LANDS RAILROADS CUT RATES TO AID DROUTH SUFFERERS President Hoover and Red Cross Keep Tab On Situation and Chairman Legge Rushes East From Idaho

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The helping hand of the federal government reached today to assist the drouth-stricken farmers with reduced freight rates as President Hoover kept a constant tab on the situation with a view to extending further relief.

The first concrete step to aid the million farm families in the most serious affected areas was taken yesterday by the interstate commerce commission. In a special order it lowered railroads' freight rates on livestock, feeds and other supplies in effect immediately.

President Hoover late in the day called at his Rapidan river lodge in Virginia with Secretary and Mrs. C. E. Smith, vice president of the federal farm board, and was in constant touch with the White House by telephone.

The agriculture secretary and Mrs. Smith were called to the camp by Mr. Hoover for a discussion of livestock developments. Hyde took with him letters regarding the situation from county agents in the drouth regions, while Stone was prepared to give the president a line of pictures of conditions in Kentucky, southern Indiana and southern Ohio.

Red Cross Acts The American Red Cross took cognizance of the long day spent by sending a message to its 3500 chapters to stand by and be ready to act on call from the drouth-stricken areas.

The message said continuation of the abnormally high temperatures might mean conditions of disaster proportions in a restricted area and authorized the president to act on their initiative in supplying relief.

Meanwhile, messages of acceptance of President Hoover's invitation to a conference of governors of the drouth-stricken states here next Monday began reaching the White House. Thirty of the 12 governors inquired—Red, Kansas, Arkansas, and Colorado—and completed their replies during the day and the others were expected to follow over the weekend.

Chairman Legge of the farm board, notified Washington from Caldwell, Idaho, that he was hurrying here by train and airplane to assist the White House conference.

In a statement before his departure for the Hoover camp, Secretary Hyde said the economic effect of the drouth emphasized the benefits that might be attained by the organization of federal control of crops. He added, however, he could share the feeling that "this tremendous crisis is a blessing to American agriculture in that it dispense of its any guile."

President Gratiot "News of the interstate commerce commission order was transmitted to the public by the news service announced. The president was highly gratified. He had conferred with members of the commission in the week, but it was stated at the White House that since the commission is an independent agency he had no authority to order the reduction of rates.

The commission pointed out that some of the railroads had expressed a desire to put the drouth-stricken effect to relieve drouth conditions, and that a "social cause" exists demanding immediate attention of relief in many sections to avoid loss of livestock and to prevent general suffering.

The order also authorized the carriers to cut rates on other commodities if it was found necessary and extended the authority to October 31.

It was the president expected to have a definite program ready for operation early next week and for presentation to the governors' conference.

PRICE WAR SENDS VALUE OF MELONS TO BELOW NOTHING TO BELIEVE NOTHING

STOCKTON, Cal., Aug. 9.—Melons sold here today at "two for nothing" because of a price war between a chain store and an independent grocer on opposite sides of the same street.

The war opened yesterday, and this morning at 10 cents the price was cut to 8 and 4 cents and finally to nothing, one store giving away two melons with every purchase, the opposition offering "two for nothing."

Meanwhile neighborhood drug stores reported a run on remedies for over-indulgence.

IDAHO'S PROPERTY VALUATION DROPS Assessors of 44 Counties Report Figures Showing Cut of $4,000,000 Below 1929

BOISE, Aug. 9.—Assessors of Idaho's 44 counties believe that the value of real property in 1930 is less than a year ago.

Their beliefs were contained in the compilation of county reports compiled by the state auditor in preparation for the beginning Monday of the two weeks session of the state board of equalization.

The report shows the assessors' estimate of the state's value as $338,750,000 in real property and $208,650,401 in personal property compared with their 1929 valuation of $341,100,000 in real property and $210,620,401 in personal property.

These figures are exclusive of the value of public utilities and a small amount of personal property to come in on subsequent rolls submitted by the assessors.

An increase was shown in the valuation of mill covs on the combined personal and real rolls, from $4,000,000 in 1929 to $4,174,537 this year.

Sheep Valuation Drops Common sheep dropped in valuation from $2,029,212 to $1,977,743 this year. Work horses were $7,375,000 on the real roll dropped in 1929 to $7,000,000 in 1930.

Timber land was out from $10,012,160 to $9,829,212. Business lists dropped from $14,051,501 to $13,748,784 and residence lists dropped from $17,947,184 to $16,827,184.

The department reported 20,801 miles of county roads were surfaced, and 277 miles of earth roads, well graded and drained.

JAPANESE LIKE AMERICA SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—More than half the Japanese admitted to the United States as immigrants in the last fiscal year have forfeited the money, Immigration Commissioner John D. Black, said today.

The "visitors" evidently have not "settled" themselves in the country, according to Black, and the government $40,000 in bonds. The bonds were to assure their return to the Orient.

