PRESENTS QUESTION

Local Man Seeks Answer

To Query Whether Estate Is Separate or Community

Herman Peter Fajen, owner of the City-Tourist, park, Twin Falls, has applied to the probate court here for an answer to his question whether property purchased in Idaho with money accumulated in Missouri, is his separate property, or community property—Missouri where Mr. Fajen was married, has no community property law. Mrs. Fajen died last January 4, after the purchase of considerable property in the above-named park. The probate court here is now in the process of the sale of property that husband and wife accumulated in Missouri. The property Missouri stood in the husband's name alone. Mr. Fajen has been advised that under these circumstances the property purchased here would be his separate property, but he has asked the court to decide and Probate Judge Guy L. Kimes has set July 6 as the time for hearing on the question. E. L. Ashton, Esq., is attorney in these proceedings.

Abel Osborn has requested the probate court to appoint Guy H. Shores, Esq., as the administrator of the estate of his wife, Sadie R. Osborn, who died June 6. The estate consists of real and personal property valued at $2000, all of which was Mrs. Osborn's separate estate. Heirs named are three sons of Mrs. Osborn's former husband, Ezra C. Ensign. Petitioner is represented by Frank L. Stephens.

Haymond Filer, one of three sons of Mrs. Fanny Pond, has applied for appointment as administrator of his mother's estate consisting of two lots in Twin Falls valued at $4000. Mrs. Pond died last May 10. Two other sons, A. E. Pond and W. C. Pond, both of Filer, are named with the petitioner as heirs. Harry Deen, Twin Falls, is the petitioner's attorney.

AIRPLANE LINE LOSES IN TAXATION CONTEST

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 27 (AP)—Rights at a state to collect tax on gasoline used in interstate airplane travel was ruled constitutional today by Judge T. Blake Kennedy in federal district court.

The decision was contained in a memorandum issued by Judge Kennedy in dismissing an injunction action brought by the Boeing Air Transport, Incorporated, to have Wyoming's current gasoline tax law as applied to gasoline used in interstate airplane travel, declared unconstitutional.

The Boeing company has been paying the tax under protest. It is amounting to between $500 and $1000 monthly at Rock Springs and Cheyenne.

Representatives of the air line indicated the decision would be appealed to the United States circuit court of appeals.

INJECTIONS PRODUCE MONKEYS' IMMUNITY

ST. LOUIS, June 27 (AP)—A method of making monkeys immune to the bacteria of infantile paralysis has been evolved in laboratories of the Washington University medical school, under direction of Dr. William B. Breckner.

How much the method may benefit humans is still uncertain, although each immunizing process would require a major operation to reach the subject.

The monkeys were immunized by the injection of live parasites or polio-myelitis bacteria into their spines. Dr. Breckner converted the idea after observing that the monkeys often infected the apes without spreading the virus of the body and mind, but the rest of the body resistant.

Lighted Sparkler in Hands of Small Boy Causes Conflagration at Spencer

SPENCER, Iowa, June 27 (AP)—A lighted sparkler in the hands of a small boy ignited a fireworks display in a store here today, starting a fire which razed 30 buildings virtually wiping out the business section of Spencer, a city of 5000 persons.

The store in which the fire started was located below the telephone office. Several operators were endangered, but firemen isolated flames and carried them to safety, while others ran through the flames on the stairway to the roof.

EDUCATOR COMPARES CARS AND AIRPLANES

TRINIDAD, N. Y., June 27 (AP)—Plying for sport and pleasure is about three times as fast, eight times as dangerous and eight times as expensive as motoring.

This is what K. D. Wood, Cornell university engineering professor, has found.

He drew the following comparisons between the two modes of transportation at the present and the best-selling automobiles:

The airplane is a three-passenger open biplane; the automobile is a five-passenger closed car.

The plane sells for $5000, and the automobile $1800.

The plane has a five-cylinder, 110-horsepower engine, cooling about $1800; the automobile has a four-cylinder, 40-horsepower engine, cooling about $200.

The plane will go 110 miles an hour; the automobile will go 55 miles an hour.

SCOUTS KEEP BUSY IN SAWTOOTH CAMP

South Central Idaho Youths
Enjoy Hikes, "Feeds," Stories, Stunts and Sports

CAMP SAWTOOTH, June 27 (Special to The News)—Scouts here had "the time of their lives" at the scenic Sawtooth mountain camp this week.

Thursday was the day of days as far as the camping program is at Camp Sawtooth. The "feature" was the overnight hike in which all of the boys took part. All seemed to have a delightful time. The hike was under the direction of Francis Nordin, who was assisted by Lawrence Lindon, Roy Drifflin, Bill West and J. H. Kennan. The scouts hiked up Prairie creek to the forks, carrying their bedding. From there some of them hiked to Prairie creek lake and several visited Mill creek lake. Supper was prepared by the men in charge, and as the meal was being served Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Gooding, Shoshone, arrived with cinnamon rolls enough for the entire 45 scout and scouters.

