ARIZONA POLICE ON TRAIL OF SLAYERS OF FORMER IDAHOAN

Paul E. Reynolds Shot During Labor On Case Involving High-Officials Federal Officers Report

(By The Associated Press) PHOENIX, Aug. 13.—United States deputy marshals, investigating the murder of Paul E. Reynolds, formerly of Boise, Idaho, department of justice agent, last late today they had located the man who declared he heard the shot fired which killed Reynolds, and that this witness also overheard a brief conversation between two of the suspected slayers immediately after the shooting.

"Don't hang onto him! Don't hang onto him! Turn him loose!" were the words the federal officers reported they heard. The latter's name was withheld, the officers being fearful of harm coming to him from the people. Coincident with the development in the case, the Phoenix police announced that they had established the identity of Reynolds' slayers. They predicted an arrest within a few hours.

It was disclosed today that Reynolds had been working on a case said to involve men high in Phoenix and Arizona affairs, and that the portfolio he carried contained records of his investigations.

The portfolio, which was missing with a letter to Reynolds' gun since Friday, today had been recovered by federal authorities.

An inquest into Reynolds' death and the slaying of two women employed in the federal building here and with whom the agent was known to have frequent contact, was held today.

Meanwhile, J. M. Keith, general inspector of the justice department, bureau of investigation, and S. W. Harbo, chief of the Phoenix office, left from Washington by airplane with United States District Attorney John Gentry to investigate the case.

Officers searched the banks of the canal for 15 miles, but found nothing to lead to the slaying.

Reynolds rented an automobile Friday, saying he was going swimming. No fee was taken from him, but he failed to return the car, as the rental agent said he often had kept cars for some time without paying.

He is survived by his widow and three children in Boise, Idaho, and a sister, Mrs. U. N. Terry, Twin Falls.

Dr. Eckener Speaks Time to Indulge in Social Relaxation With Sweden's King

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Aug. 13.—The preparations for the Graf Zeppelin flight to Tokyo, the second link in its round-the-world route, virtually completed for early Thursday morning, Dr. Hugo Eckener today found time to indulge in social relaxation which necessitated hobnobbing with royalty.

A beautiful Massachusetts summer chairman the Zeppelin's command was guest at a luncheon in which King Gustaf of Sweden was invited.

King Gustaf expressed his great admiration of the work for his audience of aviation.

Two men who will be exceedingly busy on the coming flight to Tokyo are Italy Operators Duke and Spindt, one of whose tasks will be to determine just what wireless stations can really be worked with during the trans-Asian flight.

During the Zeppelin's flight to America this problem was relatively simple in that the dirigible communicated with Norddeitch and Chatham. All they knew this time is that they will stick to Norddeitch as long as possible.

"We'll even try during the entire journey to reach Norddeitch during the night with short wave length," said Spindt, "as for the rest of the journey we'll try, as soon as possible to reach Tokyo by wireless but we will also try Mukden, Irkutsk and Shanghai and other stations as may respond.

There will be no changes made in the Zeppelin's wireless equipment which is considered adequate as can be expected (Continued on Page 2, Column 3)

Labor Supply Nearly Exhausted and All Available Forest Officials On Line in Two States

(By The Associated Press) MISSOULA, Aug. 13.—With flames raging over thousands of acres in western Montana and northern Idaho, the labor supply nearly exhausted and all available forest officials on the fire lines, the forest fire situation in the first district is considered extremely critical tonight.

Flames were leaping through the woods tonight at Hudson, 20 miles west of Missoula, and at Lohrhop, 10 miles further west, despite efforts of an army of men. Fires also are spreading in the Blackfoot valley, the Blitzen valley and across the Idaho line.

SMOOK-MURDER TRIAL HEARING CONCLUSION

Two of Closing Arguments Complete; Last-Minute Efforts Meet Defeats

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 13 (AP)—The first day of the case against Dr. James H. Sloop, confessed slayer of Thora K. Sloop, 34-year-old wife of the doctor, who was placed in the hands of the jury, tomorrow.

