PROHIBITION'S FOES CONCLUDE CASE IN HEARING OF HOUSE

Chairman Graham Announces Possibility of Action on One of Bills Intended for Repeat or Modification

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 24.—The anti-prohibition forces today concluded their attack on the Eighteenth amendment before the house judiciary committee with an effort to prove the success of the Canadian liquor control system and to establish that athletic directors of big universities were avidly over the effect of the "dry" law on American youth.

As soon as they finished, Chairman Graham announced the proposed public hearing closed. He said probably a later date the committee would take under consideration the vast amount of testimony obtained and might also re-examine bills introduced asking repeal of the Eighteenth amendment or modification of the Volstead act.

As the committee membership has a preponderance of "dry" men, "wets" do not expect any of the repeat or modification measures to receive a favorable report.

Opponents of prohibition were the first heard by the committee. The sessions started some time ago. After they had painted a picture of drinking among youth, crowded into an increase in the "dry" areas were heard. They attributed to prohibition increased savings deposits, a more rapid rate of population and better living conditions generally.

Two-Days' Rebuttal Today's session wound up a two-day rebuttal period given the "wets." They called upon Sir Henry, chairman of the Ontario liquor control board to tell how one of America's neighbors had been able to do things that the "dry" areas could not do.

He defended the system, saying it had proved a more effective step toward temperance than had prohibition.

The "wets" also announced W. W. Roper, head football coach at Princeton, whose name was known to the youth of all American colleges. Himself a teetotaler, Roper said he had found that many young men drank and that, even more alarming, young women were drinking. As a father, he added, he hesitated to send his son to college.

He then presented his testimony with the assertion that he appeared as a disinterested party and sought to answer to one. His views, however, were desired by the anti-prohibitionists to counteract testimony given by E. C. Drury, a former premier of Ontario province, who recently assailed the control system before the committee.

Roper's presentation by the "wets" followed an example that had been set by the "dry" in failing before the committee Alvin Karpis, Illinois director of the University of Chicago, and Field H. Yost, athletic director at the University of Michigan. They endorsed the effects of prohibition upon youth.

Representative Testifies Besides Sir Henry and Roper, two other witnesses were heard in opposition to the "dry" law. They were Representative Robert H. Clancy, a Michigan Republican, who represents a Detroit district, and Dr. F. Buck, executive secretary of the fed-

INDIAN GOV. IRRIGATION DISTRICT CALLS FOR AID

BOISE, April 24.—The Indian Irrigation district on the Snake river, near Emmett, appealed to the state land board today for aid in making a land settlement that will permit settlers to operate on a more paying basis.

The project would be financed from about 2000 acres to 1700 acres of which 650 would be held by the state and the remainder by the landowners. Representatives of the district said the project was in good physical condition with lateral and drains in excellent repair, but that the indebtedness involved in bringing the water to the land must be paid. The suggested settlement would pay about 25 cents on the dollar, with an additional 10 per cent paid from sale of the 650 acres.

In June, 1913, she married Charles Nelson Bell, a wine importer, at her farm in Greenwich, Connecticut. She was quoted as saying, "I am marrying for money." Less than two years later they were divorced in Philadelphia.

EDDA MUSSOLINI WEDS IN PRIVACY

Dictator of Italy Attends Daughter's Marriage to Count Galeazzo Ciano

ROME, April 24.—Benito Mussolini, dictator of Italy, since 1922 today like a private Italian citizen saw his 19-year-old daughter, Edda, become the bride of Count Galeazzo Ciano in a ceremony that despite all its attendant magnificence was really but a wedding in a private family circle.

In St. Peter's basilica, St. Joseph's on the Via Montemartini, the daughter of the dictator and the son of the Italian minister of communications were married by the parish priest, Monsignor Pasquelli.

Their wedding was held in the presence of Fascist "black shirts" with glittering bayonets, was simple, but accordance with the preference for keeping his family life in the background. He had taken to the bride in a private automobile. One of the bridesmaids, who was identified as Thomas and his wife drove from the home in an automobile. One of the bridesmaids, who was identified as the bride of the bride, was the charge of murder lodged against him was dismissed, February 24, 1926.

While left for the coast there was not enough evidence against Mitchell to ask for his arrest. They believed that the sheriff's investigation had advanced work on the case, and that the movements of Mitchell who was known to have been in the area of the murder will be disclosed soon.

REQUEST ARREST OF FRANKCO MANN SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—(AP)—In a telegram to the San Francisco police department from Los Angeles, Sheriff Clifford Hedden, Salt Lake City, today requested the arrest of Paul Mitchell, "on suspicion of murder."

Mitchell, also known as Hilman P. Mitchell and J. P. Riley, was arrested in Los Angeles on November 2, 1925, in connection with the death of his brother, Merrim Mitchell. Mitchell was accused of having gone to the home in an automobile. One of the bridesmaids, who was identified as the bride of the bride, was the charge of murder lodged against him was dismissed, February 24, 1926.

Authorities here said that when Patten left for the coast there was not enough evidence against Mitchell to ask for his arrest. They believed that the sheriff's investigation had advanced work on the case, and that the movements of Mitchell who was known to have been in the area of the murder will be disclosed soon.

While they have had no word from Patten on what evidence he has uncovered local officers believe he has determined when Mitchell left Salt Lake City, or at least whether he left on the morning of the murder or not.

MISSIONARIES TELL OF BANDIT PRACTICE

Two Americans Bring Tales Of Outlaws' Price of $200 Per Head for Foreigners

CANTON, China, April 24.—(AP)—Two American missionaries who fled here today from Sinsing, Kiangsi province, reported that "red" bandit leaders were offering a reward of $200 for every foreigner captured, saying that "all foreigners would be killed." Many thousands of peasants, the missionaries said, had fled recently in the Communist army which has been despoiling the province for many months. Soviet-propaganda, they asserted, was making great headway among the masses.

