MORRIS-LUCAS ROW AUGMENTS TROUBLE IN BANKS OF PARTY

Treasurer of National Committee Claims Eye Termined $50,000 Account "Slush Fund" and Wants Agency

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—The Morris-Lucas row today drew new characters into its vortex and left swirling lines upon the waters to delineate more marked difficulties between the Republican Independents and the party regulars.

The fight was an outgrowth of the campaign for the nomination of Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the national committee, and the fund had accumulated $4000 loan, a part of which he used in the campaign against Senator Norris in Nebraska as a Republican.

The original characters in the dispute were Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the original committee of Lucas against Norris' Republicanism, but Norris committed a belated Roosevelt of New York, a Democrat, was near the right position on the power trail, which "I believe is the greatest issue in America."

Diagnosis Also The Nebraska decision as to whether he would support Roosevelt as against President Hoover. He pointed out that he disagreed with the governor on prohibition.

In a statement dated to Republican national headquarters from his Ohio home he said for $50,000 was placed in a local bank merely for bookkeeping convenience. The $50,000 of it was expended exclusively in congressional campaign expenses.

Wade H. Cooper, president of the Congressional Union, said that the fund, testified before Nye's campaign funds committee last Monday that it had expended $40,000 of the fund which went for literature and other expenses in a campaign against Senator Norris in Nebraska.

These Facts Really Obtainable The facts were made available by Senator Nye from public records on file in his office, where his committee has been sitting, and certainly if he desired to proceed in that way he would have had no such statement to the newspaper concerning "Lulu" without first making some disclosure.

The Demand for an Extra Session of Congress

Farm Board Defends Dealing in Cotton and Grain Futures

CHAIRMAN McNARY RECEIVES ANSWER TO RECENT CHARGE

Meanwhile Senator Stiever Advocates Higher Tariff On Wheat Rather Than Imposition of Embargo

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 27.—Defending its operations in the cotton and grain futures markets, the farm board today told Chairman McNary of the senate agriculture committee that they were necessary to prevent large and disturbingly avoid "seriously disturbing" market conditions.

The letter was a reply to congressional criticism of the board for allowing its agents to deal in futures and hold the ground work for the board's members, which may lead after congressional review.

Responsible Senator Stiever, Oregon, Republican, advocated a higher tariff on wheat, rather than imposition of a temporary embargo, suggested by Chairman Stiever of the board.

"It is absolutely essential that adequate steps be taken at once to exclude imports of wheat," Stiever said, "because the tariff has jeoparded the price and if the foreign market goes down to a point where it cannot import wheat, the price will be buying Canadian wheat at the present price."

Stiever said he feared an embargo on wheat would disturb our foreign relations and he saw no reason why the tariff committee should require much time to investigate the adequacy of the present wheat tariff.

The farm board letter to McNary said the wheat and cotton marketing associations had been set up by the futures market because of the price which had been set by private operators.

The cooperative marketing associations in wheat and cotton are agencies set up by farmers to control their own production in competition with the merchant's market. They are not to compete for business on any terms, their cooperative nature is to bring the farmer and the merchant to the same marketplace as a private merchant.

TEXAS-YOUTH FACES CHARGE OF MURDER

Uncle of Dead Girl Files Complaint Against College Student in Shooting

PORT ARTHUR, Texas, Dec. 27 (AP)—A charge of murder was filed today against Robert L. Williams, University of Texas sophomore in connection with the shooting of Miss Elizabeth Johnson, 16.

The charge was filed with Justice of the Peace T. Butler by the father of the girl who was shot in a shooting party at the home of the girl's aunt, Mrs. J. W. Johnson, on December 24.

Williams told officers he and Miss Johnson had parked his automobile in front of the home of the Rev. Orlin Fynn, pastor of the South Methodist church, and he went in to talk with the minister about affairs which had caused him and Miss Johnson to quarrel.

Williams returned to the automobile later, he said, he found Miss Johnson dead, a bullet from a .38-caliber .200 having penetrated her chest.

Williams, a student at the University of Texas, is the Rev. Mr. Fynn's immediate predecessor as pastor of the South church.

Charles Williams, McWhorter said the basis of the complaint was Johnson's expressed charge that young Williams had killed her in the car, according to the police.

The basis of the girl was according to the police, she was shot by a bullet fired from a downward course. While no autopsy has been held, Justice of the Peace T. A. Butler said he believed the bullet had struck the girl's chest.

