NEW TAXES FIGURE IN BUDGET BATTLE RACING IN LONDON

Philip Snowden's Shout: "God Gave the Land to the People!" Sounds Key-note in Legislative-Fray

By FRANK H. KING (Associated Press Correspondent) LONDON, April 27—A deep-throated Laborite shouting "God gave the land to the people!" to a tune from an old English political song, sounded the keynote of the British national budget battle which Chancellor Philip Snowden introduced in parliament today.

Pole and wan from his recent illness and operation, but with a tired but determined look, Mr. Snowden received tumultuous cheers from all parties as he hobbled into the house of commons, recited heavily on his cane, recited his budget, and during his hour, he made his way along the narrow aisle to a seat next to Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald. The appearance added a touch of pathos to the theatrical atmosphere of the deeply heated chamber.

The unveiling of the budget's contents in the chamber's inclusive manner proved to be the last of a non-climatic as far as new taxation was concerned, but was of far-reaching importance in relation to the future taxation on British land values.

The Snowden plan is to tax British land values on the basis of the present value of the land on capital valuation. It calls for two years of preliminary preparation in the form of a national survey and so could not be put in effect for at least two years.

Would tax on values

Chancellor Snowden budgeted for the financial year 1932-33 an estimated expenditure of $2,385,000,000 pounds (about $18,885,000,000) and estimated the revenue at $2,385,000,000 pounds (about $18,885,000,000). He imposed only one increase in taxation on the British people, an additional 2 pence a gallon on gasoline, making a total tax of 6 pence a gallon and bringing the retail price to 22 pence a gallon.

The chancellor resorted to no financial transaction, not affecting taxation, to enable him to balance his budget. He said he planned to use about $2,000,000 pounds (about $16,000,000) from the dollar re-charge fund in New York. The remainder of the total deficit of $7,885,000,000 pounds (about $63,085,000,000) was wiped out by increasing the income tax, but, by requiring all income taxpayers except wage earners to pay three quarters of their tax on January 1, 1932, this utilizing about $2,000,000 for the present financial year.

He declared that these measures were purely temporary and would be in effect until the end of the present domestic and world depression. Throughout his address there was an undercurrent of optimism relative to the recovery of industry from its present state.

Stability on British national problems sparked in Mr. Snowden's address. Noting that the consumption of liquor had decreased and that the demand for foodstuffs was increasing, he said that the source would be less in the coming year, he said: "The decrease in the consumption of alcohol seems to be a permanent tendency of national life and, from the viewpoint of the nation's well-being this is a healthy development, no matter how inconvenient to the exchequer."

BERENGUER ENTERS PRISON AT MADRID

MADRID, April 27 (AP)—General Damaso Berenguer was arrested today and placed in a military prison by order of the supreme council of war and marine.

General Berenguer was minister of war in the cabinet of Prime Minister Aznar, which resigned just previous to the fall of the monarchy. He was a former premier.

RECORD PRECIPITATION FALLS ON CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, April 27 (AP)—Adding mountain cloudbursts and off-shore waterspouts to his reputation, J. P. Murray, the man of the rains, tonight was within one day of completing a week's run of record precipitation, bringing the season's total to 11.36, and seemed in no way to respond to exhortations.

Flavia opened his engagement last Wednesday and his efforts have added 2.23 inches to the region's precipitation, bringing the season's total to 11.36, and seemed in no way to respond to exhortations.

New Barriers Rise In Path Of Europeans Endeavoring To Write Naval Agreement

Discussion Continues In Critical Stage With France And Great Britain Failing To Agree With Italy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS PARIS, April 27—While the French government is awaiting Italy's reply to her naval treaty, it is understood that the proposed treaty is still under discussion in a critical stage. No basis of agreement was developed from exchange of notes between France and Italy.

The largest portion of Italian ships, those of the canal zone and those of the Mediterranean, are considered in the treaty. It is understood that the treaty is still under discussion in a critical stage.

TEXAN PLANS TO IMPROVE MELLON

Wright-Patman, Democratic Congressman, Declares Cabinet Member Ineligible

AUSTIN, Texas, April 27 (AP)—Wright Patman, Democratic Texas congressman, today declared that the cabinet member is ineligible to be a member of the cabinet.

