

Chicago's First Subway Pierces Congested "Loop" District

WINDY CITY LOOKS FORWARD TO NEW UNDERGROUND TUBE

Digging of Tunnels—Under Network of Conduits and Subterranean Rooms Presents Tremendous Task

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, April 19—This city seems about to realize its hope for a subway system.

Chicago is the only large city of the world without underground passenger transport.

Three burrs through the congested "Loop" district are part of the city's vast proposed transportation readjustment.

Digging the tunnels under a network of conduits, transit tunnels, subterranean storage rooms and the Chicago river will be a tremendous task, but it is hoped the first subway will be done in time for the Century-of-Progress exhibition in 1933.

Two of the subways are to be under State and Clark streets. Important north and south thoroughfares, and the third east and west, under Van Buren or Jackson streets. Others will be added later.

Financial Plans Committees of bankers and aldermen virtually have agreed upon the main points of the construction of street and elevated railways, and the subway construction. The council expects to pass the resolution in May, and submit it to the voters in June.

At least 10 years will be required to complete the project of building a subway system and extending the surface and elevated lines.

Surface companies now have 100 miles of track and the "L" 160. It is proposed to add 245 miles to the surface lines, 214 to the elevated and to build 44 miles of subway.

Accommodations This augmented transportation would accommodate a city of 5,000,000 persons, a population which Chicago hopes to attain by 1950.

Coordination and extension plans, if carried out, will cost $500,000,000, the bankers committee estimates.

Both the elevated and surface lines would be pushed farther into the suburbs, reaching a score of more communities and now served by them.

The custom of the sunrise service was brought to Salem from Austria by early settlers. Pious Moravians who founded the town before the Revolutionary war, kept their old religious rites and their sunrise service in "God's Acre" was one of them.

They also retained the custom of having a church band and tomorrow's services will see more than 325 musicians playing the stately Moravian chorales. E. A. Fitch, the leader, has headed the band for 40 years. As early as 2 A. M., the band begins playing.

Something new has been introduced this year. Chimes which recently have been installed in the church tower will ring out Easter music.

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF EDITORS HEARS VIEWS OF LEADERS

Marked Tendency to Write Briefly and in Less Stereotyped Style, Draws Comment of Noted Publisher

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 19—Review of relationship of newspapers and radio broadcasting from the standpoint of the publisher and the broadcaster, discussion of the trend of journalism and criticism of the country for charging newspapers for judicial decisions marked the closing day's session of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Frank E. Gannett, president of the Gannett newspapers, told the publishers that what the readers of today are asking is that the contents of newspapers be read quickly and easily available to them, and that they be in form and in presentation.

"There is, I believe, a marked tendency toward brief and less stereotyped writing," he said. "This trend is apparently as marked in England as in the United States."

"This is a fact in the natural result of the fact that our lives are so full of so many things that we cannot waste time on superfluous words. We should frankly admit that the newspaper of today is competing for attention not only with other publications but, with other forms of entertainment."

"This does not mean that interest in newspapers has declined. Quite the contrary. Despite this competition, the total circulation of newspapers is larger than ever."

Gannett said that he thought the newspaper world should think of radio as "another great hand made" for service in the distribution of some kinds of news rather than as a competitor.

Secretary Wilbur opened the session today, discussing with the editors changed conditions confronting the nation. M. H. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting company, and Paul B. Williams, editor of the Utica Press, discussed the relationship of radio and newspapers while David Lawrence, president of the United States Daily, discussed cooperation between the beach and the press.

The editors closed their meeting tonight with a banquet at which President Hoover was the chief speaker. The executive remarks, however, were not for publication. Other speakers at the banquet were: Roger Owen, editor of the New York Times; Andre Gerard, political editor of the Echo de Paris, and H. Wickham Steed, former editor of the London Times.

Desire for Privacy Prompts Coolidges to Buy New Estate

MANSION PROVIDES PROTECTION FROM CURIOUS TOURISTS

Ex-President And Wife Hope To Escape Throngs of Persons at Northampton Home, Known as "The Beeches"

(By The Associated Press) NORTHAMPTON, Mass., April 19.—A desire to escape the throngs of curious may have prompted the Coolidges' purchase of their new estate here, "The Beeches."

Last summer many tourists had no compunctions about ringing the Coolidge bell at the Massanut street home, in the hope that the ex-president or his wife would come to the door. Others parked outside the house for hours, waiting for Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge to appear. "Thousands of curious people drove past the modest two-family tenement. From the cramped little Massachusetts street home, only a few feet back from the sidewalk, to the pretentious nine acres surrounding "The Beeches" almost entirely invisible from outside rates, is a great change.

Tourist Problem
Mr. Coolidge has indicated that he has not yet decided whether to leave the gates open and allow tourists to drive around the roadway that encircles the yard of his new estate, or merely to let them peer in from outside. It may depend on the pilgrims' behavior.

The 16-room mansion of "The Beeches" is approached by a 140-foot driveway bordered by attractive flower gardens. Two tennis courts are screened by rose arbors and hedges.

Three-story House
The house is a three-story, rambling structure, with greenish-gray shingles covering walls and roof. It faces on the meadows, to which the owners possess an elaborate terrace. Beyond is a view of the Mount Tom and Mount Holyoke ranges. Part way down the embankment is an outdoor swimming pool, screened by trees and shrubs.

The main floor includes a large living room, cozy open-hearth library with access for 5000 books, a music room, dining room, kitchen and servants' quarters.

On the second floor are bedroom suites and sleeping porches. A billiard room occupies part of the third story.

NANKING LOSES RICH SOURCE OF SUPPORT

Merchants of Southeastern Asia Fail to Respond to Appeal for Famine Fund

SIANGHAI, April 19 (AP)—The Chinese national government has lost one of its chief sources of outside aid, the money from Chinese merchants of the Dutch East Indies, Federated Malay States, French Indo-China and other southeast Asia districts.

Dr. Y. T. Tsai, former head of the Sino-American Boxer Indemnity commission, brought this unexpected news back from a recent trip which he made to those districts.

For years the wealthy merchants have been pouring money into the coffers of the national government at Nanking to assist in giving the country a stable government.

So when an appeal was made to aid the famine stricken regions of northwest China, Dr. Tsai went to Sumatra, confident of receiving lavish aid.

