REHABILITATION OF DEVASTATED AREA IN ITALY COMMENCES

Latest Report to Mussolini Reveals Number of Dead in Earthquake District at 2142 and 4551 Injured

Rome, July 28.—Temporary headquarters for the stricken population of southern Italy which lost its homes in last week's devastating quake will begin tomorrow.

The distribution of food now is regular and systematic. The latest report to Premier Mussolini said the number of dead and injured had not changed appreciably since the last report when the number was 2142 dead and 4551 injured.

The stricken area of the Apennines has been almost for the first time since Wednesday's quake. While the work of exterminating bodies from the ruins continues, engineers laid first plans for rebuilding the ruined town.

Partly aided by a flow of cable contributions from American artists and by aid from the government, the Kings Victor will be reconstructed on new lines laid down generally by Kings Victor Emmanuel.

At Meili, Villanova, Aquilina, Lacedonia, Arfeno, Trevico and other stricken towns the populace is sleeping in tents and in tents with food and water by troops. Several floods burst on the town, almost flooding the streets and hindering rescue work.

One of the most remarkable features of the rescue work is the number of rescues taking place after a few days. This was true in about 25 including a mother and baby at Meili. The mother was in a life-threatening condition and was suffering from typhoid but it is believed she will live.

GRAIN FREIGHT CUT BENEFITS IDAHOANS

Twin Falls Receives Reduction to Coast Points and to Omaha and Kansas City

That the application of the new, reduced grain rate both east and west ordered by the interstate commerce commission Friday means a general cut in cost of shipments both east and west is made evident by the complete statement received yesterday from the commission by United States Senator John Thomas, Coeur d'Alene. The statement shows that the rate from Twin Falls to Kansas City and Omaha has been reduced from 52 cents per 100 pounds to 47 cents; and from Twin Falls to Portland and San Francisco from 48 cents to 43 cents. While it is felt here that the reduction of 10 cents and 10 cents Pacific coast rates will not be fully reflected in prices, it is believed that the result will be a material increase in the price here.

The decision of the interstate commerce commission in this case is in accordance with the position taken by the commission in similar cases. It was stated yesterday by Newell B. Wright, secretary of the Twin Falls Grain Growers' association, that the organization had watched persistently to secure this result.

City Prepares For Descent of Bondholders Seeking Payment Out of Depleted Local Districts' Funds

Three Twin Falls street paving local improvement districts with $617,256.23 of 10-year bonds payable last July 1, have fallen short by $70,223.10 in collection of assessments levied to retire these bonds. H. C. Edmunds, public accountant, reported to Twin Falls city council at a regular meeting last evening.

The auditor's report was obtained by the city council as an evidence of the city's stewardship in levying and collecting the district assessments. Neither the city nor owners of property within the districts upon which assessments have been paid, are liable for assessment on account of the deficit. City Attorney E. M.weeney advised the council last evening, but the bondholders must look to property against which there are delinquent assessments to meet their claims.

Looks for Litigation

Questions to clarify some moot litigation in the situation is anticipated by the city attorney, who some months ago advised the city to obtain an auditor's report to make plain the city's part in the transaction.

It seems probable to the city attorney that the first step in the indicated litigation will be taken by holders of bonds next in line for payment, calling upon the city treasurer to pay their bonds. This action, it is anticipated, will lead to resistance on the part of the holders of bonds farther along on the sequence of serial numbers.

The supreme court has held that special assessments against property sold for taxes delinquent prior to 1923 are cancelled by such sale, the city attorney stated last evening. But, he said, the court has not dealt with the rights of bondholders in relation to subsequent purchasers of the property.

Auditor Details Record

The auditor's report deals with Twin Falls local improvement districts Numbers 24, 25 and 27, showing the amounts of delinquent assessments, without regard to the possibility of cancellation due to tax sales, describing property in each district and showing amount of delinquent assessments by years and in total amount against each piece of property.

District Number 24, with $251,057.50 bond issue, has $228,247.50 delinquent assessments; the report shows District Number 25, with $224,406 bond issue, has $14,068.43 delinquent assessments; and District Number 27, with $137,792.23 bond issue, has $32,872.1 delinquent assessments.

Strikes at Poplar Trees

Appealing to the city to remove poplar trees on the parking in front of the Baker rooms, Alvin Avenue south, W. P. French and Fred Fox, Jr., owners of adjacent business property, last evening addressed a petition to the city council, which was referred to the street department for investigation. Petitioners favored such a measure adopted by Ordinance 1054, and asserted that the trees are damaging sidewalks and sewer lines in the vicinity.

