STRIKE OF 500,000 WORKERS IN BRITAIN CLOSES 1500 MILLS

Heart of Industrial England at Standstill Following 12 1/2 Per Cent Reductions in Salaries

(By The Associated Press) MANCHESTER, England, July 29.—Lancashire's great cotton industry was brought almost to a standstill today by a great stoppage of work caused by the enforcement of a 12 1/2 per cent wage reduction.

As yet there is no sign of a quick solution of the industrial dispute, which has threatened this country for weeks, and which now presents a more serious problem than any of its kind since the great strike of 1926 in England.

The situation is the result of continued discussion of the textile trade, which led to an announcement by employers in that the wage reduction would be made effective Saturday.

Another aspect of the stoppage is that, it is the season of the year, in Lancashire when the cotton workers on their annual "wakes" as their holidays are designated, and for this reason some observers say the stoppage probably is not averse to temporary stoppage of the mills.

The county of Lancashire in northwestern England, with the world famous fairs of Liverpool as its chief outlet, is the heart of industrial England.

It is a part of the industrial midlands which has been the center of the most devastated areas since the World war, because of unemployment and other causes.

GOODING COUNTY TAX CASE TO TEST LAW

District Court Upholds Validity of Statute Exempting Pumping Equipment

BOISE, July 29.—Judge Dana E. Brink of district court today upheld the validity of the state law exempting power pumping equipment used in irrigation and drainage and the plaintiffs.

The judge's ruling was to uphold the demurrer of the state board of equalization, which was made defendant in the suit.

1400 Persons Attend Dedication of Grand Teton National Park

ASHTON, Idaho, July 29.—The grand Teton national park, America's twenty-first national park, was dedicated today.

The ceremony, presided over by Governor Frank C. Emerson, Wyoming, were held at Spring Lake. Upward of 400 members of the National Editorial association and 1000 other visitors were in attendance.

Director Albright, in accepting the park, said: "In accepting this park from Governor Emerson I come into realization of a dream I have cherished for many years.

STATE WILL BEGIN BUILDING PROGRAM

Action Follows Payment of Total of $500,000 in Tax Anticipation Notes

BOISE, July 29.—With the half-million dollars in tax anticipation notes issued early this year now paid up, the department of public works prepared to get under way a comprehensive building and maintenance program.

The department ran into a severe bottleneck in the construction of extra heavy winter repair jobs, while considerable funds expected from the federal government were held up on technicalities.

At the beginning of the year the department drew up a program calling for use of about $1,000,000 federal aid, $200,000 gasoline tax and $500,000 funds from local agencies.

SOVIET GOVERNMENT CLAIMS WEALTH OF CZAR NICHOLAS, II

Russians Engage Counsel and Heirs Name Lawyers to Battle for Millions Left by Romanoff Family

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, July 29.—The Soviet government took steps today to lay claim to the millions reputed to have been left in this country by Czar Nicholas II, before his assassination in the Russian revolution.

Soviet government representatives have entered Charles Reem to represent them in the fight for the hidden millions, advancing the claim that any assets left in this country by the former czar are now government property.

Two other factions already are at work to secure the czar's wealth left by the late ruler—Grand Duchess Anastasia, who says she is the youngest daughter of the czar, and recognized members of the Romanoff family, who declare she isn't.

The woman who is trying to establish herself as the rightful heir to the Romanoff fortune is known as Mme. Tschakowsky. Her affairs are in the hands of Edward H. Feltows, former New York assemblyman, who now is in Europe in the interests of his client's claims.

Recognized descendants of the late czar have F. Dudley Kohler, serving as counsel for the public administration, to fight their legal battle in quest of their reported royal fortune.

Kohler has launched an inquiry of all banks, trust companies and individuals to report the existence of any funds belonging to the late czar's estate, which they may hold, conclusive evidence concerning the czar's American investments.

50 MEN BATTLE FLAMES IN GEM STATE FORESTS

BOISE, July 29.—Fifty rangers and recruits were still at work tonight on a fire along Chapman and Wolf creeks north of Laramie, in the Bitter national forest, which blazed up a week ago and has burned over 2000 acres.

Two men-made fires were discovered today and controlled after burning about an acre of heavy timber. One leaver herder was arrested and fined for leaving the fire that started one of them.