He was given only sympathy for the hungry hordes. The merchant asked: "What has been done with what we have already contributed?" Furthermore they said that until

Screen Life in Hollywood

By HUBBARD KEAVY
HOLLYWOOD, April 19 (AP)—Although the voters that decided last year's dramatic movie achievements may not have seen them, Hollywood is generally in the habit of the 14th Chatterbox gave Mary Pickford a close race.

Awards, just announced by the Academy of Arts and Sciences, were based on the work in pictures released locally during the year ending last August.

Mr. Pickford took first place because of her performance in "Coquette." Considering that in it she made her talkie debut and that the type of role was entirely new to her, she probably deserved the trophy.

Chatterbox was outstanding in at least two pictures, "The Doctor's Secret" and "Sins of the Fathers."

Her greatest picture, and one which in the critics' opinion she has yet to surpass, is "Madam X." It could not be considered better if it was not shown here until after last August 1.

The late Joanne Eagles probably got many votes for her excellence in "The Letter." It probably was the year's best acting, a belief not a few others here also hold.

Easy For Baxter
The main honors were a walk-away for Walter Baxter. He has given the split-rated statute for "In Old Arizona."

Baxter's rivals still quoting Hollywood opinion were Earl Jannings for "The Patriot," George Bancroft for "The Docks of New York," Walter Huston for "Gentleman of the Press," and Joseph Schickel for "Show Boat."

Bumper-up to "The Broadway Melody," named the year's best picture, included "The Barker," "Dime," "Four Devils," "Four Sons," "Hearts in Dixie," "Street Angel," "The Prince of Sea Lilies," "The Trial of Mary Dugan," "The Case of Lena Smith," "Gentleman of the Press," "The Letter," "The Patriot," "Abbie," "She Goes to War" and "Sins of the Fathers."

Few Outstanding
It is strange that out of more than 60 pictures more than a score stand out and not more than a dozen performances were distinctive.

The academy, which is in its third year, was founded to unify problems of the industry and part of its work is to recognize good work and progress.

LINDBERGH'S PREPARE FOR ONE-STOP TRIP

Colonel Fixes Time For Departure From Glendale On Flight Over Continent

GLENDALE, Cal., April 19 (AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh announced this afternoon that he and Mrs. Lindbergh would leave Grand Central air terminal early tomorrow on their one-stop high altitude experimental flight to New York.

The single stop for fuel and weather reports will be made at Wichita, Kansas.

Colonel Lindbergh will pilot his new low wing monoplane, a specially built Lockheed Sirius, through altitudes ranging from 10,000 to 20,000 feet on this its initial long distance flight. The transcontinental flight has been planned for some time to determine possibilities of the higher currents for speed and practical navigation for fast express and passenger planes.

The plane, which has been up on the Boeing at the Maddux air line hangar for 3 days, has been given its final inspection and loaded with 375 gallons of gasoline.

Mrs. Lindbergh, the former Anne Morrow, will be her noted husband's navigator in case storms force them above the clouds, when she will take hearings with an aviation sextant.

This morning Colonel Lindbergh said he was sure that he would leave before Monday, but would decide late today on the possibilities of starting Sunday. He indicated that reports of probable weather conditions over his course would be the deciding factor.

After stopping at Wichita, Lindbergh will continue on, regardless of the hour, if eastern weather is reported favorable.

"We are equipped for night-flight," he said, "and will fly by celestial navigation if we do not complete the flight before night."

Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh, who have been in California since January 6, will wear electrically heated suits on their flight through the freezing upper air.

628-YEAR-OLD LAWSUIT OPENS AT NEW HEARING

FAOARASCHI, Rumania, April 19 (AP)—A further hearing was held a few days ago of a lawsuit begun 628 years ago and was again adjourned for final testimony. The parties are the municipalities of Faidora and Sorokuta.

The trouble arose in 1307 when inhabitants of Faidora tied to the mountains to escape an outbreak of the plague. On their return they found that the inhabitants of Sorokuta had taken possession of their community grazing land, an area of about 650 acres.

The Faidora folk tried to turn out the Sorokutas, but were too weak to do so. They went to law and have been at it ever since.

Both sides maintain their original arguments, but the people of Sorokuta have the advantage of possession.

1,000,000 Foreigners And $4,000,000,000 in Goods Pass Through During Year

Huge Railroad Terminals of Metropolis Carry Flood of Commerce to Harbor

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, April 19.—The principal door to the United States, it is also the unprecedented decade of foreign trade expansion that has been a boon to shipping, the port's importance steadily has increased.

It reached a peak in 1929 when it was the point of arrival and departure for four out of five travelers between Atlantic and Gulf ports and the rest of the world, and handled 42 per cent of the foreign trade of the nation.

Foreign Trade The foreign trade valued at $4,000,000,000 was more than twice that of the ports of New Orleans, Philadelphia, Baltimore combined, and 70 per cent greater than Hamburg, Germany, New York's closest rival in the world.

The port is a cross road of transportation, for like the neck of a bottle the winds of the country converge there to connect with the great ocean-going vessels.

The commerce is carried to and from the port by 10 trunk railroad lines.

Freight Traffic It has been estimated that 1000 loaded freight cars arrive and depart at the port every hour during the day, with 300 truck lines in addition.

The marine activity of the harbor is an instance in itself with 18,000 men employed. They man the fleet of 1900 craft that float their part in the activity of the port.

More than 200 floating power derricks lift the heavy and bulky freight to the ships' decks.

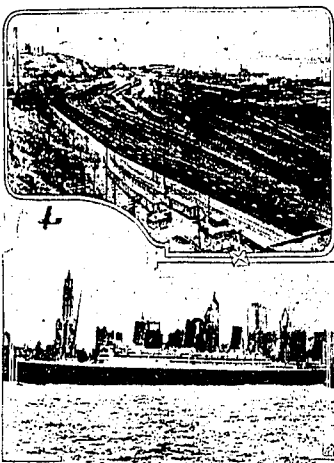

Steamship sailings for foreign ports last year reached a total of 7207 with an additional 11,710 to ports in the United States on the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific coasts.

BERLIN GETS CHANCE TO SEE BOBBY JONES PLAY

BERLIN, April 19 (AP)—Bobby Jones has accepted an invitation to play in the 1930 German open championship June 8-9 on the course of the Berlin Golf and Country club.

The 102nd winner of the German open, it will be recalled, was the American, Walter Hagen.

Demar set a time goal of 2 hours, 25 minutes for the 26 miles, 385 yards, but finished in 2:48:15, less than 2 minutes slower than the record, because there was no competitor strong enough to push him over the last few miles.

