PRESIDENT HOOVER SELECTS STANTAN FOR MEXICAN POST

Chief Executive Appoints J. Reuben Clark, Salt Lake City, as Successor to Ambassador Morrow

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—J. Reuben Clark, Salt Lake City, was appointed today to succeed Dwight W. Morrow as ambassador to Mexico.

Announcement of the appointment at the White House filled a vacancy which has existed for less than a week. "Reuben" was expected to conduct his campaign in New Jersey for the senate.

Clark, who served as associate for the embassy under Morrow, is formerly secretary of state. He is credited with having a wide knowledge of Mexican affairs and his appointment was described tonight by Ambassador Morrow as "a happy one."

The choice was regarded as in line with the announced policy of President Hoover of seeking men with wide experience in Latin American affairs for those posts. Clark has been mentioned widely as the likely choice for several months.

Secretary of State Kellogg named Clark under-secretary of state in 1928. On March 3, 1929, the president Hoover's inauguration, the last reversion took place in Mexico. Clark, who was in Washington, directed the press conference describing the Mexican revolt, and worked all night to prepare a memorandum on Mexican conditions which during his first day of office advised President Hoover in the field of defining a United States policy toward the revolution.

Three months later, Clark gave up his work as under-secretary to become personal adviser to Ambassador Morrow. In that capacity he secured an important treaty between Mexico and the problems of that republic.

DECLINES COMMENT SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 3 (AP)—J. Reuben Clark, named today as United States ambassador to Mexico, declined to comment on his appointment, pending receipt of official notification.

Mr. Clark has been in the government service almost continuously since his appointment September 1, 1908, as assistant secretary of the department of state, which position he held until 1913. In 1913 he was named to represent the United States on international arbitration commission for the third time. General and later was named general counsel for the United States before the American-British claims commission.

Mr. Clark was born at Grantville, Tootle county, Utah, and was graduated from the University of Utah in 1897 and from Columbia university in law in 1901. He is a native of this state and was assistant professor of law in George Washington university from 1901 to 1908. He married Lucine A. Shaw here in 1899.

CHICAGO PRISONER TELLS OF PART IN MURDERING LINCOLN

Frank Bell Confesses Role in Reporter's Slaying and Implicates Indiana Gangster and Lieutenant

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—A confession by the "Red" killer of Alfred (Jack) Linghe, Tribune reporter, was made tonight by Frank Bell, a prisoner who has been held in the county jail since late in June in connection with several homicides and another murder.

The other slayer was that of Charles Frazier, proprietor of a cafe in the North Side neighborhood where the shooting occurred. Authorities have previously held the Morag gang guilty of the Linghe slaying. The man implicated Joe Traam, a native Indiana gang leader who is now in Leavenworth prison and Richard McSullivan, as the two men shown to Chicago a man and a woman who were shot in a crowded pedestrian tunnel leading to an Illinois Central suburban station.

In an interview with the Tribune in the care of a giant drug store following the explosion of a gasoline tank, Richard Leland Womack, 24, chief in the employ of the MURPHY Brothers construction company shortly before midnight Thursday last, said he was the man who shot Bell's story was told to the reporter's jury investigating the Linghe case. The jury was yesterday called back into session tonight by Coroner Herman Sunderson on the basis of Bell's confession.

Bell said he had been released from Leavenworth prison April 1, had been in Chicago since then.

Green Points Out Ways Of Stabilizing Business

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 (AP)—Increased volume of committee was urged today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, as a means of stabilizing business conditions.

The suggestion was made in the general assembly of business leaders by the labor federation. "Business men," Green said, "can hasten revival and improve their own trade without undue risk by such policies as these: 1. Cut overhead costs (without reducing wages) by improving equipment and eliminating waste. 2. Order ahead; start to produce a normal spring supply. 3. Improve quality of work and reduce cost of the 'losing' factor.

4. Stimulate trade by advertising and special offers. 5. Green added these measures will increase employment and cut production, which reach of this year's low income and wage earners' gain.

Manager Street Announces Intention of Sending Jimmy Wilson, Regular Catcher, Into Lineup

By PAUL HICKSON (Associated Press Staff Writer) ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—Just when the clouds looked the darkest over the Cardinal world series heretofore, a rainbow burst through that sent Red Lind chins up and fired players and fans alike with renewed determination to halt the march of Connie Mack's Athletics.

The Athletics had announced by Manager Gaby Street that Jimmy Wilson, first-string Cardinal catcher, would have to enter the lineup when the third game of the fight for the baseball championship of the world opened at Sportsman's park.

Wilson, considered one of the best handers of pitchers and batters in the National league, has not been in the game several weeks and his absence has been mentioned as one of the big reasons for the poor playing of the Cards in the series so far.

In addition to a smart catcher, Wilson could be a real asset to the Cardinals, one of the outstanding shortstops of the Red Birds so far. His average good 230 season, until he was replaced by an injured leg in the final series with the News.