The missionaries, Father McLaughlin and Father Mohrberger, Brooklyn, N. Y., said that they fled tonight. Physicians had tried all methods of resuscitation. Three other men, nearly overcome in rescue attempts, were taken to an Albany hospital. They are expected to recover.

The men who succumbed were: JOHN SACENDOFF, secretary of Howe Caverns, incorporated, the corporation which operates the cave as a tourist attraction. OWEN WALLACE, an electrician. Daily News reports that a state of siege exists in Poshaw; and that

The law is more or less powerless. True, they may be followed and harassed and chased about from place to place by the police but the police of Chicago organized into three shifts of eight hours each would be quite unable to keep track of the gang leaders of Chicago and a too great concentration upon the activities of the twenty-eight would severely narrow their freedom to place their labors on the part of the other seven thousand and six.

There is no law in America which will punish a suspicion and, from the standpoint of the American people as a whole, it is a good thing there isn't. But there should be some law to which to break the strangle hold of employment upon the throat of America's second largest city.

A PENNY FOR YOUR WEALTH

The American public is suffering from a want of money. It is reported by the Weight Guild that one adult in twenty pays a penny a day to learn his worth. That makes a national total of 2,900,000. It should add to that number the many persons who save pennies in their homes or who use pennies in their clubs, halls, gymnasiums, doctors' offices, and so on.

A STRANGE TENDENCY

An interesting story comes from Redding, California about the case of a six year old boy lost to the hills for four days and who, when found, was barely able to crawl. The lad had managed to subsist on snow water and early mountain berries. He had walked thirteen miles in a straight line and probably ate that distance alive. Hope of finding the child alive had been abandoned by woodmen.

Low Houses for Cold or High Ground

This house-of-ideal type and colonial character, like all low dwellings, is especially suited for high ground or cold climate. Three exposures are available for the living room, while the house itself is oriented with the front, facing east. Here it would receive the full benefit of the early sun rays.

Shrubbery at the front of the property, at the entrance and about the driveway, of course, makes the exterior especially attractive. The living room is large, and there is plenty of space about the kitchen, particularly because of a kitchen porch. Through this porch the entrance to the kitchen and a larger lounge porch in the rear.

The house and the garage would not take back more than $500 and would be a lot better than a lot 75 by 100 feet is desirable for this type of home since the outer surroundings and the interior in which these surroundings are treated.

NORTHERN IDAHOANS BOOST HALEY FOR GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

Candidacy of Panhandle Officials Adds New Complexities to Existing Complex Political Situation

By CLEVELAND WILLIAMS (Associated Press Staff Writer)

BOISE, April 24.—Friends of Lieutenant Governor Oscar E. Haley have hurried his bid into the Idaho gubernatorial ring—around and around a round-up, but they were careful to do so without the sanction of their candidate, they said.

The candidacy of the popular North Idaho official, if it is that, would add new perplexities to an already complicated situation, for Haley, a "Baldridge man," would be facing the other entries about to start the race, with each of them uncertain of his standing post.

South Idaho has two candidates now ready to line up the barrier—John McMurray, powerful Republican leader and former state chairman, and Attorney General W. D. Gillis. The northern-Idahoers have already been hounded over Byron DeBouché, state treasurer.

The candidates are all Republicans, of course, but no intimation has come from the other side that Democrats as to whether they hope for anything from a possible division of the Grand Old Party support.

Pushes Nomination

Mr. Marten, home town of Haley, has formed an organization to push him for the nomination, with the expectation that the movement will spread to other Panhandle towns.

Mr. Haley was appointed to his present position by Governor Baldridge after the death of W. B. Kinne, Orofino. Haley had been lieutenant governor during Baldridge's first administration, and was looked upon as good timber for the chief executive's post, when he withdrew his name and then added strength to the Republican ticket by running for the place he now holds.

"The Star-Mirror here says of the 'candidacy' of Haley:

Haley's Intimate

"Governor Baldridge has few political intimates, and Mr. Haley is one of them. It is quite definitely known that the governor has no objection with favor on the candidacy of the former state chairman, John McMurray. About the candidacy of Attorney General W. D. Gillis, however, a man he is tried to persuade to remain on the ticket two years ago when Haley refused on account of present business interests" and to whom he turned at once upon the death of W. B. Kinne.

"It would mean playing a lone hand for the governor, but all his past has been harmonious between the chief executive and the so-called leaders of the party, not since the last regular legislative session."

The St. Maries Herald also says: "It is generally believed that he would accept the nomination for governor if it is tendered him."

LOGGING DRIVE BEGINS ON CLEARWATER RIVER

LEWISTON, April 24 (UP)—The spring logging drive is on up and down the Clearwater river, which carries about 100 million feet of lumber, will come floating down the river in 15 days or so, and is expected to furnish work for many men all during the summer months.

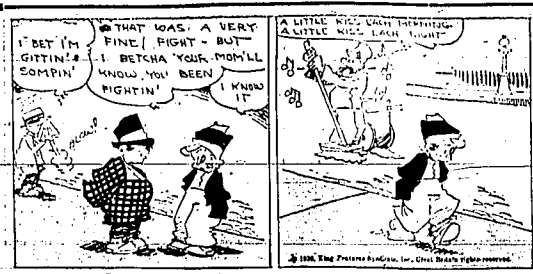

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES AID EMPLOYMENT IN IDAHO

BOISE, April 24 (UP)—After being seasonal curtailed during the winter months, renewed activity was noted in outdoor work with consequent absorption of about 17,000 monthly report of the United States employment bureau disclosed today.

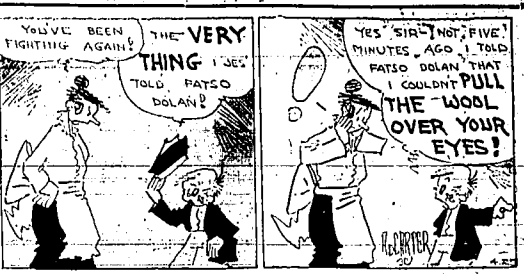

Lumbering and sheep shearing, telephone construction, and a large number of men for a few weeks. The majority of the industrial establishments reported normal operations, sawmills and construction equipment plants gradually increased.