After dinner games were played and soon after darkness fell all of the hikers retired for the night. Friday morning at 8 A. M. they returned to camp ready for a huge breakfast of fruit, meat, and, and.

The morning was spent in work on scout craft. In the afternoon the scouts were divided into patrol groups to the woods for flowers, each patrol trying to secure the most varieties. Tent number it was the winning patrol. After the flowers were arranged on the ground, Mr. Nordin classified them and gave the scouts a talk on the scientific and the common names.

Another pleasant surprise to the camp was had when S. D. Smith, Shoshone brought in a dressed lamb as a gift to the scouts. This was enjoyed to the fullest on Saturday at lunch.

Visitors have been plentiful the last few days and among them was Scout Philip Kellerman, Honsaqua, who was accompanied by his father. They were shown the camp and seemed to be much pleased with its setting.

Friday night was Burnt Night. The winners were of tent number 1 of Roy Rich Schiller in leader. Scout Smith was the star performer.

Saturday morning was featured with a swim at Snake's. The afternoon was spent in the completion of tests, and making preparation for the court of honor tonight.

CASSIA COUNTY LAMB POOL BRINGS PROFIT

BURLEY, June 27 (Special to The News)—Shrinking the least amount of any consignment of lambs ever sold on the market by Cassia county lamb pool members, the third pool this season brought $778.40, net, at Omaha for fat lambs and $325 for feeders. This will net growers $325 for fat lambs at home and $133 for feeders.

The shrink was only 7.7 per cent, says W. W. Peters, county agent. One car sold later, on the Thursday market, brought $748.40, net, or about $250 in profit to the growers. The price was satisfactory to farm stockmen, considering the weak market. In fact, it is said at the county agents office, this season's prices have been uniformly good as compared with local sales and prices received by sheep shorners.

The county agent advises that feeder lambs not be shipped at present market prices. The spread between returns from fat lambs and feeder lambs is too great. Shipments will be made at intervals throughout the present season.

"THE LAWYER'S SECRET" APPEARS AT IDAHO NOW

A glance at the above cast speaks volumes about "The Lawyer's Secret," the dramatic attraction now at the Idaho theatre. Five stars in as many powerful roles—a story marked by suspense and sustained dramatic intensity—expert direction, all go to make the picture outstanding.

Clive Brook, always a convincing actor, makes the most of his fine opportunity for a distinctive portrayal as the lawyer faced with the dramatic dilemma of revealing the guilt of his client and sacrificing his own peace of mind and romantic happiness—or remaining silent and causing the death of an innocent man. Charles Rogers successfully forges his light comedy roles for a heavy emotional portrayal, as Laurie Roberts, the wealthy brother of Brook's fiancée, Jay Wray, involved in a hold up during which the owner of a gambling resort is murdered, he and his accomplice, "The Wrecker," an underworld character, escape without being seen and Richard Arlen as Joe Hart, a care-free miller, is convicted of a crime on circumstantial evidence.

"High Class," a Boy Friend comedy adds balance to the bill. The Paramount sound-new; completes this program which runs through Monday.

Nation's Merchant Marine Pushes $300,000,000 Program

RACE FOR OCEANIC SUPREMACY MOVES AHEAD FULL STEAM

Government Loans and Mail Contracts Boost Quota of Ships Despite Depression

AMERICAN SHIPBUILDERS PLAN TO YEARS AHEAD

Shipping Board Reports 26 Vessels Costing $116,830,000 Now Being Built

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE (Associated Press Staff Writer)
WASHINGTON, June 27.—The building of a new American merchant marine capable of competing for supremacy of the seas is going forward almost "full steam" against a heavy current of business depression. Stimulated by the aid of government loans and a mail contract under the Jones-White act of 1920, American shipbuilders have embarked on a 10-year construction program calling for the expenditure of almost $300,000,000.

The program will open new trade routes in all parts of the world to American merchantmen. The postoffice department already has awarded mail contracts of 40 routes.

To Build 30 Ships

These contracts call for building approximately 30 new ships in the next 10 years, at an estimated expenditure of $275,000,000. In addition, the contracts require rebuilding or remodeling some 200,000 tons of existing tonnage at an estimated expenditure of $25,000,000.

The United States shipping board reports that 26 vessels for foreign trade, costing a total of $116,830,000, are under construction in American shipyards. Five additional vessels are being constructed for overseas trade at a cost of $18,250,000. Ninety per cent of the hundreds of millions of dollars being spent in the building program is estimated to go into the pockets of American workers and artisans.

