WITNESS SUGGESTS USE OF EDUCATION TO AID PROHIBITION

Daniel G. Roper, Former Internal Revenue Commissioner, Would Ask President to Call Conference

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The calling by President Hoover of a conference of governors and prominent citizens to work out a plan to educate the American people to observance of the "dry" law, was advocated today in the house judiciary committee prohibition hearings.

The first of these was Daniel G. Roper, a former internal revenue commissioner, said he was convinced the law could be enforced and that the chief executive call federal and state officials into conference with "wet" and "dry" to determine upon a solution of questions revolving around prohibition.

Too much time, he said, had been devoted by "dry" advocates to determining upon enforcement of the law and not enough to the education of the people to observance.

The American-born members of the committee were in a class was charged by Mrs. Anita Bentley Bruers, New York, author and a social worker, with creating a marked difference between the "wet" and "dry" elements created no demand for liquor.

Mrs. Beale Testifies The National Women's Christian Temperance Union was placed on record opposing all of the measures before the committee to repeal the Eighteenth amendment by Mrs. Beale, Brockton, Mass., president, she declared that as long as the women retained their right of suffrage the Eighteenth amendment would remain in effect.

The other two witnesses of the day were James L. Kennedy, Greenburg, Pennsylvania, and Oliver W. Stewart, president of the Young Squawans Foundation. Kennedy advocated observance of the prohibition law on the ground that the prohibition had not been the citizens as well as a law. Stewart said more than half the population of the "United States" were opposed any measure to repeal or modify the "dry" law since it is the house by the judiciary committee.

Not Cause of Crime The committee also received a statement from Mrs. Nellie Burger, Springfield, Miss., president of the Missouri Women's Christian Temperance Union, in which she declared the prohibition had not been the relief to hundreds of families who were before her anything but grinding poverty. She added that prohibition had not been the cause of crime increase but attributed it to automobiles and firearms.

At the outset of the hearings, Mrs. Lewis Lewis, Y. Y. member of the legislative committee of the National Association of Organizations Supporting the Eighteenth Amendment, read a telegram from her brother-in-law, Fielding—H. (Henry) Y. Y. coach at the University of Michigan, in which he intimated that the college youth of America was not drinking as much as in the prohibition days.

The telegram said the government had tried to regulate liquor and had made a "miserable failure of it" and that it was useless to try and regulate it. It was understood by certain public standing, by example, furnish a leadership to youth in law violations.

At the committee adjourned the hearings until next Wednesday, when the "dry" forces will resume presentation of witnesses.

ONE-VOTE MARGINS RULE AS WORK ON TARIFF NEARS END

(Continued from Page One) on the last big rate item in the bill. Turned down by a vote of 39 to 34 several weeks ago, on a proposal to levy a duty of 23 a thousand barrels on soft good lumber. Northwestern state senators got behind Senator Jones, Republican, Washington, today and won by the barest majority a vote of 150. The amendment as adopted would apply the duty to fir, spruce, pine, hemlock, and larch lumber, all now on the free list. The house bill leaves these articles free but taxes cedar lumber and shingles. Both bills provide for protection to hardwood flooring, now in the non-duty list column. Before the vote today, the Washington senator accepted an amendment by Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, to exempt from the $150 duty rough soft wood lumber coming from Canada and Mexico as long as those countries do not tax American exports of this type of lumber. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, attempted to place all soft woods on a reciprocity basis between the United States and its immediate neighbors, but lost, 28 to 37. Twenty-seven republicans and 12 democrats voted for the modified Jones amendment, while 21 Republicans and 17 democrats joined in the opposition. Senator Pines, Republican, Oklahoma, reaffirmed his amendment, rejected yesterday, 32 to 26 for a duty on oil and gasoline and it was turned down without a roll call. Coming to Pines assistance, Senator Thomas, Democrat, the same day, requested another record vote at noon tomorrow without further debate and this was ordered. Thirteen kings and five queens are buried at Westminster Abbey.