Metal mining continued on a fairly satisfactory basis with some increase expected in the next 30 days. Highway construction showed a steady increase, and about 10,000 additional workers. Lumbering activity in the woods and mills will probably show an increase in the immediate future. Railroad maintenance-of-way forces were increased somewhat and further increase in railroad employment is anticipated during the next three or four weeks.

Former U. S. Marshal Endorses New Sargon

"I was a stamper during the years of the gold fever in Alaska and spent 20 odd years in that country, serving as U. S. Marshal part of the time and also as Chief of Police of Juneau. When I returned to Seattle in 1918, the previous years of exposure and rough living had taken their toll and I commenced to suffer with rheumatism, constipation and indigestion, that weakened and muddled me down so much that I was afraid I'd finally have to give up entirely.

"After all other medicines failed to help me I started Sargon, and that was the beginning of my present splendid health—I built my right back up, gave me a wonderful appetite without a return of indigestion, my rheumatic pains didn't bother me like they did back in the good old days in Alaska. Sargon pills have rid me of constipation for the first time in years."—Emory J. Fliter, 227 1/2 Fourth Ave., Seattle, Wash.—Schramm-Johnson, Drug Agents.—Adv.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE IS SUBJECT OF LECTURE

A lecture on Christian Science given under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Twin Falls, was delivered Thursday, April 24, at the High School Auditorium and was entitled "Christian Science: Its Value to Humanity."

The lecturer was Mr. William W. Porter, C. B. D. of New York City, N. Y., member of the Board of Lecturers of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., and was introduced by Mr. E. E. Kall.

Mr. Porter spoke in part as follows:

"The year 1830 Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, and the author of its textbook, 'Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures,' was brought back almost from the grave through her spiritual understanding and pure desire. Following her remarkable healing Mrs. Eddy launched forth upon an undertaking which was destined to become her crowning life-work—the demonstration of Christian Science, and its presentation in such a way that humanity could not fail to understand its meanings and receive its benefits.

"In the orderly process of arriving at the correct statement of the problem of being, one finds himself confronted with the question, 'What is God? We are told by Mrs. Eddy in the Christian Science textbook (p. 163) that 'God is incorporeal, divine, supreme, infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love.' In Science creation reflects the perfection of the creative Cause from which it springs. Sin and disease are inconsequent with this idea of creation. Therefore these evils cannot be considered as the outgrowth of a perfect Creator.

Healing

The effect of Christian Science is seen in the building up and preservation of health, happiness, and success wherever this Science is known and practiced. Unless spiritual values and power may be apprehended and enjoyed in the everyday walks of life, then spiritual gifts have no significance with respect to daily existence.

Christian Science denies the payment of the human mind as the healing factor. The mortal mind which produces disease cannot be the healer of disease. In Christian Science all healing power is understood as being to God, and it accompanied admits the divine, or spiritual, idea of God.

The healing work wrought by Christian Science is the effect of power. By this it does not mean that a position is offered asking God to do something for man. The Christian Scientist knows that the nature of man as God's creation includes completeness, and that man possesses all God. On page 1 of Science and Health Mrs. Eddy has written, 'Deity is power, and no loss can occur from trusting God with our desires, that they may be moulded and realized before they take form in words and in deeds.'

As indicating his recognition of the forever unshakable of Jesus' Mind to man these words of Life are recorded in the Gospel of John: 'In my Father's house are many mansions. . . I go to prepare a place for you.' He recognized that his place was beyond the horizon of matter, creed, and ritualism, and that his work lay in the direction of preparing human thought to rise on a broad scale in England with generally satisfactory results. O. P. Holden, British industrialist, said to-day: 'I have believed in the genuineness of belief of sickness, not the genuineant beliefs of Jack, discarding and failure—but discarding! Manhood of health, happiness, content, peace, and prosperity—a man's life. . . I go to prepare a place for you.'

OTTUMPER, Germany (UP)—A pump so big it controls floods drains the marshland between the Elbe and Weser rivers here. PARENT-TEACHERS PLAN FOR ROUNDUP

Meeting Will Prepare Program for Examination of Pre-School Age Children

A meeting of the City council of the Twin Falls Parent-Teacher association and of officers and committees of the Parent-Teacher associations in the grade schools of this city, has been called to meet this afternoon at the home of John H. Hayes, historian of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, on Seventh avenue north, for the purpose of closing the summer roundup campaign of children of pre-school age here. An effort will be made to secure the participation of all children who expect to enter school here for the first time next fall.

Medical examinations following this campaign will be conducted at the high school auditorium for four days, beginning May 5 and ending May 8, under the direction of the Twin Falls County medical unit. Appointment of the children to examinations to children of the several sections of Twin Falls will be arranged today.

Responsibility for registration of children for this examination so far has been better than ever before in the history of Twin Falls, it is stated by officers of the Twin Falls City council of the Parent-Teacher association, under the auspices of which registration is taking place. Any parent or guardian who has a child which expects to enter school for the first time next fall, and has not received any register such child by communicating to the principal of their school in their district.

The movement for medical examination of pupils before entering school for the first time was originally sponsored by the National Congress of Parents and Teachers and is nationwide.

The meeting today is open for any interested person as well as for the chairman and committees of the Parent-Teacher associations of the three grade schools here.

THEATRES

"TROOPERS THREE" NOW FEATURES AT ORPHEUM

The most picturesque, romantic and adventurous branch of the army—the cavalry—is the real hero of "Troopers Three," the "Tiffany" all-talking production showing today at the Orpheum theatre. Arthur Guy Empey, world war hero and a member of the Erezovitch United States Cavalry, which performs thrillingly in the production, is the author of the story, which has been directed by Norman Taurog.

Reg. Lease, Dorothy Gulliver, Rose Kearns and Slim Summerville lead the cast. The breezy and attractive Lease plays the role of a smart, slick one and dapper man of vaudeville who thinks he is getting thirty days of free bed and board from Uncle Sam by joining the Cavalry Training Camp, and finds that he has been tricked into signing up for three years in the Cavalry. His companions are Rescue Kearns and Slim Summerville, acrobats.