Williams, in a statement to police this afternoon had said he had the weapon in order to shoot himself in the hand in proof of his love for the girl. When he hit the car to enter the church to consult with Rev. Fynn in an effort to have the pastor intercede in winning the girl back to him, he said, he left the gun in the car.

After an inquest, Justice T. A. Butler announced a verdict of "murder at the hands of a person or persons unknown."

Lester said the youth's preliminary trial probably would be held Monday in his court.

O'Brien's assessed valuations to $1,115,100 in a gain of $100,000 over 1929.

PROSECUTOR FITTS HITS AT GAMBLING

District Attorney Pitts, linking two officers gambling during the slaying of the slaying of E. L. "Zee" Carra, Agua Caliente racketeer man, declared they were "rampant law breakers."

"He said the charges carried machine guns and arsenic guards capable of 'blowing right out' of their minds any blizzard of officers which might come along."

Seven men were arrested when Pitts led 23 police officers in raids on the two gambling barges, the Johnson Smith and the Rose Lake early today. The barges, anchored off Long Beach, Pitts said he found the locations for many gamblers, including those who kidnaped Carra. He learned also the kidnappers had planned to get each on board for checks they feared Carra to slip to obtain his release.

"Each of these ships are equipped with machine guns and arsenic guards," he said, "with many hoodlums making them their headquarters. They have built up a fortune of thousands of dollars and they have machine guns and arsenic guards."

"The capture of Frank Sheldon, ex-convict, in a gun fight with Long Beach police," he said, "and discovery of his alleged connection with the Carra kidnaping, and arsenic, led to the gambling barge raid."

W. H. Waggoner, Long Beach policeman, was critically wounded in a battle, and one manager, who escaped with the aid of accomplices, was believed badly wounded.

Sheldon, Pitts said, will be named Monday in a complaint charging three counts of assault with intent to commit murder, and one count of kidnaping.

Complaints charging violation of the state gambling laws, Pitts said, would be filed against the seven men arrested on the Rose Lake, including Joseph Allen, formerly of Denver, Colorado, who was identified as a son of the officers and Johnson Smith.

Allen, by controlling officers with legal arguments supporting his claim to the Johnson Smith, established a gambling casino, furnished arrests on the Johnson Smith. Allen provided a map to prove his ship was beyond the jurisdiction of Long Beach county.

"In my opinion," Pitts declared, "both ships are within the county lines. We will make every effort possible to obtain conviction."

Ben Schwitzer, Noshua, Missouri, farmer, narrowly escaped death from a circular saw which killed 200 birds after it hit him.

NEW YORK BANKS SUE COLORADOANS

Gotham Institutions Move to Recover $500,000 Lost by Waggoner's Scheming

NEW YORK (AP)—In chemistry the phosphorus family comprises the elements arsenic, phosphorus, arsenic, antimony and bismuth.

Denver, Colo., Dec. 27 (AP)—Six New York banks filed suit today in federal district court here against six Colorado financial institutions and two individuals to recover $500,000 lost through the outwitting of Charles E. Waggoner, former president of the now defunct Bank of Telluride.

The defendants are the Bank of Telluride, at Telluride, Colorado, the First National Bank of Pueblo, Grand Moffett, state bank examiner who now has charge of the affairs of the Bank of Telluride, and G. Anderson, who was operating head of the Newwood Office Loan company, one of Waggoner's enterprises.

The action is the second brought by the New York banks to recover the half million dollars. The previous action in which Waggoner and two other New York banks were named defendants still is pending in New York state courts.

Today's suit resulted from the refusal of McGovern to grant a winding of the six plaintiff banks against the bank of Telluride for $500,000.

Waggoner now is serving a term in the federal penitentiary in Atlanta, Georgia. He was captured in Portland, Wyoming, in September, 1929.

The information alleges Waggoner sent forged code telegrams to the New York banks. Each telegram was signed by a Denver bank and instructed the New York institutions to deposit a total of $500,000 to the credit of the bank of Telluride.

Prior to that, the complaint reads, Waggoner had G. D. Downham, cashier of the Bank of Telluride, sign three blank cashier's checks for the $500,000 from the bank of Telluride in the Chase bank, the plaintiff's alleged Waggoner used the blank cashier's checks to withdraw $350,000.