BOMB KILLS TEXAS BANKER AND BANDIT DEMANDING $10,000

Desperate Character Calls For Cash But Drops Nitroglycerine Before Officer Complies and Both Perish

FORT WORTH, Texas, Aug. 9.—A nitro-glycerine bomb dropped on the floor of the Stockyards National bank by a stranger who had demanded a $10,000 loan today killed Fred L. Pelton, vice president and cashier of the bank, and the man who sought the money.

The bank was wrecked. L. W. Marshall, assistant cashier, was seriously injured, and Clifton Mager, 8, was cut by flying glass. About 50 other employes and customers escaped injury.

The stranger, later identified as Mathew St. Martin, entered the bank carrying a satchel and approached the desk of W. L. Pier, president of the bank.

"I am desperate! I want the money quick! There is a price on my head and I do not care what happens to me! There is nitro-glycerine in this satchel!"

He warned Pier not to call the police. Pelton had engaged Martin in conversation while Pier went to a money case and sold a letter to him. He was trying to get police headquarters on the telephone to advise them.

Deluge Causes Heavy Damage in Pocatello POCATELLO, Aug. 9.—Thousands of dollars damage resulted from a heavy rainstorm which struck this territory late today, 1 1/2 inches of water falling in 45 minutes. The first storm struck between 10 and 12 miles south of here, and the Port Hall land reclamation but later the storm was reported general over South Idaho.

The downtown streets of Pocatello were flooded and several businesses in the business district were filled with water. The storm waters were unable to carry the streams of water and tons of silt, debris and large boulders were carried into the streets. Much tree trim and debris lodged several intersections in the residential section.

There's One Redeeming Feature About Business Depression

President Hoover Shows Signs Of Strain On Eve Of Fifty-Sixth Birthday

RANOHE, Va., Aug. 9.—Still physically vigorous after 17 months in the White House, President Hoover tomorrow will observe his fifty-sixth birthday.

In the coolness of his Virginia mountain lodge where he is secluded over the week-end, a simple observance of the occasion has been planned. A big cake with candles is ready for the dinner table and Mrs. Hoover and the guests, who accompanied him for the excursion, will present their gifts to the president at the dinner.

Although Captain Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, believes the president is in better physical condition than when he took the oath of office in March, 1929, the most of strain Mr. Hoover has undergone with congress in session most of the time have not left him unmarked.

Three other factors have aided the White House physician in keeping Mr. Hoover fit. The long lines of handshakers that daily filled the executive mansion have been alleviated by Mr. Hoover, and the cooling system installed in the executive offices after the Christmas fire the permits him to work eight hours a day or longer without distress.

High Temperature Prevails In East Mercury Drops 10 To 15 Degrees In Great Lakes Region and In Southwest

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—High-temperature prevails in a large portion of the United States today, but some sections experienced sudden relief when the mercury nosed down 10 to 15 degrees.

The temperature drop came early in the day at some points in the Great Lakes region. At Chicago the mercury fell from 89 to 76 within 30 minutes shortly before noon, followed by a hard shower.

States in the Far Southwest also were soothed by cooler breezes and during the last 24 hours slight relief mitigated the extreme heat in portions in the Middle Atlantic valley, the southern states, the plateau and the southern Rocky mountain regions and the Great Lakes area.

Cooler winds forecast for the week-end promised somewhat cooler weather for most of the Middle Western states and the forecast for the entire week also indicated that much of the cooling will come while there is least temporarily from the unusual heat and humidity of late.

High temperatures were reported in the Great Lakes region.

INDIANA'S NATIONAL GUARDSMEN PATROL STREETS OF MARION

Authorities Anticipating Further Trouble Following Lynching of Two Negroes, Order State Troops Out

MARION, Ind., Aug. 9.—Anticipating a crisis in the townships that had gripped Marion since Thursday night when a frenzied mob avenged the murder of a White youth and a criminal assault upon his fiancée by lynching two Negroes on the lawn of the Grant county courthouse, state militiamen patrolled the streets tonight and looted rifles and fixed bayonets.

Meantime a board of inquiry, composed of state and county officials and taken to the present and control those responsible for the dual hanging. The officials met this morning and prepared to bring proceedings under Indiana law, which provides the death penalty for any one convicted of having taken an active part in a lynching.

The board of inquiry, which was formed today following several conferences yesterday, is composed of Judge J. C. Campbell, county attorney, and Police Chief Lewis Lindquist.

Four witnesses were heard by the board.

As Germany's unemployment officially passed the 2,000,000 mark last month, it is estimated that in six European countries there are today at least 5,949,287 persons listed as out of work.