BURKE HEARS SENTENCE OF LIFE IMPRISONMENT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 27 (AP)—The federal court today sentenced James Earl Ray to life imprisonment for the murder of a woman.

A resolution calling for impeachment would be predicated on the fact that Mr. Mellon was holding office in violation of the law, Representative Patman said.

Patman charged Mr. Mellon with interference in the "business of the government" and was a part of one of the most serious charges. The law forbids such a person from serving as any officer of the treasury, the representative Patman said.

Mr. Mellon has admitted over his signature that he and his brother owned the Oil Company, the Patman charged. "The law forbids such a person from serving as any officer of the treasury, the representative Patman said."

Siam's King Regards 11,500,000 of His Subjects As One Large Family

(By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS) PUNHAB, N. Y., April 27—King Prajadolok, Siamese ruler who holds the crown of 11,500,000 persons, regards himself simply as the father of an unusually large family, he said today in his first newspaper interview.

"Speaking the English language, he acquired a student in Great Britain. The king received four requests in his private study at Chitral, the American residence. Subsequently the king was presented to the king's son, Queen Ranubhadi, who is the king's daughter."

"The aim of government is happiness for the greatest possible number of people," said the king. "The Siamese word for king is to provide which can be translated as father."

"Modern ideas have not changed the concept between the king and his people."

"During his interview the king was asked: 'What is your idea of a king?'"

"I want to see that I do my job well. And in another breath the king expressed an intention to observe the king's duties with the same operation which brought him to this country."

"The king and queen will be the first received officially since the king and queen of the Belgians visited the United States in 1916."

The program for the king was submitted to them by cable more than a month ago through the Siamese legation. State department shows it to be very similar to the one of Queen Marie of Romania on her visit to the capital in 1928.

Arriving at Union station at 6 P. M., with high American officials who will come with them from New York, they will be welcomed by a group of officials headed by Vice President Curtis and Secretary of State.

"Stay Out of Russia!" Counsels Woman After One Year in Soviet

By LORENA A. HICKOK (Associated Press Staff Writer) NEW YORK, April 27—The wife of an American engineer, just out of Soviet Russia "after" having "lived there for a year," today with a message for the wives of other American engineers. It was: "Stay out of Russia!"

She said the wives of some of her husband's American associates asked her very earnestly to tell the wives of other Americans who may be going to Russia on contracts how they were there and to urge them to stay at home.

For nearly a year Mrs. Mamie (Mrs. Warren) and her husband, Clarence Warren, an engineer for a Milwaukee company, directed the construction of a mill. The Soviet does not want the wives of American engineers to come to Russia. Mrs. Warren said, "because, with their demands for better food, sanitation, comfort, they cause too much trouble and too much expense."

ROSS CHAMPIONS FARMERS' CAUSE

Idaho's Governor Expects To "Preach the Gospel of the Cow, Pig and Hen"

BOISE, April 27 (AP)—Governor C. Ben Ross will devote as much time as he can spare from other duties to the "preaching the gospel of the cow, pig and hen," he said today in announcing plans to use the wide field offered by the governor's office to promote the cause of the farmer.

He said in an interview following his return from a trip through southern Idaho that crop producers were excellent, and farmers will be in good condition at the present time.

The chief executive said he planned to return soon to the agricultural part of the state to see the conditions at a meeting now being arranged.

He held up Franklin county as an example of the state of the state. He said that the county was a good example of the state of the state.

"This is the case with all the other counties," he said. "Farmers need to be helped in many ways, and I am going to do my best to help them."

FESS REFUSES TO MAKE APOLOGY TO CHAIRMAN HOUSE

Controversy Over Charge of "Deliberate Falseness" in Recent Speech

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—Chairman Fess of the Republican national committee refused today to apologize to Chairman House of the Democratic national executive committee for charging House with "deliberate falseness" in a recent speech.

The controversy between the two was brought into the open for the first time when House, in an exchange of telegrams in which he repeated a denial that he had charged the Republicans with "deliberate falseness" in a recent speech.