Kilauea Volcano In Hawaiian Islands Bursts Into Eruption

FOUNTAINS OF LAVA RISE 450 FEET IN SIZZLING OUTBURST

East Crater Noted as Most Continuously Active Spouts Molten Masses

RESTURBANCE RECALLS 1790 ARMY DISASTER

Red, Boiling Rocks Produce Brilliant Display of Fireworks at Night

Here are two views of Kilauea, Hawaiian volcano which has started a new eruption. Above is the crater, Halemauau, as seen from the air. Below shows the boiling lava in the crater pit. A road leads to the pit so tourists may view it from the edge.

(By The Associated Press) HAWAII, Island of Hawaii, Dec. 27.—Kilauea has burst into a new eruption again, with fountains of lava rising 450 feet.

Yet so vast is Kilauea that this latest outburst ranks as a baby. The pit which is surrounded by over 1200 feet of Kilauea is known as the East Crater and has been active continuously and harmlessly since volcanic on earth, a reputation it has earned through its lack of human victims.

Others other volcanoes become quiescent after disaster. Kilauea is the only one that is not.

Even when not particularly active the East Crater often contains a boiling and bubbling mass of molten lava.

Nearly a century and a half ago Kilauea's crater, Halemauau, became unusually active and its rim of black ash destroyed an Hawaiian army. From that time 1790, the crater has been noted as the most active volcano in the Hawaiian Islands.

A few months later, the vents were closed by tremendous explosions hurling ash for miles into the air. The violent disturbance continued for three weeks and at the end of that time the pit had enlarged to 100 acres in area and 1200 feet deep.

Two weeks later, a roaring jet of lava built up a small slender cone and families of lava lake on the floor of the pit.

In July, 1927, a similar display occurred. The lava lake rose in January, 1928. An eruption in July, 1929, lasted several weeks.

As and vapor rise continually from the depths, depositing sulphur. Spectators in viewing the eruptions in Halemauau walk close to the rim of the fissure and look downward.

The eruption was noted as a fracture at night as the red hot lava a better seen. In the day time the sight of the lava fountain was as bold and the boiling lava lake at the bottom of the pit can be watched.

"MOROCCO" PLAYS AT IDAHO THEATRE NOW

"Morocco," a stirring romance picture against the romantic and beautiful life of North Africa, is the current attraction at the Idaho Theatre. Gary Cooper is costar in this unusual drama with Marlene Dietrich, an exotic continental actress. Adolphe Menjou returns to the screen in a polished and appealing part.

A story of a turbulent, fevered, all-consuming love, "Morocco" depicts the resulting drama which a man and a woman are forced into a melodrama of emotions which neither of them welcomes but which they cannot resist. It is more than a beautiful drama told by pictures. Back of it is a moving emotional action in a fascinating setting, an astounding realism, a luring of adventure and romance with plausible.

Cooper is cast as Tom Brown, a private in the famous French Foreign Legion, who takes life and love where he finds it. Cinecine and uncommunicative, he discovers a woman possessing these same qualities in "Amy Jolly," an aloof and mysterious French woman who arrives in a Moroccan city to act as entertainer in a cabaret. Adolphe Menjou, as "Kimonning," a wealthy baron, also falls in love with the exotic beauty, offering her wealth and social position.

Strongly attracted by the gulf between the actress finds for the first time a man who refuses to pursue her—she who, driven by his own respect, ignores the obvious love between them. The compelling dramatic direction of Josef von Sternberg merges all who are it along with the master theater.

On the surrounding program is a Paramount comedy, "In Agate, Out Agate," a cartoon, "Dishing," and Paramount sound news.

52,000 SPECTATORS SEE WEST'S ELEVEN DRUB EASTERN AGGREGATION, 3-0, IN CHARITY GAME

Ace of Oklahoma Place Kicks With 4 Minutes to Go

Two Teams Battle on Even Terms For 56 Minutes in San Francisco Stadium to Aid Crippled Children

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND (Associated Press Staff Writer) SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—Evening show-downs were creeping in over Kraz stadium today and just four minutes were left to play when Bus Mills, University of Oklahoma backfield ace, sent a place kick spinning through the cross bars to give the West a stunning 3-0 victory over the East in this annual football classic played here for charity.

—Dedicated in a struggle as intense as the game it played for, the two teams composed of former Eastland and Westland players fought on even terms for 56 minutes. The Western warriors had led 2-0 in the first quarter, but the Eastern team scored twice in the second quarter to tie the score.

