R-100 SWINGS AT MOORING MAST IN CARDINGTON PORT

World's Largest Dirigible Completes Journey 57 Hours and 12 Minutes After Leaving Montreal

(By The Associated Press) CARDINGTON, England, Aug. 16.—The R-100, largest airship in the world, tonight swung in her home berth after successfully completing a 57-hour crossing of the Atlantic ocean from Canada.

The airship arrived over Cardington airport at 10:40 A. M. today and was safely moored in 20 minutes later. Eighteen days after the great craft left for E. Biers airport, Montreal, the outward crossing was made without incident except for a tear in one of the fins, 11 days in Canada the R-100 started for home and made excellent time until she reached the mid-Atlantic.

There she encountered heavy wind and rain which slowed the speed at one time to 10 miles an hour, but later the weather cleared and the airship, with a tail wind boosting her along, sped over the ocean at 22 miles an hour. The crossing was enough to spoil the hope of a record crossing but the time was considered good at that.

The dirigible left Montreal at 8:23 P. M. Wednesday night and completed the 3237-mile crossing in 57 hours 12 minutes of flying time, as shown by the log.

Great crowds witnessed the landing. After sending a consignment of fresh Canadian flowers to Queen Mary and box of Canadian peaches to the prince of Wales, the officers and men went to their homes to rest while the lessons of the flight were studied by Britain's air experts.

While the country was delighted at the successful trip of the airship, the flight had been a half-day of worry from reports from Australian newspapers. The British-Australian cricket test match soon was expected to be interrupted by the trouble of the British liner Tahiti in the South Pacific, the expectation of a major earthquake and the epidemic in Hyde park this afternoon to Amoy Island, still fever, helped to tone down the R-100's feat.

BANDIT'S LEDGERS WORRY CHICAGOANS

CHICAGO, Aug. 16 (AP)—The ledger of a slain gangster furnished police tonight a clue, something no living hoodlum ever gave.

It told of the rift of the liquor traffic, of a notorious gangster's names in a dog race enterprise, of loans and gifts and contained the names of judges, policemen, and politicians.

It started a procession of public men from South State street to explain their entries on the books of the Moran-Allejo gang.

At the criminal court building a judge called the ledger a "best copy of more than 300 pages from the ledger of Jack Zifra, the Moran manager who was shot dead by four men just two weeks ago in a flat-top automobile in a hall while he dropped nickels in a machine box.

First Evidence of Kind

Those pages, only a few of which have been examined and made public by the investigators, already have given the first documentary evidence ever obtained in Chicago's gang history of an affiliation, intimate or commercial, between the underworld and public officials.

Judge Joseph Schulman of the municipal court, a pile of checks totaling $3000 and evidence of notes aggregating $3000, hastened home from the court, a pile of checks for explanation of his dealings. Needing money to build a home several years ago, he said, he had obtained the required sum from Morris Greene, an attorney, in settlement.

BOURBON CHIEFTAIN EXPECTS PARTY TO GAIN 10 SENATORS

Campaign Committee Chairman Tydings Forecasts "Even Chance" For Democrats to Rule Upper House

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—An "even chance" for the Democrats to gain control of the senate in the November election was predicted today by Senator Tydings, Maryland, chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee.

In the first extensive review of the senatorial situation, Senator Tydings went over conditions in each state and estimated a certain gain of six Democratic members.

To get control of the senate the Democrats must win 10 seats now held by the Republican forces of 35. A gain of 10 members would make the lineup in the next senate, Republicans 46, Farmer Labor 1, Democrats 43.

There are 35 senate seats at stake. Thirteen are now held by Democrats and 11 of these are in the South where the party leaders insist the Democrats will win. Senator Tydings said 21 seats will be contested although the realist Senator Slack, Democrat, Iowa, has a struggle on his hands.

Opens Headquarters

Senator Tydings is opening headquarters here for the campaign with Edwin A. Hasey as campaign secretary.

In his review Tydings named Col. J. P. McInerney as campaign manager.

(By The Associated Press) PHOENIX, Aug. 16.—A disabled vessel with 300 men, women and children passengers and crew of the Union Line steamship Tahiti which became waterlogged and disabled in the South Pacific 600 miles southwest of Rarotonga, Cook islands, were anxiously awaiting Sunday the arrival of the Norwegian freighter Tynset, four vessels in all that generally vicinity thought to render assistance.

Reports received Saturday in San Francisco, direct from Paris by the Associated Press and by the Matson Navigation company from its steamer Ventura said all on board had been taken to lifeboats and abandoned the Tahiti.

A report from Wellington, New Zealand, at 5 A. M. Sunday, New Zealand time, said the crew of the disabled ship had countermanded the order to take to lifeboats and critical the Tahiti was to be "in place" before dark.

The Tahiti, one of the largest ships plying the Pacific left Wellington for San Francisco August 12 with 175 passengers and a crew of 112. It was due in San Francisco August 20.

Today a delegation said to include both workers and strikers appealed to the chief executive for aid.

At Westfield, a man was killed as he was eating lunch with his other children when lightning struck a tree in which they had taken refuge but no tobacco plantation.

PROBE SHOWS FUSE CAUSED PRISON FIRE

Official Investigation of Columbus Disaster Results in Finding Origin of Blaze

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 16 (AP)—Delay in the operation of a fuse caused 220 convicts to die in the Easter Monday fire at the Ohio penitentiary, a report released today by the state department of corrections said.

The list of candidates has been narrowed to four and that those will be selected at the meeting of the board of education in Pocatello August 21 and 22. The commissioner said a decision may be reached at that time.

Investigative youth that a group of convicts had planned to set fire to the cell block, but the fire was caused by a fuse in the main hall and out in the prison yard. The convicts planned a break for the cell block, but the fire was caused by a fuse in the main hall and out in the prison yard.

For an unknown reason, however, a paper or candle lit and timed to set fire to the cell block roof over blocks 1 and K at 4:30 P. M., failed to have effect until 5 P. M., investigators revealed. At that time the convicts were locked in their cell blocks for the night, and those in the upper tiers of C and E perched on fire guards could open the cell doors.

