T. Worden Hunter, Chief Executive of Bach Company, and Pilot, Lose Lives

ROOSEVELT HILL, N. Y., April 4.—Pursuing to a field landing behind a hill near here, a Bach tri-motor monoplane tonight crashed through trees.

The crash had just appeared over the field at the end of a flight from Bethany, Connecticut.

Witnesses saw the plane circle over the field in the wind, which was rough.

Employers of the Bach company, with hand enthusiasm, are anxious to reach the scene.

Hunter and McAllister, on a business tour of the country, arrived here last Wednesday night.

SON OF CAPITALIST DETROIT, April 4.—T. Worden Hunter, killed in an airplane accident, is 32 years old and is the son of Thomas Hunter, a retired Detroit capitalist.

HUMAN NATURE

Traffic officers who travel the streets in the ordinary discharge of their duty at a higher rate of speed than is permitted to traffic are not apt to find themselves occupying a very popular position in the event that they meet with accident or near accident themselves.

Human nature is a funny thing, with mood conception of fair play one of its strongest guiding impulses. Respect for the law counts for little if the law or its representative appears to be unjust.

TRAGEDY

The irony of fate is depicted in powerful strokes in the case of the late Mrs. John W. Peck, who was killed from a plane which crashed in a field, resulting in the death of thousands of feet of the late Mrs. Peck.

their without serious mishap and was not seriously injured by the incident took place at Tulsa, Oklahoma, a day or two ago. Investigation indicates that had the man complied in the way they probably would have landed in comparative safety.

Those who regard airplane travel as just as safe as automobile are invited to help themselves and go as far as they like. There need be no restrictions. Strictly speaking, there is not a great deal of risk under average flying conditions.

It may not always be that way but it is that way now.

BEAN SHIPMENTS CONTINUE HEAVY

Total of 1656 Cars of 1929 Crop Pass Through Minidoka at Third Month End

Bean shipments of the 1929 crop through Minidoka up to April 1, 1930, amounted to 1568 cars, according to figures received yesterday by C. P. Bowles, treasurer of the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association.

Shipments for a similar period in 1927 were 774 cars; in 1928, they were 1283 cars; in 1929, they were 1340 cars.

In 1927 cars shipped after April 1 amounted to 137 cars; in 1928 to 171 cars; in 1929 to 211 cars. It is estimated that cars to be shipped through Minidoka on April 1 this year numbered 501.

Shipments in March this year amounted to 150 cars; last year to 72 cars; in 1928 to 63 cars; and in 1927 to 67 cars. Mr. Bowles pointed out that shipments up to April 1 this year were greater than for any similar period previously and that shipments for March were more than double March shipments any other year.

Michigan shipments to March 1, 1929, were 3533 cars; to March 1, 1928, they amounted to 3005 cars; to March 1, 1927, to 4848 cars, and to March 1, 1926, to 4977 cars. Michigan in March this year had 2300 cars still to ship against 1000 cars. Michigan bean cars contain 400 bags and Idaho bean cars 600 bags of 100 pounds each.

Imports of beans from the east to March 1, 1929, were 355,862 bushels; to March 1, 1928, 346,446 bushels.

Humming Bird Full Fashioned Hosiery

BLESS the brief skirt of yesterday. It inspired the makers of Humming Bird Hosiery to "heighten" they'll never recede from. Humming Bird hose are as long today as every knit with as fine silk into as fine a web.

If the visible expanse of hose is less, its expansion in color is as authentic as before. Mme. Julie Bolegard, studying the trends of fashion in Paris for Humming Bird, assures you that the Humming Bird colors being shown today in this store are correct.

Service or Chiffon, Afternoon, Muscadine, Beach Tan, Solay, Rosador, Plage, and other Spring shades. Twin Falls High School Coach Tells Story of Stolen Cathedral Key to Win American Legion Monthly Prize

The next day we left for La Havre through Southampton, and then to Camp de Boulogne. Near Bredeux, after unlodging, we were lined up, and an officer from General Frenning's staff explained that the mayor of Winchester had brought to the notice of the king that an American soldier had taken a very valuable and historic key from the cathedral at Winchester, and the English government demanded its immediate return.

"As a member of the 146th Field Artillery," I landed in Liverpool, January 7, 1918, and went by train to Camp Morn Hill near the old English city of Winchester, around which centered the tale of King Arthur's Round Table. On January 9 we visited the old castle, viewing the famous Round Table, and also visited Winchester's ancient cathedral. The guide told us, with great pride, of the historic significance of each object, especially of the history of the key which had never been removed from its lock in more than 1000 years.

"The honor of America was saved, a corporal was court-martialed, a buck private became unconfrontably unpopular, and Winchester cathedral's key again reposed in its lock."

POPULATION DECREASES IN MINIDOKA VILLAGE

The report of the census of Minidoka village received yesterday by Judge C. P. Durall, supervisor of the South Central Idaho district, from John A. Kaufman, enumerator of the village, was the first complete return received at headquarters. Judge Durall said: The population of the village is 123, against 253 in March 1, 1928, to 4848 cars, and to March 1, 1927, to 4977 cars. Michigan in March this year had 2300 cars still to ship against 1000 cars.

Jackie Berg Punches Out 10-Round Decision Over Joe Glick

Low Blows Send English Fighter To Floor Twice

Crowd of 11,000 Customers Registers Spasms of Joy And Rage When Williamsburg Boxer Hits Far Down

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, April 4.—Jackie (Kid) Berg, England, belted out a 10-round decision tonight over Joe Glick, a Williamsburg, amid a storm of low blows that all but incapacitated him and twice felled him for counts in the eighth round.

