FARM-BOARD MOVES TO HELP FRUIT AND VEGETABLE GROWERS

On Special Invitation, 30 Representatives of Co-Operatives Handling Perishable Commodities Confer

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The federal farm board broke ground today for two new national commodity marketing associations, one for fruit and one for vegetables.

On special invitation, 30 representatives of co-operatives handling apples and other deciduous fruits, citrus fruits and potatoes met at the board to discuss the feasibility of selling two or more of their groups into a national sales organization or organization of the groups separately by commodity, into national cooperative sales agencies.

C. C. Tregue and Charles E. Wilson, farm board members of fruit and vegetables, issued a joint statement in which they told the conferees that the only way to bring about the fruit and vegetable industries of the United States the benefit of the agricultural marketing act is to set up national cooperative sales organizations.

Explains Initiatives

Tregue explained the initiatives had been kept to a minimum for the purpose of expediting a discussion of the marketing act. He said that the fruit and vegetable industries which had long experience with the problems of national marketing and were handling the largest amounts of produce on a national scale.

The conferees represented the apple raisers of Washington, Oregon and New York, the pear raisers of California, the peach growers of the Georgia peach growers, the plum raisers of Michigan, the cherry growers of California, the strawberry raisers of the New York strawberry raisers, the blueberry raisers of the South Carolina and California raisers, the raspberry raisers of the Virginia, Colorado, Michigan, Florida, South Carolina and California raisers, the strawberry raisers of the New York strawberry raisers, the blueberry raisers of the South Carolina and California raisers, the raspberry raisers of the Virginia, Colorado, Michigan, Florida, South Carolina and California raisers.

Question Process

The president, representatives from cooperative canneries in Washington, Oregon and California brought the question of the farm board's new process into before the conferees.

Theoretically, the process loan is a facility loan as differentiated from a loan to a grower. The loan would be used by co-operatives in acquiring, by lease, purchase or construction, of sufficient packing and packing facilities to process surplus fruit and vegetables.

Wholesale Cannibalism In China Adds to Horrors of Famine, Cold and Disease typhus, starvation's grim sister, leaves thousands of dead along path while famines massacre males

(By The Associated Press) SHANGHAI, Jan. 14.—Harrowing stories of wholesale cannibalism were added today to the tales of famine and cold that are being reported from China within eight months. Another 2,000,000 lives in China within eight months. Another 2,000,000 persons are said to be doomed to die by starvation.

typhus, grim sister of famine, is charged with the death of 100,000 in the north and 3,000,000 in the south. The famine is accused of murdering all adult males of numerous villages of Kansu province.

George Andrews, a missionary born in Kansu province and just returned from nine months of relief work there, said that famines are being reported from the floor of the consolidated school in which hundreds of dead and famished children are common and life is a failure.

Failure of crops last year, and no seed planted for the coming year, together with below-zero weather in the Yangtze valley and North China, were ascribed by Andrews as causes for the widespread suffering.

Speaking of a statement from Peiping that 2,000,000 had died in Shensi province of famine, Andrews said that conditions were far worse in Kansu where "85 per cent of the children were killed."

PUMPING PROJECTS SCORE IN SUPREME COURT'S DECISION

Tribunal at Boise Affirms Authority of Legislature to Exempt Power Equipment Used in Irrigation

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Jan. 14.—The supreme court today affirmed the authority of the legislature to exempt power equipment used in irrigation.

The decision, victory for pumping projects, was rendered in the case brought by James W. Williams and other Gooding county taxpayers against the state board of irrigation. The Miller law, which gave the board authority to issue irrigation district levies in support of the board and carried virtually the entire argument.

In affirming the decision of the state board of irrigation, the court held that the Idaho institution, almost wholly in the West, gave the legislature almost unlimited discretion in making tax exemptions and that the exemption made to benefit pumping irrigation districts was a legal use of legislative authority.

It operates to Grant Subsidy

To meet claims of the taxpayers that it was a subsidy of irrigation.