Subject to the building inspector's approval, council last evening voted to authorize issuance of a municipal building permit to John S. Kimes as agent for Mrs. Eva N. Pennington, to construct a $3500 residence, 36 by 34 feet, on Tenth avenue north.

William Baraby, 42, miner and construction worker, was held under $1000 bond, following preliminary hearing before Judge C. A. Bailey in probate court here, yesterday, to answer to the district court on a felony charge of kidnaping six-year-old Loreta Cable, here last July 13. Baraby was not represented by an attorney, and offered no evidence in his own behalf, but addressed two questions to witnesses for the state. He asked Loreta, "Who told you to say I understood you?" The girl replied no one had told her to make the statement.

He asked another witness how long it was after Loreta and her four-year-old sister, Lorinda, were missed before they were found with him in his car. The witness said the children had been missed about an hour, while pursuers went to the motoratorium and then toward Rock creek canyon before intercepting Baraby when he was returning with the children from the rim of Snake river canyon at Twin Falls flood and G.M. club grounds.

On-the-stand yesterday, little Loreta Cable told how Baraby stopped her and her little sister returning home with candy from a nearby grocery, and induced them to go for a ride in his car. The younger child, she said, was left in the car when they neared the canyon rim and Baraby led her some distance away and undressed her and kissed and fondled her. He helped her put on her clothing, she said, and did not harm her. He threatened her, she said, they would get some crackers Jack when they returned to town.

Other witnesses included J. C. Mink, a neighbor, who with a man named Fletcher, intercepted Baraby with the little girls in his car, and he endeavored to halt Baraby by calling to him, but Baraby ignored the call and topped only, when Fletcher climbed onto his running board.

They started in pursuit, Mink said, when summoned by parents of the little girls who had seen them get into Baraby's car and drive away.

Tells Record in Montana

A letter from H. J. Prescott, Butte, Montana, prosecuting attorney, received by E. V. Larson, local prosecuting attorney, today related Baraby was wanted and left Butte late in 1923, going to Salt Lake City after several complaints were made in Butte and vicinity charging him with molesting little girls, and after he had been detained in jail there for about six months. Charges against Baraby in Montana were dismissed, the Butte prosecutor said, because possible witnesses were too young to qualify as witnesses under Montana statutes.

Last Night in Ribs
Scott's least bad day of the season is being belted. Phil Scott, the four-foot line in the first round and pushing him to the second round, Stribling left him to the ribs. Stribling completely outclassed the Briton in the second round, Stribling was billed for the championship of the world. And as a crowning anticlimax to England's multiple hopes, stout old Joe Beckett clambered through the ropes after the knockout and entered the ring to battle with a belt of 500 pounds sterling on the side.

FLURRIES OF SALES AND BUYING PREVAIL

Conflicting Action on Market Tends to Make Course of Stock Prices Irregular

Markets at a Glance

NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—Stocks: Irregular; Warmer Pictures: Prices drop 3 points to year low. Bonds: Irregular; fluctuations general in dull market. Curb: Stocks: utilities lead active. Foreign exchange: Firm; sterling highest since January. Cotton: Lower; poor trade demanded and Southern selling. Sugar: Lower; Easter spot market. Coffee: Lower; disappointing Brazilian reports.

CHICAGO: Wheat: No live visible interest in weak foreign markets. Corn: Weak; beneficial rains in Iowa and weakness of Kansas City. Cattle: Steady to strong. Hogs: Steady.

By JOHN L. COOLEY NEW YORK, July 28—Flurries of buying and selling made the course of stock prices irregular today, although the list, on the average, closed nearly a point higher.

A few shares reached new high for the recovery, but failed to hold those heights. The chief evidence of group strength was in the utilities where the day's best advances occurred. On the other hand, weakness of Warner Brothers Pictures, Trans-American, Safeway Stores and Eastman Kodak had an unsettling effect and operations for the advance met with increasing resistance.

Bonds were firm in dull trading which witnessed mild improvement in some of the highest grade investments. There was a general feeling of uneasiness and there was a slight firming trend in commercial paper, which movement of which was accompanied by accurate barometer of business conditions.

The move in the utilities, which rallied 4 to 4 1/2 points, was generally retained their gains, was ascribed to covering.

The stronger stocks included American and Foreign Power, Standard Gas & Electric, Columbia Gas and Electric, and American and American and American Water Works.

Warner Brothers slumped 5 points to a new low for the year, accompanied by reports that the $4 dividend was in danger.

By JOHN F. BOUGHAN (Associated Press Market Editor) CHICAGO, July 28—The largest receipts of wheat so far this season in Chicago and the greatest ever received at a point to pull down the value of all cereals.

The price breaking effect was intensified by the circumstance that the United States which had shipped about 1,500,000 bushels for the week previous.

