Temperance Union National President Addresses State Convention On in Twin Falls

Eternal vigilance is the price of prohibition," declares Mrs. Ella A. Boole in first of three speeches Eternal vigilance is the price of prohibition," Mrs. Ella A. Boole, New York City, national president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, told a convention of the Idaho State organization, and the public, comprising 600 persons, in an address delivered from the platform in the Methodist Episcopal church which she shared with General W. C. Maloney, state chairman, Rev. Cecil F. Hietala, pastor of the Methodist church, president at the meeting, which there was a song service led by Miss Helen Bryant, Los Angeles, Pacific Coast field secretary, bible reading by Mrs. Fred Worthington, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, and prayer by Rev. J. S. Simpson, pastor of the Christian churches of Boise and Kimberly.

The eighteenth amendment, Mrs. Boole said, "prohibits the manufacture, transportation, distribution and importation of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes. The Volstead act is its enforcement code. Prohibition of the manufacture and sale of the Volstead act are deliberately planned to nullify the provisions of the Constitution by destroying the machinery by which enforcement agencies must be carried on."

Jones Law New Weapon "The Jones law strengthened the enforcement features of the Volstead act. It placed a new weapon in the hands of enforcement officers," Mrs. Boole stated.

The woman's Christian Temperance Union is determined that prohibition will be enforced and she changed her policy last year and endeavored to bring about a change in membership. Convinced that prohibition would not have a chance unless it had the support of the people, she wanted it to succeed, we put principle above party and voted for Herbert Hoover.

The election of Herbert Hoover was a bitter disappointment to the "wet" forces. He had not believed in prohibition and that he could do nothing for law enforcement.

The bitter attacks on law enforcement men on the campaign platform were repeated this year. However, Mrs. Boole said, the pronounced attitude of the Hoover administration, its law enforcement and law enforcement, the increase in penalties by the passage of the Hoover-Stanger law, and the activities of the Hoover administration, are being outside the breakwaters and are being built to act in.

Mrs. Boole praised the work of President Hoover since his inauguration for upholding enforcement of law. She

Frank Stephan Files Brief Basing Case On Illegal Adoption of Amendment

BOISE, Oct. 9 (AP)—Plaintiff's brief, contending that the four-year term amendment was not legally adopted and does not apply to the present state officers, was filed in supreme court today. It was presented by Frank L. Stephan, Twin Falls, former attorney general, who will with other attorneys file a friendly suit to test the question. The case will be heard next Monday and will be argued before the supreme court. Legal procedure was cited to show that the amendment was adopted in violation of the length of the term of an office question should be settled in favor of the shorter term. Stephan returned the office to the electors.

In supporting the demand for a mandamus to compel the secretary of state to call an election on the four-year term, 1929, it claimed that the subject of the amendment was improperly submitted to the electors. Stephan contended that it was not self-executing and that it contained no retroactive effect to make it apply to the present officers.

POTATO PRODUCTION OF NATION SLUMPS

Department of Agriculture Estimates Crop at Three-Fourths of Yield in 1928

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Favorable weather during September led the department of agriculture to announce today that general crop prospects had improved about a percent above expectations of September 1, with higher yields indicated in corn, spring wheat, oats, barley, cotton, tobacco and many other crops.

Potato prospects for the country as a whole declined still further during the month. The total crop is estimated at 315,177,000 bushels, about three and a half percent above 1,400,000 bushels, but less than the September 1 estimate.

Condition of beet sugar is 87.4 percent of a normal and indicated production is 823,000 tons.

On the basis of October 1 condition, corn production was indicated at 2,527,077,000 bushels, a 3 percent above September, but still 8 percent below the five-year average production.

An increase of about 6,000,000 bushels of wheat was indicated, or 2.2 percent above the five-year average production. Wheat production was indicated to be 1,171,877,000 bushels, a 4.5 percent gain.

