CHANCELLOR PICKS CABINET TO GUIDE GERMAN REPUBLIC

Dr. Heinrich Brüning, Centrist Party Leader in Reichstag, Submits List of Ministers to President

Berlin, March 29.—After wrangling that had been at first expected, Dr. Heinrich Brüning, Centrist party leader in the Reichstag, today got together a new coalition government to succeed that of Heinrich Müller, who resigned last week.

The list of ministers submitted by the new chancellor to President von Hindenburg, Germany's definite shift toward the right of the Reichstag. This was inevitable after the withdrawal of the Social Democrats.

Though the political center of gravity in the government now is generally held by the Social Democrats, Dr. Julius Curtius at the ministry of foreign affairs gave assurance that Germany's foreign policy would not be changed from that inaugurated by the late Gustav Stresemann.

Three New Faces In addition to Chancellor Brüning, there are only three new faces in Germany's new government. All the other ministers served with Chancellor Müller.

Marin Schiele, minister of the interior in 1925, and of agriculture in 1927, will have the agriculture post in the Brüning coalition. The other two changes from the Müller cabinet are Johannes West, who takes the ministry of justice, and Gottfried Trevisanus, who will serve as minister without portfolio.

There are now 20 ministers, 10 Populists, and one representative apiece from the Democrats, Peoples' Conservative party, Nationalists, Bavarians and the German Catholics.

Chancellor Brüning is credited with great diplomatic cleverness in assembling to rally the fragments of the "Concordia" coalition. He was commander of a torpedo boat during the war and has been identified with the Nationalists, without giving any other indication of his own political views.

Of the list of cabinet members: Curtius—Heinrich Brüning; Foreign minister—Julius Curtius; Interior—Joseph Wirth; Justice—Paul Meißner; Economics—Adrian Dietrich; Labor—Hermann Dieckhoff; Defense—General Wilhelm Groener.

Agriculture—Marin Schiele; Finance—Gottfried Trevisanus; Communications—Theodor von Guericke; Justice—Johannes West; Centrist Party of the People's Conservative party, which represents the Catholics in the cabinet, without portfolio.

RIDER ON PONY EXPRESS GETS BID TO FLY WEST OMAHA, March 29.—An invitation to pony express riders to fly across some of the same routes which they once rode was extended today by the Boeing Air Transport company.

The veteran frontiersmen who give the opportunity to ride the pony express will be given the time when it took 115 days to carry the mail from St. Joseph, Missouri, to Seattle, with the present air mail schedule of 30 hours saved time between Chicago and Seattle.

BRITISH DIGNITARY FAILS TO IMPRESS GIRL FROM AMERICA

LONDON, March 29.—One of the girl students accompanying the American delegation to a naval conference recently proved herself to be so much "from Missouri" that she refused to believe in A. V. Alexander, first lord of the British admiralty, any more than in Benito Mussolini.

Mr. Alexander at a very formal party, it was learned tonight, approached one of the American girls and began a conversation, during which she mentioned casually "as if the first lord of the admiralty."

"Oh, yes?" she smilingly replied. "And I'm Mrs. Stimson. Aren't you the American people?" All Mr. Alexander's efforts to convince the girl that he was himself "from Missouri" were in vain. "You'll have to show me, I'm from Missouri."

She greeted the best of friends, and the stenographer was later charged to learn from her envious friends that she had been reading a British cabinet minister.

Highway Court Rules in Tax Case Counties Score on Complaint Alleging Loss of Revenue By Department's Evasions

BOISE, March 29.—The supreme court today ruled on one of the most important questions of the highway court, ruling that the department of public works is not liable for the loss of revenue to the counties by the department's evasion of the tax laws.

The court did not rule on the question of whether such taxes became a lien against the property. The case has been considered a precedent in the future of the department's public investments to pay back taxes on foreclosed lands has deprived them of the right to sue for the thousands of dollars in many instances.

Seventeen counties in which mortgages on farm land have been foreclosed by the department, ruled by the supreme court today, in the case brought by Twin Falls and Minidoka counties to require the commission to pay back taxes on the lands. The department was delinquent when

Opponents of Ban on Alcoholic Liquor Roll-up Lead Of Nearly 100,000 Ballots MELBOURNE, Victoria, Australia, March 29.—With almost 90 percent of the votes counted, opponents of the prohibition of alcoholic liquor have rolled up a lead of more than 100,000 votes over those in favor of a voluntary referendum whether the liquor license in that state should be abolished.

The terms of the referendum require that the majority vote in favor of abolition to secure that result. The industrial areas generally voted strongly in favor of the retention of licenses.

Robber Wounds Officer NEWARK, N. J., March 29.—Louis Brennan, 28, assistant treasurer of the Newark Compressed Steel corporation, was seriously wounded today by one of two robbers who escaped after an unsuccessful attempt to steal the company's 9000 payroll.

EXPLOSION TRAPS 16 MEN LABORING IN KENTUCKY MINE

Little Hope Remains For Survival of Miners Working Mile and Half Under Rugged Kettle Island Hills

By The Associated Press KETTLE ISLAND, Ky., March 29.—Sixteen men were trapped a mile and a half back under the rugged hills in a coal mine here today with little hope for their survival. The explosion that tore out the brattice work was believed to have been caused by a gas pocket igniting.

The slight chance that the endangered miners might be able to work their way back into some open shaft, build up a brattice and protect themselves from the gas pocket was believed to have been caused by a gas pocket igniting.

