VOTERS of 20 cities and towns in eight South Central Idaho counties went to the polls to elect their municipal officials at biennial elections yesterday.

In five out of seven cities spirited contests developed, while in only five out of 13 of the smaller towns was there any opposition to the elected candidates.

Contests brought out big votes, in many instances the total of votes polled running close to the totals of registration lists, which, under a new law requiring re-registration, were new this year.

Only 1,180 registered voters showed up in the city of FAIRFAX, April 28 (Special to The News)—The passing of George W. Peck, 70, whose funeral was held today, Sunday afternoon, at the residence of his son, lost one of its eldest and most interesting characters. Mr. Peck followed the same path of life as that of cancer, March 1, 1921.

He was a "vigilant combatant" with the "Tobacco Trust," as it was termed by C. C. Winchell, for mayor, and Russ, Keith Yeaman and three out of four members of the legislature retained their positions in the face of stiff opposition.

It was a term of years in a three-cornered contest, elected Arthur A. Pyle to be mayor, and also selected two members of the legislature to appear out of a field of three candidates.

Dr. John C. Law, winner over Dr. Robert O. Bower of the convention's nomination, again defeated Peck, who was elected as the city mayor, when friends of Dr. Law were held his name in the ballot.

Peck was elected by the 10,000 voters wrote in Dr. Law's name.

At Haily John M. Tuttle, out of the field, was elected as the city while on the face of complete uni-and came across the plains with his parents in 1864 when he was a lad of 14. He was with his father, John, who led that trip, bound for Boise, where he lived until 1896, for when he moved to Idaho. He was with his father when he bought the place where Ada is now his home here. While at Boise he had some ranches and upon retired the ranches where Ada's father was born.

Mr. Peck had his share of Idaho. Beginning going through the Bonanza killing war in 1878, serving as a soldier in the 10th Cavalry.

In 1878 he was married to, Miss Priscilla Owens of Boise. Sixteen children have been born to him. The children are Jack Peck, Hattie, Catherine O. Peck, Wagon, Clark, Minnie, John, Sprague, Ada, and Mary.

Large Vote At Governor's Election

Many years ago at a municipal election and settled upon Harry Tery, who was a member of the legislature. Without opposition, B. J. Titus was re-elected mayor of Rupert and H. Tery was elected sheriff. Harry Tery, together with their respective running mates, were elected.

Mr. Tery and his sons, Hansen and Richfield, there were opposing candidates in the 1906-7 election.

At the time the members of the board who were candidates for re-election desired their position.

At the time of the election over the Independent party's candidate and B. J. Titus was not opposed at all.

There was no competition and
