IDaho Turkeys Go To New York City

2,000,000 Pounds of Holiday
Birds Leave Northwest
For Markets of Gotham

BALY LAKE CITY, Dec. 19 (Special to The News)—About 100 car-loads, or well over 2,000,000 pounds, of the nation's finest turkeys have been shipped as far east as New York to grace the festive boards of metropolitan New York.

The marketing of these holiday birds is continuing, the Christmas pool of the Northwest Turkey Growers' Association is now about complete. Prices will equal or exceed those received last year for the nation's Thanksgiving shipments, it was announced recently by Clyde C. Edmunds, general manager.

A total of 1,000 car-loads of turkeys have been shipped so far, through the Northwest association, from the nation's chief turkey-growing states.

Edmunds said: "Prices will realize as much or more than they did at Thanksgiving, when the prices in the member growers varied from $3.00 cents to $4.00 cents for graded States medium flocks. From 75 to 85 per cent of the turkey shipped for Christmas has been graded as 'prime' and 'choice.'

As in the sale of the Thanksgiving pool, members of the Northwest association will receive 8 cents to 8 to 7 cents a pound more for their Christmas flocks than members of the smaller independent pools.

Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Montana, Oregon, Nevada, Wyoming, Washington and Colorado are included in the huge Northwest pool.

Producers in the Northwest, themselves, just satisfy the local consumption.

Turkey, from Nevada and Oregon were shipped to California, while others went to the Pacific coast states west to San Francisco, New York, Long Island, Jersey City, Newark, Philadelphia.

Admiral pay checks have been mailed the producers, and the final payments promised within the next few days.

Schmeling's Answer Rolls New York Dictators In Pugilism

Schaaf Wins Unanimous Decision In Battle With Max Baer

Champion Advises Commissioners to Refer to Manager

Teuton, Blandy, Cables Against Fairies to Get in Touch With Joe Jacobs, and Ignores Cable Order

New York, Dec. 19.— Max Schmeling, who won the world's heavyweight title from Jack Sharkey while in a reclining position, seems about 16 today the same way.

The New York state athletic commission today, reading his cabled reply from Germany to an ultimatum ordering him to sign up 18 days for a trial date, said the German boxer suffered a slight attack of heat under the collar. Schmeling blandly cabined the angus fators to get it out of his system, and the commissioners, who know about such things, but said nothing about signing to fight Sharkey or anyone else within 18 days.

The commission, headed by James A. Farley, refused to comment officially on the telegram. There was no immediate answer from Jacobs, who seems now right the recognition extended Schmeling after his victory over a ruffian Sharkey last June and again in a second bout. Jacobs, a field and the champion, raced valiantly by Gen. Tunney in 1926, seems more open to all comers.

Teuton, Blandy, and Ignores Schmeling's answer as follows:

"Unfortunately for Schmeling and the heavyweight punch, now more courageous than ever, the commission does not recognize Jacobs as a manager because of his conduct some time ago during the controversy over the fight between the two men of the Tunney heavyweight original pilot, Arthur Steiner." Jacobs' had no managerial contract with the commission, and his state fathers consider Schmeling a free agent, required to speak for himself.

The commissioners, with the presence of two other commissioners and their legal in the matter of defending their stand, Harry Walker, president of the middleweight class, and Eddie Brown, heavyweight ruler, were ordered to sign within 18 days for title defense on paper computers available.

Ira Dern Wins in Zion City Match

GALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 19.— Ira Dern, Salt Lake City, used his trusty airplane spin to defeat "Yankee" Jack Rogers, New York, who had three wins in his favor. Dern, fresh from a battle with the local weighty downed Rogers for the first fall in 11 minutes, 10 seconds, and 10 fractions. Dern needed only five minutes to win the second with a reverse body hold.

In the battle developed into a series of flying tactics and during one of these Rogers stunned himself again: the ring post. Dern got the benefit of the fall and winning the fall in three minutes.