Critics Favor Chicago Cubs To Lead Way In National League

Seven Entries In Circuit Loom As Able Contenders

Mauling Phillies Highly Enthusiastic—Over Sensational Finish Last Year Aim for Greater Honors

By BRIAN BELL (Associated Press Staff Writer)
ALBANY, March 20.—The champion Chicago Cubs, rated better than they were at this time a year ago, are being generally favored to again show the way in the National League, but the competition may be made of sterner stuff.

Strengthening of clubs in the second division in 1929 suggests that the senior circuit should have a great battle through the long summer stretch leading to baseball fame and fortune in the autumn.

The always dangerous Phillies, the husky contender for the Cincinnati and the rejuvenated Brooklyn, will do much of the work of peace hovering about the center of the league. They should make the fight for places in the first four a struggle.

When Mr. Hall and his colleagues get together in their annual week-end sessions at Atlantic City, they should, the chances are very good, thumb will be turned down generally on such proposals as eliminating the point after touchdown, continuing first downs in the scoring, moving the goal posts back to their original position, outlawing the back of an intercepted pass and altering the year-old fumble rule.

The players of the mauling Phillies, highly enthusiastic over their sensational finish in the closing months of the last race, declare they will not be satisfied simply to improve their position but expect to be contenders for the championship.

With Lester Bell adding a punch at third base and at least one left to middle pitcher available from the new crop, Joe McCarthy starts the season with high prospects.

Pittsburgh is experimenting with a brilliant minor league—Gus Suhr—at first base, but the rest of the Pirates are much the same as in the 1929 outfit.

Making adequate arrangements for protection of second base will be the giant problem this year as it was last. If a capable second sacker is developed, the team will be formidable for some of the pitchers, notably the unusually reliable Larry Benton, will not have two poor years in succession.

St. Louis, under a new manager, the veteran Gabby Street, is standing out on the starting line, but with additional reserve strength in readiness to answer a call for help.

Phillies Dangerous
Actively to put the ball over and far away makes the Phillies dangerous at all times. Already top-heavy with sluggers, Manager Burt Shotton has added another likely contributor in Tripp Sigman and in John Ehlers, who has picked up a good field record.

Brooklyn's hopes were boosted sky high when Olen Wright, the hard-hitting shortstop who was out of the game with a lame arm last season, amazed the ball birds by throwing about as well as ever. Other sick and injured players have recovered some of their strength and the addition of Neal Finn and Gordon Glade, Pacific coast transfers, has given Manager Wilbert Robinson a chance to surround himself with some much needed strength on the bench.

Dan Howley, an American leaguer transferred from St. Louis, has the best hitting and with the extra power furnished by the bats of Bob Bennett and Harry Robinson, the Cincinnati team will not be a pushover.

The Boston Braves face a long period of reconstruction but Manager Bill McKeithan, who will be left along with the responsibility of working out his baseball debut, has made a start by getting some recruits who seem to be able to hit the ball.

Hall Predicts Few Grid Rule Changes

1930 Game Will Keep Most Of Regulations Used In 1929, Official Indicates

NEW YORK, March 20.—Football, 1930 model, will be much the same as the 1929 product, with only a few minor and technical changes and no freak appearances whatsoever, according to E. K. Hall, chairman of the national rules committee indicated today.

When Mr. Hall and his colleagues get together in their annual week-end sessions at Atlantic City, they should, the chances are very good, thumb will be turned down generally on such proposals as eliminating the point after touchdown, continuing first downs in the scoring, moving the goal posts back to their original position, outlawing the back of an intercepted pass and altering the year-old fumble rule.

The majority is all in favor of letting the game alone, the rules head made it clear. In the meantime he and his fellow members of a re-education committee are bringing to a close two years of painstaking work in rewriting the rule book.

The fifth report which presents the plan is clear. The meritless forward step beginning logically with the field and the ball and explaining the kick-off to final whistle, will be held before the rules committee at the seaside conclave for alterations after which a sixth and final version will be given to the football world.

