

FARM BOARD FUND OF $200,000,000 AWAITS DEMANDS

Final installment, $100,000,000 of Board's $500,000,000 Appropriation, Becomes Available Soon

WASHINGTON, April 25.—When the new crop year opens July 1, the farm board will have approximately $200,000,000 available to assist farmers through co-operatives to market their products.

On April 15 it had more than $100,000,000 of which the balance of $100,000,000 was unappropriated. The final installment, $100,000,000 of the board's $500,000,000 appropriation, becomes available July 1. Payment of loans by co-operatives expected to offset stabilization expenditures in the interim.

Wheat growers' co-operatives are being financed through commercial and intermediate credit banks. Supplemental loans to farm boards will be $100,000,000, the same as last year. The board expects these co-operatives to be in operation by June 1, 1931.

Babson Points Out Opportunities For Investors, But Advises Stock Selection On Facts—Not Hunches

Bay State Statistician Gives Four Reasons For Advantageous Selection of Investments at Present Time

By ROGER W. BABSON
BABSON PAPER, April 25—Advice to investors is: "Use the facts to guide you in making selections on industries, companies and securities." Notwithstanding present lack of public interest in stocks, there are opportunities which will lead fortunes to those who have the patience and skill to search out the fundamentally strong situations.

While men are not lying back and doing nothing—they are studying business trends, earnings dividends, balance sheets and other facts. The business world is full of opportunities which are just what investors need to get facts on investments.

For four good reasons now is the time to get the facts. First, there is a general feeling of recovery. Second, you can get the facts on the four reasons for the upward movement of the market.

Second, the results of a most drastic depression test are now at hand. If an industry or company has stood this test well, it should be a safe investment.

Third, there never was a time in our past financial history when so much information on investment was available as there is today.

Fourth, and most important, the time to invest for the future is now. In these times of opportunity, it is not only possible to get the facts, but to get them at a discount.

Current Earnings

Current corporate earnings make a very good reading, but they deserve the careful attention of every investor in order that he may be informed on the relative showing of various industries and companies.

While only a few companies have reported actual first quarter earnings, a careful preliminary estimate of 34 corporations indicates a profit margin of 30 per cent below the first quarter of last year.

On the other hand, some industries are showing very clear signs of recovery, and certain companies are actually exceeding a year ago's performance.

CANAL BOARD WAITS
FOR COURT'S ORDER

Informal Hearing On Eve
Of District Court Trial
Makes Positions Plain

Twin Falls Canal company directors are unwilling to accept any liability on account of the Eighth avenue lateral in Twin Falls without a court order defining the measure of that liability, if any, it was made evident at an informal meeting between canal company directors and members of Twin Falls city council at the city hall here yesterday afternoon.

The meeting had been arranged with view to possible settlement and avoidance of litigation. It was started by the city to require the canal company to confine the lateral within prescribed limits. This case has been set for trial in district court here Monday.

INEXPERIENCE FAILS TO STOP OIL INVESTIGATOR

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 25 (AP)—A few years ago Attorney Murray of Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma was an obscure country lawyer. Now named by the colorful executive to investigate oil conditions in the Bonner state, the younger Murray is rapidly becoming an authority on the oil situation.

When "Alvin" appointed Cossitt Cramer to look into the petroleum situation, he announced that Cramer knew little about the industry and therefore could make an unbiased probe.

However, Cramer Murray has made an intensive study of oil since he started on his new job. Establishing an office in Oklahoma City, he hired an assistant and drove into the tangled phantoms of the industry with determination.

He came to the state capital from Lindsay, Oklahoma, where he has practiced law for years.

Secretary Of War Looms
In-Line For High Position

Political Gossip Suggests Hurley for Chairmanship of Republican Committee

By ALEXANDER H. GEORGE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, April 25—The spotlight of national political prominence is focused on the handsome features and military figure of Patrick J. Hurley, Oklahoma.

Youngest member of the Hoover cabinet and holding from one of the youngest states, the personable secretary of war has won high place in the councils of the Republican party.

Political gossip has suggested that as a possible chairman of the Republican national committee, when and if Senator Press of Ohio retires, reports also suggest a possible vice presidential nomination in 1932 for him, should Curtis decline not to seek re-election to his present post here.

In the 1928 campaign Hurley was one of Mr. Hoover's staunchest supporters in the Southwest. Oklahoma, generally Democratic, went Republican. Mr. Hoover's selection of Hurley for secretary of war was accorded enthusiastic approval by Oklahoma.