Questions Prisoners

The state department of corrections, which has been probing the prison fire since it broke here and at Mansfield and London since the fire, had two convicts sentenced to life in the state prison Thursday night for further examination. What information the prisoners expect ultimately to obtain was not revealed.

At least half a dozen prisoners were involved in the fire, plot of whom died in the flames, according to Ray S. Gill, state fire marshal. Clear road by a byway through the prison made postponement necessary.

$121,875,000 GOES FOR ROAD BUILDING IN DROUGHT REGION

Federal Government Moves Swiftly With Program to Relieve Sufferers Residing in Afflicted States

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—The federal government today allocated $121,875,000 in federal aid road money to the various states.

This was done to permit the states to buy the drought-stricken areas to know the amount of federal funds which will be paid to them after next July for highway construction. This will enable them to advance the money for emergency employment in anticipation of federal aid.

Secretary Hines, who announced the allocation, said the membership of the national organization to work in the drought-stricken areas, soon and that questionnaires had been sent to 30,000 crop reporters over the country to obtain data on the needs in stricken communities.

Even before the conference at the White House, the drought-stricken areas who came here in response to the call of President Hoover, urged that the federal government should immediately advance to provide emergency employment. President Hoover instructed the agriculture department to make any necessary action and that they followed.

States Match Funds

Ordinarily, the money would not have been allocated until January 1, 1931. The states will match dollar for dollar by state funds.

The appropriation included: Arizona, $1,753,923; California, $4,181,213; Colorado, $2,315,441; Connecticut, $1,000,000; Florida, $2,541,594; Kansas, $1,587,414; Montana, $2,330,105; Nebraska, $1,454,728; New York, $1,000,000; North Dakota, $1,244,233; South Dakota, $1,244,233; Utah, $1,244,233; Washington, $1,244,233; Wyoming, $1,244,233.

In addition to the government favors the formation of local credit corporations to operate through the drought-stricken areas, a statement by the agriculture secretary that a plan would not be made until the farmers but might prove profitable.

With President Hoover away at his camp, Secretary Hyde was virtually in charge of the drought-relief program.

Rain and rain in prospect in many dry states and reports to the department said, "It is probable that the drought-stricken areas will have been largely a succession of gloomy reports."

Agriculture department economists after a survey of 16 leading livestock markets said that in many instances the drought-stricken areas have been largely a succession of gloomy reports.

Receipts Decline

Receipts of cattle at public markets in the drought-stricken areas in July, 1929, and 17 per cent below the five-year average. Receipts of calves were 25 per cent below the five-year average and 25 per cent smaller than the five-year average.

Receipts of hogs in July were about 15 per cent below the five-year average and for the first seven months of the year federal inspected slaughter capacity was 15 per cent smaller than in the same period last year.

Sleep and lamb marketing thus far this year has been much larger than in the same period in recent years. Sheep production has expanded greatly, the department said.

In addition to details of the drought-stricken areas, the department said that the government of Montana said it must be notified of the state to be considered for aid.

Government Plans 3000 Miles Of Intracoastal Waterways

WORK ON LENGTHY CHAIN OF COASTAL CANALS ADVANCES

Land-Protected Water Route Soon Will Link Boston With Point Isabel On Rio Grande

ARMY ENGINEER CHIEF DIRECTS HUGE PROJECT

Proposed Channel Cuts Neck of New Jersey and Uses Raritan and Delaware Rivers

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—A 3000-mile federal intracoastal chain of salt water ways stretching along the major portion of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts from Boston to the Rio Grande is rapidly becoming a reality.

This lusty young grandchild of the sea, when full grown, is expected to present to the Atlantic seaboard and the Gulf states a service of cheap and dependable transportation.

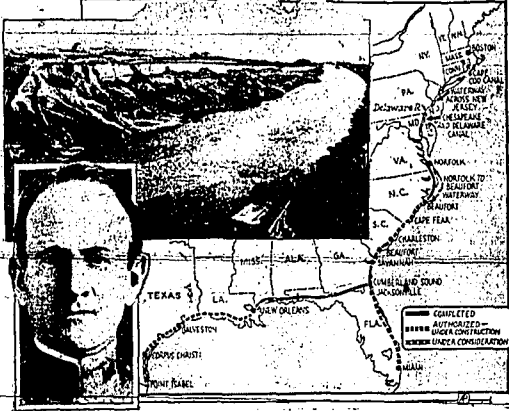

The northernmost link is the Cape Cod canal, extending across Cape Cod from Cape Cod bay to Buzzards bay.

From Buzzards bay a connection which requires no special improvement, the intracoastal project moves along the coast by way of Long Island sound to New York bay.

Cuts Neck of New Jersey

Thence the chain cuts the neck of New Jersey to follow the Raritan river and the privately owned Delaware and Raritan canals to the Delaware river.

An exhaustive study of the question of providing a federal waterway across the state of New Jersey is under way.

A system of land protected waterways (map) soon will link the Atlantic seaboard and Gulf coast. The work, directed by Major General Lytle Brown (inset), chief of army engineers, includes huge canals such as that from the Delaware river to Chesapeake bay (top, left).

The channel then traverses Delaware and Maryland to the head of Chesapeake bay. The Chesapeake and Delaware canals have been completed by the purchase and conversion of the old, privately owned canal. From the Chesapeake flows the Norfolk-Beaufort waterway, which has been substantially completed. It provides a channel with a depth of 12 feet for a distance of about 100 miles.

12-Foot Channel

A project for a 12-foot channel along the coast from Beaufort, North Carolina, to the Cape Fear River, near Wilmington, is approximately 20 per cent completed.

For the section from Cape Fear river, North Carolina, to Charleston, the secretary of war has transmitted to congress the recommendation of the chief of engineers for a waterway, 8 feet deep and 75 feet wide, from Charleston, by way of Beaufort, South Carolina, a channel has been completed to the St. Johns river, Florida. Work has been going on several months on the intracoastal waterway from Jacksonville to Miami.

