WIDESPREAD REVOLT FORCES AMERICANS TO SHANGHAI HAVEN

Women and Children Flee From Menace of Rebels Marching to Meet Defenders of Nanking Regime

(By The Associated Press) SHANGHAI, Dec. 9.—Seeking safety because of widespread rebel anti-Chinese Nationalist government, American men and their families are fleeing from Nanking to Shanghai.

Seventy-five American women and children came from Nanking with many refugees of other nationalities who fled from the menace of the rebel forces marching from Peifu to meet the Nationalist defenders of Nanking, the capital.

With wire communication severed by conflicting forces and dispatches cut off, little was known today of the Peking mutineers, who with ranks augmented by other rebels were reported to number at least 20,000, stretched along a railroad route. Two days ago their advance was reported to have gained success in a sharp skirmish with Nationalists at Wuyi, 35 miles northwest of Nanking.

Head Consul's Advice On advice of their consuls, American and other foreign women took boats to Shanghai, from the capital city, the decks of the boats being piled high with their trunks, boxes and bundles.

At Ichang, nearly 1000 miles inland on the Yangtze river, more foreign women and children boarded six foreign launches and fled from the city, where rebels and Nationalist troops fought for control.

An American cruiser, the Pittsburgh, and other vessels left Manila for this port after Rear Admiral Charles B. McVey declared that it was the military duty of the United States navy to protect American lives and property when ever endangered.

Hoover Authorizes Signing of Revised Protocol of Court

Chairman Booth of the foreign relations committee, and Senators Johnson, California, and Moses, New Hampshire, the ranking Republicans on the foreign relations committee, have avowed their opposition to the modification of the court reservation.

"I am prepared to take up the world court issue," Senator Johnson commented today, "as soon as we get through with the tariff."

There was feeling in the senate that Mr. Hoover might withhold the proposed question until perhaps next session, in view of previous statements in administration circles that the president wanted each of the other nations to ratify it before submitting it to the senate.

The reservation in question was proposed by Senator Swanson, Democrat, Virginia, and stipulated that the court should render no advisory opinions in which this nation has, or claims to have, an interest without the consent of the government.

With an apparently insurmountable barrier existing, Elihu Root went to Geneva during the closing days of the Coolidge administration and with a committee of jurists revised the world court protocol in a manner which President Hoover believes met the senate's reservation.

17,000 Fans See Phil Scott Win On Foul From Von Porat

Low Punch Forces Englishman From Battle in Second

Jack Dempsey, Refereeing First Major Bout, Not Least Confused Among Crowd, Delays Decision

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Just as a jolly bit of action crept into the situation, Phil Scott, the long, languid heavy-weight pride of Great Britain, collapsed to the right from a low blow at the start of the second round and won his much hatched match from the fierce punching Otto von Porat, Norway and Chicago, on a foul.

Almost 17,000 of the faithful, drawn to the big battle palace to see a fight and to add sweet charity, the Christmas fund, looked on in amazement as the sad-faced Norwegian opened the second round of a 12-round encounter with a sweeping left hook that toppled the tall Briton to the canvas in agony. The blow was apparently a foul.

Dempsey amazed

Not the least amazed of all the on-lookers was Jack Dempsey, once the king of the heavyweights, tonight refereeing his first major bout. While Scott, his face twisted in pain, toppled slowly like a tree undermined on a river bank, Von Porat stood around looking very much dismayed, Dempsey made a confused effort to bring order out of chaos.

The old man mauer, once the master of every situation in there where the going is rough and tough—and judgment must be swiftly rendered hopefully at a second's notice. Dempsey first motioned Von Porat to continue, then rushed over to help the fallen Briton. Then when Von Porat's aid he carried Scott to his corner while the packed house, still stunned and unaware of the significance of it all, looked on in astonished silence.

The decision was not announced until Dempsey had consulted with a half dozen official looking persons who crowded into the ring. The round had lasted only 25 seconds, but the confusion that followed left the decision in doubt for 30 minutes.

