TWO SELF-STYLED CHICAGO OUTLAWS ENTER RENO JAIL

RENO, Nev., Sept. 11 (P.T.—The "rebel" in Reno is not so good at least temporarily, two Chicago outlaws have been captured.

Their big mistake was in taking gangland tactics to the wrong man.

Chief of Police J. M. Murray, who has been a good man, has turned them over to him and said, "The Devil in Reno? We're from Chicago."

"Just fine," replies the chief.

The two, one of whom was carrying a gun, were soon arrested and held for investigation. They gave up their names as Harry Goldwater, 26, and Charles Evans, 23. Both men were carrying large bank rolls.

Their new career is the latest in a series of baldness, artifice and lead, said to be absorbed in their work. In "our present-day environment, there is no room for the likes of us," they declared.

They gave up their names as Harry Goldwater, 26, and Charles Evans, 23. Both men were carrying large bank rolls.

He was asked if he would speak at the "smootie" conference, the part of the kind—when Eastern speakers were called in and representatives of all

CRATERS PAGEANT SCORES BIG HIT

Fairground Reproduction of Volcano-Eruption Culminates Pretty Show

Brought an audience which jammed to capacity the grand stand and bleachers at Twin Falls county fair grounds at Pier 1 last evening to witness the greatest fireworks spectacle, "The Crater of the Moon," fulfilled all expectations and sent the spectators out of the auditorium shouting for more. The management's premier attraction. Billing through a rather chilly evening for more than an hour the throng which packed the stands and filled the floor surrounding the inflated shelter with ever continuing interest the rapid changes in the exploding process of rock and sand bombs with the fast management provided for the night crowd.

If audience applause is taken as a criterion, last night's performance was a success. The audience gave it excellent entertainment, and reached its climax in the thundering awe inspiring events of last evening.

Not only did the firey upheavals bring their exclamations, but the drama of the reproduction also won a share of approval. The girls of the Elmer high school who participated in the drama made a good showing, particularly the results of the intensive training they received in the hands of the pageant and drama director, Miss Leona Loeffelholz. The girls also appeared to advantage rendering a number of old time selections which were reproduced over the amplifier. The girls' costumes and makeup were well received.

Made in Idaho

A feature of the fireworks collection, not generally known is the fact that nearly all the materials used in the display were manufactured in Idaho, in cans from chemicals mined in this state. An inspection of the "crater" reveals a large amount of construction work reared some 30 feet in the air upon which was mounted a tremendous display of fireworks, including rockets, fire bombs, smoke bombs, rocket racks, fire rods and others detect a carrying fuse reaching 50-feet or more back to the source of the explosion. The display was arranged in a series of craters, each containing the next, so as to bring the display to a climax.

In explaining the operations of the display equipment, Maxine Tolson, manager of the Fireworks Company, stated that over a ton of material was fired within the brief time the eruptions continued. The preparation required to produce such results require a full day's work by a crew of several factory experts.

The final presentation of this event is scheduled for Saturday evening, with a charge of 50 cents. The most successful fair in the fifteen years that have passed since the fair was established, will turn out to witness the final performance of this program which has won so much approval.

PRINCE LIKES RESORT GIVING MOST PRIVACY

LE TOUQUET, France, Sept. 11 (Special to The News)—This is the favorite of the Prince of Wales because here nobody pays undue attention to him. He makes frequent short visits, usually in his own plane just for fun, and has been seen out on the golf course for a practice round before dinner. The prince's last visit continued the tradition of spending time playing golf, walking in the woods and moseying with friends.

BAPTIST MINISTER AT

HAILEY REGIGNS POST

Julius E. Nordby, Inventor

Device to Determine Dryness

of Sample Fibers

GODDING, Sept. 11 (Special to The News)—Supplementing his Idaho work now and the world over, Julius E. Nordby, associate professor of animal husbandry at the University of Idaho, has invented a device for determining the dry weight of wool which utilizes all methods previously used for reducing wool to a dry basis.

Previously there has been no accurate method for determining the moisture content of wool.

Professor Nordby's apparatus removes the water from the sample and weighs the samples and eliminates errors which have been caused by varying humidity of the air.