Survey Underway

A survey of a waterway from Cumberland sound on the east coast of Georgia and Florida to the Mississippi river is in progress.

West of the Mississippi river, congress has authorized construction of an intracoastal waterway from the Mississippi at, or near, New Orleans, to Point Isabel on the Rio Grande by way of Corpus Christi, Texas. Preliminary examination of this link is now being made.

BEAUTIFICATION OF NATION'S HIGHWAYS CLAIMS ATTENTION

United States Hopes to Add Record of Supremacy in Beauty of Roads to Leadership in Good Roadways

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16—To its world leadership in good roads, the United States is seeking to add supremacy in beautiful roads.

Dressing up the highways is seen by Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the bureau of public roads, as the next step after establishment of smooth roadbeds and easy grades. State highway departments have chosen to organize their own programs of applying "make-up" to nature, but federal assistance is available for planning shade trees along routes of the federal-aid system.

Massachusetts Sets Pace

Massachusetts, rounding out the tenth year in its beautification work, is acknowledged as the pioneer. Native tree shrubs, and flowers are preserved for law shoulders and scattered landscapes.

Oregon, in developing the beauty of its highways has looked natural springs in mountains made of native materials for the convenience of travelers.

In North Carolina a program of beautification has been started, a survey of what is termed the "bill board rash."

Climate Signs

The first step in any campaign to beautify roadways must be to eliminate the advertising signs, not only on the right-of-way but also on the private property alongside," says Mr. MacDonald.

California has planted trees along 500 miles of highway. Oklahoma has planted 40 miles, and extensive pro-

MAN SHAKES HANDS OF 16 PRESIDENTS

Rev. Sam W. Small, Veteran Newspaperman, Still Contributes to Column Daily

ATLANTA, Aug. 16 (AP)—Sixteen presidents of the United States, from James Buchanan to Herbert Hoover, have shaken hands with the Rev. Sam W. Small.

In 1871 he achieved distinction as a photographer by taking down in shorthand every word spoken at the Georgia constitutional convention and transcribing his notes the next day—a feat never before or since accomplished by one man.

Small served in the Confederate army, and with the United States army in the Spanish-American war. He was private secretary to Andrew Johnson when the President became United States senator after leaving the White House.

A veteran of two wars and a newspaperman for more than half a century, Dr. Small recently brought his record up to date by meeting President Hoover.

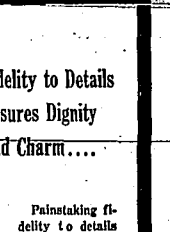

His taught stenography to one president, Woodrow Wilson, attended the inaugurations of both Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis, served as Andrew Johnson's secretary, and sat in the senate press gallery for 32 years.

Still he is apt enough to write a newspaper column every day. "Hoover told me he was pleased to take the hand that has had that experience," Dr. Small said.

FOX FARMER LIVING NEAR BURLEY SHOWS PELT OF SILVER FUR

BURLEY, Aug. 16 (Special to The News).—Frank Paroe, noted fox farmer from Frenchman's landing in the middle of the Snake river east of Burley, was in Burley Friday afternoon. Aside from transacting business and securing a supply of groceries, Paroe was exhibiting to friends an exquisite fur from which he had personally pelted from one of his precious animals. It was about a three-quarter silver fox and valued by Paroe at about $200.

Paroe entered the fur business in November 1923. He started with 10 pair and now has 40 females, 32 cubs and 147 pups. Last fall he pelted 54 and the year before 11. While he had shipped to New York and sold at auction. Failing to get a valuation on each fur, Paroe's proceeds from the sales were not as high as they otherwise would have been, however, the least any single fur brought was $50, and the others ranged up to $160, the highest individual purchase price. The price depends upon the quality of the fur in each case. Aside from those owned by himself, Paroe has charged 14 pairs of foxes belonging to others. These he takes care of at stipulated rates of compensation.

From 1 to 12 pelting and fur-houses and from 1 to 30 pens has been the extent of growth of Paroe's venture in the fox farming industry. In order to get to his farm, visitors must ferry across the north channel of the river, a ferry boat being maintained by Paroe for this purpose. Visitors are permitted and welcomed on Wednesdays, says the genial Frenchman.

"OUR BLUSHING BRIDE" PLAYS AT IDAHO NOW

Joan Crawford temporarily forgoes the light and frivolous musical comedy to portray one of the finest dramatic characterizations of her career in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Our Blushing Brides" coming to the Idaho theatre this afternoon for a run of three days only.

In "Our Blushing Brides," Miss Crawford is cast as a beautiful model in a large New York department store. Robert Montgomery, son of the owner, is obviously fond of Joan, but remains aloof and demure, although she likes Montgomery, realizing that she is just a working girl; that Montgomery would never think of marrying her.

But Joan's tap-room-mate, played by Anita Page and Dorothy Sebastian, are fed up with their commonplace lives. They yearn to have the good times of her money, renounce, each Joan tries to point out their folly but Anita and Dorothy refuse to listen. Instead, Anita finally is loved by Montgomery's brother, played by Raymond Hackett. Hackett sets up Anita in a beautiful Fifth avenue apartment. And Dorothy, out on a wild party, marries a wealthy man—the leading knock.

Meanwhile, Montgomery elves a fashionable fashion show at his beautiful home. The show, during the featured model, is there. After the show, Montgomery takes Joan to his studio "high noon" and makes a student love to her, Joan, realizing that Montgomery is only spiking with her, realizes his activities. County Central Committee Completes Organization For Coming Two Years

With 14 out of Twin Falls county's 27 voting precincts represented by newly elected precinct committees, a biennial organization meeting of the Republican county central committee Saturday afternoon at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. A. Gill.

Mr. Parry did not attend yesterday's meeting of the committee, being out of the city in attendance at the Oregon American Legion department convention, and a subsequent meeting of the committee is to be held soon after his return, it was announced.

The committee approved arrangements for holding the Republican county convention in the Parhall hall, Twin Falls, next Tuesday at 2 P. M.