Four hundred miners might have been affected had the explosion come on any time but Saturday afternoon. As it was, only a score of men were in the mine and four escaped. Albert Whitley, a miner who was among those who escaped, was working near the explosion but was unable to ascertain the cause, or tell of the extent of the damage.

Mine rescue squads were ordered here at once from Hickman and Lexington, Kentucky, and Norton, Virginia, and a special train was prepared to carry the rescue squads to the mine.

Bandits and Policeman Clash in New Orleans NEW ORLEANS, March 29.—Three bandits and a policeman fought with pistols and shotguns in the office of a laundry here today when the bandits tried to rob the place of $2000 and escaped.

Twenty-five women employees were thrown into a panic. Policeman Benito Esquivel, who was on guard at the plant during the pay hour, whipped out his pistol and blazed away. One of the bandits fell and his companions opened fire on the policeman with sawed-off shot guns.

During the shooting one of the bandits ran into the cage and grabbed a bag of money and ran out followed by the bandit, who presumably was wounded.

Professor Wrests Secrets Of Longevity And Adaptability From Human Shoulder Blades

CLEVELAND, March 29.—The modern, are readily classifiable into type of shoulder blade a person possesses may hold secrets of longevity and adaptability in the study of these features underlying his health, the length of his life and his adaptability to his environment.

This is the belief today of Dr. William W. Graves, professor and director of the department of anatomy in the University of Cincinnati, who is examining shoulder blades and other bones in what is said to be the largest and most complete collection of human skeletons in the world conserved in the Harniss museum, Western Reserve university school of medicine.

He has classified shoulder blades according to the contour of vertebral borders, which lie adjacent to the spinal column. He has found that the borders of shoulder blades in all acceptable races of man, whether ancient or modern, are readily classifiable into type of shoulder blade a person possesses may hold secrets of longevity and adaptability in the study of these features underlying his health, the length of his life and his adaptability to his environment.

Graves has discovered that the straight and concave predominate in frequency of occurrence in the young; whereas the convex predominates in frequency of occurrence in the old.

From his own studies of the living, when chosen at random in various periods of life from birth to old age, approximately 65 per cent in the first 10 years of life are possessors of the straight and concave, whereas only 35 per cent are possessors of the convex. Dr. Graves said "In all old people, similarly chosen, beyond 70 years of age, only approximately 35 per cent have straight or concave and 65 per cent have convex." (Continued on Page 2, Column 4)

Women Duel Over Sheck in Mexico Two Waitresses of Cabaret, Poor Shots, Stage Combat With Guns in Street

MEXICO CITY, March 29.—The second duel between women for the affection of a man within three days occurred here today when two waitresses of a cabaret fought with pistols under the street lamps of a lonely suburb.

The duel was entirely a women's affair. Each duelist had a young woman friend as a second, and the duel became a double duel when the second jumped into the fray with knives. All four women were wounded before policemen arrived, ending the battle and arresting the women.

The principals were Maria Luisa Gonzalez Lopez and Enriqueza Hernandez Suarez, and the seconds, also waitresses in the cabaret, Concha Meneses and Margarita Hernandez Gutierrez.

There had long been a rivalry between Maria Luisa and Enriqueza for the affection of Sergio Augusto, handsome cabaret cavalier. The rivalry flared last night into an open quarrel while the girls were working in the cabaret. Another waitress suggested that they fight it out with pistols, just like men in an affair of honor.

Agree on Just This. The girls who agreed upon, and when the cabaret closed at 3 A. M. Maria Luisa took Concha as her second, and Enriqueza took Margarita. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

CLARENCE DARROW RETURNS TO LAUGH AT AMERICAN WAYS

Older And Greyer, Famous Attorney, on Way Home After Year in Europe, Finds Land's Status Humorous

WASHINGTON, March 29.—After a year abroad, Clarence Darrow was on his way home to Chicago tonight to take a ring-side seat for "a good long laugh" at the American he views as "a three-ring circus, featuring puritanism, politics and prosperity."

Older and greyer than when he went to Europe, he dropped in at the capital today to see his friend, Senator Hiram Johnson, California. Later, in a heart to heart talk with newspapermen, he said "I came back to get a good laugh, and before I had been here a week, up turned prohibition."

Darrow was more the ardent philosopher, less the crusader as he neared his seventy-third birthday next month. He said he did not yet intend to return to the prosecution murder case he had been asked to take. His massive shoulders were bent, his face showed weariness. But as he reminisced, he commented on principles involved in fire causes extensive damage in Pocatello POCATELLO, March 29.—A loss of several thousand dollars was sustained and property valued to a quarter of a million dollars was endangered by a fire tonight in the basement of the Green and Hinson building. Most of the loss was thought to have been covered by insurance.

The first floor of the building was occupied by a plumbing shop. The fire started in the night club, dance place and skating rink located on the second floor and the building is owned by a two-story building.

The fire was believed to have been caused by a short circuit in an electrical wiring in the night club structure. It had burned some time before it was discovered, Fire Chief A. O. Canfield said.

MISHAP KEEPS GIANTIC AIRPLANE IN NEW YORK ALBANY, N. Y., March 29.—Held here, first by a snowstorm, then by a mechanical breakdown, the 32-passenger Fokker airplane which left Hubbard Heights, West Virginia, for California, may not be ready until Monday to resume its flight together.

One of the pilots, the Albany airport late today on an announced flight to New York, where it will be repaired. The plane has 32 seats, but when repairs to the second plane are completed, it will be the first ever in New York or at Hubbard Heights, and that the plane will begin the flight soon from either point.

Ford Receives Rebate of $37,790 on Taxes WASHINGTON, March 29.—There are times when Henry Ford, in common with the average man, makes a mistake.