It was the first time that a citizen of that state had been chosen for a cabinet position.

Lawyer, Soldier, Executive

Little person described Colonel Hurley as a distinguished lawyer, business man and soldier and a capable executive. He was one of Mr. Hoover's "new patriots," men who made considerable sacrifice to take low-salaried positions in the national government.

Popular here and in his home state, Hurley has had the additional advantage of being among those who are closest to the president.

Tall, slender, always perfectly groomed, he is a striking figure in cavalry and king collar, in informal business clothes or in an officer's uniform. Wealthy, he rose from the "bottom of the ladder."

A Boy Ride-Drive

At 11 he was supervising the work of a mule, called Kicking Pete, in a coal mine. At 14, he was a corporal and extremely disappointed because he was refused permission on account of his youth, to join the Rough Riders.

A few years later he was a cavalry captain in the Indian Territorial Volunteer Militia, and particu-

PATRICK J. HURLEY

acted in an expedition against the Indian chief, Crazy Snake. Later he fought for the Indians as counsel for the Choctaw Nation.

A major and lieutenant-colonel in the World war, he was cited for gallantry in action. Hurley is witty, impulsive and a "brutal" story teller and extemporaneous speaker.

CORAL GUSTS TURQUOISE

AS SPRING COLOR ACCENT

PARIS, April 25 (AP)—Coral has taken the place of turquoise as a color accent this spring.

The rose-hued stones are used as hat pins, belt buckles, neckties and earrings. Beaded ball pins are another coral favorite.

They are thrust into the front of a belt, shoe and white crepe or clipped to the neckline of a black frock of lacy black knit.

IDAHO'S MINES CUT

Increased Exploration and Ore Development, However,
Occur in Shoshone County

BOISE, April 25 (AP)—The year 1930 was one of curtailed production in the Idaho mining industry, due to depressed prices of metal.

However, the year was marked by increased exploration and ore development in Shoshone county, in which is the largest portion of Idaho mining industry.

The report said: "The total production, number of men employed and expenditures for construction and mine plant installation were the smallest that the county has witnessed for many years."

Brighter Outlook

As a brighter outlook, however, he said, "practically all of the large mines, whether they suspended production or not, maintained an active development campaign throughout the year. This work, with scarcely an exception, greatly increased the known ore reserves. A large number of companies have provided their mine and mill plants. Economical Investment
Service

During the past twenty years, we have loaned some millions of dollars in Twin Falls and vicinity. In recent years, a constantly increasing number of these loans have been taken over by local investors. There are two principal reasons for this:

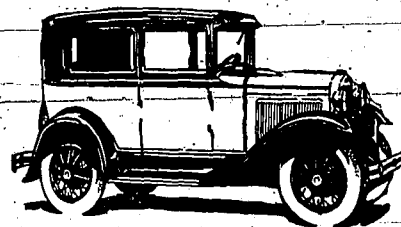

1. We have given our patrons safe loans. They get the specified interest return, usually on time, and in due course, they get back their original capital investment. At all times they are well secured by first mortgage on the most tangible form of security, improved real estate.

2. The overhead, or spread between the total paid by the borrower and the total received by the investor is smaller than in the case of any other organization doing any considerable amount of loan business in this territory.

Investors are invited to look over our list of completed loans. We have them in sums from a few hundred dollars up some thousands.

VALUES

..a new six.. a new eight

The attributes of high quality, as long associated with the Desoto automobiles, are more strongly emphasized than ever before in the new Six and Eight displayed for the first time this week. Even more than their illustrious predecessors, these latest Desoto are distinctly the quality cars of the modern era. The new Desoto Six, now offered for public inspection and trial, is ahead of its time in all qualities that are in greatest demand. It is faster, smoother and more powerful; it is handomer in line, and appointments; it is durable and economical of fuel, and it achieves additional safety through a new double-drop frame that permits it to be built exceptionally close to the road, without sacrifice of interior roominess. This lowness adds to its beauty as well as its safety—it gives the car a lithe, swanky appearance that is unapproached in any car of corresponding price. Beauty of line is also enhanced by a slender-profile radiator, a longer hood and single-bar bumpers. Bodies are of steel, welded in one piece, without joints or seams to squeak and rattle. The new Desoto Straight Eight, companion car to the Desoto Six, also has been improved to meet present demands. The engine now develops 77 horse power, insuring a supply of smooth power that is more than ample for the requirements of ordinary driving, with a generous reserve for the extraordinary demands of hill climbing and high speeds. A slender-profile radiator and longer hood give it an appearance of rakish lowness. Improved spring design, together with four hydraulic shock absorbers, provide exceptionally easy riding qualities. The many fine mechanical features that won this car instant success are retained, and the Unisteel safety body is unchanged in structure, with improvements in appearance and fittings.