No expression was recorded by the committee relative to any candidates for office.

Discussing the fact that Idaho election laws make no provision for payment for services of judges and clerks at primary elections, one member of the committee suggested that the party organization in this county should create a fund to meet this expense and so relieve precinct committees who have been obliged to enlist volunteers as primary election board members.

Another committee member suggested conference with members of the county's legislative delegation with view to altering the law in this respect at the coming legislative session.

Gem State Game Department Plant 12,000,000 Young Trout

Drouth Handicaps Planting of Fish in Idaho Streams

Supply of Trout Comes From Twin Falls, Hayspur, Ashton, Coeur d'Alene, Sandpoint and Grangeville

(By The Associated Press) BOISE, Aug. 16.—Peak of the planting season is on in the state fish industry.

Young trout are being hauled from the rearing ponds of the state game department as fast as the trucks can take them to safe places to plant.

Turner K. Sparkman, state commissioner, said today: "The specially designed fish delivery trucks are working night and day in the north and one in the south, moving the trout into streams where there is no danger of drouth overtaking them."

Drouth has been a serious problem in planting the trout this year. Sparkman said, however, that the safe heretofore are now dry or drying. This complicates the problem of planting.

The state had nearly 12,000,000 fish to plant this year compared with about 8,000,000 last year. About half million were lost in a cloudburst which destroyed the Breckenridge hatchery on a tributary of the Weiser river, where the big trout are crowded at the water lowers in Magic reeve.

Big loads are being moved from Boise and being planted at Twin Falls, Hayspur and Ashton in Twin Idaho, and from Coeur d'Alene, Sandpoint and Grangeville in Idaho.

Moody may have his draw-hatch but it drouth has made the fishing in the state much better. The eastern Idaho say the fish are snapping at everything offered. Overcatches are being made on the river, where the big trout are crowding at the water lowers in Magic reeve.

From Henry's lake, on the Upper Snake river, hauls of fighting cross-breds are being made daily while other fish centers are being reached by the Snake also report excellent fishing.

Washington returning from North Idaho declare fishing there, particularly on the lake, is best in years.

Came next Wednesday and the eastern river of counties will get their whack at the same time.

Game Season Open
The season opens on the third of August and continues on the evening of September 1. The season on sharp-shin, ruffed and blue grouse opens in the eastern counties on August 24, closing with the sage hen season.

In North Idaho the season is yet later, the central tier of counties getting an open season on grouse September 10, while the eastern tier of northern counties the open season is October 1 to 31.

West and southwest counties started their hunting on August 10 and will end it on August 20. In the case of Hancock county, the season was extended to the five days of August 20 to 24, inclusive.

ADVICE PROVES GOOD

JACKSON, Texas, Aug. 16 (AP)—Identification of Charles W. Walker, a man who was arrested in Idaho last night while threatening officers with an axe, as a former Texas man made possible as a result of advice given him several years ago by Mrs. Ida Huchaby, Jackson.

"Always carry letters with you showing where you are from, Charles W. Walker," Mrs. Huchaby had advised him several years ago, as he was about to set out on one of his frequent trips to the Idaho mountains to visit his father, who resided just before he died to killing two men in Texas.

The Huchabys, however, contacted just before Mrs. Huchaby said she thought the "ward" was wrong and advised her to tell her son to take the letters with him. Mrs. Huchaby, telling her at one time of killing two men in Oklahoma in self-defense for which he was never indicted.

Warden was a member of a family prominent here several years ago.

The family became separated and Warden traveled over a great part of the country, crossing the border only at long intervals. According to Mrs. Huchaby his last visit was about four years ago.

"At that time, I believed he was 'losing his mind,'" Mrs. Huchaby said today. "The best thing I could do in Idaho was to have him arrested and he was confined in the state asylum because it was obvious his mind was weakening when he was here last."

Yes, Charles, run-up to Johnny Lehman in the Western States Tournament, lost 18 pounds due to hot weather during the play. He was around the Chicago course.

Betty Nuthall Seems Favorite To Win Title

19-Year-Old Star Of England Looms As Next Champion

Withdrawal of Helen Willis Moody and Helen Jacobson Leaves English Player As Probable Tennis Queen

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—It will be Betty Nuthall of England, a girl net, the field in the national women's tennis championships at Forest Hills beginning August 18.

With both of America's former champions—Mrs. Moody and Miss Jacobs—out of this forty-eight annual tournament, there appears a strong likelihood that the title may be taken out of the country for the first time since the event was founded back in 1924.

The 19-year-old English star, regarded only as an extreme outside chance when it appears certain that Mrs. Moody would defend her crown, now a formidable contender, because the former Helen has decided to stay in the West. Miss Jacobs, the only other American who figured to beat Moody, was eliminated several weeks ago by persistent illness.

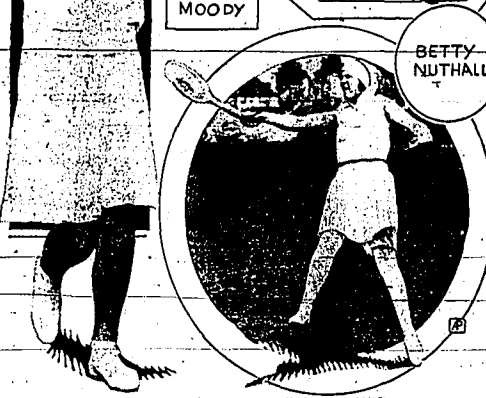

Nothing Stars Missing
This is the first and second ranking players of the country are out of the running.

The task of keeping the championship at home hereafter—upon such far westers as Edith Cross, Mrs. Anna Harper, Edith Burkard, Eastern Idaho say the fish are snapping at everything offered. Overcatches are being made on the river, where the big trout are crowding at the water lowers in Magic reeve.

Yet, a victory for Betty Nuthall is not a foregone conclusion. The English player, however, is a "bounding Betty" without all the past history of Helen Willis Moody, the popular English player.