The condition of the various crops on October 1 was: corn 71.8 percent of normal; grain sorghum 59.7; apples 42.2; potatoes 87.

LINDBERGH'S PARTY FINDS MORE RUINS OF ANCIENT MAYAS

Explorers Visit Crumbling Walls of Majestic Temple Pyramid Built by Civilization of Long Ago

(By The Associated Press) AHEAD LINDBERGH'S PLANE (The Daily Oct. 9)—The Lindbergh aerial archeological expedition on its last day of search for Mayan ruins and already hallowed ground was more successful than on any previous flight.

The crumbling walls of a majestic Mayan temple pyramid, estimated to be 70 to 80 feet in height, was the fourth ancient city found by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh within two hours.

The ruins were situated about 20 miles north of Santa Cruz.

THREE TRAINMEN DIE IN CAUSES FIVE FATALITIES

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9 (AP)—Three engineers were fatally hurt and a number of passengers slightly injured, when a Pennsylvania passenger train, with an extra freight engine, headed 150 yards from the Portage station late tonight.

The dead: W. T. JOHNSON, Youngwood, Pennsylvania, engineer of the passenger train.

WILLIAM McLEIN, Jeannette, passenger fireman.

The passenger train carried two express cars, next to the engine, three coaches in the middle of the train and an extra freight engine.

San Francisco Missions Trounce Hollywood Second Time

Stars Chances To Win League Title Slipping Rapidly

Missions' Eighth Inning Rally Drives Hollerston to Showers and Contest Ends With Score, 8 to 6

(By The Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9.—In a free-hitting contest today, the San Francisco Mission Reds battered out an 8-6 victory to make it two straight over Hollywood's Stars in the post season championship series for the 1929 Pacific coast league pennant.

After the Stars had opened with a run, the Missions put over two tallies in their half of the first frame and held the lead until the eighth when the visitors tied the count. Bill Galt, home run through the right field fence, was seen by Pete Scott, Mission center fielder, broke the deadlock. Slide followed with a double, went to third on Baldwin's sacrifice and came home on a sharp single by Bert Cole. The Missions' eighth inning rally drove Hollerston to the showers. He was nicked for 13 of the 14 hits and was responsible for all of the locals' runs. Wetzel finished the game.

Cole's delivery was no puzzle to the Stars but the tall right-hander was slightly more effective in the pinches. A double play, Finn to Slide to Sherlock, cut off further scoring in the fifth after the Stars had crossed over two runs and had two on bases.

Hollister, Mission catcher, inserted into the left field bleachers in the fourth. Hollywood .100 020 120—6 12 1 Missions .200 130 02—8 11 1 Batteries: Hollerston, Wetzel and Severick; Cole and Baldwin.

game scheduled Friday at Shibe park, the Athletics needed only two more conquests to win their first world championship since 1911 and their fourth in six years.

Three games are scheduled in Philadelphia and the Athletics were favored to end the series within that period, unless the Cubs put on a come-back of the first magnitude.

The National League champions used four pitchers today in their veteran effort to check the onrush of the maddening Mackmen, but only one, the veteran southpaw Art Nehf, who pitched in the ninth, escaped without being hit for at least one safe blow.

Guy Bush is slated to twin the third game for Chicago on Friday but Nehf probably will be first relief. Connie Mack has vetoed his pitching duties so far successfully and completely. It just before each game but that probability may change.

The Athletics needed a ninth-inning sprint to clinch the opening game but they quitted the issue this afternoon in much quicker order by attacking Babe Malone, the big right-hander, for six runs in the third and fourth innings.

McLarin Wins Over Baker On Knockout

New York Veteran of Many Ring Battles Goes Down For Count in First Round

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Returning to the ring as a full-fledged welterweight after a prolonged vacation, Jimmy McLarin, baby-faced slugger from Newark, knocked out Sergeant Benny Baker, New York veteran of many a ring battle, in the first round of their 10-round bout in the Coleman tonight.