Willis Kroonen of the Finnish-American athletic club, New York, finished second by jumping his teammate, Earl Koeki, the outstanding favorite, during the last mile and trotted home about 100 yards behind Demar in 2:50:27.45.

Next Two Canadians The next two to finish were Canadian "Iron" Webster, Hamilton, Ontario, who finished in 2:52:27.25; Gabriel Houtaislonier, Montreal, was fifth in 2:41:05 and sixth place went to Ronald B. Toole, St. Johns, Newfoundland, whose time was 2:41:46.45.

Demar's victorious tactics were the same as those he employed in his previous successful races. He jumped the pack at the start and trailed the pace-maker until the latter wobbled. Today Hans Oldie, Buffalo, New York, led for 14 miles, until he struck the spot Willettsy hill.

This incline is one of Demar's favorite stretches on the course and, after asking Oldie, "who are you," the veteran speeded up his shuffling and pulled away from the tiring Oldie, who was so weakened by his early efforts that he finished in fifty-second place.

Despite Demar's runaway race, this year's field was one of the best in the Boston marathon's history.

Fish Commissioner Relates Incident In Stream in Idaho Many Years Ago

BOISE, April 19 (AP)—Turner Spinkman, state fish commissioner, tells this one: Years ago, up in the upper Snake river country, there lived a farmer from whose ranch in Los Angeles he allowed no one to fish on his river where it passed through this place.

Laws providing that any fisherman can, at along the stream for fishing purposes need nothing to him. It was his practice to ride a horse out into the river where the men were fishing. Naturally the fish fed and the fishermen departed.

But one day there ventured into the area a fisherman from the Utills club, a bit down stream. He was catching many and defied the owner to drive him out. His deft was accepted and the owner charged into the stream aboard a horse and armed with a buggy whip which he applied vigorously.

The fisherman left, but being angry of spirit and love of pocket book, he wrote a lengthy prize fighter to come from Salt Lake City. Two days later the owner of the ranch invited another fisherman to fish in the stream back of the place. Challenging again with the whip he was met half way to the shore and there received a drubbing such as is seldom administered to ranchers.

However, Spinkman concluded, the beating didn't cure the evil.

In winning the century dash, Leland also added another victory over his arch-rival, Claude Dracy, Rice Institute, who last year was the driving marvel of the Southwest. Dracy finished inches behind Leland today.

in popularity—

There really never has been anything quite like the success of the Chrysler-built De Soto Six. It rushed into sudden popularity, the moment the motoring public laid eyes on it—and went on to set up a new first-year sales record for the industry. That success grew and grew, and today continues without lag or let-up. All this is simply a matter of cause and effect. The De Soto Six is a huge success in sales because it is a huge success in engineering and manufacturing—a six that definitely offers the owner more for his money in all those qualities that make for enjoyment, pride of possession and greater value. By no means consider buying any Six without taking a ride in a De Soto Six.

Eight Veteran Umpires "Call 'em Like They See 'em" In Baseball Yards Of Cities With Clubs In Major Circuits

Connolly Traces Career to Quiet Contest of 1901

Arbiters of American And National League Carry on Despite Quarter Century Service in Many Instances

"Catfish" Klem, Probably Greatest Ball and Strike Expert in Business Ranks High Among Picturesque

By JAY YENSELS (Associated Press Feature Service) NEW YORK, April 19.—Those mule-faced umpires, the real war horses of baseball, are back on the firing line for another season of calling them "like they see 'em."

That is just what a 1930 means for those keen-eyed warriors to whom Babe Ruth, Rogers Hornsby, Lefty Grove and other glittering diamond stars are just so many ballplayers.

Out on opening day were such notable disciplinarians as Tom Connolly, Bill Dinneen, George Hildebrand, Cy Rigler, and Charley Moran of the National.

Some of these men have been clicking an indicator in the big leagues for 25 years and what they know about the great American pastime would fill more bookshelves than all the volumes written about the rise and fall of the Roman Empire.

Connolly aged 60. Take Tom Connolly who, at 60, has been running major league ball games for 25 years. He has been with the American league since 1901 and there are few in this land so conversant with the playing code as "The Duke of Wales," Connolly probably knows more firemen than any other American. You see, Tom likes to look for congenial company at the local fire halls in the days when the umpire kept themselves far aloof from the ballplayers. He still pursues this custom.

There is Charley Moran, younger in years, but a big league umpire at intervals for 22 years. He has been with the American league since 1916. Naturally "Charley" acquired his odd sobriquet because of being hit with a brick. That occurred when the big rubber was officiating in an independent game out at Pittsburg, Kansas.

Called Catfish. High among the picturesque characters who enforce the law of baseball is Bill ("Catfish") Klem, himself. Probably the greatest ball and strike expert in the business, Klem has been a National leaguer since 1914. A scribble once angrily referred to Klem as "looking like a catfish." That was many years ago. In those days when such uncouth things even appeared in the newspapers, but along Klem has stuck to the niceties, laughing with the baseball world at what some would consider plain slander.

Bill Dinneen is one of the older umpires. He is 64 and has been in the American league since 1910. Dinneen pitched baseball for 15

Here they are boys—the Big Four of the American league grouped with the Big Four of the National. They are greeted, or rather are supposed to be greeted, by the ball players as "Mr. The fans call them whatever they wish, a privilege that costs them from 75 cents per head up.

Manager Bush Stirs Up Chicagoans With Rejuvenated League Entrant

By PAUL NICKELSON (Associated Press Sports Writer) CHICAGO, April 19.—Donnie Bush has stirred up Chicago with his rejuvenated White Sox.

Using the same tricks and ploys that made him a power in the National league, the White Sox manager improved the club so much during the training season that White Sox fans are hopeful again, and rival managers are casting frightened glances in his direction.

Connie Mack, manager of the Sox's champion Athletics, referred to the Sox as "dangerous." "The most improved club in the league," he said. "Donnie Bush is a fighter and will develop a real ball club."

Manager John McGraw of the New York Giants agrees with Mack. He saw the Sox knock his best hurlers off the rubber, while winning three exhibition games in row.

"The White Sox lost 35 games one run last year, but it won't happen in 1930 unless I miss my guess and my youngsters stop hitting and pitching," Donnie said. "For an old head like myself I'm all cheered up."