With Johnny Kitzmiller of the University of Oregon, holding the ball, Mills stepped back and led to the mark with 32,000 persons roared their approval.

Soon after the gun ended one of the hardest fought games ever since this annual encounter was inaugurated in 1923. For two periods, the Western eleven had the lead. The Eastern force back almost steadily, twice losing chances to score. The Western team seemed invincible.

The West came back in the third quarter to take a 2-0 lead. The fourth period put over the winning score after snatching at a "break" hard fighting and hard play.

A great lot of stars showed their wares in the second quarter. The field was Kitzmiller, college triple-threat, who finished his football career with 1,000 yards.

Kitzmiller came in at right half for the West in the second quarter. His brilliant all-round play stamped the West as a team to watch.

It made four victories for the West with two, in 1928 and 1929, to the Eastern aggregation. The Eastern children's hospital sponsor of the event realized around $50,000 net profit.

Chubby, avuncle Gene Sarazen, four times winner, will lead the professional chase as the quest starts January 3. Most of the country's better known club players are dropping out of the race.

Stribling Appears As Sharkey's Foe In Miami Contest

Madison Square Garden Attempts to Secure Services of Jack Dempsey at Ballyhoo Organ Keys

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Staff Writer) NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—The beginning to look as if a couple of old familiar performers, with an equally familiar figure at the keys of the ballyhoo organ, will stage the heavyweight act of the season in Miami this February.

The act of the Garden, and the Young team of Jack Sharkey and young Stribling are being groomed to repeat by request of Madison Square Garden, their 1929 battle of the smoking pants and case notes.

It is satisfactory financial arrangements with the Garden, and it is made, Jack Dempsey will play the part of master of ceremonies, adding the lustre of his name and personality to the production, bidding welcome to one who must sign for a title over at Miami.

Dempsey is a double act in the Garden's effort to stage another big match and there are plans to meet Max Schmeling's winner for the heavyweight championship. Sharkey is widely regarded as the best fighter in the world and the New York State athletic commission that warned him to quit was a bluff.

More than 500 competitive contests have been arranged for 1931's first quarter, with the majority featuring the skill of amateurs and women matrons.

Walker Wins High Vote from Critics

62 Sports Writers Select Middleweight Champion as Best All-Around Boxer

NEW YORK, Dec. 27 (AP)—The best all-around fighter in the game today is Mickey Walker, champion of the middleweight, in the opinion of 62 sports writers who contributed to this year's boxing consensus in the New York Evening Sun.

Walker, who has been "fubbing" 113½ heavyweights and heavyweights, gained 24 votes for the honor of being placed the best all-around boxer in the ring today.

Walker was the same man who finished 11th in the world's best fight in 1929 to no avail at all this year, Jack Sharkey, said today. Sharkey, however, is a firm friend of Stribling and has advised him at various times on matters pertaining to boxing.

Alabama's Squad Fails to Register Desired Progress

Southern Grid General Comments on Condition of Dixieland Team: Following Regular Workouts

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN (Associated Press Staff Writer) PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 27.—With the Tournament of Roses camp only five days away, the Alabama team is still short of the top condition reached during the regular season.

Coach Wade said today, "The Southern grid general made this comment following the morning workout given the Dixieland preparation for Washington State January 1. This afternoon the team witnessed the charity struggle between the all-Ohio team aggression and all-Ireland accents."

Coach Wade admitted he had not attempted to "tip up" the players for the contest and expressed the belief they will be in top form by game time. "All we want to play our best game, win or lose."

Questioned concerning his general opinion of the Dixieland team, he was well satisfied. "We had touchdowns scored on us through passes, but that was early in the season. As far as that goes I have never seen a greater passer than Doc of Tennessee. Pals have had a lot of work, but I don't think they will be a defeat, but I wouldn't bet."

In the meantime the Washington State Cougars took their usual dose of fundamentals and ended by running signals for a few new plays, including some pass formations.

OAKLEY, Dec. 27 (Special to The News)—Oakley high school basketball team took the visiting Gooding basketball team into each here tonight in a double-header that resulted in a 27-15 boys' victory and a 19-17 girls' victory.

With the lead seat-laying back and forth throughout and neither team having a commanding lead at any time, the local girls displayed remarkable end-of-quarter floor work to clinch a victory in the last few minutes of play.