CREDIT LIMITATION AND DROUGHT HURT NATION'S FARMERS

Summer's Dry, Hot Weather Called Worst in 30 Years
Raises Spectre of Scramble for Mortgage Loans

By FRANK I. WELLES (Associated Press Farm Editor)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—This summer's drought, called the worst in 30 years, has raised the spectre of a scramble for mortgage loans.
Already drought and limited the beef cattle industry. Many feeders, who tried to "pull out" the market, have been forced to sell at unseasonable prices because of pasture shortage and lack of funds to buy feed.

Success Relief
Senator Joseph T. Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, has brought the requirements of the situation to public attention in a campaign speech, suggesting that the state and federal governments cooperate in providing funds to "avert wholesale foreclosure of farm mortgages."
Farmers will be without seed, feed and other supplies at the beginning of next season, he said, and local institutions will not be able to furnish adequate funds where the farmer's credit already is exhausted.
Senator Robinson believes congress will be "thrust" to any sound policy for a moratorium that will extend aid to the individual farmer whose crops have been damaged by drought.

Prices Continue Low
Occasionally a drought of current proportions would have been expected to bring the farmer materially improved prices, but livestock, wheat and cotton continue low. Unless market conditions change, observers say, farmers will fare the almost unprecedented experience of selling very short crops at un-

Even if corn prices continue the present quiet and early with them, there is a possibility that drought may limit production that will be scarcely enough for feed and virtually none for sale.
Vice Chairman Stone of the farm board says he expects a 25 per cent or 500,000,000 bushel reduction in the anticipated yield of corn.

ONLY MRS. CHIGGER BRINGS ON TROUBLE

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 9.—It's the lady of the Chigger family that makes one want to scratch, says a health warning issued by the Indiana State Medical association.
Mr. Chigger, it seems, depicts himself as a gentleman at all times. But Mrs. Chigger crawls under the human skin, into a little burrow she has made with her long boring bill, and insists on setting up housekeeping.

It is the housekeeping activities that make her human host so uneasy — if "nerves" is the word.
The chigger bite itself is not at all dangerous, the medical association said, but infections may be set up by scratching the "bites."

LEGION PLANS HONOR FOR CIVIL WAR HERO

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Aug. 9.—Yet another step is planned to heal the old wounds laid open in 1861-65.
A $25,000 fund from nationwide subscriptions is the object of the Fredericksburg, Virginia, post of the American legion, to erect a monument to a Confederate sergeant who risked his life that his enemies might not suffer.

He was Richard Kirkland, "angel" of "Mary's Heights," who climbed out of a trench at Fredericksburg on December 13, 1863, and gave water to Federal wounded. He fell in action at Chickamauga.
When it is done—here—brings figures of two soldiers on a marble base are planned—the Fredericksburg post intends to ask the national commander of the legion to dedicate the monument.

RIVAL PROVES TEST FOR "MA" FERGUSON

Rich Business Man, Comparatively New to Politics, Opposes Woman in Texas

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 9.—It is a wealthy business man, comparatively new to politics, who is contesting Mrs. Michael A. "Ma" Ferguson's bid for the governorship of Texas.

Rosa B. Sterling, her opponent in the August "run-off" primary for the gubernatorial gubernatorial nomination, has spent most of his life in enterprises far from the political ring.
It wasn't so many years ago that Sterling could say he scarcely had a dollar to his name. He was working as a deck hand on one of those clumsy freighters that ply along the Texas coast.
Within a year he had bought the boat, and his business career began. He purchased a couple of grocery stores, and soon he had a chain of stores.
Later he bought several tracts of land. Oil was discovered on the property, and Sterling's income multiplied rapidly.
Then he turned his interests to newspapers and bought the Houston Post-Dispatch. With its editorial columns as his rostrum, he led the campaign that elected Dan Moody to the governorship against "Fergusonism."
Moody's election in turn started Sterling's political career. He was named chairman of the state highway commission, and his proposal of a $100,000,000 state highway bond issue is a leading bone of contention in the present campaign.

OKLAHOMA GOVERNOR WEARS FINE CLOTHES

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 9.—If Mayor Jimmy Walker of New York would remain the best dressed official he should look to his laurels.
Governor W. J. Holloway, Oklahoma, is running him a close and dignified race.

It wasn't so many years ago that Oklahoma was Indian Territory, but now some events find its governor in formal dress, others in morning or afternoon garments. And when occasion demands he carries a cane.
When the executive attends sporting events he is always fittingly attired and during hot weather he wears low-cut, white trousers, white sport shoes and dark socks.

World Champions Wm 9-2 and 3-0 From Chicagoans

Victors Fall On Ed Walsh For Three Runs in First Throwing of Opener and Continue Attack On Henry

(By The Associated Press) PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9.—World champion Athletics increased their pennant lead today by taking both ends of a double-header from the Chicago White Sox for the second day in succession. The Mackmen won by scores of 9 to 2 and 3 to 0.