This rate phase of the career of the Ford Motor company for California, revealed today in an announcement from the Internal Revenue bureau that Ford has been given the result of a tax refund of $37,790 as the result of an allowance for a loss sustained by the motor magnate back in 1925.

The announcement said the loss was incurred "in a transaction intended for profit."

After conferences with treasury officials, it was decided Ford's loss had been erroneously omitted from his tax return for 1925.

$50.00 Reward Offered on News of Clashes

The Twin Falls News will pay $50 to anyone able to supply the name or names of person or persons who on Monday night of this week took down and carried away News newspaper delivery boxes on a cross road two miles east of the city.

Shakespearean Actor Collapses on Stage DENVER, March 29.—E. H. Solheim, the Shakespearean actor, collapsed in a lecture platform here tonight and was removed to his hotel where he was described as "a very sick man." He was said to have had an attack of acute indigestion.

At his hotel additional information on Solheim's condition could not be obtained. Lecturing at a local theater, Solheim exerted himself soon after he had started to speak and, walking to the rear of the theater, collapsed. An ambulance was called, and he was taken to the hotel.

Census Includes Capital's Great Enumerators List Nation's Chief Executive and Family First in Washington

WASHINGTON, March 29.—President Herbert Hoover and his household quite probably will be enumerated first, or at least with special honor, when the capital city's census taking begins next Wednesday.

As far back as the first census in 1790, precedent may be found for such procedure. The names of prominent people, such as John Hancock and Samuel Adams, Boston, appeared at the head of census lists. Washington did not become the national capital.

President Hoover proclaimed the census, and it is considered but logical at the census bureau that it should be brought first to his front door.

A possibility was whispered about today that J. Sterling Munn, census supervisor for the District of Columbia, might appear at 1400 Pennsylvania avenue to make inquiries about the census taking with his great white columns, the following questions might be put to the president:

Your relationship to the family? Is your home owned or rented? For census taking purposes, census experts explained today, a president is a person, and is to be interrogated as such.

All those who live in the question "where do you sleep?" with the reply, "1400 Pennsylvania avenue," will be counted in the White House household.

All the rest of Washington's population will be counted in the census. Curtis, Speaker Longworth and Chief Justice Hughes will be counted as members of the big brown portfolio.

Mr. Colton spoke after a conference with the White House. He stated: "There are no differences of view here and that the annual report of the American delegation to the London naval conference was approved by the Acting Secretary of State and the cabinet."

Presidential support of the American delegation, which has announced its intention to attend the London conference, it will consider participation in a consultative pact with Great Britain and the United States. Mr. Hoover's attitude made no mention of the consultative pact proposal. There were no applications from London for the American participation toward it.

RECEIVE ATTENTION OF NAVAL SLASHES

As Tenth Week of Parley in London Closes Technical Problem Appears Least Intricate to Delegations

LONDON, March 29.—As the tenth week of the London naval negotiations closes, the fact that disarmament is fundamentally a political rather than a technical problem is increasingly impressed upon the delegations.

Arthur Henderson and Aristide Briand, British and French representatives, and their experts were busy with the burden of work while Prime Minister MacDonnell, Secretary of the League of Nations, and the other chief delegates enjoy a brief well-earned holiday.

Henderson and Briand conferred three hours today and, in an effort to hasten the progress of the talks, continue tomorrow in searching for a formula giving interpretation to the League of Nations covenant. It is which France can give as bolstering her national security in the Mediterranean. The same formula will not increase Great Britain's military commitments.

So far, reports here indicate, the exchange has been more progress in their formula. But if they succeed, the matter of the world can be standardized. The British and French under plans which have been worked out in the two months here.

Face Specter of Failure Inability to settle international political issues, affecting principally Great Britain, France, Germany and Japan, would be a disaster. It brings the conference face to face with the specter of failure to accomplish the purpose of the conference. It is a disaster which the five-power conference was convened.

There is some discouragement reported here that the British and French delegations but the three-power treaty always remains as a safe and sure standard. The British and French and Japan and Japan—whose delegates, after all, consider that a tripartite treaty would be a great achievement.

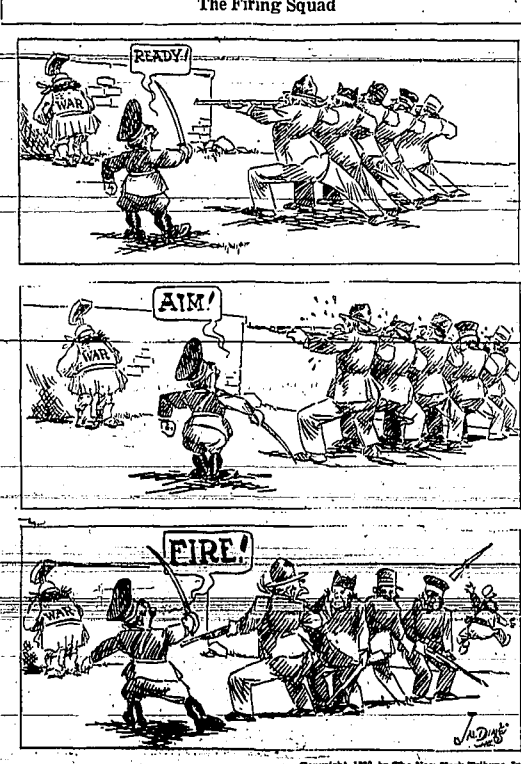

Should the French-British parties take a more hopeful turn, with the British and French and Japan and Japan—whose delegates, after all, consider that a tripartite treaty would be a great achievement.

