FOUR SEARCHERS IN NORTH HUNT BODIES OF EISELSON AND AID

Veteran Aviator Expresses Belief Noted Airman and Comptroller, Crashed Because of Faulty Altimeter

(By The Associated Press) NOME, Alaska, Jan. 27.—The final chapter in the international search for Carl Bor-Eielson and Earl Borland, American aviators, was being written today by searchers who dug into the tightly packed snow and ice around the wreckage of Eielson's plane, 90 miles southeast of Nome, Cape Siberia.

Four men, taken to the scene yesterday from the ice-flocked trading ship Nantux to planes piloted by Joseph and James G. Cross, explored the area around the ditched all-metal monoplane in the belief that Eielson and Borland were found in the wreckage. The ship crashed in a blinding snowstorm November 9 or 10 under wreckage of gasoline cases near the cabin. Two dog teams driven by natives also were on the way to the wreck.

Meanwhile the conviction was growing here that a faulty altimeter upon which Eielson was relying when the snowstorm set out at visibility, was in part to blame for the crash.

Pilot Joe Cross reported upon his return from the wreckage yesterday that the altimeter registered -1000 feet. Inasmuch as the plane crashed onundra almost at sea level, the instrument error may have misled the pilot.

Proof that the plane was traveling at a high rate of speed was found by Cross in the fact that the throttle of the ship was wide open. The manner in which the metal propeller was bent and the fact that the motor of the plane testified to the terrific impact with which the ship struck the frozen earth.

Joe Cross reported that Eielson was attempting to make a banked turn when he crashed. "His right wing came back," Cross said, "and he was killed by the force of the turn. The right wing dropped about 300 feet from the fuselage."

Cross brought back the clock of the wrecked plane, which had stopped at 2:10 P. M. The time this would be the time of the crash at about dusk.

RUSSIAN EXPRESSIONS OF DUBIOUS DISCOVERY

MOSCOW, Jan. 27 (AP)—Doubt that the wreckage recently recovered from the Arctic was that of the ill-fated expedition was expressed today by S. S. Kamenev, chairman of the Soviet Arctic commission. He believed the wreckage might have been that of an abandoned Soviet airplane named "Soviet North," known to be in the area.

Kamenev pointed out that there are human habitations near the point where the American aviators crashed and that the wreckage was found on Saturday. He expressed

BOISE VALLEY FARMER PERISHES ON RAILWAY CROSSING AT MERIDIAN

BOISE, Jan. 27 (AP)—Harvey Little, 35, Boise valley rancher, was killed today when his stalled automobile was struck by a Union-Pac electric westbound passenger train at Meridian and a half-mile east of Meridian.

Little drove his car upon the tracks and crossed tracks and approached the plain-view from the east, nor did he hear the whistle which was blown to warn him of the approaching train.

The car was carried 300 yards down the track on the front of the engine.

William McElrath, county coroner, said that an inquest will be held Wednesday. He thought the train was traveling too fast.

COLD NIGHT FORCES FUGITIVE FROM BOISE PRISON BACK TO CELL

BOISE, Jan. 27 (AP)—It was a cold night, not a very comfortable one, when Walter Wagner, 27, who was sent up a year ago for 1 to 14 years for grand larceny in Canada, today was forced to return to his cell.

Barely half way back to the prison the warden came up with Wagner, dragging through the snow a blanket and a heavy coat. "You'll need these," he said, "and you'll need a hot drink."

"Yes, and I need a hot drink," Wagner replied, "and I need a hot drink."

TWIN FALLS STORE ROBBERY SUSPECTS TRIUMPH IN FIGHT

Governor George H. Dern Refuses to Honor Request For Extradition of Two Assaults of Groceryman

(By The Associated Press) TWIN FALLS, Jan. 27.—The city of Twin Falls today refused to stand trial for the alleged robbery of F. M. Elrod, Twin Falls grocery manager, on January 13, was denied today by Governor George H. Dern.

