NEWLY-DEVELOPED PROCESS INVOLVES USE OF CATALYST

Complete Unit for Making Fuel for Automobiles Stands on End of Small Table

NEW FINDING GOVERNS TEMPERATURE EFFECT

Discovery Simplifies Manufacturing Method to Eliminate Costly Apparatus

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Business Editor) NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—A complete gasoline refinery, no bigger than a home brew outfit, has been set up by Edward F. Chandler, New York engineer. It makes enough anti-knock gasoline daily to run an automobile about 600 miles.

It represents discovery of a simplified method for making gasoline. Chandler says, also, the possibility that small refineries may be able to compete with the new hydro-metallurgical process contemplated by refiners representing about 80 per cent of America's production.

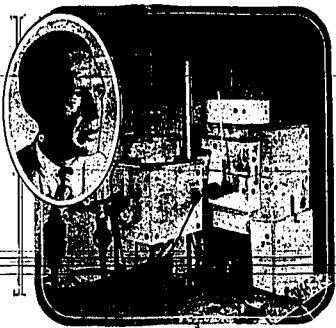

In hydrogenation oil is boiled in an atmosphere of pure hydrogen under pressure, so much more of the oil "cracks" into gasoline.

Finds Catalyst

Chandler's discovery is a catalyst. Catalysts, substances widely used in chemical processes, are the small quantities of foreign substance introduced into ingredients under treatment, which convert them into the desired product. A compound of aluminum, for example, is well known as a catalyst in manufacture of gasoline.

The new catalyst found by Chandler governs the effects of the heat and the amount of rapid vaporization of the oil.

This simplifies the gasoline-making process enough to eliminate much costly apparatus. But from this smaller and more economical apparatus, by a process which he says is inexpensive. Chandler claims to obtain from cheap, low-grade oil more gasoline than formerly could be obtained.

Anti-knock Gas — Further, he says, the catalyst produces an anti-knock gasoline without the necessity of adding poisonous or other ingredients.

In the baby refinery oil is pumped into a drum-shaped catalytic reaction chamber. Here the oil is vaporized and treated at ordinary temperatures and atmospheric pressure. The lighter vapors are condensed and removed as gasoline.

The remaining vapors are returned to the reaction chamber for further treatment, the production of gasoline being continuous as long as oil is pumped to the system.

A by-product of the process is a gas of high heat value which may be largely converted into aviation gasoline.

WOMAN CHARGES THREAT AGAINST SELF AND SON

On grounds of alleged cruelty and non-support, Mrs. Dora Timmons has brought suit in district court here for divorce from Richard Timmons to whom she was married June 29, 1927. She asserts that he has struck and threatened to kill her and her 14-month-old son, and she applied for a court order to restrain him from molesting them. She also asked for a $100 monthly allowance. She is represented by O. C. Hall, Twin Falls attorney.

HOSPITAL AVERAGES 39 PATIENTS DAILY

Twin Falls county general hospital population during the month numbered 1,212 patients, as employees and 8 indigents, according to report made to the county commissioners by Mrs. Margaret Austin, superintendent, yesterday.

The hospital's earnings for the month totaled $2,272.75, of which $2,867.54 was received in cash. Claims were made for $1,558.13 on account of care of county cases, and $362.79 for care of indigents.

During the month 131 patients were admitted to the hospital, and 12 were discharged. Of the patients, 57 were males and 74 females. Thirty-nine were admitted for medical treatment and 42 for surgical operations. There were 28 surgical operations performed during the month, 25 being listed as major and 4 as minor operations.

Deaths at the hospital during the month numbered 16, of which 8 were surgical patients and 6 medical patients. One death resulted from accident, one was stillborn and five were newborn.

Eight boys and seven girls were born at the hospital during the month.

TAPE PROVES AID FOR MAKING COPY OF FINGERPRINTS

St. Louis Detective Finds Cheap Way of Recording Imprints on Curved Surfaces Left by Criminals

By The Associated Press St. LOUIS, August 2.—Footpads may fool the detective's camera sometimes by leaving fingerprints

LIEUT. RICHARD M. JOYCE, only on mirrors or beveled surfaces, but they don't bother Lieutenant Richard M. Joyce that way.

He has devised a means of recording the left-late marks wherever they may be.

Joyce, chief of the identification bureau of the St. Louis police department, has fashioned a flexible, enduring tape that permits reproduction of latent fingerprints from surfaces of any description—something special cameras could not always do.

His tape consists of a thin layer of hardened, gummy substance on a background of heavy, stiff fabric, protected by a sheet of mica. It works this way:

A little powdered aluminum is speckled on the fingerprint, the excess brushed away, and the tape applied after the mica sheet is removed. Replacing the mica after recording the prints, there is available a copy of the finger mark that ordinarily should not be forever.

Since the tape may be used on any surface, rough or smooth, Lieutenant Joyce thinks it should make every police officer his own detective and fingerprint expert.

