FOUR SURVIVORS OF R-101 CATASTROPHE DETAIL EXPERIENCE

Two Members of Crew Ask Court To Be Relieved of Describing Agonized Last Moments of Comrades

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Four men who escaped with their lives from the inferno of the dirigible R-101 when it crashed and burned on a hillside near Beauvais, France, today recounted those terrifying moments just before the wreck at the court of inquiry investigating the disaster.

So harrowing was the experience that they declined the court's request to compel them to describe the agonized screams of their comrades perishing in the flames and the comical attitudes of the dead bodies of passengers permitted in questioning. J. Cook, H. J. Leech, and V. Savory, engineers, and Arthur Disney, the reporter.

It was a wild story Cook told, and the others supported it with detail. About 2 o'clock in the morning, a four-man crew of the R-101 had gone on duty as engineer in charge of the fourth-unit engine. The commander rang for reduced speed, and the ship began to roll over.

The ship dived sharply, then seemed to lunge toward the earth. In a moment, "she" had struck with such force that the floor板 was torn out again.

It was believed possible the tail of dead and injured might be longer than the official lists because four dead here and at Beauvais, where the quake struck its heaviest.

Public officials said, in particular, that the number of dead must be at least 30 or more.

Some of the injured probably died, too, for harassed physicians delayed saving the lives of many who were critically listed among the casualties.

Meanwhile, hundreds of Americans had fled the scene of the disaster, and the talk was about the cost of rebuilding and repairing which faced them now.

SHOT PROVES FATAL TO HALLOWEEN OBSERVER

GALESBURG, Ill., Oct. 31 (AP)—William Rogers, 15, junior high school pupil, was killed tonight while playing Halloween pranks.

William and several other boys were playing pranks in a junk yard when someone shot a bullet into their direction.

A bullet struck a steel of steel and ricocheted, hitting the boy in the head. He reached for his gun, but the gun, which was taken from the owner of the junk yard, was taken into custody for questioning.

HALLOWEEN PRANK IN KILLS WOMAN

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 31 (AP)—Exploding of a torpedo set off near her by Halloween's merrymakers resulted indirectly in the death of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Nease, 50, of Peoria, Indiana, friend said who believed she suffered a heart attack.

Nease, 50, was the mother of the owner of the junk yard, was taken into custody for questioning.

NEW ITALIAN CITY RISES AMID RUINS

GARFIELD, Calif., Oct. 31 (AP)—The earth rocked under feet Turn to Reconstruction

For the first time since the earthquake, everybody paraded for everybody else. Automobiles, flamboyant limousines, and even a sleek black, loaded with testing contraptions, made a passing show of the auto precedents that ranged from the most modest to the most elaborate.

These in every-day crafts and sedans—rolled down—displayed windows, the better to see their fellow neighbors.

Most of the drivers were in a mood of reconstruction.

New Communities Rise

New communities of makeshift houses sprung up overnight in the ruins of the ancient village look like bee-hives, teeming with the American West. Temporary shacks of any kind have been built by the thousands, some of them by the earth shocks. Vast numbers of families who yesterday morning were still at home, a little later found themselves listed among the casualties.

The earth struck. It was a matter of seconds between the first and the second times the craft hit the earth.

Cook tried to scramble out of the engine gondola toward the ship when he realized what had happened and ran back to the body of the dirigible, a wall of flame.

Heart Terrible

"The heat was terrific," he said. "I turned around to get out from the other side, but I was trapped. A longitudinal beam had blocked the opening and I was unable to move up or down."

But he didn't stay there long. "I must have been desperate," he said, because he remembered getting a grip on the gondola and climbing up the side of the gondola. "I got out of it."

It was pitch dark but for the faint glow of the burning dirigible and Cook's overalls. He beat out the flames in his clothes and wandered for a time in a haze. As he passed the gondola he heard one or two minor explosions.

DUMMY IN MALE ATTIRE EXCITES WALLA WALLA

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 31 (AP)—An employee of a Walla Walla meat and cold storage company came to the office of his employer this morning to inform him of his retirement. Today, "for form's sake" a dead man" he shouted.