Smarter under the slip of a crumpling 27-foot handed them the tilt by the local five. The Gooding boys' team came back to clinch playing much better ball and were defeated only after a last quarter rally that gave Coach J. V. Thompson's side a 27-15 victory.

Rough Riders Win In First Minutes By Scoring Twice

After Opening Kick-Off Victors Advance Ball to 28-Yard Line and March Over Goal in 11 Plays to Tally

By BRIAN BELL (Associated Press Staff Writer)
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 27.—The Notre Dame team at large ruled the gridiron today, just as did Notre Dame of South Bend during the regular football season, and a team called Rocke's all-stars defeated a West and South team coached by Jimmy Phelan, 20 to 7. Fifty thousand excited spectators saw the thrilling game played for chastity under a warm sun.

The West-South outfit furnished most of the excitement but was off to a slow start in the first half and Notre Dame won the game on the final play of the first period. The Phelan-coached team was in the position of leading 10-0 at the end of the first seven minutes for the first time in the game. The West-South again dominated the play in the third period when Russ Saunders, former University of Southern California star, led his mates, from far and near, to their home country. His passing attack drove the ball deep into Notre Dame territory where a fumble gave the Phelan-coached team a 10-0 lead. Notre Dame could not keep its offense together and had to kick.

The white-shirted stars of other days took the ball on Notre Dame's 30-yard line and Saunders passed to Caraway, formerly Purdue, on the 15-yard line. On the next play, Saunders plunged inside tackle, as he always does, the position of the play and the Trojan did not stop until he was past the vital goal line.

Notre Dame played with the same precision which has marked the performance of Rocke's coaches. It was more than a defeat, it was a commanding lead. Captain Caraway took no chances.

The running of Ballard and Jack Elder, hero of the 1927 Army-Notre Dame game, stood out with the line play of Twomey and Moranhan was strong.

Saunders was the best ground gainer for the losers.

Shuffleboard Gains Favor As Florida Winter Sport

Expansion of facilities for playing shuffleboard are being made in many Florida cities, particularly St. Petersburg. Here is a typical scene at the opening of the game.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Dec. 27.—Florida shuffleboard enthusiasts will have plenty of room to play in Florida this winter.

The club at St. Petersburg has launched a building program to include 20 additional courts which will give this city a total of 80 playing fields, according to President E. W. Williams.

When all the courts are completed 200 persons will be able to play shuffleboard each week.

The coaches will get together Monday to discuss the rules. Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's suggestion for having the officials out of their location and other kindred subjects. They will also discuss the proposed "bunch derby" banquet, their "gridiron dinner" where practically everything is tasted and discussed.

Thursday, the National Collegiate Athletic association council will meet to take up the agenda for the following day, when the regular sessions of the annual meeting will be held.

The entertainment committee has added to the festivities by scheduling its annual luncheon for Monday.

The meetings, society known as the "week of the big win" promise to live up to that reputation this year as they have in other years.

Talks on Segregation
There are two of no scheduled talks on Dr. Butler's suggestion and these probably will be plenty of un-scheduled discussions at the open-air sessions of both bodies and in the hotel.

Olen Thalheller, coach at Wisconsin, and Bill Alexander, Georgia Tech, president of the coaches' association, are bringing their pet grievances to New York—the point after touchdown.

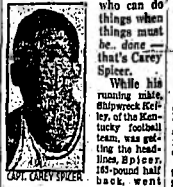

Both want it abolished, holding it to be a nuisance that adds little or nothing to the drama of the game. There are many who will hold to the contrary.

Quiet Grid Star in Kentucky Captains Basketball Quintet

Calm But Aggressive Football Player Leads Scorers of Southern Conference and Excels on Court

(By Associated Press)
LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 27.—One of those quiet fellows back in the haze who can do things when things must be done—that's Carey Spicer.

While his running mate, shipwreck Kelly, of the Kentucky football team, was getting the headlines, Spicer, 185-pound half-back, was quietly making a name for himself.

He is also captain of the Kentucky basketball team for the current season. He is a senior and has been a steady performer on the gridiron and basketball floor for the last three years.

Last year Spicer was second highest football scorer in Kentucky, and topped off the performance by running with the highest average in basketball.

Spicer took an end during his high school career here. Spicer went out for tackle his freshman year at Kentucky.