Aged Traveling Musician, Weak From Lack of Rations, Tells of Early-Day Battles With Indians

Chris Luppy Appears at Idaho Public Welfare Department and Relates Story of Own Life Filled with Experiences

(By The Associated Press)

BOSTON, Sept. 11—Chris Luppy had a root story and he stuck to it. And he had a good one. The 81-year-old man, who has been a tramp for most of his life, told a story of grand adventure, of battles with Indians, of the long trail west, of the gold fields, of the miners, and of the men he had traveled with and the more recent personalities he met along the way.

All that was laid on the back of Indian nights in which brothers and friends were struck down by poison arrows fired by Indians, and the more recent personalities he met along the way.

"We got beat up now and then," he said. "But we always had our traps and our rifles. And we always had our traps and our rifles."

"I was a musician," he said. "I had a musical instrument. Its type he never revealed. He would play it when he had time. He had a leather bag in which he had his instrument.

"He was a musician," he said, and widelyread sections.

During his entourage, Luppy said he helped lay out Fort Atkinson, near Hailey, Montana. Port Shaw, where he enlisted, has since been destroyed.

Through 1868 Luppy's narrative ends. He served in Buffalo during the Civil War, and then drifted into other organizations until a few months ago he found himself without a home. He has been recently admitted to the poor house or to the soldiers' home.

However, the department has given him a place to live for a day or so until he finds means of getting to other places.

Babson Declares 1931 Looms As Best Agricultural Year Country Has Experienced for Long Time

Bay State Statistician Cites Probable Reduction in Production of Wheat as One of Reasons for Prediction

BY DOUGIE MC BABBON, Farm Bureau, Boston, Mass., Sept. 11.—After a trip through the Middle West I am more convinced than ever that 1931 will be a better agricultural year than any we have had for a long time. The farmer has been hard hit this year, but from now on he should be better off every year. His work is becoming more difficult, but the government is giving him real assistance in marketing, and he will get the benefit from better help at all stages of his production, as well as lower prices, and better crops.

Agricultural prices on the whole will tend upward especially the feed stuffs, wheat, corn, oats, and barley. Predicted sales this fall will help to absorb the heavy surplus, particularly of wheat. What is being widely used as a substitute for wheat is feed grain. Agricultural prices have apparently turned the corner and while no great boom is expected, a higher average level of prices is anticipated for the future. With general retail prices still declining this means that the farmers' position will improve, because the things they buy will cost less, and the things in terms of the things they have to buy,

Farming Not Popular. It is true that the farmer industry requires hard work with small profits and that many have left the farms for better opportunities. In the last few years there has been little opportunity existed; but now they are completely gone. In many localities people must buy farm products and eat; but people do not have to buy luxuries. Farming is not a lucrative business; but every farmer can make a living if he is willing to live something more basic in good times and in bad times. This is more than can be said of most industries.

For two or three years now the movement away from the farms to the cities has been slowing up. This movement, which started in the back of the "ways from the farm" migration are losing their momentum. Latest census statistics show that in the last ten years the cities are now losing population rather than the rural districts. Concentrated cities are becoming less and less populous. From 1920 to 1930, population increased outside into the suburban areas and gradually pushing out further and further into movement away from the farms to the town and cities was smaller in 1927 than in 1920, again smaller in 1929 than in 1927, and again in 1929 than in 1925. With present industrial unemployment conditions we shall see much less movement from the cities to the cities in 1930, and probably none at all.

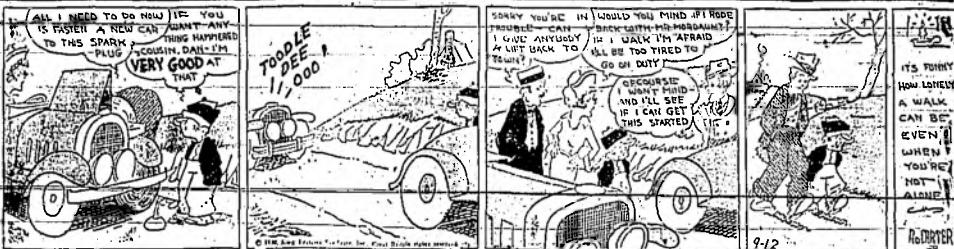

Many more people moving from the cities back to the farms this year and in the next few years. Look for lower prices to come between farm profits, and gradually increasing farm land values.

