Louisiana Derby First Honors Go To Michigan Boy

NEW ORLEANS, March 28 (AP)—Michigan Boy carried the silks of J. L. Pontus to victory in the $100,000 Louisiana derby run over the Jefferson park track. Bad News Bob and Brother Hank, H. C. Hatch's entry, finished two-thirds respectively. The winner covered the mile and a furlong in 2:00.1-5.

Nine of the ranking three-year-olds in training accepted the issue over the muddy track for the richest purse of the meeting. The race carried a purse of $222 to the owner of the winner.

Taking the lead early in the fourth mile, Michigan Boy finished the race in front of Bad News Bob. The latter was six lengths in front of his stable mate. Because of the heavy condition of the track, Michigan Boy was made the odds-on favorite, paying $2.20 for a $2 Michigan ticket. The Hatch entry paid $3.20 to place and $4.10 to show.

Alp's Right Fist Floors McAniff

Italian Giant Wins Thirteenth Consecutive Kayo At Skirmish in Denver

DENVER, March 28 (AP)—Primo Carnera's thirteenth knockout victim, Jack McAniff, Detroit, fell before the Giant Italian in two minutes and fifteen seconds in a head-line bout that was set for 10 rounds here tonight.

A short right across the chin sent McAniff to the canvas for the count. He landed partly outside the ring and made slight effort to return.

McAniff failed to carry the fight to the trainer's post but was easily got in with a short right up-punch and the thirteenth victim rolled over backwards. He took a count of nine before retiring.

Another brief skirmish and the fight was over as Carnera crossed to the second for the knockout.

A crowd of 8500 paid approximately $18,000, not so much to see a fight, but for a glimpse at the huge brute that is Carnera.

Coyote Gridsters Face Hard Season

College of Idaho Football Schedule For Coming Fall May Include Night Games

CALDWELL, March 28 (Special to The News)—One of the hardest football schedules ever to face a College of Idaho grid team will be on the card next fall, when Anse Cornella's platoon warriors start the annual grid about September 15.

Possibility of two night games to be played in the College of Idaho stadium are announced. Through the cooperation of the college and the local high school plans are being made to light the new stadium for night games and the first game likely will be played on October 18 with Williams university. The following week Pacific university will probably meet in a night game also.

Two Pacific coast conference teams and one Rocky Mountain conference team on the schedule this fall, besides the five Northwest conference teams. Washington State will meet at Pullman on September 27 for the season opener. One week later the University of Idaho will tangle with the Coyotes in a game at public school field in Boise. Brigham Young university, Provo, will close the season for the Coyotes on Thanksgiving day in another game at Pullman.

From October 11 until November 11 five Northwest conference teams will meet on successive weeks, making one of the hardest schedules ever played through by a college team. November 22 is the only open date on the schedule.

Good prospects for a winning team and a new stadium in which to play, the College of Idaho should have a most successful season this year.

The complete schedule is as follows: September 27, Washington State at Pullman; October 4, University of Idaho at Pullman; October 11, Puget Sound at Tacoma; October 18, Williams at Caldwell; October 25, Pacific at Caldwell; November 1, Linfield at McAniffville; November 8, Washington at Pullman; November 22, at Pullman.

JIMMY McLARNIN

Thompson McLarnin Fight Round by Round

ROUND TWO—Thompson boxed fast and worked a left to the head that puzzled McLarnin. They were both cautious and somewhat wild. McLarnin shifted his attack to the body and took a stiff left to the ribs. Thompson forced the Irishman to a corner with a sudden flurry but no damage. Jimmy almost lost his balance after dodging a left swing. They spent much of their time sparring. Thompson struck with both hands to the face without success. Jimmy countered with both hands to the jaw and they clinched as the bell rang.

ROUND THREE—McLarnin tried to feint Thompson out of position, without much success. Jimmy countered with a long right to the head but the Negro took few chances and boxed cleverly. Both continued to work cautiously. They exchanged lefts to the head. McLarnin took a right hand shot to the face without success. Jimmy countered with both hands to the jaw and they clinched as the bell rang.

ROUND FOUR—Thompson danced in and out working a left to the face. McLarnin was ready to catch but he took a stiff left to the right to the head. Jimmy struck both hands to the jaw as they sparred at a fast pace. Both were looking for openings for a knockout wallop. McLarnin scored with both hands but Thompson appeared unharmed. The Negro slipped but was back on his feet after a moment. They were sparring with both hands at the bell, but thus far there had been no decisive action.