Cheaper Method — "It undoubtedly will bring a greater number of criminals to justice," he says. "The reason is easy. Heretofore the possession and operation of cameras used to photograph prints were too much of a luxury to smaller communities where thieves operate just as they do in big cities."

"Now all the peace officer needs to do is use a square inch of the tape and send the copy to the nearest bureau to be identified. There is no chance for mistake in the fingerprint method of identifying criminals. It is either he or it is not."

BURGLARS AT LAUNDRY CARRY AWAY CLOTHING

Burglars removed two pieces of glass, one at the rear and the other at the front door, to get into the National Laundry, Buhl, sometime Friday night, from which they carried away several suits of men's clothing, women's silk dresses and a bath robe, according to results of an investigation made yesterday by Sheriff E. P. Prater.

Clothing that was stolen was taken from the laundry dry cleaning department, the sheriff stated. Nothing else appeared to have been disturbed. $200 worth was recovered by the investigation.

COST OF PAYMENT OF DELINQUENT TAX LESS

It will cost less to pay 1929 and 1927 delinquent taxes before next August 15, G. J. Hahn, Twin Falls county treasurer, announced last evening.

The treasurer's office has made up notices of delinquent taxes for these years, to be published and delivered to deputies for service on August 15. The law provides that taxpayers may accept personal service and save the expense of publishing and service by deputies, but this must be done by a call at the treasurer's office on or before August 15.

HERBERT HOOVER PREPARES TO SPEND VACATION IN GLACIER AND YELLOWSTONE PLAYGROUNDS ON "ROOF" OF AMERICA

PRESIDENT PLANS SUMMER TRIP TO MILE-HIGH AREA

Chief Executive Arranges For Rest For Coming Duties In Western National Parks

HIGH MOUNTAIN LAKES PROVIDE GOOD FISHING

Tentative Plans Call For Visit To Wonderlands of Yellowstone Preserve

Herbert Hoover the fisherman (inset) may angle in scenic mountain lakes (left) of Glacier national park during his vacation. The chalet at Two Medicine lake (right) is expected to be his headquarters for a time.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (By The Associated Press)—The shadow of the "roof" of the continent

Herbert Hoover plans to spend most of the first real summer vacation he has taken since assuming the presidency.

On the shores of Two Medicine lake in the southeast section of Glacier national park—within view of the continental divide—the president set rest and new strength for the work that lies ahead.

Plans to Fish
At high mountain lake he probably will recreate by fishing—the sport he has called "good for the soul of man."

Before reaching his mountain retreat, he will pass through the heart of a huge grain empire, where the harvesting of mile after mile of spring wheat will be well away—reminders of the national farm relief problem.

For a man who likes his outdoors rough, veterans of the national park service say the Two Medicine region completely fills the bill.

Within half a mile of the only automobile highway is a primitive forest. There mountain brooks seem to run faster than trout a little higher, and the air to have a "zip" more "zip."

From the porch of Two Medicine chalet the president may watch the sun set behind what the park service describes as the "most beautiful country in America."

Should Mrs. Hoover be sufficiently recuperated from her back trouble for horseback riding, she will find numerous trails piercing the wilderness where motor car fumes never have penetrated.

In Yellowstone national park Mr. Hoover will find waters abounding in trout. Accessible streams where trout are more wary provide easier tests of the angler's skill.

Both in Glacier and Yellowstone parks the Hoovers will be in altitudes a mile or more higher than the White House. There August nights are cool, although days often are uncomfortably warm.

For those who travel stout or horseback in this territory the park service advises such clothing as sweater, wool underwear, wool hose, an old felt hat and stout shoes.

The letter was 12 inches wide and 34 feet long and cost $3.35 in postage to bring it. In the letter was the invitation signed by a "committee" consisting of several hundred of the nearly 5000 students in the school.

WHEAT COOPERATIVE UNIT MAKES PLANS

North Pacific Grain Growers Arrange to Market 30,000,000-Bushel Crop

SPOKANE, Aug. 2 (AP)—At least 30,000,000 bushels of the 1930 wheat crop will be handled by the North Pacific Grain Growers' cooperative unit in the national cooperative marketing set-up.

Some 6000 growers in Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington have become affiliated with the organization through 57 local cooperative units to date, and two more embracing growers at Moscow and Medford, Oregon, are in the process of organization.

A Eugene Kelley, general manager of the Northwest organization, said: "Just how much wheat is pledged by the grower-members of the organization has not yet been determined. However, reports are coming in daily, and including the wheat we will buy in the open market, the volume handled by our organization this year should run at least 30,000,000 bushels."

Hartnett's Comeback Causes Chicago Cubs to Chase Rainbow

Clouter's Clouds Clear and Club's Chances Improve

Big Batter Brings Back Batting Ability After Bad Accident and Assumes Honors Held by Hornsby

By PAUL MICKELSON (Associated Press Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—A rainbow in the Cubs' sky, clouded by death and staggering injuries, has been the spectacular comeback this year of the "Millville Hornet," Gabby Hartnett.