The result of the fact that the number of farms is much smaller than it used to be the total farm production is running 10 per cent larger than it was 10 years ago. This is due to the fact that the average production from each acre of land than he could in former days. Of course, there are still many farmers who ought to be growing more, but those of them are trying to raise crops on land where there is little likelihood of success. The great, however, our farms are becoming more and more efficient. They continue to increase yields with fewer acres and less labor. The use of power machinery and power plants has also been an important factor in this increased efficiency.

Also the farmer knows much more about his soil, his crops, and animals than he once did. He uses twice as much fertilizer as twenty years ago. His feed stock better as shown by an analysis of the same. His feed purchases compared with 1910. Science has taught him the best seeds to buy, the right sort of live stock, and the best way to care for his feeds both for land and animals. It has taught him how to combat insects and diseases. The result of all of this scientific progress the American Farmer today is able to raise larger and better crops on smaller acreage.

Easy to look at

THERE'S always some favored one with a charm that's all her own. . . . And everywhere in the modern scene you'll see happy smokers breaking out fresh, fragrant packs of Camels . . . a natural choice too!

For the mildness of Camels is a charm that's all its own . . . a natural mildness that's a quality of choicest tobaccos. Don't confuse this fresh, fragrant, mildness with the flatness or insipidness of "over-treated" tobacco. There's a delightful natural fragrance to Camels, too, a "bouquet" as distinctive as the fragrance of oriental flowers.

Here's to the delightful things of life! Have a Camel!

FORMER PRESIDENT OF ARGENTINA GOES TO EXILE ON CRAFT

Five Days After Penning Brief Resignation Ending Amazing Career, Aged Man Leaves Native Land

(By The Associated Press)
BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 11.—Just six days after he signed his brief resignation ending an amazing career of political power Hipólito Yrigoyen, the aged former president of Argentina, who had been ill, started his exile tonight under the crudel Belgrano.

The popular assumption is that the 75-year-old ex-president of Montevideo, Uruguay, but the government made no official statement as to the destination.

The emigrant was confined in secret today, Irieyen was in the barracks of the Seventh Infantry, at La Plata, where he had been ill.

The authorities as usual were silent. That was because he would go aboard the cruiser some time today, since he had been examined by two government physicians last night, and the results of the examination was not obtainable.

Last in the morning, however, half of the Senate's regulars went to the cabinet office to see the ex-president leave the city of La Plata—and deployed in the surrounding area to prevent the entrance of any one even newspaperman.

At 4 o'clock Irieyen, accompanied by a daughter and his private physician, Dr. Steele, was placed in a motor car and rushed to the dock. At 5:15 the cruiser, and 15 minutes later the ship-pulled anchor.

His departure is said to have been by those who know him as "Irieyen's son," all began last Friday when under pressure of his ministers, he "retired" under a constitutional amendment which gave the government over to the vice president, Enrique V. Martínez.

He aroused a military naval coalition which included the ministerialists from Buenos Aires and took over the government house. Martínez and the cabinet resigned while Irieyen fled to La Plata. There he was arrested.

He was held incommunicado until yesterday morning when he was released.

He then was informed that he was not under arrest, but in view of his past services he was given a bed in the faculty barracks.

With the former president out of the country and his leading supporters either refugees or in prison, the people have returned to work and the government is turning toward financial and diplomatic problems.

GEM STATE CROPS PROMISE LARGEST RETURNS IN YEARS

The feed grain total is 15,541,000 bushels, up 1,000,000 bushels more than last year's production. It consists of oats 6,000,000 bushels, barley 3,920,000 and corn 3,630,000 bushels.

DEVOTED MOTHER ANSWERS SUMMONS

Mrs. Kathleen Ferguson Burton, 52, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, Burton, who for many years has not resided in Twin Falls, was summoned yesterday morning at the home of her son, Charles H. Burton, 419 Sixth Avenue east, following a letter of about a year ago.

The body was taken last evening to Salt Lake City where Mr. Burton was born and where he now resides. A funeral service will be held Saturday morning, and interment will take place.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Burton, residence 419 Sixth Avenue east, will leave for Salt Lake City this morning.

During the last months of her life, Mrs. Burton had been a invalid, suffering from rheumatism, and was confined to bed.

Mrs. Burton was born at Salt Lake City March 3, 1854, a daughter of James and Mary Ferguson, who were immigrants from Ireland. They came to America in 1848, and at one time taught in the school at Fife, Scotland, before immigrating to America. Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson and George Eastley, Twin Falls, were among her pupils there.