Two solid rights to the jaw, the last two minutes and one second after the right started, sent Baker in the mat for the count of 10. It was the same terrific right jab—paraded—the popular—left jab slinger, through the flyweight, bantamweight and lightweight classes until he met Sammie Hendell, the champion of the 135-pounders.

McLarin's apparent wide open style of fighting never gave the New York veteran a look-in during the bout. They were in the ring. One, two, went McLarin's right and left on Baker's head less than a minute after the first round. One minute later a terrific right sent the sergeant down. He was up at the count of nine but helpless before McLarin's left hand.

So completely was Baker out that he was carried to his corner and it was several minutes before the seconds could revive him. McLarin's Jimmy was celebrating his debut as a welterweight with handspins in the center of the ring. McLarin tipped the scales at 144 pounds when he stepped in the ring, while Baker was two pounds heavier.

THE FIREARMS MENACE
An unusual number of firearms accidents appears to have occurred in the hunting season this year. Not all of these accidents are directly traceable to the fact that hunting brings out the gun.
Parents of growing boys, especially in a state like Idaho are inclined to regard a certain degree of familiarity with arms as a part of their education. While the thought of accident is often uppermost in the minds of the former it is recognized that too much restriction is not particularly good training.
All the best hunters in the world will not prevent an ignorant boy from mistaking for a bear when some crazy fool is loose with a rifle determined to kill something. Neither is there anything a person riding in an automobile can do as a measure of safety if "thirteen" or fourteen year old boys armed with small rifles gain the idea that automobiles are lawful targets. Guns will kill occasionally without accidental deaths. It is impossible to eliminate accidents entirely but it does seem that an unusual number are taking place these days.

Training in the use of firearms under competent direction is about the only means of cutting down the percentage. To supply gun and ammunition to a lad who has never fired a shot and who will him loose to go hunting with the admonition to be careful is to invite trouble. Not to be sure, but it is sufficient percentage to add materially to the year's statistics of accidents with firearms.

100 DELEGATES AT TEMPERANCE UNION OPENING SESSIONS

34 of 40 Local Organizations Answer Roll-Call of Convention on First Day of State Meeting

More than 100 delegates representing 34 of the 40 local unions of the Women's Christian Temperance Union were present in the Methodist Episcopal church here, when the annual session of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Idaho assembled at 10 o'clock this morning. Mrs. John L. Brady, Blackfoot, state president, presiding, following opening exercises, Mrs. Blake, Twin Falls, presiding, welcomed the delegates and Mrs. H. A. Pugh, Montour, Idaho, presided. Mrs. E. J. Barnes, Twin Falls, chairman of the local convention, introduced committee chairmen. A committee on resolutions, consisting of Mrs. M. J. Barnes, Dr. Minnie Howard, Pocatello, and Mrs. Elizabeth Bybee, Boise, was appointed. A number of resolutions were adopted. Resolutions of state were adopted by Mrs. Nettie Griffin, vice president; Mrs. Mollie L. Vance, Boise, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Myrtle D. Purvis, Minima, state treasurer; Mrs. Brady, and Mrs. E. J. Barnes, Twin Falls, as Pacific field secretary, reported on the national convention. Mrs. John Cecil, Twin Falls, reported on the Idaho convention. Mrs. Mark Beck, Caldwell, offered the opening prayer. Pledges to the delegates were taken by the unions from Burley, Paul and Rupert.

President Gives Address

Following opening ceremonies in the afternoon, which included introduction of Mrs. E. J. Barnes, Twin Falls, president of the national organization, Mrs. Brady gave the annual presidential address, touching the ground of friendship between the time when it met in Twin Falls in 1915 and the present. There was more than 100 members at the time of the last state convention, she said, and the organization had grown since. She pointed out the benefits of prohibition as a result of work must be continued. All sorts of misrepresentation had been put out by the "wet" side and literature to counteract this was necessary. Mrs. Brady called on Mrs. Boole, who explained a system whereby 500 bouquets, one for each Woman's Christian Temperance Union in Idaho, would be received for eight months for the sum of $10 and be used to counteract "wet" propaganda.

