City Turns Over Land to Anti-Tuberculosis Association For Building Up of Weak Children

(Special to The News)
 IDAHO, July 22—Executive committee of the Twin Falls Anti-Tuberculosis association in session here yesterday in the afternoon of the city council of Buhl for the use of the land, approximately two acres in extent, donated to the city about 11 years ago by Asher B. Wilson, Twin Falls, for the purpose of a site of the children's health camp. Mr. Wilson has given his consent for this use of the land donated.

The land adjoining the city park of Buhl on the north side and has been planted in trees and grass by the city under the conditions of the donation. Steps were taken to improve the land as fast as possible in order that the camp may be ready for use next year. The sum of $200 was donated for immediate use for this purpose.

The association accepted the suggestions of a committee from the Buhl Rotary club that a building be purchased and moved onto the site as a central unit. The Rotary committee has found a building in Boise which could be purchased and moved to the site for a reasonable sum. Contributions are being offered to help pay the cost of remodeling the building. Plans have been drawn and donated by Mr. Hubbs, architect for a Buhl home company.

The Anti-Tuberculosis association voted funds with which to start the work of building the camp, and appointed the club members of the association and Mrs. G. Gager, Castleford, a committee to work with the Rotary club in carrying out the plan of the camp. The general camp committee is representative of the entire county and have general supervision of all plans. Mrs. Clyde Bacon, Twin Falls, president of the association; Dr. J. N. Davis, Kimberly; Mrs. H. L. Hamnerquist, Filer; Mrs. Neis Larson, Buhl; Mrs. R. Gager, Castleford; Dr. George O. Bailey and Mrs. Rose J. Wilson are the members of the general committee. Mrs. C. A. Hall, Twin Falls, president of the county health camp, has volunteered the assistance of her group, and Mrs. Bacon has asked that they serve as the camp's first aid with the equipment of the camp. The Rural Federation of clubs volunteered some help in the way of fresh vegetables and fruits in the camp.

Mrs. Catherine R. Ath, executive secretary of the Idaho State tuberculosis association, was present at the meeting in Buhl and in speaking of the selection of the site said she was "very glad to see that Buhl and Asher B. Wilson, and the interest and cooperation of the Buhl Rotary club, makes possible our plan for a child's health camp in this section of the state. We shall not be able to operate this summer but we get our building under way so that all will be in readiness next summer. At first, thought the selection of a site in this section of Buhl may seem strange and not quite in line with the health camp idea. On second thought, however, there is much to be said in favor of it. We shall have city water, electric lights and good sanitation, none of which is obtainable in a far away site. We shall have a beautiful grassy site with shade trees and a sparkling brook which can be used to make a wading pool. There is nothing to mix off the breeze and undoubtedly it will be so cool and cooler than any spot to be found outside of the mountains. Our transportation problem will be simplified and supplies available, hence costs will be lowered.

"We will also have near medical care. Health camps are more often established in the country than in the mountains, and certainly most any spot in Twin Falls county would be country. The camp will be a center of interest to this whole section, and a demonstration of what can be accomplished through right living and proper routine. Parents can observe and carry out the program at home and wear credit mountain air and scenery with the camp at the "Miracle House," one of the most noted health camps in this country, is located on the outside of the city. The beautiful night and day camp of St. Louis is in the suburbs of that city. So we are not without precedent.

"We believe that every organization and many individuals will want to help in making this camp a joy and blessing to the children of this section."

WE WANT A NAME AND WILL PAY FOR IT

Within a short time there will be opened to the public what we believe to be the finest bathing-resort in Idaho. This pool is located just a few minutes interesting drive from Twin Falls and on the direct road to the beautiful Shoshone Basin. All the elements of nature seem to have made of this an idealistic location for natation, the most enjoyable and healthful pastime of all the many. The pool is amply taken care of by constant flowing springs, bubbling with life, absolutely pure, free from all harmful bacilli and pregnant with a diversity of minerals, all of them essential to human health. Basking in the sunlight from the sun's rise to its set, flanked on the one side by shady mosquito-like groves, the hot tang of summer removed by cool breezes sweeping down from the foothills nearby, you and your friends are going to immensely enjoy you and be proud of this latest addition to Twin Falls progress. It is also the management's intention to add just as quickly as time will permit various other amusements in harmony with the pool. There will in fact be dance halls, tennis courts; golf, lakes with boating and in fact we aspire to make of this the great amusement center of Southern Idaho.