HOOPER BACKS DELGATION WASHINGTON, March 29.—President Hoover today expressed his support of the American delegation to the London naval conference was approved by the Acting Secretary of State and the cabinet.

Presidential support of the American delegation, which has announced its intention to attend the London conference, it will consider participation in a consultative pact with Great Britain and the United States. Mr. Hoover's attitude made no mention of the consultative pact proposal. There were no applications from London for the American participation toward it.

SAMUEL CLEMENS' ORIGINAL WRITINGS

APPEAR IN JOURNAL
Long Sought Files Containing First Works of Mark Twain Come to Light in Native Home in Missouri

(By The Associated Press)
HAMBURG, Mo., March 29.—Long sought newspaper files containing original first works of Mark Twain, famous humorist, were brought to light in his autobiography as representing "my first literary venture," have at last been discovered in Hamburg, his native home.

They reveal the boy Sam Clemens (Mark Twain) in his "teen" as a budding humorist, and his brother's newspaper here and striving to "live up" the columns of the paper with his own humorous sketches. He even then richly possessed of the ingenuity he later instilled in his famed fiction characters. Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn.

The newspapers were found by the Rev. C. J. Armstrong, Hamburg pastor, and long a student of Mark Twain, among seven volumes of old Hamburg papers preserved by the late H. L. Leagay, who was brother of Sam Clemens and shewed away by his daughter, Miss Nettie Leagay.

Include Original Poem
Dr. Armstrong's discoveries, including one original poem, several witty articles and editorials and a few cleverly designed "wood cut" cartoons, as well as the original sketches, are described by him in articles published in the Hamburg Courier-Post, a weekly paper published by Orin Clemens, elder brother of Mark Twain in 1831, 1832, and 1833.

This poem, traditionally called "To Mary in Heaven," is a copy of one using the title he explained to mean "To Mary in Heaven," but is entitled "To Mary in Heaven," but is "Love Consecrated," and is addressed to the wife of the late Mark Twain, as signed "Rambler," now revealed as the earliest, non de plume used by the humorist.

Witty Correspondence
In ensuing issues is a witty correspondence between "Rambler" and "Crumbley," obviously written by Mark Twain in his efforts to "live up" the paper.

The original poem, believed never before found, was an issue of the Journal May 12, 1833.

It is entitled "The Heart's Lament" as edited by the Journal, Tennessee, and is signed "Rambler." The original wood cuts about the Hamburg citizen who resolved to commit suicide but didn't, and about "a dog-divided citizen," both referred to by Mark Twain in his autobiography, also were found in the old newspaper files.

Return to Editor to discover that his young brother had been making the paper "appleby" is indicated in an editorial by the editor May 11, 1833, saying "the editor and his enemies must stop their stuff." This editorial edit seems to have been written by Mark Twain, who probably wrote his very first literary and journalistic efforts.

1000 VOTERS VIE AT MONTE CARLO

Electorate in Little Principality Awaits Opening of Polls to Decide Issues
MONTE CARLO, Monaco, March 29 (AP)—About 1000 voters tomorrow will decide the dynastical and financial future of this little principality, the revenue of which comes from tourists who battle games of chance at the Casino.

The campaign has been so hot that 20 men have been added to the police force—or army—giving it a strength of 100, and it is reported that President Hoover's visit to Monte Carlo will interfere in case of disorder. Monaco is a protectorate of France.

The elections are to choose both a national and a municipal council, but the main issue is whether Prince Pierre or his estranged wife, Princess Charlotte, shall succeed the reigning prince. Louis, and whether some revenue from the casino shall go to the public improvements.

Mayor Marquet's party, which has been in power some years, is supporting Prince Pierre. His position has become rather anomalous, however, for under recent decrees which granted him the title of prince, Pierre no longer belongs to the dynasty. He was proclaimed as the demagogue of 1910,000 a year and a hint was given that he might enjoy living elsewhere than in Monaco.

The decree asked Princess Charlotte to resign her title as queen and father, Prince Louis, and resume her throne in lieu of succession to the ducal throne.

Prince Louis is understood to be disgusted with the turn of events and would have abdicated in February while he was in Paris had not the government intervened to have him await the elections.

The Marquet party is conducting a violent campaign against Prince Pierre, and the latter is expected to demand his expulsion and charging him with being responsible for all the misdeeds of the present government which have visited Monaco in recent years.

STARVATION 'HOT' OF YOUTH SCORES

Hugh Weaver, Once Thought Dying of Hunger Here, 'Whittens' Way to Oregon
BOISE, March 29 (AP)—Hugh Weaver, aged somewhere between 21 and 30, may be an aspirant for the title of champion "hunger" writer. Press and police reports indicate he has "whittled" his way successfully clear across southern Idaho and well into Oregon. Beyond that point little is known as yet.

Weaver first broke into print in Twin Falls where he was discovered writing near the public well. He was pronounced nearly desperate from starvation but declared to police he had to beg. He was fed well and sent along toward Boise, where he claimed to have an uncle.

His installation among the Weaver families here in Boise, however, disclosed the youth to be unknown. Twin Falls police then learned that the youth apparently suffered the same complaint at Preston, at a farm farther along and then at Twin Falls.

Now comes a dispatch from Payette, on west of Boise, disclosing that one Hugh Weaver was found in a field near the public well. He told a story of having run short of funds in Wyoming while on his way to Boise, where he was a physician who pronounced him suffering from hunger. He was then fed and fitted out by a Payette relief organization, with which he claimed membership.