In demanding an apology from House, Fess said he had referred to House's speech in his speech to the Republican national convention in St. Louis.

MINISTER ASSERTS AGE OF MIRACLES REMAINS WITH US

Evangelist Denounces God Still Gives Supernatural Powers to All Who Dare Exert Them

Taking for his text, "These signs shall follow them that believe," May 13-17, Rev. William J. Bennett, "The Cornish Evangelist," declared that the age of miracles is not dead, but that the age of miracles is still with us.

"Today the miraculous is being denied by those who are also denied the truth of God's word or it is camouflaged in such a manner that it appears as a myth. But the truth remains that Christianity is nothing if not supernatural."

"It is an undeniable fact that Jesus said 'These things shall follow them that believe' and that the power which God gives to those who believe in Him is still with us today. It is the power of God which is the power of the supernatural and it is the power of the supernatural which is the power of the miraculous."

"There are some, however, who take the stand that as we do not see the miraculous today we must conclude that such a power was given to the apostles alone and that it has since been withdrawn from the world."

"The word declares, however, that 'These signs shall follow them that believe' hence all who believe the word of God will not only see but will demonstrate the signs of a believer. Then again to those who are able to men through the messengers were for all time. He said through Peter: 'These are for you and for your children and for those who are afar off—in age as well as locality—and then he sums up the matter so as to include all ages: And to those who the Lord our God shall call.' Acts 2:39. No man dare dispute the fact that God is calling men to Him today and that being so, we must believe in the power of His word. His gifts of the supernatural and miraculous are also being made manifest to those who dare take a determined stand on His law of love."

"How to sum up the whole matter, we know by experience and we know that God is today manifesting His power and truth in the hearts of men as He did when dwelling in the flesh among us."

"Therefore if we have the true reason for the lack of miracles among us today is because we do not believe in the promises of God. But on the other hand there is no excuse for unbelief since faith can be, and is acted by the believer based on the basis of His mother; my children believe when I promise them anything. 'For ever' 'indefinitely' 'in might seem to them; simply because I have never deceived them. Hence, I believe God as my child believes, because my heavenly Father has never lied to me and so 'by grace are we saved, through faith and this 'grace' not of ourselves, it is the gift of God. So come and take it now."

RECIPE GIVES COFFEE ROASTER IDEA FOR PERFECTING FLAVOR

Applies Rule for Mixing Muffin Ingredients to Patented Roasting Process

Success in muffin making depends to a great extent on the care with which the batter is made. That is why most recipes state that the milk should be poured into the flour a little at a time rather than all at once. Such care prevails in the new process of roasting coffee.

This rule, "a little at a time," is the basis of Controlled Roasting—a process patented and used only by Hills Bros. in roasting their coffee. By automatic control, coffee is roasted continuously through the roasters, a few pounds at a time. Accuracy of roasting is thus insured by the fact that the coffee is roasted evenly to the degree of roasting desired. The common method of roasting coffee is in bulk and the coffee is roasted unevenly.

Hills Bros. Coffee is always fresh because it is packed in vacuum, which prevents air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, from being taken out of the can and kept out. The coffee can, even if air-light, do not keep coffee fresh. Grocers everywhere sell Hills Bros. Coffee. Ask for it by name and look for the Arabella Hills Bros. Coffee Co., Inc., Portland, Oregon.

Siamese parties forming a home party to the entrance of the present reception room. Their majesties and the royal party will spend the evening privately at the home of Lady Anderson, placed at the disposal of the king and queen for their stay in Washington by the former diplomat. Because of the late hour of the arrival of the official call on President and Mrs. Hoover—ordered for 10:30 a. m.—the king and queen will not take place until Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. A highly formal in character, this call will be returned immediately by the president and Mrs. Hoover after the king and queen reach the royal residence from the White House.

On the sale of practically all export lumber produced in the Douglas fir region of Washington, Oregon, and British Columbia, was announced today by L. L. Chipman of the Long-Bell Lumber company.

The association will practice rigid control over the export of Douglas fir lumber. It will sell the export output of 146 saw mills. The mills, Chipman said, "produce 55 per cent of the lumber capacity west of the Cascade mountains."