POCATELLO RAM SALE DRAWS 175 SHEEPMEN

POCATELLO, Idaho, Oct. 3 (AP)—Ray Denney, Nounin, Idaho, captured his top prize of $4500 per head for his flock of 1600 rams at the fourth annual sheep sale here today. He disposed of 150 rams. While the bidding was not high, much of the flock was sold by 175 sheepmen from the state.

Mr. Denney is secretary of the Nounin Sheep and Cattle association, and Roscoe C. Rich, president of the Idaho Sheep and Cattle association, were the principal speakers at a banquet tonight.

It is gratifying to know he is willing to give his time and energy to the campaign in the interests of better government.

Mr. Alworth was born in Pennsylvania 42 years ago on the same farm on which four generations of his forefathers lived. He has lived in Twin Falls county 25 years.

COURT DEALS WITH DOMESTIC TANGLES

Judge Babcock Sets Aside Divorce Decree, Grants Others; Hears Argument

Dealing with problems of domestic relations, Judge W. A. Babcock in district court yesterday, set aside one decree of divorce, granted two divorces, and heard argument on a motion for reduction of alimony payments in another divorce case.

The court set aside the decree entered August 15, last, granting divorce to Mrs. Orla Collico from Vanell Collico and requiring him to pay $50 a month for the support of his two-year-old son, Collico, respondent. For that purpose, the hearing yesterday asserted his wife permitted judgment to be entered in the divorce suit, and she refused to accept an agreement as to alimony which she had previously agreed to.

Vanella Alimony Lowered
Charles H. Davis, in court yesterday to show cause why alimony should not be paid for contempt of court for failure to pay $100 a month since January, 1928, toward support of his former wife and their four minor children, had before him the divorce decree. He asked for reduction of alimony payments to $75 a month beginning last January, when he exercised his former wife married another man.

SOUTH IDAHO CLUBS SEND HOGS TO FAIR

16 Boys of Jerome, Cassia, Milwaukie, Lincoln and Gooding Counties Compete

BURLEY, Oct. 3 (Special to The News)—The carnival of fat hogs, consisting of 16 pigs, are now being fattened and fitted by 4-11 club boys of the south-central Idaho club district, in preparation for shipment to the competition with each member of the northwest part of the International Live Stock show to be held in Portland, Oregon, beginning October 25.

The 16 boys are preparing these animals for entry in this show and winners of awards in Cassia, Milwaukie, Lincoln and Gooding counties. They will compete for $125 in prizes to be given by the Portland Union Stock Yards company, and after the awards the porkers will be sold to the highest bidder. The proceeds to be turned over to the cashiers of the various clubs.

Keep Records
There are four animals to each pen, and complete and accurate records are being kept by the boys of all details of their projects. The judging will be based on economy of feed, rate of gain, and the completeness of records and conditions and type of animals for prime market qualifications.

According to Dan E. Warren, Burley district club agent, who has charge of the South Central district, some additional club animals were shipped to the Portland show. The Jerome Lightbearers' club, Helation club, and the Jerome-Helation club, which has been made a district club, are among the Idaho fair. The champion district, Jerome-Helation, was won by Bill Darrington, Wallace Janson and J. A. O'Neil, Jr., all of Jerome, who also are among the top ten in the Northwest 4-H teams. And it is likely that at least one other team will lead the top from this district to the big Portland show.

JEROME STUDENTS JOIN IN RALLY AND ASSEMBLY

JEROME, Oct. 3 (Special to The News)—Three hundred students of Jerome school passed through the streets Thursday evening in a clean, organized, chanting the school yell and songs. Following the parade the students assembled at the vacant lot west of the high school, where a huge bonfire had been prepared by the freshmen. The event was in the form of a rally for the Jerome-Helation game Friday evening. Toasts were given by Coach Ralph Harding, Harold Kuskel, Willie D. Johnson, Leonard Handwick and Robert McDoucheon, students. Meals were furnished by the high school band.

A 40-minute assembly was held at the school Thursday evening. An orchestra composed of Phyllis Robinson, Mildred Ploghtner, Vello, and Jack Wright, played several musical numbers. The "Live Wire" student publication, were given by Mary Roper, editor-in-chief; Fred Burgeon, circulation committee; and Dorothy Carpenter.

TWO BOYS AT SHOSHONE FACE BURGLARY CHARGE

SHOSHONE, Oct. 3 (Special to The News)—Two youths, giving the names Bud Egan and Willie Nesell and their ages as 18 and 21 years, were arraigned today before Judge J. L. Dull on a charge of burglarizing a farmhouse on Little Wood river above Fairfield, and taking four guns, a violin and an harmonica.

The boys waived preliminary hearing and expressed a desire to plead guilty before District Judge Doran R. Stephens.

'EYES OF THE WORLD' FEATURES AT ORPHEUM

Beautiful romance, powerful drama and natural scenic effects have been combined in an unusually interesting motion picture by Henry King whose "Eyes of the World" is now showing at the Orpheum theatre. The story depicts the dramatic life of the popular book by Harold May Wright.