His sophomore year he moved back to accept the job of center. Coach Harry Gammage shifted him to the backfield. He stayed there.

Draft Rule Still Claims Spotlight

President of Kansas City Blues Halts Official Acceptance of Proposal

CHICAGO, Dec. 27 (AP)—The draft rule between the major leagues and the American association was tucked away in Committee Chairman Al Landis' official file today and then hurriedly jerked out for more consideration.

George Altheimer, president of the Kansas City Blues, halted official acceptance of the draft proposal by demanding a special meeting to reconsider the matter. Thomas H. Ince, president of the American association, accepted no such demand, although no date for the special conference has been set.

Acceptance of the draft plan was made recently by a mail vote throughout the American association. Five clubs, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Columbus, Toledo and Indianapolis, voted to accept the plan. The three other clubs—Louisville, Kansas City and Minneapolis—rejected it.

Muehlebach, one of the big players in American association circles, explained that he was not set against the draft proposal, but that he opposed the way by which the vote was taken.

"On a matter as important as this, a meeting should be called to settle the issue," he said.

ON THE SIDELINES

by BRIAN BELL

Many friends of the University of Southern California blamed their defeat by Notre Dame to close the 1930 season on the lack of a hard schedule.

These friendly critics thought the Trojans had not met the opposition furnished the Rough Riders during the season and as a consequence were not so hard and tough as they should have been on December 6 when their supreme test came.

Whether this was deserved or not may continue to be a topic for debate in and out of the walls of Troy, but Bill Hunter, director of athletics, has made it impossible for this charge to be leveled at Southern California in 1931.

A schedule has been formed including nine hard games and only one repeat. Montana has been slipped in between the Stanford and Notre Dame games. Montana, of course, has not been consulted as to whether it will permit this game to be a "breather" and the Trojans may find they have reckoned without their opponents. At any rate the other nine games will furnish plenty of opposition.

STARTING with St. Mary's team on September 26 and closing with Harry Mehre's Georgia Bulldogs December 12, the Trojans will be occupied in between Oregon State, Washington State, University of Oregon, University of California, Stanford, Montana, Notre Dame and University of Washington.

Notre Dame will be encountered at South Bend and California at Berkeley, with all the others booked for the Coliseum at Los Angeles.

The schedule stretches over 11 weeks with one game in September, four in October, three in November and two in December.

HOWARD CRAGHEAD, iron-man pitcher of Oakland, held an odd position in pitching averages of the Pacific Coast league. Although he suffered the most defeats—22—he was the fourth most effective pitcher in the circuit. His earned run average for nine innings was 3.64, but he lost 22 games and won only 21, finishing under .500. Only three pitchers in the league were more effective on the earned run basis. Ed Baecht, Los Angeles; Tony Freitas, Sacramento and Walter Reuther, Seattle.

Ray Thomas, former star college football player, forced 225 batsmen to miss third strike, averaging more than six strikeouts to each line-up name. His name appeared in 62 batters' boxes and he worked 238 innings.

Baecht pitched the most complete games—32—and the most total innings, 364. Baecht and Jimmy Zinn, San Francisco, tied for the most victories at 26 each.

The unenviable distinction of being the most liberal pitcher in the league fell to Pete Duglia. The Oakland hurler gave 149 bases on balls.

Missouri Defends Big Six Title With Sophomore Stars

Loss of Five of Outstanding Men by Graduation and Two by Ineligibility Rule Results in Problem

(By The Associated Press)
COLUMBIA, Mo., Dec. 27.—The task of defending the Big Six conference basketball championship has become a problem.

Last year the University of Missouri's basketball team, coached by O. A. Brown, a former player, and the outlook this year for the defending champion of Missouri basketball has no new line.

Stanford of the University of Missouri is the star player of a year ago and graduated and 120 more through his school's ineligibility rules. Coach George Edwards is relying upon a flock of sophomores to fill the gaps.

Charlie Rubin, second-half foot-catcher, and Robert Campbell, football star, remain from last season's letter class.

Two ineligible letter winners, Max Collins, an outstanding pitcher in the conference last season, and George Zimmerman, will be ineligible to compete before the end of January. Since their schools' standing permitted them to participate in only one sport this term and they selected football.

