

RASKOB FORESEES BOURBON TRIUMPH AT POLS IN 1932

Democratic National Committee Chairman Claims Courageous Stand, However, Basis of Success

(By The Associated Press) — NEW YORK, April 2 — John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, declared in an interview with the New York Evening Post today that the Democrats "never had a better opportunity to win the presidency than in 1932." But —

"Providing it has the strength to take a courageous stand in its platform—declarations, particularly on problems which will be on other economic questions."

"The party," he said, "should stand strong leadership" that would provide strong leadership.

Mr. Raskob estimated the American people may pay $30,000,000 annually for liquor. The cost of the liquor tax, proper, he said, would be $10,000,000, and racketeering adds $2,000,000.

Asked what he thought of efforts to nominate a candidate for president in 1932, the Democratic chairman said:

"I don't know what they can do in the political field. I think they will have to come up with some creative thing, particularly the Democratic party makes a courageous stand."

He said that until now the Democratic leaders are agreeing for a platform that would commit the candidates elected to Congress to a program of social legislation.

The people of the states, he said,

"would decide whether the Eighteenth amendment should be retained or whether the country should be returned to the States. The paper pointed out that such a plank would avoid the war of words.

In the interview, the national chairman has nothing to say about the individual candidates for his party's nomination to the presidency.

ROOSEVELT LEADS

Salt Lake City, April 2 (UPI) — Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, New York, has been chosen by the Democratic national committee to be the candidate for the Eastern state delegation at the Loyal Day Saint church, east tonight.

Gov. Roosevelt, the church said, is the most popular man in the country.

He is the only man who can win the nomination, he said.

He has the support of the people of both major parties.

Gov. Roosevelt's appointment to the Eastern delegation was made at a meeting of the Eastern state delegation at the church.

The church, which opened Saturday for three days, expressed the belief, the only thing that will defeat the New York group, is a lack of support from the rest of the nation.

The church said that the race is and to the attacks of members of both major parties.

PUNISHMENT

Recently in this country the tendency has been to increase the number of crimes and the severity of punishment. As a result the prisons are over-crowded and many states are staggering under the big load of inmates.

The prisons don't seem to have accomplished much of whatever they were expected to accomplish.

Now the Ohio Bar Association is urging its State Legislature to reverse the process. It would judge the efficacy of the penal system more by the number out of prison than by the number in prison. It proposes to decrease the prison population by reviving the criminal code so as to release many prisoners living at home under trustworthy supervision.

The members of the bar believe that prison at the expiration of their minimum sentences, unless the court that sentenced them ordered. Thus a prisoner sentenced to a term of one to ten years would be sent home at the end of a year subject to imprisonment again if he abused the privilege.

Many historians think well of this policy because it would reduce prison expenditures and lighten taxes. Many charity experts think well of it because the prisoners, presumably, would be improving their families as well as themselves. As for reform, there might be fear, as much as there is under the present system.

But the lighter the punishment inflicted, the surer and surer it would have to be.

BANKS NOW SOUND

One of the hopeful signs is the report of the Federal Reserve Board on financial conditions. Last year there were one thousand, three hundred forty-five bank failures reported. In December there were three hundred forty-four. In January of this year there were two hundred and ninety-nine, and in February there were only twenty.

It is a fair conclusion that west banks have been pretty thoroughly eliminated since the banking business is now reorganized and strengthened and fully worthy of confidence. The fine showing too, is a reassuring index to general business conditions. Finance is sounder because business is sounder.

PHILANTHROPY FOR SCHOOLS

"Millions of dollars from private fortunes have gone into education in this country." But so far it has all been given to institutions of higher learning, to universities and colleges and special schools. I cannot see why some of that money should not be used in development of leadership from the great volume of our youth found in the public schools.

There is plenty of talent among the pupils, he says. But too often it is being developed. And the development does not start early enough. The schools do what they can, but are handicapped by a sort of nervousness for new production of education, and especially by lack of funds to use for special purposes.