Following the denial, Idaho officials withdrew their request for the extradition of William Wilson, arrested with Moore and Burt Lake City on January 10. Both men were identified by Elrod last week as the men who held up and robbed his store.

At the hearing before Governor Dern today, William Frank Allen, who was arrested with Burt on January 27 by Salt Lake City police, admitted that he and his partner were guilty of the Twin Falls robbery. He said Burt was later in the robbery and this substantiated his statement made in letters to the press after his arrest.

E. M. Mortley, attorney for Moore, claimed that it was purely a case of mistaken identity in view of Allen's confession and that Wilson had testified that Moore was in the city on the night of the Twin Falls robbery.

W. L. Larson, county attorney of Twin Falls county, represented Elrod at the extradition hearing.

Officers here last night expressed some disappointment over denial by Governor George H. Dern of Idaho's request for extradition of R. D. Moore, wanted here for robbery and assault, and a partner, a Marketer, grocery here last January 13.

There is no doubt in the minds of officers here that Moore and William Wilson are the men who committed the robbery, and this belief, which was expressed by Elrod, was identified by him as the man who committed the robbery, and this belief, which was expressed by Elrod, was identified by him as the man who committed the robbery.

Moore and his companion, they said, visited two other suburban stores in the last hour of the legislative session, and made inquiry, referring by name to a Twin Falls resident. Photographs of Moore and Wilson, as well as of William Frank Allen, were shown to the jury.

AILING NORTH IDAHO MINER DETAILS OWN DASH 25 YEARS AGO

PLATE CITY, Idaho, Jan. 27 (AP)—Roy Burke, miner suffering from blood poisoning, today related his own dash 25 years ago to the Idaho wilderness in mid-winter.

It was learned here today that it had been Burke who rushed to the aid of the Carling party, lost in the Idaho wilderness in mid-winter 25 years ago, with one member of the party severely wounded.

Dr. Weber, whose trip last week was across rough country in temperatures of 30 to 50 degrees below zero, sent out word yesterday by a miner on snowshoes that Burke was expected to recover. This the hero of another dash is to be proud in kind for the fact that he saved the life of the other man.

FRENCH DELEGATES ACHIEVE TECHNICAL VICTORY AT PARLEY

Conferees Invoke Alphabet to Settle Argument and Parisians Win Right to Present Limitation Plan

By FRANK HAYLAND, KING OF THE DELEGATES. LONDON, Jan. 27.—France today gained a technical victory on a point of procedure for the formal agenda of the five-power naval disarmament conference after a meeting of the chief delegates at Number 10 Downing street.

What actually happened was that after nearly three hours of keen discussion, the delegates eventually agreed to settle the point of their disagreement by invoking the alphabet and under its auspices, France, by precedence, won. Italy, was the next in line to propose discussion of the French plan for limitation of naval armaments by total tonnage instead of by categories of ships.

This is expected to produce a compromise on the global tonnage proposals satisfactory to all the powers. Meanwhile, Italy's desire to plunge into the question of maximum and minimum tonnage for each category of ships.

Too Slow for Sumner Secretary of State Sumner admitted that today's meeting, which lasted for the first time for nearly two hours, had been too slow.

For the Americans and the Japanese it was largely a day of waiting while the European delegates maneuvered in a maze of technicalities relating to the French plan, including naval parity.

It remained for the British government to add a realistic demand for a reduction in the number of battleships to the agenda of the day's work, but work had not begun. They did not figure in the French estimates of the 50 cruisers necessary for their indefinite fleet allowance.

Thought not forward as a definite step toward a settlement at this time, a British spokesman today said the cancellation nevertheless would be a step toward a settlement. The London conference would accomplish something. The same official said that the British government would accept the American proposal to limit the number of battleships to 18.

MITCHELL ACTS TO MAKE PROHIBITION AGENTS ABSTAINERS

Attorney General Expresses Belief Rum Law Enforcement Officers Should Not Violate Volstead Act

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—If Attorney General Mitchell has his way, prohibition agents will be prohibited from acting as rum runners. The attorney general's opinion is that the Volstead act, which prohibits the sale of intoxicating liquors, should not be used to enable agents to engage in the very business they are supposed to suppress.