Chicago newspapers, which related the White Sox to a paragraph or two toward the close of the astounding 1929 campaign, are giving them a bigger "zip" this spring than the championship Cubs. The baseball writers here agree a surprise is in store for the American league.

Sox fans, almost surprised proof, are hoping they are right.

Three of the better known National league arbiters are Charley Moran, Ernie Quigley and Cy Rigler. Quigley, who has been in the major loop since 1914, is widely known as a football and basketball referee. Rigler has been in and out of the umpiring ranks since 1906 and Moran who has been calling them since 1916. "Uncle Charley" Moran is the man who coached the "Praying Colonies" of Centre college to a brief but high position in the football world.

A dignified and colorful job are these old masters of the diamond. They certainly can't be judged by what the pop-eyed fans hold.

Fillies Threaten In Kentucky Race

Alcibiades, Bluegrass Flash, Now on Lexington Track, Leads List of Favorites

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 19 (AP)—Ally has won the Kentucky derby only once—in 1914 when Regret, a daughter of Bromac—galloped home ahead of the field, but the racing dignitaries are threatening this year.

Heading the list is Alcibiades, Bluegrass speedster who now is quartered at the Lexington track after a good winter at Hal Price Hedges's farm in Fayette county. Already she has stepped five-eighths of a mile in 1930.

Last season Alcibiades won her first four starts, including the Debutante stakes at Churchill Downs and the Cincinetta stakes at Louisville, but was defeated in her last three efforts.

Besides the Hadley filly, others of her sex named for the Derby include Stone and Ruckers' Lucie, William Woodward's Flying Girl, Harriet and Tina's Heretic, A. B. Hancock's Sunstroke, Herbert P. and O. V. Hieatt's Star Class, Hal Price's Blue-Gee and Harry Payne's Whittier-Ninth.

Lucie won the Minnaka stakes at Lexington and the Debutante stakes at Washington Park among other events. Flying Girl's victories include the Bobbin Handicap and the Kentuckyville stakes.

One tries are to serve as interpreters to Texas soldiers who helped defeat Santa Anna at San Jacinto.

DREAMS FINDS COLORS FIRST IN HORSE RACE

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP)—If Charles Hildred's fields to feminine influence, his colors surely will be carried to the post in the Kentucky Derby.

Mrs. Hildred dreamed that the Chicago stable's candidate, Teacra and Picadone ran one-two in the Churchill Downs classic.

The horseman's wife is not superstitious but believes that dreams "sometimes do come true."

Carlson has led the conference in scoring for two years. This year he has averaged more than 20 points a game. In one tilt he hit the loop for 52 points, a record in the southwest.

The East Central amateur won third place in the National Amateur Athletic Union meet at Kansas City and Carlson was placed on the honorary team last year.

Farmers Triumph by Score Of 7 1/2 to 70 1/2 by Capturing Last Event Honors

LOGAN, April 19 (AP)—The Utah State agricultural college track field team pulled the first surprise of the season today by noosing out the Brigham Young university crew of Provo, the meet being decided with completion of the last event. The Aggies scored 7 1/2 points against 70 1/2 for the Cougars.

Except for one brief period, the Cougars led by a narrow margin throughout the meet. The final event turned the tables and gave the farmers a well earned triumph.

Although state records were tied or broken, Meyers, flashy Utah middle distance runner, came within one second of the state record for the half mile.

Forgiven 1 1/2. Meyers was high school man of the meet with first place in the 400-yard dash, first in the 800-yard run, second in the 100-yard event, second in the 220-yard sprint and was a member of the winning relay team. He scored 17 1/2 points.

For the Aggies was second high jumper with 12 1/2 markers and Rasmussen of the Cougars was third with 1 1/2 markers. Steve of the Cougars also was outstanding.

Rasmussen won the century dash with a time of 1:01 seconds and the 220-yard dash in 22 3/4 seconds. Bowen of the Aggies led 22 feet 4 inches for first in the 100-yard dash and Campbell of the Aggies led the 400 43 feet 8 1/2 inches. Griffith of the Cougars tossed the javelin 175 feet 2 inches.

The Aggies took most of the points in the jumps, the pole vault and the hurdles but the Cougars excelled in the short races, the discus and javelin. The track was fast.

Criticisms Reach Woman Golf Star

LONDON, April 19 (AP)—Miss Molly Gourlay, captain of the British women's golf team, so opposed a team headed by Glenn Collett, May 1, has been subjected to some press criticism and anonymous letters. In spite of the fact that the captain is being made the victim of the nineteenth hole experts, she continues her plans today for matches with the American women with no indications that she would retire under the bombardment.

Miss Gourlay objects to the anonymous letters and criticism of players selected and the assumption that her team is an official British team.

Imposing Embassy Buildings Bring America Dignity Abroad

EDIFICES RISE IN TOKYO AND PARIS UNDER RECENT ACT

Building in Japanese Capital, Costing $1,000,000 Gets Last Touches in 1931 According to Schedule

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 19.—Circus Sun is turning a more imposing look to the world in foreign capitals. In Manila, steel and stone new embassies, legations and consulates are rising to replace the former obsolete and undignified quarters of American diplomats.

Since the passage of the foreign service buildings act in 1920 the United States has been acquiring more and more of its own buildings abroad.

Before that time members of the foreign service often were housed in makeshift, unsuitable dwellings. Now they have specially constructed residences and offices built in keeping with the country they represent and furnished to provide all the comforts of the United States.

At Tokyo and Paris

Two of the newest and most pretentious embassies are those at Tokyo and Paris. The former will be completed in 1931. It will cost some what more than $1,000,000 and is built of earthquake-proof concrete masonry. The embassy building in Tokyo will include offices, residences for the ambassador and two apartment houses to provide residential quarters for the commercial, military and naval attaches and their families.

Costs $1,000,000

Construction of the new United States embassy office building in Paris, which will also cost more than $1,000,000, will start next January. It will be located in the beautiful Place de la Concorde. The government owns the ambassador's residence in Paris, having acquired it from the late ambassador, Milton T. Herrick.

Another pretentious project is the proposed new building in Shanghai to house all activities of the United States government. It will be built on a slope above the river.

APARTMENTS SUPPLANT HOUSES IN RIO JANEIRO

RIO JANEIRO, April 19.—Apartment houses with all conveniences are being completed every month in the beach suburbs as well as in the center of Rio. In the meantime there are said to be 10,000 vacant houses in the city, which owners will not rent for prices that any tenant will pay.