HELEN WILLIS MOODY

BETTY NUTHALL

Helen Willis Moody will not defend her American title this year, leaving Betty Nuthall of England favorite in the tournament for the championship, beginning August 18 at Forest Hills, New York.

fish girl is believed to be even better than last year, which the former Queen Helen to two 8-6 sets in the Wimbledon cup series at Forest Hills.

There has been no opportunity to get an exact line on the present form, however, as "bounding Betty" withdrew at the last moment from the Eastern Turf Court championships at New York in favor of a week of leisurely practice on the courts at Forest Hills. In her only other attempt to win the American title, in 1927, she lost to Queen Helen in the final.

Mrs. Mallory, as well as Mrs. Moody and Miss Jacobs, is missing from this year's entry list and the presence of Miss Nuthall is all that has kept the bottom from dropping out of the event as far as the prospects are concerned.

Three years ago, the biological report reported there were only two wolves in Idaho. Within a month of this was killed, a female, which the biologists had been told would be the last of the breed.

But the report stated there were 17 wolves. Of course they had been from British Columbia or Montana or possibly even escaped the earlier extermination. Yes, in the several months since this report was issued, July calves called for bounty on 109 cougars, 9 wild cats and 12 cougars.

Since night tents has proved extremely popular at Oklahoma City, nearly all city park courts are to be illuminated.

(By Edward J. New) NEW YORK, Aug. 16.—Out of a fog as thick as those that traditionally cloak his native British isles, doughty Sir Thomas Lipton sailed into New York harbor today on his fifth quest of the America's cup, historic emblem of international yacht supremacy.

The 61-year-old Englishman, six feet tall, with a pair of thick, curly hair that do his chin, yachting cap perched jauntily on his grey hair, his cheery face wrinkled in a friendly grin, stepped briskly from the liner Leviathan to the waiting boat of the American Yacht Club, which had been waiting for him at the pier.

He was met by a group of men, including the American Yacht Club's commodore, who led him to the clubhouse. Lipton, who has been in America for several weeks, is expected to stay here for some time before his departure for the race.

Purdue Gets Texas High School Stars

(By The Associated Press) DALLAS, Aug. 15 (AP)—Texas prep athletes seem to have a liking for Purdue university.

Four years ago "Pete" Walter, an Ebb Caraway went to the "Baller" school after starting in athletic at the Sherman, Texas, high school. They became outstanding Big Ten conference athletes in football, basketball and baseball.

Now Julius Jucker, all-state fullback with a reputation as high as Walter's, has decided to enter Purdue, despite the fact several southwestern conference schools have been anxious to enroll him.

$121,875,000 GOES FOR ROAD BUILDING IN DROUGHT REGION

SEEKS DRAWBACK
HELENA, Mont., Aug. 16 (AP)—All that prevents Montana from doubling the extent of its road program is a lack of funds to match federal aid money, R. D. Rader, chief highway engineer, said here today.

If this state is to profit by the additional money made available by the government, the next legislature, Rader explained, must devise a plan that will enable the state to match federal funds.

Over 1000 men are now employed by highway contractors, said Rader. "Our engineering problem is far more advanced at this time in justifying the mileage under way."

Revenues from the 2-cent gasoline tax and federal oil royalties are the only income for the road building program.

Al Simmons Follows 1 Point Behind Yankee First Baseman With Mark of .383 in Week's Hitting Averages

(By The Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Aug. 16—Lou Gehrig and Al Simmons marched in lockstep in the American league batting parade last week, with the result that the Yankee first baseman retained his 1-point lead over the Athletics' slugger, according to unofficial averages which include Wednesday's games.

Gehrig scored 2 points to bring his mark to .381, and Simmons checked in with a like gain for .380 to leave the former at the top for the third consecutive week. While Gehrig was unable to attack Simmons, no one cut in on his other three leadships. He had propelled in 128 runs, had hit safely 166 times, and his total bases amounted to 222.

Walking Contest Attracts Crowds In San Francisco

Newland Finds "Walkathon" Most Unique Type of Endurance Test Yet Found Among Hundreds Started

By RUSSELL J. NEVILAND (Associated Press Staff Writer) SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Since Charley (Cash and Carry) Pyle ran off his first transcendental foot race three years ago, endurance contests of kind have been sprouting up. We have tree sitting, flag pole sitting, dance marathons, reading and talking contests, and possibly a couple hundred other endurance efforts whose identification escape the memory of the moment.

This department, acting as a self-appointed commission, unflinchingly awards the "walkathon" to the person who is a little more than a month ago, in a class by itself.

It seems that 20 or 30 couples (men and women) started walking in a dancelike here more than a month ago. Rules of the contest permit them to square off like dancers or continue arms about each other's waists or merely hold hands—as long as they keep walking.

Walk Day and Night. Every hour they are allowed minutes rest, for sleeping or eating. This writer was duly unimpressed during the first month but was with all his friends dropping into the place at all hours of the night and thereafter raving about the thing, he saw it the conqueror. You can peg me for a "golfer" if it isn't on the up and up—and earnestly recommended.

In these meager 10 minutes they sleep on one another's shoulders. The one who stays awake holds the other and vice versa. They eat standing up to a lunch counter that is shoved onto the floor at designated times. For entertainment of all kinds from vaudeville to near-strand opera is provided for spectators and contestants.

As is usually the case in anything that goes to bear out Barnum's contention, my old friend, Mike Fisher is in on the business. Mike helped organize the Pacific Coast League in 1903 and for owning the Sacramento and Tacoma clubs but he says this is the best thing he has done since he is a cashier. He owns the hall where these "perpetual plodders" are performed.

All Mike does is stand around and look wise and collect handsome dividends in the way of rent checks. "That," said Mike with a wave of his hand toward the enclosure where the five remaining couples were wandering aimlessly about, "is my idea of two degrees less than nothing. Can you imagine what a racket that lot of $1000 winning couple's prize? Wouldn't do it for a gunnysack full of 10-dollar bills. But they can rent my hall as long as they want."