A membership shower on Mrs. Boole followed the conclusion of the presidential address. It consisted of presentation of six beautiful bouquets, one from each Woman's Christian Temperance Union in Idaho, which were presented to the names of which were the recruits which had joined the organization in Idaho during the last two months membership drive. A total $210 by Mrs. V. H. Barnes, was followed by a talk on "World Peace" by Mrs. E. J. Barnes, Twin Falls. Mrs. Barnes traced the movement for world peace back to the foundation of Christianity. She gave a graphic account of the meeting of the National Council for the Prevention of War, held at Washington last spring. J. J. Zimmerman, Berlin, and secretary for the Council for the Prevention of War, who was in Twin Falls yesterday was invited to speak, which he did, giving warm praise to work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in the cause of peace.

One of the features of the afternoon program was the tying of ribbons to the arms of 1111 girls. This was done by Mrs. Boole. Mrs. Boole offered the closing prayer. There was a 5 o'clock chicken dinner in the Methodist Episcopal church basement, attended by 170 persons, at which greetings and responses were given and received, followed by an evening meeting at which addresses were made by Mrs. Boole and Governor H. C. Baldrige.

The morning service today will be largely devoted to business. Mrs. Boole will speak on "Solving Woman's Christian Temperance Union Problems." In the afternoon there will be important business matters before the convention including receipt of invitations for the 1930 convention and a report of the committee on resolutions. Mrs. Boole will speak on the subject, "The Progress of the Union." Mrs. E. J. Barnes will conduct the education hour. Dr. Minnie Howard, Pocatello, and Mrs. E. J. Barnes will have programs. There will be a gold medal contest at 3:30.

There will be a "Youth's Night" program in charge of Mrs. Reed Steady, 8:00 a. m. at 7:30 in the high school auditorium, including a song fest—a talk by Miss Helen Barnes and a parent-teacher picture of 50 years. A short business session—Friday morning will close the convention.

declared that the state should cooperate with the nation in law enforcement and urged continuous and aggressive work. Education of the evils of law enforcement and the evils of alcohol were strongly insisted on. Mrs. Boole told about the wide and increasing use of "motor alcohol" and urged its substitution for fuel.

"After a resume of the far-flung and worldwide activities of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Mrs. Boole reverted to the subject of necessity for eternal vigilance. She closed with the following appeal: "Indulgence on our part will mean defeat. We must continue to be active as individuals and as an organization. An incident here in the case of the Civil war has in it a suggestion which should be heeded. A general officer came recently to the general headquarters of the Wilderness cyclists: 'General Grant, this is a grave crisis. I know Lee's methods well. He will win the war unless we are vigilant.'"

"Eternal vigilance is the price of prohibition. We must not be deterred by what we fear, or are told our opponents will do. And I say to you all: Go back to your commands. While prohibition is the law of the State; think not of what our opponents may do, think only of what you are to do."

Governor Baldrige Speaks

Governor Baldrige, in an eloquent address following the speech of Mrs. Boole asked everybody to carry on and continue the fight on liquor until the traffic had been entirely eradicated. There should be no living down in expiating this any more than in wiping out any other evil.