"Today was the same seems to lack a sense of spontaneity now," he said. "The play, plays have running and interesting features have been removed by the way of home run hitting."

EXTENSION WORKER IN COUNTY SCANS FIRST YEAR'S WORK

Annual Report of H. S. Hale
Reviews Agricultural Improvement Activities; Suggests New Projects

Reviewing work toward agricultural improvement in a variety of the industry's phases, Harvey S. Hale, Twin Falls county agent, has completed his first annual report, covering a period of eight and a half months since he entered upon the position here, succeeding E. D. Braden, resigned.

A summary of extension activities in Twin Falls county during the year, as listed by the county agent, indicates the following: farm improvement, 100 percent; sheep husbandry, 100 percent; poultry husbandry, dairy improvement, horticulture, rodent control, home demonstration work, and club work.

Suggets New Projects.

A program of work for 1931, the county agent advises, should be directed toward the following: farm improvement, 100 percent; sheep husbandry, 100 percent; poultry husbandry, dairy improvement, horticulture, rodent control, home demonstration work, and club work.

The new county agent has found a big field work here, and is working hard to make the best possible use of his particular talents, the greatest need at the present time is for an assistant county agent who would specialize on the livestock problems and the cattle.

In a general survey of his work here, Mr. Hale observes, "the program of work has been well carried out and hand-to-hand because of the time required for making contacts and getting acquainted with the 3000 farmers in the county. It is also necessary to make a thorough survey of the agriculture of the county in order to determine what the real problems of the farmers are and what could be done to assist them."

Unlimited Possibilities.

"Twin Falls county is in its development of livestock and crops which are to be found on the 3000 farms in the county. This is an undertaking for one county agent to extensively carry on extension work."

"The possibilities of extension work are almost unlimited due to the diversification of the agriculture and diversified farming. The class of farmers is a high caliber, and the great responsibility of the extension agent lies in the extension work."

Soil correction in the county, he says, "has been the most important work Twin Falls has done at the present time, and for that reason has received most attention. Crop yields have been greatly increased, particularly on soils and clays, the two soil building crops, until at the present time the yield of these crops is about half what it was when the crop was first brought under cultivation."

The report includes a summary of the extension work done in the phosphate fertilizer study, showing increase of from 60 to 100 per cent in potato yields, and average increase of 100 per cent where phosphate fertilizer was used.

Phosphate in Demand.

According to the county agent, it is estimated that five carloads or 4000 pounds of phosphate will be used in this county during the winter part of the year and during 1931.

Other extension activities in the year, as reported by the county agent, include:

Experimental vegetable gardens, which were sown to 241 families growing 882 acres of corn, 832 acres of wheat, 12 acres of oats, 4572 acres of barley, 1000 acres of beans, and 1000 acres of peas.

A survey to determine the amount of disease in potato fields planted directly or indirectly from certified seed.

Three new varieties of corn were tried out with encouraging results.

Pasture improvement by seeding legumes and grasses, and by cutting and mowing grasses is being tried out.

A new strain of Green Northern beetles has been found, and the mosaic disease has been developed from the University of Idaho experimental plots and will ready for distribution next spring.

Diseases and insects of beans are being studied to find better control methods.

The extension service, supported with the seed director to experimental work on weed control. A large number of experiments is being conducted to find more effective and less expensive ways of controlling weeds.

TWIN FALLS MAN'S CAR CRASHES ON HIGHWAY

A car driven by R. P. Mallon, Twin Falls, Idaho-Oregon field manager and vice-president of the company, crashed against another car and trailer pulled by H. C. Burke, Burley, when Burke, without signal, drove across the road in front of the Twin Falls man's car on the highway, at the outskirts of Burley Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Mallon escaped without injury except a pair of sprained shoulders. His car was badly damaged, and the trailer was thrown to a repair shop in Burley. The other car and trailer were not damaged, and the Duray man was not injured. The driver of the car, who was driving across the road in front of the Twin Falls man's car, was not identified.