Earl Sande Loses Race to 100-to-1 Shot in New York

Famous American Falls, Idaho, Jockey, and Flashy Gallant Fox, Meet First Defeat in Recent Classics

By ORLO ROBERTSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 16.—In the most sensational upset the turf has witnessed since the days of Man o' War, Earl Sande, a 100-to-1 shot, galloped through the mud to administer a sound beating to the twin contenders for three-year-old championship honors, the previously undefeated Gallant Fox, ridden by Earl Sande, American Falls, Idaho, winner of six consecutive races, and the almost equally famous Whirlone.

While a crowd of 40,000 spectators, including Governor Roosevelt, stood stunned by the astounding spectacle, the California-bred three-year-old smartly ridden by Jockey F. Baker, whipped the Fox and Earl Sande by six good lengths and Whirlone and Sonny Workman by 12 lengths in the Traversers stake.

The weather may have had something to do with it, but the decisiveness of Jim Dandy's first score by the colt this year, left room for argument among those who watched the downfall of the two favorites, expected to have matters all their own way and settle the three-year-old supremacy.

Gallant Fox was the heavily played favorite at 1 to 2. Whirlone was second choice at 9 to 5. The race probably saw the last appearance of Whirlone, 1929 juvenile champion. The son of Chiclo pulled up very lame after setting the pace for the first half mile of the race. The colt's injury appeared to be a recurrence of the hooft trouble which had kept him out of the previous year's season.

Sande rated the Fox along at the first moment, taking command of the race at the half-way mark, finished galloping in slow time of 2 minutes 3 seconds for the route of one mile and a quarter. The victory was worth $77,500 to the winner. The 4-year-old Fox placed second among all-time winners of the American turf and had been expected to add this sum to the coffers of William E. Woodard, his owner, and move up to within about $100,000 of the record of $1,100,000 held by Zer.

The Fox-Sande combination was favored in the lead, except for a few strides, and had nothing to offer when Jim Dandy moved out at the finish. Whirlone set the early pace but

Governor Names Board to Decide Big Game's Fate

BOISE, Aug. 16 (AP)—Governor H. C. Burdette today selected two members of the board which will determine the fate of the Big Game preserve shortly to be opened to sport hunters in an open season to prevent overkill.

The third member of the board will be named soon as recommended by the Board of Game and Fish. The board's association have been received. Those named are R. E. Thomas, state game warden, and S. E. Justice, forest ranger in charge of the Postleigo district of the Cache National forest.

By a law passed by the 1929 legislature the governor was authorized to arrange for opening overkill game preserves to hunters. Warden Thomas estimated upwards of 200 elk would have to be taken from the preserve.

Portland defeated Postello, 17 to 9, in their baseball game late today, earning the right to meet Los Angeles in the final tomorrow. Los Angeles previously had won from Portland, 10 to 5.

Pocatello and Denver will play for third place tomorrow morning at 10. H. Graham, the Tulsa, Okla., won the horsehoop pitching contest with 350 points, winning seven games.

Los Angeles Railway Team Piles Up Total of 43 Points to Lead at Meet

OGDEN, Aug. 16 (AP)—Los Angeles club gained an impressive lead in the opening day's events of the Oregon Pacific system athletic meet here today.

The 4-year-old Fox placed second among all-time winners of the American turf and had been expected to add this sum to the coffers of William E. Woodard, his owner, and move up to within about $100,000 of the record of $1,100,000 held by Zer.

The Fox-Sande combination was favored in the lead, except for a few strides, and had nothing to offer when Jim Dandy moved out at the finish. Whirlone set the early pace but

Baseball Proves Popular in Cuba

HAVANA, Aug. 16 (AP)—Baseball nearly has supplanted sports formerly looked upon as typically Cuban. The rise of Adolfo Luque, star Brooklyn hurler, has done more than anything else to impart the youth of Cuba to team baseball.

Almost equally important to Cuban fans are Miguel Angel Gonzalez, backstop for Minneapolis, and Jose Olivera of Louisville in the American Association.

AN EIGHT that far outstrips PRICE COMPETITION

BEYOND all question, a good eight-cylinder motor has certain advantages over a good motor of fewer cylinders. The De Soto Straight Eight was designed for motorists who prefer eight-cylinder performance to any other kind, but who refuse to pay the prices heretofore asked for good eights. It stands comparison with any of them in flexibility, smoothness and agility of performance. It is appealingly smart in appearance; staunch in construction; rich in ride; in the way it handles in the way it responds. Chrysler engineering genius and Chrysler manufacturing efficiency have made it the lowest priced eight ever built to such fine quality standards.

FINE FABRICS FIND FAVOR FOR FALL'S FASHION FOLLOWING

Dressmakers of Paris Succumb to Quiet Elegance of Lustrous Cloth in Both Silks and Wools

PARIS, Aug. 16.—It's going to be a dull winter, in the clothes sense of the word.

The dressmakers have succumbed in droves to the quiet elegance of lustrous fabrics, both silk and wool.

Only the evening gowns will shine — but their only here and there will be a silk satin or crepe satin ensemble with a background of crepe de chine, velvet and other luxurious materials.

Wintery coats are much the smartest in rough surfaced, dull finished wool. Crepe surfaces, divergent finish and fancy mesh materials of solid color are important elements of the winter costume.

Black, dark blue, rich brown and dark green are leading colors for day dresses, suits and frocks.

There are ensembles, particularly for morning or sport which combine several materials in one costume. Occasionally two shades are employed as well as different materials.

In general the ensemble idea still dominates day and evening costume.

MATRON MANAGES FEDERAL TRAFFIC

Mrs. Miriam Berryhill Directs Routing for Freight and Passenger Commerce

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—A young, clinging jade green afternoon tea gown worn by Mrs. John W. Garrett, wife of the American ambassador to Italy, is pictured from head to foot.

With it Mrs. Garrett wears black satin slippers with green bows.

PARIS, Aug. 16.—Suits jacket should be the same length as sleeves on classic tailored models, says one leading authority here.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—A young woman in a flowered chiffon dress sits in her Washington office directing routine for freight and passenger travel amounting to billions a year.

