

FRANCE'S DEMANDS STARTLE AMERICAN NAVAL DELEGATION

Washington Representatives Characterize Paris Government's Plans as Tending To Stimulate Building

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Feb. 13.—The long expected French pronouncement of naval needs was made today, setting a figure of 724,479 tons by December 31, 1936, as the basis on which the delegation would debate.

The Japanese delegation also made public an outline of its policy, expressing willingness to agree to a holiday in capital ship construction until 1935, and favoring reduction in battleship tonnage to 25,000 tons and in gun caliber to 14 inches.

The American delegation did not greet the statement of Premier Andre Tardieu with great delight, as was pleased because the French figures by their complete and definite nature at least provided a working basis on which agreement could be sought.

The Italian delegation also was disappointed in the high total of 740,000 tons, which was announced by the French, and the French fleet requirements, and D'Amico, having proclaimed parity with France as the watchword of the Italian policy, presumably may announce similar figures as the Italian need. It is believed, however, that it is likely that the French will build up to the high figure, which will be in line with the Italian.

The French statement sends the London conference to the bed rock of the dispute, and it is likely that long and tedious negotiations will largely occupy the five-power delegates in the future.

Rushing breathlessly into the conference room of St. James palace to-night, where newsmen of all nations were waiting, the French delegation demanded a cigarette from one man, a light from another and a glass of water from a third.

At the end of the conference, the French delegation was met by a group of newsmen, who were waiting for the French delegation to make a statement.

$5,800,000 BRIDGE AT LONGVIEW APPROACHES CONSTRUCTION CLIMAX

LONGVIEW, Wash., Feb. 13 (AP)—The cantilever span of the Longview bridge joining Longview, Wash., to the Columbia river, was connected today when a 32-foot steel girder was placed on the lower end of the down river pier. Less than 100 tons of steel remain to be erected to complete the span.

The bridge will be the longest cantilever span in the United States and one of the greatest in the world. The cantilever span alone is 1200 feet long, the total length of the steel structure is about 2000 feet. Approaching, bring the entire length of the bridge to almost two miles.

The bridge will cost about $5,800,000. Opening of the span to traffic has been set for April.

WOMEN WITNESSES FLY PROHIBITION

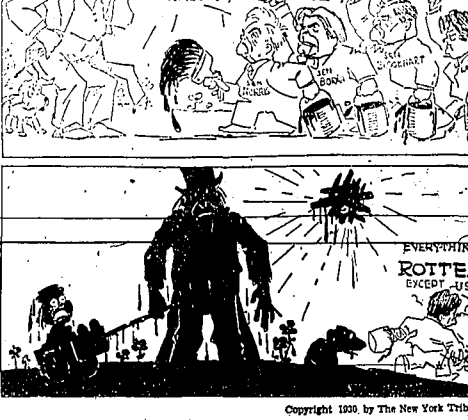

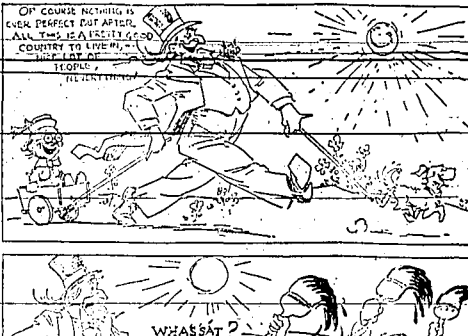

House Judiciary Committee Hears Opinions of Four Opponents of Amendment

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13 (AP)—Led by four determined women, opponents of the Eighteenth amendment today testified before the house judiciary committee of the crime, corruption and debauchery which they charged resulted from the prohibition law.

The women set out to refute claims that the women of the country favored the "dry" statutes. The main witnesses, among them former Senator Bruce, Maryland, backed them up with charges that the greatest crime wave of history had resulted from the Eighteenth amendment.

Approximately 200 men and women in the audience applauded declarations by the witnesses so frequently that Chairman Graham asked the committee and the speaker to ask those who continued to believe that the amendment was a success. Representative Mary T. Norton, New Jersey, demagogically charged the amendment was a failure, and charged the voters had no voice in its adoption and advocated a "wet" amendment.

