JEROME FAIR BOARD DISCUSSES DETAILS

Entertainment Features for 1931 Exhibit Claim Attention at North Side Session

JEROME, July 30 (Special to The News)—Entertainment features of the 1931 Jerome county fair were discussed at a meeting of the fair board this week. The board issued the following statement following the meeting:

"It is the desire of the board to obtain some spectacular act that is new and entirely different from acts usually shown in Idaho. They are considering features that may have to be imported from Hollywood or New York or local talent that will produce something out of the ordinary for entertainment. Among the novel features considered were aerial acts, a girl versus, using a large number of circus stunts from Hollywood or Culver City; a public wedding on the opening day in front of the grandstand; and for the second day a beauty contest, featuring pajama costumes, and a trained animal act."

"The program calls for better and faster races than heretofore. The new race track will utilize the best horses on the western fair circuit as the Jerome county fair has extensive stable dates and tie in with the circuit well. During the week of the Jerome county fair, there is not another conflicting fair within 50 miles of Jerome."

"According to the inquiries there will be new birds shown at the fair this year and better exhibits in practically all departments, as an exceptionally keen interest is being taken by farmers, stock men, and home makers."

"There will be a large exhibit by the 4-H club as Jerome sponsors the 4-H club district fair, composed of the eight Central Idaho counties. This district fair alone is becoming one of the large features of the fair."

RAIN POURS DOWN IN UTAH
SALT LAKE CITY, July 30 (AP)—Rain which brought an end to the longest hot spell in Utah yesterday continued to pour down on dry farm and range lands of the state and tonight, bringing added relief to farmers and livestockmen.

In Salt Lake City, 48 inches had fallen this evening when the down-pour halted. This was twice the amount that had fallen in the month of June. Temperatures dropped sharply.

The first serious effects from floodwaters resulting from the rain was reported from Durkin where considerable property was damaged. Bill and rocks were deposited in the business district and in parts of the residential sections as the waters rushed down from the summit of the Ogden range. In some places the waters were four feet deep in the streets.

Jack Bryant, 23, Durkin, was caught by a wall of water and carried more than 200 feet before he was able to save himself by setting a pole on a gasoline tank and holding on until residents rescued him. He suffered serious cuts and bruises from the rocks and debris.

Business houses suffered the most damage, which was roughly estimated at $100,000.

Other floods of less serious nature were reported in various parts of the state.

WEATHER BENEFITS SOUTH IDAHO CROPS

Dry Farm Sections; However,
Suffer From Effects of Intensely Warm Sunshine

BOISE, July 30 (Special to The News)—Intensely warm weather in South Idaho during the week ending Thursday, July 29, has benefited crops where the irrigation supply is adequate, but has damaged crops in dry farm areas, according to the United States department of agriculture weather bureau in its weekly summary of weather and crop conditions.

The summary follows:
"SOUTHWEST IDAHO—Intense summer weather, with occasional heavy clouds, obtained throughout the week. Temperatures were high, sometimes reaching 100 degrees or over every day. Dry farm crops suffered severely and only the wheat, which has been irrigated through the week unscathed. Hot sun, drying winds, and high temperatures continued to deplete soil moisture. Pastures burned badly and range feed, already drying, deteriorated. Fire hazard was exceptionally high.

Shortage of irrigation water is felt over a wide harvesting area as the water supply became exhausted. However, the harvesting and threshing of grain went ahead without interruption and these crops are being placed in excellent condition. The acreage of wheat is still adequate to present needs and livestock continues to grow fat.

"SOUTHEAST IDAHO—Excessively hot and dry weather prevailed during the week with a few very light local showers. Winter wheat is being harvested and threshing is being completed. The crops are in good condition. Beets are making good growth, but they are being damaged by the white fly in some sections. Peas are being irrigated and threshed in the northern country. Several crop fields in good condition. The range is very dry, but still affords plenty of feed. Cattle and horses are getting fat and irrigation water is getting low. Cattle and sheep are still holding their own.