Hartnett's big right throwing arm, limp all last season, "flew off the handle" this year. His big bat is booming home runs, triples, doubles and the pretentious slide.

His enthusiasm behind the plate is inspiring even a somewhat weak pitching staff past tremendous pitcher.

Stazers claim the "man-thing" never would have been a comeback, probably just in time to save Cub pennant hopes from disaster.

Hartnett's trouble started in the 1929 training season at Catalina, Jan., when disregarding the warning of years, he ate a fast dinner to the infield after but three days of limbering up.

His early swing went limp and nothing could be done with it. "Gabby" was heart-broken, and when the world series of 1929 came and passed everybody thought he was through.

But then Hartnett provided the world with an example of determination. He came to Chicago after the series, adopted a strict training grid and consulted his neighborhood physician, Dr. Louis Kent. Months of prescribed dieting, careful exercise and treatment finally succeeded and Hartnett was pronounced "cured."

Joe McCarthy, careful to sign up three backstops for the 1930 campaign, remained dubious until "Gabby" began picking around the mound base with his old time skill.

Strangely, Hartnett's lousy bat refused to awaken until pitcher Hal Carlson was removed by death and Rogers Hornsby was incapacitated by a broken ankle.

No sooner had these tragedies stunned the Cubs than Hartnett started to hit. He was on a hitting streak that lifted his batting average from below .300 to around the .350 mark. Sixteen of his runs of homers have rattled off his big bat club and brought manna to Cub hopes.

Conflicting Dates Bring Night Tilts

BALTIMORE, Aug. 2.—The fact that two football games can't be played on one field in an afternoon head-batter-bearing on the approach of the "Tuesdays" for Johns Hopkins university.

After officials at the university said that it was impossible to play both the St. Johns-Southern Methodist and the St. Johns-Hopkins games on Howard field this afternoon of November 15, a decision followed to light the stadium for night football.

In the glow of 22 lights of 60,000 candlepower, Hopkins will meet St. Johns, after the meeting of the kids and the Texas team.

Hopkins also has scheduled night games with Upeia, Harvard and Johns.

Out of action last season with a sore throwing arm, Gabby Hartnett's long distance hitting and aggressive play have done much this season to keep the Chicago Cubs in the pennant race, despite the long absence of the team's premier slugger, Rogers Hornsby.

Game of "Weenie" Golf, Coupled With Hot Weather, Diminishes Attendance at Large-sized Links

Boise Course Owner Believes, However, Miniature Tilts Eventually Will Increase Interest in Contests on Bigger Fairways

(By The Associated Press)
BOISE, Aug. 2.—This game of "weenie" or "pocket golf" is cutting seriously into the profits of large-sized public golf courses.

One local golf course owner said there had been a reduction in the attendance at the courses caused by the new variety, which coupled with the hot weather, means a considerable reduction in receipts.

He had two thoughts for solace: First that the "weenie" golf was hurting the picture shows more than the golf course because the big business for the link courses is during the golf time hours rather than during the sunlight hours when standard golf is played.

Second, that the "weenie" golf would develop the "bug" in the systems of the adherents, which would eventually grow into a full-sized "golf bug" which would be satisfied only with standard golf.

Changing Types
With regards to the latter, however, he admitted that it was quite different from one type of golf to the other. Since introduction of "weenie" golf, said a number of new players had reported at the field, and with reduced clubs, tried out the standard article. Used to the practice of playing here and there on the "weenie" courses, they suffered untold havoc where a hand hole was on the trap was necessary.

To take 16 or 18 strokes on a hole meant real time for the players, and some of them admitted to him that the small score obtainable on the little courses appealed to them. "Other

1930 Grid Rules Permit Accurate Interpretations

No Radical Changes Appear But Simplification of Infringe Body of Regulations Promises to Give Benefits

By E. M. SWEENEY
NEW recodified football rules have been released by the rules committee, and are being closely studied by players, coaches and officials. No radical changes are made in the game itself, but there is much simplification of the whole body of rules, with clearer statement of existing rules, which is to have beneficial effect.

In a general way the trend appears to be toward preserving football as a sport, one calling for well-rounded men, rather than for spectacular stunts, plays and acts which do not detract from the playing of the responsibility of staying skill within the rules.

In previous years there have been instances of "borderline" plays and acts. An official in the position of jurist to be sure of the rule meaning, and a mind reader to fathom the intent of the act, were not required. It was supposed to be a reasonable doubt, the team included, to check the limits of the rule, felt it could be.

Rules Clearly Stated
But this is on the mend. Rule statement is clear enough so that extensive discussions of meanings are not called for, and there is an increased number of vital points where a penalty is levied in case of doubt.