"Troopers Three" was produced with the sanction and approval of the United States government and under the supervision of Empey himself. The Cavalry Post at Montague, California, provided actual scenes and the maneuvers of the cavalry and the burning of a stable, with the rescue of horses and men, keep the picture well supplied with thrills.

GEORGE ARLISS COMES IN FEATURE AT IDAHO

Opening at the Idaho this afternoon for a run of two days only, Manager Joe-K announces a double attraction in "The Green Goddess" featuring George Arliss, and "The Hoosegow," a two-reel comedy featuring Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy. This pair of comedians furnished the nation with laughter in their silent comedies and are now doing more than this in their all-talking playlets. "The Hoosegow" is just one laugh. It starts when the man came on the screen and does not end until the last lady-on-at-the-finish.

"The Green Goddess" shows wealth of the Rajahs. East Indian princes have a weakness for French period furniture as well as for European motor cars, and it is a poor Rajah who cannot boast of genuine pieces from the palaces of the French kings.

Consequently the dressing of the elaborate sets used in the Vitaphone version of "The Green Goddess," the first talking picture George Arliss made for Warner Brothers, now playing at the Idaho theatre, offered many unusual complications. Lal Chand Mehra, native Hindu, employed as technical director for the picture, supervised the furnishings of the sumptuous apartments of the Rajah.

According to Mehra, the gilded and ornamental French furniture sits peculiarly well into the carved marble and inlaid walls and floors of the East Indian palace. The native Rajah is naturally most extravagant. The Paramount news weekly, and a Vitaphone vaudeville act complete this program.

BALDRIDGE GETS BID TO FORT LEWIS CEREMONY

BOISE, April 24 (The News)—Gov. C. Baldrige has been invited to represent the Idaho members of the "Wild West" ninety-first division at the unveiling of a monument at Fort Lewis in honor of the division, on May 30.

The invitation came from 10,000-000 representative of the division, who suggested that it would be very fitting for the governor of Idaho to be present at a ceremony of a division of which so many Idahoans had been members.

Although the governor has not definitely returned, he pointed out that he had made an engagement to deliver a commencement address at Greenleaf academy on that date.

Schmeling Sails For Gotham Confident Of Defeating Sharkey

German Champion Hopes to Benefit From Age of Foe

Teuton Insists Recent Exhibitions Result in More Benefit Than Possible From Training Camp Bout

(By The Associated Press) BERLIN, April 24.—Max Schmeling, with a small Daehsund in his arms and the cheers of friends and fans flanking him on either side, tonight for New York where he will battle Jack Sharkey for heavyweight supremacy the night of June 12.

The German Dempsey said that the longer the fight lasts—even if it goes the full 15 rounds—the better for him as then his youth would tell over Sharkey's (Dempsey is 24 and Sharkey 27). Max also pointed out that he is used to long bouts whereas most of the Britishers have more recent matches have been of brief duration.

Asked whether he is in sufficiently good condition after his long layoff, Schmeling insisted his recent exhibitions have left him in the shape and proved much more beneficial than merely doing a few rounds with sparring partners in a training camp.

Max announced his weight as 187 pounds which he expects to reduce still more on shipboard and in his final training in America.

Concerning rumors that Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney would challenge him if he beats Sharkey, the big German said he would not be good business; the first event Schmeling expressed himself as highly pleased at receiving the chance to meet Sharkey after a year or more than a year and a "chuck full of hope" of beating him.

Junior Athletes Compete in Meet On Rupert Field

RUPERT, April 24 (Special to The News)—Schedule of events and rules for the annual Junior Athletic meet at the county junior olympic, to be held in Rupert at Athletic park, Friday, May 2, will be read by Superintendent A. E. Hirschler of the Paul school, manager of the affair. He announced the schedule of events will follow the scheme of the 1929 Olympics.

One change made this year results in the lowering of the limit in the B class from 110 to 100 pounds. Three age classes and weights constitute the entry class.

Harry B. Colwell, Rupert, has been secured as director of the meet. Rules and schedules have been mailed to coaches and school principals in Minidoka county, Manager Hirschler stated.

Tom Heaney Gets Bout in Oakland

OAKLAND, April 24.—Tom Heaney, a new contender in heavy weight boxing, was scheduled to fight here in a bout with Harry B. Colwell, a local fighter, in the near future. Heaney said he would try to line up Max Baer, sensational pugilist, youngster, as his opponent.

HOUSE DISREGARDS HOOVER'S WARNING AND AIDS VETERANS

(Continued from Page One) Position to the bill after 47 Republicans had joined the Democrats in blocking recommitment, 228 to 146. Only two of the minority voted to send the bill back to committee.

Moving toward completion of the measure under an agreement to remain in session until it was disposed of, the house at times was a virtual bedlam as amendment after amendment was proposed.

Wood gained approval of his amendment to strike from the measure the provision for the compensation general from disallowing compensation payments approved by the veterans bureau.

Joined by Representatives LaGuardia, New York, and Knutson, Minnesota, both Republicans, the Indians raised a vigorous protest against freeing the bureau from the restrictions of the budget system. The vote on this change was 120 to 27.

Apothecary measure sponsored by Johnson through the committee was approved unanimously. The committee was directed to report back before March 1, 1931. It also goes to the senate.

Critic of Pugilists Fails to Find Championship Qualities in Gigantic Italian Exhibiting Ability on Coast

Carnera May Become Champion Some Day But If He Does Climb Will Surprise Lots of "Ring Wise Gents" Present at Match with San Francisco Negro, Ventures Newland

(By Russell E. Newland) (Associated Press Sports Writer) SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—Along with about 9000 of them, yours truly "turned robe" one night not long ago and went over to Oakland to watch Primo Carnera, the human bull from Italy, stalk another victim in his "pugilistic" raid on these United States of America.