Victory in the first game won the Mack's way with little trouble, the champion falling on young Ed Walsh for three runs in the opening inning and keeping up their attack on "Candy" Henry. The second game, however, was a keen battle between Caraway, youthful "outlaw" and sensation, and the veteran Jimmy Foxx who hit his thirty-second home run of the year with two on base in the eighth in-

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 9 (AP)—The Athletics look like ball players on the field, any American league club probably will admit. But in the hotel lobbies and railroad coaches where Connie Mack's champions are exposed to the public without their uniforms the thing seems less certain.

In fact, many of them don't look like ball-players at all. Those who hold down jobs during the winter carry over their dress habits into the baseball season.

Features Trio of Slugging Leaders

Simmons and Cochrane, Playing For Athletics, and Gehrig For Yankees, Vie For Hitting Leadership

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Fight for the American league batting 'ch' on a pennant once more has developed into a three-cornered battle between Al Simmons and Mickey Cochrane of the Athletics and Lou Gehrig of the Yankees.

Unofficial averages including games of Wednesday disclosed that while the "ambidextrous" team man kept his hold on first place for a second week, his lead diminished to a bare percentage point over Simmons while Cochrane, another former leader, stood but 4 points to the rear.

Gehrig's unofficial average was .323 compared with Simmons' .311 and Cochrane's .310. His percentage dropped 5 points during the sixteenth week whereas Simmons' increased 1 point and Cochrane's 2 points.

Craghead Gets Title Of Fastest Pitcher In Coast League

Newland Declares Oakland Hurler's Heaving Speediest

Sports Writer, Admitting Differences of Opinion, Sets Forth Views As to Experts With Speed-Ball

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—Short stories on Sunday topics: Who has the fastest ball among the Pacific coast league pitchers? (This subject is a sure-fire provoker of arguments among sports writers.)

The writer gives first call to Howard Craghead of the Oakland team. For second place it is a toss up between Payton Satterfield of the Sacramento, and Ed Baechel, Los Angeles. Bill Henderson, now known to the Oakland owners, comes in third.

Rhodes, Hollywood, rank next. Then comes left-handed pitcher, Ken Arnesen, San Francisco, and Frank Lamanaki, Seattle.

Tailspin driving seems to have special attraction for worn out boxers. Only a few of the boys who were prominent in hunting for jacks rabbits. Fight fans will recognize the names of Calvin Joe Lynch, a good heavyweight in his line; Frankie Warren, Kid Exposito, Today Makagon, Peep Day, all lightweight, and Joe Foy, middleweight, and Joe Hughes, heavyweight.

spectacle would net $400 with no more outlay than the cost of a few yards of rope.

Now that night baseball is the vogue, it will be interesting to see how the club owners will protect themselves from loss of balls batted into the stands. This always has been a problem in day games as the fans feel that balls making unobstructed excursions into the seat sections are legitimate prey. Tidy the "nose-batter" business—a foul ball in the bleachers after dark, however, will have a harder time dodging drives in their direction. Maybe they can take out "foul insurance."

Long Drives Give Kuhel Chance To Try First Base for Senators

Initial Sacker For Kansas City Blues Makes Long Hpp to Big League Just As Predicted by Critics

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 9 (AP)—Joe Kuhel, star first sacker of the Kansas City Blues, has made the long hop in baseball just as fans have said he would all season.

The American association infielder was graduated from Olean, Ontario, a company when the Washington Senators gave three players and cash said to exceed $50,000 to the Kansas City club for him.

But the going won't be easy for Kuhel as a Senator, for Joe Judge and Art Shires, good first basemen themselves, must be reckoned with. However, American association fans who have watched Kuhel for the last three seasons think it will not be long before he will be holding the infield lead regularly.

24 Years Old

Kuhel, a native of Cleveland, 24 years old, towers six feet into the air and scales around 185. His professional debut was with Olean in the Michigan-Ontario league in 1924.

The Blues bought him from Flint and "farmed" him to Springfield in the Three-Rye league and Lincoln in the Western league last season. Joining the Blues in 1927, Kuhel played with them in only two games that year. The season, however, he saw action in 120 contests.

Last year Kuhel drew the attention of scouts for no less than seven clubs, but there was one objection to him. His hitting was mostly short distance, although his average was .297.

Slugging Improves

But this year his slugging has changed and he cracks them far and wide and he has conquered his main batting weakness—a high ball inside.

Batting averages at the time of his last show found hitting at a .277 pace with 130 base hits in 385 games. He had scored 73 runs and was tied with Simpson, Louisville, for the league lead in clouting triples, each having 12. He also was among the leaders in doubles and total bases.

His fielding is considered excellent and this, coupled with his speed, makes him a brilliant major league prospect as Glenn Wright was when he was said by Kansas City, association followers believe.