But We Are Perplexed

We want a name, concise, suggestive, catchy. Send us as many suggestions as you wish. We will pay ten dollars for the one accepted for our pool and for what we think deserves second and third places—we will give free bathing privileges for the balance of this season. Watch for announcements of the opening of the plunge. Send in your name you think appropriate not later than Monday, July 28th. Directors of the company are the judges in the contest. ### CAMPAIGN TURNS THOUGHT TO WEST

Old Oregon Trail Memorial Association Representative Tells of Results

WELLS DEVELOPMENT CO.

WELLS DEVELOPMENT CO.

This campaign, Mr. Shoemaker said, has been emphasized in the schools of the West and Middle West. Boys and girls who will visit the West with their parents on automobile tours are being urged to study the story of the Old Oregon Trail. They will expect to see conditions here today, and they estimate a half-century ago. Those conditions cannot be restored, but we can provide a system of monuments and markers that will connect with the story of the Old Oregon Trail—will make this the first of its kind in the West.

With the Old Oregon Trail extending across Idaho from Fort Hall in the east to Fort Boise and the Indian battle grounds on the west, this state has a special interest in the work of the memorial association, which Mr. Shoemaker said, is financed by prominent leaders in American industry and business fields.

Mr. Shoemaker, accompanying L. P. Parsons, Boise, secretary of the Idaho State Chamber of Commerce, came here today to discuss the plan where he has spent several weeks, and where the Wyoming state landmarks committee is working with the Old Oregon Trail Memorial association's program.

Mr. Shoemaker expects to remain in Idaho for sometime and to return from time to time to Twin Falls while in this state, he said.

SENATORS CALL FOR RELIEF FOR FARMER

Five Solons Insist Federal Farm Board Not to Boost Bread-Cereal Quotations

WASHINGTON, July 22 (AP)—In the Senate the farm board was asked today to increase the price of wheat to the farmer from an average of four wheat-growing states today at the head of Chairman Leggett's statement criticism of the board's wheat policy is mostly "political." "Something should be done," he contended, "to give the farmer a better price while the wheat is still in his hands and before it gets into the hands of speculators."

The group included Capper, Kansas; urged the board to act. "Something should be done," he contended, "to give the farmer a better price while the wheat is still in his hands and before it gets into the hands of speculators."

The purchase of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat of the 1930 crop was again urged by Senator Capper. The suggestion the government should buy the wheat and thus relieve the market situation, and either sell it to the farmer to raise the price, or it was made by the other senators.

The government, Capper contended, could take a loss on the purchase. Chairman Legge, however, reiterated his earlier statement that the stabilization corporation should buy the market at this time.

The senators declared they discussed the board's effects for acreage reduction, but Capper quoted the chairman as saying if it became known farmers contemplated acreage reduction the effect upon the market would be beneficial.

HIVES BEGINS WORK OF DIRECTING NEW VETERANS' BUREAU

Brigadier General Who Guided 2,000,000 Soldiers To—and From—Battlefields Take Up Gigantic Tasks

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, July 22—Brigadier General Frank T. Hines, who guided more than 2,000,000 American soldiers to and from battlefields today officially assumed control of the new veterans' administration with an $800,000,000 annual expenditure for its almost 5,000,000 charges.

At the same time three other men experienced in the respective fields settled into key positions in direct charge of the mammoth work of administering federal aid to veterans of all wars.

Hines' first act under the new regime was to designate Colonel George E. James, acting director of the veterans' bureau, Edward W. Morgan, acting commissioner of pensions, and General George H. Wood, president of the board of managers of the national home for disabled veterans.

James, formerly assistant director of the veterans' bureau, went to France as insurance officer with the war risk division. For 2 years previously he had served with the national guard while engaging in commercial insurance business in Baltimore. He is 41 years old.

Just 40 years ago, Morgan, a native of Vermont, entered the pension bureau as a clerk; he had come up through the ranks to the post of division chief when President Coolidge named him deputy commissioner of pensions in 1925, and served as acting commissioner since last May.

Wood enlisted as a private, with the Third Ohio volunteer infantry in 1863, and was commissioned a lieutenant in the Spanish-American war. He recruited the Ohio national guard in 1917, making a complete division, and joined the first second (rainbow) division as