Notes From The Field
"GOODING, GOODING COUNTY—Good cotton already in the field; grain poor.

"ALBION, CASSIA COUNTY—Very hot all week; conditions favorable; yield winter wheat being harvested; water shortage very serious; many wells going dry.

"BURL, TWIN FALLS COUNTY—Week of high temperatures; fields drying fast, and using abundance of irrigation water; crops looking fairly good; small grain harvest begun; second crop of alfalfa about ready to cut.

"PAID, PAID COUNTY—Dry and unusually hot; dry land crops damaged; irrigated crops, where water is available, are doing well; barley thriving on rich fields as high as 80 bushels per acre; wheat mostly cut; grain in good condition; apples growing rapidly; applying completed."

PATENTED PROCESS FOR ROASTING COFFEE, EXPLAINED

Hills Bros. Roast Their Coffee Evenly, Continuously... "A Little at a Time"

The ordinary way of roasting coffee is in big drums that contain several hundred pounds. This has disadvantages. It is not possible to roast each batch alike. One may be underdone—another overdone. As a result, you do not always get the best coffee. Frequently, you get different flavors.

Hills Bros' patented, Controlled Temperature Process of roasting coffee. As the accuracy of the hour-glass depends upon an even, continuous flow of coffee, it is a time... so the uniform flavor of Hills Bros' Coffee is produced by this patented process that roasts evenly, continuously... a little at a time. Automatically controlled heat gives every berry an even, perfect roast. The finest flavor results. It is a favor no other coffee has—no for no other coffee is roasted this way.

Hills Bros' Coffee is packed in vacuum cans that keep it ever fresh. Air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is completely excluded. In these cans, ordinary "air-tight" cans won't keep coffee fresh. But Hills Bros' Coffee is packed in vacuum cans that keep it ever fresh. Order some today. Ask for it by name, and look for the Arab trademark on the can.

Hills Bros. Coffee, Inc., Portland, Oregon.

TIRE ADVERTISING WINS!

WHEN we advertised that Firestone was furnishing us complete lines of Firestone Gum-Clipped Tires that not only met the price but beat the quality and construction of any other special tires, we were told by mail order houses and others that mail order houses made vigorous protests to Better Business Bureaus and made demands upon newspapers not to accept Firestone or our advertising.

We cannot blame them for they did not want car owners to know that they could get, at no more cost, a better tire made by a leading manufacturer, bearing his name and guarantee plus our guarantee and our service.

When car owners awakened to this fact, they came to us, compared the sections we had cut from Firestone Tires and special brand mail order tires, and were astounded at the Extra Values we were giving.

"When the National Better Business Bureau realized that our Bulletin No. 634 was being taken advantage of by mail order houses, we issued a Bulletin dated July 10th as follows:

"In our Bulletin No. 634 entitled 'Definitions of Terms in the Tire Industry' we published definitions of First Line—Second Line—Third Line—Heavy Duty and Super Heavy Duty Tires.

"Our definitions pointed out, 'Although each manufacturer's or distributor's first line tire may represent his best standard size 4 or 6 ply tire, there is not necessarily any equality of competitive first line tires as to materials, workmanship or price.' This interpretation also applies to all lines of tires.

"We therefore recommend that advertising to the consumer should avoid the use of these terms for the purpose of comparing competitive products."

"A Special Brand" Tire is made by a manufacturer for distributors such as Mail Order houses, etc., and others, under a name that does not identify the tire manufacturer to the public, usually because he builds his "best quality" tires under his own name. Firestone puts his name on every tire he makes.

Double Guarantee—Every tire manufactured by Firestone bears the name Firestone and carries Firestone's unlimited guarantee and ours. You are doubly protected.