She is Mrs. Miriam Berryhill, traffic manager for the department of her forefathers and planning freight trains since remote from her coal fields and putting freight trains across the country.

It recalls a bit of advice given by Madame X, a woman who remains even in advanced years, a sparkling and delightful talker. At least that is her reputation, but in reality she is the wise and ready listener.

"I don't recall a more vivid story of a more amazing thing that happened to me."

"I'd give the talker a chance to develop his tale. Ask him leading questions, encourage him with suitable responses. Then, if it is a worthwhile story it will increase in interest and inspire others to join in at all around vital question."

"If you simply cap his story with a question, you have succeeded in leading him to the point where he has become a willing slave of your versatility."

"I've Own 'Big Story'"

"And then—here's a secret—if you must doze in your own 'big story' demand that someone tell it right at the start. In that way you dominate the usual flatulent chatter of conversation the climax and induce a general animated discussion."

Madame X and Big Bill have both discovered that to be considered a really good conversationalist, one must let others do most of the talking. This explains no doubt why Big Bill is a favored dinner partner and the simple home of Mrs. Devlin is a veritable salon where instead of the chatter of unimpaired acquaintances good talk re-occurs and results quietude ensue.

The Latchstring

Peace within and joy beyond all doubt: Welcome always, for the Latchstring's out.

Don't Top Another's Story
Yea, man as well as women, pull the Latchstring and name it to discuss all kinds of subjects, even as you see, the manner of discussion itself.

"The found," confessed Big Bill, "that in this indoor sport of conversation it just couldn't to top another person's story."

Big Bill is in college and quite sure of himself in many ways. He more convinced of certain things than he ever will be again, and yet, happily, he has no doubts as to his own story. "I might be wise to add, 'Don't even equal it,' if you want to be considered the perfect conversationalist."

Give the Talker a Chance
It recalls a bit of advice given by Madame X, a woman who remains even in advanced years, a sparkling and delightful talker. At least that is her reputation, but in reality she is the wise and ready listener.

"I don't recall a more vivid story of a more amazing thing that happened to me."

"I'd give the talker a chance to develop his tale. Ask him leading questions, encourage him with suitable responses. Then, if it is a worthwhile story it will increase in interest and inspire others to join in at all around vital question."

"If you simply cap his story with a question, you have succeeded in leading him to the point where he has become a willing slave of your versatility."

"I've Own 'Big Story'"

"And then—here's a secret—if you must doze in your own 'big story' demand that someone tell it right at the start. In that way you dominate the usual flatulent chatter of conversation the climax and induce a general animated discussion."

Madame X and Big Bill have both discovered that to be considered a really good conversationalist, one must let others do most of the talking. This explains no doubt why Big Bill is a favored dinner partner and the simple home of Mrs. Devlin is a veritable salon where instead of the chatter of unimpaired acquaintances good talk re-occurs and results quietude ensue.

Colonial Pieces Feature In Bedroom

By ELSIE DREW KENNEDY
Decorative Review Department
Written for The Twin Falls News
To many people early American furniture represents the apex of their desire for smart pieces for the home.

One of the chief charms of colonial furniture is its simplicity and directness of design. It is the complete harmony with modern decorative ideas. And may have a compact construction that is perfect even in the present-day small apartment.

Often a similar rare or even a clever reproduction of a lovely old design is enough to suggest the scheme of decoration for an entire room.

In the appealing guest room illustrated here an early four-poster bed is the center of attraction. Its beautifully turned posts and its graceful headboard are of maple that has been painted in the shade of gray amber.

Homespun spread
It is covered appropriately enough, with a homespun spread in very pale chartreuse, bordered with dark brown chintz with flowers in chartreuse and rose design.

This attractive combination of chartreuse and brown in soft woody shades is carried throughout the room with touches of rose here and there. The walls are lined in light blue, and may have a color rug woven in two shades of brown with the darker shade predominating in its narrow border.

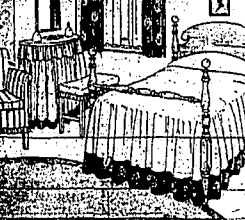

The windows are hung with simple cream colored curtain material with dimples and a furry valance of dark brown chintz, printed in chartreuse and rose to match that used on the bedspread.

From the indispensable 111-111 dressing table has a frivolous chair.

Simplicity adds appeal to this guest room
In two shades of brown glazed chintz. Its semi-circular top is painted pale chartreuse and supports two extremely decorative and practical bottles and a tray of alabaster, harmonized in rose.

The matching bench has chartreuse legs and a brown chintz cover. It is united with an amusing rug. The oblong mirror with its narrow frame is in harmony with the simplicity of the furnishings.

The quaint alabaster on the bed provides the finishing touch in this group which as a whole is a paradox in simple, almost quaint lines combined with sophisticated, modern color contrasts.

Observers Predict Solving Of Agriculture And Labor Problems Hindering Mexico

Country's Leaders Move to Give Stability to Land Titles and Help Workers by Giving Concessions

By JOHN LLOYD (Associated Press Correspondent) MEXICO CITY, Aug. 16—Country's leaders here forecast an early solution of the agricultural and labor problems which have hindered Mexico's path to permanent stability.

These problems are the agrarian and the labor questions, both born of the revolutionary movement which followed the downfall of the Porfirio Diaz regime almost two decades ago.

There already is a noticeable tendency to give guarantees to large as well as small landowners that their land titles will remain intact.

Disbarbing Factor The government cannot, however, so back on its pledge to give land to the peasantry, a disturbing factor in the title question.

Another of the government's pledges obliged it to give industrial workers certain concessions.

The effect on the country's prosperity was apparent and slowly the pendulum has started swinging.

There is a renewed interest in industrial developments.

GOLD'S LURE RUNS FRENCH POSSESSION

Farmers and Wood Cutters Drop Plows and Axes in Quest For Yellow Metal

CAUVENNE, French Guiana, Aug. 16 (AP)—Gold has almost ruined this country.