LIABILITY VARIES IN MOTOR WRECK CLAIMS

If Joseph H. McCoy, Nevada mining man, fatally injured in an automobile collision while riding from Boise to Twin Falls with Captain H. H. Krenzel, Twin Falls, last October 8, was making the trip as a business associate of Captain Krenzel, he occupied a different position under the law than if he had been riding as a guest. It is a point of law that Captain Krenzel asserted in argument on a demurrer in district court here yesterday. It was shown that Mr. McCoy and Captain Krenzel were interested together in mining property at McCoy, Nevada.

Demurrer was introduced by counsel for Captain Krenzel, defendant in a suit for $30,000 damages instituted by Mrs. Florence McCoy and Captain H. H. McCoy and Captain Krenzel. McCoy widow and son of Joseph H. McCoy.

Plaintiff Judge W. A. Babcock heard the arguments on the demurrer and reserved his ruling.

The secretary of war, who will be accompanied by army engineers, has informed Representative Ed. B. Almon of Alabama of the visit.

"TRADER HORN" PLAYS AT IDAHO THEATRE NOW

One of the largest motion picture expeditions ever in Africa spent six months filming "Trader Horn." This feature at the Idaho Theatre, Twin Falls, is a spectacular film, produced by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer company, will continue its engagement at the Idaho Theatre—night. Four performances are being given daily, at 1:30, 4:30, 7:30, and 10:30 P. M.

The most interesting phase in the making of "Trader Horn," according to members of the cast, was the contact with African tribes. Twelve tribes were numbered in the army of porters required to carry loads of supplies and equipment to the interior of Africa. Sometimes they quarreled among themselves and one night the followers were routed out from their mosquito nets to make a fight in which natives were killed and spears flashed in the moonlight.

At one time a scarcity of rice led some five hundred natives to go on strike in the "wilderness" where rice was held. The strikers would eat the white rice they stole from their bulky followers within a mile of a cannibal village, but were back by an interpreter.

Again, the primitive tribesmen got out of hand in a native temple when Zerkia Booth, lauded as a beauty, was taken to a rooming house and Carey stayed there by speaking in their own language.

COMMON SPEAKING TONE APPEARS NOT SO QUIET

NEW YORK, April 25 (AP)—In ordinary conversation the vowel sounds are 10,000 times as powerful as speech to the ear as the human voice.

These measurements, made electrically, are reported to the Acoustical Society of America by R. K. Wever and W. S. Gette.

At this rate a baby's cry would be about 1,000,000 times above the threshold of audibility. The baby figures, however, are not given by these scientists "have research done for 'tallie' their hearing."

SIX PRESIDENTS SEEK DOMAIN FOR AMERICA

Substitution of Oil Instead of Coal as Fuel for Ships Reduces Value

WASHINGTON, April 25

Six presidents, Lin-

than 60 years to bring the

Danish West Indies—the

Virgin Islands—under the Amer-

The islands have been under the stars and stripes just a little more than 14 years. Yet President Hoover

now says of the group:

"The Virgin Islands may have more military value some time.

Opinion upon this question is much divided. In any event, when we paid $25,000,000 for them, we acquired an effective poorhouse, comprising 90 per cent of the population.

What has happened to those 14 years to change so utterly the commercial and even the military relatives in the Caribbean?

On one point the long record is clear. As no time did the self-considered economic value of what are now the Virgin Islands, their own agricultural or other resources, elder into American desire to acquire title to this outpost in the Caribbean.

They were almost as much of an effective poorhouse 60 years ago as they are today.

FIRE DESTROYS RANCH

BUILDINGS NEAR DIXON

DIXON, April 25 (Special to The News)—A fire, Wednesday afternoon, destroyed a large building on the farm owned by W. B. Dault. The house was saved by the combined for several hours at the terrific wind

from a burning hay stack.

The barn was destroyed, also a hay deck, chicken house, and all the feed for Mr. Dault's stock.

A little over a week ago the

Fans Await Stirling-Schmelzing Bout in Giant Stadium

Gooding College Wins Annual "Outlaw" Meet

82,000 Faithful
Await Spectacle
In Big Structure

Ingenious Engineering Devices and Unique Design Feature Cleveland's New Outdoor Sports Arena

The Associated Press CLEVELAND, April 25.—The spectacular new outdoor arena, which will be opened here July 3 with the Schmelzing-Stirling championship bout.

