UNNAMED HOLSTEIN LEADS PRODUCERS IN DAIRY ASSOCIATION

C. E. McClain, Twin Falls, Owner of Highest Producer and Group in Large Herd Division in Year

An unnamed grade Holstein cow owned by C. E. McClain of Twin Falls, was the highest producer among 681 cows in 46 herds under the supervision of the Twin Falls association during the year ending last July 1. W. J. Byrne, treasurer, announced in the districts' thirtieth annual report, issued here last evening. This cow produced during the year, according to association records, 12,328 pounds of milk and 877 pounds of butterfat.

The association's average butterfat production for the year was 349.9 pounds, and of milk 874 pounds. The reported returns of $4.93 for each $1 expended for feed were shown; feed cost totaling 22 1/2 cents per pound of butterfat, and 23 1/2 cents per 100 pounds of milk. Average value of the product of each cow was $159.72. Average cost of feed per cow during the year was $32.50, cost of roughage being calculated at 45¢, and of grain 52¢. Each cow was fed an average of 1796 pounds of grain.

The report shows an average price of 39.75 cents per pound paid for butterfat during the year.

Climate Herd Honors

In addition to ownership of the highest producing cow, Mr. McClain is the owner of the herd of 29 grade Holstein and Jersey cows that led the association's "over 20 cows" division for production honors for the year. This herd was credited with an average production of 11,455 pounds of milk and 439.8 pounds of butterfat.

J. F. Crawford, Bull, took first honors for the year in the association's "10 to 20 cows" division with a herd of 11 grade Holsteins that produced an average of 12,128 pounds of milk and 440 pounds of butterfat.

George Evans, Bull, with a herd of three registered Holsteins, that averaged 12,791 pounds of milk and 440 pounds of butterfat production, led the association's "one to 10 cows" division for the year.

If you had to fry a dozen chickens you wouldn't fry them all at once

For the same reason, Hills Bros roast their coffee a few pounds at a time instead of in bulk. This continuous process—Controlled Roasting, produces a matchless, uniform flavor.

Somewhere you did try to fry them all at once. What a time you'd have cooking that tender meat evenly! The right way to fry a lot of chickens is obviously one at a time. That's just the way Hills Bros roast their fine blend of coffee. By their patented, continuous process—Controlled Roasting. Never in bulk. Only a few pounds at a time pass through the roasters and the flavor is perfectly controlled because every berry is roasted evenly.

No bulk-roasting process can produce the matchless, uniform flavor of Hills Bros. Coffee. And you get all this delicious goodness because Hills Bros. Coffee is sealed in vacuum tins at the time of roasting.

Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name. To be sure, look for the Arab trade-mark on the can—Hills Bros. Coffee is sold everywhere.

HIGHWAY DISTRICT BEGINS PAYING OFF $1,250,000 BONDS

Tax Levy of $1.37 Per $100 Valuation for Year Highest Necessary for Payment of Debt in 10 Years

Willie Willis
BY ROBERT QUILLER

SWEENEY CANDIDATE FOR KIWANIS OFFICE

Former Head of Local Club to Seek Governorship of Utah-Idaho District

...didn't mean to be impudent. I just wanted the preacher if it was running a lot when he was little that made him long-haired like papa said."

...the district paid off $10,000 worth of bonds from a surplus accumulated in the bond fund, so there is actually to be paid next April 1 only $115,000 principal of the principal of the obligation. The total amount to be raised to pay off the $140,000 bonds, principal and remaining interest due January 1 and July 1, 1930, together with the county's collection costs and New York bank payments is $185,000.

...It is Idaho's turn to have the governorship of the district, according to club members. Twin Falls has never offered a man for the position and the members here now consider their claims strong. The meeting voted to change the by-laws of the local organization to the extent that the annual election will be held on the second Thursday in November instead of on the second Thursday in December as heretofore.

Procedure For Road Work

In addition to levy for bond and interest requirements this year, the highway district board made a levy of 25 cents per $100 for its road and bridge fund. This is 15 cents less than the levy for this purpose last year. The levy this year will bring into the district approximately $38,000 for road and bridge purposes. To this amount the board plans to put $50,000 from the 1929 motor vehicle license money, to make a total of approximately $88,000 available for road maintenance and construction.

