SNOWDEN PRESENTS BUDGET BRISTLING WITH NEW TAXATION

Financial Wizard of Labor Party and Chancellor of Exchequer Appears Before Tense House of Commons

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, April 14.—Facing a prospective deficit of £10,000,000, Philip Snowden, financial wizard of the Labor Party and chancellor of the exchequer, today presented to the tense and excited house of commons a budget bristling with new taxation proposals.

Great Britain's revenue for 1920-21, based on increased taxation, he estimated at nearly $4,000,000,000, a surplus of a little over $11,000,000.

The actual estimates were: Revenue, $5,145,000,000 (about $4,212,500,000 and expenditures, $21,500,000,000 (about $13,575,543,000). In addition to the total of expenditures, there was the ordinary sinking fund of $5,400,000,000; $3,000,000,000 added to a fund of $20,000,000 for the north of Ireland exchequer.

The grand total of expenditures was therefore $27,200,000,000 (about $3,936,045,000). This left an estimated surplus of $2,238,000,000, or about $1,181,000. These figures were officially published in a government "white paper" or official announcement.

In his speech on the floor of the house, Mr. Snowden gave the expenditures at $71,200,000,000, omitting the sinking fund, the north and Ireland exchequer, which were specified in the "white paper."

To meet the unpleasant prospect with which the country was faced on the basis of existing taxation, Mr. Snowden increased the income tax, the death duties, the super tax and the beer tax.

His announcement that the standard rate of income tax would be increased by sixpence from 4 shillings to 4 shillings and sixpence in the pound, was the sensation of his speech. It was being hotly debated in every corner of the country tonight.

By this increase, he said, he expected to get $4,000,000,000, or $2,000,000,000 more than had to do. He disclosed he intended to do it without increasing any extra burden on the poor man.

Throughout his budget, was a "poor man's budget."

HOOPER POINTS TO PREVENTION OF WAR

gress within our own doors, I have no occasion to emphasize this duty by pointing out the horrors and dangers of war.

"Those who really know war," he continued, "never glorify it. I know this nation can help in making impossible and that it has the stability and necessity of such a court as the world courts as an addition to the methods of pacific settlements."

Regarding the London naval conference, the chief executive said that under the terms now being finally formulated there has been brought about an actual reduction "in the armament of three per cent, and 25 per cent less than the standards discussed during the conference which failed at Cannes last year."

He stressed that the present proposals are a reduction of 12 per cent below the present naval program, rapidly as the present ship becomes obsolete.

"But most important of all," Mr. Hoover asserted, "is the step, finally to turn the tide of constantly increasing naval arms and to end the position of suspicion and ill will generated by constant rivalry in construction."

"We have been able to create a strategy," he said, "which is superior to any superiority in the naval strength of the United States."

"We are stronger," he said, "as a result of the conference. It is an accomplishment that I believe will appeal to the moral and spiritual sense of the American people."

The settlement of the Bolivia-Paraguay and Texas-Ariza disputes are, he said, the president's chief aim, which have advanced the methods of conciliation.

During his speech to the world court, he said, through precedent and treaty, "the world is building every year a larger and a more sturdy of international law and practice."

"Statement after a generation have realized that with the growth of international law and precedent another method can be contributed to the pacific settlement of a vast number of incidental controversies of justifiable character if the world had an international court to which such cases could be referred. A suitable hearing and independent decision based upon law and justice," he continued.

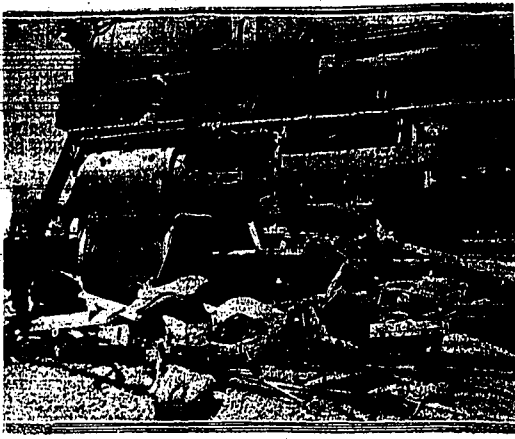

"The world court is such a court, he said, and established with the aid of American leaders, the president said, which has been recommended adherence to that court."