Disappointing ending

It was a most disappointing ending to a match that began with a river bank in the way of fighting at the start, but succeeded finally in proving only that as far as trouble is concerned all referees are not here to carry out the law. Dempsey found himself in just as troublesome and startling a situation as faced Dave Barry another famous referee that exciting night in Chicago when the old mauler fought Gene Tunney for heavy-weight crown.

From the inside it appeared that Dempsey had no desire to award the bout to Scott on a foul, but the action right from a low blow at the start of the second round, left nothing else for him to do. Scott went down easily, but apparently a procedure still had been initiated for the fight to be continued. He had to be half carried from the ring.

In a 12-round semi-final staged after the main bout, Maxie Rosenbloom won the Englishman, a picture of agony, rough go. Both are among the four original nominees of the New York athletic commission, named to battle for recognition here in the light heavy-weight champion. Rosenbloom weighed 172½; Owen 170½.

Mary Gallagher, Washington, heavy-weight, pounded out a decision over George Hoffman, former amateur champion in the first 10-round bout. Hoffman weighed 180; Gallagher 194.

COMMERCE BODIES IN JOINT SESSION MOVE FOR RAILROAD WEST

Twin Falls and Buhl Take Steps to Secure Connection With Points On Pacific By Shorter Route

Movement for the construction of a railroad westward from Buhl was inaugurated here last evening at a joint session of the boards of directors of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce and the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce. Following resolutions by the boards, the public affairs committees of both met in joint session and laid plans for a campaign to secure action as soon as possible.

Both boards were represented by full membership and all expressed the opinion that the movement was promising and could be made successful with cooperative effort.

The general sentiment was that the time had arrived when this section of Idaho was entitled to a shorter route to Portland and other points on the Northwest coast.

Following a complete discussion of methods of procedure the joint boards unanimously adopted the following resolution:

Resolved: That we endorse the proposition of securing construction of a railroad westward and that a joint committee of the Buhl and Twin Falls Chambers of Commerce be empowered, subject to securing such constitution.

The motion was offered by R. A. Reed and seconded by T. C. Bacon President.

Following the opening of the joint session, the boards of directors which was presided over by T. C. Bacon, president of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, the matter was placed before the meeting for consideration by J. H. Frazier, member of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce directors. Various tentative matters were discussed and references to past surveys were made.

It was finally determined to endorse the plan and then leave the working out of details to the joint committee of both associations. The plans of construction were outlined by the public affairs committees in their joint meeting.

Members of the Buhl board of directors present were J. H. Barker, O. C. Johnson, C. M. Merrick, C. D. Starr. The public affairs committee from Buhl is composed of Harry Winton, E. J. Daly, C. D. Starr and E. M. Wylie. They were accompanied by Harry W. Barry, secretary of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce and Frank L. Atkins, master of the Twin Falls County Pomona Orange. The public affairs bureau of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce is composed of T. O. Bacon, D. J. Adams, J. A. Koster, John W. Graham and Astor H. Winton. The joint committee organized by electing Dr. Coleman chairman and Mr. Barker, secretary. Support from Orange and Pomona chapters and cities bodies in Twin Falls county will be requested if it is understood.

CAPTURED CONVICT HURT ON WAY BACK TO PRISON

George George, 38-year-old convict serving time for forgery, who was taken in a Boise hospital to make a dash for liberty and was captured at Pocatello Saturday night, was injured in an automobile accident when the car in which he was traveling with a deputy prison warden, left the road at a curve in the highway near Filer and occurred early Sunday evening.

The car was badly damaged and the warden and his prisoner waited in Filer for six hours to complete the journey on a motor stage.

George was reported to have been operated on for appendicitis about two weeks ago, and was believed to be in no condition to make the break for liberty, clad only in pajamas. George seized an automobile and drove to Nampa where he obtained clothing, suit, and returned to Pocatello where he was captured.