ENEMIES OF HUGHES SCORE IN SENATE

BY VOTE OF 52-20

14 Democrats and 38 Republicans Balled to Approve Nomination After Hectic Days of Bitter Controversy

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Charles Evans Hughes was elevated to chief justice of the United States tonight with the passage of the nomination, after four days of intense debate over his attitude on economic issues.

His nomination by President Hoover to succeed William Howard Taft was confirmed by a vote of 52 to 20. Mr. Taft rested last week as his health gave way. Mr. Hughes is expected to assume the chief justiceship immediately.

A stubborn upstart fight in the senate against the former supreme court justice and presidential candidate led by Senator Norris, Nebraska, and Senator Borah, Idaho, picked up unexpected support but fell after another full day of debate.

The roll call showed the Democrats and their allies won by a vote of 52 to 20. Fourteen Democrats and 38 Republicans voted for Hughes while 11 Republicans and 15 Democrats opposed him.

The end of the four-day contest, which was unprecedented as the trial of an important presidential nomination in open session, came after a night of an effort by the opposition to force a vote for another day, but it had been defeated.

Launch Releasement Drive

Poss of the Hughes' nomination carried the debate almost entirely and launched a relentless drive today when it appeared they were gaining strength. But a motion by Mr. Hughes to recess for another day was defeated, 45 to 35. The judiciary committee reported the nomination.

Idaho Governor Announces Intention To Call Special Session For Road Program

Chief Magistrate Fixes Probable Date of Convocation and Confines Work of Legislators to Consideration of "One-Year" Plan, Providing Increase in Tax on Gasoline

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Feb. 13.—Governor H. C. Baldrige tonight announced he would call a special session of the legislature to inaugurate his "speeded-up" highway program.

"The session will be convened probably on February 24," the governor said, because of his desire to have the increased gasoline tax operative as early as possible.

The call will limit the subject of the legislature to the "one-year" plan which provides for increasing the gasoline tax to 5 cents a gallon and amending the tax-anticipation note law to permit deferred payments.

The announcement followed a meeting of two score legislators, with the governor this afternoon in which he was given a general expression that the state was in favor of the "one-year" plan. He preferred not to take up the larger six-year program involving issuance of $100,000,000 in tax-anticipation notes over a period of five years.

The proclamation will be issued within the next few days, the governor said. The date of the session was not fixed yet. It was believed likely that little interval between the proclamation and the date of convening would be observed because of the need to begin drawing receipts promptly under the increased tax.

IDAHO COMMERCE CHAMBER PROGES SPECIAL SESSION

BOISE, Feb. 13 (AP)—The State Commerce Chamber today formally urged Governor H. C. Baldrige to call a special session of the legislature to inaugurate the "one-year speeded-up" highway program. At the same time the chamber "authorized" the appointment of a committee to cooperate with the governor and the commissioners of public works in the study of the highway problems that confront the state with a view to making recommendations to the legislature.

The one-year program calls for increasing the gasoline tax to 5 cents a gallon, and amending the tax-anticipation note law to permit deferred payments.

The desire of the chamber was expressed in a letter written by J. P. Parsons, secretary, who reported that a tabulation of returns on the questionnaire revealed 70 votes for and 42 against the one-year program and 54 votes for and 41 against the six-year program.

ROBBER PERISHES IN CHICAGO SHOP

Burst of Shots From Automatic Kills One Man and Wounds Victim's Escort

CHICAGO, Feb. 13 (AP)—Two robbers, attacking a life insurance agent in an automatic pistol, were slain by a burst of shots from an automatic pistol, which was fired from a car, it was believed to have wounded his companion.

Through cards in his pocket, the dead man was identified as Manfred Allen Smith, 47, 1725 N. Dearborn St., Chicago. He had recently been treated at the Kansas City Veterans' bureau, his identification card having been issued as the 21st officer of the bureau. Other papers indicated, police said, he had recently borrowed $1500 in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

In connection with the shooting, eight men were being held by Chicago police. They were holding (Skinner) Flynn, labor agent, and Arthur Strook. Officers arrested them after a three-day hunt. Smith had been shot as he sat talking with the pair. The wounded man escaped.

Drive Goes Forward

Indemnities were returned against 16 gunmen and true bills were reported naming five others today as the police drive against crime went forward with only one bombing and one important robbery blotting the record for the day.