Dean E. J. Idings of the Idaho extension division, said the committee would supply a variety of potato growers and delayed care needed for a long time.

W. B. Sherman of the United States department of agriculture predicted there would be an increase of 20 per cent in plantings of early potatoes in the Southeastern states where a similar organization has been sponsored by the federal government. Reports were also received by the meeting indicating an increase in Oregon and Washington and possibly in Idaho as well.

The Idaho representatives, at a separate meeting, adopted a resolution recommending that Idaho contribute $200,000—the $100,000 desired in Idaho, and the $100,000 desired in Oregon and Washington and possibly in Idaho as well.

HIGH IDAHO COURT RULES IN TAX CASE

The state's mortgage was foreclosed, E. V. Larson, Twin Falls county attorney, said last evening. County attorneys of several of these counties, at a meeting in Rupert some time ago, approved the suggestion then advanced by Mr. Larson that this suit should be brought on the theory that the statute requiring the commissioner to compute and file claim for the delinquent taxes, was a mandatory measure.

The suit was the county's reply to action by the attorney general's office last fall in filing suits in several counties to obtain county in default of paying tax deeds for delinquent taxes. In order to present all phases of the question, Mr. Larson said, three cases were submitted by the county to the supreme court. In one of the county already had obtained tax deeds. In another the state had obtained sheriff's certificate of sale, and in the third, the state was in the act of advising owners of the proper amount of planting, was made today by a conference of potato men and extension director.

Representatives of Idaho, Oregon and Washington attended the meeting as well as agents of the United States department of agriculture. The meeting followed on the second week ago in Walla Walla at which the desirability of such an organization was seen. No agreement was reached today on a secretary to compile and coordinate information, nor was a file decided upon as headquarters.

Extension divisions of the states will direct the work and with the states and federal agencies will finance the program, provided it is accepted by the individual states.

Idings Speaks
Dean E. J. Idings of the Idaho extension division, said the committee would supply a variety of potato growers and delayed care needed for a long time.

W. B. Sherman of the United States department of agriculture predicted there would be an increase of 20 per cent in plantings of early potatoes in the Southeastern states where a similar organization has been sponsored by the federal government. Reports were also received by the meeting indicating an increase in Oregon and Washington and possibly in Idaho as well.

The Idaho representatives, at a separate meeting, adopted a resolution recommending that Idaho contribute $200,000—the $100,000 desired in Idaho, and the $100,000 desired in Oregon and Washington and possibly in Idaho as well.

"HIT THE DECK" NOW AT ORPHEUM THEATRE

Action, color, music, splendor! Words describe with difficulty the entertainment values in Radio Pictures' lavish musical comedy, "Hit the Deck" at the Orpheum Theatre today and tomorrow.

If you saw the stage version of the Vincent Youmans musical production, you will be doubly impressed with the immense sweep and grandeur of the screen interpretation.

Leather Reed, the director, has maintained an intense narrative interest through the succession of the Vincent Youmans musical highlights, "Hallelujah," a solo song in the stage play, now sung at a Negro spiritual meeting employing hundreds of Negro singers and dancers.

Actual scenes of a battleship fleet, liberty boats fitted with brasses, brass bands, girls and all the atmosphere of a naval waterfront, add realism to the story background. The battleship deck where in the "Smith party" is staged, is photographed in technicolor. Hundreds of players participate in these scenes.

Dorothea Jordan and Ramon Novarro in "Destiny-My-Care," the second of the Idaho's "Pageant of Progress" pictures opening a three-day run next Tuesday, following "The Bishop Murder Case" the picture now playing, today and tomorrow only.

The BROADWAY STAGE

By DENING REYMOUR NEW-YORKER, MARCH 29.—Twenty-five years ago in the week of March 29, 1905—a company of Russian players presented "The Chosen People" at Broadway's Herold Square theater in their native town.

In the company was a young girl named Alla Nazimova, who room attracted enough attention to be offered a star's contract if she would marry a Jew.

Between her first New York appearance and her last Nazimova's career has been a most remarkable one.

AUDITOR FINISHES REPORTS ON CASSIA COUNTY'S RECORDS

Warren Vickrey, Certified Public Accountant, Finds Books in Several Offices in Excellent Condition

(Special To The News) BURLY, March 29—Warren Vickrey, certified public accountant, associated with the auditing firm of Byron DeLoach and Sons, has filed with the county auditor of Cassia county his report of the work completed during audit of Cassia county's report of the recently completed annual audit of the books and accounts of the several county offices.

"In general," says Mr. Vickrey in his report, "we find the original records made by the officers of your county to be excellently drawn and practically free from error. Every request made of your officers or deputies," he tells the county commissioners, "has been promptly complied with and I thank them for the courtesies they have extended during our work on their records."

The cancellations and the one criticism the auditor had to make of the manner in which the county business was transacted, was, as he termed it, "the about-out method resorted to in recording tax cancellations" brought about, he explains, by reason of the county land sales reaching such proportions. In this connection, in order that delinquent tax receivable charges may be properly verified, he suggests to the board that summary of cancellations should be prepared and sent to him, or for cancellations made at one time, showing receipt numbers, year of levy and distribution of cancellations authorized. These summaries, he says, should be signed by the chairman of the board of commissioners to substantiate the auditor's authorization. The past practice has been the listing of all land descriptions and the authorization by the board for the tax collector to cancel all taxes against lands described prior to date of sale.