Despite efforts rushed to the scene of the dummy's arrival, the police were unable to identify the dummy. Police believed small boys placed it there as a Walla Walla prank.

IDAHO GAS TAX NETS $339,490 IN MONTH

BOISE, Oct. 31 (AP)—The gasoline tax net for October to the state during October (or September taxes) was $339,490 for the month.

All activities in the threatened area were suspended today. Householders were warned not to light fires, smoke, or use matches because of the dry weather.

Many Negroes were ordered to vacate their homes. Six schools considered to be manned by the lowest class of Negroes were closed for the day making a holiday for more than 2000 pupils.

The well estimated to have a daily production of 60,000 barrels of oil and gas, and a capacity of 100,000 barrels of gasoline, the bureau of motor fuels reported today. This was an increase of $0.004 for the same month a year ago.

(By The Associated Press) ADDIS ABABA, Abyssinia, Oct. 31—The emperor of Ethiopia, Haile Selassie, has ordered all Negroes to leave the country in disgrace.

His majesty's wrath was aroused because Julian, the royal airplane, had crashed into the ground in the night, killing all but one of the passengers.

It was a bad accident, but the emperor, who is known as "Emperor of the world," attributed his actions to the "evil of the Negroes."

He has issued a decree that all Negroes must leave the country within 30 days.

Julian, the emperor's plane, was damaged in a crash in the night, killing all but one of the passengers.

CONGRESSMAN SEES REPUBLICANS WIN BY NORMAL MARGIN

DR. L. T. SMITH, Nearing End of Campaign, Tells Impressions on Recent 10-Day
Tour of Eastern Counties

Republicans will poll their usual margin of victory in the vote at the election next Tuesday, congressman Addison T. Smith indicates for the time being.
Smith has been traveling about the country, visiting cities and towns, and has been here for a few hours yesterday, following a return from 10 days camping eastern states before the annual meeting of the National Republican convention at Chicago.

Delegates will speak

Monday evening, after broadcasting a radio address here during the moonlight Monday.

No Upset in Sight

Discussing impressions of his 10-day campaign in eastern Idaho,

congressman Smith said:

"During the past 10 days I have been as far north as Asbury and as far west as the Snake River country. I have attended a great many meetings. In each case I have had a good attendance at the meetings I have addressed, the few not discussing the election but all of them are cases of a year ago, in hotel lobbies, bar-shops, on the streets or other places where men congregate.

It is apparent to me that Idaho there will be much change in the result on election day."

He added: "I have attended a number of meetings, and if anyone asks me, I am inclined to believe that the Republicans will win the election.

Governor Plays His Part

"The apathy on the part of the voters indicates, in my opinion, that they are definitely in favor of the policies of some of the farm leaders, and the unemployment throughout the country, they realize that it will be difficult to find a job, and are not confident in the United States. They also realize any other person can do

The Weather

FORECAST FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW—Fair; moderate temperature.

Minimum temperature in the Twin Falls area will be 22 degrees in the early morning, and 32 degrees in the afternoon, according to the report of the government weather observations. Maximum for the same period will be 64 degrees. The day was fair.

Legislative body can overnight review bills contained and stimulate them to action. It is a good idea to store papers and furnish labor for everyone who wishes it.

President Hoover and Republicans have a good chance in legislation, notably the farm relief bill and the increase of dues on imports which will accomplish everything that is wanted.

The Great State Club met with Mrs. Fred Salmon Wednesday afternoon with Mr. H. J. Jensen presiding at the business session.

Mrs. Helen Johnson gave an arrangement of flowers.

For the first of the great men out of employment will be called back to the factory, the men who have lost their jobs for food commodities will bring better prices.