Rain in Iowa and Nebraska today increased much of a period of widespread moderate temperatures ahead for the corn belt, led to heavy pre-rain-falling in the corn belt.

"GOOD GIRL"

by Barbara Webb

Frank agreed with her, "I know it. I feel that way about Clark. He'll tell all you fellows you won't ever forget. Mary Ruth, and that's Jack. I'll bet you've seen them together. I thought yesterday from the way he looked this morning, they had been together. He ought to be married, instead of me, and don't kid yourself, Mary Ruth. He's looked out for you from the word go. Remember, I wanted to kid you along at first. Well, when I saw how Jack felt about you, I knew right then there was more to you than an empty head on a pair of good looking shoulders."

Mary Ruth had no answer for that. She had to tell him that he was wrong. She turned topsy-turvy in the last hour, and she was left standing all alone. Frank had his freedom and the world was his. He had driven Jack each other. She had driven Jack each other. No man would ever forgive the things she had said to him the day before. There was a soft rap at the door. Mary Ruth opened it and found Virginia and Patrick had come. She had driven Jack each other. No man would ever forgive the things she had said to him the day before. There was a soft rap at the door. Mary Ruth opened it and found Virginia and Patrick had come. She had driven Jack each other. No man would ever forgive the things she had said to him the day before.

Virginia's voice was very matter-of-fact when she spoke and she watched Mary Ruth's face closely. "Jack just telephoned. He's leaving for the Coast tomorrow. He'll be in to tell you all goodbye some time this evening." Mary Ruth escaped to her room. She had to be alone. She had to think straight, honest thoughts about herself, about Jack. He was going away. She would probably not see him again. He wouldn't want to see her after the way she had talked to him for the first time. She had reviewed the events of her life since she had gone to work at the Wonderland, calmly and without prejudice. There was Pierre. There she knew now had been an infatuation. There was Frank. That she knew now was a little bit of a little bit. She had thought of the love and happiness that had come to her, grateful for it all, regretting that she had not married him sooner. She had to be alone. She had to think straight, honest thoughts about herself, about Jack. He was going away. She would probably not see him again. He wouldn't want to see her after the way she had talked to him for the first time. She had reviewed the events of her life since she had gone to work at the Wonderland, calmly and without prejudice.

Frank's head throbbed. His face glowed from lack of sleep. "One Mary Ruth could not help the exclamation, 'Come in, Frank's asleep,' he hurried on, 'and mother and father have gone out to sleep. But they'll be back in a few minutes. Jack stepped into the room. "I'm glad to see you alone for a few minutes. Mary Ruth, I want to ask you forgiveness for everything. I've wound up all my affairs here today and I'm leaving for the Coast tomorrow, since Frank is so much better."

Mary Ruth could not speak. She wanted to put her hands on his white face and tell him she was sorry. She wanted to ask him forgiveness. Oh, that miserable quarrel of the day before! Those terrible things she had said to him! How could she tell him she was sorry? Her throat was dry. Words would not come. She had to be alone. She had to think straight, honest thoughts about herself, about Jack. He was going away. She would probably not see him again. He wouldn't want to see her after the way she had talked to him for the first time. She had reviewed the events of her life since she had gone to work at the Wonderland, calmly and without prejudice.

CASTLEFORD MAN FACES PROSECUTION FOLLOWING CRASH

Authorities Hold A. E. Toney to Blame for Collision Causing Injury of Denver Man and Son On Trip

A. E. Toney, Castleford blacksmith accused of causing an automobile collision in which A. F. Dinscott, Denver salesman, and his son, Daniel Dinscott, age 10, were killed, was held in custody here today. Toney was arrested at two miles west of Twin Falls at about 8 P. M. Sunday, probably will be charged with second degree murder, possession of liquor, preventing attorney from seeing his client, and tampering with evidence. A million-dollar bond was set for his trial.

The Denver man, now staying at the county general hospital here, suffering from severe cuts and bruises about the face and head, was transported to Portland on a special trip to attend a salesmen's convention when the collision halted their journey. The salesman, who had just been graduated from high school, Toney's car traveling eastward toward Twin Falls from Castleford, crossed the road to crash into the Denver man's light truck, striking it in the middle and hurling it into the air.

Officers who investigated Sunday night reported finding the mark of Toney's left rear tire where it had slid a distance of 45 yards in crossing from the south to the north side of the road.

It was reported later that Toney had attempted to pass another car that he had been following, and so got over on the north side of the road and collided with the Denver man's car, that was traveling westward from Twin Falls.