Receivers and Newcomers
Other men on the Tiger squad are Orval Boeckmer and Joe Paltryman, receivers last year, and the following newcomers: Brooks Daily, Victor Davis, Herbert Miller, Philip Pellick, Roy Smith, Norman Wagner, Robert Sizer and James Zinn.

By the end of the term it is expected that the University of Missouri Valley college player, will have established sufficiently long residence at the university to be eligible for competition.

The Tiger squad formerly plays four inter-conference games, including three such needed practice, before opening the Big Six season with the University of Missouri, January 10.

Notre Dame Wins Erskine's Award

For Second Successive Year Trophy for Outstanding Team Goes to Ramblers

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 27 (AP)—Andre Koehler, 18-year-old, blondy wife of "Sammy" Joe Savoldi, former Notre Dame football star, today filed suit for divorce on grounds of desertion.

Savoldi, who was hailed as one of Notre Dame's greatest players, was forced to withdraw from Notre Dame November 17 when his secret marriage to Miss Koehler on April 3, 1928, became known. He filed divorce proceedings immediately but later withdrew them.

Savoldi forced withdrawal from Notre Dame came on the eve of the Drake football game.

Although he admitted being married, he told the university officials he had never lived with his wife.

Europe, Hard Hit By World Depression, Turns To 1931 Hoping To Escape Crises

Continent of Frayed Nerves, Bristling With Armaments, Finds Kellogg Pact and League of Nations Helpful

By FRANK MAYLAND KING

LONDON, Dec. 27.—Europe at the year end is a continent of frayed nerves.

A Europe hard hit by general world depression hangs anxiously to 1931 for the first time since the employment and domestic unrest in many countries.

Europe at year end, but peace still bristling with armaments. The League of Nations remains a potent but unproductive agent for social, economic and political reform.

The Kellogg pact is a stroke of good fortune. A "United States of Europe" is but a dream or a hope, although British and German found 23 nations that would assist interest in the plan.

Discontent in Turkey. In Western Europe, Poland, France, Italy, Turkey and Spain all have had trouble, and the Balkans are by no means without the tinkle to start another European conflict.

Other European countries are wrestling with the same problem. Russia continues to cast its uncertain shadow from the North.

The freights that ended the year are still under the eye of commerce.

County Council Arranges to Spend $105,000 On Better Homes in Campaign

LONDON, Dec. 27.—London county council is planning to spend $105,000 for better homes in the city.

Many of these millions will be spent in re-building whole areas of London.

For a decade London has been overcrowded, both under-loaded and over-loaded.

One of his chief occupations now is planning his own door in the face of scores of ill-fated newspaper, mostly American.

Writers make vain pilgrimages to his island in the Madonna sea, braving the wild storm wind in a small Turkish straggler on a passage that can be especially unpleasant on an English channel crossing.

Trotsky, Mute After Two Years' Exile, Gives Up Hope Of Ending Banishment

By FRISCOLIA KING

(Associated Press Wire)

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Dec. 27.—The second year of Leon Trotsky's banishment is drawing to a close with no sign of a break in his exile.

The feverish attempts Trotsky made to seek a return more congenial than Turkey have ceased.

Trotsky (talked much after he was brought to Istanbul by Soviet agents February 17, 1929, but he talks no more.

One of his chief occupations now is planning his own door in the face of scores of ill-fated newspaper, mostly American.

Writers make vain pilgrimages to his island in the Madonna sea, braving the wild storm wind in a small Turkish straggler on a passage that can be especially unpleasant on an English channel crossing.

With lack, Iran, the ruddy young son of Trotsky, is sometimes visible and merrily, but Trotsky himself never.

The land for the new homes is being built for the London county council.

FRENCH FAVOR LOW PAY FOR LABORERS

Economists of France See American System of High Salaries as Inflation

PARIS, Dec. 27.—The present business slump will not have in mind if it forces the United States the system of high salaries is a fatal mistake.

Such is the belief of a "strong" group of French economists.

France favors the low salary system while the high salary plan is distinctly American.

The French economists believe that the American system, under which workers are paid high wages so they will have a greater purchasing power, is inflation.

"More than a year ago, at the beginning of the business slump," says a writer in the newspaper Le Temps, "American industrialists announced that they would not reduce salaries. But salaries have come down just the same. It was inevitable."

"We have long had a name for the high wage system. It is 'inflation.' If this slump displaces the inflation of the high salary, it will not have been in vain."