Hurlers of Texas League Face Task

DALLAS, Aug. 9 (AP)—The hottest weather in years might mean ball players, have treated for Texas league hurlers a very rough one indeed.

With a two-week rest in the season, only one hurler appears certain to win as many as 20 games. He is Earl Wilson, ace of the Wichita Falls staff, who recently chalked up his sixteenth win.

Alvin Street, the Houston strike-out king, has passed his fifteenth victory and seems a good bet to make it a score, although the Blues have had much difficulty in winning behind any kind of hurling talent.

Outside these two, prospects for the other pitchers are slim. George Payne's record of 28 victories last year isn't a show of being touched this season.

TRIPOLI, North Africa, Aug. 9 (AP)—Italian colonial authorities are bent on booming Tripoli as the sporting center of the African continent.

Antelopes Eat Idahoan's Hay

BOISE, Aug. 9 (AP)—When it isn't deer and elk, it's antelopes, William B. E. Thomas barely got through preparing to permit a slaughter of excess elk and deer in the Pocatello game preserve, when complaints came in from Charles Worthing, Reno, in Lemhi county.

It wasn't the dinner, but the fact that both Worthing, as Idaho's Reno has no attractions for separate companies. The double with Worthing at Reno, Idaho, was that he wanted to be separated from a band of 25 antelope which had found fine pasture in his hay field.

In fact were calling it up.

The antelopes are protected by law in Idaho so Worthing asked the game warden to come in and get his pet and keep him.

Dempsey's Choice Rests on Jeffries

SEATTLE, Aug. 9 (AP)—Jack Dempsey joined ranks of fighters who have picked the greatest of them all white refereeing bouts in this region.

Jim Jeffries is his choice. I always thought he stood above them all when he was at his best," said Jack.

Thus he dismissed the claims of the "experts" who have placed John L. Sullivan, Jack Johnson or himself on the pedestal.

Dempsey's modesty, however, fails to alter box office records which proved him the most popular in the game's history by a wide margin.

ON THE SIDELINES by BRIAN BELL

NOW that William Lawrence Stribling has knocked out Otto von Porat and Phil Scott in eight minutes—less than three rounds—perhaps it will be just as well to quit calling him "Willie" and address him as "Bill."

Throwing caution to the winds, the Georgian has two bouts less than the Michigan fighter to go before he can claim the world title. He rained facts and signs of Kalling Phil's head and body, practically finishing the Briton in the first round, and making short work of him in the second.

A terrific left stretched von Porat flat in the first round and he was through for the night.

Stribling has been a great boxer for years but his work in the ring has been blighted by extreme caution. He was content to proceed on a "safety first" basis, not an entertaining program for the customers and as a result he never has attained the popularity his ability deserved.

A FEW months ago the fighter, who spends his odd moments in an airplane, decided that he would either establish himself at the top of the pugilistic heap or retire from the game.

He told friends that he would either knock out his opponents or be knocked-out himself.

"I am going to get somewhere," said Strib to the Sharkey-Schmeling fight. He was chatting informally and not talking for publication. Now he can be told.

"Keep an eye on me in this von Porat fight. I'll surprise the boys. I'm hitting harder than ever before, and I confidently expect to knock this big fellow out in an early round."

Stribling fought von Porat and Scott with a bad left hand, but this did not slow him up for his best punching in each bout was with the injured left.

He made the public forecast before the Scott bout, other than to say he expected to win, but his friends knew that he planned to tear into the British champion and dispose of him at the earliest possible moment.

WITH a great punch in either hand and undoubted boxing ability, it is difficult to see how Stribling can be kept out of the title of challenger. He has won the heavyweight championship. Now that he has decided the matter, he will fight for it, he should be easily the favorite of the few candidates left.

Stribling will not be 28 years old until the day after tomorrow. He has been boxing professionally since 1921 and has been in the ring more than all the rest of the challengers combined. He never has been knocked out.

Stribling and Schmeling should be matched now, the odds on Schmeling being in his favor.

Engineers and Ideas From America Aid Soviet Expansion

YANKEE FIRMS AID IN MODERNIZATION DRIVE OF RUSSIANS

Three Cleveland Companies Plan For Construction of Steel Plants Near Moscow

Road Building and Erection of Modern Apartments Calls Workers of United States

American engineers and American ideas are modernizing Russia. Cleveland engineers will build a $50,000,000 automobile factory and a city of 50,000 near Karpovka (below), while American machinery (top) is revivified Moscow where modern apartments for Soviet officials are thrusting up near the Kremlin (center).

(By The Associated Press) (LEVELAND, Aug. 9) — American engineers and ideas are reaching half way around the world to touch Soviet Russia with the magic of industry and modernization.

Here in Cleveland three firms are at work on plans for construction, in Russia, of industrial centers comparable to Gary, Youngstown, and Detroit.