Receipts of cash, listed by the auditor for the year 1929, show $379,101.99 for current tax receipts, $1928 and 1929 roll taxes, $83,546.50 personal tax collections for all years 1927-1929, delinquent taxes $2,760.32 officers' fees $40,974.60; motor vehicle licenses $15,312.12; tax sales $20,754.84; state act-upon applications $47,273.71; four reserves $32,110.00; interest on bank deposits $20,000; state and county interest $12,827; interest on bonds of the United States, $1,581.15; lease and rent county property $89,118; weed removal $1,000; interest on tax sale contracts $10,000 proceeds school district bond sale; $18 teachers' examination fees; $1000 interest on cancellations; and $102.50 general miscellaneous. Total $658,495.81, all of which was shown as property accounted for.

GOODING STUDENTS HEAR EDUCATOR OF GATE CITY

GOODING, March 29 (Special to The News)—Maintaining that "What are you going to do when you grow up?" and "Will you be my father?" are the two most important questions in life, Dean John Dyer of the southern branch of the University of Idaho, addressed the student body at Gooding college on Friday.

"College affords vocational possibilities," continued the dean, "and choosing should be done with the idea of a partnership with God." In a recent study, the speaker discovered that only two students in a group of 100 were deliberately planning on making money. He was following in their fathers' footsteps, 16 were making a boyhood hobby into a career, 12 were engaging some occupation of their youth and making it a life work, and 11 chose their method of making a living out of the stimulus of a great teacher. "Six-hundred-thousand students work to pay college expenses during the year," concluded the speaker.

Camorra Agrees to Battle And Promoters Seek to Obtain Jack's Signature

DENVER, March 29 (AP)—The Denver Post tomorrow will say that Primo Carnera, the huge Italian heavyweight, today signed a contract to fight Jack Dempsey somewhere in the United States some time during the next year. Terms of the contract, the Post will say, have not been divulged, but they are expected to guarantee a million-dollar purse for the battle which would probably take place in Soldiers' Field stadium, Chicago.

Dolan's Bruins won 21 straight games in a row on their home ice.

North Side Nines Vie at Hazelton And Russel Lane

EDEN, March 29 (Special to The News)—The season of scheduled baseball games for the grade school teams of the North Side got under way yesterday with the games which were played at Russel Lane and Hazelton. The Eden boys and girls teams crossed bats with the Russel Lane teams. The Eden boys managed to pull through with the long end of an 8-0-7 score over the Russel Lane boys. This contest was the outstanding game played Friday. The Eden girls also won their opening game by defeating the Russel Lane girls, 20 to 18. This game proved to be a slugging match with Eden getting the advantage of the breaks to score the greater number of runs.

The other scheduled game was postponed until next Tuesday. This game was to have been between the Greenwood and Dixon school teams. The games were postponed out of respect for the recent death of Edna Mertz, one of the former players on the Greenwood boys' team.

By WALTER T. BROWN (Associated Press Staff Writer) CHICAGO, March 28.—The season of one-night stands is in full blast for the scantly attired young men of the college track teams.

First on the circuit was the University of Texas outdoor relay games March 28 at Austin. The Southern Methodist university at Dallas, Texas, was host to relay teams yesterday.

Chicagans now await the relay events at Lawrence to be conducted by the University of Kansas April 18. The Drake and Pennsylvania relays at Moines and Philadelphia play to a Saturday audience, April 20 and 21.

Ohio States is the last, with its relay games at Columbus, May 2 and 3.

Bigger and better than ever, the managers proclaim—headliners galore and all sorts of odd relay races. "Big" Allen at Kansas will have a rodeo the night before his games. He is hopeful of having the Yale and Harvard track teams and Percy Williams, the Canadian Olympic sprint champion, to top his bill.

Ohio State expects a big eastern entry line. Last year Cornell, Pittsburgh and West Virginia represented the east. A special 100-yard dash, bringing together George Simpson, world record holder; Eddie Tolson, Michigan; Cy Landis, Texas Christian; and Claude Drucery, Rice Institute, is an Ohio attraction.

In the relays there are hurdles, high and low; sprints and middle distance runners linked together and at Drake a relay of the fastest football players of the conference. Army won the event last year.

Drake's relay games have been a yearly feature for 25 years. Last year they attracted 2500 contestants. The Kansas games are eight years old and the Ohio conteste a few.

Oklahoma Aggies Seize Mat Title

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., March 29 (AP)—Combining their rugged forces in the heavy classes, the Oklahoma Aggies won the National Collegiate association wrestling championship for the third straight year tonight, clinching the title as three of their crack grapplers pulled down national titles.

Piling up 21 points through three first places and six points awarded for scoring six falls, the Aggie masters of the mat since its inauguration three years ago, piled up a margin that could not be beaten although several second and third place points had to be decided by additional bouts.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 29 (AP)—Keno Rockne plans to leave here April 10 on his return trip to Chicago.

Announcement of his declination was made by the coach who laughed at a report that he planned to retire from coaching for a year.

The Notre Dame coach has improved considerably during his vacation here.

German Champion Plans to Embark On Atlantic Trip

Joe Jacob's, Teuton's American Manager, Secures Passage on Brenan to Establish Training Quarters

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, March 29.—Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey will wage their international battle for heavyweight supremacy June 12 at the Yankee stadium. It was learned today at Madison square garden today.

Set tentatively for June 26, the Sharkey-Schmeling extravaganza has been moved up two weeks as the Yankees will be playing at home the latter part of the month and the stadium would not be available.

With advancement of the date, Schmeling in Germany has cut short his exhibition tour and is planning to sail for New York not later than April 20, according to cabled information from Berlin.

Joe Jacob's, Schmeling's American manager, is to sail from Germany on the Bremen on April 2, to make training camp arrangements.

