Billie Dove in Talking Film at Orpheum Theatre

A dramatic role of great glory is portrayed by Billie Dove in her newest First National-Vitaphone picture, "Her Private Life." It is written by Irving Berlin, which comes to the Orpheum Theatre in London. The story moves to the colorful background of English country life where Miss Dove portrays a titled English woman. Then the nation swings to New York, where the heroine is shown parting with her jewels so that she may get "Only at the Dawn" upon the horizon.

It is a role that is by far the most difficult that this beauty of the screen has portrayed, and her coming of "Her Private Life" will be greeted with interest by her many admirers in this city.

Miss Dove has a new leading man in "Her Private Life." He is Walter Judgson, former stage favorite, and he is ideal as the handsome lover in this story. Judgson sings the theme song.

The fine supporting cast includes Montague Love, Holmes-Herbert, Taliaferro, and the Todd Trio. Miss Mary Forbes and Brandon Hurst.

The picture is 100 per cent dialogue, and is Miss Dove's third all-dialogue screen offering.

Now showing at the Idaho Theatre, "Little Lulu" questioned by prosecutor, who innocently of events preceding the death of Phillipa that cause his daddy's conviction for manslaughter.

Nash Motors Company Gets Out New Models

Find a Way to Stop Attack of Pits

KENOSHA, Wis., Oct. 5.—A twin-cylinder motor car, the most important presentation of three new 7000-cylinder models for 1930, introduced to the morning public today by the Nash Motors company. Built with the sound experience that has made Nash engineering a standard, these three new lines of cars, on five wheelbase lengths and in three price fields mark a startling advancement. Three complete groups—the twin-cylinder eight, the twin-cylinder six and the single six—are included in this new line. Highest standards in body building are set by the new and finer bodies, so carefully engineered to each type of car, and a score of important, but perfectly coordinated, advances in design and equipment await the practical appraisal of experienced motorists. Introduction of the Nash 7000-cylinder car presents the product of more than three years intensive study and experiment by Nash engineers and one which embraces advances in eight-cylinder design and performance obtainable in any motor car built today. It is powered by an eight-cylinder engine, valve-in-head, nine-bearing motor, with an intricately counter-balanced, hollow-pin crankshaft, with aluminum alloy taper pistons and aluminum alloy connecting rods, equipped at the crankshaft end with cast-iron steel, a motor that develops 100 horsepower in its 2884 cubic inches of displacement and matches its amazing power and speed with surprising quietness, smoothness, ease of control and fuel economy. Nash Eight carburetion has been brought back to peak efficiency through dual manifold and a new "rich fuel" speed jet that cuts in at 50 miles per hour to maintain maximum fuel economy in the higher ranges. New features of the eight-cylinder engine—steel packed and helical-spring springs individually tailored to the weight of each car; cable-actuated, internal expanding 4-wheel brakes which are self-energizing, both forward and backward; the world's finest, warm and roller steering system; automatic, thermostatically controlled radiator shutters; Bijur centralized lubrication system, which automatically oils 21 chassis points.

Pat Malone to Pit Speed Against Ace Grove of Athletics

Two Artists of Fast Ball Business Steamed Up and Ready to Begin Shooting Streaks of Lightning

By JAY VESSELS Sports Editor
(Associated Press Feature Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Speed ball pitching comes back to the world series spotlight this year for the first time since Walter Johnson burned 'em over back in 1924 and 1925.

Two artists of this fast-ball business—Pat Malone of the Cubs and Lefty Grove of the Athletics—are all steamed up and ready to begin shooting streaks of lightning when the 1929 classic opens in Chicago on October 8.

What they have to offer in the line of speed may be on display no later than the first game. Grove looks better than a 60-50 shot to open for the "A's" and "Singe" Day "Bub" has been plugged for late Malone may be picked to start for the Cubs.

Lead in Strikeouts
Both Malone and Bush lead their leagues in strikeouts. And it takes super-speed to rate this ranking with such stars as Vance, former major league strikeout king, competing against George Earnshaw and George Ippigraz in Chicago for American league strikeout honors.

The two kings of speed have more than their 1929 performances to recommend them as strikeout artists.

When it comes to setting the boys back on strike, Grove stands alone in the American league. He has led the league in this department for four straight seasons. He whiffed 194 in 1926, 174 in 1927, 182 in 1928 and, on September 10, had 101 to his credit for 1929.

Malone has had a big league only two seasons but he has shown the boys some smoke in that brief period. He fanned 155 last year, finishing second to Vance.

This year the Chicago man has a clear field in the league strikeout title. Pat had 156 in the bag on September 15.

If these big boys get started on the same day, great ball pitching may be one of the series' greatest attractions.

Give either, or both, one of these dark, cloudy October afternoons and there may be a day off for the remainder of the team.

Rajah Poor Showman; Still Learning at 33

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Great Hornsby is one of the poorest showmen on the Chicago team.

He makes no unnecessary gestures on the playing field and never bids for attention.