Any late blaze is exceedingly dangerous in the woods now, Supervisor Guy Mains said.

Fierce Mohammedan Raiders Murder 20,000 Chinese Men And Youths in Dangar City

Findley Andrews, American Missionary, Reports Massacre in Province of Chinghai With Details Reading Like Pages Torn From Worst Chapters of Medieval Persecution and Rape

(By The Associated Press) PEIPING, China, July 29.—Massacre by Mohammedans of 20,000 men and boys in Dangar City, Province of Chinghai, was reported today by Findley Andrews, American missionary, with details which read like pages torn from the worst chapters of medieval persecution and rape.

Andrews, who has just returned from a three-months' investigation in the famine areas of northern China for the China Inland Mission, assembled in formation from magistrates and other Chinese officials, reports to the international famine relief commission that Mohammedan raiders in the lapse of two hours annihilated the male inhabitants of the unhappy city and then looted the homes.

From within the missionary bureau, the raiders attacked the mountain town mounted and about, with the shouts: "Kill the men!"

"Kill every male from 17 to 70!" They rumbled the city gates in religious frenzy.

Only a few women were killed, mostly those who attempted to shield the men. The Chinese men, weakened by famine conditions and privation, could offer little resistance. So far as Andrews could ascertain, every able-bodied man was killed, while the aged and very young and a few who managed to hide in cellars, escaped.

Religious fanaticism was given as the motive for the raid by Andrews. There has been a violent rebellion in progress in Kansu province for some time, and it was estimated that 200,000 persons were killed.

Idaho Supreme Court Crier Dies Suddenly

BOISE, July 29.—George F. Kinney, 86, for the last 28 years crier and bailiff for the Idaho supreme court, died today after suffering heart prostration Sunday while visiting his farm at Melba.

Kinney, a civil war veteran, is survived by five sons, W. H. and T. J. Boise, J. C. Salem, Oregon, and Joe, Portland.

Nation Swelters and Weather Bureau Gives Little Hope of Relief

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The heat wave that grips almost the entire country is not expected by the weather bureau to abate materially tomorrow in the Washington forecast district which extends along the Atlantic seaboard and west as far as Ohio.

The mercury continued to hover above normal today, but without reaching record temperatures—Baltimore and Richmond were the two hottest cities with temperatures of 98, while Washington was credited with 95 degrees between 2 and 3 P. M.

The oppressive heat in the national capital today caused the closing of government departments housed in temporary structures and sent thousands of commuters who could be spared home in mid-afternoon.

GRAF ZEPPELIN WILL FLY AROUND WORLD

Dr. Hugo Eckener Sets Day for Departure From Germany For United States

NEW YORK, July 29.—An announcement outlining a tentative schedule for the projected round-the-world, eastward flight of the Graf Zeppelin today set the giant dirigible will depart from Lakehurst, New Jersey, on August 7 and will end its globe-circling journeying at the same place on August 29.

The tentative schedule, which was announced by those in charge of handling the ship at strategic points, calls for stops at Friedrichshafen, the Graf's base; Tokyo and Los Angeles.

The announcement said word had been received from F. W. von Meiser, American representative of the Graf, that the ship, which is now in Germany, would leave Friedrichshafen for Lakehurst Thursday.

Immediately on her arrival at the New Jersey field, announcements said, preparations for the world flight would begin.

TACOMA FLIER PREPARES AGAIN FOR OCEAN FLIGHT

TACOMA, July 29.—Harold Bromley's proposed stop flight from here to Tokyo will be made within two months, he declared here today after the flight-financing committee assured him of their support.

Bromley's $25,000 monoplane, City of Tacoma, was wrecked yesterday taking off for the Japanese capital. Gasoline from the capacity filled fuselage tank sprayed the pilots eyes, blinding him. The plane left the runway, became mired in the field, and overturned.

It was estimated it would cost $10,000 to $12,000 to build the new plane, using, where practicable parts, salvaged from the City of Tacoma.

Already much of the freight for the transatlantic crossing is stowed away in the big airship. It includes a Rubens painting, a grand piano, several suitcases, and a large quantity of the recent unsuccessful voyage, as well as a boat of the late Baron von Huenefeldt which was wrecked in the Pacific, which flew to America last year.