Arthur J. McKee and company, engineers, are preparing plans for a steel plant to be worth $10,000,000. It will be about the same size as the United States. Steel corporation plant at Gary, Indiana.

Will Build Ore Mines

These engineers also will supervise construction of ore mines which will yield approximately 20,000 tons a day. Each steel furnace will melt one ton.

In this plant will be three 25-ton Bessemer converters, 12 open hearth furnaces, three blooming mills, a full mill, a series of merchant mills and a series of heavy structures.

A lake 1 1/2 miles long and two miles wide is being impounded to flood the furnaces. About 1,400 men have been working on the site of this dam since May.

Charles E. Baker, president of the McKee company, says the project is the largest industrial development undertaken in the Soviet republic.

Auto Factory

The Austin company of Cleveland has begun construction of a $50,000,000 automobile factory and a city of 50,000 near Karpovka, 270 miles east of Moscow. The plant will have an initial capacity of 120,000 cars a year, to be increased to 400,000. The city will have a population of about 50,000.

Russia pays the Austin company each month in gold.

A third Cleveland firm, Ogilvie-Norton and company, has sent 20 engineers to the Soviet to supervise development of iron mining.

Employ Translators

Eight translators are employed by the McKee company to maintain an understanding between American and Russian engineers. Five Russian-English stenographers translate conversations.

Yankee road-building experts recently won a $10,000,000 contract to develop a road, and a government ministry is doing the job.

And almost shadowing the Kremlin is a giant American apartment building to house government officials is being erected.

"LET US BE GAY" NOW PLAYS HERE AT IDAHO

Divorce with love still lurking around the corner from the court-house motivates the plot of "Let Us Be Gay," Norma Shearer's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer starring vehicle now playing at the Idaho theatre.

Miss Shearer renders a striking performance in this delightful caricature of the Itchell Crothers stage hit, again demonstrating her rare versatility which has carried her to new heights in talks, "The Divorcee," in which the star last triumphed, again was responsible for the direction.

Hot La Rocque plays the part of Miss Shearer's phandering-but-resentment husband and Marie Dressler is appropriately cast as the eccentric dowager who is the social vortex of a whirlpool of intrigue and gay week-ends.

Included in supporting roles are Raymond Hatton, Hedda Hopper, Sally Eilers, Gilbert Emery and Tyrrell Davis.

Frances Marion adapted the play for the screen, adhering primarily to the original lines and situations and bending them slightly into the demands of the screen.

Although the picture is entertaining, it is not a dramatic punch in the climactic scenes for which the audience are scarcely prepared after the lighter moments that precede.

Russia Sells Aristocrats' Confiscated Art Pieces In Industrialization Campaign

Soviet "Commission Shops" Dispose of Luxuries Taken From Imperialists to Foreign Countries' Tourists

By JAMES A. MILLS (Associated Press Correspondent)
MOSCOW, Aug. 9.—Government second-hand stores, officially named "Commission Shops," are a great lure here to the many tourists. They are stocked with art objects of china, silver and gold, with paintings, books, tea sets, coffee sets, brooms, razors, handkerchiefs, shell and even clothing and household linen confiscated from the old aristocracy of former imperial Russia.

Even though 12 years have elapsed since the revolution, the squashed old regime, the government has immense stocks of beautiful things, including, to the reign of Catherine the Great.

Further seizures
These were augmented recently by further seizures of rugs and household articles for non-payment of the heavy taxes imposed upon the non-working classes.

In the days of the great famine of 1921, the government sought relief administration and other foreigners were frequently offered diamonds and rubies, pearls, necklaces and rugs, gold jewelry, watches and bejeweled snuff boxes for a few pounds of sugar or flour.

Prices now are high, but they are still well below the same articles would cost in other countries, provided one overleaks the one-third ad valorem export tax.

Soviet Seeks Profits
No Russian, of course, has the means to purchase these articles so the government looks to foreigners for the double income from sale and tax. The nation, in fact, expects to reap a harvest in foreign "sales." This year because more than 10,000 American alone are expected to visit here.

A visit to one of the shops is like walking over the pages of Russian history.

One sees a magnificent diamond service of pure gold that belonged to Empress Catherine, Russia's most extravagant sovereign. In the same exquisite Saxon, which formed a part of the household equipment of Czar Nicholas I, a few years ago, with which Emperor Alexander II defended himself; a diamond-studded scabbard, in front of which Alexander prayed; a gold and ivory crucifix with which the czar's magnificence has been performed some of his "miracles"; a toy electric train with which the little-empire Czar Nicholas used to amuse himself, and so on.

Wearing Apparel
Even the wearing apparel, including wedding dresses and shoes of Russia's empresses are on sale. Particularly fine are the collections of jeweled knit boxes, vanity cases and cigarette cases. These may be priced from $50 to $50,000.