Colder in Government

The impression prevails in the eastern part of the state that the Democrats are not as strong as they were a year ago.

shops, on the streets or other

1930 TAXES DECLINE IN MINNOKA COUNTY

Absence of Special Improvement Levy—Lowers Collections by $19,349.28

RUPERT, Oct. 31—Minidoka county taxes for the year 1930 as computed and turned over to the tax collector in the amount of $1,000,000, decreased by $19,349.28. The 1929 taxes were $10,348,22. The 1928 taxes were $44,810.97. This drop is largely accounted for by the absence of the special improvement bond issue.

According to Auditor A. H. Jensen, to the absence of the special improvement tax in Minidoka county, all villages in Minidoka county show a general increase except in Heyburn, where there was a slight decrease. In 1929, King City had $1,022,771.00, while in 1930 it was $1,020,15.42 for 1930; the difference for the most part is due to the fact that the improvement bonds were not issued.

Paul's tax for 1930 is $607,004 for 1930 and $11,433.78 for 1929. Minidoka collected $607,374.00. The 1929 tax was $1,022,771.00, while in 1930 it was $1,020,15.42 for 1930; the difference for the most part is due to the fact that the improvement bonds were not issued.

For the town of Rupert, Paul's tax for 1930 is $1,022,094 and for 1929 it was $1,022,025. Valuation for Minidoka county increased over 1929, with $1,022,094 for 1930 and $1,022,025 for 1929. This is due partly to a slight increase in the Rupert-Paul factory this year. There was no such storage a year ago.

PLAYS NOW AT IDAHO

"LOTTERY BRIDE" PLAYS

AT ORPHEUM HERE NEXT

A triple comedy treat is offered this weekend in Minidoka's Chevalier's "Playboy of Paris" to be followed Saturday night at the Orpheum theatre at midnight, then again Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, in addition to the joyous singing of the famous "Lottery Bride."

Johnnie McDonald, who left the stage because the picture did not succeed, and who scored such a phenomenal success opposite Maurice Chevalier in "The Manx Maiden," heads a group of artists in "Lottery Bride."

E. T. Tamm, George Arliss and several comedy role of one of the year's most pretentious productions, "The Playboy of Paris," are the Orpheum's offerings for Saturday and Sunday.

Arthur Hammerstein, New York stage impresario, selected Brown when he displayed his exact brand of Hammerstein production.

The Hammerstein production has been well received in the states and was made under Paul L. Stein's direction. In the cast are Joseph Macrae, the stage star Bartons; Robert Young, the young star of "Zaza"; Zazu Pitts, Carroll Bryne, Max Davidson and Harry Crosby.

The cast of "Playboy of Paris" is as follows: on the boards and in the cast of Paris, where Chevalier, aided by his stellar supporting cast, makes light-headed love to a number of leading ladies.

Frances Dee, a new Paramount leading lady, plays the leading romantic role as the fiery daughter of the proprietor of a hotel which she runs with her father, O. P. Heale, who scored as King Louis XI in "The Vagabond King." She is the scheming cafe owner, who does not care whether she wins or loses before telling him that he has inherited a million francs, feeling sure that he will be glad to buy his freedom from the girl he loves.

Chevalier sings three new songs, "It's a Great Life If You Don't Get It," "I'm a Little Bit Blue" and "The Santa Fe Trail" opens at 10 o'clock this morning and will run continuously until 11:30 P. M.

THE MAN WITH THE "HAIR-TRIGGER" TEMPER

He was irritable at the office, and grouchy at home. His wife was worried about his health, fearing for his life. Then one day his doctor told him the truth. He had been handicapped by a nervous condition, brought on by constant irritation. He made an effort to help him, but he had lost his energy and good health.

He was given a special diet, and taking Kellogg's All-Bran regularly. And in less than a month he was a changed man, cheerful, amiable and happy. He had returned to work and was soon promoted to supervisor.

Conipation may be overcome by taking delicious Kellogg's All-Bran. This cereal has been improved in both texture and taste.

Two tablespoonsfuls of Kellogg's All-Bran daily with milk or fruit or honey added. Use in cooking too. Sold by all grocers in the family.

It is a green cereal, and is雪白的. Snowdrift is good to eat as a crisp brown crust on foods you fry.