That doesn't mean that he goes unnoticed, for it would be pretty hard to have a slugger like Hornsby around without having him dominate the spotlight.

Although the Rajah is one of the game's greatest players he still is learning. Few believed that Joe McCarthy, the Cubs manager, who never played major league baseball, could teach Hornsby anything about the game.

But the Cubs' manager, who himself was a member of a second baseman club in the American association, taught Rogers how to cover more ground to his left and overcome one of his few weaknesses.

"Home Run" Baker Hero of Series When As Defeated Giants in 1911

By JOHN H. HEITINGER (Associated Press Staff Writer)
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5 (AP)—Home run hitless of today never received more enthusiastic acclaim than did Franklin Baker, the home run sensation of the world's series of 1911.

Baker in the classic games between the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York Giants, the second meeting of those old rivals in a world series, won one contest for the American league on a homer and saved another by putting a four-base drive by the ninth inning with one out. His team benefited by the seventh-inning run by Baker's help.

At the moment Baker was to the fans what Babe Ruth has been to the sports of today. His mighty and accurate hitting enabled the Athletics to win the series, four games to two.

The home run hitler of the Athletics won the second game of the series with a mighty hit in the sixth inning off one of Babe Marquardt's offerings: Eddie Collins, who had doubted, was on second when Baker, with the count one and one, lifted a low pitch over the right field wall of Sube park.

The score at the time was tied at 1 to 1 and the game ended 3 to 1.

The game Baker saved was the third when he played on the Polo grounds in New York. The wonderful Marquardt had been pitching fine ball. The score was one to nothing in favor of the Giants with Jack Coombs pitching even better than Matty. With one out and a run needed to tie in the ninth inning, the much-feared Baker came to bat. Matty got two strikes on him and that was all for Baker sent the next pitch crashing into the right field stand.

Modest Maulers May Steal Show in Coming World Series

WHO'S WHO
Cubs

Joe McCarthy says he remembers having done nothing but play baseball when he was a kid.

He became a manager at the age of 25, taking charge of the Wilkes-Barre team.

McCarthy managed the Louisville team in 1928. He is 47 years old.

Clayton Kimm was one of these 17-year-old beauties. He signed with Connie Mack at that age but never played with the A's. He is 30 and sets credit for making the team.

Boyers Hornaby batted better than the four consecutive years, won seven batting championships in 14 seasons and has a life-time big league batting average of .368. He is 33.

Sped on the paths, a deadly cog and better than the average batting ability make 29-year-old Haen Cuyler a great ball player.

Jack Wilson at 20 is one of the biggest hitters in the league. He is noted for slugging in a great big way and is noted for the number of homers he counts as well as for the numbers of times he runs.

One of the best ball players. Dick Thomas produces big home runs.

Pat Malone was such a cutoff in the minors that the majors passed him up.

Charlie Root, another one of the 20-year-olds with the Cubs, originally was a first ball pitcher. He picked up a curve four years ago and won 30 games in 1927.

Mike Gonzales has been in the majors about 16 years. When the Grands dropped him seven years ago, he slipped to the minors but climbed back up after two years. He has been a big help to the Cubs this season.

Reggie English, the leger among the Cub regulars, was starting for Toledo at 19 when Joe McCarthy discovered him. He is 23 now and rates as a coming star.

The Cubs picked up Norving Meximan in the grand slam for some kind of a third baseman. He proved to be just the man they were looking for. He broke in as a major league regular at 32.

Sheffey Blake is the boy who stepped out to stardom in 1928 when the Cubs all but grabbed the National league pennant. He has taken it a big catch this year. He is 33.

Harold Carlson was virtually useless to the Cubs in 1928 but he started winning this year and finished in good style. He is 33.

Zack Taylor was just another ball player until the Cubs picked him up in mid-season. His catching helped put the Braves way out in front. He is 31.

Series Opener Rainy? 50-50, Say Prophets

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (AP)—The chances are 50-50 that it won't rain in the world series opening day.

The weather bureau, like a loyal fan, has flung it out.

In the last 10 years there have been two October 4's that were clear, three on which a trace of rain fell and two when the clouds did some serious weeping.

As for temperature, it's 40 to 44 that it will be above by degrees. The average temperature for October 8 in the last 10 years has been 60.5 degrees.

The late closing of the majors is making it hard on the players who usually pick up exhibition game money in the fall.

Connie Mack—Half-Owner

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5 (AP)—Connie Mack has had a financial interest in the A's since he first became associated with the club in 1901. He has been half-owner for the last 15 years.

Cuyler Out to Get Record for Steals

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—Haen Cuyler, former champion base stealer of the National league, can set a new record for a single series by stealing seven sacks in the coming series.

Jim Blake of the old Cubs stole six bases in 1907 to set a record that still stands.

Cuyler will be the fastest man in the field during the series and should easily lead in stolen bases.

BABE'S DISTANCE HITTING LEADS

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—Babe Ruth holds the record for the most bases in the coming series.

He has registered in the world's series, two triples and five doubles in the series in which he played.