Word that the endurance plane at Minneapolis had crashed Monday morning, killing Captain P. J. Crichton and probably fatally injuring his companion, Owen Haughland, was sent up to the fliers with their breakfast. They were to be met by telegram, to be sent to Minneapolis.

"Please convey our heartfelt sympathies to the survivors," the fliers said.

Flood Menaces Little Town in North Arizona

HOBBSHOOK, Ark., July 29.—Residents of Hobbshook, a little town on the radio river, today were driven from their homes by flood water. The stream, which has been flowing torrentially, rains on the water level above the town two feet above the curb along at least one business street, damaging property.

Officials of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad said they expected the bridge across the river to hold. Yesterday high water washed out a 240-foot bridge on the railroad east of here. Residents said continued rains would bring a real menace to approximately 100 homes.

New York Fliers Die in Plunge Near St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, July 29.—George Lee Lambert, 22-year-old vice-president of the Von Hinderstein flying school, and Harold C. Jones, 18, a student flier, were killed today when a dual-control training airplane crashed in a pasture near Lambert-St. Louis field.

Lambert was a son of Major Albert Bond Lambert, veteran flying enthusiast and the official observer of the St. Louis Robin endurance flight.

High Court Gives Widow Industrial Compensation

BOISE, July 29.—The state supreme court today reversed the district court of Bonanza Ferry and ordered industrial compensation paid to the widow of Arthur Larson, who died following an injury received while working for the Blackwell Lumber company.

Larson died about 30 hours after he had complained that a job of lifting had caused him a severe pain in his back. The doctor said the widow's heart ailment had been increased by the lift, resulting in death.

The widow's suit had upheld the state settlement board in denying compensation for the death.

MOTOR OF ST. LOUIS FLIERS SHIP SHOWS SIGNS OF WEAKENING

Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine Alone in Skies When Death Eliminates Minneapolis Competitors

(By The Associated Press) ST. LOUIS, (Tuesday morning), July 30.—Only two hours and three hours in the air, but with the motor of the St. Louis Robin showing signs of weakening was the record of Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brine, co-pilot, at 1:17 o'clock this morning. It followed all other sustained flight records by two days and 15 hours, and the fliers were without competition since early yesterday morning, when Owen Haughland and Captain Preston L. Crichton fell to their death in Minneapolis.

As the 400-hour mark was approached, Major William J. Robertson, president of the Curtiss-Robertson company, sponsor of the endurance flight, approved a letter to the pilot to the fliers, this morning, instructing them to land, and the fliers were without competition since early yesterday morning, when Owen Haughland and Captain Preston L. Crichton fell to their death in Minneapolis.

"We are so anxious that you will have no trouble with your motor we are thinking that we may want to caution you about," the letter reads. "You may be unduly alarmed, but there are a lot of rumors about town and we are getting a good deal of trouble calling you down after 400 hours."

"We believe that the motor has proved conclusively satisfactory but we wanted to know, and would not want any trouble to mar your record. This is all news, and we are sure you will be able to make it through the 400 hours and there is still some time in the motor, no doubt in the next few days of three weeks, you would start up again to stay until they wore their motor out, and you would score your record."

Major Robertson also instructed them as to checking the motor and plane and advised to be very careful in flying the motor, and to be sure to check the fuel tank and to be sure to check the fuel tank and to be sure to check the fuel tank.

In concluding his letter, he said: "If, in your opinion, the plane and motor are in excellent condition, you may keep on as long as you see fit."

The pilot, who was flying a pair, accumulating at the rate of $16 an hour since they broke the record, amounted to $1600.

Word that the endurance plane at Minneapolis had crashed Monday morning, killing Captain P. J. Crichton and probably fatally injuring his companion, Owen Haughland, was sent up to the fliers with their breakfast. They were to be met by telegram, to be sent to Minneapolis.

"Please convey our heartfelt sympathies to the survivors," the fliers said.

QUIET REIGNS AGAIN OVER AUBURN PRISON

Governor of New York Demands Inquiry Into Cause of Riot in Penitentiary

AUBURN, N. Y., July 29.—Something approaching quiet and order has been restored at Auburn state prison tonight and following the state department of correction's attention to discovering to what extent outside aid was furnished to the 1700 convicts which were during the rioting in death to two convicts, wounding of four guards and destroying $500,000 worth of prison property.