Bookmaker. Admits Being Target for Gang Responsibility For One Child's Death

NEW YORK, July 30 (AP)—Admission of Anthony D'Amico, a bookmaker, known as "Big Tex," that he was the intended target of the gangsters who sprayed death into the ranks of playing children Tuesday was regarded tonight by police as their "big clue" in the search for the ruthless killers.

D'Amico also was declared to have furnished detectives with a list of men he thought were in the automobile from which was fired a machine gun bullet which wounded five children, one of them fatally.

Squads of detectives tonight were trying to round up the underworld characters named.

Meanwhile police found an abandoned green sedan with a broken left window, which answered the description of the automobile used in the shooting.

Three witnesses to the shooting were summoned in an attempt to identify the car.

Forty plainclothesmen who Tuesday night were sent out to find Joseph Rinaldi alleged ally of "Dutch" Schultz in underworld activities, had not yet been recalled.

Importance was attached to the summoning to police headquarters twice during the day of John and Rose Devlin, whose three-year-old son, Mitchell, was one of the shooting victims. The wife of a bookmaker who witnessed the shooting was reported to have told Mrs. Devlin she could identify all the men, but has since refused to admit she could.

Babson Declares Farm Situation Serious, But Believes Prices Now Lowest, And Sees Brighter Future

Survey of Agricultural States Includes Idaho, and Statistician Declares Hoover's Moves Designed to Help Farmers

By ROGER W. BABSON
BABSON PARK, Mass., July 30.—In the past month I have conducted a survey of farm conditions in nine states, namely, Wisconsin, Montana, Minnesota, Kansas, California, Idaho, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska. Reports sent me from a wide range of key men in positions to know the farm situation at first hand, are overwhelmingly of the opinion that the farmer will either be no better off, or worse off, this year than he was last.

Fifty-four per cent say that he is no better off; twenty-three per cent say that he is no better off; and twenty-three per cent say that he is no better off. Of all the farm groups, the grain growers seem to be in the worst situation. The dairy farmers are slightly better situated, but are not so well off this year as they were last; and this applies also to the fruit growers. Livestock raisers are in relatively the best position.

"The farmers' chief difficulties all seem by my correspondence are:

- (1) The low price of farm products compared with the living the farmer must make.
- (2) The failure of farm machinery and equipment prices to come down.
- (3) The burden of mortgage interest payments together with the fact that many farm properties now approached close to the price of the mortgage on them.
- (4) Continued high taxes.
- (5) The high tariff which protects the industry but fails to protect agriculture.
- (6) Labor costs.
- (7) High freight rates.

Many reports received indicate intense feeling against the present administration, especially in the political significance, because the status quo for farming is normally Republican. In the Western states, as reflect the present sentiment of tion. Two years ago agriculture not so content with production, and the farm board was set up to stabilize farm machinery and prices. Today, however, the situation is different. Prices are only one-half what they were then.

I should think everybody would be cured of government meddling in farm affairs. Instead of trying to move, what the farmer needs most of all is to be left alone.

With the exception of spring wheat, oats, and barley, which have been seriously hit by drought in the Northwest, the condition of crops is good. A fine crop of winter wheat and a bumper crop of corn are in prospect. Weather conditions for the next two months may change the picture, for it is never safe to count your chickens before they hatch; where crops are concerned. Total prospective output of the five leading cereals as of July 1 was 5,489,000,000 bushels against 4,760,000,000 bushels last year.

It is two prices rather than poor crops that are causing the trouble. Estimated corn production is 41 per cent higher than a year ago, but the price is 28 per cent lower. Indicated total wheat output is up about 1 per cent, but prices are off 21 per cent. Estimated potato crop is up 15 per cent, but prices are off 20 per cent. Data production is off 4 per cent, and prices are off 14 per cent. Apples are up 28 per cent in yield, but prices are down 30 per cent.

The whole range of farm prices is so low as to more than offset the better prospective yields. There is, however, a brighter side to the picture. Low wheat prices recede widely in public, but after all, wheat and other grains total only 14 per cent of our whole farm income, even in normal times.