FARMERS UNITE WITH GAME ORGANIZATION

Four farmers, Don Stafford, Claud Woods, R. Davis and Frank Thickett, under the direction of Ray Mark, this week built a rip-roaring defense for the hatchery of the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association on Rock creek, where water was threatening to cut into the bank on the south side of the creek. Farmers have taken a great deal of interest in furthering the work of the association, officials of that organization say. E. D. Hartman, a farmer on route 2, secured 85 new farmer members and was one of three persons who tied for sixth place in the membership contest. Others were George Rice and A. Holbrook. The prize, which permitted division, was split among the three.

Any sand can be quenched if there is an upward flow of water. Oak timber will last for centuries when buried in water or wet sand. Monkeys and bears prefer their meat cooked.

Vitaminas are not produced within the human body. Different species of trees produce different vitamins.

St. Louis, under a new manager, the veteran Gabby Street, is standing out on the starting line, but with additional reserve strength in readiness to answer a call for help.

Opening of Coast Baseball Season Recalls Old Days

Event Just 28 Years Ago Explains Nickname for One Time Noted Figure on Diamond of South California

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND (Associated Press Staff Writer)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Turn back the calendar 28 years. Baseball is in the air. Captain Mike Fletcher of the Sacramento police department had just resigned his commission to take over the franchise of the Sacramento team in the California state league.

Sacramento is playing its first game of the season in San Francisco. The league is an outlaw one, but who cares. The announcer wheels a hand truck loaded with flowers out into the crowd.

A husky, sandy-haired young fellow steps out and cuffs his cap. The crowd cheers and he grins but not everyone gathers the significance of the hand truck.

One of his friends knows, however, and a shout "Hurrah for Truck Day!"

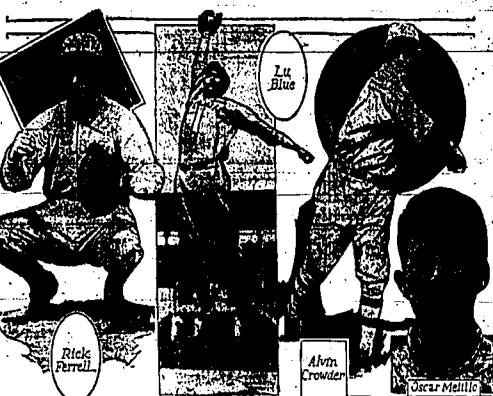

And that is how Charles (Truck) Eagan, first home-run hero of the Pacific coast league, got his nickname.

Now wind up the calendar in San Francisco to try his luck at baseball. He made good with a bang. The next year the outdoor organization of four teams, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oakland and Sacramento, branched out. Seattle and Portland were added and the Pacific coast league came into existence.

In 1901 the coast league entered organized baseball and Mike Fletcher moved his team from Sacramento to Tacoma, Washington.

As shortstop for the Tacoma Tigers in 1904, Eagan amazed the coast by belting out 25 home runs.

Browns Get in Shape at West Palm Beach

THESE FOUR ST. LOUIS Browns aren't worrying about their jobs. Blue at first, Melillo at second, Ferrell behind the bat and Crowder on the mound are fixtures, at least for the opening of the season.—AP Photo.

The record stood until 1916. That year also, Eagan tied with Charlie Smith, Seattle, for two-base hit honor, each getting 52.

In 1907, playing with Oakland, Eagan reached his peak and he was the best shortstop in the league. Here is a thumbnail sketch of his feats that year.

Led league in hitting with 235. Individual leader in baseball with 237. Led shortstop in chances accepted with 394—putouts with 327—and assists with 277.

Sonnenberg Defeats Wrestler of France

BOSTON, March 20.—Gus Sonnenberg, recognized in many states as the world's wrestling champion, retained his title here tonight when Henri Digaine, his French opponent, was unable to continue wrestling for the third fall after one of "Sonny's" flying tactics had knocked him from the ring. Digaine was taken to the city hospital suffering from what was believed to be a severe head injury.

Hall Strengthens Hold on Cue Title

PIENHONG LICK, Ind., March 20.—Joseph Hall, San Francisco, Pacific coast title-holder, strengthened his hold in first place in the national amateur championship billiard tournament here tonight by defeating John Tolandino, New Orleans, southern champion by 50 to 37 in 67 innings. Hall's high run was four and Tolandino's three.