DOES OF INCREASED SUGAR TARIFF HOLD SOLOWS ATTENTION

Senator Borah Reserves Opinion on Bounty and Disputes Argument That High Levy Would Aid Growers

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Opponents of an increased sugar tariff and those favoring a bounty in its stead held the center of attention for another entire session today in the senate, which agreed just before recessing to vote on the question not later than noon Thursday.

It was not coming out fairly for a bounty, Senator Borah, Idaho, a leader of the Republican Independents, disputed the arguments that a bounty would be a benefit to domestic cane and beet sugar growers. He contended that an increased tariff would be a benefit to the Cuban and the Philippine cane growers, and that the bounty would be a benefit to the domestic cane and beet sugar growers.

Denny Shute Triumphs in $10,000 Los Angeles Tournament

Ohioan Turns Back On Wind and Rain And Defeats Stars

Little Known Disciple of Royal and Ancient Game Tramps to Triumph Over Graveyard for Greatest

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—Over the same flooded fairways and rain-soaked greens that proved "golfer's graveyards" for America's greatest, there tramped today a little known disciple of the royal and ancient game to win the championship of the $10,000 Los Angeles tournament.

Young Denny Shute, from Columbus, Ohio, whose brief two-year career as a professional hardly rated him the honor of a gallery, hunched his shoulders into the wind and braved the torrential rains to post the respectable and winning score of 206. It came by four strokes the efforts of such notables as Horton Smith, J. H. Taylor, Sam Snead, and Bobby Cruikshank, New York, winner of the Los Angeles open in 1927. They tied for second place with 208. Cruikshank and Taylor started today's round three strokes behind Shute but failed to make up the lead.

Chattered on the morning nine-simultaneous match away on the incoming attack when on three holes he went over par figure. MacDonald Smith, Long Island, New York, winner of the title for the last two years and one of the pre-tournament favorites, was unable to meet the climatic test and tied with Fred Barker, Berkeley, California, for eighth place. His final score was 208.

Chicagoan Fourth
At St. Louis, Chicago posted a 207 for fourth money while Tommy Armour, Detroit, former open title holder, had a 204 for fifth position. The first winner of the Professional Golfers' association championship for the last two years, tied with Horton Smith, J. H. Taylor, and Bobby Cruikshank, New York, for 208.

Johnny Farrell, St. Augustine, Fla., also a former national open champion, chalked up a 210 while Harry Cooper, Buffalo, New York, first Los Angeles open winner, was forced to be content with 212. The way the leaders finished and the prizes:

Denny Shute, Columbus, Ohio, 74-74-74-206—$3,500.

Forest Fires Menace Lives of Young Trout by Heating Waters in Streams

DOISE, Jan. 14 (AP)—How several young trout came near boiling to death in the one-creek waters of their native streams was revealed today in the annual report of the state game warden. About thousand young trout were being cared for in the rearing ponds at Ruby Creek in Bonanza county last summer when the heavy forest fires raged through that section. The creek, continuing at work, heated the water of the creek. It climbed from 50 degrees to 70 degrees and the young fish began dropping off.

Attendants at the rearing ponds, seeing the danger, bailed the fish out of the creek, continuing at work. After they had been warmed to the level, the fish finally all were safe, about 23 per cent of the original brood, were taken to safety.

OUR POLICY AND ITS RESULTS

An Advertisement of The Mountain States Telephone & Telegraph Company

OUR POLICY—To furnish the most telephone service and the best at the least possible cost consistent with financial safety.

1929'S RESULTS

Improved and Extended Service

During the year 1929 our construction program, designed to bring more and better telephone service to the people of this territory, involved the expenditure of more than $13,000,000.

At the end of this year this company had approximately $14,000,000 in service, having made a net gain of 21,000 during the year.

Important additions were made to the number of direct long distance circuits, North, South, East and West.

New equipment and operating methods have substantially improved the quality of both local and long distance service, 825,000,000 local calls and 13,500,000 toll and long distance calls being handled with a greater degree of excellence than ever before.

During 1929 a great majority of long distance calls were handled like local calls.

There was fuller cooperation on the part of our subscribers, an important part of good telephone service.

Much was accomplished in making our facilities more attractive and more comfortable and convenient for our subscribers.