A few years before the world was only 8 per cent of American tonnage was carried in American ships. At present, the proportion is about 40 per cent.

Appeals to People

Warren Oliver, assistant postmaster general and chairman of the subcommittee on ocean mail contracts, has appealed to the American people to help restore the merchant marine to front rank in world shipping by engaging passage for immigrants on ships sailing under the Stars and Stripes.

Among the ships included in the new construction program are the new United States Lines, Inc., corporation, to cost about $10,500,000 each, having a tonnage of 30,000 each.

The Dollar line soon will put into service the Par East two vessels, the President Coolidge and the President Hoover, which cost $7,500,000 each.

The Matson line, also operating in the Pacific, has under construction three ships costing $7,000,000 each.

Launching '30

On August 15, the Tallmanna, and the Republic, first and second in a fleet of six Okinawa-class ships for the United States Mail Steamship company, subsidiary of the United Fruit company, will be launched at Newport News, Virginia.

The Eastern Steamship company is building two boats costing $2,000,000 each for service to Nova Scotia.

The Panama Mail line has under construction four ships for service between New York, San Francisco Central and South American ports. The Roosevelt Steamship company is rebuilding five boats bought from the shipping board for service to Europe.

Won by Sam H. Sparman,
Salt Lake City Marksman

NEPHI, Utah, June 27.—Sam
H. Sparman, veteran Salt Lake City gunner, annexed the doubles championship at the state transhoulting tournament here today, shattering 10 targets out of 100 to lead a file of selected marksmen.

Frank McGinnis, Salt Lake City professional, also tallied 91, but was beaten from competition as it is only for amateurs. O. L. Becker, Ogden, pressed Sparman leading in second place with 90.

C. B. Higgins, Ogden, assumed a lead in the state singles race, breaking 99 targets in the first 100 shots.
Another 100 will be shot tomorrow.

H. R. Rogers, Pocatello, tallied 99 but non-residents are not eligible for the title.

Harry Todd, Ogden and H. R.
Nills, Salt Lake City, scored 88 for a tie in second place.

After being taken in tow by "Pa", after four rounds of foolishness.

"Best" was much of his time tak-four-round to a bludgeoned exhibition of fistfulness. He is built for clowning—tall, angular, large hands and feet, small head, face of a boy.

When the gong rings, he shamboles from his corner, arms flapping, feet dragging, a Joe Cook grin on his face. He goes through a flat pantomime—crouching, bobbing, dancing, advancing with left arm outstretched. Then he shifts to a soutpauv style.

Nelson-Gans Fight
Dwarfs Reno Bout

RENO, Nevada, June 27.—
Scheduling the Gary-Vesudun heavyweight encounter here July 4 for 20 rounds recalls that even though the fight goes the limit it will be less than half the distance fought by Nelson and Gans in 1928.

The Nevada law sets no limit on rounds, but the scrap in recent years has gone beyond 25 rounds and even in the old days a limit of 45 rounds was a maximum usually fixed by managerial agreement.

Nelson-Gans Fight
Dwarfs Reno Bout

RENO, Nevada, June 27.—
Scheduling the Gary-Vesudun heavyweight encounter here July 4 for 20
rounds recalls that even though the fight goes the limit it will be less than half the distance fought by Nelson and Gans in 1928.

The Nevada law sets no limit on rounds, but the scrap in recent years
has gone beyond 25 rounds and even in the old days a limit of 45 rounds
was a maximum usually fixed by managerial agreement.

BUZZ ARLETT

"Buzz" Arlett now is officially a major league. The Philadelphia Nationals recently decided the big fence buster was "OK," and wound up a deal with the Oakland club in the Pacific Coast league for his services. Arlett's heavy clubbing did the trick.

"Move up," and make good so could be. An arm injury terminated "Buzz's" career in Coast league baseball as a split-ball hurler.
An arm injury terminated "Buzz's"
career in Coast league baseball as a
split-ball hurler.

Occasionally he was called to the mound, and even last year he worked three innings. This final fight ended abruptly, "Buzz" had pulled left wrist Frank Cox, heavy-hitting Seattle catcher, connected. The hair-drive drove started Arlett's hair.

In disgust he threw down his glove and made for the dugout, vowing never to touch a bat again.
During the last eight years, Arlett has averaged 30 home runs a season, and batted at a .330 clip. In that period of time accounts from almost every major league witnessed his performance.

In this same time period such players as Paul Wagner, Lefty O'Doul, Gene Bauer, Benjie Smith and others of the Coast's heavy hitters moved on, and batted at a .330 clip. In that formance.

Arlett watched them come and go until last season, when he presented himself to V. A. Devine, one of the Oakland owners, and suggested that if these fellows could know that Arlett was available, they would take him.