Four years ago there was a shortage of homes, and as usual the world over, rents were advanced to all the traffic would bear. The coming of the apartment houses relieved the dearth of accommodations, but rents continued higher than in the United States. Now the apartment houses are filled to capacity, while many small houses with garages are unoccupied.

Rio's population has been growing steadily. The present population estimate is more than 2,000,000 persons.

Fundamentalism

By D. R. CHURCHILL

My Bible has taught me that Jesus was born Of a mother like yours and like mine. That God in His wisdom sent Christ upon earth In the image of man, though divine. I believe He was buried and rose from the dead. And for sinners like me that He died. And that men sunk the lowest in gaudy deeds. When Christ before Pilate was tried. I believe too, that Adam was man number one. That Eve was the mother of Cain. And because Uncle Noah believed, and obeyed He wasn't caught out in the rain. I loathe to believe that the seed of mankind Could outdistance their Lord. Nailed fast to the cross, crowned with thorns. With the spear thrust into His side. That men sprung from monkeys, or that the ape was not believe. In spite of what scientists say: And they simply make moneys out of themselves. By preaching and acting that way. It makes little difference to me as to how I live. If the oldest salt-shaker was Lot; If the whale swallowed Jonah for breakfast or lunch. Or if it did either or not.

IDAHOANS PLAN FOR 22 DAIRYING EVENTS

Field Dairyman Announces Dates for South Idaho Annual Livestock Shows

MOSCOW, April 19 (Special to The News)—Twenty-two dairying events have been scheduled for this spring in all parts of Idaho, announced D. L. Faust, field dairyman with the University of Idaho college of agriculture extension division. The cart-roller for the 1929 dairy show program is the Ada-Canyon county Guaranty show, at Nampa, May 7—May 10—the dairy show month although many events are held in June and a few may be arranged for July.

These community events have proved immensely valuable in improving the standard of the dairy industry in Idaho, Mr. Faust believes. They stress the goal of better dairy cattle and arouse interest in better practices. Last spring, 1928 Mr. Faust, approximately 1000 animals were exhibited by 800 exhibitors, an average of about three to the participant. The 1929 shows were attended by close to 10,000 persons. These community shows bring out hundreds of animals and dairymen who do not participate in any other livestock exposition. Following is the schedule for 1930 as announced by Mr. Faust.

- Ada-Yon Oversey show, Nampa, May 7; Aberdeen Dairy day, Aberdeen, May 10; Payette Jersey show, Payette, May 12-13; Gem County Dairy day, Emmett, May 14; Ada county Jersey show, Mettlan, May 15; Twin Falls county Jersey picnic and demonstration, May 18; Oakley Black and White show, Oakley, May 17; Mini-Cassia Black and White show, Burley, May 18; Cassia county Dairy day, Burley, May 20; South-west Idaho Holstein picnic and demonstration, Huntington and Anderson Ranch, Wendell, May 21; Clark-Ada Black and White show, Nampa, May 22-23; Washington-Payette Black and White show, Weiser, May 24; Canyon county Jersey show, Caldwell, May 24; Kootenai county, Bull show, Coeur d'Alene, May 25; Bonner county picnic and demonstration, Sandpoint, May 29; Boundary county picnic and demonstration, Bonners Ferry, May 31; Franklin county Black and White show, Preston, June 11; Blaine county Black and White show, Downey, June 12; Bear Lake county Black and White show, Liberty, June 13; Blaine county Black and White show, Grange, June 14; Bonneville county Black and White show, Idaho Falls, June 15; Madison county Dairy day, Rexburg, June 17.

Nearly 20,000,000 gallons of gasoline were consumed in Florida during February.

Color Livens Exterior Of English Type

The charm of the English cottage type of home is evident in this house, whose distinctiveness of design brings that "something different" sought by many builders.

Adapted especially for a small family, the house is planned for the maximum of convenience in a comparatively small space.

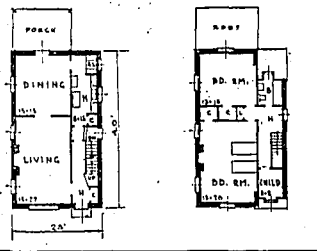

The house itself is only 23 feet across, and therefore may be built on a lot about 30 feet wide, although a frontage up to 75 feet naturally gives more opportunity for landscape development.

Its exterior is of red brick. With stone quoins at the corners. With a roof of slate in variegated colors, the house thus presents an appearance that is anything but monotonous.

A small yet convenient kitchen allows for a good-sized living and dining room. A child's playroom is a feature of the second floor plan. Bedrooms are unusually large for a house of this size.

This type of house is comparatively economical to build, and is so designed as to be more comfortable in winter than many of similar size.

Estimates of cost vary between $500 and $1000. In smaller communities the lower figures probably would be more nearly accurate.

Ethiopia at the Bar of Justice

PRESENTED BY A CAST OF 30 AT HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM WEDNESDAY NIGHT, APRIL 30

Sponsored and assisted by the Abyssinian Four Quartet consisting of Mona Jennings, Isabel White, Pauline Yarbrough and Lena Barker. Admission 75c. Students 40c. Rev. C. Williams—Barren pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Pocatello, says:

The pageant "Ethiopia at the Bar of Justice" was given in Pocatello by members of the Ethiopian church, under the direction of the Pastor, the Rev. H. Francis McClure. In itself a powerful argument for justice in race relations, it gained appealing force by its able and sympathetic presentation. The characters were well chosen and thoroughly trained. Solo parts, choruses, musical accompaniment, costumes and stage settings were all real works of art. The pageant should be seen by everyone. It is probably the finest thing of its kind ever produced in the state of Idaho.

HOUSEKEEPERS' CHANGE FOR EMPLOYMENT RISES

Women housekeepers have a better chance for employment than any other class of applicants for jobs this spring, Newell B. Wright, secretary of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, said last evening.

The number of jobs of all kinds that have been filled through the chamber's employment division is greater than in any previous season, but still, Mr. Wright said, the number of men seeking work greatly exceeds the number of jobs.

Only in the case of women domestic workers, Mr. Wright said, is there any surplus of jobs. The call for women for housework, he said, has on several occasions exceeded the number of women registered at the chamber's office as applicants for such work.

The chamber of commerce conducts a free rural employment service during intervals when the federal office of employment service office here is closed.