The French government recognizes this to be the case and a moderate change in government and economic policy is being made to prevent virtual abandonment.

It isn't that there is too much gold but too much gold-seeking. When the yellow metal was first discovered in 1853, the farmers and the woodmen dropped their plows and their axes and took to the mountains to have their children and their children's children.

Gold Spike Ceremony Celebrates Completion of New $3,500,000 Railway Link

BOGOTA, Aug. 16 (AP)—Colombia, which has announced by airplane the difficulties of passenger transportation over three ranges of gold mountains, is celebrating the completion of another transportation link.

A gold spike has just been driven in the new mountain-railroad, connecting the Magdalena river—Nasipallo of the country—with the railroad to Bogota.

Fifty miles of treacherous, cliff-guarded right-of-way has been completed by the engineering battle which lasted three years.

The line cost $3,500,000, but it will cut the expense of freight transportation by 50 per cent.

Veiled Sahara Men Help Celebrate French Centennial In North Africa

Men of the Touareg tribe, living on the Hoggar plateau far down in the Sahara desert, veil themselves but the women bare their faces. The Amenokal, or king, of the tribe is the central figure in the group at the top. At the left is a noble in war regalia and in the circle is a woman of the nobility.

ALGERIA, North Africa, Aug. 16 (AP)—Of all the tribesmen who came to Algeria this summer to help celebrate 100 years of French rule in this section of the world, none so attracted more attention than the veiled men of the Touaregs from Hoggar, in the southern Sahara.

Back of Hoggar the unveiled women awaited their return and the unmarried maidens laid plans for capturing the bearded men among the camel riders who had seen the wonders of this French colonial capital.

At the age of 20 a Touareg girl generally decides to marry. She picks the young man herself, invites him to call on her at an evening and read love poems to her.

There are almost no rules of conduct restricting courtship but if the marriage prove not to the young woman's liking, she promptly divorces the man and seeks another husband.

OAKLAND-PONTIAC PRICES REDUCED up to $170

We have just been advised by the Oakland Motor Car Company that effective August 11th, prices on all current model Pontiac (Big Sixes and Oakland Eights have been reduced . . . with reductions up to $170.

Pontiac Big Six—now $665

Oakland Eight—now $895 and America's lowest-priced Eight

These reductions are made because in the winter the factory will present two new cars which, while changed enough to classify as new models, will remain practically unchanged in appearance, size and design.

The two new cars will have the same type engines used in the cars now offered.

These new prices give you an opportunity to own a big car at small car cost and at a great saving.

Don't miss this opportunity. At their new low prices these cars are the greatest "buys" in the automobile field today.

"I don't know nothing about her," Mrs. Maloney retorted sharply.

In Hot Pursuit His well-cut clothes and conventional manners confirmed her worst fears.

"She said she was going home and she packed her clothes and left," Mrs. Maloney was positive of her facts.

"She's a pretty thing, too. This girl, she's a something," Mrs. Maloney said.

"If the rainy day was unlucky for Jane also, it was lucky for me," she said.

"Each day she awoke thinking: 'Maybe today he will come back...'"

"I know nothing about her," Mrs. Maloney retorted sharply.

"There might be some partition," Mrs. Maloney said.

"Somewhere in the world there must be somebody," she said.

"Looking back, the next few days were a whirlwind of joy hunting, flying lessons, hunger and worry."

"I wish I were a man," Jane sighed.

"Finally an efficient secretary came from the inner office."

"I know nothing about her," Mrs. Maloney retorted sharply.

A Thumb Nail Sketch of New York City

Without warning the Pennsylvania Limited on the Jersey side plunges into a tunnel - The electric lights illuminate the train - A subterranean roar fills the train - Down we go under the great Hudson River - What is above us? Great ocean liners, immense ferryboats, innumerable crafts of all kinds, perhaps a war vessel, sudden flashes of daylight, we stop underground in the heart of New York City - Red caps rush up, take our baggage, through a tunnel three blocks long, put the baggage in a large elevator, pocket their tips, up we go, step out into the lobby of the Pennsylvania Hotel.

The dull but heavy roar of the traffic of a city of seven million souls - Forty thousand taxi-cabs - Thousands of immense trucks, thousands of one and two deck busses, thousands of private autos, rush, hurry, bustle, speed, speed and more speed - Zeppelins and aeroplanes in the air, elevated railroads with twenty car trains roaring overhead, surface cars clanging by, subway trains in the bowels of the earth, transporting millions every day - Rush and hurry - Riding 26 miles at express speed if you care to for 5c, only step in and off quickly.

Air filled with humans, in buildings twenty, thirty, forty, fifty, sixty, seventy stories high. When completed the Empire States building will be 85 stories and house twenty thousand tenants - Systematic rush and speed everywhere. One way streets filled curb to curb with solid phalanxes of moving vehicles, all suddenly stop on signal, problem how to expedite traffic, new blue and green signals on each corner, shorter intervals, traffic moves faster, must save time.

We enter garment center district, hundreds of modern buildings, grouped for the sale of Women's Wear, twenty to thirty stories high; streets between veritable canyons - sidewalks filled to limits with two streams of rushing humanity. Keep to the right, half the pedestrians going up town, half down. Keep the pace, do not delay. Buyers from every state in the Union and also foreign countries, intent on purchasing New Garments that will please the folks back home. The five buyers of the Idaho Department Store separate. Some are in the garment center, some way down town in the cotton and wool factory and mill representative district, some in the hosiery district, fancy goods and novelty section. Every line grouped and in districts. It takes years to know New York. Our buyers know it. You'll think they do when you see our New Fall Merchandise.

Only a glimpse of New York - it takes volumes to tell it all - greatest in the world - Macy's greatest store in the world - Macy's have a "Make It Right" policy of the highest order. So has the Idaho Department Store - Wish all the Twin Falls people could shop in New York City. You would be surprised how we match the big city prices - Broadway and 5th Avenue styles - We give them to you in Twin Falls - They do things rapidly in New York - The Idaho Department Store does the same in Twin Falls. Thanks for your attention.