General Pershing, Again in France, Celebrates Sixty-Ninth Birthday

DATE RECALLS GREAT VICTORY OF AMERICAN FORCES 11 YEARS AGO

"Man of the Hour" Returns Under Greatly Altered Conditions

One Time Leader Comely Renews Old Associations

Three Natal Days Prominent in Memory of Commander

By KIRKE SIMPSON (Associated Press Feature Writer) — WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—Somewhere in France again, John J. Pershing is celebrating his sixty-ninth birthday.

Again it is Friday, September 13. But how different it must be for the general. Now there is merely the calm removal of old associations, while Friday the thirtieth of 11 years ago marked the raging victory of St. Mihiel.

What a difference, also, has come from the September 13 of 1917, when somber shadows had fallen on the allied cause. Or from that September 13, the last of his great adventures in France, when he reported to the war department that his mission had been accomplished.

Of all his recollected birthdays, the three of 1917, 1918 and 1919, surely stand out in Pershing's memory, with amazing vividness.

Through the whole two years encompassed by those dates he was America's "man of the hour." Under the weight of his responsibility, each day must have etched its own furrows in the atonal face of America's leader "over there." Yet they left unscarred the high, soldierly heart of the man.

Many Obstacles
Look back to his own terse report in 1917, shortly after his fifty-seventh birthday rolled around. He was telling against every obstacle to create a great American army. Infringe and demand that America lead not only her own troops, but her own mind to fill the actual war-weary ranks of the allied regiments met him at every turn.

These were dark days, yet out of them came Pershing's challenge to defeatism. In a ringing public statement October 5, 1917, he denounced the whippersnapper opinion that war on the western front must end in a stalemate.

A year later, as his fifty-eighth birthday dawned amid the dying grumble of guns that blasted a way to St. Mihiel for the first American army, under his own command, he saw his bold words realized.

That birthday he spent walking with

In France on a peaceful sojourn now, General John J. Pershing observes his sixty-ninth birthday Friday, September 13. On the same day and date 11 years ago, his American army wrested St. Mihiel from the Germans.

Secretary of War Baker and General Peinot of France through the war battered town of St. Mihiel, restored to the tri-color by American arms after four years in German hands.

Back in Washington Then Pershing's fifty-ninth birthday. He was back in Washington September 12, the country's first greeting to him still deafening his ears.

He fairly fought his way to Baker's office to report. Invitations deluged him, but he had only one desire. That was to see again Laclade, Missouri, the town so long his home.

What would he do there? "I should like," he said slowly, "to have everybody know I was ever anything but a Missouri boy. I should like to be as free as I was then."

It could not be so, never can be so again for John J. Pershing, wherever he is. He belongs to history now as an American fighting man.

Friday is the dies Veneris, and fifth her own symbol, is regarded as an appropriate food for that day.

the council, and the report of the Reserve conference held at Dayton, Ohio, this summer was made by Virginia Merrick. Campaigns were being planned by a group of the girls who attended. Plans were made during the season for the fall conference of the Young Women's Christian association at Twin Falls, Idaho, to be held here October 19 to 25, and for the finance campaign beginning September 29 with a luncheon at Twin Falls and closing October 7 at a dinner at Boise.

Campaigns will be conducted simultaneously by groups at Twin Falls, Elgin, Kimberly, Hansen, Eden and Hazelton. The latter two expressed the hope that all quotas will be met before the closing date. Members of the Y.W.C.A. will meet Tuesday evening for the first cabinet supper of the year at the home of Miss Louise Kline, advisor of the local group. Miss Anna Walker, president of the club, invited and plans membership work were discussed with Miss Langland. Members of the club cabinet will meet with other cabinet members of the district for a "red-top" conference at Pine Saturday afternoon for the coming year. The Idaho Y.W.C.A. will follow the business session with a luncheon at the Y.W.C.A. building.

Psychology Valuable Asset in Wall Street

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Psychology has displaced mathematics and economics as the best asset for successful security trading.

Mathematics and economics retain a large degree of importance. Earnings, a company's position in its industry and the position of the industry in the general economic structure, are factors which must be considered in making the value of a security.

But with many popular stocks selling from 25 to 50 times their earnings and the best economies of the country disregarded on whether the future will justify such prices, successful trading in the most active issues has come to be little more than successful guessing on popular or professional reactions to current developments.