Most of the 425 hoodlums seized in the roundup last night, including Miles O'Donnell, reputed West Side gang chief, were released today. O'Donnell, however, was placed under $1000 bond on a charge of disorderly conduct. Three of his four henchmen arrested with him were among those who were set free in true bills for carrying guns. They remained in jail. O'Donnell obtained his freedom because of a "good" character reference from a "sympathizer," a flathead boomed during the police-bombing last night.

Bonds of $1000 each were set for the 18 less well known gunmen named in the indictments. Not since the Attorney John A. Swann said early trials would be sought.

The only robbery of consequence in the last 24 hours cost Frank D. McKee, treasurer of a building and loan company, $2004 in cash which he took up with him after surprising him as he was going to the money guard for the bank.

The bombing did $5000 damage to a wedding and hotel room company on the Northwest side. Officials of the company said they had had no labor trouble and that the police they could not account for the bombing.

So far this week the police drive has netted more than 200 suspects, but O'Donnell and his pals were the only "big shot" caught since nearly a week ago when a series of them, taking seven lives in as many days, led to the campaign against the criminals.

Three men in the building when it was destroyed—deemed themselves fortunate to escape with their lives. These men were R. W. Casper, Castleford, owner of the destroyed building; Charles Reynolds of Reynolds Brothers company, owner of the majority of the stock, and H. D. Hurry, an employee.

Origin of the fire had not been determined this morning and there were no available estimates of the extent of the loss.

Mr. Casper said that he had saved all of the stamps, but that about $500 in the pocket of his overcoat had burned with the coat.

Mr. Hurry reported the loss of valuable papers in his coat.

Castleford Druggists occupied the second floor of the destroyed building, and lost its records and furniture, including a piano, on which there was no insurance.

The destroyed building, a large two-story frame structure, was one of the first to be erected in Castleford.

Unable to fight the outside rioters and keep their prisoners in custody at the same time, the police sent for state troops.

Willington of the state police, who came from Jackson, to release them, however, did not change the attitude of the students who remained in front of the theatre, throwing rocks and eggs at the building and demanding that the proprietor, George Bohn, come out.

Dr. John L. Seaton, president of the college, addressed the students, but they refused to disperse. Dr. Seaton, however, told newspapermen that the "outside" rioters had thrown their sportsmanship in having police on hand to prevent students.

Students said the theatre owner had promised free shows to celebrate athletic victories during the present term, that he had been asked in advance to give one of the shows tonight in spite of a victory and had repudiated his promise.

FRIENDS OF HUGHES SCORE IN SENATE

BY VOTE OF 52-26

Committee chairman then moved to return the nomination to his committee for recommendation and this was rejected, 49 to 21.

Launched unexpectedly on Monday by Senator Norris, the opposition to Hughes gained considerable momentum as one after another of the senate, mostly on the Democratic side, made known a decision to vote against the celebrated Republican jurist. Four days of hectic work and debate followed. Members of the senate who were called as "doubtful" were centers of frequent conferences after the debate warmed. The contest attracted full attention and tonight at 8:35, when the final vote came, the gavelly seats were still filled.

Drive Goes Forward

The opposition to Hughes was based principally on the ground that his attitude on economic matters before the courts today were prejudicial in favor of "big business" and because he had resigned from the supreme court to run for the presidency in 1916.

Meanwhile Mr. Hughes' distinguished record was on a slab in his Wyoming avenue home, unable to receive visitors. Word of the court today "made ready" for him by friends.

Confident of commanding the votes necessary for confirmation, friends of Mr. Hughes left the debate entirely to the opposition today and they hummered away severely.

Senator Norris, acting Democratic leader, after making known his position, attacked what he called the selfishness of Hughes as a member of the Harding cabinet while the oil scandal developed were being made.

"Hughes," he said, "at the same board as a member of the Harding cabinet with Albert B. Fall, when the latter was treasonably and corruptly giving away to private interests the oil reserves of the navy; when Hughes' Daugherty was engaged in an orgy of corruption; when Forbes was pillaging the disabled veterans and funds appropriated for their care; and when Miller, the trusted servant of the United States, was pilfering the funds entrusted to the care of the alien property custodian. It is difficult to understand as an associate in the cabinet of Harding, how a lawyer as he is, how he could be entirely oblivious of the rot of corruption about him."