The quiet reign was due to four convicts who escaped, Warden Edgar E. Jennings declared the revolver from which the first shot of the revolt was fired had been thrown into the prison outside. The trusty who used it, George Small, escaped.

Public Letter Governor Roosevelt today made public a letter he had written to Dr. Raymond C. Krieb state commissioner of correction, in which the latter definitely fix the responsibility for the revolt at Auburn prison and the similar occurrence last Monday at Clinton.

Peeling still ran high behind the prison walls today. Yells, booms and hisses greeted Warden Jennings when he visited the cell block.

The warden said there had been a restlessness and nervous tension among the convicts for some time and that they had been particularly restless since the inmates of Clinton prison, 200 convicts, were transferred to Auburn.

IDAHO MINING BOOM ON SAYS MACBETH

Shoshone, Bonner, Boundary, Idaho, Valley and Boise Counties Active

There is a mining boom on in Shoshone, Bonner, Boundary, Idaho Valley and Boise counties, said Raymond Macbeth, secretary of the Idaho Mining Association, who was in the city Monday on route to Boise.

The Coeur d'Alenes, Shoshone county, is the greatest mining district on earth, he said, for in this district a chance of wildcats and get a run for his money. Take the Drydock, for instance. One of the wildcat of wildcats, this stock was selling for 5 cents 21-2 years ago, and now it is worth $450. The Butchings was selling for 10 cents three years ago, and now it is worth $350, and the Golden which was selling for one cent one year ago is now worth $125.

In Bonner county, the Hewer at Lakeview has been taken over by the Consolidated of British Columbia, the largest lead-zinc-silver mine in the world. At Priest river, the Kamstra is installing a flotation plant. At Clark Fork, the Whitefield is operating its 100-ton flotation plant, and the Hope is shipping high grade silver-lead ore. The mine is a dozen smaller outfits working several men each, are prospecting the iron-capped ledges. In Boundary, the Hager is the largest and a number of other companies are engaged in development.

Prospectors Active

In Idaho, the building of the road beyond the Elk City summit, thus opening up the Elk City mining district, has resulted in over 600 prospectors pouring into the district, according to the Lewiston Tribune. In Valley county, the Yellow Pine Syncline is being developed. In Blaine, the Red Metals is installing a compressor. The Bunker Hill is operating its 250-ton plant. In Blaine, the Wood Basin, and the Profile-Tamarack.

Hydraulic

The Edwards-Copper and other companies are engaged in development work.

In Boise, the mining boom that commenced in the fall of 1927, continued during 1928, is expanding. Three companies are operating flotation plants. The Missouri is installing a plant, and the dredge of the Idaho Gold is working. In addition, the American Mines Development, the Gold Blinn, Haystack, the Edna and other companies are developing.

In Butte, the Wilbert and the Bagdad are running their mills; the Heald and the Jacobs properties have installed compressors. In Custer, the Mackay is operating its 250-ton plant and the Livingston is running its 250-ton plant, and both of these are shipping concentrate and high grade ore to the smelters. Also the Seaford, Grater Mines, Idaho Hermit and other properties are engaged in development work.

In Lemhi the Winder-Silliman, the Harmony and the Tendoy Copper are operating their flotation plants, and the Allie is shipping high grade silver-lead ore.

At the phosphate plant of the Anaconda-Copper, at Conda, in Caribou county, a model mining camp is being conducted. This company has built a model four-room houses with bathroom and kitchen; for its married employees, which it rents to them for $10 per month. Water is furnished free and lights average $1.50 per month. A community store is run by the company, and every six months all products are divided among those who purchased from the company during that time. When it was there, a dividend of 10 per cent was declared to the purchasers from January 1 to June 30, 1929.

Fierce Mohammedan Raiders Kill 20,000 Chinese Men and Boys

men were killed between April and October last year.

The raid on Dangar was described by Andrews as the most gruesome in the long history of Moslem outbreaks in China. It was not the most terrible in loss of life, however, for a Kiang Mooslem rebellion in 1877 is said to have cost 14,000,000 lives.