Town University's gridiron coach brought out 150 yearlings, the largest number. The Hawks have had in recent years. One hundred fifty cornered.

Johnny Park, Wisconsin football captain, spent the summer at a tourist guide in Paris. It was his first visit to the land.

Night football sounds like something ultra-modern, but the lights illuminated the field for a game between Southwest Missouri Teachers college and the Cherokee Indian team in 1904.

Soft-Spoken Young Players May Shine In Nearing Series

Rates .000 As Talkers But .360 When Swinging Will

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—Two soft-spoken, soft-spoken young players who leave it to their bats to do their "talking" sum out as prospective stars in the 1929 world's series.

They are Regies Stephenson of the Cubs and Jimmy Foxx of the Athletics last season.

As talkers they hit about .000 but when it comes to swinging the bat they will be able to take care of their own hit production as well as that of one of two teammates, perhaps.

This pair of right-handed hitters have been the very backbone of the batting attacks of the two pennant winners. Foxx has been hovering around the top of the league in batting since the 1927 season.

He was out in front most of the season and was doing his bravest hitting when it was needed, when such clubs as the Yankees needed some good sound slugging to keep them suppressed.

Jimmy eased up during the closing days of the season and his average dropped from around .360 to in the vicinity of the .300 mark.

They call Stephenson "Old Moss" Stephenson. That old plugging style that has been getting the batting and running results for the Cubs for the last four years has made J. Regie one of the most feared of big league hitters.

"Old Moss" is one of those gems Joe McCarthy spotted in his managerial days in the American association. J. Regie rewarded his benefactor by hitting .341 in 1926, .344 in 1927, .323 in 1928 and around .300 in 1929.

Jimmy and J. Regie are "planted" down in the center of the batting order where their hits produce runs. Jimmy bats fifth and J. Regie sixth.

Boston Ball Club Never Lost Series

BOSTON, Oct. 5 (AP)—The Boston team has never lost a world series since its organization in 1901.

The Red Sox have won four pennants and four world's championships.

WHO'S WHO Athletics

Connie Mack learned baseball from the ground up. He broke into the major league as a Washington catcher in 1881. He became manager of the Athletics in 1909.

He won pennants in 1902, 1903, 1910, 1911, 1913, 1914 and 1929. His team became world champions by defeating the Cincinnati Reds in 1905 and 1913.

Mickey Cochrane has no superior in the catching business. And his hitting was one of the best in the annals of the batting order. He is 30.

Ledy Grove is the American league's greatest outfield specialist. This is his fourth season he has led the league. His age is 29.

Al Simmons, whose unorthodox batting stance amused the boys when he first broke into the majors is doing the longstop now. He is a home run collector and a bear at driving in runs. He is 28.

George Barnshaw grew up on the sidewalks of New York. He succeeded Ledy Grove as the ace of the Baltimore hurling staff and then followed Grove to the A's four years later.

Jimmy Foy is only 2 years old but he has been playing professional baseball for six years. He came to the A's in 1923 but "bail" trouble breaking into the lineup until last year.

Jimmy Dykes is one of the best all-around infielders in the game. He has played every position in the infield this year. He is 22.

East and West Even in World Series Triumphs

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5 (AP)—The east and west are tied in world series victories. Each has won four since the present system of conducting the games was instituted.

Football isn't holding its head very high at the University of Chicago this year. The Maroons upset Princeton in 1927, they met again this year. We haven't a fair chance," Coach Slagg predicts.

New York boxing critics were inclined to blame Vincenzo Campolo's inexperience for his surprise defeat at the hands of Elmer Stryker.

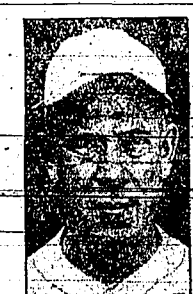

Duzy Vance's late season come-back has returned him to the good graces of the Brooklyn club.

The pennant winner Fort-Smith, Arkansas baseball club of the Western association was composed entirely of youngsters, the oldest 24 years.

Cubs and Athletics vie Again After Interim of 19 Years

Two Noted Actors Of Diamond Drama In 1910 Playing On

Approaching Battle for Supreme Honors in National Sport Recalls Famous Names of Yesteryears

By WALTER BROWN
(Associated Press Feature Service Writer)

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Nineteen years ago the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Athletics met in the world series, the American league entry winning four games to one.

Two of the actors in that diamond drama, Eddie Collins and Connie Mack still are under the "big top". Several of them, including Frank Chance, Cub manager, are dead.

When the Cubs and Athletics clash again this fall, Collins will be an incidental figure, catching Athletic runners, and perhaps pinch hitting occasionally.

Once since 1910 the Chicago Nationals have won the league pennant. The w. r. year 1918, Mack, however, won the American league flag three times after 1910, breaking up his great outfit in 1914. He knew the cellar seven years before his present machine began to take form.

A procession of managers have passed through Chicago since Chance quit the Cubs in 1912, Johnny Evers, Hank O'Day, Roger Bresnahan, Joe Mauer, Fred Meyer, Bill Killebrew, Rabbit Maraville and George Gibson. Jack Coombs, Athletic star pitcher, won three games from the Cubs in the 1910 series. Chief Bender, accounting for the other. The Chief was charged with the one loss.

