INTEREST IN NAVAL REDUCTIONS SHIFTS TO PARIS AND ROME

Question Regarding Attitude of France and Italy Recalls Efforts Made by Ex-President Coolidge

By KIRK SIMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—The question of naval reductions has shifted to Paris and Rome. The British cabinet today announced that it had decided to reduce its fleet by 25 per cent. This move was a surprise to the world, as the British had been expected to increase their fleet.

Recalls Coolidge's Attempt That was his first Coolidge disappointment in his effort to raise out of the British cabinet the agreement of 1921. Complete failure of the three-power conference with Great Britain, Japan and the United States (helping end the Coolidge hopes and laid the foundation for the 15 cruisers bill he later approved.

It was intimated in Washington that Paris and Rome had been advised of the Washington-London naval conversations. Whether that meant that Paris and Rome had indicated willingness to join a five-power attempt now which they declined to participate in two years ago was not clear.

There was little doubt that Japan was quite ready to enter into any naval reduction she was in 1927. What auxiliary ship ratio she might ask was another question.

But for France and Italy such a conference would bring up the whole question of the Mediterranean. Italy's policy was to have a fleet of 100 ships, compared to the British-American Japanese 5-3-2 which is a very serious objection. The whole question seemed to be whether largely an academic matter to Paris and Rome.

Unofficial intimations
Such intimations as have come unofficially from Paris indicate French desire for a far higher ratio in France than in Great Britain, and expected to demand parity in America.

12,000 Acres of Idaho Land to Sell at Auction

BOISE, Sept. 14 (AP)—Twelve thousand acres of state land, most of it agricultural, will be auctioned off in the city of Boise next month, E. H. Nash, state land commissioner, announced today. The land is in Franklin county and will be auctioned off at 10 o'clock on October 21, the same date on which 320 acres of Owyhee county land and 600 acres of Blaine county land were sold at American falls. On successive days sales will be conducted at Montpelier, Idaho, and at Teton county land, at Idaho Falls on 3800 acres of Blaine county land; at 81 Anthony, on 1500 acres of Fremont county land, and at Briggs on 4200 acres of Teton county land.

Clothing and Suede Note on Boise Bridge Fail to Baffle Police

BOISE, Sept. 14 (AP)—The federal court today ordered a bench warrant for the arrest of Leslie Jackson, 29, for failure to appear in court to answer with his brother, James, for violation of the prohibition laws. Jackson's clothes and a note of suede lined shoes were found on the bridge in Boise last Wednesday night, but authorities doubted that the shoes were connected with the case. Jackson's father had been offered by the body from the river. Search has been limited.

Former New York Lawyer Joins Faculty at Moscow

BOISE, Sept. 14 (AP)—Appointment of Pendleton Howard, former assistant district attorney of New York, as professor of law at Moscow State University, was approved today by W. D. Vinton, commissioner of education. Howard will succeed W. B. Mazerolle, who resigned last year. Howard is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and an experienced attorney who has been a professor of law at Moscow State University, who resigned to take a position at the University of Kansas.

Federal Figures Warn Pedestrian to Let Car Pass First on Streets

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP)—There is one more chance in 10 now than a year ago that a person will not beat an automobile across the street. Statistics made public today by the safety committee of the American Motorists' association showed that there were 10 per cent more automobile fatalities last year than the year before.

Taft Will Observe Birthday in Canada

By JOHN T. SUTER
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—Chief Justice Taft, now at his summer home at Murray Bay, Canada, will be 67 years old tomorrow, but will have a birthday party.

The anniversary falling on Sunday, the chief justice has decided to postpone his party until next week. He promises to compensate them for the delay by providing a more elaborate dinner than has so far marked such occasions.

It has been customary for many years for the chief justice to climax the celebration with a dinner to about 100 guests, all that could be seated at tables in the numerous living rooms at his large summer home on Murray Bay.

Advices from Murray Bay report the chief justice returned to his Washington home on Friday, Sept. 13, after a week's stay in Canada.

Before the chief justice is two years older he will be eligible for retirement, and he has indicated that he will retire in 1932.

AMENDMENT TEST IN HIGH COURT BEGINS

Two Twin Falls Law Firms Attorneys for Plaintiff in Constitutional Issue

BOISE, Sept. 14 (AP)—Support for its cousin in the "four year term" amendment was voted on by the people in proper order, was contained in defendant's brief, filed in supreme court today as part of the test of the question.

The brief was filed by W. D. Ollstadt, attorney general, and the plaintiff, the people of Idaho, was ordered some time ago by the supreme court to publish the call for an election.

All assistants in the office were named as defense attorneys while for the plaintiff, J. B. Lane, Meridian, the firm of Hawley and Hawley, Boise, Sweeley and Sweeley, Twin Falls, and Frank L. Stephan, Twin Falls, were named.

The brief traced the course of the amendment through the legislature, through its publication and its final adoption by the people at the state at the election last November.

In answering the claim that the voters were misled by the statement on the ballot that the amendment was to "let it four years" the terms of the state officials, the brief contended that all voters were misled by the ballot, and a note to call attention of the voters to the amendment in question. The voter was contended, was expected to have been misled by the ballot.

Special Action Necessary
In support of the contention that the amendment applied to the 1932 election, the brief contended that the amendment was adopted at the time of the adoption of the amendment, the brief pointed out that the term was self-evident, and needed no special legislation to put it into effect.

THREAT OF MARTIAL LAW HANGING OVER OIL TOWN IN TEXAS

Rangers Push Investigation Into Assassination of County Attorney, Killed From Ambush at Berger

By The Associated Press
BERGER, Texas, Sept. 14—A threat of martial law hung over Berger tonight as Texas Rangers pushed an investigation into the assassination of County Attorney John A. Holmes, 37, who was shot and killed from ambush as he was about to enter his home last night.

Discover Important Evidence
Discovery today that important evidence in a murder case, growing out of the slaying of two druggists, shortly here in 1927, was missing gave investigators a clue which it was thought might have an important bearing on the assassination of Holmes.

It was announced that a deathbed statement made by Roy Harmon, who was the driver of the car in which the druggists were killed, had been secured.

Lightning-ignited Bar-ge Slips Cables and Causes Blazes in Two Refineries

LINDEN, N. J., Sept. 14 (AP)—Damage estimated at $1,000,000 was caused today by a fire which ignited the Standard Oil company's refinery at Linden, N. J., which was started by lightning.