Two of the closing arguments were completed today—four-hour sessions presided by Judge W. C. Miller, and lasted for 40 minutes by the charge of trial judge Henry L. Scarlett, before the jury is sent to the deliberation chamber.

A last-minute effort for a directed verdict of acquittal on the ground the state had failed to prove the manner or means of the death of Miss Sloop was exercised unsuccessfully by Dr. Sloop's attorneys. Judge Scarlett overruled the motion.

The defense asked the court to render a verdict of a verdict that would carry the death penalty by striking out the charge of premeditation. They again were overruled.

The judicial conference, however, was left in doubt as to whether it will be held. Assistant Prosecutor Paul Hicks, who began the closing arguments for the state, held the confession up before the jury as the only statement of the defendant, notwithstanding the fact he repudiated almost every line of it to wit stand.

Hicks told Dr. Sloop took the young co-ed to the New York Central range on the night of June 13, quarreled with her, beat her mercilessly with a hammer when she repulsed him and finally mutilated her body with his penknife to make it appear a degenerate had committed the crime.

He was answered a short time later by Attorney E. O. Ricketts, who opened arguments for the defense.

The testimony of the doctor, himself, shows the relations he had with the girl at the time were suggested by Miss Hicks. She attempted to murder him and he resorted to the use of a hammer to protect his own life, declared Ricketts.

"The confession that was obtained from his defendant, even in the statement of what occurred on the night of the killing," he added, "it was obtained from him by the use of force, through the threats and coercion, and will charge you that if such is the case you must not consider it."

DR. SLOOP told the true story when he took the witness stand and described what he remembered of the killing. This is a case of manslaughter, even if it is determined the fact that he killed in self-defense.

When canal system that bore his name. Full Twin Falls county was created in March, 1907, Mr. Hansen was appointed by Governor Gooding as one of the commissioners of the new county, and later he served as deputy county auditor here, retiring about three years ago.

South Idaho's first check factory was built by Mr. Hansen on Cottonwood creek 50 years ago. The plant was destroyed by Indian raiders after it had been in operation only a short time, and it was never rebuilt.

John F. Hansen was the younger brother of the late Judge Lawrence Hansen, and shares with him the credit for substantial contributions to the early life and development of this region.

He was an active member of the Masonic order, and had served as an officer of Twin Falls chapter, Royal Arch Masons, and Twin Falls commandery, Knights Templar. Some years ago he transferred his membership to the Twin Falls lodge, A. F. and A. M., from the lodge at Albion, whose regular meetings at a certain phase of the moon he had attended regularly while a resident of Rock Creek as well as while he lived in Albion.

Play Leading Role
He played a leading part in the society of Seventy-Niners, composed of settlers who came to southern Idaho before 1879, which he helped to organize, and of which he was president for several years.

His widow, who was Miss Anne E. Peterson, who is believed to be southern Idaho's first white bride, to whom he was married at Rock Creek on September 2, 1877, survives, with four daughters and one son. Surviving daughters are Mrs. E. H. Hayes, Twin Falls; Mrs. Cassie Crockett, Rock Creek; Mrs. Bertha Bond, Loveland; Mrs. Ruth Kitch, Philadelphia. Henry Hansen, Rock Creek, is the surviving son. One daughter who was the wife of C. J. Donahoe, Twin Falls, and one son, Fred, who when a little boy, preceded the father in death.

Mr. Hansen retained almost to the hour of his death, a vivid and accurate recollection of the events in which he had played a part, and of the persons with whom he had associated in the pioneer days, and the later development of the region. He had collaborated with Charles B. Walscott, historian for the "Seventy-Niners" for many years, and contributed to the history of southern Idaho's early days, and only a week before his death he had set out to write his autobiography, which work was cut short by his decease.