Concerned parents and teachers have, to support their schools. They cannot be expected to do much more. They can hardly be expected either to afford new experiments in the way of special development of talent, such as this summer session, with funds from private philanthropy, the school authorities would be free to meet their special needs.

"Great industrial institutions" observe the unprivileged, "take millions of dollars out of a city in earnings. I can't see why institutions should not put some of the money back into public education, which is one way of building a great

CRIMES OF POVERTY

A portion of "Hard Times" is reflected in a variety of ways in the work of city police departments. A recent study of police records in one community reveals the following facts:

"There is more stealing," but the buying of liquor has fallen off.

More bad checks are passed, but fewer youths steal automobiles for joy rides;

There are more certainights between husbands and wives, but there are fewer applications for divorce;

There are more varieties of fraud attempted.

In other words, the crimes of poverty increase while the luxuries decrease. People steal because they lack money and things they want, but they don't steal cars because they haven't the money for gasoline and because the owners, faced to carry insurance, take better precautions for safeguarding their property.

The following numbers were given by the county police chief of each state to the Bureau of the Census:

There are more varieties of fraud attempted.

A rather pathetic picture of poverty is presented by police records. Weaknesses of character are brought out in individuals by trouble in their homes, but the trouble is often too much prosperity. That suggests that it is the human weakness, not the external conditions, which is blame for the social maladjustments we call crime.

Son of Friend of Reds' Pilot Shows Prowess in Outfield

Howley Gives Old Mate's Offspring Chance for Berth

Eugene Moore Shows Promise
But Father Writes "If He Doesn't Deliver, Ship Him Out Quick" to Manager

GARRET TALBOT, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
AMPA, Fla., April 2.—Few critics ever have accused Dan Howley of favoritism; but he might be forgiven if he displays a certain parental interest in one youngster trying for an outfield job with his Cincinnati Reds.

The lad is 21-year-old Eugene Moore, Jr., who played his first full season of professional ball with Jackey At's Dallas club of the Texas League, and is now with the Indians of the second-class southpaw platoon, but was converted into a gardener by the acute asthma and became one of the leading players on the circuit.

Moore, Jr., dates back to 1929, the year Howley was catching for Indianapolis, and he has been with him independently the year in which young Gene was born. The club's ace southpaw that season was Eugene Moore, Sr., and the young lad is a proved parent of the subject of this sketch.

Old Haters Like It

Howley and his son became staunch friends in their day as battery mate and have continued a deep-seated friendship ever since.

But other factors have had a long time from Moore, now farmland in Texas, in which he expressed pleasure at having his son break in under his tutelage. He said, however, that he would expect no special favor for the boy.

If he doesn't deliver, ship him out quick, he writes.

Young Moore, however, appears to have every prospect of sticking with the Reds. He is a natural hitter, and has been elected to the clean-up position with Dallas much of last season.

He has a steady whip from the shoulder, and is a good fielder, rough in his fielding. As the Reds have only five gardeners in camp, it is almost certain to be carried.

He is a good all-around athlete, both on and off the field. His unorthodox manner has made him an instant hit with the players and officials alike. He is five feet, 10 inches tall and listed at 170 pounds.

Chilean Fighter Wins 20 Battles In Dixie's Rings

SARASOTA, Fla., April 2 (AP)—Dan Howley, 21, son of the famous school teacher, present manager of the Indians, has been a school teacher, present manager of the Indians, appearing in the ring three consecutive years.

"This same lad," had proved useful wielding a pointer in a Chilean schoolroom, has piled up a string of 20 victories in the ring over fairly good boys in the South.

Segura's scrap book shows that he was graduated from high school with honors, and taught for two years in a normal school for teachers in Copiapo, Chile, at 17 by studying nights to make two grades a year.

He was 18 when he came to the government sent him to a school attended by Indian boys. As they spoke little English, but Spanish well, he had to make up his mind to learn to teach. His ability to best the school bully led him into the boxing ring.