The flames spread quickly to the loading dock of the Bayway refinery and jumped thence to the main storage house of the Swan Finch company, which Dr. Merle Meacham, plant manager, estimated contained hundreds of thousands of gallons of oil.

GIANT LINERS COLLIDE IN SAN FRANCISCO BAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Panama-Pacific liner Virginia, and the Norwegian steamer Hermin, collided in San Francisco bay today in a heavy fog. Three men on the Hermin were killed.

The Virginia, one of the largest vessels on the Pacific, was en route to New York via San Pedro, with more than 200 passengers. Two-lobed, 100-foot-long, were torn in the starboard side of the liner.

The Mackay Radio and Telegraph company informed The Associated Press of the collision shortly after it had received radio from both the Virginia and the Hermin. Two logs were attached to the Virginia from the Hermin, and a tender aid to the vessel.

COLGATE UNIVERSITY LABORATORY REVEALS FACTS ON PHENOMENA

With Onset of Relatively Lighter Sleep Outside Stimuli Show Affects Events of Day Influence Mind of Resting Persons Subjects of Highest Emotional Unstability Best Types for Experiments

What method of awakening serves best to aid in remembering dreams? Answer: none is sure, but sudden awakening seems superior.

These answers were obtained in experiments at the Colgate Psychological Laboratory by R. K. Denison.

Deep sleep hinders "As sleep grows deeper it evidently becomes less active and the dreams less frequent until wakefulness sets in towards morning.

"In this connection, many authorities maintain that simply because a dream is recalled it does not necessarily follow that no dream occurred. If this point of view is accepted, then our experiments become somewhat difficult.

"An interesting side-light is cast on subjects who rated highest in emotional

NEVADA TAKES STEP TO BEGIN WORK ON NORTH-SOUTH ROAD

State Engineer Promises Construction of at Least 25 Miles of Highway Out of Wells Next Season

At least 25 miles of the road between Wells, Nevada, and the Idaho-Nevada line on the Yellowstone-Yamhill highway will be completed during 1929. S. C. Durkee, Nevada state highway engineer, stated today that the construction of the road in Idaho between Twin Falls and the Idaho-Nevada line was completed this year. Durkee said he expects to have a crew of men will be sent to Wells within the next two or three weeks to make a reconnaissance and survey of the route so that plans can be prepared this winter. It will be necessary to construct the entire route in Nevada or to construct it in Nevada and Oregon. Short Line Branch into Wells and a bridge over the Salmon river. The survey crew will work out details of their structures before winter. Durkee said in order to have the plans complete in time the department this year to build the entire stretch next year.

The proposed road requires 54 miles of construction by Nevada. The state highway engineer said, however, that it could be built only to contact with the federal aid allocations which would have to be in the work. Durkee has received assurance that if the highway is constructed from Wells to contact the government will supply additional means. In this line, the department appreciates importance.

Mr. Durkee declared that his department fully realized and appreciated the importance of the proposed highway and that nothing would be permitted to obstruct it in the future. It could have been built before this had we possessed the means," he said. The construction will not cost Idaho county anything, the entire outlay being state and federal.

PARTING OF FRIENDS

By D. R. CHURCHILL

Alas! farewell, my old schoolmate,
Since you and I must part;
I dedicate these lines to you,
With sad and heavy heart.

You've been a faithful friend to me,
Through fair and stormy weather;
Hence I shall rear upon that bed,
For which you planned the feather.

Lo, many and many a happy hour
I've spent alone with you;
I've felt you have been the witness when
I held you sure and true.

We never will go afield again,
The effort would be vain;
And yet, 'tis hard to stay behind
And lean upon this cane.

But while 't is alone and muse,
And watch the flights above;
Vast happy thoughts come swelling back,
Of all that's passed and gone.

Though after that there comes a pang,
And then there comes a sigh,
While here a sorrow seals my lips,
And something dims my eye.

I now recollect you to my friend,
As true a pal as ever;
As good a companion unto him
As you have been to me.

ROOM FOR IDAHO CORN IN CANS TAKES FACTORIES

BOISE, Sept. 14 (AP)—A boom for Idaho canned corn has laxed state canneries to their limits this year. E. V. Patch, manager of a cannery at Carey, declared today. His concern has had to turn down orders for lack of capacity, he said, though it planned to receive 70 carloads this year. Farmers are receiving $40 an acre for their corn which is exceptionally free from vermin.

Yes Really—Pianos to Loan—and
Free Music Lessons for Three Months—
Personal Instructions—Finest Teachers—
We Furnish Everything

THIS is an opportunity to test your child's talent in music. It is a WONDERFUL PLAN that is DIFFERENT. We give your boy or girl an entire three months' course of lessons, under personal instruction in Mrs. D. E. Regan's beautifully equipped Studio right here in Twin Falls. Accredited Teachers, among the best in this city, personally conduct the classes. We have seen and know what fine work these teachers accomplish. With one lesson each week, hundreds of students of all ages have learned to play the piano so quickly and easily that they could hardly believe it possible. Your child can do the same thing.

Combine Music With School Work

This generous offer coming at this time enables students to take up musical education along with their school studies, which will give them relaxation from their school routine. History shows that students make better progress during the school term than during vacation.

The system taught is the Nationally known and approved MELODY WAY method as used and taught in over 400 high schools and leading colleges of higher education throughout America.

WE ARE going to help your boy or girl get started in music. Our desire is to stimulate the interest in playing the piano. This is what inspired us to make this unusual offer.

REMEMBER, you don't have to buy a piano, nor pay for the lessons. WE LOAN you the piano—a new one, a used piano, or a baby grand. You simply pay the dropings on the piano you prefer from the store to your home and it will be sent immediately. We furnish everything.

A carload of the celebrated and justly popular Baldwin Pianos has just been unloaded at our store, giving those who wish to participate in this offer a wide and varied selection.

London Festival to Honor Blind and Paralyzed Composer

MUSIC LOVERS WILL HEARTY WORKS OF FREDRICK DELIUS

Sir Thomas Beecham Thinks Musician One of Greatest of All Time

It RATES RAINY

Wet weather in England will be carried into Queen's Hall to open the Delius festival, which will last until November 1.

