The question of just how Mrs. Plunge died was thrown, from her husband's side, to the jury.

Mrs. Plunge, daughter of a prominent San Francisco family, was found dead in a bathtub at her home, 1000 Broadway, at 10:30 p. m. today.

AL CAPONE ASSISTS IN SEARCH FOR KIDNAPERS

CHICAGO, Aug. 25 (AP)—The Daily News said today that Al Capone has joined the search for kidnapers of Jack Lynch, gambler and racing service promoter reported held for $250,000 ransom.

Capone, the paper said, ordered the search for kidnapers and urged Martin O'Leary, public enemy sought for the slaying of a policeman, to report to him. The underworld theory, the paper said, was that the kidnaping was to extort ransom money from Lynch.

Witnesses' authorities said Mrs. Lynch told of receiving calls from the kidnapers and of informing them that the money was not available. This gave rise to rumors, because of threats previously reported made, that Lynch had been slain.

INQUEST DEVLES IN CIRCUMSTANCE OF FATAL CRASH

Inquiry Turns On Questions If Truck Showed Lights And If Wrecked Car Was Driven at Reckless Speed

While nearly 500 persons attended funeral services at the Kimberly Methodist church Tuesday afternoon for Wilson Tate, 17, son of Doc Tate, Kimberly, killed in an automobile collision on the highway east of Twin Falls last Sunday night, an inquest conducted by county authorities was in progress in district court rooms here to determine whether any criminality was involved in the collision.

A coroner's jury composed of nine Twin Falls business men heard testimony by 17 witnesses, then at 4 P. M. recessed to 10 A. M. Wednesday for further testimony.

Tate was killed when the light car in which he was riding with four other young men crashed against a Service Transportation company, Boise, truck loaded with 30 tons of power shovels.

Questioning of witnesses by Prosecuting Attorney C. W. Williams centered on two issues — whether the truck displayed headlights and whether the car was being driven recklessly and at excessive speed.

Witnesses included Clyde Haynes, 24, Kimberly, one of the wreck survivors, who appeared with his right arm in a sling; Jack Chapman, Boise, driver of the truck and one of the owners of the Service Transportation company, and his companion, Lyle Lawrence, Boise, truck driver. Two of the wreck victims, Carl Harkins, 18, Hanks, driver of the car, and Earl O'Brien, 17, Twin Falls, were under treatment at Twin Falls county hospital for serious injuries.

Truce Cary Coates, attorney, testified that he agreed the car in which the young men were riding had overtaken one car and was attempting to overtake another, when it crashed against the truck. Estimates of the car's speed ranged from 25 to 35 miles an hour.

Haynes and Burton Hill, Kimberly, driver of the car that was being overtaken, testified no headlights were displayed on the truck and his companion said they switched on lights when they left. Burton asked a color and both were positive lights were burning when the collision occurred. Both said, though, lights had been burning dimly. The truck's generator had been removed for repairs. Laying aside an "extra strong" service battery was installed at Boise and recharged at Boise last Thursday "to stand up when the generator was out."

W. C. Foster, Kimberly, who met the truck about 10:20 P. M. shortly before the collision occurred, said he observed no lights on the truck, and P. H. Pollock, Kimberly electrician, said the truck displayed no headlights when it turned on the highway north of Kimberly.

H. D. Kingbury, state traffic officer, said the truck showed no lights except a red lantern swinging from the power shovel boom, when he arrived on the scene about 15 minutes after the collision occurred. He said he directed Chapman to switch on the lights and that the headlights came on "rather dim," while the right headlight remained dark.

Chapman said he had switched the motor off and the lights out immediately after the collision. He said lights appeared in the right headlight when he struck it with his hand after being ordered by the traffic officer to switch on the lights.

Chapman said he first saw the inflated car 400 or 500 feet away when it turned past the center of the road to overtake one car. It overtook that car, Chapman said, and almost immediately thereafter turned again to overtake another car.

Chapman said he steered the truck off to the side of the road as he dared in order to give the oncoming car room to pass between the truck and the car that was being overtaken. The car that was being overtaken also swung to its side of the road, leaving a space, Chapman testified, 10 to 15 feet wide between it and the truck. That space, Chapman said, was "enough to get through at a reasonable rate of speed."

"I don't believe the car could have traveled as it did, overtaking two other cars, at a speed less than 30 miles an hour," Chapman said in reply to a question by the prosecutor.

Clerk Center of Road

The traffic officer testified the truck had traveled for about 30 feet before the impact with both right wheels on the earth shoulder of the road at the edge of the pavement.

The wrecked car, he said, was heading about 30 feet to the south side of the road from the place where it was hit, and the pavement was covered with broken glass. The truck, he said, ran only about 20 feet after the collision.