Some of the unique plans for operation have been revealed. George H. Bender, stadium manager, who said it will be opened only in waiting capacity to soldiers fired at Chicago.

The structure, the only one in the country, to be opened to the public by a national fight, is of Cleveland, will have 82,000 permanent seats and room in the field for 40, 000 more, permitting such fights as championship bouts to be witnessed by 122,000 spectators.

Double decking of seats will make it the most compact stadium of its size in the country, Bender
said.

Provides Loud Speakers
The method of bringing voices and other sounds close to the ears of the audience will be the most unusual feature. The audience will be well pleased with loud speakers that ordinary conversation spoken in any part of the stadium will be heard by every member of the audience as plainly and distinctly as the voice of the man in the next seat.

Each section of the stadium will come from all directions from loud speakers placed throughout the stadium. Monday and Tuesday of this week the stadium will be a complicated network of telephone lines to bring the voice of the man in the next seat.

The line also will run in the Public Auditorium, about a square away, so the stadium audience may hear the music. The organ will be used to accompany local soloists and choruses at the stadium, the orchestra of the Cleveland symphony will be directed from the auditorium.

Footballists strong enough to perform a stunt will be permitted to play football on the field. The line will be driven to it, night in the stadium field will be lighted at night. Bender said, permitting turnout, basketball and other sporting events.

The seats in the stadium will be roofed with a canvas covering for the whole field, which means the roof will be 300 feet long, 100 feet wide, and 100 feet high.

Two super-roads will be built on the West Third street, and the other on East Ninth, will be provided to transport motorists from the stadium to the city. The road on the stadium will be lighted at night, and the road on the lake front in downtown Cleveland, Bender
said.

He expects the structure to be completed by July 1.

CINCINNATI, April 25 (AP)—August Garry Herrmann, 71, the father of the world series and formerly one of the great players in baseball, died unexpectedly today at his home. Death was caused by infarctus and complications of diabetes.

Herrmann, the "Kidnap Mountain Lands of his day, chairman of the Cincinnati Reds for 25 years and inter-league diplomat.

He was a politician, financier,
member of the International Typo-

the National Bowling Congress.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at the Elks temple, built largely through Herrmann's financial resources.

"Garry" passing marked the third removal by death within a month of national players' baseball family. On March 27, Ernest B. Barnard, president of the American League and former president of the Cleveland Indians, died at Rochester,
Minnesota. One day later, Byron Danzon, Johnson, one of Herrmann's closest friends, died at St. Louis.

It was Herrmann's negotiation as national chairman to land today all decisions and although he acted with imperturbability, he incurred popular unpopularity.

After the world's series 1912 between the Cincinnati Reds and Chicago White Sox produced the first series of baseball, which will be played at the stadium, Chicago players being expelled from the professional game for life on charges of accepting money to throw the series.

Herrmann, who had been named president of the Reds, in 1927 Herrmann showed signs of declining health. Later he sold his interest in the Reds to C. C. Mc-Donald and died a few days later.

50 to 75 tests every day

The way your car performs depends to a great extent upon the quality of the oil you use. That's why automobile manufacturers are careful to recommend the use of oils of certain S. A. E. (Society of Automotive Engineers) specifications.

Those specifications are easy to put down on paper. We suppose that every manufacturer of oil issues instructions to the plant superintendent to maintain those standards.
But that is NOT so easy!

It requires constant vigilance under the watchful eyes of expert chemists to make sure that every quart of oil has the "stuff" you want.

Small Differences are Important

For example, a difference of less than .5% in the flashpoint may mean the difference between a damaged motor and a protected one.
Likewise, small differences in viscosity, oxidation-test, cold-test, and carbon content, have a vital bearing on the performance of your motor.

For this reason, the makers of Vico motor oil use extreme care to maintain the required standards of quality. As a matter of fact, the Vico standards EXCEED

LOYD GEORGE COMPLETES 45 YEARS IN LEGISLATIVE HALLS

Despite 68 Years, Leader Still Fights Vigorously in Battles in Politics

By EDWARD STANLEY
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
LONDON, April 25.—In the midst of jockeying for undisputed leadership of England's battle-scarred liberal party, David Lloyd George has completed his forty-fifth legislative year as the member of parliament from Carmarthen.

It is longer than any other member in parliament and to point of service he is the "father of the house."