The battle between "the German Dempsey" and the American champion is expected to go far toward determining the successor to Gene Tunney as heavyweight champion.

By DILLON L. The world's greatest amateur and the 21-year-old "pro" who has been showing the way to the cash players for the last two years met for the first time in the Savannah open last month and Horton noosed out Bobby by one stroke.

Bobby has kept close to a program of indoor and outdoor exercise during the winter and is near perfect form, having checked the tendency to take on surplus weight.

He now tips the scales at 175. Jones has his eyes set on the

Watch the New Ford on the Hills, in traffic, and on the open road, and you will know that it is a truly great car

THE minute you see the new Ford car you will be delighted with its low, smart lines and the artistic color combinations. There, you will say, is a truly modern car.

But a still greater thrill awaits you when you slip into the roomy seat behind the wheel and start away for your first ride.

You will like the feeling of power that the new Ford gives you—the comfortable, prideful feeling that comes from having a car worthy of any occasion and equal to every emergency.

You will like the flexibility and safety of the new Ford as you weave in and out of traffic—its flashing pick-up as the light turns green and the sign says "Go." You will like its smooth, quiet steadiness on the open road where you can lazy along according to your mood, or do 55 and even 65 miles an hour if you desire. The new Ford has unusual speed—no doubt of that!

There are still other reasons why the new Ford car is a great car to own and drive. Three important reasons that mean a great deal to you: RELIABILITY—ECONOMY—LONG LIFE.

The new Ford is made to stand up under thousands of miles of steady running over all kinds of roads, and save you many dollars in repair bills.

Come in and see this great new car. Inspect it carefully—part by part. Then know the thrill of driving it. By its performance you will realize that there is nothing quite like it anywhere in design, quality and price.

Big Sums Involved In Bouts Contrast With Frays of Old

California Writer Brings to Light Fight of Words Before Titular Encounter Between Britt and Nelson

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND (Associated Press Sports Writer). SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Boxing being in the high finance class these days and defense of titles as uncommon as rubber boots for frogs, Mr. Rubber Fan no doubt would suffer some kind of a stroke if a pugilist tried to drum up a match to establish superiority, without a thought of the financial return.

Therefore, an article that appeared in the March issue of the Old Morning Call here in 1920 is therefore of interest.

It is interesting to note that the fight between Britt and Nelson was a great word battle, Nelson claiming the local lad was afraid of him. On December 29, 1920, Britt was in a word battle with Nelson, who was a local hero. The fight was a word battle, not a physical one. Nelson was a local hero and Britt was a local hero. ## Gem State Sportsman and Pack Of Bear Dogs Hunt Down Willy Cougar Stalking Warren Wilds

Thomas Coski and Band of Canines Boast Ability to Capture Big Felines Within One-half Mile of Place Where Scents First Located

(By The Associated Press). DOBE, March 29.—Thomas Coski and his dogs can catch a cougar in half a mile—in fact have done many times, he declared here on his return to the state game department after a winter spent in the wilds about Wenon, near the Valley-Idaho county line.

He has a pack of Norwegian hound dogs which he hunts, dogs which he feeds are no more frightened of a cougar than of a tom cat. "They're right into 'em," he said. "I've rarely let his dogs get hurt. In all last winter's hunting only one of his dogs was chased by a cougar, this a young dog, but out of three pups, only one was just getting his training. The dogs are massive animals, slightly shorter than retrievers, but built along the same general lines. Coski keeps them on leashes or otherwise closely under control while he floods along on snow shoes through the timber and rough country and does not release them until the tracks of the cougar are fresh, he is following are quite fresh. Then he turns them loose.

"I've kept them in a half mile or so of a long chase," he said.

Does Kill Cougars? The dogs usually track the cougar or get it out on a narrow ledge where it cannot get to the hunter. However beautiful the cougars may be they are not so dumb. Coski is sure that they are occasionally caught if they will sense his danger early enough to take to a tree before the dogs get direct wind of him. The dogs, with their peculiar habit of running with noses high in the air, sometimes miss the point where the cougar comes to the edge of the woods. Then the cougar comes down and dashes off at an angle to get many feet between himself and his pursuers.

Cougar hunting with bear dogs is not as easy as it looks. Coski said. The hounds keep his nose in Class B.

"Where do you want to go?" "Nowhere," he said. "I want to stay right at home with New Orleans."

"Class A is a pretty tough classification in which to start," he was reminded.

"I have seen them play. I can play in it." "The pitchers are pretty good." "I can hit 'em. I have seen 'em pitch."

Bobcat Trio Holds Hoop Score Record

Frank and Orland Ward and "Cat" Thompson Graduate From Division on Court

BOZEMAN, Mont., March 29 (AP)—When the Ward brothers, Frank and Orland, and Ashworth (Cat) Thompson, graduate from Montana State college this spring, they will have behind them the greatest basketball record ever established in the Rocky Mountain conference.

This remarkable scoring triumvirate has had assistance, particularly from "Blick" Breiden, famous guard, during his four-year reign here, but his chief power came from within.

For three years this trio led the Bobcats to the conference championships. This year they lost the western division title to Utah Aggies, who gained success with amazing rapidity last season.

In two early season games here the Bobcats defeated the Aggies with scores of 34-24 and 34-24. In the championship, the Logan school ended the Bobcat reign by taking two of the three titles.

Coach Suberth Dwyne and his men are glad the season is over. They always regarded the position of champion as a strain, and their only regret is that they played too much basketball just prior to their last conference game.