Andrews, in reporting to the international famine relief fund, said "Dangar presents a new type of problem. There are thousands of women there without husbands or brothers and in absolute despair."

By his account the Moslems made with a butcher of the male inhabitants because "if a Moslem kills 10 Chinese he will surely go to Paradise."

News from the relief fund stated that the Moslems were always messier because of lack of means of communication.

At the time the Mohammedans swooped down on Dangar, the city was filled to overflowing with starving refugees from other famine districts. The Moslems were trapped like rats, when the attack broke early in the morning, and never had a chance to fight for their lives.

UNDERGROUND RIVER IN TUNNEL AT BUHL

Canal Company Sappers Open Way For Escape of Torrent From Cavern

An underground body of water from which a stream one and a half feet deep and four feet wide was flowing last evening, was discovered Monday in a tunnel four and a half miles southeast of Buhl, Idaho, where sappers, managed for the canal company, reported on his return from a visit to the scene of the strike last evening.

The water, Mr. Hayes stated, is coming from a cavern at least five feet deep and more than 10 feet wide. The flow was estimated at approximately 10 second-feet, which is similar in volume to the flow from the South Park tunnel at Twin Falls, hereafter to be developed in the canal company's drainage operations.

Drains Into Creek

Water escaping through the Buhl tunnel is draining into Deep creek, which is only a short distance from the tunnel, through a jagged channel through which the subterranean river tumbled at times, filling the tunnel half full of water.

The opening was made approximately one-third of a mile from the tunnel. In the underground cavern, now the flow will be increased by lowering the floor of the tunnel, Mr. Hayes stated.

Two other tunnels, at approximately half a mile from the first, are being opened up respectively.

SUNFLOWER STORE OWNER BUYS HOME FOR BUSINESS

T. J. Lloyd announced last evening his purchase of the store building block at the corner of Main and Third street east, in which his Sunflower grocery and confectionery store has been located since 1916.

Purchase was made from Emily R. Cartwright, Oregon, Illinois, for $13,000 cash. It was announced.

Mr. Lloyd announced his purpose to make some improvements in the building.

Commission of One Word Changes Sense of Story

Omission of the word "hot" in a paragraph published Sunday made it appear that the commission 1740 eighth avenue east, and his son, Lewis Blimston, had been convicted respectively of disturbing the peace and of battery on the fact, on the contrary, was that the Blimstons, father and son, were found not guilty and the charges against them were dismissed by Judge C. MONTGOMERY WARD WILL GET NEW HOME

Washington Corporation to Construct $50,000 Building On Main Avenue East

A permanent home for Montgomery Ward and company store in Twin Falls will be provided by a two-story building, 50 by 125 feet, to be constructed on Main avenue east between Third and Fourth avenues at an estimated cost of $50,000. It was announced here last evening.

The building site has been purchased from H. C. Gettler following several weeks negotiations. It was disclosed that the structure is to be erected by the United States Properties, Incorporated, a Washington corporation, which, it is understood, will retain ownership of the property.

The building is to have full basement, and the plans provide for a sales balcony to extend over one-third the first floor. It will have a plate glass front with show windows eight feet deep, and two big window doors at the entrance. Quarters in the Elks building, corner of Shoshone street and Second avenue north, recently acquired under alternate lease effective last July 25, will be occupied by Montgomery Ward and company with a temporary store pending completion of the new building. It was announced.

FUNERALS

He studied chemistry in Germany, Austria and Russia, and in the process he learned the purpose and substance of many soaps. And, today, he holds many International Prizes and Gold Medals for beauty competitions. His wife is his close co-worker in the salon. And they both insist on the use of Palmolive Soap "to keep skin supple and toned up, to free it of the day's accumulated dust and make-up."

So do all the experts

In Paris, in London, in Madrid, in New York, one hears this same advice.

In America there are more than 16,500 experts who subscribe to it. And there are millions who use Palmolive for the bath as well, since it costs no more than ordinary soap.

Massage a smooth lather of Palmolive into the skin for two minutes. Rinse with warm water, then with cold. That's the world's most popular beauty treatment!