Not more over thirty years of that venerable fiction, for "little David" is still a vigorous, dangerous and agile lion in debate and in the house.

WELSHMAN DISPLAY LIKING FOR GEORGE

LONDON, April 25.—David Lloyd George is Welsh in every thing except birth. He was born in Manchester, but has lived in Wales most of his life. The kind of affection Welshmen have for him is shown by a queue of an acre of countrymen, somewhat out of touch with the world, who asked a "man" who was King of England, "Why George is he named a 'man'?" "Ah," said the older, "and has the little lawyer gone too far?"

True, he has to play around and sometimes third fiddle now, but always in the legislature is beginning to feel his way back to the front row of the bustling Welshman who has been inflicting a new blow on the British political symphony.

Party Strong Man
During a recent meeting of Liberalism described as a party "crisis" he revealed that while he may not be as powerful as when he was in the prime minister's office, he is still a powerful man.

What happened was that Lloyd George had down his principles, his reasons for keeping Liberal in power, and invited a vote. Of the 50 Liberal members in parliament, only 17 voted against his rule, and only five of these with his chief opponent, Sir John Simon, who wants to throw out the Liberals.

All this was accomplished, incidentally, without unsealing his highest chest. He had made that effort the opposition vote might have been larger.

—Associated Press.

Roughly, perhaps, his line has been to pass Liberal measures in return for support of the labor government, and perhaps to "liberalize" labor proposals. This he prefers to any attempt to work with a conservative government. It is a thankless job.

"I would be only too glad," he said, to be removed to the back benches, but he has never intended to do that. He is not relieved of it and the responsibility of it is too great to give to any other man, and he has no one to whom he can pass it on.

Lloyd George is 68 years old now, but his age is hardly his step. He is vigorous, quick, lively, and he seems to have muted no feather of energy.

His only concession to Father Time seems to have been to let his snowy mane in a slightly more youthful fashion.

Beyond that he is as young as his political position. One of his tricks is to arrive unexpectedly at meetings and stir the scene.

When speaking his rapid, rapid, face wrinkles easily in smiling as he leans forward to emphasize a point.

He jokes and cracks his neck, laughs, twinks faintly upon them with his bright eyes, and then caps the laugh with an eye-glass or better truth. He is a very telling character.

FIRST NON-GERMAN SHIP ENTERS CANAL

WARSAW, April 25.—The destroyer "Wicher," which brought Marshal Joseph Pilsudski back to the Polish port of Gdynia from Moscow, was the first non-German warship to pass through the Kiel canal.

The marshal, however, as a military figure observed the narrowness of the canal, and he was not throughout the nine hours that his boat was in the waterway.

Naval craft going from the North Sea into the Baltic must ordinarily follow around Denmark, which is a long and dangerous route.

FISH GET REST PERIOD

OSLO, April 25.—Whales in northern waters are to have a half-day, Norwegian whaling companies have agreed to suspend fishing for the next six weeks.

Despite 68 years David Lloyd George still is a fighter and the "strong man" of the British Liberal party. In this new picture the veteran politician leader, who has just rounded out 45 years in parliament, is shown at his desk.

FRENCH SEE OLD POLITICAL IN CUSTOMS TREATY

Austro-German Agreement Appears to Observers in France as Facsimile of Pact Formed in 1828

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, April 25.—The French see in the proposed Austro-German customs agreement, which England has asked the League of Nations to examine in May, a facsimile of the tariff pact signed in 1828 between Prussia and Hesse-Darmstadt.

Essentially that old pact led to the union of all German states for it was upon it, as a foundation, that Bismarck, the first chancellor, built the empire of the Hohenzollerns.

Fear Union Is Planned
So strikingly similar are the terms of the old and new pacts that the French fear that the French see in the proposed Austro-German customs agreement, which England has asked the League of Nations to examine in May, a facsimile of the tariff pact signed in 1828 between Prussia and Hesse-Darmstadt.

Such a union, they say, cannot be permitted in present-day Europe. A commentator compared the treaties article by article. He found that while the styles differed, they were alike in all essential traits.

He said that in the 1828 treaty the union was the first motive, but political union was the second; he said that it was not the case today.

Political union was a secret political treaty which was signed between Prussia and Hesse-Darmstadt on the same day at the economic agreement, makes Frenchmen further suspicious of the 1928 accord.

They fear that despite differences from Berlin and Vienna, the proposed customs union would inevitably lead to creation of a strong German state in central Europe.

This, from the French viewpoint, would set Europe back a hundred years.