To facilitate the sale of these articles the authorities have organized the commission-shops to collect the export duty from the purchasers at the time the sale is made. Certificate is then given the purchaser, which enables him to take the article out of the country without difficulty.

Since the destruction of the imperial regime, the government has realized hundreds of millions of dollars from the sale of the former aristocracy's property, including land, nobility and aristocracy.

A considerable part of this money has gone to the purchase of the machinery and other equipment intended to help convert Russia into a modern industrial nation under the five year industrialization plan.

Australian Natives Devour Fishermen

Cannibal Tribe Catches Two Japanese and Four Kanakas and "Holds Feast"

BRISBANE, Australia, Aug. 9.—The Japanese and four Kanakas—two of a fishing junk—were killed in the Gulf of Papua, New Guinea, by aborigines who ate their victims.

The looted junk has been found and a captive native has confessed the cannibalism.

While the junk was anchored in the Gulf six natives came aboard with yams, fish and wild fruit to trade with the crew.

Skipper Holds Gun
The Japanese skipper, knowing the blacks eat at the stern with a gun across his knees. The natives distributed themselves about the boat, one near a crowbar, another along-side a piece of timber, a third close to a coal shovel, and so on.

The leader then approached the captain and asked for a match. As the skipper reached for the match the black caught him by the feet and hurled him, gun and all, into the shark-infested water.

The natives for a concerted attack and the whole crew was butchered and the ship looted.

Excavators Uncover Deposit Of Relics In Long-Buried Port Of Ancient Rome

OSTIA ANTICA, Italy, Aug. 9.—The excavator's pick and spade are bringing to light new wonders in this long-buried port of ancient Rome. The finds have added to the interest of ruins which were second only to those of Pompeii.

Old Ostia, once a thriving port, was noted here from the sea by the gradual rising of the coast line until it was more than a mile from the water. The harbor and basin built by the Emperor Claudius and Trajan, turned into a swamp, bred malaria and the population fled to more salubrious abodes.

A new Ostia sprung up along the sea's most popular shore resort. Earth deposits covered the ancient city and it was forgotten for more than 1500 years.

The ruins are only 25 minutes drive from Rome and attract a constant stream of visitors who walk through the 800-year-old streets and try to visualize the life in ancient Italy.

The recent excavations have centered around the forum. This has now been freed of its covering of soil and exhibits its capitol and the temple of Rome and Augustus. The latter is embellished with recently found marble ornaments and statues and one of its twenty arches has been reconstructed.

Nearly an alabaster bath house, the fifth of its kind found in Ostia, gives a good impression of the wealth of the old port. It was divided into the frigidarium, or cold bath, and the caldarium, or hot bath. The latter was all in marble and had a heating system in which city pipes carried hot air around the walls while wide windows, facing south, allowed the sun's rays to penetrate and save the inmates a chance to acquire their equivalent of today's sun tan.

Old warehouses show wine and oil casks sunk into the ground. An open air gymnasium was surrounded with stables and dressing rooms and another warehouse, built according to its inscriptions, to the cloth, skin and spices business of two Oriental merchants, had a court yard with mosaic pavement, elaborate arcades and two entrance stairs.

MILLIONS OF RATS FORSAKE SCENE OF SOVIET UPRISINGS

Rodent Migration Explains Real Causes of Civil War in Siberian District—Starvation and Misery

By The Associated Press
HANKOIN, Aug. 9.—Millions of rats and other rodents are growing the Siberian borders and spreading destruction in Mongolia and Manchuria.

This migration explains better than anything else the real causes reported to have been even within the Siberian districts of Ussuri and Amur, and serves too as a warning of a terrible famine already forecast for the autumn.

Tracing south of the border river, the Arun, the invadent rats are moving toward the Manchurian city of Changhai. Their vanguards are reported to have been within 30 miles of Hailar, almost 200 miles from the Siberian border.

Few districts along the border have escaped the plague. Hundreds of acres of grain almost ready for the harvest, have been destroyed and several men and women severely bitten by the rodents, are reported to have died.

Few rats, fighting the invaders, have fired both and grass and even set fire to grain fields. Hails by the thousands have been destroyed, but still they come on.

At Hailar municipal authorities are preparing to fight the animals within poison gas. They are also planning to start some rapidly spreading epidemic among the rodents.

Drought and Most Plagues Mentioned In Bible Bring Suffering For Holy Land

Municipality of Jerusalem Finds Supply of Water Insufficient to Fill All Requirements of Residents

By ERNST DAVIS (Associated Press Correspondent)
JERUSALEM, Aug. 9.—The Holy Land has been visited this year by nearly all the plagues mentioned in the Bible.

First came the locusts, then the earthquake and field mice and now drought upon the country.

The Jerusalem Municipality can not supply sufficient water to fill all requirements. The daily water of gardens has been forbidden, water only being supplied twice weekly for this purpose. In this way the authorities hope to tide over until the next rainy season.

