BORAH TRAINS GUNS ON TARIFF MEASURE

CLASH WITH REED

Republican Differences Over Bill Reaches Fever Heat with Idahoan Charging Violation of Pledges

By Dr. HAROLD OLIVER (Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Republican differences over the tariff reached fever heat in the senate today as Senator Borah, Idaho, and Senator Keel, Pennsylvania, clashed over the treatment accorded agriculture and industry in the pending revision bill.

Borah, spokesman for the Republican Independent group Borah told the senate the measure was far out of line with the pledges made to agriculture by the party in its campaign, that farm products were inadequately provided for and that increases proposed in farm rates would be more than offset by raises in industrial levies.

Reed denied the bill violated President Hoover's message referring to the need of protective ingenuity manufacturing industries in the tariff measure and said Republicans on the finance committee had rewritten the home message upon the theory that "American are uneducated."

The unheralded aspect of the Idahoan came at a point in consideration of committee amendments to the administrative sections of the bill when such a move was first made by Reed to emphasize the dissatisfaction of the Western and Northwestern farm state senators with the bill. Earlier, Senator Molloy, Republican Oregon, had announced he would confer with other senators from the Northwest.

Borah said Borah is not executed in justice to the agricultural interests. Some of us believe the time is ripe when we should have a tariff act which is in line with the "protection" of the tariff act of 1922, but those representing them, he said, made the mistake of increasing the tariff and "increasing" in industrial levies. The "disparity" between agriculture and industry resulting from that bill, he argued, would be continued by the new measure.

"With industrial profits increasing, and with the farmer's income decreasing," he continued, "we have on the other hand the constantly falling price of wheat and other agricultural products. He placed the blame of the steel industry on the tariff act of 1922."

Borah agreed the farmers got all they could under the McKinley tariff act of 1922, but those representing them, he said, made the mistake of increasing the tariff and "increasing" in industrial levies. The "disparity" between agriculture and industry resulting from that bill, he argued, would be continued by the new measure.

Banker in Custody

C. D. WAGGONER, Banker, Sought in Connection with Financial Manipulations Involving New York Banks, Arrested in Newcastle, Wyoming

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—An indictment containing six counts and charging mail fraud, was returned today against Charles D. Waggoner, president of the Bank of Twin Falls, Idaho, by a federal grand jury probing the method by which Waggoner fraudulently obtained $500,000 credit in six New York banks.

All of the counts relate to specific use of the mails by Waggoner in his manipulation and the indictment charged that Waggoner had obtained the money by means of a scheme or artifice.

The indictment shows how Waggoner, small town banker, allegedly had his scheme carried through to the embarrassment of six big banks of the country.

Lay Plans Carefully

Waggoner made the first move in his plan late in May, the grand jury found, by writing the Chase National Bank, which he might need $200,000 in large bills in the near future and asking advice on how to identify himself if he called for the money. This was given. Then a month later he again wrote the bank, saying that a matter was pending which would necessitate his presence in New York within 30 or 40 days and that he would require $200,000 in cash.

This grand jury laid the grand jury bill, he had telegraphed sent presumably from six other banks, to their correspondent banks in New York, ordering the transfer of the money to Waggoner's credit. Before the customary time elapsed, which would have shown the transfer of the money to Waggoner's credit, he had telegraphed sent presumably from six other banks, to their correspondent banks in New York, ordering the transfer of the money to Waggoner's credit.

"For years the salary scale in Idaho schools has been too low to draw men to the profession," he said. "The result has been that the quality of the teaching has been lowered and the dignity of teaching as an occupation has been lowered."

He pointed to increasing enrollment of men students in both normal schools as recognition of the new salary level.

"Feminine Influence Essential

Though conceding that feminine influence was essential in the school room, especially in the lower grades, Commissioner Vincent declared that students of both sexes should be taught at least two times during their eight grade course.

"Boys particularly need control by the firm hand of a man teacher," he said. "The greater amount of delinquency among boys than among girls is often attributed to the lack of a man teacher, to give a boy a sterner view of things."

"Women teachers imbue in students a sense of the artistic and sentimental phases of life. They emphasize sentimentality. They emphasize femininity to be modified by masculine influence, however, to save our boys from being led out into merely 'good boys' instead of men," he said.

Lest Position of Evacuating Troops Be Filled

(By The Associated Press)

COBLENZ, Germany, Sept. 16.—Despite denial in various quarters there will be no evacuation of the Rhineland, French troops take the places of the evacuating British forces in Wiesbaden and the suburbs. The evacuation was expected today at the offices of the German commissioner, Baron Langeworth von Bismmer, who is in command of the military for the occupied area and the interrelated Rhineland commission.

Baron von Bismmer referred the correspondence to Councilor Knuch, his right hand man, who said:

"Our greatest concern now is not the Rhineland evacuation which is proceeding as scheduled, but what may follow it."

Many Anxious Inquiries

"From all over the Rhineland anxious inquiries have reached us in the course of the day whether it is true that the French troops take the places of the evacuating British forces in Wiesbaden and the suburbs. The evacuation was expected today at the offices of the German commissioner, Baron Langeworth von Bismmer, who is in command of the military for the occupied area and the interrelated Rhineland commission."

Twin Falls Men Win Marksmanship Title

Army Officers Recognize 27 Idaho Shooters as Firearms Authorities

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (Special to The News)—Twenty-seven Idaho men, including four from Twin Falls, are today recognized by United States army officers as authorities on firearms and marksmanship. Including the Idahoans there are more than 1,000 who are in the United States who are qualified in the use of firearms and who are permitted to give instruction to others in their use.