Now he joined a stable of fighters traveling over the world under a European manager. Upon reaching the country Segura left for America, taking a job as a waiter in a hotel, but he will not return home until he has learned more of this country and its customs.

Gassy Stomach Pain Ends Quick

"I suffered for months from indigestion and gas on the stomach," says C. Bedford of Detroit. "I got relief from the very start by taking Puritan Malt. I never again got relief from gas pain and distress. Since taking ACTIDINE each day, I feel entirely better and have no trouble with my stomach."

Almost everyone who takes ACTIDINE rates it. More than two million packages have been sold, and the results are so good that the prescription succeeds when other known remedies fail.

ACTIDINE is the only known remedy for the common ailment of laboratory tests. Circles 800 times its weight of certain heavy, starchy foods which cause trouble—potatoes, beans, corn, etc. It relieves belched stomach blemishes, stops gas, headaches, sleeplessness and nervousness. No other known remedy gives you relief from gas pain and distress. ACTIDINE also fortifies you against colds by reducing acidity. Get ACTIDINE today at any Soda Fountain or Drug Store. Which how quick and independent burning stomach, belching pain, heartburn, diarrhea, fullness, shortness of breath, constipation, flatulence, water retention, etc. etc. delighted—Ad.

Cleveland Gets Titular Battle

Ohio Metropolis' New $3,000,000 Stadium Looms
As Scene of Major Bout

CLEVELAND, April 2.—Cleveland's new $3,000,000 stadium will be the scene of the heavyweight title match between W. L. Birdling and Max Schmeling, who will be virtually decided tonight. The date has been set for July 3.

E. G. Weiland of the Madison Avenue advertising firm which is staging the fight, said following conference with Stadium Manager George Bender, today, that the site of the new stadium selected as the site of the forthcoming match.

It is to be located on the west side of the city, near the intersection of Euclid Avenue and Madison Square Garden

Two decades ago the father of Eugene Moore, Jr., was a hurler in the American association. Dan Howley, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, is his father's mate, while Moore, Jr., is now one of Howley's favorite recruits. He's an outfielder, and likely to stick.

NEW YORK. April 2 (P) — After a brief lull there was a sharp cover in the last hour come to the rescue of a heavy stock market. The market closed at 115 1/2, up 1/2 from the previous day's close of 115 1/4. Five and six month bills rose 1/2 per cent.

Stocks were up 1/2 to 2 1/2. Bankers' acceptances: Unchanged.

NEW YORK. April 2 (P) — The market was unchanged today. The price of stocks was reported 100 basis points above the previous day's close of 115 1/2. With the market closed from today until Monday there was little disposition to do business.

But operators went about their selling after the effects of a first-hour rally had worn off and in general there was a lack of interest in getting into the market.

There was no real action for the action because tomorrow is a holiday and also because the short position was so large. The market was held in check by the fact that most of the operators did not dare to track toward the end of the fourth hour and prices picked up rapidly.

NEW YORK: April 2 (47) — Active short covering in the last hour came to rescue of the securities market, but it did not end with the rally.

Bear operators were busy about their selling after the effects of a first-day gain had worn off.

Stocks were down for the reaction. Because tomorrow is a holiday and also because of the return of the market from the Philippines in part to a local re-sister at $33. With the market closed for today until Monday there was no trading.

Masked Longing

BY HOWARD ROCKEY A ROMANCE OF RADIO

SYNOPSIS: Aileen Gray becomes a "strange" Major on the radio when an accident disrupts her, making her Broadway stage debut. She is a woman who makes a mask to cover her scars. But she wears many masks to try to protect her love life. She is a Cross-eyed Agent, while Arnold Kromberg, movie magnate, is making a move to get her. She is a Major, a masked assassin appears and shoots him. He recovers and threatens to accuse Vincennes of the murder.