Every one of our presidents and every one of our secretaries of state, Mr. Hoover said, has recommended adherence to that court."

BOISE, April 14 (AP)—Extensive investigations into the mineral and non-mineral resources of Idaho will be continued by the state bureau of mines and geology in cooperation with the United States geological survey and bureau of mines, under plans approved today at a meeting of the board of directors.

The board consists of Governor Baldrige, Stewart Campbell, inspector of mines; L. C. Hanley, president of the Idaho State Mining Association; A. W. Fairbank, dean of the school of mines and geology and secretary of the bureau, and F. C. Latham, professor of geology in the school of mines.

Tentative authorization was given for publication of the report of V. R. Birch, chairman of the Democratic National executive committee, to night severely criticized the Hoover administration and the Republican majorities in congress for the stand on the tariff and efforts at farm relief.

He spoke at a Jefferson day dinner before Denver county Democrat. "We have been told recently through government statistics that there are from three to five million unemployed in the United States today," said Mr. Shouse. "The Fordney-McCumber tariff of 1922 is still in effect. Are we to take the situation in the fabric mills of New England or in the present status of agriculture in the West as the measure of the prosperity actually under the tariff policy as emphatically urged by Mr. Hoover?"

The speaker, however, claimed that the Hoover farm relief system a failure, (the federal farm loan board certainly has demonstrated that a tighter in speculation is "cannot quality."

Referring to the pending tariff bill, Mr. Shouse charged: "They claim that grandiose has added an obnoxious dollar to the farmer's hypothetical benefits from the tariff; they have taken pains to slip in a provision exposing him to the penalty of paying $10 on the industrial schedule."

She is another ornamental person on the concert stage, naturally musical, who has already covered considerable ground in the future significant pianistic career."

"Miss Vogel's recital was published by the Chicago Daily News on April 11 in a group of 'Artists of the music world who are appearing here.'"

PHILADELPHIA, April 14 (P)—Statements made by the managers of the major league championship clubs to The Associated Press in connection with the season's opening follow:

By Connie Mack, manager, world champion Philadelphia Athletics: "Everything appears rosy as another baseball season starts. I expect baseball in general to have one of the best years in its history. We have found that in times of business depression baseball flourishes better than in times of boom. Of course, the same conditions may not prevail this summer. We wish to find that out, but I am very optimistic."

"The Athletics are not claiming a pennant because we realize every club in the league has been strengthened and we look forward to a close race. Of course, I have every confidence in my players."

"I think the baseball public will see some surprises this summer from teams that have been counted out."

By Joseph W. McCarthy, manager champion Chicago Cubs: "Additional strength secured for the Cubs leads me to believe they will repeat in the National league this year. The return of Hartnett and the presence of Bell or Blair at third base are improvements over last year. My first concern is that I have been given the job he will keep him. We figure to get at least one good pitcher out of the batch of newcomers and our regulars of last year ought to go through it with ease."

BIGGER AIRCRAFT SHOWS

Aircraft exhibitions grow bigger and better. The International Aircraft Exposition at St. Louis in craft show was considered tremendously successful.

More than 100 planes were displayed in a grand hangar built for that purpose. Few of them had any financial appeal to the average person, because they were not cheap.

Not everybody flies yet, but everybody is interested in flying machines. The flying age is coming on apace.

REINDEER PRODUCTION BUSINESS OF VISITOR

Reindeer production, with which H. W. Johnston is identified on ranges up near the Arctic circle in Alaska, is an industry that he likes the cattle industry in milder climates.

Production of reindeer is encouraged by the government among natives of northern Alaska, and they find a market for their stock at packing plants of two large concerns operating in that field.

The reindeer is the only animal that is taken advantage of in the few cities that have established municipalities to help finance contributory life insurance policies for their employees.

Committee Suggests Action To Require Maximum Tax In New Cut of Funds

Legal action by Twin Falls county to require some school districts to pay maximum taxes, was suggested at a meeting here yesterday of a committee composed of representatives of Twin Falls county's independent school districts and some rural school districts that would benefit to the extent of some $46,000 through redistribution of school funds apportioned in this county during four-year period ending last July.