Two accounts of the mishap at Filer were received here. One was that the officer at the wheel did not turn until it was too late to negotiate the curve. The other story was that the officer steered his car off the road in order to avoid collision with another car that came out onto the highway without warning.

Following a complete discussion of methods of procedure the joint boards unanimously adopted the following resolution:

Resolved: That we endorse the proposition of securing construction of a railroad westward and that a joint committee of the Buhl and Twin Falls Chambers of Commerce be empowered, subject to securing such constitution.

Hollow Rock in Isolated Region Gives Up Bones of Unknown Man

A natural moundsman in a rock well in Indian Jim creek in an isolated region about 63 miles southwest of here, gave up a human skeleton, apparently the bones of a young man, but yielded no clue as to the identity of the man. Sheriff visited the scene yesterday. The bones were found at the bottom of a dome-like hollow rock "bubble" six feet deep and 10 feet in diameter. There was no opening at the top but an aperture at the west side about four feet square apparently had been irregularly cut into the rock.

The skeleton was discovered by chance by a shepherd, last spring. He accompanied the officers to the rock yesterday.

Clothing on the skeleton crumpled under the south of the dummies. They brought back the bones, a few buttons.

TWIN FALLS WOMAN HURT WHEN CAR LEAVES ROAD

Mrs. L. Shenna, 27 Howard avenue north, received a nasty wound and severe bruises about the face and shoulders when her car in which she was riding with her younger son, Harold Shenna, and daughter, Miss Jean Shenna, left the highway near Bradman's last week of Twin Falls early Sunday evening, and crashed into a bank of earth.

The impact turned the car almost completely around.

Mrs. Shenna, who was riding at the rear of the car, was wounded by broken glass and by being thrown against the top of the car.

Other occupants of the car were not hurt.

Mrs. Shenna returned to her home after her injuries were checked at the county general hospital.

The plaintiffs seek to prevent the city from installing a municipal light and power plant in Buhl, unless the question of whether the city shall expend $74,000 for installation shall be submitted to the voters.

Finance Concern Vain Award of Car or Cash

A jury in probate court here yesterday awarded to the Gem State Finance company, an automobile or $254.00 representing the value of the car, from Darrin Tallent. The company brought suit for recovery on a late-redeeming note, given by Tallent to the concern from which he purchased the car in October, 1924.

The jury decreed Tallent's claim for $125 damages on account of alleged misrepresentation of the model of the car. He alleges that the car was not a 1924 model but that the plaintiff represented it to be a 1923 model, and that on that account he was relieved of liability for making any further payments—and that which he was entitled to damages.

COUNCIL RECEIVES PROPOSED INCREASE IN RATE FOR WATER

Ordinance Drawn to Raise Funds to Replace Worn Pipes Introduced and Placed on First Reading

Customers of Twin Falls municipal waterworks will pay $2 a month for a minimum of 200 gallons of water under terms of an ordinance that was placed on its first reading by Twin Falls city council last evening. The new rate represents an advance of 50 cents a month in the minimum charge for water service. The rate increase will cost the city about $2.15 a month.

The council has had the proposed new rate under advance for three or four weeks since. The increase in rate represents an advance of 50 cents a month in the minimum charge for water service. The rate increase will cost the city about $2.15 a month.

In placing the ordinance on its first reading, the council has also introduced a resolution to amend the ordinance to provide for a definite action on the proposition.

Resolution Raises Barrier.
Administration of the waterworks department also presented another problem last evening, that was referred to the city attorney, whose Paul R. Cowell in behalf of himself and other residents of the Holloman addition. Just outside the city limits, endeavored to pay more for water service than residents of the city. The negotiations were begun last April, but were not completed before the council last night adopted a resolution declaring that water service through the municipal system could not be furnished to any more extensive area of the city because of overdraft on the waterworks system.

Source Gets Attention.
Discussion of the municipal waterworks led to comment on the proposition for eliminating water delivery through Twin Falls canal system during winter months, on which the Twin Falls Canal company stockholders will vote at the annual meeting next month.