The story moves quickly through the various scenes, telling us of a tragedy of exciting action when revenge, remorse and forgiveness each have their moments of triumph. "Eyes of the World" is a sensational work of entertainment, with a really understandable plot that comes to a satisfying and logical conclusion.

Are your Youngsters Under-Breakfasted?

The heavy American breakfast is a thing of the past. This is probably a wise change. But the American temperament goes to extremes. The skippy breakfast is as bad as the heavy one. Young, growing bodies need H-O Oats. It is the balancing food for under-breakfasted folks.

New style H-O cooks in: a to 3 minutes... the quickest hot breakfast. H-O Oats are toasted and the flavor stirs the appetite. Even a small dish added to the morning meal demonstrates the "staying" quality of this remarkable cereal.

CAVANAH PONDERS ON POTATO MEN'S INJUNCTION CLAIM

Plaintiffs Raise Seven Constitutional Questions in Asking Court for Issuance of Restraining Decree

That the Idaho 1929 statute covering the grading and shipping of potatoes is unconstitutional so far as it affects interstate commerce was the contention of W. H. Cavanah, Twin Falls attorney representing a group of Twin Falls and Jerome county growers and shippers, before Judge C. C. Cavanah of the Idaho Federal district court, in Boise yesterday. Mr. Cavanah, who returned here last evening from Boise, said Judge Cavanah expressed the hope that he would be able to render a decision in the case within the next week.

Leon Pitt, assistant attorney general represented John B. Welch, commissioner of agriculture, and other state officers, who are defendants in the case.

The action as originally instituted called for a restraining order and temporary injunction. On Monday Judge Cavanah requested Mr. Blackman to allow the matter to go over a day and to file a copy of his bill of complaint with the attorney general in Boise on the next appearance. This was done.

On Tuesday the attorney general filed a motion to dismiss on the ground that the bill of complaint did not constitute a cause of action in order to restrain the act.

Mr. Blackman stated, to withdraw request for restraining order and temporary injunction and present the case on the question of either a permanent injunction or dismissal. This was done.

Valuers Crop 1930.630
The total estimated value of the crop of the 11 plaintiffs affected by the law is $1,620 according to the complaint.

It is claimed by plaintiffs that the law is in direct violation of clause 3, section 8, article 1 of the Constitution of the United States, and an usurpation of the power reserved exclusively in congress by the federal constitution. It is moreover claimed that it discriminates unconstitutionally against all growers of potatoes who ship on or after October 1, five much potatoes shipped during July, August or September may, under the law, be shipped in plain bags without being graded, while potatoes shipped in plain bags after October 1 must be graded. It is contended that practically all potatoes from King Hill to the Oregon State line mature before October 1, while practically all potatoes east of King Hill in this state mature after October 1, so that the law discriminates against the growers in the eastern part of the state and in favor of the growers in the western part of the state.

There are seven grounds set forth in the constitutionality of the law is challenged. Plaintiffs in the case claim that they are now and have for a number of years past been engaged in raising potatoes for interstate shipments only and for markets in states of the East and Southwest of the Mississippi river which are named in the complaint.

They allege that their potatoes are now maturing ready for digging and shipping and that they are desirous of selling the same in bags without complying with the provisions of the 1929 statute prescribing grades. They allege that the potatoes which they desire to offer for sale in interstate commerce are of merchantable quality, free from disease and fit for human consumption.

It is stated that they desire to contract for sale to purchasers from the field in carted lots in the states named in the complaint; to purchasers in other states from potato stores in cartons, to ship on movement to warehouse men, brokers and wholesale dealers in other states and by shipments in carted lots accompanied by growers.

MANY JOIN IN TRIBUTE

AT FILER LAD'S RITES

A first tribute was paid at funeral services at the White chapel here Friday afternoon for John Ernest Bergen, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George O. Bergen, who lately returned from Colorado to make their home at Filer. His boys, friends and schoolmates made up an assemblage that filled the chapel, and there was a lavish floral offering.

Dr. James Miller of Twin Falls Presbyterian church had charge of the services, and "Miss Letitia Brockbridge sang two numbers, "Sleep in Jesus" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

Many friends chosen from among schoolmates were paid tribute, and interment was in Twin Falls cemetery.

John Ernest was one of five children, and is survived by two brothers and two sisters.

BUZZ SAW CUTS TWO FINGERS OFF OPERATOR

REAL ESTATE SALES RUN

FAIR AND RENTALS GOOD

Considerable real estate is reported as changing hands here this year, though real estate dealers generally say that sales are not as brisk as last year and that is especially true of city property. On the other hand rental demand for houses and apartment in Twin Falls has never been stronger than at present. Practically all residences, apartments and rooms are filled all the time and the general atmosphere here indicates confidence and stability, agents say.