This ought to make the border of the official lighter, and if the official is not sure of the rule, he will be notified to be gained by a team in crowding the rules. It will be up to the team itself to employ tactics, and acts which do not come into the doubtful class.

One point is in the use of shift of the ball. In the past, all 11 players of the team with the ball must come to a full stop, must remain stationary in their positions without movement of the feet or swaying of the body, head or arms for a period of at least one second before the ball is put in play.

In case of doubt, the penalty is to be enforced. This would seem to put an end to the hair-trigger, multi-shift, flying-start sort of attack.

Offense Not Affected
The legitimate offense is not affected, neither is proper playing arising from the play itself, but the "sooner" will run into consecutive penalties, not only in cases where there is a positive infraction of the rule, but in cases of doubt as well.

As a matter of common sense teams will take care to keep away from the "border-zone" of doubt, to the betterment of the game.

Another result can be expected—the number of injuries that come from diving plays, flag fouls, or out of position because of a tricky start will be reduced.

It is probable that the defense generally will gain somewhat and that the attack will make larger demands on passing and kicking. But in the case of forward passes the pretensions against screening and interference will be reduced.

reference are properly stated, with the penalty for even doubtful cases.

Rules On Passing
This may need close attention to the backward and lateral passes, where the same restrictions do not apply. In fact, some forward pass plays, now too hazardous to use because of their doubtful validity, will tend to become more so to the lateral and backward field.

The public is likely to take kindly to the new code. Technicians have little proper place in sports anyway, and the work of the rules committee has materially reduced the points of puzzlement and misunderstanding.

Helene Madison's Trainer Dislikes To Go Swimming

Discoverer of Greatest of All Women Aquatic Stars Plunges Into Water Only Rarely During Two Years

(By The Associated Press)
SEATTLE, Aug. 2.—Swimming has lost its charm for the man who discovered Helene Madison, Seattle, greatest of all woman aquatic stars.

Except for a couple of surfboard tumbles and saving a drowning boy, Ray Daughters, Helene's coach and former boatwren, swimming, aquatic champion, has not even put his bathing suit wet in the last two years.

"As a kid I was crazy about the water but now I despise it," said Daughters. "Except for surf-boarding I wouldn't care whether I ever saw it again."

"Of course I have put on my bathing suit when I instruct my classes but I never get into the water. Far out around the edge of the pool and tell them how to do it."

"I haven't been in the water for a pleasure swim for more than two years. I had to jump into my pool once this summer to save a boy from drowning and had to do my stuff after surf-board tumbles but that's been the extent of my swimming for a long time.

"If I ever go in the water again it won't be because I want to." Miss Madison was discovered by Daughters about two years ago and in the last six months under his direction she has bowled over an even dozen world's records on 100 yards to the mile.

Navy Hoopsters Plan for 17 Tilts

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 1.—The navy will play 17 basketball games next season, under the new schedule announced by the Navy Athletic Association.

The schedule follows: December 13—William and Mary; 17, Lafayette, and 20, Western Maryland; 21, Virginia; 22, Pennsylvania; 23, Virginia Military Institute.

February—4, Georgetown; 7, Wake Forest; 10, Wake Forest; 13, Wake Forest; 16, Wake Forest; 19, Wake Forest; 22, Wake Forest; 25, Wake Forest; 28, Wake Forest; 31, Wake Forest.

The unfair practice of spreading rumors that the Oakland car is to be discontinued is being participated in by dealers who are evidently AFRAID of competition.

To All Oakland-Pontiac Dealers

I am sure you will be glad to have the enclosed copy of a letter I just received from Mr. A. F. The Oakland-Pontiac division is now second largest unit producer of cars for General Motors and as you will note from Mr. Sloan's letter, it is expected that in the future we shall occupy an even more important place in the industry.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 2 (AP)—The season for assaults on the record for swimming Chesapeake Bay is at hand.

He is young Philadelphia, who hopes that some day he will swim the English channel, is planning to swim the bay as a step toward fulfilling that ambition.

He is John Deane, 11, who has been training at Bay shore, near here.

Klein Climbs to Clouting Lead in National Circuit

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2 (AP)—"Chuck" Klein of the Philadelphia Phillies finally has taken a fairly firm hold on the object of his struggles, the batting leadership of the National League.

Klein, leader a week ago by a hardly visible margin, now has kept on climbing and in the averages released today, which include Wednesday's game, has a margin of 5 points over his lead mate and rival, Frank O'Doul.

Klein's average is .408, O'Doul's .403. The Philadelphia youngster already has more batting honors than most players could reasonably ask. He has held first place in scoring, hits and runs batted in and in this has added a tie for the lead in hitting doubles. Klein has scored 103 runs, has hit safely 161 times and has batted in 110 tallies. His total of 33 two-baggers gives him a tie for the lead with O'Doul and Johnny Frederick, Brooklyn.