Dwyne, making certain to give credit to the three players of Utah Aggies, explains that his team simply couldn't come out of a late season slump, occasioned by the grilling of 23 games played before the first of the two trips to Utah on a little quest for a fourth consecutive division crown.

Anne Always Touches Wing Before Glider Takes Air, Spectators Note, and Premier Aviator of America Never Fails to Land Safely

Lone Eagle Soars on Monterey Skyline of Pacific Favorable Winds for 240-Mile Sailplane Flight South to Santa Barbara

By OSBORNE T. RUCK (Associated Press Staff Writer)
EL MONTE, Cal., March 29—A smiling, youthful blond glider enthusiast has his own good luck token as he is flipped into the air.

Interested spectators following Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's motionless plane experiments have observed that Anne Lindbergh never fails to approach his sailplane and touch its wing before the frail craft is catapulted.

He has always come down safely. But Anne didn't touch the pole pony before the colmed mounted and was thrown for his first fall.

America's premier aviator has been soaring on the Monterey skyline of the Pacific ocean awaiting favorable winds to carry him on an extended experimental flight to Santa Barbara, 240 miles southward.

Monterey peninsula, with its many hills and wooded knolls, was selected by Lindbergh as a safe spot for his usual flying experiments.

If Lindbergh has his glider hop to Santa Barbara he will top or circumnavigate 172 peaks according to the coast geologic survey, and constantly changing air currents would ham him.

A wind of eight- to 15 miles velocity is required, glider pilots declare, to make a successful journey in a motorless craft.

On one occasion Lindbergh carried along four turkey sandwiches and some water, believing there was enough wind to carry him south, but the breeze failed at did others during his weeks awaiting the opportunity to negotiate the hazardous mountain country.

Lindbergh is not the first to make use of the warm breezes that normally come in off the Pacific to conduct sailing experiments.

A quarter of a century ago Leonard's ranch near Santa Cruz these air currents were pioneered by John J. Montgomery, a 425 a month professor at Santa Clara university.

Montgomery would have his glider attached by a balloon and then cut loose and then rely on air currents for navigation. He himself made many flights and a professional

TEUTON REPORTS ON ALCOHOL'S EFFECTS

Dr. Frey Declares Consumption Less Than Days Before War But Increasing

BERLIN, March 29—In a requested report on the effects of alcohol which was delivered before the politico-economic committee of the Reichstag, Dr. Frey, director of the German department of health, said that the present day consumption of alcohol was far below that of pre-war days, although it had increased since 1918.

Compared to the beginning of the century, he said, diseases resulting from abusive use of alcohol that were under observation at public hospitals were today of a much milder nature. He stated that the mortality from alcoholism was not less in America than in Germany, largely due, he thought, to the poorer quality of intoxicants in America.

The doctor added that in general the number of brutal crimes in a country was directly proportional to the rise or fall in alcoholic consumption.

Husband: "Well, I don't throw my clothes away whenever the style changes a little. I send them to the Imperial for a dry cleaning and tell them to make the repairs and such changes as I want. There must be some place in town where you can have that done for your clothes!"

Wife: (thoughtfully) Why of course! The Imperial has given the same service for women's clothes! I'll call them tomorrow, dear!

FINDINGS OF JURY FAVOR TRADER WHO WANTS LAND BACK

Three-Days' Trial Leads To Conclusion That Woods Were Unduly Influenced in Deal For Oregon Property

On the basis of evidence presented during three days trial in district court here, a jury has decided that Charles H. Lowe, Twin Falls, misrepresented a hillside tract in Douglas county, Oregon, when he traded it to Mrs. Amy Gage Wood and her husband, Loring A. Wood, for nine lots on Elizabeth boulevard in Twin Falls, last April. The jury figured the Oregon land worth $100 and the Woods' property $215.

The jury's findings, in the form of answers to nine interrogatories propounded by the court, were returned to the court at 6 P. M. last evening, following deliberations of an hour and 45 minutes.

Advisory to Court
The jury's findings, that are advisory to the court in entering judgment, are all in favor of the Woods who sued for cancellation of deeds executed in the transaction, and for court order re-establishing their title to the Twin Falls property.

Evidence introduced at the trial indicated that neither Lowe nor the Woods had seen the Oregon property before the trade was entered upon. Lowe said he acquired it in a trade for a team of horses, harness and wagon that he valued at $200. The Woods, believing it to be on the Pacific highway, wanted it for a barbecue stand.

Testimony of the Woods, supported by depositions obtained from several Douglas county residents, was that the Oregon land was two and a half miles from the highway.

Jury's Conclusions
In answers to the court's interrogatories, the jury found that Lowe had misrepresented to the Woods that the Oregon land was on the Pacific highway, that it was level and that all but 10 acres was cleared, the balance being covered with good oak and laurel.

The jury found further that these representations had been made for the purpose of inducing the Woods to trade their Twin Falls property, that the Woods relied on these representations, and that the representations were not true.

Finally, the jury found that Miss Margaret Lowe, daughter of C. H. Lowe, was not an innocent purchaser for value of the Woods' property.

Daughter Acquires Claim
Miss Lowe, named as one of the defendants in the case, testified yesterday that she had received the property from her father in return for $300 that she had advanced to him in 1922. She asserted that she had used the property to pay for the Woods' land, and that the Woods had indicated their dissatisfaction with the deal with her father.

She was subjected to close questioning at the close of her direct examination, by H. F. Parry of Watrous, Parry and Thomas, attorneys with E. L. Ashton, as attorneys for the Woods.

Members of the jury inspected the Woods property during the noon hour and returned to resume their part in the proceedings at 2 P. M.