In 1871 she was married to John H. Burton. Six years later her husband died, leaving two children, the son, Charles H., and a daughter, Jessie. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Burton undertook responsibility for their care, devoting her life to their welfare, and, when they were grown, to her grandchildren.

The surviving grandchildren, being from Twin Falls, the home of her son and daughter, have been brought up with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Burton, son John, David, Wallace, and Janet Clark; all of Salt Lake City.

School News

Extra-curricular activities "boomed" in the schools during the first day when the O.Y.C. club held its first meeting under the new sponsor, Miss Thelma Tolleson, in room 109. The girls' basketball team, consisting of all the cabinet girls in the High Valley, met to be held in Pier 1 Saturday, in preparation for the annual basketball tournament in the high school. The plan to give a party for all the girls enrolled in the institution in honor of the 10th anniversary of the school was also a success. Miss Ruth Reed was elected vice president to take the place of Ruth Reed, who automatically became president upon the resignation of Margaret McCulley.

KIDNAPER SUSPECT FACES TRIAL FIRST

William Barabry to Answer To District Court Here For Alleged Abduction

William Barabry, 42-year-old miner and construction worker, charged with kidnapping and killing Mrs. Francis Cable, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cable, in Twin Falls last July 13, will be brought to trial in district court here next Monday, at the first trial date set by the court for the present court term, according to announcement made yesterday by District Judge A. D. Dansey, yesterday.

Barabry, 42, will be tried in the county jail in default of $100 bail since "the date of the alleged crime will be represented by trial by jury," said J. E. Raymond, Twin Falls attorney.

This is the case of Harold Schenck, charged with commission of a statutorily crime involving a 17-year-old girl, the victim of the same crime after his application for admission to parole or commutation of sentence.

Under Idaho law, second offense of a felonious parole or commutation of sentence is a felony, and the punishment for such offense is imprisonment in the state prison for from 2 to 5 years.

In his application, Toney asserted that he had never been convicted of a felony prior to this sentence, and that he had no record against him.

The charge to which Toney pleaded guilty was filed when officers reported finding impounding whiskey in his car, and he was given a suspended sentence in which Toney's confinement in a vehicle.

Toney, 27, was released on bond of $1000, and was under treatment for several days after his release.

In default of bond Toney has been held a prisoner in the county jail since his arrest immediately following the collision.

CHURCH OF BRETHREN PRESENTS NOTED PLAY

"The Fool," Channing Pollock's four-act drama, will be produced by the Church of the Brethren, corner of Third and Fourth streets, Sunday evening, September 13.

The drama appears in the West Play of 1922-1923 and since that time it has maintained a growing popularity.

The play's message is simple and forcible, Daniel Gish, a young minister.

"The Fool" hasn't any better sense than to take the teachings of Jesus seriously. He is kicked out of his home because he is a fool, becomes mentally unbalanced—all because he tried to do the very Jesus did.

The play concludes with this picture-drama written by one of America's greatest playwrights:

What Riley kid thinks it's such,

I'm not out-of-line, but today standin' flat-footed."

CASTLEFORD MAN SEEKS CLEMENCY

A. E. Toney, Facing Prison, Promises Never to Violate Law if Granted Parole

A. E. Toney, Castleford blacksmith, who has been held a prisoner in the county jail since July 13, charged with second offense illegal possession of liquor, yesterday obtained postponement of action to allow him to appear before the state board of parole or parole or commutation of sentence.

Boise man praises COUNTY FAIR EXHIBIT

Livestock and agricultural exhibits at the Twin Falls County fair are among the best ever exhibited, G. H. Sampson, president and general manager of the Sampson Manufacturing Co., said Wednesday at the fair following a brief stop in Twin Falls.

"The fair is a great success," Sampson said. "I am pleased to see the fair company has averted refusal to accept payment of $245 balance three days after it was due, and asked $300 more to cover the cost of the exhibit.

The fair company, represented by J. H. Barratt, Twin Falls, disclaims any fault in the fair, and its cross-complaint demands payment of the balance due with interest.

Twin Falls is to be compensated upon his fall," Sampson said. "The fair company, represented by J. H. Barratt, Twin Falls, disclaims any fault in the fair, and its cross-complaint demands payment of the balance due with interest.