Governor Baldrige speaking at the banquet in the evening said that, notwithstanding claims of "wets," he was firmly convinced that great advance toward prohibition had been made since prohibition. He described conditions in Paris under the old saloon system, where there was much drinking and intoxication. Describing his trip east at the time of the Republican national convention, Governor Baldrige said he went from Twin Falls to Chicago, where he visited friends and went around the city. From there he went to St. Louis in Illinois, Illinois, which in former times had 88 saloons, and from there returned to Kansas City where he remained during the convention, held in a hall which seated 15,000 people. From there he came home. During the entire trip he saw no evidence of liquor. Considering former conditions and comparing them with the experience on this trip, he could get no idea how much had been accomplished. He said that prohibition had been made since prohibition. Greater Use of Fruit Juices Folds Advocate in Temperance Union Head

Increased use of non-alcoholic fruit juices of substitute for alcoholic beverages should be promoted by temperance workers, Mrs. E. J. Barnes, New York, national president, the Women's Christian Temperance Union, told delegates and visitors to the Idaho state convention this morning. "It is a great hope that this evening prohibition may begin in the home," she declared. "Women must give it their best thought—the kitchen must be their laboratory, the dining room the place of exhibition for their finished product. This is a new way in which women can give prohibition a real chance."

Hair Rats Are Gone! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Modern woman, freed of the restraint of long tresses, realizes the comfort and sanitation of the bobbed head. The shears in the hands of AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE have severed the bonds of another archaic dogma.

"toasting did it"

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300° Fahrenheit. The exact, expert roasting of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacturing.

President Hoover and Prime Minister MacDonald Agree On Vital Issues Confronting Two Leading World Powers

Where British Premier Dines With Hoover

Conversations Lead To Fulfillment Of Senator William Borah's Demand For Agreement On Freedom Of Seas

Satisfactory Solution of "Old-Historical Problems" Between Nations Possible Following Conference

Negotiations Based Upon Assumption that "Conflicts Between Armies and Navies Can Not Take Place"

By C. P. WILLIAMSON
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—President Hoover and Prime Minister MacDonald joined tonight in announcing their conversations had been based on the assumption that war between the United States and Great Britain was "banished," and that consequently a satisfactory solution of the "old historical problems" between the two nations had become possible.

While these problems were not specified in the statement, there was little doubt that the principal focus of freedom of the seas, a subject which has been the cause of many controversies in the past and particularly during the early days of the World War before the United States became a belligerent.

The chief executive and the prime minister asserted that on the assumption that conflicts between the military and naval forces cannot take place, these problems have changed their meaning and character, and their solution, in ways satisfactory to both countries, has become possible.

An agreement on the freedom of the seas has been demanded by some senators, particularly Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee, as a prelude to any further naval limitation treaty. Some government officials and naval authorities take the view that an accord on parity in naval strength as between the United States and Great Britain makes easy a solution of the problem.

The joint statement of Mr. Hoover and Mr. MacDonald was distributed at the White House shortly after the prime minister had left the executive mansion, where he held his second session with Mr. Hoover, soon after noon. Secretary Stimson and Sir Robert Vansittart, principal secretary to the prime minister and under secretary of state for foreign affairs, and R. L. Craigie, chief of the American division of the British foreign office, were present.

A trans-Atlantic telephone conversation was held on the premises of the White House shortly after the president's instructions by members of his party earlier in the day to 10 Downing street, but whether the conversation concerned the final wording of the joint statement was not disclosed.

The conference at the White House at which the final text of the statement was approved was the last visit of the prime minister upon the president's part, a brief call arranged tonight for the premier and his daughter, Miss Isabel MacDonald, formally to bid good-bye to the president and Mrs. Hoover.

Explain Statement
A brief explanatory introduction to the White House statement and the president and the prime minister were available to the press in the White House taken by the people of the two countries in their meeting and that the statement reveals the deep desire of each nation for a closer Anglo-American understanding.