DETROIT, Aug. 2 (AP)—When Bob Fothergill changed to a Chicago white box uniform there passed the last of the four line of slugging outfielders who have won Detroit Tiger honors.

Following the Ty Cobb-Ham Crawford fence bunting days there were Bob Veach, Harry Hellman and Jimmie Munnish.

Veach is out of the majors. Hellman went to Cincinnati this year and Munnish, who was traded to the St. Louis Browns several years ago, this year went to Washington for Goose Goslin.

The club batting leadership remains in the hands of the Philadelphia with an average of .328, 9 points better than that of New York, Cincinnati still leads in fielding with a .972 mark.

Bob Odom, Chicago, has met with his second defeat of the season but the still leads the league in hitting with a .378 average, having won seven games to two lost. Ray Phelps, Brooklyn, is second with nine victories and three defeats in a 150 mark while Tom Zachary, Boston, and Joe Heving, New York, have attained the same average by winning six games and losing two.

The FISK DELUXE

7 Points of Superiority OF THE FISK Air-Flight Principle

- Larger Air Chamber—Four air ridges long on the tread.
- All-Cord Process—All-cord material reduces internal friction and adds strength without rigidity or weight.
- Multiple Cable Bead—Multiple Cable Bead gives added strength at the run while increasing road flexibility.
- Increased Flex Area—Increased length of Flex area over the air chamber.
- Stream-Line Tread—The rim width of the tread is 1/2 inch wider than the widest tread rubber and gives greater air cushioning.
- Greater Road Contact—Results in better and longer non-skid grip.
- The Air-Flight Balance—The newly balanced tread between air and road, reduces resistance to the car, lessens tire wear and improves mileage.

The First and Only Tire of Its Kind

In building the Deluxe Fisk has constructed a tire that will under any normal condition give the longest service of any large motorist. New in principle its larger air chamber, carrying more air at a lower pressure, permits you to ride on any highway with a greater degree of riding comfort than ever before. Built of extra plies of Fisk exclusive All-Cord non-Deluxe allows you to go as far as you want and as fast as you want, to enjoy all of the power of your modern car in absolute safety. It will give you more performance any tire you wish to select as a standard offering you more non-stop, trouble-free miles than you ever before received from any tire, regardless of make or price.

Ride in Safety Trade-In Your Tread Worn Tires

Safety depends upon a tire's non-skid qualities and the tire with a smooth worn surface jeopardizing your safety at any speed. The few remaining miles are dangerous miles and it is false economy to ride on them when we will accept them in trade for a set of new Fisk-Tires.

Drive In today, we will give you a new set of every make left in your old tires and equip you with a set of new Fisk-Tires.

Elias Arkoosh, Idaho's Oldest Resident, Smokes, Drinks and Eats as He Pleases--Observes One Hundred Twelfth Birthday

Patriarch Gives Credit to Care at Son's Home

Aged Man Head of Ancient Family Transplanted from Syrian Soil to Idaho Ranch

THIRD SET OF TEETH--REJUVENATION PHASE

Rich Storehouse of Memory Yields Interesting Stories, but Present Maintains Appeal

ELIAS ARKOOSH, who probably is Idaho's oldest resident, one time soldier and for many years a dealer in Oriental rugs, lives now on a ranch about seven miles from Gooding. He was born at Bet Arkoosh, Syria, in 1818, and was 112 years old last April 15.

He does not attribute his great age either to his diet or his mode of living. He eats what and when he pleases -- mostly meat and vegetables and fruits, and he has a hearty appetite. His son says he eats more than anyone else on the ranch.

He smokes two ounces of tobacco regularly every day, and, before prohibition, he drinks wine, but he has given up that habit also.

"I have lived so long," the venerable Syrian told a visitor recently, "because they are so good to me--my son and daughter-in-law and grandchildren."

They, to whom the aged man referred, modestly disclaim any special goodness in this regard. While manifesting sincere affection for the patriarch of their family, they let him do pretty much as he pleases, and do not interfere with his affairs, or bother him with their own.

And that, evidently, is what he wants and appreciates most.

Third Set of Teeth

He is inclined sometimes to say, and to a little irritable; but there is good reason for that because his gums are swollen and sore, and he is getting his third set of teeth. The coming of the new teeth is a phase of general rejuvenation that began a few years ago. He has lately pronounced the coming of this period, they say, as the "rejuvenation" of his old age, and he has been in the habit of saying that he is in the "rejuvenation" phase of his old age.

He is in many respects now younger than many younger men of 65 years.

He is quite active, using his heavy staff in getting about, and he is in the habit of saying that he is in the "rejuvenation" phase of his old age.

His hearing is acute.

He has a habit of his "second sight" in men, and he has no use or need for spectacles. He reads a good deal of the time, mostly books of history, and he has written a number of books in his native tongue. His reading is illuminated by vivid recollection of the rich old days of experience, and he has written a number of books in his native tongue.