The Douglas fir exploitation and export company, Seattle, the Dan and Russell Export Company, Portland, the Group Harbor Export company, Aberdeen, and the Associated Timber Exporters, British Columbia, limited, are the four groups.

The purpose of the organizations was to stabilize prices to foreign buyers, Chipman explained. He said the organization was affected under provisions of the Webb-Pomeroy act.

MIX ARRIVES AT BOISE FROM MOSCOW BY AIR

BOISE, April 27 (AP)—Lieutenant Governor O. P. Mix flew into Boise from Moscow today, a passenger on the Moscow-Boise service. His trip, he said, was taken "through to see the place so quickly" but while here he released a new survey at the federal farm board and his administration of the wheat problem.

The farm board, even under its new management, has done nothing of late to help the wheat grower. It is a fact, however, that the board, with numerous dramatic lights and touches of pathos and a great deal of emotionalism, has been a public nuisance. A delightful variety of music and dance is synchronized to the action throughout.

TRUCK LINE OWNERS HOLD MEETING HERE

The second annual meeting of the Idaho Truck Line Owners and Drivers was held in Twin Falls Saturday night and Sunday, O. R. Craven, Boise, and J. R. Smith, Pocatello, as well as delegates from different points along the line between the two cities were present.

Saturday night the party attended a dance, after which they were present at a midnight luncheon at the home of W. Young, Twin Falls manager. Sunday at 2 P. M. there was a turkey dinner at the hotel, attended by 20 persons connected with the business, of whom 20 were accompanied by their wives.

At a business session Sunday, it was announced that the business which started with the Western Truck Line in 1928, and which has grown into a 24-hour service is maintained between Twin Falls and Boise. It was stated that the business had doubled during the year.

With a reason that is startling in its simplicity, the truck line owners and drivers met to discuss the future of the industry. The meeting was held at the home of W. Young, Twin Falls manager.

CITY MAKES FIGHT FOR NARROW DITCH ON EIGHTH AVENUE

District Court Hears Argument in Twin Falls' Suit to Compel Confining of Lateral to Minimum Width

A ditch nine feet wide is sufficient to carry 45 inches of water, which is the maximum flow of the Twin Falls Canal company's Eighth Avenue lateral through Twin Falls city limits, Captain E. M. Sweeney, Twin Falls city attorney, argued at trial before Judge Addison B. Barclay, Jerome, in district court here yesterday, in a suit wherein the city is endeavoring to compel the canal company to confine the lateral again to a watercourse of minimum width.

City attorney's argument on this point was based on testimony adduced yesterday that water in the lateral has flowed for a quarter of a century or more through a ditch that in places is only nine feet wide. In other places testimony showed, the lateral has grown out to width of 15 and 18 feet and, encroaching actually upon the street.

Canal company directors on the witness stand, however, under examination testified that the canal company has not given the lateral the same care and attention that it had other canals and laterals.

One of the directors, J. P. Garcke, pointed out that children playing in and about the lateral had dug slides down to the water, thus accounting for some of the lateral's increasing width.

Difference on Separation—Difference of opinion developed as to whether the lateral can be confined between perpendicular walls of concrete. Harold William Meritt, city engineer, advanced that suggestion, and it was retorted by John Iron, manager, and other witnesses for the canal company, who argued in favor of sloped banks, asserting that perpendicular walls would not hold against action of frost.

Following yesterday's hearing, the city was granted a week to file its brief dealing with legal questions involved, and the canal company is to have the next week to prepare and file a reply brief.

Judge Barclay announced that he would make a personal inspection of the portion of the lateral involved in this action, extending eastward from Blue Lake boulevard to the city limits.

Witnesses called together in presence of the city's case were John

"I was sorry about tryin' to share with Papa's razor, but Dr. Brown said it wouldn't leave no scar hard."

W. Iron, canal company manager; H. S. Rayborn, city street superintendent; and Harold William Meritt, city engineer.

In presentation of the case for the canal company, Judge J. H. Bohlwell, attorney, called to the witness stand Mr. Iron, A. H. Perrine, canal company engineer, and J. P. Conder, W. C. Brown and W. R. Hatfield, canal company directors.