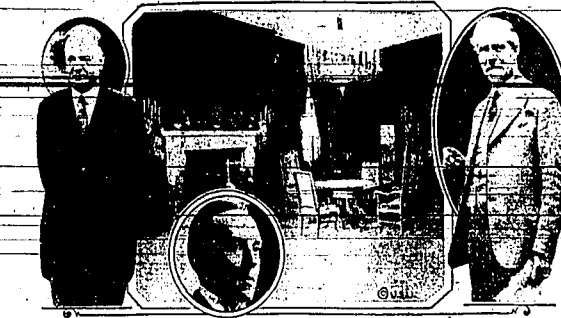

The joint statement particularly emphasized the contribution of the general pact for the renunciation of war signed at Versailles and asserted that both governments resolve to accept it not only as a declaration of good intentions, but as a positive obligation upon which they resolve to guide their national policy.

"Our conversations have been largely concerned with the terms of the mutual relations of the two countries in the light of the situation created by the signing of the peace pact. Therefore, in a new and reinforced sense the two governments not only declare war between them is unthinkable, but that distrust and suspicion arising from doubts and fears, which may have been justified before the peace pact, must now cease to influence national policy.

"In actual consideration of the two countries' problems will now be taken up in a manner similar to that followed during the naval negotiations between the 'prime minister' and 'Ambassador Davis' in London, the statement said. This detailed study will involve the more important technical matters of the questions to be discussed.

Through the continuation of the candid conversations which have so far taken place on the naval problem, the statement predicted mutual understandings would be reached to make possible a naval agreement at the conference to which the naval powers have been invited next January. Conversations will be continued, it was said, with a view to removing as many of the problems as possible before the formal opening of the conference.

The hope was expressed that the steps which have been taken to secure peace would be welcomed by the peoples whom the two states represent.

Nation's Capital Welcomes British Premier

Holds Affair For Rev. and Mrs. Victor Phillips

Methodist Church Society

PAUL, Oct. 9.—Members of the Ladies' Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church held a reception in Gray's hall last evening for Rev. and Mrs. Victor Phillips, who arrived recently from Kenmare, North Dakota. A reception had been extended to the school teachers in Paul, Washington, Pioneer and Lincoln districts. Senator Friebe made a short address of welcome and introduced Rev. Phillips, who responded with a short talk. A delightful program was given, including a recitation of Mrs. E. J. Toews. Refreshments were served by a large crowd.

Chas. Bailey, who has been employed at the Paul Mercantile store for some time, has been accepted of employment with the Boise Payette Lumber company, commencing work the first of the week.

Len Hume and son, Cecil, John Strood and Carl Benedict left the first of the week for the mountains to hunt deer.

Bishop Green received a check for $23.49 for a little over two acres of ten potatoes which were dug and marketed last week.

Mrs. Ed Byron is visiting at the home of her son, James Pennock, Twin Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Easton and daughter, Emma and Laura Mae, and Mrs. Easton's mother, Mrs. A. L. Rumble, motored to Albion Sunday and visited at the WOI Landerbough home.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Smith, Riley, who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Smith's brother, Claude, left the first of the week for their home.

Mrs. Verlan Heas left Sunday morning for Optuska, Minn. Mrs. Heas and makes their home there.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burg and daughter, Marilyn, Jacksonville, Florida, are visiting at the Henry Payne home for a few days en route to Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bryson family entertained a number of friends at a radio party at their home Sunday evening.

Thursday evening the Royal Neighbors lodge met in the lodge room for their social meeting. After a short business session, a social time and program was enjoyed. Mrs. McCaugh and Mrs. Shelby Burnett were hostesses and served a delicious luncheon. One of the

Hot Water System Cheats Bad Frosts

BOISE, Oct. 9.—Use of natural hot water to protect garden crops from frost is employed successfully by John Corda, Boise valley farmer. From a hot water well on his land, Corda has laid a system of pipes in his truck garden and when frost is in the air he turns on the water and the scalding hot sprays of water raise the temperature well above freezing. He is enabled to plant earlier in the season and can harvest tender crops later in the fall than his neighbors.

Audition Entrants Sing In Contest at Gooding

GOODING, Oct. 9 (Special to The News).—The Atwater-Kent audition contest, under the direction of Professor Ivar Skoggaard was held in the Gooding town hall last evening. There were two entrants in the men's division and one in the women's.