During the last several years Mr. Hansen's physical condition was failing. He did not recover completely from several illnesses about three years ago. Late last spring he and Mrs. Hansen left their home in Twin Falls to live with the late Mrs. Hansen at Rock Creek. Early this month he came to the home of his daughter here as his condition steadily declined. He was unconscious for last several days and was unconscious for

MILLIONS OF ACRES MENACED BY FLAMES
SEATTLE, Aug. 13—Although millions of acres of timber were menaced by fires in the Pacific Northwest, armies of men were believed to be gaining the upper hand today and forest protection officials reported the situation as showing signs of improvement.

Reports brought news of the second death in a week due to Northern forest fires. A. S. Holton, 35, Redwoodley, was killed when a 125-foot burning snag and Frank Arnold, 60, of Sedro-Woolley, were guarding, crumpled and fell on them. Arnold escaped with injuries in his right leg, but Holton was killed outright. They were combating a comparatively small blaze near Lake Goodwin, east of the mouth of Selway river, Washington.

In the Colville national forest in Eastern Washington 450 men were extending their lines to halt the Barnaby creek fire, which has swept 12,000 acres and is still spreading.

Fires in the Knapka reserve and near Grandpoint, Idaho, were quieter.

All the Chelan national forest fires in Washington but one were under control and with a favorable wind, forest officials expected this blaze to be controlled tomorrow.

The fire still out of bounds was on the northern shore of Lake Chelan on the summit between Chelan and Methow valleys.

The Cougar creek and Shiner lake fires in Waller national forest were reported today near Chanapeah control by forest officials.

In California fire crews were marauded by State Forester M. B. Pratt to combat a blaze along a three-mile front near Los Angeles.

Three men with shotguns covered an ironing board which Doody had placed from a window of his flat to an adjoining building in the event of a surprise attack.

Several detectives, creeping up the back stairs, walked into the dining room of the flat where Doody was at breakfast and arrested the desperado.

Doody made no move for a weapon, although two revolvers and an automatic were found in the apartment. His pockets were filled with cartridges.

Police said Doody planned to escape from Chicago in an airplane.

Navy Makes Preparations
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 (AP)—Elaborate preparations for the safety of the Graf Zeppelin as she passes over American soil on her round-the-world flight were completed today by the navy department.

Commander Gian Pulson, chief of the navy's lighter-than-air division, all available dirigible masts in the Hawaiian islands on the Pacific coast and in other sections of the United States, have been ordered to be made ready for immediate use and to "stand by" in case of an emergency.

After the Zeppelin leaves Friedrichshafen, Germany, she is scheduled to make only one stop—Tokyo—before she returns to America at the Japanese capital—the will remain in the huge reservoir used German hanger which the Japanese obtained after the World War in the reparations settlement.

The mooring mast erected near Honolulu several years ago in preparation for a flight to the Hawaiian Islands from the continent by the navy's dirigible Shenandoah has been ordered put into condition, even though the Zeppelin's course is 1200 miles farther north.

The mast at Fort Lewis, near Tacoma, Washington, and the one at Fort Worth, Texas, have been ordered to stand by.

While the Graf Zeppelin is in Los Angeles, California, has been dismantled and shipped to Mines field, at Los Angeles, the intended end of the Zeppelin's trans-Pacific flight.

Lieutenant T. W. G. Settle, naval balloons expert, and two chief-pilot officers, have been dispatched from the naval air station at Lakehurst, New Jersey, to Los Angeles to train a ground crew.

Commander Pulson said Dr. Hugo Eckener, chose Los Angeles instead of San Diego as a landing place because the gas supplied in the city of Los Angeles could be mixed with another gas, easily obtainable there to provide suitable fuel for the dirigible's five motors.

The gas in San Diego, he added, was found to contain ingredients that were not usable.

Troubled German Heavyweight Has Change of Mind Boxing Promoter Tells Fight Commission

NEW YORK, Aug. 13—Max Schmeling, the much-troubled German heavy weight, has had a change of mind, and is willing to fight Phil Scott, English, Humbert Fugazy, boxing promoter, told the New York state athletic commission today.