ROUND FIVE—Thompson missed a right swing and was forced backward by Jimmy's two handed drive. Boldly trilled from a cut on McLarnin's nose and Jimmy took a right hand chop to the chin. They continued to box at a rapid pace but neither clinched. Thompson landed a hard right to the head and McLarnin backed away. McLarnin was warned for punching. Thompson drove McLarnin around with a two-fisted attack and Jimmy appeared hurt. Both were slugging and the crowd was in an uproar. McLarnin gave ground but was fighting back at the bell.

ROUND EIGHT—Both swung and connected with lefts. Thompson forced the fighting in an attempt to land a telling blow, but McLarnin held him up. Jimmy took a cutting around the head and gave ground up as the crowd roared. The Irishman was forcing the fight at a fast clip. Thompson missed an overhead right and Jimmy cutted him around the head.

ROUND NINE—Thompson landed a furious pace and hit around the head. Jimmy took a cutting around the head and gave ground up as the crowd roared. The Irishman was forcing the fight at a fast clip. Thompson missed an overhead right and Jimmy cutted him around the head.

British Columbia Battler Rallies Near End to Win

Dynamite in Vancouver Boy's Right Hand Fails to Explode And Celt Receives Verdict Only After Comeback

By ALAN GOLD (Associated Press Sports Writer) VANCOUVER, March 28—The dynamite in Jimmy McLarnin's right hand failed to explode tonight and the clotting Celt from Vancouver, British Columbia, was forced to stick a tailfeir finish to gain a close decision triumph over the hard-hitting Negro welterweight, Young Jack Thompson, Oakland, California, in the 15-round feature of Madison Square Garden's flaic frolic.

Banged and battered, frequently punched and outboxed, McLarnin rallied in the eighth round to score a technical knockout from a knee blow, generating a roar of approval to save himself from defeat at the hands of the more powerful Negro puncher. In a rally in the tenth round, McLarnin landed a series of unanswered punches which were the only ones to land in the final round.

On the Associated Press score sheet, McLarnin was given five rounds, Thompson was given two. The Irishman was given the first, third, fourth, eighth and ninth, Thompson the second, fifth, sixth, seventh and sixth, tenth, twelfth and sixteenth.

Thompson, wiry and on the defensive, rallied in the first four rounds and had McLarnin in a bad way. This led to a rather hard drive in the fifth round. This was the most exciting round of the fight. The Negro forced most of the fight to the end of the ring and, with a few exceptions, he drove down and McLarnin again took command. The Irishman, however, was able to land solidly on the elusive, shifty Negro, but he outboxed and out-smarted him at close range.

Victor Hills Low. A number of unexplained low lefts nearly ended McLarnin's using at the height of the most furious round. The Irishman landed a dozen times in the fifth, sixth and seventh rounds. Jimmy's left landed inches below the belt line. The crowd roared at the end of the round. Thompson had a slight chance in the eighth round, but he was unable to land solidly on McLarnin's ribs.

The official paid scaling 1935 to McLarnin, the gross receipts $77,868.21, and the net $62,187.00.

BEET GROWERS SIGN CONTRACTS IN FILER

A. R. Hagar, Manager of Amalgamated Sugar Company, Reports on Acreage Total

FILER, March 28.—A. R. Hagar, manager of the Amalgamated Sugar Company, was in Filer Monday on business connected with the firm. He stated that the company has signed up considerable acreage in the Filer and Buhl districts and is making new contracts daily. He stated the company had leased the Max Jamerson farm of 40 acres and will plant it to beets as an evidence of confidence in the beet industry and this part of the country as a beet country. The company has also bought a pier at Filer at a cost of $10,000.

"Paul Revere," the annual high school opera will be staged in the auditorium on April 4, by the club of the Filer rural high school. Earl Ramsey, principal of the Filer rural high school; Miss Frances Helman, social science instructor; Miss Marquette Loe, English instructor; Edward Kantola, agriculture instructor; Paul Lindley, science instructor; and Miss Evelyn Klink, music and history instructor, have accepted positions to return to the high school the coming term. All the other teachers were elected by the board, but some have not yet made known their intentions.

Twenty Odd Fellows of Filer went to Twin Falls last Thursday evening to attend a joint meeting of the lodge. They were accompanied by Leonard Laury, who received the honorary degree as a member of the Filer lodge.

Rev. C. W. Buell left Monday for Halley to attend the Baptist association convening at that place. Mr. and Mrs. William Walker took their small daughter, Bernice, to the Hot Springs the first of the week. They will receive treatment for rheumatism. Mrs. Walker remained with Bernice and Mr. Walker returned to Filer.

Miss Naomi Fletcher, Seattle, gave an address at the Baptist church here Sunday evening. An appreciative audience was in attendance. Chief of Police L. D. Allen and crew of men have been engaged the last few days in installing a drinking fountain at Yakima and Main streets.