Jesse Anderson, a student at the state normal school and winner of numerous honors with "Impacts," by Huhn and "Pirate Dreams," by Heuter, Albert Moore tied in points but lost on a toss. His numbers were "Rocked in The Cradle Of The Deep," by Knight, and "Bodily Love Song" by Plante. Mr. Moore was runner-up in the Gooding contest.

Alceus Lulloff, the only contestant in the women's division, sang "Sleepy Hollow Tune," by Kuntz and "The Desert Song," by Ross.

Old members and out of town guests Mrs. Rowe, Bliss.

Rev. Victor Phillips, recently appointed pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Rupert and Paul, who arrived from Kenmare, North Dakota, the first of the week, delivered his first sermon Sunday morning.

DISCIPLES OF CHRIST TO RAISE FUND FOR PENSIONS

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 9 (UP)—An actuarial pension system for ministers of the Disciples of Christ in the United States will be established early next year.

The headquarters of the pension fund is to be here, with W. R. Warren, the author of the plan, and Samuel Aahy, executive in charge.

To establish the fund on a legal basis, and to provide for accrued liabilities assumed by the fund when it first becomes effective, $5,000,000 is to be raised. Small monthly payments by ministers and congregations will support it until the fund is established.

The fund will provide pensions for widows and minor children of ministers. A unique feature of the plan permits all missionaries and teachers to participate in the fund.

Crew Near Denver Finishing World's Highest Highway

ROAD RISES NEARLY THREE MILES ABOVE SEA LEVEL TO PEAK

Automobiles Able to Reach Summit Late in Summer Months

State Project to Form Mountain System's Link

Average Grade of 20-Foot Scenic Thoroughfare 6 Per Cent

By The Associated Press
DENVER, Oct. 10.—Working nearly three miles above sea-level, road crews are putting the finishing touches on what will be the world's highest automobile road.

Work on the Mount Evans highway, 30 miles from Denver, to the top of Pike's Peak, was completed this spring and in the summer automobiles could reach summits more than 12,000 feet above the level of the sea in the "shadow" of the rocky peak.

When the last mile is finished the road will reach to within approximately 100 feet of the extreme altitude of Pike's Peak, which towers above the clouds at an elevation of 14,200 feet.

The automobile road which leads up Pike's Peak is the highest road in the world at present, but the Mount Evans road will exceed it by approximately 100 feet.

The road is being built by the state and will be a link in the road system of the Denver mountain parks.

The drive up the mountains maintains an average grade of 20 feet and an average grade of 6 per cent. The drive over the 20-mile air-line distance from Denver to the peak goes over 66 miles of loops, curves, and hairpin curves.

County Authorizes Sale Of Burley Airport Bonds

BURLEY, Oct. 9 (Special to The News)—Burley city council declared the airport bonds for $100,000, authorized their sale. The issue is to be for $100,000 to not exceed 6 per cent interest. They run 10 years. The proceeds are to be used for the completion of a triangular runway at the airport, for lighting, installation, and other improvements, and for a balance due on the purchase price of the airport grounds.

Clemenceau's "Talkie" Film Brings Laughter

PARIS, Oct. 9.—Georges Clemenceau, the "Pope of France," has succumbed to the lure of the talkie. Gruffly, for months, the aged statesman has turned down every request from film firms until finally, one morning, cornered in the garden of his villa at Saint-Germain sur Jure in Vendee, he surrendered.

But when the film was shown at the local theatre the auditors roared with laughter at the picture of the robust old man, gesticulating wildly, appeared on the screen and they heard the first words, uttered with vigorous mock ferocity:

"Get a move on, boys! I can't stay in this garden all day. I have something else to do."