Edison Dodges Home During Christmas To Benefit Health

INVENTOR TO GIVE UP LONG-STANDING HOMECOMING HABIT

Experimenter Makes Plans to Spend Winter at Florida Haven

Silver-Haired Genius to Devote Time to Research

82-Year-Old Investigator Leads Simple Life in Retreat

By C. H. KLINE (Associated Press Staff Writer) FORT MYERS, Fla., Dec. 9.—Breaking a happy habit of 43 years' standing is just a concession Thomas A. Edison makes to husband the sparkling energy that keeps his enthusiasm youthful at 82.

The silver-haired genius plans to forego his Christmas day at home with children and grandchildren that he may begin experiments in the mild climate of the south a month earlier than usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Edison left Mexico Park, New Jersey, early in December for Fort Myers, to spend the winter there. It will be the first time the Edisons have come south in December for their annual visit, since the inventor brought his wife here as a bride in 1884.

His health has not been impaired by his winter program on a silver-haired assistance to understand that he will spend from five to seven hours daily in the laboratory and will supplement this with nightly periods of research reading.

He will, of course, reserve time for regular visits to motion picture shows, providing the films are silent, and four automobile rides into the Everglades.

The visits—however—can hardly be classed as recreational. Mr. Edison rarely travels a full mile without stopping to pluck a plant, he walks to sleep, under the tent for possible rubber content.

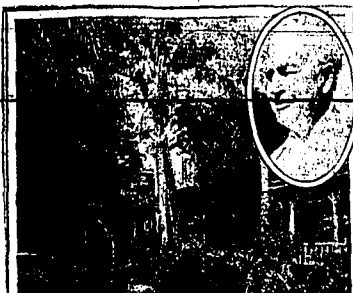

Milk on Diet. Quiet and simple is the life of the Edisons here and there is little to be put in readiness in advance of arrival. The ingredients of regular diet are milk from a carefully guarded cow on the estate, which supplies his needs alone, and honey from a score of hives—already available.

The Fort Myers bandleader had to hunt a bit for the score of his favorite melody "The Yoke Young Agate, Kathleen," but preparations to welcome him were complete with the yearly renovation of his 1814 model Ford, a gift from Henry Ford his neighbor.

Relief has come to sheepmen, who can now browse their herds at a distance from water holes around which the range has been pretty well tramped out. Whether the rain has come sufficiently early to benefit dryland farmers cannot be determined until later. It is feared that considerable dryland wheat has already sprouted and then died for lack of moisture.

Putting the Sparkle of Christmas into Your Christmas Clothes

YES, Madam. We quite agree with you. With Christmas coming and scores of presents to buy, this isn't the best time for a wife to bring up the subject of new clothes with her husband. Yet at all those Holiday parties, both you and your husband will wish to appear as fresh as the coming year.

The solution is simple. Your gown can have the sparkle of Christmas gaiety... your husband's clothes can have the shimmer of Christmas weather... if only you will send them to THE IDAHO. Your afternoon frocks, too, and your hats and furs — your gloves and scarves — the wooly, colorful things you wear for winter sports — and your husband's ties and mufflers and overcoats, as well as his dinner and lounge suits... All can be made smartly new for the Christmas season if you telephone us now.

THE GUMPS—CHEER UP, HENRIETTA

"LOVE SHY" by Barbara Webb

She tried to lie her mind on the evening news, but the jolting of the train, the shoving and pushing of people crowding out to their stations made it difficult. Then the wheels of the train would click out that ridiculous refrain: James Warren, James Warren. He felt a vague regret that Adelaide had spoken for the attention of the unknown young man. He might after be someone very nice. No one, of course, who could help her to the accomplishment of her dream house, but some one possibly with whom she could go places and rehearse herself of her mother's absurdity. But, of course, he would like Adelaide, they always did, so that was that. Adelaide stopped before the mirror of a chewing gum machine to repair her appearance when they reached their destination. She used her lipstick vigorously, lifted her hair at a different angle, clutched her coat tightly around her, and pulled one stocking straight.