Use no soap but Palmolive in my salon because I have found that this is the one soap that I can rely on to cleanse the skin thoroughly and at the same time keep it supple and toned up.

American Turns to Tennis Youth for Hopes of Future

French Court Sees Climax of Tilden's Racquet Conquest

American Davis Cup Team of 1930 Will be Composed Entirely of Youthful Talent Say Officials

By ALAN J. GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor) NEW YORK, July 29.—(Galant old Bill Tilden has had his last fling in the Davis cup still open for France, and American now will turn to its tennis youth for future hopes of conquest. It can be said definitely now that the 1930 American Davis cup team will be composed entirely of youthful talent, its nucleus probably will be John Van Alsen and Wilmer Allison, world's champions in doubles right now, though they still face the national championships at Brookline as a final test for 1929.

Talk that a mistake was made in substituting George Lott for Frank Hunter in the singles brought the following reply from a spokesman in the official family today: "That's only guesswork. After losing in the first round, it is different strategy would have been successful. It cannot be proved, however, that Hunter would have done any better as a singles player. Lott lost a lead change against Borotra, but he put up a good fight in both singles matches and took a set from Cochet. Tilden was unable to do that.

"What we need now is to develop and give two new singles stars the place of Tilden. He has outlived the same authority. A few years ago, we had Tilden and Johnston, unimpeachable team of first-class. Now we have a team of first-class combination in Van Ryn and Johnston, but no first-class singles support. Our own national singles title has been won by a Frenchman for the third straight year. As for France, she has not much to worry about except to get tennis back to good health and in a mood to continue playing Davis cup tennis."

Motor of St. Louis. Fliers' Ship Shown Signs of Weakening

(Continued From Page One) ties to the relatives of Pilot Crichton and our hope for quick recovery of Pilot Haughland, who faithfully flew this ship in an attempt to set the world endurance record. We salute the pilot who was killed with all the best wishes we can have for the other.

Word of Haughland's death was received later. The Minneapolis plane had been aloft more than 154 hours when it fell near Billon, Dakota City, the only competitor of the Robin, was forced down at Houston, Texas, Saturday, after 253 hours in the air.

JINX RIDES AGAIN WITH FLIER AND AID

MINNEAPOLIS, July 29.—A jinx which spelled failure to his five previous attempts to establish an airplane endurance record rode again with Owen Haughland on the seventh day of his sixth attempt today, and brought death to him and his co-pilot, Captain Preston L. Crichton, Minneapolis.

Crichton died a few minutes after the endurance plane, the Miss Minnesota, went into a flat spin and crashed at 5:23 A. M. today, after it had been aloft 154 hours 43 minutes.

Haughland lived until 4 o'clock, but never regained consciousness. He suffered a skull fracture and internal injuries.

Motor trouble forced Haughland down on five previous occasions, but on his latest attempt he exceeded his best former record, which was 149 hours 32 minutes. He was confident that he would establish a new record this time, investing all his savings in the flight.

Everything is going fine, the fliers reported before the crash occurred. They were flying over the Red Sea and the Red Sea ship, Aca-High, later ship, the Miss Minnesota, prepared to take off. The endurance fliers had come down to within 200 feet of the ground. The plane side slipped, and Crichton's efforts to right the craft failed. The ship crashed on an automobile racing track encircling a polo field.

Captain Crichton, who was 35 years old last Friday, served in the forty-third observation squadron in France during the World war.

Haughland, 37, was from Buffalo, Minnesota.

The undercarriage of the Miss Minnesota was wrecked, and the bottom part of the fuselage was intact. The wings of the plane were wadded and the motor was seriously damaged before midnight of August 5th. Ask local agent for further details. adv

CITY TAX RATE FOR NEXT YEAR 30 MILLS TO RAISE $150,000

Council Holds Levy to Figure of Preceding 12 Months to Meet Requirements of Municipality

Twin Falls municipal tax levy for 1929 was fixed by the city council last evening at 30 cents on each $100 of assessed property valuation.

It is the same levy as was fixed for last year, and is expected to yield a revenue totaling approximately $150,000 more than $125,000, the amount of the deficit carried in the appropriation bill adopted last June 3.

Among the several municipal funds the levy adopted last evening is divided as follows:

General fund, 10; street lighting, .25; public library, .10; municipal band, .01-4; bond interest and sinking, .01-4. Total, 30.