BOXING AND WRESTLING IN ILLINOIS UNDER NEW REGIME

CHICAGO, Aug. 13—Boxing and wrestling in Illinois went under new management today, with indications of strict enforcement of iron-clad rules governing the sports.

Without any formality, General John V. Cihlan and George F. Getz, two of the new appointees, took over the affairs of the commission. The third member, Frederick Gardner, Chicago boxer, was ill at home and could not attend.

After a few minutes of private discussion, the new commission, now the retiring commission, and the new commissioners swung into action, taking up the status of Jack Dempsey, who intends to promote boxing in the Columbia, starting in October.

Secretary George informed the commission—the new one was being held up pending the approval of Dempsey's bond. There was some doubt in Mr. Getz's mind whether the former world's heavyweight champion would accept under the law as a matchmaker, but he was assured that the attorney-general had made a ruling favorable to the "Manly Men."

General Cihlan, chairman of the commission, made it plain all rules would be enforced, and that no political favoritism would be granted.

[THE NEW EMBLEM DEDICATED TO BETTER MOTORING]

What the MARLAND CONTINENTAL Merger MEANS TO MOTORISTS

THE consolidation of the resources and facilities of the Marland Companies and the Continental Oil Company, under the latter's name, is more than a corporate merger. It is a happy union of well balanced production, manufacturing and marketing operations from which will come a host of unusual advantages to the millions of customers and thousands of distributors.

Wide Field for Crude Selection

Out of a total area of more than two and one-quarter-million acres in eight states, Continental selects the crudes best suited for its manufactured products. Raw materials for oils, greases and gasolines may often come from widely separated regions. Continental controls its own crude supply and chooses the best for each refining operation and thus assures a standard uniform output from year to year.

Strategic Location of Eight Refineries

Economical and efficient operation of petroleum manufacture frequently depends upon the relative locations of the raw product, the refinery and the market. Continental is fortunate in that its eight modern manufacturing plants are well placed to afford prompt and economical delivery both before and after refinement. These properties are located at Baltimore, Maryland; Ponca City and Sapulpa, Oklahoma; Artesia and Farmington, New Mexico; Wichita Falls, Texas; Florence, Colorado; and Glenrock, Wyoming.

Exclusive Processes Insure High Quality

Continental refinery engineers enjoy a national reputation in the oil business. Not only have they adopted the newest and most efficient mechanical equipment for these big refineries but they have designed machinery and developed processes which are exclusive to this company. Under centralized control, these facilities now are made available in the manufacture of petroleum products of exceptional quality.

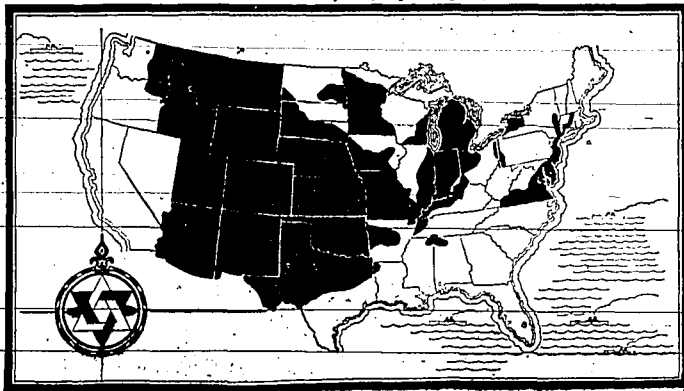

Conocoland Covers Tremendous Area

More than forty years marketing experience has spread the distribution of Conoco products over an area which reaches from the western slope of the Rockies, far east to the Mississippi River. Practically half of the United States is dotted so closely with Conoco Stations that a motorist may drive anywhere in that tremendous area without introducing other than Conoco products to his car. The outposts of Conocoland range from the Pacific Northwest to the shores of the Great Lakes and from the Atlantic Seaboard to the California boundary.