There is no question of the accuracy of his second sight, as it has been recorded so far as regards his family are concerned.

The family tree was traced to the soil of Asia Minor, where it flourished for hundreds of years, and now has been transplanted here and branched to an Idaho ranch. A Roman, Marcus, a mighty hunter who took up his abode in Idaho, the old Asia Minor after journeying for a time at Mount Lebanon, is the ancestor of the family, and the family records extend over a period of centuries.

He was 112 years old, Mr. Arkoosh, a recent visitor questioned.

"No," the old man declared emphatically. He began to explain, speaking in English, that he has lived in this country for half a century his English is hard for a new acquaintance to understand.

He is a native of the town of Bet Arkoosh, Syria, and he has lived in this country for half a century his English is hard for a new acquaintance to understand.

Idaho's Oldest

Elias Arkoosh, Gooding, resident of United States for 50 years, born in Bet Arkoosh, Syria, in 1818, and 112 years old last April 15.

...speaking animatedly in English that he had for a new acquaintance to follow and understand. The son stands ready to make it plain.

Belonging into a wealth of memories of his boyhood, the old man will relate, too, circumstances surrounding the bloody massacre when Mount Lebanon and cut the throats of 2000 monks one of whom was Arkoosh's cousin, "Brother Moses." The cousin was one of a handful of survivors. The attack across the throat he had, but in such a manner that ever afterward his head was taken upon his shoulder.

Life, he declares, has been good to him, and he glories in the tender and sympathetic care of his children in his declining years--that, in many respects manifestly are not declining years at all.

FIGHT LOOMS FOR DEMOCRATS AFTER DISBARRING HEFLIN

Thundering "Cotton Tom" Heads Independent Ticket

Entertaining Ruling of Bourbons, on Primary

(By The Associated Press) MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 2--Stimulated by the writ of the 1928 political wars, Alabama will ballot in its senatorial and state Democratic primaries August 12 with nomination not equivalent to election for the first time in many years.

Senator J. Thomas Heflin, the thundering "Cotton Tom" of recent political battles, who actively opposed Alfred E. Smith two years ago--occupies the unique position of being out of the primary but in the center of the picture.

Facing a crisis in the general election in November, the senator heads an independent ticket, having been barred from the primary under a ruling of the Democratic state executive committee for failure to support the party's national ticket in 1928.

He has called county conventions of his followers for the day of the primary.

The August 12 contest, prelude to the real struggle for party control and the senatorship, brings two powerful political figures together in the race for the right to oppose Heflin.

They are Frederick J. Thompson, Monted, former editor, and John H. Bankhead, Jasper attorney and son of the late Senator John H. Bankhead, whom Senator Heflin succeeded.

Thompson, making his first race for elective office, served several years as a member of the United States shipping board.

Heflin has held elective posts since 1904 when he became mayor of his home town, Lafayette.

The Heflin forces have urged their supporters to keep out of the primary, but both Thompson and Bankhead have bid for a large Democratic vote in the contest.

NEW TARIFF LAW LOOMS AS AID TO POTTERY INDUSTRY

President of National Organization of Potters Predicts Larger Duties Will Decrease Imports

(By The Associated Press) CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 2--A stimulus to the national pottery industry is expected by Ohio potters to result from the Hawley-Smoot tariff law.

James M. Duffy, president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, believes increased duties provided in the measure will reduce the amount of ware from such producers as Japan, Germany, Czechoslovakia, France and even Great Britain.

Benefits to American industry, he said, probably will not be realized before September 1.

Before enactment of the law, he said, importers laid in large stocks of foreign ware, and more time will be required to dispose of it.

Stories From Past

All this the old man tells his visitors

ing place for centuries. Marcus the hunter, in the presence of a party of Ottoman, Mohammedan, dispatched a wild boar. The spectacle incensed the Mohammedans, and outraged their sense of decency.

"Ar-r-koosh," their leader exclaimed, imitating the canine growl and pointing to Marcus' dog that was named "Arkoosh" by the name and the name of their dwelling place.

So the family got its name. Elias Arkoosh was born at Bet Arkoosh, which, in America, would correspond to the name of Arkooshville.

Gross earnings of Western Union Telegraph company for the first six months of 1930 were 3 per cent below the same 1929 period.

SEGO MILK

Be sure--tell your grocer you want Sego Milk and see that you get it. When you pour Sego, see how much richer it is than ordinary condensed milk. Sego is noted for its distinctive finger flavor, its delicious creaminess and its uniformly high quality. To know Sego is to know evaporated milk in its finest form.

Since 1868, a half-century ago, three times during the first 10 years of his residence in this country, he returned to visit his family in Syria. On his return from the last visit he was accompanied by his son, with whom he has made his home most of the time for 40 years. His wife, and a child who died in infancy, and a daughter who died when she was 30 years old and preparing to visit America, are buried in Syria. He was married only once.