Appropriation Bill The annual appropriation bill for the current year carried the following appropriations:

General fund, $138,632.73; street lighting, $4,000; public library, $10,000; municipal band, $1,000; bond interest and sinking, $93,851.

The tax levy adopted last evening is in addition to special levies for street sprinkling, paving, sewer tree spraying and similar purposes which are to be assessed against the property benefited by such improvements or betterment.

One of these special levies was brought to the attention of the council last evening when T. Sanderson, commissioner of streets, submitted the assessment roll for street sprinkling, totaling $10,000 for the current year.

The roll as submitted was approved by the council and will be certified to the county treasurer for collection with taxes due next December. Basis for the roll was the same as for last year, with assessment of 6 cents per front foot against property on paved streets in the business district, 5 cents per front foot against property on unpaved streets in the residential district, and 8 cents per front foot against property on earth or gravelled street.

Pays Bills Besides making these provisions for municipal revenues, the council last evening authorized issuance of bills totaling $206,498, including $469,988 premium on employer's liability insurance for the second half of this year, and $485 for a bookkeeping machine recently installed in the waterworks department office.

Two applications for builders' permits were approved, one submitted by the American Building Company for construction of a warehouse 32 by 25 feet, on the company's property at 115 Main avenue east, to cost $425, and the other submitted by J. A. Snelcher, 1112 Tenth avenue east, for remodeling at his residence involving estimated investment of $450.

UNIVERSITY TO ENTER RAMS AT FILER SALE

College of Agriculture at Moscow Will Send Stock to Wool Growers' Event

MOSCOW, July 29 (Special to The News)—Purebred sheep breeding flocks maintained by the University of Idaho college of agriculture will be represented in three of the western ram shows and sales this fall, announces Professor C. W. Hickman, head of the department of animal husbandry.

The Oregon ram show and sale at Pendleton, August 20, the college of agriculture will enter 10 Rambouillet yearling rams and a pen of five yearling Lincolns.

At last year's Oregon sale the Idaho college of agriculture entries established top prices. A yearling Rambouillet ram brought $350, and a pen of eight Rambouillet yearlings sold for an average of $185 apiece.

Four yearling Suffolk rams will be the university's contribution to the fourteenth annual national ram sale of the National Wool Growers' association at Salt Lake City, August 20 to 23.

GRIM REAPER CALLS MRS. H. M. HOLLER

Last Rites For Leader in Women's Organization to Be At Methodist Church

Last rites for Mrs. Olga E. Holler, wife of H. M. Holler, deceased of Twin Falls county since 1913, and an active member of Women's organizations, whose funeral occurred at her late residence at 100 Third avenue south at 6:45 P. M. Sunday evening, will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church here at 2:30 P. M. today.

A group of women friends will officiate. Wendell, former pastor of the Methodist church at Filer, of which Mrs. Holler was a member, and by Rev. Cecil Foster, pastor of the Twin Falls Methodist church. A Wilton Peck will sing a solo number, and other numbers will be sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. C. F. Foster, Mrs. F. T. Sillig, Dr. C. D. Weaver and J. E. White, with Mrs. C. H. Stinson at the organ.

The body will be carried to its final resting place in the Knights of Pythias plot in Twin Falls cemetery by pallbearers chosen from among intimate friends of the family. E. R. Sherman, R. E. Bobb, Hugh E. Leighton, T. J. Lloyd, Captain P. W. McRoberts and James L. Tappan. A group of women friends will be honorary pallbearers.

Primeval Rebekah lodge, Twin Falls, will conduct the service of the order at the graveside.

Immediately preceding the service in the church, the body will lie in state in the vestment chapel from 11:30 A. M. to 1:30 P. M. today.

On account of her own gracious personality and sterling character, as well as because of her church and lodge affiliations, Mrs. Holler was one of the most widely known and best beloved women of the community. Her death came after a long illness. She had been unconscious for some days before the end came.

Mrs. Holler was born in Keokuk county, Iowa, August 11, 1860. She was married in 1879 to Mr. Holler, and was the mother of seven children, one of whom died in infancy. Surviving children are Lawrence F. Holler, Filer; Mrs. Glendora M. Smith; Mrs. Mary L. Lohr, McAllen, Texas; Mrs. Harriett E. Brown, Twin Falls.

