seating capacity for 400 persons. Speakers on the program from the head offices in Chicago are Dr. Roy Burt and Dr. H. H. Meyer. At Epworth Institute are holding their assembly. In addition to the devotional and educational work, they are enjoying the new swimming pool. Busy terms at the institute began their summer work and play on July 5.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. George have remodeled and decorated at the former home of Mrs. Mary Gray and are now settled in it as their home. George A. Rember has come to the Nelson station in British Columbia to investigate an offer for his services as mining engineer. Darlene Winney, Denver, and Patricia Parks, Portland, left for their homes Wednesday after closing their summer school here. They will return in the fall for the regular school year.

D. T. WILLIAMS HEAD OF BURLEY SCHOOL SYSTEM

BURLEY, July 11 (Special to The News)—D. T. Williams, now at Berkeley, California, has been selected superintendent of the Burley public schools. Mr. Williams is an honor graduate of the University of Utah and now holds a teaching fellowship at the University of California. He has been seven years a teacher in Idaho and Utah schools and six years a school superintendent. There are approximately 2000 school children in the new superintendent district, about 60 teachers and four school buildings. He succeeds W. W. Christensen, who resigned to take charge of the Carleton county school system in Utah.

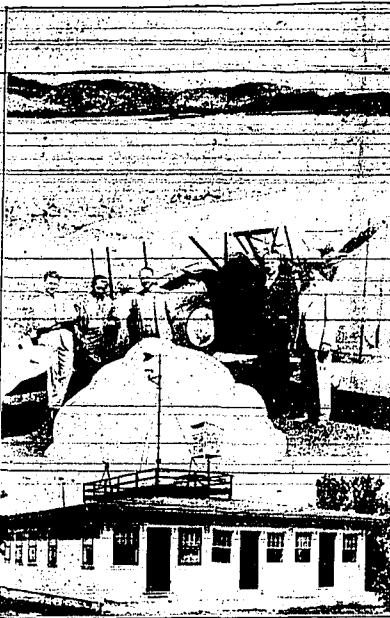

County Out to Kill All Wolves That Eat Sheep

WINCHESTER, Ky., July 11 (Special to The News)—A huge grey wolf that has menaced sheep on peaceful ranges in the foothills of the Cumberland mountains—the subject of a county-wide search of hundreds of men and dogs. For months the animal has been stalking through the hills and sheep raisers estimate the damage from the one beast has been at least $10,000. Wolves are something of a rarity in Kentucky, even in counties like Clark

Threatening Fire Causes Slight Damage at Burley

BURLEY, July 11 (Special to The News)—Fire of unknown origin which threatened destruction of the Pioneer alfalfa meal mill Wednesday morning, was extinguished before serious damage resulted. A pocket of burning meal, drawn from the mill into the elevators, became distributed throughout the building. The operating crew made good use of a small hose, and the prompt arrival of the fire department soon enabled them to net the blaze, under control.
