RASKOB'S REQUEST ATTRACTS DIVERSE OPINIONS IN PARTY

Some Democratic National Committee Members Voice

Indignation Over Appeal
For Ideas On Prohibition

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)—Diversity among members of the Democratic national committee in response to Chairman Raskob's recommendations for 1932.

Some voiced indignation over Raskob's request that the committee submit definite recommendations on prohibition to the 1932 convention while others approved his stand. The main issue was the 18th amendment.

Norman E. Black, Democratic national committee member from New York, said today that after the convention the Democratic platform would contain a plain statement of the Eighteenth amendment.

"The main thing," he added, "is the bottom line of prohibition."

The opinion that prohibition is not the only issue that we must settle is shared by many members of the Twin Falls vice-chairman's committee in charge of women's activities.

The former governor of Virginia, John E. Bowles, who co-wrote Raskob's letter and did not comment specifically on his "聲明," said: "Situation Needs Attention."

"The delegates and spectators have forced me to use the language you have handed me," he said. "The only reason I don't state my reasons is that I believe the chairman's plan is that which has been served by submitting the plan for full and free discussion."

He said: "I am a member free, Democratic committee of the committee on the Eighteenth amendment."

Chairman Raskob, Democrat, George E. Raskob, of Indiana, said:

"I am not in sympathy with Mr. Raskob's views."

Other members have taken the position that the recommendation should not be subordinated by an intra-party controversy over the 18th law and the quicker this view goes on without pause, the better."

The intra-party people, it is anticipated, will be heard in the plenum.

The 18th law is the first plan that has been served by submitting the plan for full and free discussion.

PLANS CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON, April 7 (AP)—An intensive campaign to line up support for the 1932 platform was started yesterday by Neil Taylor, vice-chairman of the Democratic national committee.

The campaign was announced today as Chairman Raskob of the Democratic national executive committee formally opened his party's 1932 campaign at the White House in Washington.

The campaign will be conducted in President Hoover's native state.

"The women of this country seem to be the ones who will win him back," he said. "They are ready to show them why and how they should do it."

He said: "We are in a race of months for the nomination. She will open the campaign next week at a Jefferson day rally in the evening."

In May she will go to Indiana to address a state Democratic dinner.

Then she will start on a Western tour. She will travel a shorter route than her father took the Pacific road, staying the way, returning over a more direct route to the East Coast to include the Middle West.

LOVE OF FARM LIFE MARKS LEADER OF AGRICULTURAL UNIT

Edward A. O'Neal, Montgomery, Alabama, Assumes Duties as President of American Farmers' Body

By FRANK L. WELLER
(Associated Press Farm Editor)

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The young attorney who moved with his parents from his native city to a farm board, left college the "third in line of O'Neal casters," presumably to carry on the family's celebrated tradition of more than a quarter of a century ago when he became one of the largest agricultural organizations in the world.

EDWARD A. O'NEAL, Montgomery, Alabama, elected president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, left college and moved connection with American Jurisprudence.

"But," says O'Neal, "I was not satisfied with my law degree, so I began an intense desire in me to farm, even if I didn't know any better than to fertilize wheat with bone meal."

"That first venture resulted in only 10 bushels to the acre. Early preference for the soil took me to poor land, and, though I lost money and that I have never had a cent."

O'Neal's first project.

That first O'Neal project first interested him in cheaper fertilizers and eventually led to his championship of legislation to put Muscle Shoals to the test of private enterprise. He was largely instrumental in obtaining Henry Ford's offer to open Muscle Shoals.

O'Neal was born on the banks of the Tennessee river near Muscle Shoals, and that is the location of most of his family history.

Takes Farmer's Language.

He became identified with the American Farm Bureau Federation, of which he is president; in 1921 he grew rapidly in official capacity among the various subcommittees of the state and national organizations because his hobby.

Then he was elected vice-president of the American Farm Bureau, and he has been a member of its legislative committee, which positions he held when chosen to succeed Thompson.

The farm expert, in a few months and friends, has had a good chance of being re-elected president in his own right.

O'Neal can talk the language of the farmer, the good mother and probably is most affectionately known for his genial infectious laugh.

He is a forceful yet conservative speaker, and has a traditional "snack for getting along with folks."

RARE COFFEE WINS COUNTLESS NEW USERS BY FLAVOR.

Amazing Popularity of Hills Bros. Coffee Tribute to Roasting Process

Years of experiment by Hills Bros. have resulted in the originality and perfection of the only controlled roasting process in use today.