Bender Bests Orvill
Bender bested Orville Orvill, 4-1, in the first game, and Coombs out-pitched "Three Fingers" Brown in the second, 2-0. After a day of traveling, Coombs again pitched and won, 12-5, the Cubs using Ed Reardon, McIntyre and Eflinger.

Chance used King Cole, now dead, who was then a recruit in the fourth game and he held the Athletics for eight innings, giving way for a pinch hitter with the score tied. Brown recovered him and the Cubs won in the fifth, 4-2.

Two days of rest enabled Coombs to annex his third game, 7-2. The series was the last for the great Cub machine which had won four league pennants and two world's series titles.

Uses Only 12 Men
Mack used only 12 players in the series. Harry Davis was of first, Eddie Collins, second, Jack Barry, shortstop and Frank Baker, third, and Amos Strunk, Topy Hartel, Ernie Lord and Ed Murphy in the outfield.

Chance had himself at first, Zimmerman at second in place of Evers who never played in the series. The regular season, Joe Tinker, short, Harry Steinfield, third, and Jimmy Sheppard, Frank Shulte and Arlie Hoffman in the outfield. Leno for the Athletics and Arabe and Keene were the Cub catchers.

Harry Krause, an Athletic recruit pitcher of that year, still is doing mound duty, playing with Los Angeles this year.

"Bat" Battalino, now featherweight champion, will spend a year barnstorming before meeting any of the top notchers, he said.

Caustic Pieces As Sports Writer Prove Starter for Cubs' Leader

By CHARLES W. DUNKLEY
Chicago, Oct. 5.—Once there was a baseball reporter who knew more about running the home town club than the man who got paid for the job.

And that's how William L. Veck, president of the Chicago Cubs, got his job.

Back in 1918 Bill was writing baseball for the Chicago Evening American. His specialty was finding things wrong with the Cubs and talking about them in print. But his criticism was constructive.

One day when Veck was on his way to the press box to cover a game he met William Wrigley, owner of the team.

"You seem to know so much about running a ball club," said Wrigley, referring to the caustic criticism Veck had written that day, "how would you like to have the job?"

Veck, stunned for a second, quickly recovered and accepted. He was hired on the spot.

Bill nobody calls him William, no one called himself for the myriad duties of handling a big league club by engaging in such occupations as a newspaper, a drug store apprentice, a printer's devil, or a few other things and finally as a baseball reporter. He was born in Booneville, Indiana, some 40 odd years ago, of Dutch parents.

When Bill started writing for the Evening American, the managing editor thought Veck wanted a catchy name for the public to remember and he told him to write under the name of "Bill Bates" which he did with Wrigley, who was quietly scouting around for a man with baseball knowledge, picked him as vice-president, Fred Mitchell, now manager, near the time of president.

Six months later Veck ascended to the throne and the drawing power of the Cubs today is the answer. The team has continuously shattered attendance records in the league since his taking over.

Veck has a remarkable preparation

Denver University Beats Miners, 7-0

By FRANK H. FRAWLEY (Associated Press Sports Writer) DENVER, Oct. 5.—Denver university won its first Rocky Mountain conference football game under the tutelage of Jeff Cravath, the Southern California star, by trampling the Colorado miners under foot today, 7-0.
Denver stopped the dynamic Floyd Carr, all-conference half back, and in doing that insured itself against possible success in the second half.
Denver never had a scoring chance. One of its players never got past the Pioneer 35-yard line in fact. Denver led away at first by good scoring chances, but capitulated in the third period for their only score.

BOZEMAN, Mont., Oct. 5.—Joe Call, fleet quarterback, piloted the football team of Utah Aggies to a hard fought 9-0 victory over Montana State here today in the first Rocky Mountain conference football game this year for either view.
Utah's attack created several scoring opportunities by sending the ball out of bounds close to scoring line in punt exchanges, but likewise, it blew away potential touchdowns via the air.

Result of Week's Games in South Central Idaho District Likely to Cause Difficulty At Season's End

Out of the game result of last Friday comes a situation with out-of-the-ordinary character. The result of the week's games in the late hour electricity by the board of control, in the west end of the district Jerome, Filer and Twin Falls are undefeated, in the East, Rupert and Albion have the same happy condition. The schedule arrangement is such that three, and possibly four teams can come to the end of the scheduled games without a defeat. Then, because of the rules governing the selection of the district champions in time for the game for state honors, the selective games will have to follow rapidly.

Jerome coach of Fossilville, G. W. Denny Kline's men have scored better than a point in the last game. In the power an achievement that needs a powerful and speed back field behind a willing working line. Norby is known from last year, and is going hard. G. Nitting and Tommie seem to have found themselves and will be watching for honors. Rupert's schedule includes Burley and Burley of the district team, and from these games some basis for comparison can be made.