Dairy and poultry products account for nearly one-third of the total income and dairy conditions, while not satisfactory, are better by far than the grain. Livestock contributes 21 per cent of the income and this branch is in better shape than all the others.

Cotton totals only 12 per cent of total income, although it is a determining factor in the prosperity of several Southern states.

From the long-range point of view the application of business methods to farming is the only remedy. Hoover's policy is a definite step in the right direction, a big scale similar to our large business corporations, is bound to fail.

The wheat farmer, for example, never seems to understand that the price of wheat is fixed in Liverpool, not in Chicago or Kansas City, and that all attempts artificially to bolster it up in this country will fail as long as we are a wheat exporting country.

You cannot, however, convince the farmer that the administration is not to blame for their troubles. Therefore, Republican leaders are worried over the rising tide of resentment they receive from the agricultural states. The middle in which the farm board finds itself does not help matters. How to get rid of 200,000,000 bushels of government wheat without keeping prices artificially low is indeed a problem. The recent announcement of a similar policy of selling only 5,000,000 bushels each month would help some, but the whole situation is artificial and tends to destroy a free market.

Unless farm prices revive before long, however, we may face a flood of unwise and radical legislation.

White House Dog Pays For Biting Hoover's Guard By Being Exiled to Army. Haven of Canine Sinners

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 30.—Shamrock, the White House dog that bit a guard of J. Edgar Hoover's house, was today exiled to Fort Myer by the army.

Shamrock was a Irish wolfhound, a little discipline with the family, but he bit one of the "leathernecks" who guard President Hoover's camp on the Haystack.

The disgraced Shamrock was packed off to a nearby fort to learn a little discipline with the family. Now, apparently he, associated with the army dogs that are more or less looked after by Sergeant Frank Smith, although the regiment refuses to have anything to say about Shamrock.

Shamrock stays on at the fort and doesn't think he has to in the canine legions of army soldiers he may be called upon to see in the "Archie" dog-dogdom.

It is a little cemetery, adjoining the great steps of Arlington cemetery, where small wooden slabs mark the last resting places of 29 or more army dogs.

When Finnegan died recently, he was buried there with honors, and the post band led entire guard house band to march in his funeral procession.

With such honors in prospect, Shamrock may not mind being buried there with honors, and the post band led entire guard house band to march in his funeral procession.

Yankees' Sluggers Gallop To Front In Home Run Derby

Ruth Gehrig And Chapman Increase Total Of Homers

Yanks Use Slogan "A Home Run a Day" Keeps Pitchers at Bay After Circuit Clouts Equal Game Total

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, July 30.—One of the boys may slip down the stretch ahead of "Babe" Ruth in the home run derby, but the team that rolls up more four-baggers than the Yankees does some fancy fence busting ahead.

The chief reason, of course, is that in addition to the Bambino the club has in the lineup "Burrhead" Gehrig, the first baseman who is leading the home run race in both leagues.

These two, however, are not the only members of the Manhattan machine. The capable American league hitters with "punch" blow, in fact, the total effect of the hitters' attack was resulted in the club rolling up an average of a home run a game, at the time, October 1930, when it hit 20 homers, Ruth 23, with Ben Chapman, left fielder, in 1931.

One A. B. Shortly after Seattle's home, an old slogan of the Yanks was revived hereabouts. It goes: "A home run a day keeps the pitchers at bay."

Despite this record, the Yankees grudgingly admit it merely an effect of pyrotechnics so far as winning the American league pennant is concerned.

The pennant here as elsewhere is pretty generally conceded to the fact, Taylor Philadelphia Athletics. The Yanks, do, have hopes though that their own clout will bring them the Washington Senators from the second place position.

The chief trouble with the Yankees is that they have been too effective pitching staff. Not only has the staff been far outdistanced by the Yankees' attack, but the staff has not come close to the all-around effectiveness of the Senators' well-balanced corps of Marberry, Fletcher, Burke, et al.