Carnera should be matched with George Godfrey, the black Negro from Leiper, Pennsylvania, for a fair test. Godfrey weighs around 210 pounds and stands 6 feet 8 inches, physical specifications not much under Carnera's.

Opinion being in order, the correspondent would favor Max Baer, a young 180-pounder from Livermore, California, to thump Carnera out of the picture. Baer has had fifteen or twenty fights but most likely would keep Carnera moving so fastly the huge fellow would wear himself out.

However, as an abnormally, Carnera is worth seeing. He certainly has enormous fists.

Pacific Coast league baseball appears to be headed for a banner season. Attendances are more satisfactory than a year ago at this time.

Verdict Cause No! The records disclose that Carnera once finished knockout but for the benefit of those who were not there or failed to consult their local newspapers, the verdict causes young riot. One of Carnera's secondary titles is the "towel" which would have been airless had he happened upon any conditions but the towel. The Negro was doing pretty well, but he was fighting second best.

The date subject of contest has been trying to find out why this obscure record named Bob Perry, however, the subject is by when Chevalier was not in a bad way.

More Than 3000 Youths of 500 Institutions Enter in Pennsylvania Relays

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—The decision, which has been a feature of the district's annual two-day relay carnival of the University of Pennsylvania, will not be held again after tomorrow night, 1932, the year of the Olympic games.

The decision will start at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning with 10 events for the all round championships will use the mile in the 100-meter dash. Five of the events will be run off in the forenoon and the remaining five in the afternoon.

Berlinger Defends Title "Barney" Berlinger, Pennsylvania, last year's winner, will defend his title. Others entered include Robert Todd, Indiana, who finished third last year; Clarion Cash, Georgetown, who won fourth place in 1930; Everett Uterback, Pittsburgh, fifth last year; George Witzelski, Boston College, a six yearling, Erie, Pa., and a seven yearling, Erie, Pa.

More than 3000 athletes from more than 500 institutions are entered in the meet.

George Simpson, the Ohio state sprinter, who runs the 100 yards specialty on Saturday, will compete twice tomorrow. He will run on two Ohio state sprint relay teams. Last year Simpson won the 100 yards in 9-10 seconds which was a world record until he did 9-2 a few weeks later.

Vandal Gridsters Plan Spring Game

MOSCOW, April 24 (Special to The News)—Five weeks of spring football training for the University of Idaho, headed by Coach Egan, will begin today with a regular game between two picked teams, Saturday, April 26.

The opposition will be the grays, captained by Harold Carlson, Kellogg, regular end; and the Redskins, captained by Bill Beaman, Puller, Oregon, regular tackle.

The game will be the last time candidates for Idaho's 1932 eleven will have to show their wares to Coach Egan at Oakland before September 15, the starting date of the fall campaign.

Seven Schools on North Side Enter Meet in Hazelton

EDEM, April 24 (Special to The News)—Pupils from seven grade schools on the North Side, first year, regulation, Russell-Lane, Eden, Greenwood, Hillside, Dixon, Riverside and Hazelton will enter track and field competition at the Hazelton school field on Friday, May 2. Courtney Edly, teacher in the Hazelton school, will be in charge of the event.

On the same day, in the morning, leading boys and girls' basketball of the North Side will compete for the right to the pennant. In addition to the pennant, the two victorious teams will receive 20 points for their school, to be added to the score in the track meet.

The school with the greatest number of points at the close of the day's activities will receive a silver trophy. Teams which will participate in the championship basketball games remain to be determined, as the final games of the schedule will not be held until tomorrow.

A change has been made this year in the age limit for the junior boys in the track and field events. Heretofore, the age limit for the junior boys has been placed at 12 years. This year all boys 12 will be classified as juniors. The change was made because many rival boys who were over the 12 year age could not compete as well against the older and much larger boys. The change will be more noticeable in the eliminations counts that are held in each school previous to the day of the meet. Two more events were placed in the junior boys' list.

For boys' list. The school will include the following: 100-yard dash, 200-yard dash, 400 yards, high jump, broad jump, shot put, hop, skip and jump, climbing and baseball throw. Similar events will be used for the junior boys, except that the distances of the races will be cut down. The girls' division contains the same events as the junior boys, except that the jumping is not listed for the girls. Primary races will afford the little folks an opportunity to score points for their schools. These races will be for students under nine years of age and they will be classified as juniors and girls' races for ages 8, 9 and 7.

Judges to take care of the track and field events will be selected. The usual bucket dinner will be one of the features of the day.

Neon Displays Offers $100.00 REWARD

To correct misleading propaganda and to convince that it is impossible to build a good Neon sign without the overlapping of adjudicated patents, and to the effect that the question of patents and law suits injected into the talk of Neon advertisements for $100.00 cash for any article signed by an official of any Neon manufacturer or responsible representative of any Neon manufacturer, to the effect that we are in patent litigation or that we are infringing or overlapping any patent of any other Neon manufacturer, or that there has ever been any damages resulting from overlapping of patents, or that anyone purchasing or using our product is liable for damages.

We are operating under the patent rights of the Metal Products, Inc. of Milwaukee, and are building into our signs the Metro electrode, which has withstood the severest tests of any electrode will ever have to withstand. This new type of improved electrode we have built into our signs for over a year, and we have our first service, our first tube to be replaced, or to be rebuilt from burning out.

From all indications, judging from the tube on our last rack, which has been burning now for 1500 hours, there is no evidence of deterioration. Our tubes are built expressly to withstand the cold weather and to retain their brilliance during the winter months without changing color. Therefore, when we say we build the best tubes possible to buy, we mean it, and welcome the opportunity to prove it.

All accounts that have purchased Neon signs from the Neon Displays, Incorporated, should not be alarmed by propaganda that there is a chance of them being sued for the purchase or use of any sign using Metro luminous Neon tubes and electrodes, manufactured exclusively in this territory by Midwest's oldest Neon concern.