For several years Delius who many think without a doubt, in his own country, has lived in seclusion at Green-Side Lane, in York, England. He has been blind since 1913, and is now 66, but he refuses to be bedridden. Each day he is carried downstairs or into the beautiful garden which he cannot see. There he receives visitors and dictates his work from which he will not be separated.

Climate of Many Years

The festival will mark the climax of 20 years' work on behalf of Delius. Sir Thomas Beecham, who regards the paralyzed blind musician as one of the greatest composers of all time. Several works are to be carried for the first time and there will be others which have not been heard in England since 1911. Some of the pieces to be given there are:

Another one is a little or and dance for strings, and a song entitled "A Little Bird" which was written in 1911. The latest work he has written is "The Sea." It is a symphony in three parts.

Delius has long looked forward to returning to England, which he has not visited since 1923, when he was elected into a theatre to hear his incidental music to "Hassan." He will now be near Queen's Hall, so that he can easily be whirled across to each of the six concert venues scheduled. When he was 21, he went to Florida where he became a fruit grower. After two years he went to the States to study. His best known works include his incidental music to Paderewski's play "Hassan," produced at his Majesty's theatre, London, in 1923. His "Dance Rhapsody" for strings, and a song entitled "A Little Bird" also well known. Other works which will be heard again at the festival include "Appalachia," "Songs of Sunset," "Arabesque," "Requiem," and many others.

COMMISSIONERS FIX TAX RATE TO YIELD COUNTY $344,000

Board Pares Half-Cent-Off Suggested Three-Cent Levy for Fair, to Make Total $1.23 1/2 on Each $100

Twin Falls County commissioners passed a half-cent off from a suggested two-cent levy for the county agricultural fair fund yesterday, to make a total 1929 Twin Falls county tax levied at 1 1/2 per cent on assessed property value of $27,500,000 total assessed property value in 1929 to yield approximately $344,000 to meet the county requirements for tax money during the coming year.

The levy reductions on sections two and a half cents over $100, and $1.21 levy on a production that is the basis for the levy.

Reduction of one cent in the levy for the general school fund was approved as well as the cut of a half cent in the levy for the agricultural fair fund.

In order to meet the state's tax bill a levy of 48 cents on each $100 was authorized by the commissioners. This is an increase of five cents over last year's state tax levy of 43 cents which produced approximately $148,070.

Levies for the state and several county funds for the coming year are compared with the previous levies.

1929	1928
State	$ 59
County	$ 344,000
Current expense	$ 40
General school	53
Agricultural fair	60
County bonds	69
Warrant redemption	18

Commissioners in session yesterday also approved 1929 tax levies made by cities and villages, highway districts and school districts of the county.

Three independent school districts lowered their tax levies: one raised the figure, and the other five held at the same rate as last year.

Kimberly dropped to $21 from $20.50; Buhl to $25.50 from $23.50; and Hottel to $23.50 from $19.50.

Levies the same as last year were made by Twin Falls district, $2.50; Filer, $1.40; Marga, 70 cents; Huisen, $2.40; Castleford, $1.30.

Filer, rural high school district reduced the tax rate to 58 cents from 70 cents, and Hottel rural high school district retained last year's 50 cent rate.

Venomous Reptile Hidden in Bunch of Fruit Gives Sudden Shock to Employee

At Roy King, an employe of the Pacific Fruit and Produce company, started to hit a bunch of bananas from a trucking that came in from Pasco Saturday morning.

He felt a soft movement on his hand, feeling a sensation of an Egyptian queen who fainted an asp with fatal results to her anatomy and not desiring to appear in the role of Cleopatra, King dropped the fruit.

His pronouncements as to the cause of the sensation on his hand proved correct when he and other employes of the company saw a gentle looking snake about 18 inches long among the bananas. It was evidently too chilled and tired to fight and was captured without difficulty.

The reptile is said to be the "king cobra" of Central America, whose sting is said to mean certain death. It was placed in a glass jar and placed on display in the Price Jewelry store. It is a handsome-looking reptile.

BURGLARY SUSPECT TO CONSULT WITH LAWYER LEADERS IN LEGION TO ATTEND SESSIONS HERE

Harry L. Crowshaw, 39, arrested here Saturday evening in connection with burglary at the O. D. Lynn second hand store, second street south Friday, where carpenter's tools valued at $150 were stolen, is expected to consult with a number of leaders of the American Legion Fifth district to be held in Twin Falls next Wednesday evening.

He was arraigned on that charge before Judge C. A. Bailey in probate court Tuesday morning and given $5000 bail in this regard at that time. Postponement of time for receiving his plea was granted accordingly to next Monday.

Crowshaw, then according to the police, confessed to them that he had stolen the tools and subsequently led the officers to a local pool hall where the missing tools were discovered. He is said to have lived recently in Pocatello, Burley, and Camanche, before coming to this city.

Meetings of the district organizations of the American Legion out of this district will be held simultaneously in different halls immediately following a banquet meeting at which more than 100 delegates and visitors are expected to gather. The banquet meeting will be held in the Odd Fellows hall at 8:30 P. M.

A petition for appointment of Murphy as constable was filed by J. M. Cavender, justice of the peace, and 15 other persons.

FEDERAL COURT TO TRY DAM LITIGATION

American Falls Reservoir District Obtains Removal of Friendly Litigation

On the grounds that United States district court is a court of general jurisdiction, the Twin Falls Canal company against American Falls Reservoir District, was removed yesterday from district court here to federal district court. District Judge Hugh A. Baker signed the order for removal on the application of the irrigation district.

The suit was instituted to obtain confirmation by the courts of an agreement whereby the district is to obtain right of easement in Mill dam for diversion of the surplus flow of water to lands in Jerome, Lincoln, Gooding and Emmet counties. Under the agreement the district is to pay $30,000 representing part of original cost and proportionate share in maintenance and operation of the dam and the canal company's claim for this sum is many being retained by the Twin Falls Canal company is owner of 8 1/2 of the dam.

Litigation works now are being conducted by the federal government under contract with the district. It is situated near Portland, federal reclamation service attorney, associated with Hissell and Bird, Gooding, as counsel for the district, the canal company being represented by Judge J. H. Bothwell.