Inhabitants of old houses are better off than those who dwell in new premises, because the old buildings have cisterns to which rainwater is conducted by means of the gutter pipes. The average cistern holds enough water to last the whole of the dry season and the family furthermore saves the expensive city water rate which, for a five-room flat, amounts to about $4 monthly.

The poorer classes are dependent upon the public water taps in various parts of the Old City. When supplies run short, a policeman watches the queues to see that each gets only his share.

Water becomes an object of speculative interest in the dry season. Water carriers in the streets offer a gallon petroleum tin of water at 5 cents each.

BUDAPEST, Aug. 9.—The Budapest municipal council, which controls hospitals in this city, is considering a curb on the number of American students of medicine who assist at operations.

The students pay fees to gain places as assistants at the public clinics and Dr. Kiar points out that this permits them to present proof of practice to American schools which grant degrees with greater facility than European universities. He put this question:

"Is the council ready to end the abuse of people who, in good faith, undergo operations but are really experimented upon by American students of unknown medical skill if not, are the members of the council willing to submit their own bodies to the experimentation of such American students?"

BRAZIL'S JOBLESS MEN RETURN TO AGRICULTURE

SAO PAULO, Aug. 9.—The industrial depression which has struck this Latin American country since the equator may prove, in the view of far-sighted Brazilians, a stimulus for farm development in this Brazilian state.

Many and factors for work have been cutting down personnel and working days, so there is not a mill working more than four days a week and with reduced payroll at that.

With so many hundreds out of work the state is offering free transportation to all who will work the land. As a result hundreds are turning to the interior where food is available for all effort.

The state is also providing land, something like the homesteads in the United States during a past generation, for those who will stay in the country.

REPRESENTATIVE OF FARM BOARD FAVORS DEMAND EXPANSION

Speaker Here Tells Meeting of Bean Growers That Advertising Will Increase Sales Greatly

Whatever else you forget, always remember this: prices are controlled by demand and supply, and while the supply is relatively speaking fixed, the demand is growing and elastic and may be expanded by the proper methods. Money is being paid for poor service, in the Washington, representative of the federal farm board, for bean organization told 200 persons at a meeting held in the city park here last night. The meeting was presided over by C. R. DeWitt, manager of the Southern Idaho Bean Growers' association, under the auspices of which it was held.

Growers were urged in order to cooperate in marketing, in getting the attention of the consumers and in increasing the number of consumers. "Advertising the food value of creamy butter as compared with the food value of substitutes has resulted in consumers being willing to pay 20 cents a pound more for the best butter than for substitutes," he declared.

Clas Cases "California cases of lima beans by advertising the fact that alkaline ash in their product prevents acidity, which causes indigestion, have been able to sell their product 3 cents a pound more than they could sell it for had they not advertised. They spend 15 cents a sack to advertise and they figure that had they not done so, they would have received only $2.50 per 100 pounds last year instead of $1.50 per 100 pounds sack for their lima beans. "The California walnut growers trebled the demand for walnuts as the crop tumbled and the price remained uniform as a result. "The address last night was the last of the talks by Mr. DeWitt in different parts of the state. He is to leave for Denver where he will consult with bean organizations and will go from there to New Mexico.

ONE TIME TWIN FALLS MAN DIES IN ALABAMA

Word has been received here of the sudden death of James D. Wells, former Twin Falls resident, on July 25 at Farmer, Alabama, to which place he was called last February by the death of a brother. On his arrival in Farmer he fell ill and was needed on the home farm to take up the work his brother had laid down, so he determined to remain over this year.

Having resided in Idaho for 17 years, Mr. Wells was unable to stand his long stay in Alabama, which resulted in his sudden death. He is stated in a letter from Alabama by Mr. Conover from his sister, Miss Ruth Wells.

Mr. Wells owned 120 acres of land five miles south of Hansen. For the last five years he had been employed here by Mr. Conover, who refers to him as an "honest, industrious and dependable young man."

NATATORIUM RECEIVES ANCIENT INDIAN NAME

With a view of perpetuating a tradition the Hot Wells Development company has conferred the name "Nat Soo Pah" on its new natatorium, recently completed 10 miles south of Twin Falls.

According to the legend when the territory now known as Idaho, was the untamed empire of the Shoshone Indians these same hot wells were a place of worship and initiation for the many tribes of first Americans. It was believed that the Great Spirit had imbued the waters with magic medicinal qualities and every young and old, sick and well made pilgrimages to these waters to worship. Thus Soo Pah, meaning "the water which is directed" handed down from the Shoshones.

Vernon A. Mund, Twin Falls, suggested this name after having un-derlined the ancient legend.

An analysis of the water recently made in Boise further substantiated the valuable medicinal content of the water, it is said.