Berg, one of Champion Sam Langford's most powerful high weight challengers, weighed 129 1/2 lbs. The crowd of 11,000 in Madison Square Garden was stirred to alternate spasms of rage and joy by Glick's low smashes in the early rounds and Berg's battling to offset the blows.

When Joe Humphries announced that Berg had won the unanimous verdict, a roar of approval and cheers, he received a great ovation whereas Glick was heartily booed.

In the midst of the controversy that had raged over the foul ending of July, a doctor, Major, Berg was felled almost by the necessity of taking another last week and eighth round. Glick smashed him to the floor with a left hook that was parried and Berg fell to his knees to take a count of seven. Just as the English youngster reached his feet, he was hit on the nose and Berg sank in distress.

But the Englishman grunted his teeth and flew at Glick. Punching like a machine, Berg socked the Williamsburg taller boxer. Glick was very wary and bled freely from a cracked nose in the close. There were no other knockdowns.

Ederle's time tonight was 21 minutes 41 1/2 seconds compared with Miss Ederle's time of 21 minutes 58 1/2 seconds, and Miss McKim's record mark of 24 1/2.

Timers also clocked Miss Madison at the end of 200 yards and found that she had shattered nearly 2 seconds off the official world's record, and 1 1/2 seconds off her own recent mark. She made the 200-yard turn in 10 minutes 20 1/2 seconds.

With the official record of 22 1/2 established by Miss Ederle, New York, Helen's recent record in Florida was 22 1/2.

Heel Upsets Cubs

Joe McCarthy Sends Main Spring of Champion's In-feld Back to Chicago

CHICAGO, April 4.—President William W. Heel of the Chicago Cubs, this afternoon said Rogers Hornsby would leave Los Angeles tonight for Chicago, where another examination of his ailing right heel will be made. Heel said he knew nothing of reports that Hornsby, the managing of the National League champion infield, might be out for a whole season.

Heel said Manager Joe McCarthy had told him Hornsby could accomplish nothing in training and suggested the athlete return to Chicago for medical attention.

"Hornsby will arrive Monday morning," Heel said, "and probably will be examined before noon. Until we hear a physician's report we can say nothing about how long he may be out of action."

Heel dropped out of the Cub lineup Wednesday when the heel, which was operated on last winter for a second time, was found to be badly strained. Heel, who was moved from third to Hornsby's station at second base.

HORNBY CONFIDENT
LOS ANGELES, April 4.—"The heel has been operated on," said such small matter as a sore heel will keep him from patrolling the second sack for the Chicago Cubs when the season's opening clash with the St. Louis Cardinals rolls around.

"The 'Hornsby' offered this information to The Associated Press in no uncertain terms before he entered here tonight for Chicago, two days ahead of his team mates who have two remaining exhibition games with Hollywood of the Pacific coast league.

"Sure my heel is sore, and Joe McCarthy decided it was best for me to stay off my feet as much as possible until it feels better," said Hornsby. "But I'll be back with the boys when they get to Kansas City and when the season opens you'll find me operating at second base."

Hornsby admitted that he would drop in on a specialist when he gets back to the Windy City, just as a matter of course to see how the heel is getting along, but he insisted that even this fact lacked the ear marks of a gesture to the possibility that he might be forced to have another operation and be out for several months.

THE STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE OF MARY YOUNG

By MILTON M. PROPPER

"I wish I knew that myself, Mr. Rankin; but two haven't heard from him since that day. As soon as he left, I knew he was in a bad way. I was again, to find Miss Mildred, he said. His intention was to bring her back to me. I don't know, there has been no news of him at all, either as to whether he had succeeded in finding her or had failed. I don't know, there, where he might be located."

"Not the slightest. We did think we might be able to get in touch with him at Mrs. Murchison's in New York, for he usually goes there and spends much of his time with them. But we have written, there has been no reply from him, and Mrs. Murchison claims not to have seen him." Dr. Sanford's explanation, Mrs. Murchison is the lady who raised the boy after his mother died.

If Olaf were in the East, Rankin reflected as he nodded, there, obviously, would be his starting point in tracing him.

New York Address

"Yes, Mrs. Herman mentioned her. Who is she, exactly, and how did she come to take charge of the boy?"

"She lives in Hightstown, N. J., at any rate, this address is 213 Central street. Miss Clara—the boy's mother, you know, who was killed after she had been deserted by her husband, while she worked in some downtown store. Mrs. Murchison had a boarding house, there. She hasn't now, since my client permitted her to want nothing, due to her kindness to the boy. She became greatly attached to him, and when Mrs. Clara—she shall you call her—Mrs. Clara, or never as Mrs. Julia Olaf—after Miss Clara died, she rather adopted him. She laid her hands and sent him to boarding school. But he always returns there, and he was home in New York. I suppose now we shall have to begin a search for him. This business is becoming terribly lively. You may think he'll show up when he knows he is here."

Dr. Sanford's explanation, Mrs. Murchison is the lady who raised the boy after his mother died.

GREENER PASTURES (a Fable)

Once a mule strayed over the hill, and saw there a pasture. Said he, "This is much greener than my own pasture. I could grow fatter here. I will return. So he went home, and packed all his belongings, and started to break into the new pasture. And so, discouraged, he again picked up his belongings and returned to the home pasture. Said he, "This good pasture is back. Now I'm sure the pasture is better, before I drag all my possessions about."

Now the moral is: If you have seen greener pasture over the hill, investigate before you move your treasures. STORE THEM WHERE THEY WILL NEVER BE MARLED, LOST, OR BROKEN.