We, the Neon Displays, Incorporated, have spent a lot of time and money investigating patents and patent rights, and after an exhaustive study, have decided to back a product which we find lives up to the severest manufacturing tests, as well as operating reputation, and one which has been examined repeatedly by attorneys in regard to overlapping of any existing patents. Among the established organizations backing this product is the National Patent Corporation of Delaware, whose attorneys have thoroughly examined and tendered their assurance of non-infringements of any existing patents. This corporation was employed by Metal Products, Incorporated, of Milwaukee, the manufacturer, to make the examination. Upon approval of our patents, and after being further examined by the Chicago and London Loyds, a Bond was furnished and backed by all of these companies, and in part, as follows:

"The signers are obligated to pay all expenses of suit and damages, if awarded, to the face amount of the contract, in any suit commenced against their customers, and, or users for claimed infringements of existing United States Letters Patent resulting from the manufacture, and, or sale, and, or use of the Luminous Neon tubes and electrodes."

Mack, Ageless Master Minded of Wonder Team, Reviews Changes

Guiding Destiny of Athletics Reveals In Diamond's Lore

Philadelphia Club, Bound For Pinnacle in Realm of Sport, Confronts Certainty of Remaining Intact

By EDWARD J. NEEL (Associated Press Staff Writer)
NEW YORK, April 24—Philadelphia Athletics, champions of the world today, may become the greatest team in baseball history, but Connie Mack is certain he will never have to break up another all-conquering combination as he did back in 1915.

The ageless leader of the new wonder team of baseball, hitherto at 67 than he has been for several years, reviled in the opportunity today to talk of the old days and the new as well.

The silver-headed patriarch, the 25th year manager leader gathered the young stars around him. It was the first time since the second straight day there was no game with the Yankees.

"Times have changed entirely," he said among a multitude of other things, since the breaking up of the old Athletics. There may be some misconception of the facts too.

"I look up what they called the $100,000 infield, Melnitz, Barry, Collins, and Baker, because I couldn't afford to keep them any longer. The Federal league, just under way, was offering them three times what I would pay to jump to my opponent's club. Philadelphia was a 25-cent baseball town then—that was what it was called—and the fans were just crazy about the team.

But I thought I would like to see my champions after so long. The world title to the Boston Braves because they were due to leave me anyway. They were getting so young."

"That's why I'm back," Mack said. "There hasn't happened again in baseball. No one will ever have to break up another club because it gets too expensive to keep."

The patriarch of baseball has no interest as to the problems that face him in winning another American league pennant and another world series.

"The race will be very tight right to the last," he said. "The dark horses in our league are the White Sox and Washington. Both really strengthened clubs and slightly underrated. Cleveland and St. Louis will be close to strong and the Boston-Red Sox will be a better bet than last year. The Sox have some pitchers who are all right."

White Sox still too early to judge the league as a whole the best of the Yankees can be thrown out of consideration. The Yanks have some of the best ball and fielding in the breaks who have won them all years ago. You can't keep the Yankees together the season. They're too powerful."

Heavy Seas Slow Yacht Race Time

Blue Boy, Los Angeles Boat, Comes in First of Seven Craft to Arrive at Goal

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., April 24.—Only seven of 21 power yachts which left Long Beach at 9 A. M. today on a three-day race to San Francisco had arrived at the destination late tonight, after a hard battle with adverse winds and heavy seas.

Two of the starters turned back before they were out of sight of the San Francisco harbor, and only one of the remainder had been accounted for. Blue Boy, of the California yacht club, Los Angeles, was the first to arrive, with an elapsed time of 4 hours 37 minutes 35 seconds. It was followed almost two hours later by Lucky B, of the Long Beach Yacht club, which completed the first leg of the race in 6 hours 36 minutes and 39 seconds. The third boat to finish was Colonel Reed, Oakland, in 7 hours 50 minutes and 34 seconds.

ON THE SIDELINES by BRIAN BELL

BURLINGHAM, the best spitball pitcher left in baseball, cut out his hot delivery in times of stress, but like most other pitchers who are specialists in a certain delivery, he uses it as a threat and fakes as many as he tosses up to the plate.

"It's a funny thing about my splitter," said Grimes. "When I went back to Pittsburgh two years ago still throwing splitter, I remembered with a smile that there it was I was told in 1917 to forget all about it and not throw any more."

"Carlson agreed to give it up and he did, but I kept it right on and ten years later I was back with the Pirates, still throwing the old splitter."

"No, I don't think the effort in throwing it is any harder on the arm than any other ball. It never has hurt my arm. Certainly it's a very valuable part of my pitching equipment. The batters don't see many splitters for there are only four left in the two leagues, Clarence Mitchell and myself in our league and Red Fisher and Jack Quinn in the American and they don't work as often as I do."

UNLESS something turns up to cause an about face the Army will play no more post-season football games. There are two practical reasons for this decision in addition to the always present threat of over-enthusiasm. Major Phil B. Fleming, graduate manager, is convinced that there are mental and physical objections.

"First, the examinations come just after the close of the regular football season and a student cannot think about his studies and football at such an important time. And then, we get no chance to practice. The ground is so hard that we can't throw it for practice. We covered it last year with straw when we were preparing for Stanford and when we removed the straw the ground underneath was as hard as concrete."

AT this time of year golfers with hope high in their hearts will be rushing out on courses everywhere trying to get back on their game, if any, after a winter of inactivity.

RESEARCH PROMOTION FEATURES AS PURPOSE

Survey And Meeting Result From Proposal at International Congress in Havana

First Pan-American farm conference will study problems ranging from Peruvian irrigation canals (below) to Mexican rice fields (above). Leon M. Estabrook (inset) is in charge of plans.

By FRANK L. WELLS (Associated Press Staff Editor)

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Every year a few men from the straits of Juan de Fuca is to lay its fundamental farm problems before a Pan-American conference on agriculture here September 8 to 20.

This first inter-American economic agricultural survey in history was proposed at the sixth international congress of American states in Havana in 1923.