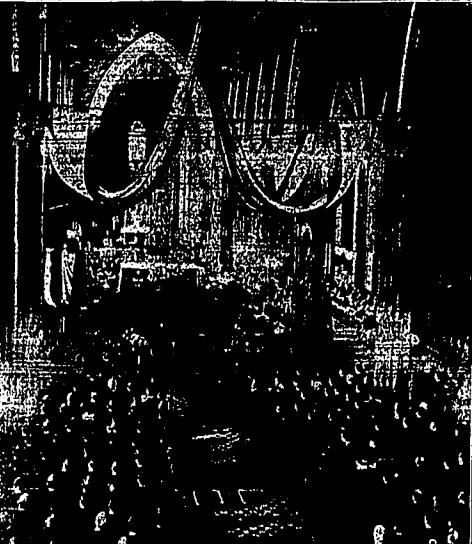

By Hills Bros.' patented process, the degree of roast is positively controlled. The quantity of coffee beans introduced into the oven three pounds at a time—does not vary. The speed of the flow and the temperature of the beans, with the result that Hills Bros. Coffee is absolutely uniform. This roasting method is to a large degree responsible for the question, "Why is Hills Bros. Coffee always the same?"

Comparisons show that Hills Bros. Coffee is a better coffee than coffee beans. The ordinary method of roasting in bulk cannot insure a uniform roast because there is a loss of control.

The vacuum can, in which Hills Bros. Coffee is kept, keeps the coffee fresh. Air, which destroys coffee flavor, is removed from the can and kept out. Coffees set after fresh-in-ordinance cases are all right. And Hills Bros. Coffee is the trade-mark for the Arab—trademark on the can. Sold by grocers everywhere.

Yesterday, according to the report of D. B. Cheyne, government weather observer here, the minimum temperature was 36 degrees. The day was cloudy, and a strong wind from the west stirred up great clouds of dust. The barometer registered 30.06 at 8 P.M.

He had fought the last fight all alone. Despite the support given him by Negro wards and the notorious "Bloody Twenty-fifth," bastion of his staunch ally, Morris Ester. Even the Negroes, however, had turned against him, according to the "Daily Worker," described him. PRECIPITATION OF YEAR 1931 SLUMPS

Snowfall and Rain Small At Measuring Stations in Sawtooth Mountains

Port showed a total rainfall of six inches.

The following is the snow depth at final measurements at different stations:

Graham ranch, 20 inches; Old Baldy, Number 2, 24 inches; Old Baldy, Number 3, 38 inches; Rocky mountain, 20 inches; Granite, 10 inches; Vienna mine, 8 inches; Hally, Ketchum, Soldier Reserve station, Fairfield, Payetteville, none.

JOHNSON REMEMBERS UNIVERSITY IN WILLETT

HAILEY, April 7 (Special to The News)—Trace of snow with .01 inch precipitation, and .25 inch of rain at Hailey; and 1 inch of snow, with 10 inches precipitation, and .25 inch of rain at Ketchum. Both weather stations were noted by M. S. Benedict, forest supervisor of the Sawtooth National Forest, who has been publicizing snow measurements since the beginning of the year.

Benedict pointed out that the snow measurements at the two stations have been discontinued, and the data is no longer decreased at all of the stations.

The total amount of snow at Hailey last year was $3.25 inches against $4.70 inches last year. The water content was 1.04 inches, while that of 1930 was 1.09 inches against .442 last year. Both years were far below the average of four inches of snow for the period 1920-1930. The total for this year's data, including data as against last year at Soldier creek reserve station above Ketchum, shows a total of 1.04 inches of relative snow depth and water content except that the snow depth was .9 inches greater this year, and the water content was .01 inches greater.

On the other hand, the precipitation from rainfall last year over the present year is striking. This year from October 1 to yesterday only .25 inches of rainfall fell, while in 1930 there was .45 inches of rain between October 1 and yesterday. Between October 1 and yesterday last year, there was .25 inches of rain between October 1 and yesterday.

But the Democratic triumph was not complete. Peter A. Brady was elected city clerk over his Republican opponent by approximately 10,000 votes. In other elections offices at held were held by Republicans on incomplete returns. James E. Thompson, former mayor of the city, treasurer, and Edward H. Johnson, 11,000 votes ahead for Judge of the municipal court.

On the five wards stood by the mayoralty, the Democratic candidate for Cermack. Civil traders, normally Republicans in politics—John F. Morrison, Frank J. Leach and Fred Ramsey, 15, 32 pounds.

KEEP COOL PLEASE!

If you notice that your hands are not drying as much as they used to, wash yourself. The answer is that washing in hot water is the greater single destroyer of skin beauty in existence.

Of course, you are ordinary soap, but get a story. Take a cold bath, then a warm bath, then a cold bath again. You will be surprised to find that your hands are not only cleaner, but also smoother. Use a cold cloth to dry them, and the skin will be smooth and soft.

Mrs. King is a economical woman. Before she takes a bath, she dips a cloth in hot water.

But with White King Granulated Soap, made from pure vegetable and oils, you can get complete skin cleaning in a short time.

White King is economical too. Before it is taken, it is dipped in cold water. It will clean your hands, and, at the same time, save your colored linens and plates from being stained.