The head of the justice department, who would bear the burden of enforcement responsibility, "will be a lawbreaker himself," he said, "if he is to enforce the law."

Mr. Mitchell's view was contained in a letter to a private citizen who had written him asking for his assistance in securing a license to sell liquor. The citizen's name was withheld.

Defines Purpose

Saying the investigation was under his direction, the attorney general defined his purpose as "to obtain all the information that is available about any candidate who may be qualified for the post and his probable efficiency."

At the hearing, Representatives Cushman, Democrat, Missouri, and Stone, Republican, Oklahoma, had inquired whether "dry" agents should not pledge themselves to abstain from drinking liquor. Mr. Mitchell replied that he believed "that no man who makes a practice of drinking intoxicating liquor or who has definite or pronounced views in opposition to prohibition, belongs, during this administration, in any post having direct or indirect connection with the enforcement of the national prohibition act."

"The treasury department now has charge of 'dry' enforcement," Secretary Mellon already had endorsed its transfer to the justice department.

Schafer Moves in Vain

Representative Schafer, Republican, Wisconsin, sought in vain today to have the expenditure committee invite Dr. Clarence True Wilson of the Methodist board of temperance and Prohibition to appear before the committee to testify.

"Schafer said 'I want Mr. Wilson to appear so they would not seek to have the prohibition enforcement transferred to the department of agriculture or to the department of justice for failure to enforce prohibition.'"

The Weather

FORECAST FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW—Unsettled; not much change in temperature.

Minimum temperature in the vicinity of Twin Falls was 14 degrees above zero during the 24-hour period preceding 8 P. M. yesterday, according to the report of the government weather observer here. Maximum temperature for the same period was 32 degrees.

Minimum temperature Sunday was 8 degrees above zero, and maximum was 28. There was a trace of precipitation.

BURLEY HERO GETS EDUCATIONAL FUND

Carnegie Commission Gives Juan H. Moore $1600 In Addition to Bronze Medal

DURLEY, Jan. 27 (Special to The News-Bulletin).—Durley, Jan. 27.—The Carnegie Educational Fund has awarded a $1600 fund to Juan H. Moore, a hero of the Durley fire, for his heroic action in attempting to rescue Arnold Worthington from death by burning near Albion, in August, 1928.

According to the commission, this sum will be available for Moore any time within five years, and will be paid as required. Dispatches have already announced that young Moore had been awarded the Carnegie hero bronze medal.

The action which resulted in the award mentioned, and which was brought to the attention of the Carnegie commission by Judge Dunn, occurred in a weed field near Albion while Worthington and Moore were engaged in spraying noxious weeds with sodium chlorate. This chemical is explosively inflammable and Worthington, who was weed supervisor at the time, became immersed in flames from the accidental firing of the dried spray. Moore rushed to the man's assistance, wrapped him in a blanket and otherwise attempted to extinguish the flames.

Worthington died from the effects of the burns and Moore was seriously injured. Moore is now a student at the Albion normal school.

Ray Kent, here have been examined by persons who identified Moore here, and officers here said there is no resemblance and small chance for confusion.

The officers here have expressed belief that Allen, whose asserted connection of the case was released for Moore, is a member of a crime ring of which Moore, Wilson and Kent also are members.

Allen and Kent, they pointed out, were under arrest for robbery at Salt Lake City when Allen was released. Allen and Kent have been made extrajudicial papers for return of Moore and Wilson taken to Salt Lake City last week by Deputy Sheriff W. B. Dugan and J. A. Egan, Twin Falls Police Officer. County Attorney E. V. Larson was summoned Saturday to take part in the extradition proceedings, and on Sunday evening, R. E. Lightfoot, Twin Falls police chief, with Mr. Egan and the manager of the Drug Park grocery left for Salt Lake City to assist in presentation of Idaho's claim to the wanted men.