California Swimmer Sets New Pool Mark

HOLLYWOOD, March 20.—Frank Walton, captain of the Hollywood Athletic club swimming team, clipped three seconds from the world record for the 150-yard backstroke here tonight. Walton, checked by three amateur athletes, Dan Zavisla and it was enough to end the bout.

The huge Italian, who tipped the scales at 275 pounds, knocked the Newark batter down with a left uppercut earlier in the round but Zavisla was up before the count of 10. Zavisla did not land a solid punch during the battle. His weight was 235 pounds.

Carnera Records Eleventh Kayo

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 20.—Primo Carnera, giant Italian, scored his eleventh knockout in the United States here tonight when he put Frank Zavisla, Newark, heavy weight, to sleep in the first round of their scheduled 10-round bout. The fight lasted 1 minute 53 seconds.

Association Sets State Meet Date

Idaho High School Athletic Officials Announce Schedules for Track Events

BOISE, March 20.—Schedules for district, inter-district and state track meets were announced today by the board of control of the Idaho High School Athletic association.

The state tournament will be held in Boise on the afternoon of May 15 while the district tournaments will be held May 3 and the inter-district the week-end of May 10.

The North Idaho inter-district tournament will be held at Lewiston. Places for the Twin Falls-Boise meet and the Idaho Falls-Idaho Falls-Pocatello meet will be held at Pocatello.

Boise Five Rejects Chicago Invitation

BOISE, March 20.—Coach Loren Basler of the Boise high school baseball team said today that the Boise team would not go to the Chicago tournament, although the team had received an invitation. He said it was not customary for the runner-up in Idaho to enter into play for the title.

ACTIVITY INCREASES IN CONSTRUCTION OF AIRPORTS OF NATION

Proposed Projects Reported To Commerce Department Number 1413, to be Added To 1552 Now Established

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 20.—"News" for the nation's aerial ships of commerce and war are bringing new construction activity. Proposed airports reported to the department of commerce total 1313, number to be added to the existing nucleus of 1552 established military and civil fields. Builders forecast that the modernized airports, where greater and faster are arranged for the passenger, will stretch its influence throughout the country. The "feature" field, where a stretch of level land and a shed shelter constituted an airport, is being replaced by more permanent projects whose total estimated cost soars beyond $500,000,000.

Safety and Comfort
Safety and comfort for pilot and passenger, and luxury rivaling railroad terminals of large cities mark new airports now springing up or taking form on blueprints.

Detroit will show the way in the spring when two projects, the municipal and Wayne county airports, will be put into service as "round-houses" for passenger, mail, and express service.

The municipal field probably will be dedicated April 9 in conjunction with the all-American aircraft show. A new hangar, 1014 feet long with 200,000 square feet of unobstructed floor space, is the largest of its type in the country.

Detroit Field
Five miles from the heart of the city, the field will be augmented by the Wayne county airport, 18 miles distant. A total of $2,900,000 will be spent, and the first of a series of hangars will be completed in the spring.

An administration building at Palm Springs, Kansas City, Kansas, will be completed at a cost of $150,000 for probable use this spring. The Kansas City municipal airport has built a smaller central plant at a cost of $70,000. Among those figuring in futures is Tampa, Florida, where a $700,000 airport bond issue has been voided. A buyout site will offer accommodations to land and airplanes.

FRENCH PRESUME DRIVER AT FAULT IN ACCIDENTS

PARIS, March 20 (AP)—Automobiles are presumed to be at fault in accidents under a final decision of the Court of Cassation, France's supreme tribunal.

Originally it was for the victim to prove his case in suing for damages. The increase in accidents raised courts to change their attitude on the assumption drivers were careless.

Divergence of opinion led the Court of Cassation to have a full sitting on a test case to settle what French jurisprudence should be. It was decided that the driver is presumed to be at fault and the burden of proof is on him.

