PROHIBITION BREWS ROW WITHIN RANKS OF BOURBON PARTY

Southern Leaders Renew Demands for Subordinating Run Dispute to Economic Issues in 1932 Campaign

(By The Associated Press) — (AP Special to The News)—A Southern delegation of the Bourbon party on prohibition broke out afresh today over the letter from national committee members of the national committee to the president regarding his plan to modify the Eighteenth amendment.

A number of Southern party leaders, who had been instrumental in demands for subordinating prohibition to economic issues in the 1932 campaign, went forward with their plan to keep adoption of the Ratification amendment.

They said they regarded the chairman's letter, made public yesterday, as an attempt to commit the party to a stand-off with him for the meeting next winter.

"Economic problems must have first place in any Democratic program," said Senator Frank Trammell, a former chairman of the national committee.

Full characterized Rankin's letter as "a strenuous attempt to make room for the party in the 1932 election." An infinite number of years exclude ratification or deliberation of all other anti-prohibition problems."

Advanced later:

The protemme, rendered advanced by the National Committee on Prohibition, tariff restrictions, no credit funds and the treasury deficit as items which the party should face, was introduced.

Representative Ayer, Kansas City, another member of the same party group and a representative of the party, also advanced the same program.

The Bourbon recently called for a national convention if the party leaders advancing prohibition as a dominant issue in 1932.

It added, however, he knew some of the members of the national committee sent the views of the states because they were elected in 1928 when former Governor Smith of New York, then Vice-President, was in office.

He said the party's position on specific party policies such as those advanced by Rankin.

No Comment to Make

Declaring he had no comment to make on the wisdom of Rankin's suggestion, Senator George Walsh, Atlanta, said the party's national committee plan was fine, "but it is up to the individual delegations to decide what to do."

"It propects, as I understand it," Walsh said, "not the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, but an amendment under which each state would ratify the amendment when it should be dry or wet. That is exactly the result which would follow if the amendment were repealed."

Some of the party's leading anti-prohibitionists privately expressed the view that national chairman was making a mistake.

S—Baseball's 31st race for the Pacific Coast league-pennant gets underway tomorrow with the eight clubs in order evenly matched than last year and a 26 weeks regular-schedule in place of the all-pennant-in effect since 1928.

Elaborate ceremonies will usher in the National pastime as usual with opening game to take place in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento.

With the exception of Sacramento, all the clubs have been eliminated for the first chase. Sacramento sold Myrl Hoag, brilliant young out-fielder to the New York Yankees and Frank Smith, tall left-handed pitcher, to the Cleveland Indians.

Two new managers will make their debut: Spencer Abbott, former big league player, takes over the Portland club for the last fifteen years, will replace Portland, replacing Larry Woodall, who returned as a catcher. George O'Brien, who had his playing career for the Yankees, Cleveland and Detroit and the Philadelphia Athletics, will take the other position. Abbott has been a manager in the lower leagues for ten years. Burns also will guide the initial pack. He relieves for this season at least, Wade (Red) Miller, who is recovering from a serious operation.

Observers generally favor Hollywood and the San Francisco Seals for the pennant. The Angels and Indians as the "dark horses." The Angels has an assortment of new faces but has not been overly impressive in spring training. The Indians will ride canoe in strong in the opening week of 1931 and has bolstered for the present drive.

Johnny Risko Wins Over New Zealand Fighter on Points

TORONTO, Ontario, April 6 (AP)—Johnny Risko, Cleveland boxer, fought his way to victory over the best of the New Zealand boxers yesterday heavyweight by decisively out-polling the "Hard Rock" Joe Hines in a grueling 10-round bout here today. Risko weighed 191½; Hines 200½.

The bout was the first between two fighters who have been 10 years apart. Risko failed to make a hit with $500 fans, brought up for years on a flyweight diet.

Risko won with a routine rally in the ninth round. Cuthbertson staggered, started sweating, and as Hines was just as careful, making only one hit. In the 10th, if still, Hines took the upper hand in the fourth and fifth with hard, walking to the head and body and had the better of it.

In the sixth however, Risko suddenly came to life and had the better of it the remainder of the bout. He had the better of the eighth right in the ninth and had the hard rock-making comitudo at the last. The three judges voted unanimously for Risko.

COUNCIL STRIKES
AT "HIT AND RUN"
AUTOMOBILE PILOT

Amendment to Ordinance
Provides Penalty For Failure to Stop After
Any Sort of Collision

An amendment to Twin Falls' traffic ordinance to stop hit-and-run drivers was adopted by the city council, under suspension of the rules requiring three readings at all meetings. It was voted, and the new measure was made effective forthwith.

The amendment to make it a second class offense provides that "in every accident the driver of the car, or drivers of cars involved, shall stop and immediately give information concerning the accident and the damage caused." When any person has been injured, it requires the driver to immediately stop and render aid, and in such cases as well as where property is damaged, to determine whether their true names and addresses.

With the exception of the first reading, it must be to the police. This the ordinance provides, is not for the purpose of punishment, but only as a means of identification.

Adopts New Name

A proposed amendment to the dairy ordinance, requiring evidence of test showing every cow to be in a condition to bear, was defeated. The bill to be free from contagious abortion was placed on its second reading last evening. The motion to amend the bill to read the other name "Bull's" (thereby) because the industry is known.

A bill to prohibit the use of sharp instruments to excise plating of the registration number on milk bottles, can for purposes of identification, was defeated. The bill was introduced at first reading last evening.

It was indicated that final action on both measures might be deferred until next session. The opportunity will be given for dairymen and other interested persons to voice their views on the subject.

Bill Failed to Veto

The first divided vote was taken on more than two years ago to condemn the highway between Thomas, Idaho, and Twin Falls. The county commissioners and waterworks voted against construction at the city's expense of a new curb on one side of the existing curb. The commissioners have authorized building of a new sidewalk if the city provides a new curb.

Arriving on the scene a few minutes later, Sheriff E. P. Prairier arrested Bell and his brother. The commissioners, who complained about being men with driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, were issued yesterday in had established.

It was Mr. Sartorius' conclusion that the commissioners had no right to demand payment for the federal government, that for any other Twin Falls property owner. Other members of the council were present.

The commissioners, however, argued that the sidewalk probably would not be built by the government unless the curb were furnished by the city.

Prepared for Canvas

Last evening's session of the council did not adjourn but proceeded to consider the election of mayor. The commissioners and commissioners will meet again to canvas returns of today's election of mayor and two councilmen.

The commissioners, during March made 45 arrests and the police magistrate assessed $350 fines according to a monthly report received by the commissioners. The amount of traffic violations there were 35 arrests; violation of other laws 10; disorderly conduct, 12; temperance, 10; drunkenness, 10; state law 4. Police court collections during the month totalled $442.

The commissioners' report closed March receipts totalling $8290, with disbursements totalling $12,900, and $50,000 balance remaining.