Reaching almost from pole to pole and covering one-fourth of the land surface of the world, the vast area extends from the tattered tip of Chile and Argentina, across the broad bulk of Brazil and through the narrow neck of Panama to the wide sweep of the Forty-eighth parallel.

French and Dutch possessions in Guiana, and the Caribbean sea will not be represented.

The region involved is three times the size of Europe, but has only about 10 per cent of Europe's population.

The conference will embrace soil, pasture and forest surveys, inventories of plant and animal diseases and pests and a study of cooperation to prevent the introduction and spread of crop and livestock infections and malarial parasites.

It will include discussions of plans to promote scientific research, the establishment of Pan-American and marketing service, better use of machinery, standardization and grading of major products, crop rotation and practical application of principles from the entire field of agricultural economics.

Leon M. Estabrook of the United States department of agriculture, in charge of plans for the conference, says that it is hoped to result in a program for the systematic and intelligent development of agricultural resources.

10,000 Take Tests
"An achievement test will be given 10,000 eighth grade pupils in the schools during the three day period beginning April 23. This, of course, is different from the regular eighth grade examination. The members of the convention will attend the commencement exercises of the University of Idaho at Moscow. Several noted educators will be present at the convention from the federal bureau of education and from outside universities."

FIRE DESTROYS LAMBING SHEDS IN EDEN VICINITY

EDEN, April 24 (Special to The News)—Lambing sheds in the Eden area destroyed two miles east of Eden were crushed Monday afternoon by fire which originated from a blaze set by a tenant and failed to burn a pile of weeds.

A gust of wind carried sparks to the nearby coral and within a few minutes the entire group of sheds, extra panels and building material was a mass of smoldering ruins.

The sheds were built more than 10 years ago and were used each winter to house the young lambs during the lambing season. The flocks had been moved out to the range when the fire occurred.

Efforts to keep the blaze from spreading proved useless despite the aid of volunteers that were soon gathered at the scene of the fire, which was not learned whether the loss was covered by insurance.

UNDERGROUND MILL LOWERS OXIDATION TENDENCY OF ORES

Mining Region in Colorado Scene of Highly Scientific Operations in Extracting Lead and Zinc

(By The Associated Press)
LEADVILLE, Colo., April 24.—This two-mile-high mining region, where early prospectors made fortune wrestling wealth from the rocks, now is the scene of highly scientific operations in extracting and treating ores.

Where the picturesque placers used pick-and-shovel a few decades ago, mining is conducted today by engineers with the latest equipment and devices.

Housed in Granite
Housed in a huge underground chamber, blasted from solid granite formation of the Eagle canyon wall, a few miles from here, are the shafts recently was put into operation.

One of the principal reasons for building the mill entirely underground was to prevent, as far as possible, the oxidation of ore that is mined. Even though oxidation is said to increase greatly by the difficulties of separation of the lead and zinc in the flotation process employed at the mill.

The great underground chamber houses a 200-ton mill unit, with provision made for additional units which will be arranged in step-up formation below the main tunnel of the mill.

Gravity Process
Gravity is used for drainage and movement of ore through the mill. The mill itself is 100 feet long and is located about 150 feet from the surface. Above the mill ore pockets have been developed from which crude ore is shipped from the mine tunnel to crushers below.

Walls of the mill chamber are lined with concrete, and the entire interior is brilliantly lighted with electricity.

POLITICS BECKON TO GEM STATE WOMEN

Mrs. Rose Gilgan, President Of Business and Professional Group, Leads Drive

BOISE, April 24 (AP)—The members of Idaho's newest political factor, the women, contend that they can put up a good candidate for office as ever put up by the men.

Mrs. Rose Gilgan, president of the State Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs and active in formation of the proposed Ada county women's league, declared there was no lack of women who could put up a good candidate for office as ever put up by the men.

"The women do not plan to play the 'same old' Mrs. Gilgan explained. The new candidates will work in cooperation with the men but will seek for representation instead of confidence as former."

"We will ask that the parties take only the most capable and practical men, so far as administrative and legislative capacity is concerned," she said.

Political "Machine"
As a preliminary gesture, the women will start working in the precinct, the smallest political unit, and educate their members on how to get support to form organizations, and in fact, all the necessary fundamentals to winning elections.

Members of both parties will work in the organization. Mrs. Gilgan said in no case was the move a partisan matter. The women are out to get representation in the legislature and in the appointive offices and are prepared to use the best means of securing it.

Both Democrats and Republicans are included on committees assigned in the organization and pressure will be brought to bear on the old line leaders to hark to the new voice.

"We don't expect to immediately create any 'Borah or President' will," she said, "but certainly we can develop talent at once that will compare favorably with the best that has shown up in the Idaho legislature."

IDAHOANS SUGGEST PLANTING OF FLAX

Raising of Textile Material Would Diminish Surplus of Grain, Declare Experts

MOSCOW, April 24 (AP)—Flax may be a more profitable crop than wheat this year of '30," until the present surplus is used up, it is calculated by experts at the University of Idaho agricultural experiment station and some farmers.

Flax was the principal crop of the region in the "valley and Snake river" country during the early settlement days. A belief grew up, however, that it was "hard on the soil" and it gradually was abandoned for wheat, which came into demand with increased population and better transportation. The principal deterring factor, Professor C. A. Nichols of the university agronomy department says, is that flax is quite susceptible to disease and its yield when diseased is greatly reduced.

Price $2.50 Per Bushel
The United States now imposes a tax on flax for a year or more to relieve the wheat situation," said Professor Nichols. "Flax is not hard on the ground as is commonly supposed; poor crops resulting from experiments here have generally been due to the use of a bad fertilizer."

Some have been overbuilt with houses as to whether it is cheaper to own and this price in these localities than to rent. It is distinctly better for houses have declined, the value for the individual and for the owner of good land has either remained steady or advanced slightly. Well situated residential land shows a or will get more satisfaction and steady growth in value because there is only so much good land and there will never be any more. Suburban property well connected by good roads or rapid transit facilities will find it to live in an apartment always be desirable. Incidentally, with restricted liberties and reverts the huge road building program that is going forward this summer should open up some good opportunities as for the purchase of building sites. Owners of existing properties along the proposed line of new highways should also study the situation carefully. In many instances old roads are being straightened by cut-home. Home ownership makes for good citizenship. The town with the properties located along the old largest proportion of house owners is generally the town where values are best and where civic progress is most pronounced.