The committee, while adhering to its purpose to arrive at an equitable adjustment, requested E. V. Larson, county attorney, to investigate feasibility of this suggestion.

A meeting of the committee with representatives of the districts upon which the burden of a reapportionment of the school funds would fall, is being arranged to be held here next Wednesday, to make further study of the problem and, if possible, to arrive at some conclusion.

Asserted errors in the appropriation of school funds which are under consideration, were disclosed by report of Charles H. Davis, auditor associated with Byron DeFazio and Sons and Associates.

Dr. Davis disclosed to Bull independent school district last evening the report of a tax audit which showed the Bull district would benefit to the extent of approximately $6000 through reapportionment of the school funds.

Twin Falls independent district, according to the auditor's report, would benefit to the extent of some $21,000 through such reapportionment.

GUARDSMEN ENGINEERS UNDER INSPECTOR'S EYE

Out of a total strength of 63 enlisted men, Company E, Twin Falls unit of Idaho national guard engineers under command of Captain R. E. Leighton, turned out 50 men at an annual inspection conducted by First Lieutenant C. C. Hough, United States army engineers instructor for Idaho national guard engineers.

Members of the company executed close order drill under the inspection of Hough and thereafter Lieutenant Hough questioned the guardmen on subjects in which they have had training during the past year, and quizzed spectators in regard to their duties.

The inspecting officer was accompanied here from Boise by Colonel F. C. Hummel, commander of Idaho national guard engineers, and Lieutenant Hough while here subjected Lieutenant Colonel H. G. Lauterbach, Hansen, Major J. L. Hodgkin, Cain, Paik, and Captain J. Vaughn Price, Twin Falls, member of the state staff, to an annual inspection.

Company D, Bull unit of Idaho national guard engineers, under command of Captain Walter C. Bennett, still stand inspection this evening and on Wednesday evening Lieutenant Hough will inspect Idaho national guard engineers' medical unit of three officers and 13 men under command of Major George C. Halley, at Kimberly.

Captain Leighton announced to Twin Falls guardmen last evening midweek assemblies for drill will be discontinued and that outdoor range practice will begin for the company on Sunday, April 27.

HEAVY RAINS BENEFIT PLANTED SUGAR BEETS

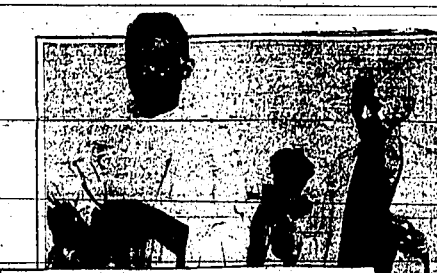

The heavy rains for the last few days will prove of great benefit to the culture of beets, it was stated by A. R. Hagar, district manager of the Amalgamated Sugar company yesterday. Contracts are still being signed, Mr. Hagar said, and it is likely that the rain will encourage many to plant who are undecided.

About 4500 acres have been signed up in the Twin Falls and Jerome sections, somewhat under the acreage last year. The acreage in the Burley, Rupert and Paul section is over 8000 acres, which is an increase over last year.

BICKEL SCHOOL STARTS CAMPAIGN FOR ROUNDUP

The Parent-Teacher association of Twin Falls grade schools will cooperate with the county health unit in the high school building, May 5 to 7.

Other members of the committee are Mrs. Z. Henson, Mrs. E. H. Boden, Mrs. John C. Harvey, Mrs. O. M. Hepler and Mrs. Ethel Gray.

Should any parents fail to receive this notice, Mrs. Putzler said last evening, they are requested to register their children at the office of the principal of their school district.

Parents are recognizing the great advantage in this summer roundup, Mrs. Putzler said, "for an increase of more than one thousand groups over last year's registration has been announced.

"It is found in some localities 25 per cent of the children needed glasses, and in others a large percentage were handicapped by defective hearing. Out of a group of 32 children examined in Virginia, 27 per cent were found to be underweight; 39 per cent had enlarged or diseased tonsils and 63 per cent had defective teeth.