During most of his more active years that, incidentally, extended well toward the "century" mark, the elder Arkoosh was a dealer in Oriental rugs. He brought to this country rugs that he exhibited at exhibitions in New Orleans, Chicago and St. Louis. He peddled rugs from door to door and he owned rug stores at different times in Chicago and Minneapolis and finally in Salt Lake City. His last venture was a failure, but management is not in the blood, and his son had hard work to persuade him to stop--definitely his career as a merchant.

The elder Arkoosh was one of a family of 110 children, three sons and seven daughters.

The Roman, Marcus, founder of the family, was a great hunter and one of his exploits gave to the family its name and the name of its dwelling place.

Bringing Enlarged OPPORTUNITY to the dairy men of this region...

You need never worry about overproduction of milk in the Twin Falls country. For this large, modern Sego condenser at Buhl is equipped to handle two or three times as much milk as it is now receiving.

As a matter of fact, our concern is to get enough milk to supply the increasing demand for Sego throughout the west. To that end we are glad to help the dairy man increase his production. Our Plant Superintendent will gladly talk things over with anyone who wishes to avail himself of the enlarged opportunity offered by this Sego condenser. Come and get acquainted.

Cuts motor repair Costs

EXCESSIVE motor heat does two things, both of which are bad if it robs your motor of power. It also causes undue expansion and strain, which tends to warp the metal out of true shape, and--eventually--necessitates expensive repairs.

PEP 88 ETHYL keeps your motor cool. Its sustained, controlled combustion converts all the heat units into power! Keeps your motor more efficient... keeps it out of repair shops!

At the same time, PEP 88 ETHYL "knocks out that knock!" It makes your motor more responsive, easier to handle. Less gear-shifting. And it's a cleaner gasoline... does away with the carbon nuisance!

Not all Ethyl gasolines are as good as PEP 88 ETHYL. They can't be. For there's only one PEP 88, and it is the finest gasoline that refining science can produce. Only one thing--Ethyl fluid--could possibly improve PEP 88--and you get this supreme motor fuel when you stop by a pump with the PEP 88 and Ethyl emblems. Try it today.

Polls open at 1 P. M. and close at 7 P. M. Tuesday, August 5.

Primary election voters in Twin Falls will cast their ballots to elect the republican and democratic party candidates in motion. Voters at the primary will:

1. To nominate candidates of both parties for district judges, and legislative, county and parish officers, to be voted upon at the November election.
2. To elect delegates to the county conventions of both parties which in turn will elect delegates to the state conventions that will nominate candidates for congressional and state offices.
3. Elect precinct committeemen to serve for the ensuing two years as members of the county organization of both parties.

Only voters who registered this year prior to July 20, and who then announced their political affiliations will take part in the primary elections.

Republicans To Settle Contests
With 27 announced candidates for 19 nominations, for judicial, legislative and county officers, Republican voters will have six contests to settle at the primary.

Democrats, with 15 candidates for the 10 nominations, have only one contest, but it is anticipated that Democratic primary voters will complete the ticket by writing in one or more of the names of candidates for nominations for which none has been announced.

Republican voters of Twin Falls, Casia, Blaine and Jerome counties will select two nominees for district judges among four announced candidates. The candidates are A. B. Barclay, Jerome; Arthur C. Dunn, Blaine; Turner K. Hackman, Twin Falls; Everett M. Swezey, Twin Falls.

Two district judges are to be elected in this judicial district at the November election. The Democratic candidates are William A. Backlock, Twin Falls, and C. G. A. Dwyler, Blaine.

Tripartisan Affairs
In the Republican camp there is a three-cornered contest for the party's nomination for county clerk and recorder, the contestants for the nomination being George H. Cross, James A. Galtner and Charles P. Jones, all of Twin Falls.

Other contests for Republican nominations lie between T. E. Moore, Pifer, and A. E. Wilks, both of whom are expected to be the primary candidates for the first district; Herbert O. Lauterbach and Stuart H. Hansen, both of whom are expected to be the primary candidates for the second district; E. L. Larson, prosecuting attorney, is opposed for nomination for re-election by J. W. Taylor, a former incumbent of the office. P. J. Grossman, a former carrier, is opposing E. E. Drake for nomination for re-election.

Democratic Contests
In the Democratic camp the primary contests for the first district are expected to be between J. W. Taylor, a former incumbent of the office, and E. E. Drake, a former carrier, is opposing E. E. Drake for nomination for re-election.

Cox Files Suit To Quiet Title To Hanser Hotel

Pay Cox, win Falls, who purchased the Hanser hotel property at Hanser from Mrs. Cora E. Vanderpool, widow of the late H. M. Vanderpool, has filed suit in district court here to quiet title to the property. The building, a large tract of property, was built and operated for some years, according to Cox's complaint, by the Hanser Hotel and Improvement company, which was incorporated in February, 1910, and forfeited its charter in December, 1922. The property was conveyed to Mrs. Vanderpool in settlement of her mortgage claim in June, 1922, the complaint recites, but the deed was not recorded and has been lost. W. P. Bresser, Hanser, named as one of the defendants in this action, is the only surviving director and statutory trustee of the Hanser Hotel and Improvement company, the other directors being Hanser, John P. Hansen, M. D. Provost and A. H. Shoemaker.