PHARMACISTS OF IDAHO TIGHTEN REGULATIONS

BOISE, April 24.—The last examination by which non-graduate pharmacists were permitted to practice in Idaho will be held here April 29 and 30. Virtually all cases surrounding Idaho have had to do with non-graduate pharmacists taking non-licensure, with Mrs. Laurence, director of the state license bureau, that a flood of out of state applications were in from men hopeful of getting certificates. More than a score had registered several days before the examination and others were expected. Under the coming examination, those who have appeared the required period as pharmacists without schooling will be given not only carefully prepared written tests but will be asked to fill out questionnaires presented them by physicians. The change in the regulations is expected considerably to increase the enrollment in the newly created full time school of pharmacy at the University of Idaho, southern branch, in the fall. Mrs. Laurence explained, it has been possible for students to catch up on their work at school with a short session behind the counter in a drug store and barely pass the state examination to get a license. After the coming examination this will no longer be possible, as only graduates of accredited pharmaceutical schools will be permitted to qualify for the examination.

"Cinderella of the Skies"

By VERA BROWN

"What handsome dressed the girls wear, and how pretty they are, Jean thought as soon as some of her flyers were off and the crowd was full. She realized just how cheap and flimsy her dress was. A vivid recollection of the little girl who had worn that flimsy dress and looked like a picture on a magazine cover. But over by the window—Jean gasped as she looked—as a slim girl with a mass of blond hair and lovely skin, bending over some letters. She wore a white silk sport with high collar. Jean felt as if she were looking at a picture of the most beautiful creature she had ever seen.

A new friend
"Mr. Johnson asked me to give you these letters to," said a pleasant voice. Jean took them from the hand of an attractive girl, older than most of the others about her, who had laid some correspondence on her desk. Jean got to work in earnest and so occupied was she with the task before her that when the machines suddenly started she scarcely noticed her being surrounded. She looked at it was noon. The beautiful girl showed her a note from an admiring group of men, and she turned a large grin that caused her to blush and did not know what she ought to do about lunch.

"The girl who had given her the letters was the girl who had embraced and came over to her."
"I'm going to lunch. Come along and I'll show you nice places to get a sandwich. My name's Grace Thomas. You're Jean Brander, isn't it?"
Jean smiled back gratefully and reached for her hat. Later when the two girls sat on high stools at a sandwich shop and drank a glass of milk, Jean did most of the talking without realizing it. Grace Thomas was sympathetic and she knew that the order to hire Jean had come through Decker. Grace liked the new girl, but she was frankly curious about this "prince of the box."

"Well, she's poor, and she certainly doesn't know how to fly a plane. I'd like Decker to hire anybody here in the office, that's a cinch!" Jean reflected as she two walked back to the office.
"Find out anything?" asked the beautiful blonde girl inquired as she brushed by Grace's desk on her way to her own. Grace's black eyes flashed in anger and then she answered bitterly:

"Why ask me, you'll be getting your orders soon enough!"
"That's for you to say!" Jean said. "But that could I do when she asked me to go to lunch with her?" Jean answered. "You see, I never know anything about flying planes. I'd like to have them know me and with me."

Grace felt ashamed of herself. Jean's remark was so kind and genuine, yet Grace realized that Jean was just inexperienced enough to be a blonde girl across the room.
"Her name is Loretta Lansing," Miss Thomas said. "Pretty to look at, but a little bit of a dork."
"I think she's the most beautiful person I ever saw!" Jean answered sweetly.
Grace shrugged her shoulders and said:

"Yes, she has beauty enough for any girl's," Grace agreed. "But I had a handsome Persian kitten once, blue eyes, white fur. He was lovely and as tame as a lamb. He was the devil though! Finally I gave him away; he was so noisy. Now I have an ordinary male cat. He's a little sassy variety. Take that, any way you like, and she hurried off, leaving Jean surprised and a little bitter over her remarks.
"Nobody so beautiful could be anything but charming," Jean thought as she looked at the blonde girl's typewriter.

While Jean worked away, Johnson turned over Loretta's desk and bid her over her blonde head.
"Conspiracy
"Get busy and finish up just what Decker sent that girl here. I'm worried. I don't like the looks of it. Don't let her kid you, Johnson ordered. "It's on the line, and if it isn't, it is, and then the gods sent her here to us. And you get that, Loretta! You're the girl who was here. Loretta raised her wide innocent blue eyes to the man's face, and smiled and smiled at him. He looked in she slipped into the routine of the office with the quietness and efficiency of a young woman determined to make a place for herself in the world. She worked and read and tried to learn everything she could about flying planes. The more she learned, she knew she was a failure. During the first three weeks she had been out to lunch with Jean three times, and had stopped in her room once. She had a little about Loretta's amateur, and carried with her an amateur, and carried Jean off to the movies in company with two other girls.
Jean was thrilled at Loretta's interest in her, and as for Loretta, she learned everything she wanted to know about Jean's flying.
"She's dumb! Positively dumb! And I'll probably never give those two 'dates' again that took us to the show! Loretta repeated, glaring at the blonde girl.
She liked to see Johnson's frown when she mentioned her engagement with Jean. She was a little bit of a dork. "I'll say she's a gift from heaven, all right. I found a new coat by cold weather. She hasn't a relative or friend in the world, she tells me. She worked her way through college, and she's a good thing. Loretta nodded, then she shook her head as she thought about the blonde girl's gift from heaven, all right. I found a new coat by cold weather. She hasn't a relative or friend in the world, she tells me. She worked her way through college, and she's a good thing. Loretta nodded, then she shook her head as she thought about the blonde girl's gift from heaven, all right. I found a new coat by cold weather.