"It is not fair to expect these children to compete with children who are physically sound," Mrs. Put-

NEW WATERMASTER TAKES INITIATIVE IN PIPELINE ISSUE

A. B. Wilson Serves Notice That Council City Must Pay for Maintenance and Repair of Conduit

A. B. Wilson, lately appointed watermaster in charge of distribution of water delivered to approximately 30 owners of about 450 acres north of Twin Falls city limits, has taken the initiative in bringing to the attention of the city council the responsibility for maintenance and repair of a quarter-mile of underground pipe that carries the water through a part of Twin Falls municipal territory.

In a formal notice served upon the city council in regular session last evening, Mr. Wilson as watermaster, called upon the city to bear within three days construction and maintenance operations involving an estimated expense of $350. As an alternative, the notice stated, the watermaster will furnish materials and labor necessary for this work and demand payment from the city.

The statute under which the watermaster apparently is proceeding, E. M. Seeley, city attorney, advised the council, provides for appointment of the cost among those who use the water.

"It will be interesting," Mr. Seeley commented, "to see how the city can be made to pay for something in which it has no interest, and which serves only persons outside the municipal limits."

He repeated his advice to the council to resist any attempt to fasten upon the city any responsibility for maintenance of the conduit, which, he said, would be a burden in perpetuity upon the city.

The watermaster called for:

1. Construction of intake and gate at the intake to the pipeline on Addison avenue between Lincoln and Buchanan streets.
2. Test and clean out and repair the pipe line in the alley between Lincoln and Buchanan streets from Addison avenue to Heyburn avenue, at an estimated cost of $200.
3. Clean out and repair pipe line situated on Heyburn avenue eastward from an outlet on Heyburn, at an estimated cost of $100.
4. Construct a gate, outlet, and two gates at the outlet to pipe line on Heyburn avenue between Lincoln and Buchanan streets.

Cost of intake and gate construction is estimated at $250.

Discussion Ranges Wide
Discussion of the watermaster's ultimatum led the council into an interesting and informative survey of Twin Falls municipal territory, with a tendency toward agreement that providing of additional "clear well" storage capacity at the purification plant is the logical and most important improvement of the municipal waterworks system.

The city is paying maintenance to the canal company and employing a ditch rider to distribute water for approximately 700 acres within city limits for which it receives nothing. It was brought out in discussion following presentation of a report from the canal company showing that water for only $59.83 acre in the original townsite is diverted to the municipal purification plant and delivered through the waterworks system. Approximately 64 per cent of the water for this 650-acre area is consumed by the city, the report showed.

Maintenance and distribution of the water for which the city receives no return, costs $1500 to $2000 annually, it was estimated, and this sum, it was asserted further, represents the approximate value of the water if it were leased.

Free Water For City Farms
Some small farms within the city limits are operated under the existing situation without expense to the farmers for water. It was asserted that it was suggested that the city should take over administration of these water rights and collect from users charges sufficient to meet the canal company maintenance assessment together with the cost of administration.

The city has already water rights for approximately 40 acres at the purification plant and the city dump grounds which it might lease. It developed during the discussion that diverting water from the waterworks system during the peak season might be materially reduced by diverting water from the nearby avenue lateral to the city park, and further economy might be effected by filling street flushers and sprinklers from the lateral. It was pointed out, T. J. Douglas, commissioner of public grounds, submitted the city engineer's report that a pipe line from the lateral to the park could be built for $550, but that the connection would require three days work and could not be made while water for irrigation is being carried through the lateral.

Mayor Rayburn, local waterworks superintendent, thought the connection might be made in shorter time.

City Ordinance Passes
The ordinance on which the city attorney and the city engineer had been working was adopted by unanimous vote of the council at last evening's session. It provides in 27 separate articles for water or milk dealers and for regular inspection of grounds, animals, premises and equipment, at penalty for violation of violation of its terms.

With the approval of other members of the council, L. A. Chapman, commissioner of finance, indicated that the ordinance, which contained public health provisions, would be retained as such in the book and records again this year.