Navy Probes Panama Bay Volcanic Action
BALBOA, Canal Zone, April 25.—(By The Associated Press) Active volcanic disturbances have been beneath the quiet waters of the Gulf of Panama and 4300 ft. deep were found to have enough foundation to warrant investigation.

The United States Ship Potomac, a trim craft of 1900 tons, is making a survey of the volcanic action while stretching out to Cape Maine and the Pacific.

The ship was started three years ago by the Navy. Two more years will be needed to complete the task.

Rumors Suggest Rumanian Prince Plans to Marry Russian Cousin

Despite Denial, Talk of Royal-Wedding-In-Near Future Gains in Volume

(By The Associated Press)
BUCHAREST, April 25.—Prince Nicholas, 27-year-old brother of King Carol, may be the next royal to marry.

Succession to the Rumanian throne depends upon 19-year-old Prince Michael, who signed as king, when his father returned from exile, and has a strong supporter, and has a ready-made slight to the throne.

But an attack of influenza during the Christmas holidays, occasioned comment among the people over whom he recently ruled.

This feeling that the succession depends upon a single thread has given rise to rumors of a forthcoming betrothal of Nicholas.

The bride who has been chosen by popular fancy for Prince Nicholas is his first cousin, the Grand Duchess Kyril of Russia.

Color was lent to the rumored betrothal when, Queen Maria and Prince Nicholas visited for a week at the grand duke's villa near St. John, Brittany.

Yet those in immediate attendance on the dowager queen denied that she had gone there to discuss marriage between her son and niece. They explained that she was only paying her annual visit to her daughter-in-law.

Next came word that Nicholas himself was going to France and this revived the talk. But King Carol said he was sending his brother to the country for a special mission, charging him to make a close study of munitions manufacture, especially of planes and artillery.

Yet the talk will not stop. It is pointed out that the brothers are devoted to each other, that Nicholas gladly gave up his place on the throne when Carol returned to take the throne from among them, and that Nicholas has been in noticeably better spirits since this change was made.

It is also said that he would readily concede to any plan that would strengthen the throne by making succession certain. His marriage would be the more desirable because the throne is actually so pressed for annulment of the divorce which Prince Nicholas, Michael's brother, secured in 1925.

CHINESE ORGANIZE 70 NEW PROVINCES

Nationalist Government Announces "Hashing" Process to Improve Powers

NANKING, April 25.—A plan to chop China up into 70 small provinces has been announced by the nationalist government. The "hashing" process to start this year.

The motive is to improve the government by reducing the unit of administration to a size that will be manageable in the present system.

Including the three provinces in Manchuria, there are now 28 such divisions in China. The government proposes to cut each of these into two or three parts and subdivide each again into from 10 to 15 counties.

This would make jobs for about 10 additional counties. They would be charged with maintaining order, collecting taxes and promoting education and agriculture.

The scheme has the endorsement of both Chinese and foreign financial interests. It is a move to improve the government by reducing the unit of administration to a size that will be manageable in the present system.

England Acts to Ease Rigid Divorce Rulings

LONDON, April 25.—England's rigid divorce law, which has been the cause of much unhappiness, is undergoing a radical change.

The new measure, based on recommendations of the royal commission on divorce, recognizes these grounds:

1. Adultery, desertion for three years, cruelty, incurable insanity, certified lunacy for at least five years, and incurable insanity.

Under the new law, a husband or wife may now obtain a divorce on the ground of incurable insanity.

The bill is backed by members from both parties.

TURKISH HANGMAN SPRINGS TRAP AT 5600 EXECUTIONS

All Effendi Receives $2.50 For Each Hanging and Salary for 12-Year Period Averages $1166 Annually

(By The Associated Press)
ANGOR, Turkey, April 25.—All Effendi, the hangman in charge of the recent religious execution here, has hanged 5600 persons in his 12 years as chief executioner for the Turkish government.

Some 300 of them were condemned to death by the "Tribunal of Independence"—those Turkish star chambers, now abolished, rounded up the enemies of Kemal's republic following the executioner's report by Sheikh Said in 1925.

Other condemned persons were guilty of the Basmali plot against the Turkish government.

The hangman gets $1.50—about $2.50—for each hanging. That makes, for the 12 years, an average annual salary of $1166.

Deputies in the Angora parliament get only $600 more than that and professors in the Istanbul University receive $800 less a year.

The hangman says that 5600 cases are not many when it is remembered that a population of 13,500,000 is now turning 18½ out of school every year.