Earl Ramsey's Sunday school class was host to a party Tuesday in the basement of the Methodist church. Mrs. T. L. Carney's class of girls was given a party at the home of the entertained the Girl Reserves and their mothers at a tea Wednesday afternoon, March 27, in the basement of the Methodist church. There were 80 guests in attendance to enjoy the delightful affair. The basement was beautifully decorated with candles and sweet peas for table decorations. The following program was in charge of Miss Annette Jacobson:

Address by Miss Frankie Barnhart, Twin Falls; two vocal solos by Miss Clara Langland, accompanied by Mrs. McCoy; gypsy dance by Miss Harriet Dwight. Girl Reserves singing Gypsy songs, completed the program. Delicious refreshments were then served by the committee, Mesdames E. E. Magnus, Mrs. Oleen Bunes, E. Hammerquist, U. S. Nicholson, C. L. Gilliam, Denny Telford, George Meadster, C. A. Lee, E. K. Dillingham and T. O. Wilson.

N. V. Sharp, Filer, representative of the Twin Falls Canal company board on the committee on site left for Idaho Falls Wednesday to attend a meeting held there Thursday.

The Girl Reserves gave a dance Friday evening at the Odd Fellows hall. Many couples enjoyed the affair.

E. J. Klama, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klama, arrived on Friday from California.

Don's Comedians played their farewell performance at Filer last Friday night. The company has staged a series of 11 shows during the winter months. The players intend to return to their circuit this fall with another group of plays.

Cuy H. Ebezer, Earl O. Walter, Earl S. Lathrop, T. E. Moore, H. J. Westley, E. E. Bremer and George W. Johnson, all of Filer, were among those who went to Twin Falls last Thursday for the regular annual inspection and

THE STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE OF MARY YOUNG

By MILTON M. PROPPER

Hankin hesitated to break in upon the stream of confusion, but he wanted to fit in his waiting.

"It was on Friday that you told her of this other man, wasn't it?" he asked.

"Yes, on Friday. Do you know who he is?" James Norris asked.

"I thought you liked her better. Mary looked terrible crazy; make him swing for it. So sure was I of my plan that I bought our tickets beforehand."

"A spasm of pain crossed Rogers' face. He gasped and looked up with a haggard expression."

was refined and of good character. He recalled the exquisite scarf she wore to any one, but even better was her confidence. And she had received no mail except the papers from Gary.

The recollection of the papers sent Rankin hurrying back to his rooms for another examination. There existed a sheer necessity that he should find something in them that would give him a suggestion from which to start.

If necessary, he would go West and make inquiries there. But every trail must have a starting point. Previous examinations of the papers, though, had revealed nothing applicable to his case.

Then, however, he had an opportunity to go back to the papers. The urgency in his search. Now the situation demanded added perception and keenness.

More than an hour Rankin inspected the papers. Carefully he covered all the personal columns—Births, Deaths, Marriages, Lost and Found, and the like.

It might have even the remotest application to his problem. The real thing to do was to obtain every paper; there would have been no use to procure Gary's tributes for nothing.

He scanned for any possible resemblance to dead girls. He scanned the advertisements and the local news. All in vain; none of it suggested anything to him.

He picked he threw them aside in a fit of disgust and weariness.

Another telegram to the Gary address had just come. It was from the little girl who had written the letter.

It was nothing for it, but to make the trip himself. Even though he had found anything to him, he might merely develop into a wild-goose chase. He had no choice in the matter.

The telephone bell jangled in his ears. Rankin lifted the receiver. The woman was speaking.

"Hello! That you, Rankin? A telegram just came in that I thought might interest you. Listen to it."

"What? You mean that I should go to Gary, Indiana?"

"No, my dear. I'm inquiring into the whereabouts of Mildred Yeager, waitress, missing from this town for three months. It's a matter of life and death."

"I don't know why I should tell you all this. I can't do myself any harm, because you've got me. No one can. The best thing I can do is to take my medicine and be quiet."

"It won't be too hard," Rankin murmured. "I'll do anything to help you. I'll do anything to help you. I'll do anything to help you."

NOTICE!

Waterusers!

Water will be turned out of the High Line Canal in the Twin Falls District Monday and Tuesday, March 31st and April 1st, and out of the Buhl District Tuesday and Wednesday, April 1st and 2nd. TWIN FALLS CANAL COMPANY.

Summarize Method

The method of operation is summarized as follows: The individual wool grower signs a contract to deliver his wool to his local association. The association in turn signs an agreement to deliver the wool to all members of the association to the national association. The national association then sells the wool to the market.

Grovers Issue Question

The matter of possible come back against the individual grower in the event that the price should fall below 90 per cent of the appraised value, was raised by growers at the meeting yesterday, but they were assured by the speakers that this was impossible and that the individual grower would be protected.