EASTER

REV. JAMES MILLAR, Pastor
 FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
 Twin Falls, Idaho

EASTER is humanity's day. Thus it is devoted from all other special days. In it all the scattered dim rays of daylight, reason and hope converge to their focus. It explains all the gropings of humanity after truth, after light, after peace, after some power, unshaken and unyielding. Easter is the humanly fruitful and fruitful faith in God and the divine. Easter was not the birth of faith in immortality, but the birth of a humanly living and the confirmation of an age-long hope. The resurrection of Jesus from the dead is the reality of the spiritual world has been made the promise of all religions. It is that in which every kind of religion has been founded. To the day which of immortality has been added to the promise of Christ. We can readily conceive of immortality as the end and aim of all our earthly activities. Some views of immortality are unworthy of the Christian religion, but to die and to live again in the life to come is a more than a mere possibility of prospect, for Christ has said, "There are no half truths in the universe." The truth that Easter expresses is either fact or fiction. If true, it is a staggering, permanently important.

Disputes Over Languages Of Belgians Threaten To Split Unity Celebration

Controversy Over Flemish And French Causes Trouble On Eve of Centennial Celebration of Independence

By EDWARD TRAVIS (Associated Press Correspondent) GHEENT, Belgium—At the very moment when Belgium is preparing to celebrate the first centenary of its political independence by a double jubilee...

Both French and Flemish are recognized by the Belgian constitution as "national" languages. French was nationalized when the Belgian provinces separated from the Netherlands in 1830 because the Flemish language was used by the Dutch "oppressors"...

In the course of years, this led to a social schism. The Flemings themselves and it may thus rightly be said that the language struggle was originally a social problem.

The Flemish extremists, in fact, are not waging war on the French language as such, but rather on the governing classes of the Flemish population as they say, "who favor the French language rather than their own."

During the war, readily supported by the German occupiers, they were prompt to discover the political possibilities of the language dispute. The Flemish extremists made a definite bid in behalf of their "disregarded" dialect.

Still, the linguistic question remained unsolved. It was taken up again about three years ago, by other Flemish leaders whose loyalty to Belgium was unquestioned.

Opposed to Change But, most of the enlightened Flemings, supported by the whole French speaking part of the population, are opposed to such a change in this center of Latin culture.

These extremists succeeded in winning the seats for the local Flemings in the parliamentary elections, and their group, headed by Mr. Vos and supported by the only communist in the House, Deputaet, has brought about a rather serious political situation.

The moderate Flemings under the leadership of Burgrave van Lauwelaer of Antwerp, are trying to persuade the government to take the wind out of the extremists' sails by conceding their main claim, which is the complete Flemization of Ghent university, which they consider as the Walloon stronghold.

ALLOWANCE SYSTEM BOOSTS BIRTH RATE

Wage Scale Based on Number of Children Increases Size of European Families

GENEVA, April 19 (AP)—Use of the family allowance system in France and Belgium has substantially increased the birth rate among workers receiving this aid, the International Labor Office has found.

Nearly five million workers are affected in those two countries. Under the scheme, supplementary wages are paid to fathers, the amount being fixed according to the number of children.

The plan came into being in 1912. It was regarded in some countries as a temporary expedient to prevent serious privation during reconstruction.

In Central Europe the system declined in importance when conditions became more stable, but it still retained for civil service employees and coal miners. In France and Belgium the system has developed steadily.

The plan has been widely discussed in Great Britain and has been adopted for certain classes of workers in New Zealand and Australia.

The Belgian treasury surplus nearly doubles in year. BRUSSELS, April 19 (AP)—The Belgian treasury closed the 1935 fiscal year with a surplus of $10,000,000, an increase of about $20,000,000 over the surplus at the end of 1934.

CONCENTRATION OF AIR INDUSTRY WORKS GERMAN CONCERNS

Decision of Teutonic Government to Center Aviation in Four Big Plants Arouses Many Protests

By The Associated Press BERLIN, April 19—Decision of the German government to concentrate the air industry in four large plants has aroused the protests of other aviation centers.

Recently the ministry of transportation announced that the Junkers, Dornier, Heinkel and Heinkel airplane works hereafter would receive the bulk of the airplane business.

The other aviation works will now have to come to some understanding with the four favored concerns or go out of business, it is claimed by the German Association of Airplane Industries.

German aviation industries at present are greatly overstocked, for which the government's recent subsidizing policy is held responsible by the newspapers.

Do Own Shopping Instead of allowing the subsidized Luftwaffe, the Aviation Traffic school and the Aviation Test station to do their own shopping where they chose, the government insisted on placing all necessary orders for airplanes for these concerns first with one and then with another factory.

As the subsidized concerns also are largely overstocked, the smaller concerns find themselves glutted with airplane material with little prospect for its disposal.

VENEZUELO PLANS TO AID GREEK AVIATION

ATHENS, April 19 (AP)—Development of Greek aviation with new passenger lines, has been undertaken by Premier Venizelos since he added the ministry of aviation to his duties.

He proposes to form a Greek organization similar to the French Aero Club, and has announced that he will no longer grant permission to foreign companies to build airports and landing fields on Greek soil.

There is already a British air line from Greece to India, an Italian one to Istanbul and a French line to Beirut.

Mongolian Dukes Cling to Titles Despite Domination of Russians

The Mongolian duke, Tseu Tsan, on the left, with his daughter and eldest son. The duke was governor of the Urga district of outer Mongolia until the soviet Russians became dominant there in 1921.

Artocrats of old Mongolia cling to their titles as dukes although most of them are no better off than the humblest of the nomadic sheep herders who used to support their families.

The men of the families maintain that as descendants of the cradle rulers of the land they are not supposed to labor, but the women, be they duchesses or what not in their own right or by marriage, shepherd the sheep, pitch the tents, kindle the fires to keep the family pots boiling and are to it that the pots are filled.

A pair of duchesses who came here when numbers of their people fled eastward as the Russians advanced during the recent dispute over the Chinese Eastern railway, said that their husbands did a little hunting and then put on a large portion of their time gambling.

Their jobs are to follow the Mongol life they follow, the Mongol title bearers cling to their ancestors' ways and are all fond of silk and the women will spend their last copper for trinkets from which they can make neckties, especially if they are novel and colorful.

The refugees who poured into Harbin while the Lushans were advancing came mostly from the Barqa area where the Soviet tried to erect a small buffer state on communications lines as a means of pinning the Manchurian frontier east of the important railroad junction at Miao-chih.