The game between Twin Falls and Burley indicates that Coach Jones has the Bruins headed out of the individual 80-yard run idea and accepting the plan of a few yards at a time. It means that the game will be a game of plugging in a game policy. That sort of play is apt to give concern to those who are watching the game. It is not a game of plugging in a game policy. That sort of play is apt to give concern to those who are watching the game. It is not a game of plugging in a game policy. That sort of play is apt to give concern to those who are watching the game.

Jerome took the measure of Shoshone yesterday, 23 to 0, with the hard-hitting Barber at full for Shoshone. Coach White opened a nice-looking game with Cal as his alternate, and his player last now is probably the most dependable punter in the district. Dellinger is the ball packer, a shifty lad who can stand a lot of news. Rupert ran away with St. Joseph's.

Proof that Oakland is America's finest medium-priced automobile
The following facts were obtained from a comparison of the Oakland All-American Six with other medium-priced automobiles. All told, 272 individual comparisons were made. On these, Oakland proved to be distinctly superior in 451 or 51.37 per cent. The 20 cars compared with Oakland crashed through in the last period, recovered a touchdown—punt and turned it into a touchdown.

Making today's Oakland the SMOOTHEST car in its field

In the entire field of medium-priced automobiles there is no car so smoothly smooth, so completely free from vibration as today's Oakland All-American Six. This is due in part to its basic design. But there are two Oakland developments which contribute to the superlative smoothness of the All-American Six. These are the Harmonic Balancer and Oakland's patented rubber "biscul" engine mountings. The Harmonic Balancer neutralizes torsional vibration in the crankshaft. The rubber "biscul" engine mountings completely insulate the engine from frame and body. And these mountings, together with Oakland's practice of transmitting the power from the engine to the rear axle through rubber, have the effect of preventing even the slightest tremor being relayed to the body.

If you expect to buy a new car soon, smoothness is one of the first qualities you will want. Let us show you by a demonstration how wonderfully smooth the Oakland is under all conditions—quite runner hard even on the roughest roads. It is America's finest medium-priced automobile!

RUBBER ENGINE MOUNTINGS
Only Oakland in the entire field employs rubber "biscul" insulators. While others claim rubber mountings, none offers such realness and permanent freedom from vibration as Oakland.

HARMONIC BALANCER
Only Oakland and one other car in the field have the Harmonic Balancer. Of 13 cars using some other device, 11 are higher priced than Oakland. Oakland's crankshaft is fully counterweighted. The crankshaft is in nine higher-priced cars but not counterweighted at all.

PISTON DISPLACEMENT
Oakland's 218 cubic inch piston displacement is greater than that of the 20 cars in the price class. Of the remaining cars, 7 are much higher priced.

CRANKCASE VENTILATION
While most cars in the field have crankcase ventilation, only Oakland and one other according to available information have any method for cleaning the air. Seven cars in the field have no crankcase ventilation, although three of them exceed Oakland in price.

BRAKES
Only Oakland and one other car in its field use the type of brakes which Oakland employs. And no car in the field equals Oakland's 200 square inch brake area. Oakland's separate emergency brake operates on the transmission. Seven cars in the field have no separate emergency brake, although three of them exceed Oakland in price.

Hunters Face Shortage of Chinese Pheasants in Idaho

Travellers Report Birds Not In Large Numbers As Before

Twin Falls One of Fifteen Counties First to Open Season; Sections in Utah Getting Start On Game

(By The Associated Press)
DOES THE shortage of Chinese pheasants may have leantened better how to find, or maybe there aren't just as many of them, but travelers report the pheasant counties declare this year's crop is not as much in evidence as it was last year.

The season opens in most southern Idaho counties on October 15 and continues to November 25. In certain others it continues from November 1 to 20 and some only from November 1 to 15. The shorter seasons are generally in southeastern eastern and North Idaho.

Counties Open Uniformly
This year there will be comparatively small sections where the season opens much in advance of the others. Last year the Twin Falls-Gooding section opened two weeks in advance of the balance of the state and resulted in a concentrated fire on the birds there that pleased not the heart of the game conservationists. However, there seems to have been plenty of the birds left at the end of the season.

Some of the boys are getting shooting in their counties for the first time and for them the hunting will have all the freshness of a new game. It's great play, this hunting in your back yard.

Along with this it might be mentioned that some sections of Utah are getting a good start on the birds. South of Salt Lake City there has always been some shooting though quail provided most of the game. In eastern Boxelder county, however, a few were rouled out last fall and it gave the Oregon and Fremont hunters such a thrill that they are encouraging the planting of more youngsters in the hills.

15 Counties Open
In Idaho, those counties opening to hunters on October 15 include: Ada, Adams, Blaine, Canyon, Cassia, Elmore, Gem, Gooding, Jerome, Lincoln, Minidoka, Owyhee, Payette, Twin Falls and Washington.

Those open from November 1 to November 20 include: Blaine, Fremont, Jefferson, Madison and that portion of Power county lying north and west of Snake river.

North Idaho counties having hunting from November 1 to November 30 include: Clearwater, Idaho, Latah, Lewis and Nez Perce.