The determined assault on Mr. Hughes had led to much interest as to the outcome. Informal predictions of the final vote going the rounds at the capitol during the day. The roll call favoring confirmation was as follows:

ROAMING DOGS KILL LIVESTOCK IN IDAHO

W. C. Clear, Secretary of Wool Association, Recommends Licensing Canines

DURLEY, Feb. 13 (Special to The News)—Roaming dogs are doing much damage to livestock in Idaho. W. C. Clear, secretary of the Idaho Wool Growers' Association, says that dogs which are allowed to roam have been found to not only inflict much damage by slaughtering sheep, but also by leaving a trail of keys and empty livestock on the farms.

Clear advises that steps be taken to curb killer dogs. He says that the last Idaho legislature passed a dog license law, which can be made use of to restrict losses by predatory canines. "The law provides that each county may take advantage of its provisions by levying a license on country dogs. Both Ada and Twin Falls counties have adopted the state law. In these counties hundreds of stray dogs have been killed by bands of stray dogs in these counties within the last four months."

The state law aids in locating owners strays, or dogs which the owners do not consider valuable enough to identify a license. These dogs can be destroyed. The license tags also serve to identify the owner of dog and to prevent losses by predatory canines. In Idaho, Clear says, are preparing to follow the lead of Ada and Twin Falls in adopting the county dog license law.

MICHIGAN ENDS FIGHT ON TUBERCULAR CATTLE

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 13 (AP)—Federal veterinarians are advising themselves out of a job in Michigan, where a nine-year battle against bovine tuberculosis has been waged.

The crusade has been so effective that the original force of 14 men engaged in the work has dwindled to one.

As a result of their work, Michigan, when the job is finished in June, will be the first of the major livestock states to complete the task. The eradication work has cost the federal government $4,628,029, but dairymen estimate the increased value of dairy cows, resulting from the work, at $15,000,000.

"This enterprise," she said, "is specifically denied the government by the bill of rights without which there would be no constitution."

Charging that national prohibition has failed of its purpose, Miss Leachman, of the Women's National League, asserted that "young people are drinking liquor obtained in speakeasies, at cocktail and trade bootleggers who cannot be regulated."

"The youth of our country is being destroyed by these unregulated and illegitimate purveyors of liquor," she said.

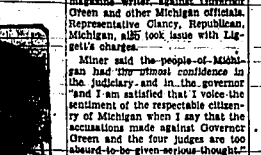

Asserting that he believed it impossible to repeal the Eighteenth amendment, entirely, former Senator Thayer supported the Senate resolution which would permit local option by the states under federal supervision. He said that "there should be some better way under which liquor could be controlled instead of returning the 'bottles' to their former owners."

However, if "I were put on my choice between the old saloon and prohibition, I would take the old saloon."

The former senator, one of the most severe critics of prohibition in congress since its enactment, declared that he would rather have "razor perched upon my head than to be compelled to turn for consolation to some of the preacher politicians who are doing all they can in support of the Eighteenth amendment."

Send for Troops.

Unable to fight the outside rioters and keep their prisoners in custody at the same time, the police sent for state troops.

Willington of the state police, who came from Jackson, to release them, however, did not change the attitude of the students who remained in front of the theatre, throwing rocks and eggs at the building and demanding that the proprietor, George Bohn, come out.

Dr. John L. Seaton, president of the college, addressed the students, but they refused to disperse. Dr. Seaton, however, told newspapermen that the "outside" rioters had thrown their sportsmanship in having police on hand to prevent students.

Students said the theatre owner had promised free shows to celebrate athletic victories during the present term, that he had been asked in advance to give one of the shows tonight in spite of a victory and had repudiated his promise.

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Feb. 13 (AP)—The controversy whether racial melting pots are good or evil is declared "without point" in a report to the American Association for the Advancement of Science by Dr. R. H. Reuter of the University of Iowa.

The argument is whether degeneracy of culture accompanies racial mixing. Dr. Reuter cites data to show that either purity or mixture of race may go with either a superior or a retarded culture.

He thinks that the important factor which produces progress is social contact.