There were about 20,000 Mongols in that area, most of them engaged in raising horses, cattle and sheep.

A hour-run has been known to feed 40 young 1,217 times in 10 hours and 45 minutes.

GOLDEN HORN PORT OF TURKEY, FADES AS TRADING CENTER

New Routing of Vessels of Russia and Persia Leaves Once Lively Maritime District Quiet as Graveyard

By The Associated Press, ISTANBUL, April 19—The famous harbor of the Golden Horn and the busy "black-marble" district of Constantinople have faded as a trading center.

Before the war 21,000 ships a year visited Istanbul. Now that number has fallen to less than half an American vessel a week.

New Routing Persia and Russia have both death blows for the Turkish harbor. The former's convoys which used to pass through Istanbul via Constantinople, are now for the most part shipped directly to Europe from Moscow.

Soviet Russia is shipping her exports on English vessels and the Turkish merchant marine which had been trading with Russian ports, is largely idle.

Every day and Thursday planes leave the Lusitanian port for Marseilles, negotiating the distance in four hours and enabling passengers to catch the mid-day train for Paris.

On the following day the Marseilles-Barcelona trip is accomplished, taking three hours.

MARCH OF THE UNEMPLOYED. William Z. Foster, Communist leader, is planning a march of Fourth of July celebration for Chicago of thousands of workers. On July fifth, he says, he is expected to lead a march to Washington to precipitate the unemployment situation and bring it to a crisis before the late elections. They will make a formal protest to President Hoover.

Such a Communist Army may precipitate something, but it isn't likely to accomplish much for the unemployed. It will be propaganda for the Communists, and not very good propaganda at all.

The unemployment problem, if we may judge from present indications, is not a great deal less acute in July. But it is shouldn't be, what good can a procession of the men do by marching to Washington?

Congress doesn't hand out jobs. Congress merely creates and legislates jobs to be created by industry according to its own destiny. Government can help only incidentally. Even the President cannot do much except to use his moral influence.

Employment is not a public issue; it is a private issue. Property is not so much a national issue as local issues. Peace is mostly a local issue. Let Chicago and other cities act with good sense and public spirit in this matter, and we shall hear little more of unemployment.

YOU don't catch that proud string of speckled beauties by giving up when the throb of the first nibble is slow in coming.

It takes patience to fish. But it is a pleasure, too.

It likewise takes patience to build up a handsome bank account. There is often the temptation to give up at first, when money seems to accumulate so slowly.

But patience wins—and saving money becomes a joyous satisfaction—especially with the modern arrangements which a bank like ours makes for you.

WHEAT QUOTATIONS SLUMP IN CHICAGO

Auspicious Crop Conditions Bring About Slight Re- duction in Grain Values

By JOHN F. ROUGHAN
(Associated Press Market Editor)
CHICAGO, April 19.—Auspicious crop conditions both for spring wheat and winter wheat had an ill-stated effect on prices. Wheat advanced in a majority, while winter wheat declined. The latter was affected by the day's bottom level. President curtailing of European demand for North American wheat operated as an evident check on buying support. From speculative sources:

Chicago quotations on wheat were nervous, 1/2c to 3/4c a bushel lower than Thursday's figures. Corn closed 1/4c to 1/2c a bushel lower and provisions unchanged to decline.

One Real Friend

This it was when M. Wilcox called Jean's name as the graduate...

ern Bagdad, skyscrapers at noon! They're lovelier than I thought...

As for Jean, when Mr. Terry left she felt lonely, but happy in the number...

"I'll Always Love Him" She looked down on the flight in bitterness just as Jimmie looked up...

"I guess I'll always be in love with him," she thought, musingly at the sight...

"The journey into New York was uneventful, and Jean slept most of the way...

"This was Vivian Brooks' teacher of literature at the college. Jean had never met the prettiest teacher Jean had ever known...

"Miss Brooks" she called Jean, "the thoughtless there at the site of the great ruins further south of the country, girl. She clung tightly to her suitcase and begged the first driver to a street car could find...

With a gasp Jean looked toward the skyscrapers rising up across Sixth avenue. The sun shone with lurid heat on the slim towers, the dark spires and gilded domes of this work. Please! Please find it for me!" Telling the truth to the doctor that she had the money when she came to school...

"I was $500," Jean begged. "It was all I had in the world." The nurse looked at Jean. Did the child ever have $500.00 the wonderer? Just then Dr. Dowling came into the ward and heard the commotion.

"Where do you live?" asked the doctor kindly. "I haven't a home—only this $500.00, and I am coming here to work. Please! Please find it for me!" Telling the truth to the doctor that she had the money when she came to school...

$30,000,000 SUIT PENDING IN BELGIUM

Government Faces Possible Loss to Treasury From Change in Currency Value

BRUSSELS, April 19.—A suit involving a possible loss to the Belgian treasury of $30,000,000 is pending before the Brussels court. The suit is brought by a group of industrialists who, several years ago, contracted loans in the franc zone at the invitation of the government which was anxious to avoid adverse appreciation in the franc. The industrialists bought dollars and pounds when the pound was valued at 30 francs.

623-YEAR-OLD LAWSUIT OPENS AT NEW HEARING

FAGARASCHI, Romania, April 19.—A further hearing was held today of a lawsuit which is 623 years old and was again adjourned for fresh testimony. The parties are the municipalities of Fagaraschi and Sorokita.

The trouble arose in 1377 when inhabitants of Fagaraschi fled the mountains to escape an outbreak of the plague. On their return they found that the inhabitants of Sorokita had taken possession of their community grazing land, an area of about 100 acres.

The Fagaraschi folk tried to turn out the Sorokitans, but were too weak to do so. They went to law and have been at it ever since.

Both sides maintain their original arguments, but the people of Sorokita have the advantage of possession.

BUGGY SPEEDOMETER RECALLS OLDEN DAYS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 19.—(AP)—Nels, back in the ox-cart and lumber wagon days of Wisconsin in the 1850s, was not so much concerned with the speedometer as the limitations of his time.

While the modern whacked bulls along the frozen roads, Nels rode in a buggy at eight miles an hour. So Nels made a speedometer for his buggy, of course, but it had no metalogous wheels and it had a lot of wheels and things. So it ran many times each mile it rang a bell.