NEW YORK, June 27 (AP)—Fresh buying orders more than offset week-end sales to take profits. The list although most of the advance in a 1- to 2-point trading—was not as strong as the last half hour, but totaled 1,000,000 shares.

Although apparently Washington advisers had stated that the French cabinet would not be dissolved, the market still held the bill from the viewpoint of the American administration. Wall Street directed its attention to Paris where Secretary Mellon and Premier Laval began their negotiations. Financial circles here expressed confidence in the outcome.

Stocks opened heavy, apparently on realizing, but after the session was 30 minutes old the rally had been revived. Steel closed up to 104 1/2, a new high for the recovery.

31 reacted moderately from the top. Late profit-taking ripple through the list, closing with a gain of 2 1/2. Bethlehem duplicated that advance and there followed a similar rise in Westinghouse, Johnsonville, American Telephone, DuPont, and General Electric. The market was quiet but heavy. Eastman Kodak and Paragon were up 4, Columbia Pictures 3, International Industrial 3, Underwood-Parsons 4, and Nickel Plate 2 1/2. Republic film gained a point.

Domestic news, overshadowed all this week by events in the international market, offered little support to conditions at home.

Other markets were mostly better. Copper advanced 1/2 cent to 15 1/2. Zinc was unchanged, with a good demand from foreign and domestic consumers. Rubber futures advanced.

A bullish Canadian crop report, dry weather in the Northwest and the short demand for wheat, all advanced in wheat, while corn rallied 1/2 to 1 1/4 on reports of hot weather in the West.

Trading in bonds was featured by continued strength of the rails. Foreign issues were rather irregular.

EXIT

SYNOPSIS: Pierre, unaware that the miles is promoted by his estranged father, gives Bruce his mother's savings to invest in. Bruce, who had intercepted what he thought was a love scene between his wife, Ann, and Pierre, thought that Ann, while urging Pierre to leave for dramatic school in the morning, had really promised profit for them all. But Pierre is troubled at Bruce's gift and goes to Ann on leaving for a business trip for the bank where he and his father-in-law work. Struggling against a new discovery toward Ann, Pierre reveals to her that he has yielded to Bruce, hearing himself with respect.

Chapter 21
LATE CALLS
When Martin Davis came home from the bank that evening it was apparent to him that his powers of observation that his daughter was in a state of nervous excitement very unusual to her serene nature.

When her father appeared in the doorway between the hall and the living room she was on her feet, waving and smiling, and she drove him in her hands, gazing with fearful eyes toward the hall as she came to the door.

"Why, Ann! What's the matter, child—are you sick?" She shook her head. "Pierre! Where is Pierre? Have you seen him?"

"I have been at the bank all the evening, working on my books. 'Oh, where is he? Why doesn't he come home?'" she moaned, watching the floor while Martin patted her in blank amazement.

"Enough has happened," Ann answered. "Bruce has Pierre's school money."

"I was afraid of that," returned Old Tony. "I could see Bruce was going to make a last effort to persuade him. He turned on Martin with sudden fury. 'And you, too, Martin! You and your precious son-in-law shall suffer for lack of money!'"

"That was his trouble? Can't you tell me what has happened?" She whistled on him suddenly, with an outbreak which startled him. "You know well enough what has happened. I've taken Pierre's school money. It's the meanest, wickedest thing I ever heard of and you are just as bad as Bruce. Just because he is so anxious to make us happy, because he loves us, you two beasts have decided him to give up his own life as if he didn't matter at all. You've broken his heart—you've taken him mad—that's what you have done!"

"Nonsense!" said Martin sharply. "Of course it's nonsense to you—everything but money is nonsense to people like you and Bruce. How could you two money worshippers understand a great soul like Pierre Donovan? Pierre is not like common people; he is a genius; he is an artist. You and Bruce have taken from him something that means more to him than life itself. You have driven him nearly insane. I tell you, in the state of mind he is in now he is liable to do anything—kill himself or somebody else."

"Cherry!" cried Martin. "Boh! The boy has done the most sensible thing he ever did in all his life. He may or may not be an artist, you think he is, but when it comes to business, Pierre Donovan is just a natural-born damned fool. If ever anybody needed more money, common business man like Bruce should take care of his money for him, he does. I guess when the return from that mine comes rolling in, you and Pierre won't feel so bad about it."

A knock at the front door prevented Ann's reply. Martin looked up, expecting her to go to the door. She started but paused and turned back. "You go, Pa, I'm—"

Martin gazed at her stupor.

"I was afraid of that," returned Old Tony. "I could see Bruce was going to make a last effort to persuade him. He turned on Martin with sudden fury. 'And you, too, Martin! You and your precious son-in-law shall suffer for lack of money!'"