Yankee coach, bent by Manager Joe McCarthy, is beating the bushes trying to find capable hitters for the 1932 campaign. The slogan of the club might well be: "A pitcher a day makes the home run derby."

Rupert Nimrods' Rearing Ponds Near Completion

BURLEY, July 30 (Special to The News)—Plummers, returning from the Idaho dam, are now rearing ponds in the Rupert and Goshute areas. These ponds are nearly completed. These ponds are rearing ponds, and capable of caring for some 200,000 fish.

There are three units in construction, one a large one, one a medium one, and one a small one. The large one will deliver the greatest power and from which they can be turned into the river to rear the fish. These ponds are rearing ponds, and capable of caring for some 200,000 fish.

ON THE SIDELINES

NEWELL GOOD
Many baseball fans who never saw little Joe Sewell in action will watch with pleasure his convincing comeback with the New York Yankees. After playing nearly 110 consecutive games for Cleveland, at shortstop and third base, the Alabama boy was released by the Indians at the close of last season and was generally supposed to be on his way out of the major leagues.

He signed with the New York Yankees, Manager Joe McCarthy deciding the Iowa infielder and good fielder would be well worth while as a part of the team's future. He played good ball in the spring games, but when the season started Tony's brilliant career was ended by a bad leg.

Tony had his troubles and when his hitting continued impotent the former Cleveland star was sent to the minors. From Sewell began to hit the ball in hard and timely fashion; and his leadership of the Senators' well-balanced corps of Marberry, Fletcher, Burke, et al.

PHILADELPHIA, July 30.—Concluding their home stand today against the four Western clubs by beating the St. Louis Browns, 8 to 5, the Philadelphia Athletics today broke a record of 17 victories in 18 games with the Western teams on their home grounds. Their only loss to a Western club was to the St. Louis Browns, 8 to 5, in the Philadelphia A's 17th game.

"Mickey" Cochrane led the assault on Gray and Coffman, hitting two home runs and two singles. The catching star drove in six of the Athletics' runs.

He played every game Cleveland engaged in during the 1931 season, and was out of only one in 1932. After this brief layoff he went on to play 100 consecutive contests, and seemed to have a chance to threaten the record of Everett Ruess, who played 107 games in a row in the American league. St. Louis, however, snapped Sewell's streak.

Hard to Watch
They are the hardest man to pitch to in baseball. He hits the ball somewhere, and no other player has played as few third strikes. He may not hit in safe territory, but he will hit the ball.

Sevell struck out only four times in 1931 and was called out only 154 times in 1932 and was called out only a like number of times in 1933. In 1932, he was called out 109 times. He hit 100 home runs in 1931 and 100 in 1932.

Sevell is one of the most colorful characters in the game. Jumping from the University of Alabama to New Orleans, he was called out 109 times in 1932 and 100 in 1933.

MILITARY HONORS AT KAHLE BURIAL

American Legion and National Guard Take Charge of Funeral for Stricken Man

With military honors funeral services will be held at the cemetery in Twin Falls cemetery at 2 P. M. today for William H. Kahle, 40, World War veteran, whose body was found in a cornfield on the outskirts of Twin Falls Tuesday evening, 18 days after he was in a letter to his brother, "I must get out of the way of this world."

Twin Falls American Legion post, assisted by Twin Falls unit of Idaho national guard engineers, will have charge of the funeral services, for which arrangements were completed yesterday after word was received from the brother of the stricken man, that the dead man's wishes, if indicated, should be carried out.

There was an indication of the dead man's wishes in this regard, the letter addressed to the brother, that was found in Kahle's pocket, made plain his purpose to take his own life because of ill health and depression. It also stated that the man was left for use in educating the brother's two children.