Tonight found the boys pouring out into the hills in search of deer to be taken in on the opening day tomorrow. The crop is reported plentiful but in some sections not so far because of the hot summer robbing the animals of much of their browsing. Lack of snow in the upland sections will make the trail hard for those who intend to get on matter how far they have to go. Later snows will force the animals down the hill side for from punch hunters.

The same snow that brings the deer down may also bring the ducks down—both from the north and from the stars. Hunters who went out from this section of the state...

tion of the opening day reported the need of large bore guns with a mile range, especially after the ducks get kind of just what at the shooting was about.

Massong Will Meet Twin Falls Fighter

Max Massong, Jr., Yakima, and Ernie Woolley will headline the next Legion boxing card to be staged here October 22. Promoter Duncan Johnston received a telegram from Massong last night indicating his willingness to trade away with Twin Falls pride. These two had fought for 10 rounds last July at Nampa and the decision was a draw. Massong has the distinction of being the only man to have won a draw with Woolley.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—In an uphill battle, America's only Chinese hospital has won its way into the confidence and respect of Chinatown.

From the start—four years ago—it was good enough to get air "falling from the American Hospital association but there were a lot of questions that remained to be answered to the satisfaction of the oriental mind.

In that transplanted colony of some 14,000 souls there was faith in the prowess of the herbalist in drawing poisons from wounds and treating gangrene.

The disciple of the old country school of medicine wanted to know why one-legged people were numerous in other sections of the city but a center along Grant avenue on a hill-headed Indians.

Where they might have answered American physicians, that there are few Chinese engaged in hazardous occupations and that the herbalist is given to preserving a limb in order to form a livelihood rather than to sever it, even though it were better severed, or even that often times the patient dies in preference to parting with any part of his anatomy, the management of the hospital plucked along treating the ailing and trying to improve the sanitary and hygienic conditions of the colony.

Perhaps the best opportunity to win converts came when the mother of twins died and the hospital assumed the responsibility of rearing them.

These one-year-old hospital mascots, Douglas and Edwin, have become the pride of Chinatown. They sleep and awake by the clock, and are carried by the count and exercise and play in the most approved manner.

Physicians have pronounced them 100 per cent perfect, physically and mentally and Chinatown has taken them to its heart. Their vigorous health has helped establish the faith of scientists in methods of rearing children in the arms of the local Chinese and has given them confidence in the hospital.

The institution is manned almost 100 per cent by Chinese. Perry Newton Ho, an American educated Chinese, is the superintendent.

AUSTRALIAN SEEKS TO CUT AMERICAN TRADE BALANCE

SYDNEY, Oct. 5 (AP)—With 1928 figures showing a trade balance in favor of the United States of about $185,000,000, Australia is trying to find means for importing less from America. Several weeks before his cabinet came a political cropper over the law to repeal Federal industrial arbitration, Stanley M. Bruce, prime minister, warned the country that a flood of cheap articles might be expected to result from the repeal of the tariff.

He appealed especially for Australian auto manufacturers, saying that if the home industrialists would undertake to make parts, and gradually work up to the production of complete cars, the government would stop the importation of cars containing parts that could be obtained here.

A goodly portion of Australia's imports consist of American automobiles. Now plans are being made for more production and one Melbourne company has announced the manufacture of a car cheaper than any as good as any American car offered in Australia.

This Business of Buying a Tire

By C. E. Lind

DON'T BE CONFUSED BY PRICE TALK. It is possible to make a tire of your size in perhaps 20 different grades to sell at 20 different prices. And the cheapest one to the eye might look almost as good as the most expensive. (But what a difference in service!)

CONSIDER A FEW FACTS. The company which builds the most tires certainly can produce at lowest costs. That's logical, isn't it? Well, that company is Goodyear. And Goodyear, if it desired, could build any of the different-possible grades in your size, and undersell the whole field on each grade.

INSTEAD OF THIS, HOWEVER, the world's largest rubber company has studied car-owners' needs and has standardized on several grades in Goodyear Tires. Each of these grades is superior to other makes of corresponding price, because of the economies Goodyear effects through building millions more tires than any other company.

THE PROOF OF THIS is the fact that, for 19 years more people have ridden on Goodyear Tires, than on any other kind.

IT ALL GETS DOWN TO THE QUESTION OF what grade tire your driving needs require or how much you want to pay. You'll always find, in Goodyear Tires, the best combination of quality and price. A lower price than a Goodyear offers is a sure sign of a whole lot lower quality. A higher price than on a Goodyear is just paying somebody for applesauce.