(And they don't know whether this will be enough)

During Prater's administration there have been no murder cases or others demanding large expenditures.

During the Republican Sheriff's administration of the preceding 12 years there was an average of about one murder case per year, including the Southard case.

Under Prater's administration there have been very few liquor prosecutions by the Sheriff's office—the local Federal Prohibition officers have handled most of this work—consequently he did not have this expensive work to do.

The Democrats say "the duties of the office have constantly increased"—the best index is the amount of fees collected by the sheriff—during the five years 1924 to 1928 they averaged $5,320.85—under Prater in 1929 they were only $3,014.33.

Business reports for the last week in October characterized trade as "spotty." The fall season has been extremely bad for business, according to Dun's, "although caution still governs many operations and the scope of business is limited by the general depression." Bradstreet's reported that business was "still rather depressed" in trade and industrial currents, "with warmer weather, lower prices for raw materials and widespread cutbacks in production for alleviating unemployment all pointing to a slight upturn."

TWIN FALLS-YOUTH HOLDS HALLOWEEN
STUNTS IN BOUNDS

POLICE RECORDS SHOW FEWER DEPREDIATIONS THAN FOR MANY YEARS PAST, THOUGH
HUNDREDS CELEBRATE EVENT

Hundreds of Twin Falls boys and girls, moving in groups and gangs, some of them with costumes and masks, some carrying lanterns and jack-o-lanterns, some with jack-tacks and bags of soap on window panes, comprised a juvenile flotilla that roamed the city streets on Sunday night. Every dimly-lighted way throughout Twin Falls last night.

Local police reports indicated that there were more of Twin Falls boys and girls actively participating in the Halloween celebrations and revels than in previous years. One officer stated that the observance here last night was the most intense in many years.

At midnight police records noted as serious offenses the breaking of two street lights in the west quarter of town, the breaking of a window pane in a residence, the breaking of a car window and of a mousing machine on another, and theft of two automobiles.

The most serious of all the automobile wrecks attributed to Halloween celebrants was recovered within a short time after it was abandoned on the side of the road. It was reported having been pelleted with apples thrown by boys driving his car, and it was found he recognized members of the gang.

The other startling case, a Ford roadster, had been left parked on Main Avenue with the key in the lock. The owner, Louis H. Hause, reacted with necessity of travelling on foot, back to the Salmon River farm where he is employed.

Voice Police View

"Either there was not a great deal of damage done or the police did not notice it," Police Chief Ralph E. Leighton said at midnight, "or perhaps parents hesitated to report the damage because they knew their children might be involved, but there have been fewer telephone calls to the police station tonight than on a normal night."

When midnight came there were no groups of boys and girls in evidence down town. Only the windows, liberally mark-

A number of factors contributed to orderly observance of Halloween here this year.

Local police sources advised that 100 extra cops had been added to the police force for duty last night.

The police magnificence of 100 men was to be kept on the job until 10 o'clock.

Perhaps, too, they had carried out their threat to impose a fine of $100 on anyone who failed to turn in his costume.

HANSEN CORPORATION

DIRECTOR TAKE STAND

TWO WRECKED CARS ON SCENE OF COLLISION

Two wrecked automobiles were abandoned on the roadside following a head-on collision between two cars about 15 miles west of Burley Thursday evening.

The Twin Falls Auto Club, which has been riding toward Burley since 10 a.m., was brought back here by a passing motorist following the accident.

Two young men who had been riding in the other car, one of whom was a passenger, were taken back to Burley.

The head-on car, according to the young man's story, was returning home from a hunting trip.

Other members of the corporation's directorate have been here. Lewis L. Hansen, John P. Hansen, M. D. Provost and A. H. Ehmen.

Evidence showed that Mr. Cox had purchased the property from Mrs. Cora Vandepool, widow of the late George Vandepool, who had died in 1922 and that she had received it in 1922 from the corporation in settlement for a $250 loan negotiated in 1912.

Judge W. A. Nichols issued decree to quiet title, following the hearing.