APARTMENTS SUPPLANT HOUSES IN RIO JANEIRO

RIO JANEIRO, April 19.—(AP)—Apartment houses with all conveniences are being built in every month in the beach suburbs as well as in the center of Rio. In the meantime there are said to be 10,000 vacant houses in the city which owners will not rent for prices that only tenants will pay.

Four years ago there was a shortage of homes, and as usual the world over, rents were advanced for all the traffic resulting from the coming of the apartment houses relieved the dearth of accommodations, but rents were advanced in the United States. Now the apartment houses are filled to capacity, while many small houses with gardens are unoccupied.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MESSAGE CIRCLES GLOBE TWICE IN 2 HOURS 5 MINUTES

A message of greeting from the headquarters of The Associated Press was flung around the globe in 2 hours 5 minutes, making a complete circuit of the association's eighteen most important foreign bureaus, and four bureaus of its ally, the British Broadcasting Corporation.

Each of the human messengers who carried the message speedily relayed it. It was the first time that a complete electrical transmission of words that has been made by a relayed system such as that used by the Associated Press has been made available for the Associated Press.

Map shows route of the message and labels the principal record of receipt and forwarding time at each station.

Economic Rather Than Political Action Appears to Babson to Be Best Cure for Labor Conditions

Famous Statistician Believes Big Public Works Program Looms as Remedy for Unemployment and Predicts Possibility of Reduction in Laborers' Weekly Work Days

By ROGER W. BABSON
BABSON PARK, Mass., April 19.—Estimates vary as to how many men and women are actually out of work. Some authorities say 3,000,000; others 5,000,000. Whatever the actual figure, which cannot be accurately determined, the employment situation is admittedly serious. In past periods of business recession, however, it has been true that the peak of unemployment was reached after business had gone through the worst of its depression, and had turned slightly upward. There is always a certain leeway. Business concerns can get along on reduced forces for a time even though an upturn in their operations begins to be noticeable. It requires time to take up the slack. Unemployment today is like a man who is lying flat on his back and has only one way to look and that is upward. Perhaps we are experiencing another case of deep distress just before the dawn.

Road Building Aids I believe the big road building and public works program, sponsored by the federal government, and now being pushed by state and local officials, will help conditions considerably this summer. The building trades have been particularly hard hit by the unemployment. There would tend to ease up the situation all around. This does not mean that we are going straight into booming employment. The process will be slow, for there are many very serious things to be done. What worries me, however, is the growing tendency to depend principally on the government for relief of unemployment. Really this is a problem for industry and can only be permanently solved by industry itself. For example, there was recently introduced in the senate a resolution calling for $200,000,000 to be distributed as a cash bonus to the unemployed. England's disastrous experiment with government dole to prove clearly to the United States that such a method is futile as a solution of unemployment. Rather it aggravates unemployment by making men less anxious to work. Far better to put that $200,000,000 into public construction where it will provide work for many idle men. Public works programs to provide employment is a necessary and legitimate way the government can help, but when it comes to the question of doing out government charity, that is both uneconomic and un-American. The American workman does not want charity; all he wants is a chance to work!

How Industry Can Help I think that this is essentially a problem for industry. Industrial leaders must solve it if it is to be solved at all. But, it is asked, "how can manufacturers employ more men when the state of their business does not require them?" No one expects a manufacturer to pay wages out of his own pocket. That would be just as much charity as a government dole. On the other hand, the careful planning of production as much as possible is being accomplished by certain important firms. Elimination of seasonal unemployment by better planning so as to spread year round work has been proved practical. Business depressions, of course, put a distinct strain on these methods. Planning work ahead, but where such plans have been firmly established and carefully worked out they are standing the test of the present period very well.

Moreover, it is to the great credit of American business men that they have been very loathe to cut wages in this period of stress, and that they have kept their forces as fully employed as possible. Even in many cases where the actual volume of business scarcely justifies it, many concerns have kept their forces employed. Sentiment, patriotism, and sound business reasons have prompted such action—what is needed, however, is a permanent program for the relief of unemployment. The present period is merely one of those peaks of unemployment that occur every few years. The problem is bigger than the present. Any program laid out must take into account a tendency in this country to create a permanent class of unemployed through machine production. While we may be now seeing the worst of unemployment for this present period, more emergency measures of relief will not eliminate the long term influences that are at work.

Shorter Week Inevitable The development of machines and methods is displacing workers every day, and these displaced workers are finding it very hard to get other jobs. For example, in the steel mill work that was once done by 14 men taking care of furnaces is now done by two men. Whereas it once took 128 men to wind up a coil, two men can now do the same work. Consider what happens to the workers in brick

Artificial Clouds Determine Fire Hazards in Forests in Experiment

AMHERST, Mass., April 19.—(AP)—Artificial clouds are now used to determine forest fire hazards. The experts of the Northeastern forest experiment station, with headquarters at Massachusetts agricultural college, have found that an reducer in sunshine intensity reduces the fire hazard and by using cloth screens of various thickness artificial degree of cloudiness can be produced.

Paul W. Stickel of the United States forest service, attached to the station, has been conducting experiments at the Harvard forest at Peterham. Tests made in white pine dufray bays and the majority of them are satisfied with it. The trend is slowly but steadily in the direction of the shorter work week. It may never be applied to all kinds of work of worth, and of leisure or spending is the only permanent cure for unemployment.

Business by the Babsonchart now stands at 4 per cent below normal compared with 1 per cent above normal at this time a year ago. (Copyright 1930 Publishers' Financial Bureau)

WOMEN RIDE ASTRIDE FIRST TIME AT SHOW

PARIS, April 19.—Feminitism has won another victory. For the first time women rode astride in the Grand Palais of the fashionable Paris International horse show.

Three women, only one of whom rode side-saddle, took part in the event, a difficult one of 10 jumps over fences four feet high. The Danish Foreign Minister, Dr. P. Munch, has proposed that all passports be abolished among the three Scandinavian countries. He says the system is kept alive only by these having passport jobs.

the needs and litter on the ground in a white pine forest—showed that the rate at which the dust drops is dependent on sunshine intensity. Measurements made of the moisture content, solar radiation intensity and relative humidity of the various stations showed that fully exposed dust was considerably drier than that of the shaded areas and cloudiest area was least.

For predicting fire hazards, Mr. Stickel explained that by summarizing the average cloudiness since the last rainfall a better determination of its effect on the reduction of fire hazard was possible. These studies also indicated the role played by ground vegetation in reducing the importance of getting out-of-hand bushes clothed with growth as early as possible.