Britain's Railroads Move to Improve Freight Equipment

ODD ASSORTMENT OF BOX CARS FEATURES SYSTEM IN ENGLAND

Light "Wagons," Privately Owned, Not Popular With Companies

$500,000,000 Necessary to Effect Replacements

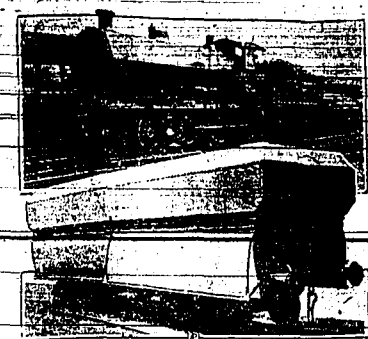

Carriers Not in Keeping With Efficient Passenger Service

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Oct. 5.—Modernization of Britain's railroads, which was something of an issue in the last general election, has been brought a step nearer. The London, Midland and Scottish railway will try a fleet of 40-ton coal cars on its lines. Most of the freight cars now in use on railroads here are of the stubby 10 and 12-ton type, or about the size of an average automobile truck. To the American sight of an English freight train on a siding is likely to seem too impossibly pretentious to be true.

Queer Assortment Box cars higher than they are long, riding lightly on four wheels; open cars of assorted shapes and sizes; and a few horse-drawn wagons coupled in with the rest of the train.

Why, one naturally wonders, does a railway capable of providing luxurious 90-mile-an-hour passenger trains permit such rolling museums to infest its right of way? The answer is that the railroads don't like the assorted curbs of freight cars around. Most of the little cars, in fact, don't even belong to the railroads. They're privately owned "wagons," and the railroads are compelled by law to haul them wherever the owner demands on the main lines. Advocates of modern transport efficiency, however, point out that 99 per cent of the private wagons are loaded only in one direction, serving no other purpose during the time they are being hauled back empty to their owners and usually cluttering up the traffic in yards all over the country.

Cost Effective It has been estimated that it would be better trying out 20-ton cars in South coast than $500,000,000 to equip Wales.

Business Passes Through Summer on High Level, Says Statistician of Bay State in Reviewing Period

Roger W. Babson Analyzes Conditions in Leading Lines, Balancing Constructive Against Adverse Influences Generally Prevalent

By ROBERT W. BABSON BABSON PARK, Mass., Oct. 5.—Business generally has been sustained on a high level this summer. The fact that the usual summer dullness was much less pronounced than normal is clear evidence of unusual prosperity. However, it is the underlying trends which have attracted attention. What are the factors supporting various leading industries today and what are those tending to pull them down? The answer to these questions are necessary to a clear understanding of the current trend of business. There are two sides to every question. Hence the following analysis of favorable and unfavorable factors in some of our prominent industries.

Iron and Steel Ability of this business is operative close to capacity during the mid-summer vacation period is a sign of strength. Shipments continue heavy. Large pipe projects, both for natural gas and electric supply, are being undertaken. Demand from agricultural implement manufacturers and general machinery makers shows no lessening. Railroad equipment buying continues in good volume. Profit margins are more ample than in previous years. On the other hand, the unfavorable factors include a dropping off in automobile production; which industry takes about 25 per cent of all the steel; a decline during August of around $2,000,000 in unfilled orders of United States Steel corporation; and dropping off in public works; and uncertainty as to the immediate future of building. Financing these factors, it would seem that steel activity should "hang out fairly well" but that fall demand will reduce the out-gassing price war both on the Pacific coast and on the Atlantic seaboard; and the failure of oil producers to gain full cooperation necessary for effect curtailment of output.

Business Passes Through Summer on High Level, Says Statistician of Bay State in Reviewing Period

Continued expansion of the power and water industries is the most important factor in the electric equipment industry. Plans for the electrification of railroads are likewise progressing throughout the advent of the electric locomotive may modify this development. 1920 sales of electrical devices and apparatus should establish a new record. Expansion of telephone, telegraph and cable systems furnishes a steadily growing market for wire and instruments. There are two unfavorable factors for electric equipment industry. The first is the high cost of copper and aluminum materials, which tends to limit the spread between cost and selling price, and the severe competition that exists in the industry.

Automobile The rapid development of foreign sales. The continued high rate of employment and purchasing power of the public and the engineering and designing improvements which will be offered on new models. Unfavorable factors are a sharp decline in output in sales during the month and prospects of further recession. This is mainly due to a seasonal decline, but it becomes evident that the percentage rate of activity in the first half year will be materially less than in the last half. Competition has forced some price cutting and profit margins are not so good as previously. Summing up these factors, it appears that while total motor car production and profits for the year 1920 should average above those of the year, the more recent trend is toward lower levels.

Oil Probably the most favorable factor for the immediate future of the oil industry is the operation of the California Statute. This law, which has had general effect, within the next month or two the full force of this law should become apparent and should result in the curtailment in production of crude oil in California of at least 240,000 barrels a day. Fully good prospects of curtailment in the Oklahoma City field and Texas also exist. The steady rise in demand for gasoline, both in this country and abroad, is of course a very favorable factor. From the long-pull standpoint, however, the outlook is for steadily expanding consumption and a gradually dwindling supply of petroleum. Unfavorable factors to date have been the over-production in California, the oil price war, both on the Pacific coast and on the Atlantic seaboard; and the failure of oil producers to gain full cooperation necessary for effect curtailment of output.