Suit brought by Dan Whaley, Bill, against Leonard, Grossie and Riles, a Delaware corporation, for $1428.75 on a contract entered July 10, March, 1928, for purchase of potatoes. The contract was moved to the federal court on application of the corporation's attorney, J. E. Hays, and clerk, Nicholas Whaley, represented by Harold T. Yeaman, Buhl and Pocatello.

Twin Falls claims that the corporation contracted for 250 bags of potatoes for $21.15 each; that it accepted delivery of 240 cartons and then served notice to stop deliveries, leaving 102,500 pounds of the potatoes on Whaley's hands.

HAYES REQUESTS MORE CAREFUL USE OF WATER

Appeal to land owners and farmers to divert more water during the fall season for their fields than is required in order to avert wastage through "slink holes" was made yesterday by John E. Hayes, manager of the Twin Falls Canal company. Mr. Hayes said:

"Because of the recent sudden drop in temperature, the use of water is required in order to avert wastage through 'slink holes' was made yesterday by John E. Hayes, manager of the Twin Falls Canal company. Mr. Hayes said:

"Water diversions and should be watched as closely now as during the maximum delivery period. No excess water should be permitted to flow through the laterals and canals. If the ground water begins to approach its minimum elevation at this period and for that reason it is most essential that excess water shall not be permitted to enter the underground aquifer through 'slink holes' or other channels. Now is the time to demonstrate by cooperative effort that the maximum ground water elevation may be reduced and that it may be kept within reasonable bounds and further that the cost for extracting it from the aquifer may likewise be reduced. Such results may be secured only through concerted effort on the part of water users and canal operators alike."

BY CLEVELAND WILLIAMS
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
MOSCOW, Sept. 14—Leo Galland is setting out to try to beat the law of averages in his new halliwick at the University of Idaho.

The aforementioned mathematical certainty operates in athletics as it does in a school at a disadvantage in competing with the big fellows, and while Idaho isn't too thin, it is dwarfed in athletics by some of the big competitors—the Vandals have on the grid and track.

Certainly more good athletes will be found in an enrollment of 5000 or 10,000 than in a school having but 2000 or 3000, and Coach Galland, who came to the Vandals from the University of Southern California, is setting about the task of equalizing the discrepancy.

"We are going to build our own athletes," he says. "To get along with the larger colleges and universities, we must have a larger percentage of athletes. If the big fellows have one athlete out of 20 students we must have two or three or more."

And to do this the Idaho gridiron guide believes in the wider physical education program every student to spend an hour a week in some form of physical activity; the students will not only be helped, but additional talent for the university's teams may be found.

By way of expanding the system of athletics at the northern and southern branches of the university for every lot of material which might be utilized for winning teams:

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14.—The tall tactician of Philadelphia marched into the Promised Land at exactly 4:24 o'clock this afternoon, ending a journey marked by 14 seasons of disappointment. When George Earnshaw turned back the White Sox by 5 to 0 after the Browns had chafed the last-ditcher by 12 to 3 in the first half of a double-header at New York, Connie Mack's pennant made his seventh American league title, the first since 1915.

These boys need only to approach the success of their fathers to be assured of high places in the big leagues; Schmidt is with the Tigers, Lieberhardt the Athletics and Walsh the White Sox.

"Public Health Is Our Vital Concern"

So the President of the United States has said. Disease germs are the foe to health.

They attack us through digestion, respiration and skin. Therefore, we must watch the purity of food and water, air and clothing. Clothing is the refuge and barrier of bodily germs. From the clothing they pass into the food we eat and the air we breathe.

Clothing must be sterilized often. Only so is there safety. Laundry washed clothes are sterile. Properly disinfected clothes are sterile.

You are not safeguarding your health and the health of the family unless you are regularly sending clothes for this treatment.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14—The Cubs played a brilliant baseball behind Pat Malone here today to defeat Brooklyn by a 3-0 margin, advanced to within two games of the National League pennant. Bill Clark, young Robin southpaw, pitched one of the best games of his career, allowing only five hits, three of which home runs were bunched in the fourth for the first two Chicago runs. Thereafter Clark yielded just one blow, a sacrifice home by Capler in the seventh.

Waco Ball Manager Develops Expensive Talent For Majors

SHIRVS, COHEN, HUDLIN, WEST, BERGE AND ELLIOTT AMONG PLAYERS GRADUATING FROM "PRAIT SCHOOL" IN TEXAS

(By The Associated Press)
WACO, Texas, Sept. 14—The man who has run Waco's baseball school for the major leagues has a wizardry for developing youngsters commanding high price tags.

A profitable sale of talent has become almost an annual habit for the Waco Cubs. It is Dr. Pratt, club manager, who tailors these prize products for major-league companies.

But for Pratt's work, it is doubtful if Waco, one of the Texas League's smallest cities, could remain in the circuit. His best pitcher was Willis Hudlin, the Oklahoma schoolboy, who went to the Cleveland Indians the middle of his first season for a record price of $40,000.

Cohen brought $22,500 when he went to the Giants after one season under Pratt's wing. Shirvs, outside White Sox first baseman, and Max West, Brooklyn outfielder, each brought about $15,000 to Waco coffers.

Bill Berge and "Ace" Elliott, Philadelphia pitchers, also Pratt products, netted around $15,000. Frank Wilson brought $13,500, but flopped in the big leagues.

At least two Cubs are certain to bring good prices at the end of this year—Earl Caldwell, pitcher, who was optioned to the Phillies for $15,000 last year and is said to have had a brilliant season, and is said to be carrying a $30,000 tag this time. George Brubaker, short-

Huge Private Horse Race Track To Perpetuate Cattle Brand In Texas

(By The Associated Press)
DALLAS, Sept. 14—What is called the world's most complete prize-winning establishment is rising west of Dallas—a $2,000,000 monument to perpetuate the "Three-D" cattle brand.

For its builder, W. T. Waggoner, veteran multimillionaire oil and cattle man, the new track at Arlington Downs will perpetuate a traditional family name for fine horses.

The inaugural card, a 10-day program beginning November 6, is to give Texas its first race in years. No betting will be allowed, in compliance with state laws. Purse will total $70,000.

Thirty stable structures, accommodating 300 mounts, are being built near the Waggoner "Three-D" stables, which have produced numerous big money winners. A new $50,000 grandstand is to bring the seating capacity to 16,000.