The wrecked car rolled against the car it was attempting to pass, demolishing it and left it under and under. Cecil Harkins, driver of the car, said at the hospital here where he and other wreck victims were taken after the crash, that he had not seen the truck at all. Sheriff E. F. Prater testified. The sheriff also testified only one light showed on the truck when its lights were switched on after the crash.

Clyde Haynes, the only survivor of the wreck who testified at the inquest yesterday, said he sat beside the driver, and that he did not see the truck, but that just before the crash he saw something in the road, but did not know what it was. He said the car was traveling between 35 and 40 miles an hour.

Headlights on the truck were burning, but "not brightly" when it, it, Harkins, Twin Falls, met the truck about 10:20 P. M. on the highway north of Kimberly.

Wrecker Testifies

Both of the truck's headlights were burning, one of them dimly, W. J. Graybill, Twin Falls wrecker car driver, testified, when he went to the scene of the wreck. The truck had been moved about a quarter-mile from the place where the crash occurred, he said.

Other witnesses called to testify at the inquest yesterday were Pete Ebbeland, who accompanied the wrecker car; Leo Dierck, automobile mechanic; Mrs. Olla Taggart, Twin Falls, who observed the wreck shortly after its occurrence, and Harold Lowe, Pat Dougherty and Frank Stevens, all of Twin Falls, who said they followed the traffic officer.

Witnesses Questioned

None of the witnesses yesterday was questioned by Frank Martin, Boise attorney, who was in attendance as the legal counsel for the Service Transportation company.

Dr. H. N. Lee, coroner, and several members of the coroner's jury, however, questioned witnesses occasionally to clear up questions that had arisen in their minds.

J. Paul Thomas of Walters, Parry and Thomas, Twin Falls attorney, attended the inquest as the legal representative, it was stated, of the Tate family.

FALK MERCANTILE FIRM TAKES OVER

Pioneer Idaho Institution
Assumes Full Control of Local Enterprise; A. W.
Tingwall Forms Group

One of Twin Falls larger department stores which has been operated under the name of the Falk-Tingwall store for several years past, has been reorganized and brought under full control of the Falk Mercantile company operating a group of department stores in southern Idaho and eastern Oregon. It was announced here yesterday by Leo J. Falk, Boise, president of the Falk Wholesale company, one of Idaho's pioneer institutions and parent of the Falk Mercantile company.

James Storoff, who has been identified with the Falk organization for a number of years, is to move here with his family from Jerome to be manager of the Twin Falls store.

Under terms of a lease lately negotiated, Mr. Falk stated yesterday, the Twin Falls store will occupy its present quarters at 202 Main avenue south.

Tingwall Forms Group

A. W. Tingwall, who retires from the Twin Falls store, has organized a new corporation to take over Falk-Tingwall store at Jerome, Wendell, Hagerman and Fairfield. He is preident, and Mrs. Tingwall is secretary and treasurer of the new corporation, Tingwall, Incorporated. They will make their home for the present at Jerome.

Herbert Ormand, retiring manager of the Twin Falls store, will join the Falk organization, at Boise, to accept one of several other positions offered to him. It was stated.

With the addition of the Twin Falls store, the Falk Mercantile company group now includes stores at Boise, Nampa, Caldwell, Wilder, Piler, Twin Falls and La Grande, Oregon.

J. D. Wilson is to continue as manager of the Piler store.

Personnel of the Tingwall store organization, Mr. Tingwall said here yesterday, will include the following store managers: Mrs. Rose Wagner, Hagerman; John Caldwell, Wendell; Ray Jones, Fairfield; and Fred Hanks, Jerome.

Honor of Idaho

The Falk interests in Idaho are carried on under the management of Leo J. Falk, president and general manager of the Falk Wholesale company, which company also operates one of Boise's largest department stores under the name of the Falk Mercantile company.

From a comparatively small inception in the early days of Post-Boise, when the town contained largely of a group of small homes and business buildings adjacent to the military post from which the city later derived its name, the business has grown steadily and consistently to establish itself as one of the oldest established businesses in Idaho it is perhaps the largest in its line in the entire state.

Some few years ago the company began the establishment of branch connections throughout southern Idaho and has since operated a number of retail stores at various points and with various connections. The change announced yesterday in Twin Falls places the business heretofore known as the Falk-Tingwall store under the full ownership and control of the parent house which will operate it as a Twin Falls unit of the Falk interests.

"I have always believed in the Twin Falls country," said Mr. Falk yesterday. "I regard Twin Falls as one of the coming centers of population in the state with a future of splendid promise. The best evidence I can offer of this is to be found in the fact that our arrangements now provide for the operation of our own store in your city."

"Crop conditions, it seems to me never looked better during any year and in comparison with other sections of the country this part of southern Idaho is really in an enviable position."

Mr. Falk returned to Boise last evening.
