SIXTH CONSECUTIVE DAY FINDS STOCKS PLUNGING ON MART

Events Eclipse All Records
Of Kind In Recent History of Exchange But Partial Gains Precede Gong

(By The Associated Press)

NEWS, Sept. 30.—Shares prices on the New York Stock market and curb exchanges plunged downward for the sixth consecutive trading session today, as the decline gained fresh impetus from the first failure of a prominent Wall Street investment house since the great bull market came to a brief a year ago.

Not in recent stock exchange history has there been a day for so many consecutive days. The terrific slide at last November, the market closed persistently lower for six consecutive days, although compared to the crash the current decline has been a mite less.

During the middle of the afternoon, President Whitney of the stock exchange mounted the rostrum and announced that J. A. Blaquier, president of the New York Stock Exchange, had died of heart failure. The firm was later suspended by the New York curbside, and all trading on the stock exchange was suspended.

Shares Show Gains

In the session, what appeared to be the last of the stocks to have been thrown into the market, and many traders felt that one of the last and most volatile upturns seen since the market's decline was in the making. For a time around mid-day, a few shares showed net gains of $1 to $2 a share. Then followed a sharp and hectic flurry of selling accompanied by the stock announcement. The market closed slightly recover, however, before the closing gong.

Throughout the day, the so-called "old guard," stocks always among the first to move, were close; few of the stocks were down as much as $2. There were numerous net losses throughout the list of 1,000 stocks, however, with some of the infrequent trading in the erratic stocks showing little or no change.

The day's sales were close to 1,000,000 shares, the largest since June 18, when the turnover exceed 9,000,000 shares.

Street Surprised

Wall street was little surprised by the stock announcement, for there had been no indication of the time that some important stock exchange firm was in financial difficulty. The market, however, reacted constantly in sympathy with the Wall Street news, and it was evident to the Wall Street regulars to have the bad news out of the way.

IDAHO GASOLINE TAX IN MONTH NETS $361,000

BOISE, Sept. 30 (AP)—Idaho used its gasoline tax for the second time in August, the largest amount ever collected. The history of the state, the bureau of motor fuels reported today. The tax, which was established in the last session, an increase of 1 cent per gallon, was brought in during August last year. Gasoline burned in August last year, cost about 100,000 gallons.

FOREST FIRE DAMAGE IN IDAHO DIMINISHES

DOUGLAS, Sept. 30 (AP)—The present fire season is drawing to a close in this area with promise of more than half the damage of a year ago, the Boise forest office reported.

During the last 10 days only two fires of any size have been started—the burning 13 acres. One of these fires was incendiary and the other was caused by lightning, the report said.

Alon Marjorie, parents told her she must go back to the afternoons to help care for the children.

Rebellious Marjorie snaked away to her father's room, found his pistol, and shot herself. Marjorie is dead.

PRESIDENT OF ECUADOR DECIDES TO KEEP POST

QUITO, Ecuador, Sept. 30 (AP)—President Pedro Ayala of Ecuador, took with his resignation as chief of state, which he had sent to Congress, a formal letter of protest. The message announcing his change of decision was read before a full session of congress this evening.

PERCY PORCUPINE PINES FOR PINES

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 30 (AP)—"Tonight, children, you will hear about the pranks of Percy Porcupine, pinhead for the pine of Old Native Colorado, and how he got into trouble in making his nestable known."

Porcupines, almost as numerous as the porcupine itself, tell you, "We're here for the timber, we're here, so when Percy found himself parked in a crate in the car of Leo Glendin, Lincoln park ranger, he was compelled to think and think and think to see how he could make his predicament nobler."

It took him 16 hours to get through a bit of his crust, but found that steel sides and glass doors of a sedan do a prison job on a porcupine. So Percy, bound and gagged, had to think again. On the steering wheel was the horn button, and the horn would ring long and loud.

For the moment the treatment and "true neighbors" of Blunden, also as the keeper started out in search of the culprit, were free. And if you ever come to Percy, bouncing him on the button. But his plaints were futile. And if you ever come to Percy, you'll find him quivering with gills.

POLICE STOP FUGITIVE

BOISE, Sept. 30 (AP)—Fred Armbruster, wanted on a charge of passing bad checks on a citizen in Boise, was captured yesterday by police in a hotel room in the city. His arrest was made possible when he left his office was advised today. He will be returned here for trial.

Philadelphia And Cardinals Await Call Of Umpire For Opening Clash Of World Series

HOOVER PREPARES TO DELIVER FOUR MAJOR ADDRESSES

Despite Bearish Reports Throughout Day
Concerning Ailing Back, Frankie Frisch,
Keystone Man of St. Louis Team, Plans To Follow President of Nation onto Mound

By ALAN COULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—Despite bearish reports throughout the day about his ailing back, Frankie Frisch, keystone man of the St. Louis Cardinals, will take the field tomorrow when President Hoover tosses out the first ball for the opening world's series battle between the National league champions and the Philadelphia Athletics, two-time American league titlists and present world champions.

Frisch's backache, diagnosed as a plain case of lumbago, was the principal topic of conversation today as the baseball brigades answered the ringing call to arms for the season's big climax. When the one-line "Fordham" "Flash," whose second-base work and hitting is of the utmost importance to the home team, the Cardinals, did not appear at the final practice, Shibe park, reporters circulated quiet rumors that he might not be in condition to start the series.

It looked very dubious to the experts when they discovered Frisch in bed at his hotel, surrounded by medicinal lamps, bottles of surce-ups, curried by well-meaning friends and a staff of aides that would do credit to a hospital—but the ball-player declared the situation to be greatly exaggerated.

The loss of Frisch would be a stunning blow to the chanced