An ingenious arrangement of tracks is to provide a two mile course with two turns, a mile and a quarter track being graded on the rim of the present mile oval—The three-quarter mile straightaway leads into the larger oval.

There will be a club hotel and building for jockeys, trainers, men and telegraph offices. A spur track to an adjacent railroad will allow for "spotting" private cars and unloading visiting thoroughbreds.

The Waggoner stables were named in honor of a cattle brand that first marked steers of the pioneer, Dan Waggoner. The brand since has become a recognized label of polo ponies and race-horses—it marks pedigree from 1100 producing wells on the Three-D Waggoner ranch in northwest Texas.

The Waggoner have treated horses since the days when cowboys transformed ponies into polo mounts in a family pasture—250 miles square.

STILL WATCHES BOXES.
CHICAGO (AP)—Fred Pfeiffer, the old second baseman of "Cap" Anson's day, who now has charge of the press boxes at the Chicago racing plants, hopes the newspapers addicted to re-printing clubhouse scores will not find one in which he went hitless. The last one credited Pfeiffer with three hits, including a home run.

Tilden Conquers Hunter to Win National Championship

Hunter's Downfall Gives Victor Court Title Seventh Time

Only at Intervals Does Winner Flash Withering Fires of Still Potent Racquet For 7600 Pans

By YEN VOENBACH (Associated Press Sports Writer) FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 14.—In a final round match more one-sided than the scores indicate—William T. Tilden, II, today defeated the old Davis cup contender, Francis T. Hunter, by scores of 3-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4, to capture his seventh national singles tennis crown after having won the title in six of the eight challenge of young America in the previous rounds of play.

Only at intervals did Tilden flash the withering fires of his still potent racquet for 7600 pans. He held the whip hand from start to finish and was never in the danger of losing the match although Hunter held a lead of two sets to one at the intermission. Hunter's lead-driving name is built in order for Tilden to thrives on speed.

Below Stander and Hunter played some of the best tennis since the Davis cup's first and second ranking players. The 36-year-old Tilden and Hunter, who is a year his junior, had won their best tennis in the week when they bested the rising tide of youth and to days make them as an anti climax. Hunter gave the rally something of a thrill at the start when he took the opening set at 3-3 breaking through Tilden's command delivery in the eighth game. Tilden turned on the steam in the next set however, and easily evened matters. Whenever Tilden was on the throttle the points came his way on blistering forehands down the alley—stranky, trap shots—on forced errors by Hunter.

"Big Bill" was meeting Hunter's battering attack by playing deep several feet behind his baseline, where he had plenty of time to get set for his return shots. Game soon sorted. Tilden's game soon softened again, but enough for Hunter to take the match set after the intermission. "Big Bill" applied more pressure and pulled level. In the final set he heaped a total of five service aces and dominated most of the rallies. For good measure "Big Bill" won the deciding game at love. By winning the title for the seventh time Tilden equalled the string compiled by Richard Sears in the period from 1881 to 1887.

The recapitulation of the stroke analysis of yesterday's final follows:

Place	Double
Tilden	40 49 43 47 4
Hunter	5 21 44 43 7

Shires Regrets First Fight With Manager
White-Sox First Baseman Penitent After Bout With Lena Blackburne
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14 (AP)—Art Shires, Chicago White Sox first baseman who was embroiled in a row with his manager, manager (Lena) Blackburne, and Lou Harbord, club secretary, in a hotel here last night, turned out today to be just a penitent young man.

"I regret this whole affair," Shires said. "I am not a fighting ball player and I am not a fighting manager. I am probably embarrassed and worried about the way this will affect my friends and relatives."
The whole thing started when some ginger ale was brought to my room," Shires said. "Blackburne and Harbord both came in at once and poured on me to know what I was doing drinking ginger ale."
"I announced I would drink all the ginger ale," Shires said. "I was a little bit drunk and I was a little bit excited."
Shires entered Shires park today, but left after being told police had been instructed to order him from the grounds.
Blackburne had a blackened left eye today as a result of the 1924 rooming house fight. Blackburne has been repeatedly in a daze since then.

Dry Creek Will Get Fish From Hatchery
Dry creek of tributary trout, each containing 50 little fish from Southern Idaho Fish and Game Hatchery here, will be sent to Dry Creek hatchery here, where the fish will be raised to maturity and the snake river to the north. The population of the hatchery is now 100,000. The fish are distributed at intervals in this and adjoining counties. One hundred fish are sent to each hatchery here.

Big Crop Of 21-Year-Olds Reaches Stardom

Older members of the select sports circles are making room for these erstwhile juveniles whose twenty-first year has been one continuous round of celebrating.

By JAY VESSELS Sports Editor (Associated Press Feature Service) NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—There's nothing new in the fact that you're supposed to shift for yourself when you become 21.

Take Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland pitcher. The year '21 attained his majority he became one of the outstanding rookie pitchers of the age. He had won 17 ball games by September 5 and apparently will be rated in the final averages alongside such senior sensations as Lefty Grove and Guy Bush.

Other 21-year-olds in baseball who are assuming their full share of responsibility in their profession are Jimmy Fox and Mel Ott. What they have done in "plugging" way makes them start their "make-or-buy" regardless of the baseball clouds.

Connie Mack Buyer Of Two Moundsmen On Portland's Nine
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 14 (AP)—Connie Mack, announced tonight that he was buying two players now engaged in the task of twirling Portland of the coast league to the top in the second half of the season's race here by adding the curving corps of the Athletics, who today clinched the American league pennant.

The new Mackmen are Lefty Mahaffey and Gus Suter, both highly capable hurlers on the Far Western team. Their purchase, the announcement indicated, involved "a large sum of money and three players." The names of the three players were not made known.

The Smartest Roadster of low price

P. O. B. Runway Full-Size—Rear-Seat

THIS snappy Chrysler-styled Plymouth Roadster is all the vogue today. Among low-priced roadsters it easily cuts the smartest figure, just as it leads them all with its typical Chrysler performance.

Here is a roadster, man-size, not boy-size—full-size, not toy-size. It has length of hood and expanse of rear deck which make a roadster truly graceful. Engineered by Chrysler, it performs with a dashy willingness and floating smoothness that are utterly amazing in a car so low in price.