FAUSSETT CONQUERS
SNOOSHONI FALLS IN
"FOOTBALL" CANOE

Crowd of Approximately
5000 Persons in Snake
River Canyon Witnesses
Dare-Devil's Performance

While approximately 5000 persons occupying points of vantage on Snake river canyon walls looked on, Al Faussett, Monroe, Washington, canoed a three foot shaped canoe over Snohoni Falls, 212 feet high, late Sunday afternoon.

He emerged from the performance unharmed except for a broken right hand and a thorough shaking.

It was his seventh successful encounter during the last three years, with cataracts of Oregon, Washington and Idaho, and it was his highest ride.

It stamped him as the only person ever known to have passed over Snohoni's brink, and live.

Wooden framework inside the boat was shattered by impact with rocks at the base of the falls and on the way down.

The ride itself occupied less than five seconds. There was some delay caused by Faussett's decision to change his point of taking off to the south edge of the stream. Then the water was too shallow to float on, and actually, he was nudged over the brink by two men, Duncan Johnston, American Legion post adjutant, and James Weaver. Twice on the way to the brink the boat hung up on the rocky floor, once on the very verge of the precipice, and each time the two men carried it into the stream, pushed the little craft, with its rider buttoned up inside, further on, until finally it dipped over and plunged down over the perilous rock wall that was covered by only a spray of water.

One Strand of Wire

The ride was only partially controlled. A single strand of No. 12 galvanized wire, run tautly through a ring three inches in diameter, was used to deflect the boat's plunge away from a projecting rock and put hole in the center of the stream mid-way down the falls.

One end of this wire was wrapped about a great rock in mid-channel above the crest of the falls, and the other end was free, in the hands of Terry Prater.

In a boat at the base of the falls, who held it out and away from the crest of the falls. The wire was held in place that rock was passed in the plunge, and Otto Schwartz, in the boat below, snatched it with his bare hands, when Faussett's craft was taken in tow toward the river bank.

Another length of the same wire was attached to the boat with view to holding its bow out when it crashed into another projecting rock that could not be avoided.

The crowd of spectators including many persons who had come long distances began assembling early in the day, and many of them were out on the gray rocks that mark Shoshonis, during the summer season, or climbed out onto precarious points of vantage to witness the performance.

Three Grass Fires

A variation in the monotony of waiting throughout the long, hot afternoon was provided by three grass fires that menaced long lines of parked automobiles and were put out by strenuous efforts of traffic officers and Boy Scouts with water assistants.

More than 700 cars were parked on the lower flat next to the river, and between 400 and 500 were parked on a second bench midway between the river and the rim rock. So effectively did Ted Goehner, state traffic officer, and the American Legion traffic officers, traffic and parking perform its work that there was not even a scraping of fenders and within an hour after the performance was over the canyon was cleared of cars.

Although thousands of men, women and children were perched along the canyon walls throughout most of the afternoon, in precarious positions, there was not a single mishap.

Nearly 100 members of the American Legion engaged in sale and collection of tickets and direction of traffic, which was the Legion's part in the event, were assisted by national guardsmen, Twin Falls police officers, deputy sheriffs and Boy Scouts.

Receipts of the event, according to check made Monday, totaled $1460, of which Faussett received one-half, the other half going to the American Legion to be turned into its memorial fund.

The falls over which Faussett rode Sunday was not the great canyon that it was before demands for irrigation began to suck Snake river dry each summer season, but green, gray walls of rock over which a few little streams of water tumbled, marked the place. Snake river below Milner dam was dry.

The event would have been impossible but for the donation by the Idaho Power company of a part of the water stored back at its dam above the power plant. A half hour before Faussett set out on his plunge, the xate gates were opened to their fullest extent and a torrent was loosed over the brink of the falls. It was in this stream that Faussett launched his boat, and that carried him over the precipice. Operation of the power plant was discontinued during the time the water was pouring out of the waste gate, and other plants along Snake river were required to pick up and carry the load of electric current production.

A Roman writer claimed that a small artery connected the ring finger with the heart.