COAL STOCKS INCREASE

BRUSSELS, Dec. 27.—Belgian coal stocks are increasing. The output of 2,453,200 tons in October, 1930, was an increase of 50,000 tons over a similar month's production. The increase was 248,000 tons over the stock at the end of September.

LEON TROTSKY

Not is there any one in Istanbul, except the doctors who frequently visit the villa, who has seen Mrs. Trotsky, she does not even seem to emerge into the long vegetable garden which stretches from the iron gate of their villa back to the Madonna sea.

There Trotsky daily embarks in a rowing boat on a fishing expedition. For seafarers after information there are his son, a plain-looking man and police dog, who severely love and bark them away.

That two events, one good, one bad, have marked the past year in the life of Trotsky was learned from the briefly responsive son.

The first was that he has completed the first half of his history of the Russian revolution. He writes it in day out day.

The unfortunate area is the recurrence of the malaria from which he formerly suffered. When he first arrived here, Trotsky repeatedly said the climate was detrimental to him. Now he apparently is resigned to the climate, and to the loneliness imposed by the strict Turkish surveillance.

Iron dealers rumors that attempts would again be made to enter some other country.

"Do you think of trying America?" he was asked.

"Too far," Iran answered, and Trotsky smiled. "There, one makes a dirigible."

100 ROCKS DIE ON WHALES AFTER STORM

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Granting mournful, 100 more than 100 whales are fished to death against the rocks near Whangarei, North Island of New Zealand.

The whales were overtaken by a terrific storm as they moved slowly down the New Zealand coast on their way south to the Antarctic.

It will cost more than $300 to tow them out to sea.

SWISS HOLD WHEAT TO ASSURE 30-DAY SUPPLY

BERNE, Switzerland, Dec. 27.—(AP)—Swiss wheat stocks are small, but Switzerland is assured of 30 days' supply for a period of three months.

A wheat provision of 8000 tons cars maintained all times, by the federal government and the stocks imported upon, farmer will make, make the country against starvation for 90 days.

The government says the Swiss farmer $3.30 each 200 pounds of wheat or more than $3 a bushel.

Bread will for 4 cents a pound. Before the war Russia was the chief contributor to the Swiss bread crisis. The Swiss paid back with watches, embroidery and pedicured cattle.

The Swiss 1930 wheat crop is small and poor in quality. With the Russian grain market closed in Switzerland and wheat cheap and plentiful in United States may be that Swiss trade will turn toward that nation.

GERMANY ACQUIRES BUSINESS Foothold IN NORTHERN CHINA

Despite Heavy Competition From American, British and Japanese Interests, Teutons Register Progress

(By The Associated Press)

HARBIN, Manchuria, Dec. 27.—Germany's attempt to get a commercial foothold in this part of Asia is making progress.

Despite heavy competition from American, British and Japanese interests, the German campaign has made progress and now German agencies are better posted in Harbin and Mukden, leading trade centers of the region.

The initial success of the business venture is largely a result of contacts made last summer by the German industrial mission to China.

Members of the mission spent nearly two months in Manchuria and not only made contacts for the development of business but signed contracts for delivery of goods that they were able to immediately execute.

They were particularly successful in selling railroad supplies to Manchuria, live now under construction by Chinese interests.

It is reported the mission arranged to finance construction of new railroads tapping the interior of Manchuria, provided the rolling mill in Silesia, Germany.

Germany also is making a determined effort to push business in other lines throughout Manchuria. Berlin branch companies that once centered their activities in China to other provinces are opening offices in Harbin.

GERMANY EXPANDS ON RADIO SYSTEM

Opening of 75-Kilowatt Station Near Stuttgart, Begins Program of Expansion

STUTTGART, Germany, Dec. 27.—(AP)—German radio fans are tuning in on a new high-power broadcasting station.

The recent opening of the Munich-located station near Stuttgart is the first step in a program of radio expansion aimed at penetrating other European high-power stations from "encircling Germany in the air." The power of the new station cannot be doubted.

Stronger foreign stations are crowding out the German program, radio fans report. The new Stuttgart station broadcasting with power between 25 to 100 watts, will be received only in its immediate vicinity.

Radio companies have replied with a program calling for erection of a number of high-power stations. By the end of 1931 Germany hopes to have an entirely rejuvenated broadcasting system.

Many complaints by radio fans indicate the condition have been rectified by postal authorities.