The Plymouth Roadster is a quality car from first to last. Its beauty, in riding ease, in size and in behavior.

Once Noted Jockey Parades Ponies To Barrier For Races

"Redcoat" Murray's Love For "Sport of Kings" Undiminished in Spite of Many Years in Saddle

By OILD L. ROBERTSON (Associated Press Sports Writer) SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Time was in American turf history when the name of Jockey Alex Murray meant almost a "sure thing" to the players of the "hones."

Those days are past, but still "Redcoat" Murray, as he is known to the thousands that frequent his tracks, parades before the stands day after day listening to the plaudits that were his.

It was back in 1910 that Murray first made his appearance before the public as leader of the grand parade before each race. And in 23 years he has turned a seemingly menial task into one of the most important positions.

DEATH OF FAMOUS ORIENTAL RECALLS CHILDHOOD REMARK

"Puppy Cleaner Than Pig," Retort of Late Japanese Woman Educator When Accused of Eating "Dogs"

By SUE McNAMARA (Associated Press Service Writer)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Ume-Ko-Tsuda, Japan's foremost woman educator for who died in Tokyo at the age of 64, was sent to Washington by her government to be educated, when she was eight years old.

Like the "three little maidens" from school of comic opera, "Mikudo" fame she was one of the five girls sent to America in 1873 in care of the Japanese embassy. Ume-Ko-Tsuda made good use of the education she received here. She returned to her own country and in 1900 opened the first school in Japan for the higher education of women.

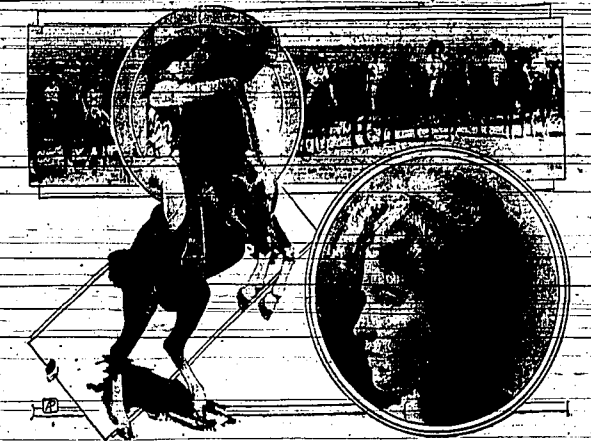

Recalls First Day Mrs. Cornelia Jackson, Georgetown, was a schoolmate and lifelong friend of Ume-Ko-Tsuda. She recalls the first day the little Japanese girl attended the Georgetown collegiate institute.

"I don't care if I do. A puppy is cleaner than a pig."

Ume-Ko-Tsuda remembers a diary she kept in which she recorded the visits to the American home, where she was staying, of a Japanese student and a stray cat.

"She wrote: 'Man staid and had a nice time. Cat stay and have a nice time. Girl stay and have a nice time.'"

Model School For Broncho "Busters" Rich, Lone Star State Girl's Hobby

Mrs. Branch Williams, shown on a horse and in portrait, likes riding so well that she conducts horsemanship classes at her ranch. One of the classes is shown.

DENTON, Texas, Sept. 14 (AP)—Branch Williams is teaching broncho "busting" at an age when most young women are thinking of "careers" or matrimony.

It is no select "riding academy" that Mrs. Williams operates in a cow lot on the Williams ranch north of Denton. This golden-haired girl, herself a college graduate and an artist, has established a genuine cowboy school with no frills—but thrills aplenty.

Simply as a hobby—for her family is wealthy and can afford hobbies—Mrs. Williams puts "tenderfoot" riders through the paces. A day's classwork resembles a job, and the teacher says she "gets a barrel of fun out of it."

Riding mustangs with spurs and "bulldozing" steers is everyday sport for her. She also teaches her pupils, most of whom are boys, to throw lariats, ride calves and tie "hops. Inexperienced riders learn how to fall off unharmed horses.

In college Branch specialized in art. Her friends expected she would open a studio or go on the stage, for she also had a studied voice. The tomboy she reared herself, however, and she returned to the ranch where she had taught riding since high school days.

A glance at her family history may reveal why Mrs. Williams prefers broncho "busting" to the drawing room. She comes of a hard-riding line that boasts the name of John Chisholm, Southwest cattle king of the seventies, who blazed the famed Chisholm trail. Branch took her unusual name from his wife, Denton physician, and she benefits to the health of Miss Williams' pupils frequently advise patients to ride instead of taking bottled tonics.

For that reason, among others, the cowgirl-teacher is convinced she can do far more good on her father's ranch than in any less masculine pursuit.

SOCIETY RACE-GOERS SPONSOR SIMPLICITY

Smartest-Appearing Women Wear Simplest Costume at Longchamps Classic

By BARBARA BEAUFORT (Associated Press Feature Writer)

PARIS, Sept. 14.—The simple costume the smartest women wore at the Longchamps classic during the Grande Semaine.

The following chignons and ribboned leers, so dear to women at the English Ascot, were left severely alone for mannequins to parade at the Grand Prix des Drapeaux and the Grand Prix. Paris chic crowd went in for more sober, more sophisticated black, gray or beige costumes, enlivened with streaks of color or accoutrement of primitive silks or small patterns.

Some of the style-makers of society described their exclamations by saying during the grande semaine about long dark costumes of tailored materials.

Some of the best—were two-piece, black silk suits with small tulle hats. The chic came in the addition of the latest buttonhole, crest or scarf, the shoes and the handbag.

"Often the necessities combined—black and gray with a flash of white in costume jewelry or buttonhole. Black and in flat crepe suit with white tulle boucles, a necklace of silver fox and an inevitable black hat with unquered brim could be called the 1920 racing costume for Paris.

While society was seeing how much they liked their exclamations by the successful costume—the professional mannequins from dressmaking houses were spreading ideas like Cassock coats and brown leather Russian boots, lace straw sunshades and shoes, ruffled tulle afternoon dresses with yards of material in the skirts and straw poke bonnets.

Dominant color notes at the races, which stood out against the general background, dark brown and blue costumes were red, yellow and green.

FLARES-BECOMING SCANTY IN ENSEMBLES OF TWEED

PARIS, Sept. 14 (AP)—Differently flared skirts for daytime wear and more generous fullness for afternoon, with flares and length combined for evening, is the skirt rule for next winter's styles, being shown here.