The two companies are owned and controlled by the same interests. While the Grand Island factory is of about the same size as the Burley factory, it is of a later type and operated under the new "Steffens Process" similar to the factory at Twin Falls.

For seven years Mr. Anderson was superintendent of the factory at Logan, and thereafter connected with the Lewiston factory, from whence he was transferred to Burley. He has been in the sugar business practically all of his life and for 20 years was a resident of Richmond, Utah, a few miles south of Lewiston.

AGED MILLER FARMER MEETS WIFE IN COURT

Herman Miller, 63-year-old owner of a 45-acre farm near Miller, in Blaine, filed a petition for divorce in court here yesterday, saw his wife, Mrs. Lena Miller for the first time since July 4, 1927, when she left in response to a message from her daughter in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Miller returned with her daughter and son-in-law to appear at hearing yesterday on Miller's petition for divorce on grounds of desertion.

The hearing was not concluded yesterday, but is to be resumed today following a reported agreement on property settlement that was said to have been reached during a recess in yesterday's proceedings.

Miller blames his wife's daughter for wreck of his matrimonial bargain. In his complaint he asserts that the daughter set out to break up his home while they were living in Walla Walla 17 years ago. She succeeded so well, Miller asserts, that he left his son, then six years old, and all the community property to his wife and became a tramp for three years. Then a reconciliation was effected, Miller says, and in 1917 he undertook to build a home on a farm. But, he continued, his wife didn't like the farm and wanted to live with her daughter in town.

He testified yesterday that he had contracted to pay $2222 for the Miller land, and that it is worth $50 an acre although he admitted no land in his neighborhood has been sold in a long time.

Mrs. Miller, in a cross-complaint asks for divorce on grounds of cruelty, and asks for a share of the property.

Miller was represented at the hearing yesterday by J. W. Taylor, and Mrs. Miller by E. L. Taylor.

CHARGE OF SHOOTING FOLLOWS YOUTH HERE

Elmer Helman, 18, Union, Oregon, youth, who is wanted in Oregon in answer to a charge of shooting a Union woman through the wrist about a year ago, was arrested by members of the sheriff's force yesterday at a farm near Kimberly where he has been employed.

Helman admitted he had left home about the time of the alleged shooting, and that he had not since returned, but declined part in any shooting.

He brought a bicycle and suit case when he accompanied the officers to the county jail where he had pending additional word from the Oregon authorities.

It is reported that he had contracted to pay $2222 for the Miller land, and that it is worth $50 an acre although he admitted no land in his neighborhood has been sold in a long time.

Mrs. Miller, in a cross-complaint asks for divorce on grounds of cruelty, and asks for a share of the property.

Miller was represented at the hearing yesterday by J. W. Taylor, and Mrs. Miller by E. L. Taylor.

WOMAN TAKES TIME TO ANSWER FRAUD CHARGE

Mark Gertrude Hopkins, 23, who with her husband, J. H. Hopkins, is accused in a felony charge with obtaining under false pretenses an automobile valued at $1050 from the Browning Auto company here last March 17, was arraigned in probate court here yesterday and asked for time in which to enter her plea.

Judge C. A. Bailey granted until Wednesday and admitted her to $1000 bond. She has been held a prisoner in the county jail here since returning in custody from Spokane where she was arrested last week.

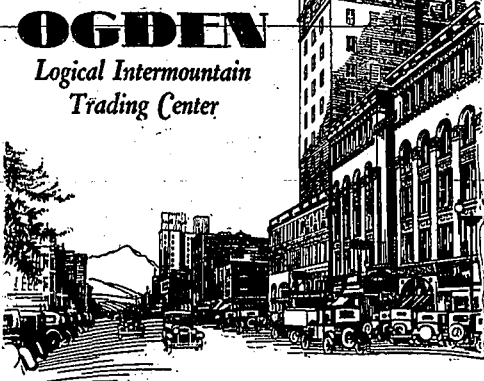

Hopkins, who is said to have left the wife to Spokane after obtaining some bogus checks there, had her car bank in payment for the automobile they obtained here. They drove the car from here to Astoria, where, it was reported, they gave some bogus checks on Twin Falls banks for gas and oil, and then doubled back to Spokane, where the woman was arrested.