The first is the high cost of copper and aluminum materials, which tends to limit the spread between cost and selling price, and the severe competition that exists in the industry.

Textiles Failure of the textile industry to thoroughly meet the less fortunate plants has been one of the most unfavorable influences. Some progress has been made in other directions, however, capacity is still a heavy burden. Unfavorable profit margins continue. Foreign buying is not up to expectations. Although the immediate outlook is far from bright there are indications that the industry will gradually work out its general difficulties. The process of readjustment and reorganization will have been completed, and then with the capacity more in keeping with market requirements this great industry will have a chance to once more assume its rightful place in our industrial structure.

To be Up-to-Date Means to be Up-to-Chrysler

When anything new is produced, there are always those who create and those who follow.

In the change to balloon tires, some makers asserted the new type would never succeed. Four-wheel brakes found some who disastrously supported the two-wheel design. And today, there are engineers who decry the Multi-Range Gear-Shift and the Down-Draft carburetor.

Chrysler has never been among those who shun new things—if the new be better than the old.

The public acclaim for Chrysler, instead, has been based on Chrysler's pioneering or ready acceptance of those new creations which have made motoring safer, more comfortable, surer and more economical.

To be always ahead of or abreast of the times, but never to experiment on the public is the real foundation of Chrysler success.

You who prefer the latest, the most advanced, the best, have made Chrysler the most copied car in the world. Because Chrysler has built the kind of cars you up-to-the-minute people want, you have given Chrysler the greatest success in the history of automobile building. We invite your most critical inspection.

OPEN CONFESSION
By D. R. CHURCHILL

I received an invitation to a party (other day) which urged me to be present there. And that without delay.

I neither stopped to comb my hair. To shine my shoes, nor shave; And on arriving there I found the situation grave.

I found the task was up to me To tell the justice way. Let my car go rolling past. A stop sign standing high.

George Washington once told the truth. And not to be outdone; I looked as honest as I could. And then this yarn I spun.

And couldn't see to read. So hence I didn't understand. Just what that sign decreed.

I promised if he'd let me go. Until I learned the rule; I never would be seen again Within a block of school.

This spoke the solemn magistrate: "To cleanse you of this sin. He take away your 'surplus' cash. Or else, 'til three, you stay."

Twice then I kissed that coin good by: "Twas quicker done than said; Though never did I pay before To sleep in my own bed."

WORK PROGRESSING ON BURLEY POTATO MILL
Resident Manager of New Enterprise Looking For Early Operation of Plant

BURLEY, Oct. 5 (Special to The News)—Work on the potato mill plant here is progressing rapidly, and H. B. Heimgringer, resident manager, states that he hopes to have the mill ready to start operations next month.

Reinforced concrete has been used for the foundation of a tower wherein the potato meal will be subjected to a process of heating. The tower proper, which is 70 feet in height and 40 feet inside diameter, will be constructed of

WORK ON MINIDOKA CANALS TO START
Reclamation Service Will Continue Improvement Program for South Side

BURLEY, Oct. 5 (Special to The News)—Pumps will be stopped and water turned out of all canals on the South Side Minidoka project about October 20 according to officials of the Burley Irrigation district. As soon thereafter as practicable, work will be started by the reclamation program to increase the supply of irrigation water.

The gravity canal which feeds all pumps on the south side will probably be enlarged to its proposed capacity and concrete lining will be applied to its sides. It is hoped that the work of the reclamation program to increase the supply of irrigation water.

concrete made up of bumpy or capped sand rock and a special sand, which has been shipped in. This combination of materials will make a hard resisting concrete which will stand up under the intense heat used in the manufacturing process.

A well is being drilled, to be 460 feet in depth, and using 12 1/2 inch casing, to supply soft water which is necessary in the manufacturing process.

One of two big storage cellars is now about completed. This cellar is said to be the finest of its kind in the state, and measures 241 by 82 feet, with concrete side walls and ends. It will be equipped with belt conveyors and other machinery for handling potatoes.

The plant is being constructed for the purpose of making use of cull and unmarketable potatoes, which will be made into an edible flour of good quality. One factory is now in operation in New Jersey. Sale for the product at the present time is in foreign countries, where the demand is said to be good.

Idaho registers 85% increase in Eights

As proof of the tremendous growth in public preference for eight-cylinder cars, registration figures in this state for the first seven months of 1929 tell their own story. Eights alone showed an increase of 85 per cent while sales in the same price field decreased 28 per cent.

The tendency is the same the nation over. In 43 states, * Eights alone 5,000 increased 94 per cent. Sixes declined 18 per cent. Nobly can doubt the evidence. We are passing into an eight-cylinder era!

Studebaker today leads the world in the manufacture of Eights—Eights that are champions—holders of 11 world records for speed and endurance and more American stock car records than all other makes combined—Eights which are remarkably economical—smooth, flexible, brilliant.

Drive a smart new Studebaker Eight—President, Commander or Director—each backed by Studebaker's 77 years of manufacturing integrity. Your new car will be worth more a year from now—if it's an Eight!