The ensembles of tweed and wool for morning and "after five" are only a little wider than the straight models of last spring. The fullness is obtained by conservative goring, in most cases. Only a few lined dresses and skirts and almost none of the coats and skirts cut in form, or on circular pattern.

There are many pleated versions of the daytime skirt, especially in woolen materials.

It is new to center pleats in the middle front and skirt them to within 12 to four inches of the hem, or right down to the top of the hem.

MANY RAGLAN SLEEVES IN COAT STYLES FOR WINTER

PARIS, Sept. 14 (AP)—Coat sleeves are set high on the shoulder in American style at some of the leading dress houses where autumn styles are newly shown. American women's insistence on the raglan sleeve is considered responsible for the new sleeve fashion.

It is particularly noticeable in fur models—nearly all of the fur coats at leading houses show sleeves set in from two to six inches beyond the top of the shoulder.

Many tweed street and sport coats have raglan sleeves and some broadcloth and wool coats of afternoon character also have the sleeve in one with the shoulder. The same thing is true of fur coats.

JAPANESE ROYALTY TO VISIT AMERICA

Princess Kikuko Tokugawa and Spouse Cross Nation on Last Lap of Honeymoon

TOKYO, Sept. 14 (AP)—America will receive its second visit from a son of a Japanese Emperor in 1921, when Prince Takamichi, 26-year-old younger brother of Emperor Hirohito and his bride, now Princess Kikuko Tokugawa, cross the United States on the last lap of a honeymoon that will take them around the world and last 16 months.

Prince Takamichi and the grand daughter of the last Shogun are to be married in Tokyo next March. The prince will go to England that same week, returning the visit last May of Prince Henry, Duke of Gloucester, who came to Japan to marry the Emperor with the Order of the Charter.

Official business finished, the imperial couple will tour Europe and return to Japan by way of America.

America's first visit from a member of the imperial family occurred in 1921, when Prince Chichibu passed through on his way home from England, whence he had been called by the death of his father, Emperor Yoshihito.

Mrs. Bryan's bravery was shown when she was captured by Indians. When Jack of water threatened the small garrison, the women calmly walked out of the protecting walls to the camp. There they filled their jars, chatting and laughing as if they were certain the Indians had gone away, when every jar was full they dashed back into the garrison before the amazed Indians in the skirting forests could muster the wit to take them.

Politicians Marshal Forces In Spain for Discussions of Proposed New Constitution

Dictatorship Will Rule Country Until "Solid Juridical Base" Exists, General Primo de Rivera Asserts

By CLARENCE DU BOIS (Associated Press Correspondent)

MADRID, Sept. 14.—Politicians are marshalling their forces for discussion of the proposed new Spanish constitution, to commence in the national assembly in October.

Opposition to the constitution and criticism of his government, especially from some labor and socialist organizations, has caused General Primo de Rivera to declare that the dictatorship, which he heads, will continue to govern Spain until there is a "simple and solid juridical basis" upon which some definite regime can be established.

"This is construed as meaning that the general intends to carry on as long as he may judge to be necessary. When he thinks he can retire without causing political turmoil in Spain he says he will do so."

Some think that will be at least two or three years hence. It might be longer. At present it seems improbable that it will be less.

Assembly to Act

The national assembly is expected after a great deal of oratory, to recommend the new constitution. The assembly is an advisory body, not intended to take final action. It can talk and suggest but cannot make laws or constitutional amendments by virtue of its members are not elected by popular vote. Most of them are appointed by the king or by the government, or automatically are members by virtue of their positions. This assembly of one chamber was created by the dictatorship to replace the Cortes, existing under the previous constitution and consisting of a senate and chamber of deputies.

The "recommendation" of the assembly will not mean that the new constitution will be effective at once. General Primo de Rivera has promised to submit it to a national referendum probably next year. It will become effective when he decides and the king decrees, which may be in 1932, according to indications at this time.

Opponents of the government said the referendum will be a cur and dried affair, a mere form, and not a real vote of the people.

Dictator Claims Support

The government, on the other hand, says the people will be allowed to express their wish regarding the new constitution. The dictator adds that he has the support of the vast majority of the people and that the opposition, while noisy, is insignificant.

This is denied by the national labor party, which in a manifesto, signed by the socialist party—but not allowed by the censor to be printed in newspapers—asserted that the opposition is overwhelmingly opposed to the dictatorship and the new constitution, but are afraid to express themselves, or are unorganized, or unable to organize for expression.

Social Reforms Loom

The proposed new constitution promises social reforms, continues the monarchy, with very strong powers, and retains the Roman Catholic church as the official religion, but without cross-tolerance.

Spain is not operated under a constitution during the Primo de Rivera dictatorship. The ruler has assumed power by the bloodless coup d'etat in September, 1923, the old constitution was in effect suspended. He promised them to give the country a new constitution and later appointed a special commission of the national assembly, which drafted the present document.

MEXICAN EDUCATOR HITS AT STANDARD SCHOOLING

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 14 (AP)—Education should develop individuality rather than imitate the best and build Mexico. Sen. under-secretary of public instruction, told state directors of education in a parallel to life itself, he said. "It should teach us to master our character, to give greater expression to our personality, our individuality, our difference of character among the people of Mexico and standardization in the best sense of the word, is something that is encouraging diversity in community life we can be ourselves."

He emphasized that an era of construction has come upon Mexico and that the time has arrived "to bring order out of confusion."

Italians Move To Halt Exodus From Mountain District

TURIN, Italy, Sept. 14 (AP)—Thoroughly alarmed by the rapid depopulation of the Italian Alps, the government is taking extensive measures to keep the inhabitants in their villages and to induce other persons to make their homes in the mountainous areas.

The attraction of the cities of the plains has proved almost too much for the old mountain folk. The Alps are becoming deserted. From 1881 to 1924, according to official figures, 1,024,000 persons, according to 1928 to 1929, Salomina from 200 to 100.

What this means to Italy was expressed by the Giornale D'Italia, a Rome daily, which said:

"The mountains in Italy are the frontier and the frontier must not be depopulated. Its zone ought to designate the linguistic boundary and to furnish an excellent guard against the invader."