Investigating officers reported taking two and a half points of moonshine whiskey in bottles out of Toney's car. Toney was arrested and lodged in the county jail. In the crash he received a cut on the forehead.

Polk Whiteley, Jr., who came here from Arkansas and has been employed for some time at Castleford, was riding with Toney when the crash occurred. He returned to Castleford, where he was arrested and brought back here yesterday for questioning.

The injured Denver man was taken to the hospital, a mile away, by Mrs. and Mrs. F. B. Griest, both, who were among the first persons on the scene after the crash.

ALASKA RICH IN ORE, NEEDS PROSPECTORS

Rev. B. J. Bingle Says Great War Hurt Industry in Vast Northern Domain

"There is plenty of ore in the mountains of Alaska," said Rev. B. J. Bingle, Cordova, Alaska, former instructor in the Twin Falls junior high school, who spent week-end on his way from Chicago and Ohio points to his home. "The country needs prospectors, as that will mean the opening of mines and the opening of mines will mean agricultural development."

"It was seriously injured industry in the territory and it has not recovered. The agricultural possibilities of Alaska are very great. Fine potatoes, great cabbages and head lettuce and good wheat crops are grown. In the interior good crops are also grown. Cattle there are unusually fine. Efforts are being made to cross the musk ox and the yak with American cattle in order to develop a breed of stock that will stand the severe climate."

"It is, of course, very cold in the interior. It is colder on the coast. The mercury never fell below zero last winter at Cordova, where the thermometer was owned by Indians in the southern part and Eskimos in the north sections, are not as civilized as the whites and they did not have previously, but he has driven away their game and is taking their fish, and, owing to the difficulty of reaching themselves to the new conditions, many of the natives are in danger of starvation."

"Where there are opportunities the Indian acquires other characteristics of American civilization. I have seen many of the children in attire that was far from clean, sitting in front of a small cabin one day, while a splendid automobile of latest model, stood out in front. Indians are great imitators. An Indian will take a broken down auto which a white man has abandoned and drive away with it."

"Dog teams are still used a great deal in the interior but the snow machines are improving. They can be driven over the top without breaking through. It is a splendid country for winter sports. I have figured the mosquito, which he says is so large and voracious that even residents of the Texas coast who visit the Far North admit that their home grown varieties are rather inferior specimens in comparison."

Rev. Bingle expects to leave today on his homeward trip to re-visit his

BEAN CORPORATION SELECTS TRINIDAD COMPANY AS AGENT

L. W. Van Vleet Becomes Personal Representative in Selling Operations For Tri-state Organization

Trinidad Bean and Elevator company, Trinidad, Colorado, has become the selling agency of the newly organized Tri-State Bean corporation which includes the cooperative organizations handling Great Northern beans in Idaho, Wyoming and Montana. It was announced yesterday by C. H. Dettweiler, manager of the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association, through which has been organized the Bean Growers' Warehouse corporation.

According to the agreement the Trinidad Bean and Elevator company withdrew from the market as a dealer in Great Northern beans wherever grown so that there will be no conflict of interest between the bean corporation and selling agency. The Trinidad Bean and Elevator company will take personal charge of handling the Great Northern beans.

The Tri-State Bean corporation will not only handle the beans of the affiliated cooperative organizations which include the Great Northern beans but will become a dealing, profit-taking concern, buying and selling this variety of beans by whatsoever grown and where grown. Profits made in this trading operation will be divided among the three affiliated associations in proportion to the quantity which they sell through its agency.

Consider All Proposals. The agreement with the Trinidad company was entered, Mr. Dettweiler said, after considering marketing proposals from several other of the largest corporations in the country engaged in dealing in Great Northern beans. During practically all of the negotiations with these companies J. W. Jones, Washington, representing the federal farm board, was present, giving advice and making suggestions.

The organization of the Tri-State corporation, Mr. Dettweiler stated, grew out of the meeting held here July 2, which resulted in the formation of the Bean Growers' Warehouse corporation of the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association. Membership in the last named organization is composed exclusively of members of the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association which holds all the common stock. Officers in these two are the same. Preferred stock in the corporation bears 8 per cent interest, is sold to members of the association, and may be recalled and paid off any time, from profits in cleaning and handling the beans of the association and from other sources. The federal farm board is to advance balance needed to complete organization for operation after a certain percentage of stock has been sold.

The Bean Growers Warehouse corporation has purchased the warehouses with machinery from the Southern Idaho Wholesale Grocery company, which has for the last nine years handled beans for the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association.

The other cooperative associations in the Tri-State Bean corporation have no interest in these, and the warehouse corporation here requires no interest in elevators in Montana and Wyoming, it is stated. At a meeting of the board of directors of the Southern Idaho Bean