Success Of Movement To Obtain Law Allowing National Branch Banking Depends On Ideals, Babson Declares

Bay State Statistician Points Out Arguments For and Against Revolutionary Change In Financial System; Plan Offers Opportunities in Stocks

By ROGER W. BABSON
BOSTON, Oct. 9.—There is a strong movement on foot to allow national branch banking. Signs indicate that the leaders will try to have congress enact a law allowing national banks to form branches in any part of the country. At present they can only form them in the states where they are located. This is a revolutionary change. The thousands of small independent country banks have always been the backbone of our financial system. If they are to be taken over by a few large city banks it will mark the passing of another great American institution. In the process it may arouse public fear of financial monopoly. The final success of the movement, however, will depend upon whether the men being it are actuated by high ideals of service to the public or whether they merely wish to make more money. Perhaps it is economically best for the country to abandon the independent country banking system. There are strong arguments to support that view. However, unless the leaders of this movement take the public fully into their confidence they will never achieve their aims.

Even assuming that national branch banking is made legal, the only way it can be permanently successful is through the management of the city banks to take an active and personal interest in the problems of the small communities. The country banker is the business man's best friend. He has the complete confidence of his customers; he guides their business affairs. If a branch bank merely means financial experimentation, it is a community, from a distance, without the interest of that community at heart, then it will be resisted. The revolutionary change which the city banks are making and more the chain systems are realizing that their continued success lies in closer cooperation between district managers and the individual communities they serve. Absentee control in itself is a cause for public suspicion. Only sincere ideals of helping each individual community to grow and progress in a business and financial way can make branch banking successful.

Barley Antitrust Tell of Severe Electrical Storm

BURLEY, Oct. 9.—A severe electrical storm all the way from Burley to the mountains north of here today. Lightning flashes were everywhere as it seems to almost burst into a continuous display. In some instances bolts of lightning struck the earth and caused considerable damage. The electrical disturbance was accompanied by a severe wind storm. No damage has been reported on the mountain range.

Opportunities in Stocks

If national branch banking is legalized beyond the limits of the existing law, it would be a distinct loss to the communities and to the country. No single individual could possibly be expected to retain the services of these men when branch banks are established. It would require great thoughtfulness, tact, and a sincere desire to be of service for any branch manager to take their places. This, however, is not an insurmountable problem provided the big banking leaders thoroughly understand it and if they themselves are actuated by high ideals of service.

Disadvantages in Plan

On the other hand, there are certain disadvantages. The country banker, even though subject to the hazards of local depression, is usually a man of high ideals and character with the best interests of his community at heart. It is difficult to find substitutes for these thousands of splendid men who are now guiding the financial affairs of our cities, villages, and towns. They know the business history of local industries, the personal character of the business men, and they are better able to judge than most men a manager's; the present and future needs of their communities. THE GUMPS—I FOUND A HORSESHOE

The DEVIL'S MANTLE

By Frank L. Packard

Marion was still staring out into the darkness...

And then she heard him speaking again, but now his voice was entirely altered...

Two bits of torn and ragged canvas that were still serviceable...

A bit of an incongruous situation! The crew, the four of them that were left...

"I'm taking my duty," said the skipper, "and I'm not leaving this ship until I've seen to it that every man here is safe and sound."

Uncomprehending little beggar! Five thousand pounds! Well, it was a lot of money, but it was no more to him than a pebble.

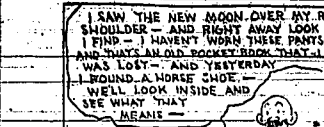

"I don't know," Peter answered, "I'm not sure if I'm measured by more than a few pounds of money earned by the ship's crew."

"I'll put a better name to it than that," said Captain Mumm. "It's a quality we call 'stiffness'."

"Peter listened. It seemed a long time before he caught a muffled and indistinct murmur that he thought to be Captain Mumm's explanation...

"I don't know," he said. It seemed to go all around the compass. Wait a moment, he thought...

Forty-eight hours ago this phase of the situation had apparently taken care of itself...