SUPPLY OF VITAMINS HELPS PLANT GROWTH

CHICAGO, March 20 (AP)—Although most and vegetable diets do not ordinarily concern plants, they have diet problems somewhat like the human kind. Some can handle a little things in their diet seem to make as great differences to plants as they sometimes do to humans. One of these is reported to the American Association for the Advancement of Science by Eric Ashby of the University of Chicago.

He grew a certain sort of duckweed under a measure of light, and found that as little as two parts in 10 million of an organic fertilizer stimulated growth enormously.

ITALIAN AVIATORS PLAN TOURING PLANE RACES

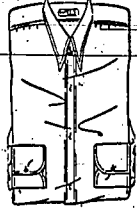

ROME, March 20 (AP)—An "aerial circuit of Italy," a race open to touring planes of all nations, will be run off from here next August, starting from the Litorale airport, at which Williams and Yancey beached their "Pathfinder" last summer.

The first stop will be Naples, then Brindisi on the Adriatic, and from there the route will lead up the coast to Trieste.

From that airport the planes will make for Verona, and thence will fly over Lombardy and Piedmont returning to Rome by Piacenza, Parma, Garano, Pisa, and Siena. Minister of Aviation Italo Balbo is taking a personal interest in the contest.

NOXIOUS WEED WAR GETS ENDORSEMENT

Meeting at Filler Declares For Strict Enforcement of Law in County's Campaign

A meeting of Twin Falls county landowners in Grange hall on the county fair grounds at Filler yesterday afternoon went on record in emphatic terms for rigid enforcement of the state weed law and for maintenance of a thoroughgoing campaign for extermination of noxious weeds in this county.

This expression was contained in a resolution offered by W. H. Harvay, Buhl, and adopted by unanimous vote of the meeting.

The meeting, which had been called for review of the county's weed campaign for past seasons, and for consideration of the program for the coming year, was attended by 18 persons, including Twin Falls county commissioners; Harvey B. Hale, Twin Falls county agent, and J. W. Barber, Burley, district leader of county agents. A special invitation had been extended to masters of Granges in the county.

During the session, M. E. Brady, director of the county noxious weed bureau, stated that there had been considerable success in the weed campaign of last year's campaign and that a $60,000 appropriation had been budgeted for the work this year. Out of the total of last year's expenditure, owners of treated lands reimbursed the county and met all the expense of the campaign, except about $20,000 which had been provided expense of the campaign.

The meeting yesterday approved a suggestion that circuit letters be sent to the landowners, with persons in charge of lands that were treated last year against too early plowing. The letter would show money will be saved in completing the kill, where the process has not been completed. If treated lands are left undisturbed this season, the director stated.

Dr. Walter Carter, entomologist, head of the federal laboratory of the department of agriculture here, accompanied by Mrs. Carter and two children left Wednesday for Honolulu, where Dr. Carter will have charge of the pineapple growers' station at the campus of University of Hawaii. He has been succeeded by Dr. P. W. Annand.

During his four year stay here Dr. Carter, among other activities, cooperated with the famaginated sugar company in a campaign against the white fly, concentrating in an effort which promises to be successful in eradicating the insect from the pineapple grower's belt.

His predictions in the late winter proved to be correct. The recent survey of a report predicting that there would be no flies during the summer of 1930, is therefore, accepted with confidence by beet raisers.

LAWYERS' TILT DELAYS EVIDENCE IN LAWSUIT

Dispute between attorneys delayed introduction of evidence in the case of Charles E. Simpson, Twin Falls orchard owner, against the Twin Falls Packer company, that went on trial with an eight-man jury in court here yesterday.

In this action the orchard owner seeks to recover payment for pasture for sheep during the season of 1927. The sheep that he contracted to furnish 200 acres of pasture and that were pastured there, the agreement was to be paid eight-tenths of a cent per sheep per day, but that he was actually paid only 50 cents.

Tilt between the attorneys followed an attack made by R. P. Parry of Walters, Parry and Theman, attorney for the feeder company, upon the asserted contract. He declared it to be only an option for which the company had paid its 500 and then decided against exercising its terms.