SMALLER SIZES Two quilts at the next table were discussing a third and about partly of which, of course, is unusual for ladies to do, and unconsciously I listened in. Said the smaller one: "If she would only say larger sizes, but she gets those sweet little dresses that are much too small, and wears them out in no time, besides making herself ridiculous. It keeps her husband broke all the time buying her clothes."

"True," said the other. "It certainly doesn't pay to say small sizes." (Aid having finished my lunch I left and heard no more of the conversation, but it set me thinking.)

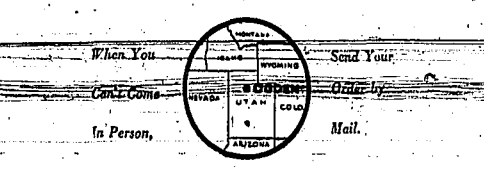

As a matter of COAL FACTS, lots of women could save from $1.50 to $3.50 on their fuel bills, if they would only learn to utilize the smaller sizes in coal. For instance, PEA COAL IS EXCELLENT FOR WATER HEATERS, AND IT'S ONLY $3.00 per ton delivered. PHONE 142 WARBERG'S

WILDER FARMER ENDS LIFE WITH POISON IN DESPONDENT FIT

Fred F. Ruge, 64, One Time Iowa Grain Dealer, Dies At Farm-Home; Officials Find Motive for Action

Fred F. Ruge, 64, Ex-conv. Iowa grain dealer for many years, was found dead early Monday morning in bed at the farm home a mile south of Filger that he had his family have occupied for two years past.

The report, accompanied by the widow, will be taken back to town for burial, leaving her this morning.

County authorities said Monday their investigations led to the conclusion that Mr. Ruge had committed self-administered poisoning. They reported finding a quantity of rat poison in the barn and also in his room, and they took from the pocket of trousers that he discarded when he retired Sunday night, a note pinned on a crumpled piece of paper.

Brother's Decision to disregard the pending injunction in reference to burial and to take the body back to Iowa was reached after a message was received here today from John Heuck, Ex-conv. Iowa, a brother-in-law, whose relationship with Mr. Ruge appears to have been intimate, and who has been arrested in Mr. Ruge's farm property.

Mr. Ruge is said to have been disappointed in his farm venture, and members of his family said, his health had not been good since he was injured in a fall from the roof of his residence in Iowa while working with radio antennae some years ago.

There was nothing in Mr. Ruge's behavior when he retired Sunday night, members of the family said, to indicate unusual despondency or rash purpose. He did, however, express desire to be alone. Mrs. Ruge went to the room several times during the early part of the night, and on one occasion, she said, she noticed her husband to call a physician. His reply, she said, was in effect, "I know what is the matter with me; but I wouldn't dare to tell you."

Wife Finds Body Mrs. Ruge left the room at about 11 P. M. and did not return until about 2 A. M. when she found her husband apparently dead. Dr. F. A. Dwight, Pierce, who was called to examine the body, which was found when he arrived a-half hour later. The physician announced Coroner F. E. Drake and Sheriff E. P. Evans.

The body was brought to the Drake mortuary where last evening an autopsy was conducted.

Daniel F. Everett, 50, World War veteran, was taken to his final resting place in Twin Falls cemetery following funeral services conducted by Rev. C. W. Burton of the Christian church in the White chapel here yesterday afternoon. The funeral services were here attended by former neighbors and friends gathered by the family during residence here since last fall when they came from Grass Creek, Wyoming.

The casket was covered with a flag provided by Twin Falls American Legion post and members of the Legion sang the burial prayer. Pathos surrounding Everett's death was reflected in the simple service. With his family he had come here to find work and he had perspired with this aim. He had worked as an assistant, until about a year ago when he came to Oregon. He was fatally stricken by a heart attack four days after finding work in construction of an irrigation dam at Vale, Oregon. Everett was to Oregon he had four years to work for one day, and he sent home two dollars out of the pay for the day's work to buy something for his son on his eighth birthday anniversary.