Prestige Established in Foreign Lands

The Continental coastwise and export fleet operate from terminals at Texas City, Texas; Newark, New Jersey; Baltimore, Maryland; and Norfolk, Virginia; to a dozen foreign countries. Petrol pumps deliver Conoco gasoline to automobilists in the shires of England and Conoco motor oils lubricate industrial plants in north Europe, South America and the Orient.

In brief, the joined forces of these two great companies afford greater, better service to the users of motor fuels and lubricants wherever the sign of the Red Triangle is displayed.

Twin Falls Man Enjoys Journey to Sweden; Dislikes Climate and Food

Delighted with his trip, but dissatisfied with the climate and menu of his native country and more than ever convinced of the superiority of America in general and of Twin Falls in particular as a winter resort, Alex Swenson returned to his home here yesterday after spending three months in the city of Stockholm and other centers and met many friends and relatives while there.

"I am nearly time to death," said Mr. Swenson. "Everything was cold. On June 29 it was necessary to cover a variety of articles to keep them from freezing. There was no hot water in the hotel and I was chilly nearly all the time. Nevertheless, I enjoyed the trip and the experience of meeting 'boyhood' friends and relatives.

"When I left Sweden 40 years ago a boy of 13 years, I thought the meals were fine. I have changed my mind. They are not so good as they were. On a boat I counted 17 different kinds of pickled and smoked fish and meats, and the same kind of the same kind. In the homes meals are of the same order, only the variety is not so great. The result is that everybody has stomach trouble. I had while there and the only way that they can digest their food after having eaten a lot of pickled and smoked fish is to take a drink of whiskey to help their digestion.

"There is a great deal of drinking but very little intoxication. You can get one drink of whiskey with a meal, but no more. If you want a second drink you have to buy another meal. Here it is plentiful and cheap and served at meals.

Oregon and Washington returned to Twin Falls Saturday.

BUHL-FARMER SUES FOR $6000 IN TWO ACTIONS

Two suits for damages totaling approximately $6000 were filed in district court here Tuesday for Dan Whaley, Buhl farmer.

In one of these suits Whaley asks for $1725 for the Twin Falls Canal company for loss of potatoes in a five-acre field which, Whaley alleges, was flooded through carelessness of canal company employees engaged in construction of a drainage ditch in the vicinity, last October. These workers, the complaint avers, plowed a nearby irrigation ditch so that water overflowed on the field and caused the potatoes to rot in the ground.

In the other action Whaley asks for $4128.75 from Leonard Grosse and Roy "Big" Chittenden for alleged failure to carry out an agreement to purchase 2450 bags of potatoes at $2.15 per bag. Under this agreement Whaley asserts he delivered to cardinals of potatoes in March, 1928. The corporation then requested a suspension of deliveries and never did call for 10,000 pounds of potatoes that were left.

In both actions Whaley is represented by Harold L. Yeamans, Buhl, and Porter and Taylor, Twin Falls.

Sheriff's office and the police set out messengers over a wide range of territory in an effort to locate the missing machine. It carried Idaho license 30-583, and the name of a Buhl farmer appeared on the tire cover.

Interest brings the total amount expected to be due up to approximately $60,000. Mrs. Cleland is represented in this action by Everett J. Ballard, Chicago, and S. C. Hamilton, Twin Falls.

Suit for recovery of approximately $50,000 from D. B. Moorman, Marquette, for pumping machinery used in irrigation district was filed in district court here Tuesday by attorneys for Mrs. Mary L. Cleland, Illinois, executrix and sole heir of the estate of McKenzie Cleland.

The claim is based upon an agreement assigned by H. L. THE WISE BUILDER is careful in choosing only the best building materials that will stand the test of time and give lasting satisfaction. He is just as particular about the glass that goes into his windows as the lumber that goes into the frame.

Our Window Glass is clear as atmosphere. Hard to break, but easily placed in the frame.