C. A. North, Twin Falls, is attorney for Cox in this action.

Falls; E. N. Pettigrove, Hanser; Mrs. Emma Oudekirk, Twin Falls; and F. T. Parsh, Blaine, candidates for county assessor; Carl J. Itahn, candidate for county treasurer; Jess Husted, Blaine, candidate for state legislator; P. B. Bell, Twin Falls, candidate for probate judge; Mrs. Rose J. Wilson, Blaine, candidate for county clerk and recorder; and Harold Buhl Merritt, Twin Falls, candidate for county surveyor.

Democratic Contests
The one contest that claims Democratic attention in the primary is a three-cornered affair between James E. Clouse, Blaine, and Mrs. Maude Mae Gaus, Hunt, each striving for the party's nomination for commissioner from the second district.

Other announced candidates for Democratic nominations, who are not opposed in the primary, are T. D. Connor, Pifer, candidate for state senator; Harry C. Parson, candidate for clerk and recorder; George R. Hart, Blaine, candidate for commissioner from the first district; James E. Barnes, Blaine, candidate for commissioner from the third district; E. F. Prater, candidate for sheriff; Guy L. Kinney, candidate for probate judge; O. W. Witham, candidate for prosecuting attorney; Dr. M. N. Lettic, candidate for coroner.

There are vacancies on the Democratic ticket that the party's voters are expected to fill in the primary, for four candidates for state representatives, and candidates for assessor, treasurer, county superintendent of public instruction and county clerk.

One of the most interesting contests between the parties is for nomination for re-election by J. W. Taylor, a former incumbent of the office. P. J. Grossman, a former carrier, is opposing E. E. Drake for nomination for re-election.

BUSINESS GROWS IN TWIN FALLS DURING SIX-MONTH PERIOD

22 New Enterprises Start Report of Secretary of Chamber of Commerce For Half Year Reveals

Twin Falls had 22 new business enterprises started during the first six months of 1930, as the report of the secretary of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce. These include three auto service companies; three apartment houses; two miniature golf courses; two lunch places; a grocery; beauty shop; shoe shop; glass and paint shop; auto repair shop; two automobile shops; a stage depot; meat market; real estate business; shoe shining parlor and barber shop.

An outstanding feature of the report has to do with freight rate reductions. On July 1, a new schedule of livestock rates may be applied to the territory.

FEDERAL FUNDS MAY GO TO HIGHWAY 93

Office of Senator Oddie Holds Designation as Main Road Necessary

That the only condition required to secure federal road funds for the construction of the connecting link on the United States highway 93, crossing the public domain, otherwise known as the Blain to Boulder road, is that the state of Nevada shall officially designate this road as a main highway, is the interpretation of the provisions of the Oddie-Cotton bill by the office of United States Senator T. L. Oddie, one of its authors, as evidenced by a letter received here yesterday by Nevill B. Whitt, secretary of the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce.

This interpretation of the law, if sustained, will, it is believed, result in hastening the beginning of construction necessary to finish the completion of the highway from Blain to Boulder dam and Las Vegas, Nevada.

The bill was placed upon the floor of the United States House of Representatives on July 15, 1929, and has since that time been pending in the committee on Public Works.

It is believed that the bill will be passed by the House of Representatives in the near future, and that it will be signed by the President.

There are 82,500 motor buses in the United States, according to the Chicago Motor club.

Turner K. Hackman

Candidate For District Judge

During my thirteen and one-half years of practice in Twin Falls County, particularly during the past four years, I have advocated numerous changes in the methods and procedure in the district court to accomplish the following ends:

The guarantee of the right of every litigant to be heard through his lawyers in all matters as prescribed by law, particularly the granting of instructions so that jurymen may intelligently understand them.

A simplified trial of cases for the jury by submitting instructions to the jury before argument of counsel is required by Section 6847 of the Idaho Compiled Statutes as construed by the Supreme Court of Idaho in the case of Schmidt v. Williams, reported in 34 Idaho Reports at page 732, where the court says:

"It appears from this statute that the instructions should be read to the jury before argument of counsel."

THE ABOLITION OF PROFESSIONAL JURYMEN

The opening of court promptly at the hour set and a business-like dispatch of the litigation in hand. The reduction of expenses for both taxpayers and litigants by carrying out the foregoing program.

I shall speak from K G I tonight at 8:30 o'clock upon a subject which I feel will be appropriate for the evening.

I shall speak again tomorrow evening, Monday, at 7:45 o'clock from the same stand.