"The mountains create the Alpine, who are the typical and necessary army of Italy."

Two years ago, the Government took its first step toward countering this danger by authorizing the expenditure of $2,000,000 for streets, irrigation and other improvements in the mountains. Also it passed restoration laws which in time will create a new calligraphy of forests.

Porto Rican Officials Active in Enforcement

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Sept. 14 (AP)—Violations of the national prohibition law in Porto Rico totaled 2991 according to the report of George W. Lewis, chief of Insular Police, for the year ending with June 30.

Out of 2858 trials there were 2581 convictions and only 133 cases were dismissed. The total fine of the year was $1,000,000. The Insular Police manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor in addition to the Volstead act, which applied to Porto Rico, the Insular police force of 400 men and a prohibition unit of fifty co-operate in efforts to keep the island dry.

Police Official Launches Drive To Regulate Morals of French Capital

By T. T. TOPPING (Associated Press Staff Writer)

PARIS, Sept. 14 (AP)—A police official in the throes of a tremendous drive to ward morality.

Two plays have been ruled off the boards within a week. Jean Chappard, prefect of police, in his capacity as guardian of public order and morals.

In the memory of man it is the first time that Paris theatre has been compelled to take a play off its repertoire on moral grounds. Yet not a sound was uttered about that notorious word "censor" being suppressed.

Another decree issued by M. Chappard the same week also passed almost without comment by the French press. Though it is likely, consequently, to alter the aspects of the far famed Paris boulevard within the year.

Spinning wheels are being taken from the counters of the "coco" where the customers—two cents—one may win two points of sugar, it dole or a few cents of the week after the other with a few objectionable characters. M. Chappard stepped also are the fortune tellers, palmists and other mechanical contrivances which give answers to queries concerning the character, destiny and appearance of the lady who is to have the life and suggest city in the world, but some police official Paris has had in mind where.

Baden-Powell Receives Right to Hang by Silk

LONDON, Sept. 14 (AP)—On October 13 the freedom of the city of London will be bestowed on Lord Baden-Powell, founder of the Boy Scout movement.

One of the perquisites of London freedom is the right to be hanged by a silver rope. Ordinary citizens must be content with hemp.

French Youth, Only 17, Graduates As Engineer

LILLE, Sept. 14 (AP)—Bernard-Vaudt, 17, a graduate chemical engineer at 17, is the youngest of his profession in France. His teachers thought him too young to take the final examinations but he ranked first in his class.

Fernand became interested in chemistry when only 10 years old. At 14 he entered technical school and got his diploma in three years. Now he is going after his doctor's degree.

Afterwards he will do his year's military service and then look for a job.

VISITS OF PREMIER RESULT IN OUSTING OF LAZY OFFICIALS

General Peter Zivkovitch Makes Personal Investigations

Leader Uses Plane For Travels in Jugoslavia

Right Hand Man of Ruler Seeks Government Efficiency

By GEORGE HALADIAN (Associated Press Correspondent)

BELGRADE, Sept. 14.—General Peter Zivkovitch, the iron-handed premier of the dictatorship established by King Alexander in Jugoslavia, is the most adventurous man in his country.

The dark-haired, athletic-looking premier has added a new feather to his cap. He has ordered the dismissal of a number of provincial functionaries who were driving to the old tradition, dear to Balkan officialdom, of doing far niente.

Sweeps Down Everywhere

General Zivkovitch swoops down every where to see for himself that the government machine is running smoothly. When an official is not found at his desk he is not only "fired," but forfeits his right to a pension.

Traveling in a small airplane, General Zivkovitch is making surprise visits to every town and village of the kingdom as he searches for inefficiency. The movements of—Jugoslavia's Cromwell—are carefully kept from the public. Sometimes King Alexander's right hand man appears in disguise minutes with the public, hears their views and offers suggestions.

Dismisses Officials

One of these states to a small village in Dalmatia, the premier saw the door of the small court-house wide open. He rapped on the door and found nobody. The judges, clerks, and even the doorman were away.

He remained there for two hours. When he left he scolded as severely as a ruler—message—divulging everybody from the judges down to the janitor.

MORE HOME WORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 14 (AP)—A foreign trade library of more than 1000 volumes is listed in the 1929 edition of the national foreign trade council's selected bibliography. One hundred and seventy books receive special mention and a five-foot shelf of 40 books is recommended as the indispensable. The council reports that American exporters are studying world conditions more diligently than ever before.

Labor Of Three Decades Reveals Indian Idea Of Genesis

NOTED ETHNOLOGIST OFFERS TRANSLATION OF 'IROQUOIS' EPIC

Poem Traces Red Man's Conception of Creation

Contribution to American Letters Proving Valuable

Products Throws Light On Working of Mind of Race

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—An American aboriginal narrative poem, described as the Indian "Book of Genesis," has been translated into English.

The work was completed by J. N. B. Hewitt of the bureau of American ethnology of the Smithsonian Institution, after 30 years of work.

venture of Delahavawank, an imaginary man being who is called the creator of life.

Each sentence is translated in the plain or the average reader to the benefit of the general public.

The poem traces the Indian conception of the creation of man and is expected to prove a valuable contribution to American letters both for its intrinsic literary value and for the light it throws on the workings of the Indian mind in attempting to solve the eternal problem.

The bulk of the epic relates to the origin of man and the development of the race.

They are prepared for their own appearance on earth, and the first of the human race which is said to be the first of the human race, before the dawn of primitive imagination, which is contained in the translation will compensate for this loss.

FILER FARMER GETS BIG YIELD OF QUALITY BEANS
FILER, Sept. 14—R. R. Bender, living southwest of Filer, threshed 24 acres of Great Northern beans and obtained a yield of 78 bushels. The crop was of splendid quality and cleaned out less than 4 per cent. part of the stubble. As a field of 80-85 bushels, these beans were grown from seed the second year from certification. The quality was such that they tested over 90 per cent. sound merchantable beans.

Flaxwheel in Londenry, New Hampshire
To 1710 several hundreds of emigrants coming from the north were settled at Londenry, New Hampshire. They had produced the manufacture of linen into the country, and soon left bands of the housewives in their low-clothed—merely working the little flaxwheel. Characteristic good taste and conservatism in their flax-spinning was privileged to help make the service this institution renders.