Kahle had made his home for several years in a camp wagon on the outskirts of Twin Falls. Early this year he was admitted for treatment at a veterans hospital for mental patients in Knoxville, Iowa. He returned here after being discharged from that institution early this month. He had received World War veteran's disability compensation. He was born at Hamilton, Iowa, February 4, 1891, and is survived by one brother, Robert, and two sisters, Mrs. Joseph O. Meyers, Portland, and Mrs. Esther Kahle, Chicago, Ill. Members of the Twin Falls unit of Idaho national guard engineers will make up a marching band to accompany the funeral. The band will sound taps at the burial service, Captain L. E. Leighton stated last night. World War veterans and others attending the service will meet at the Evans and Johnson funeral home at 2 P. M. and proceed from there with an escort with the body to the cemetery.

BUTTERFAT PRICE CONTINUES CLIMB

Fourth 1-Cent Advance in Month Brings Local Quotation to 22 Cents Pound

The fourth 1-cent advance in the price of butterfat recorded here during the month of July today brought the quotation up to 22 cents a pound. Since July 3, when the upward trend started, there have been no declines and each of the four one-cent advances increased the value of Twin Falls county's butterfat production by approximately 1225 a month, or 775 a day. This computation is based on the county auditor's records showing approximately 800 registered and common milk cows in the county, and assuming to each of these a 25-pound average of butterfat production. Pioneer Dairy Herd Improvement association, with 351 cows in 24 herds during June, recorded an average of 28.8 pounds of butterfat production, one out of every five tested cows producing 40 pounds or more of butterfat during the month.

C. U. Bradford, Franklin, Driver of One Demolished Car, Goes to Hospital

Four young men were injured, one perhaps seriously, in a collision in which two cars were demolished on the highway two and one-half miles east of Twin Falls yesterday morning.

C. U. With Bradford they were on the way to the Owyhee, Oregon, reclamation project. Their party left Wednesday night at Burley, and started from there yesterday on the way to Owyhee.

The accident occurred when Bradford's car, as he was about to meet a light "pick-up" truck owned by the Pacific Fruit and Produce company, and driven by A. J. Hobbs, Twin Falls, Bradford's car skidded on wet pavement as the trucks were applied and careened into the ditch to crash against the light truck.

Truck Driver Escapes Uninjured, escaped with minor bruises about the chest and arm, it was said, the third collision in which he has been involved this year. He was none of them was he to blame.

Thurston brothers said that Bradford was driving at high speed when he applied the brakes en- deavouring to slacken speed to clear the other car, according to W. B. Dotson, deputy sheriff, who investigated the accident.

Bradford walked about and talked rationally for some minutes after the collision, and then slumped down unconscious. At the hospital, it was stated, he apparently was normal at intervals during the day and at other times he was irrational. He was summoned from Franklin and was expected to arrive last night.

The globe-trotting descriptions of the Isthmus of Isthmopolis, as king of all sorts, whether of royal or hobo variety, are not what they once were over there. However, he is leaving his experiences there for an autobiography—when he has time to write it. The inevitable realm of Isthmopolis, its founder and monarch says, contains 10,000 members of citizens, who are pledged to hitch-hike but never to beg or to ride on a railroad train on bumper or otherwise. They are pledged to work for a living, or at least for subsistence, without asking for anything, though it should come from one of them a half a dollar or such a matter voluntarily, they are to accept it in the same chivalrous manner in which it is tendered. They have no military ceremonies, he says, but they have a sign which consists in putting up a finger of the right hand in a peculiar manner. However, he says, some false knights have tipped off some of the low caste hobos, who beg and steal rides on trains, and some of those are making the sign. The condition of their clothes, which he wears on bumper, usually brings the impostors, but a new sign is being considered for the realm. King Williams is a poet and composer verses as he hitch-hikes across the country. The scenery around clients Terry yesterday stirred the muse, so he composed a three-verse poem entitled "My Idaho Home." He also jives, composing music for his own productions. This, however, he is unable to write, since he never learned to write music.

Despite his royal title, Williams is a Democrat. He has dashed off some odds about the Hoover administration, which he expects will die the