Simpson's attorney, J. H. Barnes, deflected his contention that the agreement entered into was a valid contract for purchase of pasture and not an option.

John W. A. Babcock, presiding, held that the jury should be permitted to decide this and other questions of fact, and members of the panel were directed to return to court this morning to hear the evidence in the case.

KIMBERLY-MAN URGES SUGAR BEET PLANTING

Jacob Mason, Kimberly, who owns and operates a farm one mile east and three south of Kimberly, in commenting on the sugar beet advertisement, being run in the Twin Falls newspaper, said yesterday it has been stated by some that the hauling was not included in the cost of beets, and while that is true, expense could of course be figured to cover all hand work with the crop delivered, but no mention was made of beam delivery or bean seed, which cost is in excess of beet seed. Neither was any reference had to the beet tops, which is either a cash by-product or an excellent fertilizer. A large mention was made of beet pulp or molasses, both of which are a valuable asset and available to beet growers at a very trifling cost, merely requiring handling charges.

"My feeding operations alone, made possible by the beet crop, is indispensable, as the manure I accumulate each year that I feed leaves me a handsome profit. If I just break even on my cattle, and have an assured market for my pasture, hay and straw.

My several years of experience with a beet crop has convinced me that a beet area is a part of a cropping system that should be included on every farm unit."

"THE LOST ZEPPELIN" FEATURES AT ORPHEUM

"The Lost Zeppelin," a big special filled with romance interwoven with a story of an expedition to the antarctic regions, at the Orpheum theatre today. Headline a notable cast are Conway Tearle, Virginia Vall and Ricardo Cortez.

This all-talking picture tells of Commander Hall, a noted explorer, who is planning to go to the South Pole in a huge Zeppelin. His assistant, Tom Armstrong, a naval officer, as his chief lieutenant. On the eve of the departure a banquet is given in Hall's honor. He leaves the affair early, preferring to spend the evening quietly at home with his charming wife, Miriam. Reaching his home he finds here in the arms of Armstrong.

Hall's wife, Miriam, tells her husband of her love for the naval officer and asks for a divorce. Hall advises her to wait until the Zeppelin expedition gets back from his trip. The next day the big airship starts out. During the trip Hall tells Tom that he will give Miriam her freedom. He blames the boy for not fighting against his love for a married woman, although he still feels compassion and tenderness for his friend.

The voyage of the Zeppelin is filled with exciting incidents that are based back home by Miriam. Finally the airship reaches the antarctic regions, encounters terrific storms, is blown against a mountain of ice and wrecked. Starvation and the extreme cold take toll of the men until only Hall and Armstrong are left. Tom appears as a seaman, brought to the scene by radio distress signals from the Zeppelin before it went to pieces. There is room in it for only one passenger. Hall orders Armstrong to return, telling him that he will love the youth and making the sacrifice for her sake.

When Armstrong gets back safely, however, there is an unusual twist to the story. There are many wonderful scenic effects in "The Lost Zeppelin." As for the drama in it, the soul story of a crisis in married life is ably told.

Conway Tearle is seen as Hall; Virginia Vall as Mrs. Hall and Cecil Rice plays the part of Armstrong.

Rinty appreciates beauty—Scene from "Tiger Rose," starring Monte Blue and Lope Velez, a Warner Brothers production. Lane Velez had no trouble making Rinty-Tin-Tin obey her in "Tiger Rose." He became her slave. Opening at the Idaho theatre this afternoon for a run of two days only.

THE STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE OF MARY YOUNG

By MILTON M. PROPPER

There is only one thing I cannot understand in regard to what occurred on Sunday evening. The telephone girl at your apartment says that Miss Young tried to call at 10:30 a clock, and falling that, left a message for you, asking you to meet her.

Received No Note

"But she insists that she gave you the note when you arrived." "Then she simply says," Norris replied in a tone that would admit of no doubt, "I don't know why she should. But I heard nothing about it."

"I believe you are right," he said, "I'm sure that if you had any idea of what she was up to, you would tell me."

"I'm sure," he said, "I'm sure that if you had any idea of what she was up to, you would tell me."