Austria and Poland Will Send Surplus Inhabitants to South America

CROWDED COUNTRIES EFFECT AGREEMENT ON PLAN WITH PERU

With United States Almost Closed to Citizens, Two Governments Arrange Locations for Colonies

By GEORGE HALADJIAN
Associated Press Correspondent
VIENNA, Sept. 12.—Austria and Poland, finding the gates of the United States almost closed to would-be immigrants, have turned to South America for haven for their surplus inhabitants. Both governments have concluded specific agreements with Peru and intend to help each other—republics of the continent which may be in need of strong arms—trained to agricultural tasks.

The agreements with Peru resulted from talks by Austrian government officials in each case the plans call for establishment of subsidized colonies of Austrian or Polish nationals.

Form Syndicate
A syndicate with a capital of $1,000,000 has been formed to carry out the Austro-Peru agreement, which was negotiated by the Austrian minister of education. Peru will grant the syndicate 2,500,000 acres and on this the Austrians will be settled. They must all be farmers or cattle breeders.

Land Fertile
Promoters of the scheme say that the land selected is fertile and capable of producing wheat, coffee, cotton and other crops. The settlers will be free to plant what they wish.

According to word received here a similar agreement has been completed between Poland and Peru. Count Dabrowski, a former Polish minister, just returned from Lima with a draft contract in his pocket. This provides for the emigration of several thousands of Polish farm workers. The Peruvian government, it is understood, will grant free land to the settlers while a syndicate composed of Poles and Americans with a capital of $1,000,000 will shoulder the transportation costs of the emigrants. The fair will be refunded later on with a small interest.

DAMAGE LIGHT FROM SOUTH IDAHO FROSTS

Weather Report for Week Indicates Truck Crops Only Suffer From Cold

BOISE, Sept. 12 (Special to The News)—Frost at many points in southern Idaho did not cause extensive damage to staple commercial crops, according to the summary of weather and crop conditions issued for the week ending September 10 by Clinton E. Norquest, meteorologist of the United States department of agriculture weather bureau.

The following reports of conditions are included in the summary:

SOUTHWEST IDAHO—The sudden change to decidedly cooler weather at the beginning of the week brought welcome relief from the intense heat that had persisted for so long. Frost occurred in many localities and did some damage to tender garden-truck crops but no-scale commercial crops were materially damaged. Irrigation is pretty well done in this district and farmers are busy haying, mowing clover, harvesting beans, digging potatoes and preparing for pump and apple harvesting. The farming district under the Magic reservoir is very dry, crops had much curdled for want of water. But most of the irrigated sections have had ample water to mature crops and keep pastures growing. Range feed is still adequate for the season's needs and continue to do well.

SOUTHEAST IDAHO—The long hot spell was brought to a close by a sudden change to much cooler weather with frost in many localities. Frost damage varied greatly, being mostly negligible. However, some sections suffered material loss, the staple crops being wheat and barley. Some sections suffered very late sections. Sugar beets are now turning in fine shape. Potatoes are ready for digging in many localities. The third cutting of alfalfa is being secured in excellent condition.

FIELD NOTES—Fruit crops hanging in fine shape, weather cool, but no material frost damage.

SHOSHONE—Last week turned very hot—beet gardens, injured by frost; threshing is finished; everything dried up on farms.

PILER—A little cool for farm work, but a little cool for maturing crops; farmers busy cutting beans; grain threshing pretty well finished; some clover seed being hulled; third crop alfalfa looking fine; sugar beets maturing in good shape.

BOHI—A hard cold spell; temperature dropped to 22 degrees Sunday morning; in some localities to the south midwest it has been colder as beans and potato vines have been ripped; range grazers are nearly ripe, as they are nearly ripe; some clover seed harvested.

COYALICO—Heavy frost, but not much damage; some late potato dug; sugar beets slipped by frost; alfalfa crop looking good; range grazers nearly ready for cutting; above expectations; showers of the week were very light and ground is dry; a deal of hay is being made; third cutting of alfalfa.

The evening program will be given by graduates of Gooding college, members of which are teaching in Twin Falls and other nearby high schools.

Don Kilbourn of the class of 1926, now in the engineering department of the Idaho Power company at Twin Falls, Idaho, will sing "Local color."

Miss Edith Florence Battersby, of the class of 1928, a teacher in the Old Days and D. A. Hites, superintendent of schools at Hansen, will talk on "Why I Attended Gooding College."

The fall term begins September 22, after which time similar programs are planned to be given in the churches from Rupert to Mountain Home.