The graduates demonstrated their command of firearms in the matches which followed the close of the school. Never before in the history of the national matches, which began in 1903, has a higher marksmanship shown to such great advantage on the rifle range in competition with the marksmen of the regular service. In every event in which their civilian, amateur status was shown, they were especially evident among the leaders and many of the principal winners were awarded.

himself clearly to this strange type of life. Motorists have had like experience with chickens on the road, though in their case it is less serious for the human. Cows are another and more troublesome obstacle.

Little by little, however, these difficulties are being overcome. The farmer is learning to handle his chickens and cows with more confidence and to cross the road in front of them.

It is not the same with birds and planes.

SOCIETY AND CLUBS

Mrs. E. B. Williams Phone 396

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Williams on Blue Lake Boulevard was the scene of a charmingly appointed dinner Saturday evening.

On Friday afternoon, September thirteenth, Mrs. Ralph Taylor entertained the Lent-A-Hand Club.

By a staff of intricate, fine two-station men are able to work together and use their joint power for the spiritual and material benefit of the world.

General Ashburn, chairman of the Inland-Northern Waterway Corporation, which operates a steamship line on the lower Mississippi river, complains that navigation on that route is very bad because of low water.

He blames the situation on the lack of water received by the Mississippi from Lake Michigan through the Chicago drainage canal.

POWER LINE BRINGS QUESTION OF WIDTH OF ALLEY TO FOCUS

Block 2-Property Owners, Jones Addition, Apply to City Council for Action on Uniform Thoroughfare

Extension of a power line through an alley in the Jones addition to Twin Falls has brought to the attention of the city council a question of the width of the alley. Twin Falls city council members in regular session last evening were told by E. R. Smith, spokesman for the property owners, that the alley in Block 2, which fronts on the north of Addison street and is bounded on the east by Lewis street and on the west by Elm street. In block 1, which fronts on the north on Addison Avenue and is bounded on the west by Blue Lakes boulevard, the same alley is 20 feet wide.

The power line, as proposed, will stand in the middle of the alley in block 2 if that alley is widened as is latered, and not if it was altered. The matter was referred to the city attorney to determine into official records and plans, and to effect an action at a subsequent city meeting.

Water Users Under Fire

Although the city council last night decided that no additional water service should be supplied outside Twin Falls municipal limits, three owners of property on Blue Lakes boulevard north outside the limits, will receive service because they had paid for their connections with the municipal water system before the decree was issued. Report to this effect was made to the city council last evening by a committee composed of E. C. Latham, city engineer and H. R. Grant, previously named by the council to investigate applications in such cases.

The applicants who got under the wire in this manner were John B. Lutzer, B. F. Angel and A. J. Campbell. Restriction of water service to city limits was ordered because it was determined the limit of the capacity of the city's water system at the peak season, June 1928, was 1,000,000 gallons.

Two Builders' Permits

Council approved two applications for building permits on Tuesday. One was for the construction of an office building to cost $350 on Second Avenue south, and the other for A. H. Lehman, 612 Third Avenue west, for construction of a garage to cost $130. A $1075 bill for street lighting during

SMITH FAVORS BORAH MARKETING MEASURE

Congressman Endorses Idaho Solons' Bill Licensing Dealers in Farm Produce

Strong endorsement was given yesterday by Congressman Addison T. Smith to the bill to prevent fraudulent practices in the marketing of agricultural products, introduced in the Senate by Senator Borah. The bill is now pending in the Senate and is now pending in the House of Representatives. Mr. Smith introduced a bill in the lower house similar to the Borah bill but has given away the senatorial measure, which he believes will be passed next month shortly after Congress reconvenes.

Speaking of the matter yesterday, Mr. Smith said: "It is of importance in the matter of farm retail legislation to the law enacted during the early part of the present special session is Senator Borah's bill to suppress fraudulent and fraudulent practices in the marketing of perishable agricultural commodities in interstate and foreign commerce, which passed the Senate on June 14 last. It provides that all commission merchants or others who receive perishable agricultural commodities on commission or on behalf of another person for interstate or foreign shipment shall be required to purchase a federal license which shall entitle him to do business as a commission merchant, dealer or broker."

"It also provides that it shall be unlawful for such merchant, dealer or broker to fail to deliver in accordance with the terms of the contract for sale the proceeds of such sale. He is also prohibited from dumping or destroying any perishable agricultural commodity without reasonable cause; or to make any false or misleading statement to the consignee as to the quantity or disposition of the commodity or the condition of the market; or to falsely represent that the commodity received in interstate shipment was produced in a state or country other than the actual place of such production. The legislation also provides that the box wrapper or container shall be marked with the name of the state or country in which such commodity was produced. If the commodity is received in what appears to be in an unsatisfactory condition, the inspector of agricultural products in the district must be notified in order that an official inspection may be made; after which the shipper must be notified by the consignee of the condition of the shipment, a penalty of

Afternoon, although forestry officials believe they were safe. They were last heard from yesterday noon and were in the Lake district at that time. Forest fire raged in the vicinity of the telephone system cut the group of men any communication with Elacanta. The district forester said the considerable area of burned over land, now cool, would afford the men a haven in case flames surrounded them.

Every able-bodied man in Elacanta spent last night and today on the fire line. For a time today, forestry officials were kept busy in the vicinity of Elacanta. In the face of a heavy wind later in the day this wind died down, the only possible chance the town had of escaping destruction.

"It is believed that the proposed legislation will insure to shippers full returns on their commodities and will prevent frauds which in the past have been perpetrated by unscrupulous dealers. The legislation has the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture and the shippers, and it is believed to be generally satisfactory to the commission merchants throughout the country."