Board Delves Into Walker Fight Case

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—New York state athletic commission is scheduled to consider tomorrow the case of Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, with the charge that the 160-pound king will make peace with the board and defend his crown against Rene de Ven, Belgian challenger, in Madison Square Garden, March 1.

Caldwell, suspended here three years ago for failure to defend the title in the specified time limit, aggravated differences by failing to appear before the commission when summoned. He has not fought in New York state since winning the middleweight title in 1926. Walker's title was declared vacant last year by the National Boxing association for inactivity, despite his defense of it against Ace Hickins in Los Angeles last October.

Basketball Shots

by TED YOSBURGH

In their venture into intercollegiate basketball, the college season. One of the most interesting questions of the college season. It was Schmidt who built up the sport at the Rocky Mountain institution from the point where the boys were playing it on dirt courts with very little equipment.

But Schmidt or no Schmidt, the basketball look good enough to clean up in the Rocky Mountain loop for the fourth straight year. Their barnstorming tour got started on the west coast when it carried them up against little Butler college, Indianapolis, where some of the best teams in the country are turned out every year.

Butler, incidentally, has taken the measure of three of the leading teams of the Independent Market, Purdue and Vanderbilt as well as Montana State.

Whether the exodus of Coach Schmidt who has shifted his activities to Texas Christian university will mark the end of the four straight Southwest conference titles is another matter.

The answer apparently is that the top-notch sport performer gets as much year-round practice as the average player of fair ability. It makes something like $1500 a month.

For the basketball season, the player's training and all, total four or five half months. The big shots of the American "Pro" league cash in to the tune of $7500 and have most of the year to spend it in or to buy themselves with anything from insurance to riding the range.

Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence, if you would maintain the graceful, modern figure with its captivating curves.

THE NEW GAUGE OF MOTOR OIL VALUE:

"Penetrative Lubricity"*

What it Is... What it Does

PENETRATIVE lubricity is the new gauge of motor oil value that is agitating the oil world. And this unique term can be applied to only one motor oil in North America: Conoco Germ-Processed.

Under test, this oil reduces motor friction to a greater degree than does any competitive oil... that's lubricity!

The microscope proves that this oil penetrates the very "pores" of the metal... and there deposits millions of tiny oil reservoirs... that's penetration!

What Penetrative Lubricity Means in Every-Day Driving

It is Penetrative Lubricity that gives Conoco Germ-Processed oils that motor-saving "carry-over" film that prevents your driving an oilless motor, no matter what the operating conditions. The most frequent abuse of automobile motors, all unintentional by their owners, comes during the first 5 to 15 minutes after starting. Engineers agree that 40% to 60% of all motor wear occurs then, due to this fact.

You will be glad to know that in those crucial moments, this "carry-over" of Germ-Processed oils... the reserve lubrication in those millions of tiny reservoirs... protects your motor adequately.

Only Conoco Oils are Germ-Processed

Conoco Germ-Processed Oils bring you the first fundamentally new lubricant of the century. The isolation of the Germ-Essence by Wells and Southcombe, was the long-needed step to make a mineral oil capable of withstanding the stresses of modern motor design. As automobiles have changed since 1901, so have the demands for better oil. Germ-Processed oils supplied that demand, with the amazing characteristic:

Penetrative Lubricity. Go now to the Sign of the Red Triangle, and give your motor the lubricant it deserves.

THE FOUR AGES OF LUBRICATION

2 Years B.C. to 1763
Asphalt Puts for Wood on Wood Friction

1763 to 1859
Vegetable Oils and Animal Fats for Metal-on-Metal Friction

1859 to 1918
Petroleum (Unrefined and Refined) as "Oily" but does not corrode

1918 to 1930
GERM-PROCESSED OILS 1929
The first fundamentally better oils of the Century!

* Means—Slipperiness, smoothness, freedom from friction; also the property that diminishes friction, as the lubricity of oil, coupled with the unique quality to penetrate metal surfaces.
