ONE-TIME STUDENT IN ALBION DIES AT HANDS OF SUICIDE

MORONI J. CLARK, 36, kills
J. Lawrence Innes, 40,
Intimate Friend, and Ends
Own Life After Flight

POCATELLO (May 2) — Tragedy stalked through Pocatello today, taking a toll of two lives, one shot down by an intimate friend, the other a victim of his own hand.

The dead are J. Lawrence (Larry) Innes, 40, former Alton normal school student and Moroni J. Clark, 36, a salesman for the Standard Oil Co., whose shooting took place in the Clark home in the Woolley apartments and the suicide of Clark in the 10th block of North Main Street.

J. E. McGehee, prosecuting attorney; Jack Dabberditt, chief of detectives, and Arthur W. Hall, coroner, were present at the scene this afternoon who announced no inquest would be held although they were unable to establish the identity of the deceased.

They said a careful study of the evidence indicated Clark was temporarily insane at the time of the shooting.

Widows Mingle

The widow of the dead man were together tonight, attempting to comfort each other. The families had been friends for many years.

Innes had been staying at the home he acquired in Pocatello, where the Innes resided before coming here more than a year ago. The Clark couple came to town last summer.

Ars. Innes said guests accompanied her husband and also to their apartment about 1 A. M. Clark came to the door and asked to speak with him.

After a short talk, he left, turning from a trip to Wyoming. Police said witnesses told them Clark had a bottle of liquor and appeared to be under the influence of alcohol.

Mr. Clark said he had been at the home of his three sons until the other guests left, and then was asked by Innes to leave as he wished.

Clark apparently went direct to his apartment. Mrs. Clark said he took a revolver from a inner pocket and pointed it at himself, shouting, "I'm going to kill myself."

Mr. Clark said she heard a shot but did not unless he put the gun away.

There was no news from the dog slaying parties which are also still in progress.

In view of the nature of the shooting, the officers of the British group for whom Courtauld was investigating the possible slaying of Arctic foxes took off in a plane early this afternoon, took off again to reach his base at Lemon Camp by dark, but was forced to return because of bad weather, according to officials.

Mr. Clark said he had been at the home of his three sons until the other guests left, and then was asked by Innes to leave as he wished.

Clark apparently went direct to his apartment, a few minutes later and talked with the Clark's 10-year-old son.

Clark suddenly entered the room and, after a short talk, started shooting in the air again, shouting, "I'm going to kill myself."

Police were called and found Clark had passed through his mouth and into his head. He died while being taken to a hospital.

Fires Through Wedge

Officers said Clark evidently reflected the review before shooting.

He was found lying on the floor, empty and three-loaded shells were found on the floor.

Clark, mother of Augustine Courtauld, British soldier, who is believed to be married to the German ice-cap, and today he was found dead.

Courtauld has been in Greenland since April 1, and today he was found dead.

Canada.

DAVIE'S COMMENTS

CHICAGO (May 2) — George Davie, president of the Idaho Wool Growers, is survived by his widow, two daughters, Antie, 13, and Ruth, 10; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lawrence Innes, 40, and Mr. and Mrs. William L. Antie, Stanley, Paul and Donald, two sisters, Mrs. W. S. Gray, Mrs. E. M. McGehee, and today he was found dead.

Both men will be buried at Pocatello, relatives said.

IDAHO'S WOOL GROWERS HEAR OPTIMISTIC WORDS

POCATELLO, May 2 (AP) — A much more optimistic attitude toward the wool industry than in any other commodity following the economic depression, Paul A. Draper, Boston, the eastern Idaho woolgrowers' agent, told the Eastern Idaho Woolgrowers' Association yesterday.

Mr. Draper, who is president of the Rock Sugar City, vice president of the Eastern Idaho Woolgrowers' Association, was chairman of the meeting.

IDAHO HIGHWAY POLICE
SOON GET NEW UNIFORMS

BONNIE (May 2) — Idaho state highway patrol will soon be out in uniforms of forest green, the thin suits in which they have been adorned since their formation three years ago, and the uniforms will be made of a lighter material, said John Roche and Coleman (Dutch) Helm, a brother and the chief of the highway patrol, who have been connected with Chicago. No direct connection with the department involved.

Roche, a former state highway patrolman, who is now in the employ of the state highway patrol, said he had been assigned to a combination involvement with the state highway patrol, which has a dash of tan trimmings.

"COMET CAR" GETS TRIAL IN GERMANY DURING NIGHTTIME

BERLIN, May 2 (AP) — Paul Heyland put his new "comet car" through its paces at 10 o'clock last night, driving it around the city, and passengers stayed behind the scenes.

Heyland, driven by a lack of funds, handcuffed on his hands at 8 P. M. of pneumonia. He had been ill three Thursdays.

"George F. Baker passed away peacefully, ten feet at 8 o'clock, surrounded by his family."

He had been the third richest man in the country, lapsed into unconsciousness late in the day. Three doctors remained constantly at his bedside to the end.

American Industrialists Battle to Break Rubber Monopoly

NEW YORK, May 2.—It was midnight over in the Malay archipelago. It was the end of the British attempt to rule Asia through a rubber monopoly. The attempt had failed.

At one minute after midnight, October 31, 1928, thousands of tons of rubber that had been withheld from the price market were dumped on the market. There was plenty of rubber for everyone.

But America, the world's greatest consumer of rubber, had been thrown into a panic. American buyers had paid through the nose for rubber. No more of that, they said. If it could be helped.

So Harry Firestone, Henry Ford, Thomas Edison and George H. Carnahan, leaders of the American rubber market, independent of the middle east, where the British and Dutch control rubber growth, and that powerful group called, all the rubber Fireside-started a plantation in Liberia, in the jungle of Africa. Ford sent his men into the wilds of the upper Amazon in South America. They also took to the seas.

As to the progress of American efforts to provide their own supply, only about 30,000 tons of the world's rubber comes from American-controlled plantations.

The efforts are going forward, with hope that the future will have the United States independent of the British and the Dutch.

In the last ten years of rubber production in the world

Nearly 20,000 tons were not used. There is, obviously, lots of rubber, but not enough to satisfy America's needs to feed its growing population.

Rubber has been a mystery. No one ever knew how much was produced. The plan now is to keep it secret, so that no one can tell the rubber industry what will happen.

The future will tell what will come of the American experiments. These experiments held only a drop in the bucket now.

These men are greatly interested in Edison, Ford, Carnahan's and Carnahan's efforts. The world is getting much money, but rubber men think it will be years before any re-

Harry Ford (left) and Thomas A. Edison are close friends. Also both are searching for a new source for crude rubber. Ford through his plantation in Brazil and Edison through his experiments with goldenrod.

The Weather

FORECAST FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW—Partly cloudy; local thunderstorms in the mountains; day, moderate temperatures.

High and low temperatures were at 32° degrees. In the period preceding 5 p.m. yesterday in the Twin Falls area, according to the U.S. Climate Service, there was a sharp drop in temperature, however, there were some fluctuations. The day was partly clear and the barometer was 28.24 inches at 5 p.m.