Chapter 25

CHANNING SPEAKS PLAINLY

Virginius's make-up failed to hide the sweat of the hours she had thrown into her makeup. Her appetite for breakfast, she reached the shop in Chestnut street before the morning train.

The half-dozen things of girls on their way to office seemed to glaze over her knowledge, as they went past. She was tired now and they flickered off in small groups that a man had formed his own conclusions. Did she look so hard that he had to stop? She had the image in her mind, but the image was not a picture worth both of them.

Arnold Channing had gone to her for it. This was the last crowd she'd allow them if only to prove she was a woman. But she wanted him.

"Well?" she demanded and tossed her head. "Since you're made that perfectly clear—except I say I'm not—I'll take my chance at half-way?"

"I tell you I mean what I said to you—what I let Kromberg believe—what everybody thinks."

Arnold Channing's eyes had caught her roughly in his arms.

JOB HUNTERS FACE DESPERATE PLIGHT IN DAM SITE CITY

George Eastley, Twin Falls, tells Impressions On Recent Visit to Scene of Big Nevada Project.

Miserably employed, in so far as the Boulder dam is concerned, is George Eastley, Twin Falls, according to George R. Eastley, Twin Falls, who returned the first of the week following a few days visit to the work.

Rooms in and out of Las Vegas are lined with job-seekers—many of them with their families—going and coming. Mr. Eastley said, "Tourists are still coming in, but all the houses and there are tent colonies. Many with their families camping out. It's not stop at Las Vegas, but many are here for the dam site, 20 miles away."

Contractors last week had not yet received contracts for building of the dam. They were doing a little work on the dam site, but the roads were closed, leaving about 250 on the road. They were doing some earthmoving, some trails down the canyon walls to the base of the dam, and dredging 100 feet of rock.

Finish Railroad Building.

Building of the railroad from Las Vegas to the dam site is practically finished. Last Saturday, Mr. Eastley said, 100 men were employed in building of the road were discharged, leaving about 250 on the road. They were doing some earthmoving, some trails down the canyon walls to the base of the dam, and dredging 100 feet of rock.

Common labor is paid $3.50, and carpenters $4 per day. Board costs $1.50 per day, a matineer required $1.50 per day, and a nighter $2.50 per day, and there are deductions of five cents a day for medicine, five cents a day for insurance, and $1 a month for laundry.

With work on the dam in full swing, it is estimated that there will be employment at the dam site for a population of 1,000 men. Many more than that will be employed at the dam site.

Atmosphere is atmosphere for keeping men when the work starts because of high temperatures. He has dug out a house in the Las Vegas as high as 115 and 103 degrees, and higher than that in the canyon.

Many Hopes on Aqueduct.

Many of the job hunters now at Las Vegas are looking forward to finding their homes for employment upon completion of the dam project. It is estimated that at an estimated cost of $100 million, the dam will be completed in 1935.

Many of the job hunters at Las Vegas are few. "Indications" of hardly any work are shown in the banks and on the streets. There are no houses that cannot be marketed. And they probably haven't had much time to look around. They make me think of a puppy dog that has been whipped for something it can't understand. They are thoroughly naked.

Offers Way Out.

Las Vegas can do little or nothing to make up for the lack of opportunity to offer an opportunity twice-a-week to race out in trucks to Los Angeles. In contrast to hardships endured by stockmen, a man can immediately open a shop, get supplies, and start to be enrolling generous patronage. An acquaintance known to me, a stockman, who has been a stockman for the past 15 years, for many years, came to Las Vegas from Reno because he could live comfortably on his savings, and by the dam site. Gambling racket, pronto! the patrons mostly men, come in, and people don't seem to be buying anything in the stores.

"Men stand around in little groups. They talk about aeronautics, racing, politics, in the banks and on the streets. There are no houses that cannot be marketed. And they probably haven't had much time to look around. They make me think of a puppy dog that has been whipped for something it can't understand. They are thoroughly naked.
